I want to tell you that the increase in vibrations of the planet creates a special space for people who do not want to part with low vibrations, which is dangerous for their physical life. The entire space begins to push out this Spirit. I ask you to forgive all offenses. I ask you to dissolve your anger, your indignation, including towards the residents who are the other side of the conflict, and who, in desperation, are trying to fill you with their negativity. I ask you to treat these Souls with understanding and love. And abandon all thoughts of revenge and gloating for their actions.

1:07:55 Spirit of Sergius about the possible development of events in Ukraine on 03/20/22.

Maxim: How do you see the development of events, will there be a war in the future? Is there such a possibility of a further serious war?

Irina: Serious - is it global?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: There is always such a possibility. Currently it is around 17% for the next year.

Maxim: There are predictions from horoscopes and Vedic moments - on 05/05/2022 something serious is going to happen. What do you think about this? What can happen on this date?

Irina: It can happen in the last days of April and in the first days of May. There is a possibility of a natural disaster - either an earthquake or a volcano near the ocean. But this probability is just a probability.

Any natural disaster is an attempt to clear space of negatively-minded individuals at the third level of density. An attempt made by those subtle beings, desperate and choking on the negativity that poured into their world from the third level of density. In this way, subtle entities try to cleanse space.

You see, dear friends, you think that your physical life and your property are your most precious possessions. This is the biggest terrible misconception of a very large number of people. Neither your physical body nor your property have ever belonged to you and do not belong to you now. This is given to you for temporary use to raise your vibrations so that you can fulfill your task. If you came to the earthly world to develop your Love, then the means for developing this Love are to create events for you when it will need to be manifested in reality.

Not when you write a love letter to your beloved, not when you send a beautiful heart in online correspondence, but in reality. In reality, you will be able to show Love only when you selflessly help, save, send the Light of Love and forgive. If you don't do this, you won't accomplish your tasks. This means that you will not correspond to the new energies of the quantum transition, you will not fulfill the tasks of the egregor: the folk egregor, the generic egregor. And your personal tasks that you yourself agreed to carry out for your improvement.

Not only your energy was spent on the embodiment of your Spirit, but also the subtle-material civilizations of planet Earth helped you to incarnate. Also next to you are your Guardian Angels, many of whom sacrificed their incarnation to be with you and support you. This time is precious, every moment matters. If you hold resentment and anger in your heart against even one person, you do not love his Heavenly Father.

Maxim: Thank you! Everything is quite clear and serious, just the way I like it. This is exactly how I like it when I do debriefing. Tough, clear and understandable.

Dear friends, I want to thank you all for supporting the project, supporting teachers, participating in our subprojects, participating in all project events, sending us your donations, which really help us grow and develop. They help build the Center so that you come here and receive spiritual knowledge on the condition of paying according to your heart.

All our schools that are open carry spiritual knowledge with payment according to the heart. Many people ask me: “How is this?” And this is as you can, as you have the opportunity, as you see fit. We will continue this policy further. Why? Because spiritual knowledge for me, as for Irina and other people, has absolutely no value. Therefore, you yourself evaluate how you can help our project. And most importantly: we are waiting for you here.

In the summer we will have such a wonderful moment in the Center, we have made a swimming pool here, we have made places for tents and there is room for living. We will always be glad to see, hear, feel, see you here in our Cassiopeia Center. And I'm sure that now we will go to cities. In those cities where our centers are already open. These are cities such as Omsk, Novosibirsk, Kursk, Kazan. By the way, we even opened our Center in Canada. Yes, after all, the girl was able to do it. She somehow got the equipment there, I can't even imagine how. I am very glad that our centers are now opening all over the world.

Our main platform will also be in VK. If you don't have VK, you can access it via VPN. All the videos that are on YouTube will be gradually uploaded there. You can find our VK by going to our website, we are very quickly identified in the search, type "Cassiopeia Center", and immediately you will see our website, which contains all the information.

And the last request, Bartholomew, what would you wish for the people of this planet?

Irina: They ask for prayer.

Maxim: They ask what prayers did you read when you were doing healing?

Irina: They ask for a prayer for 96 days, as I understand it, to read to people.

1:17:05 Spirit of Sergius on prayer for the period of quantum transition from 03/21/22.

Maxim: What prayer should you read during these 96 days? What would you wish for today to all those who are watching us?

Irina: I would, of course, wish you all to read "The Canon of Penitence to Our Lord Jesus Christ" every day, but I'm afraid that the pampered modern person will not be able to do it. You also need to stand there for 30 minutes and read out incomprehensible Church Slavonic words. I'm afraid this will make you sad. I think reading the 23rd Psalm of David every day will be enough for you. Only consciously! You will read the 50th Psalm of David on the first day of the quantum transition in the morning, afternoon and evening. Read King David's 50th Psalm as soon as you wake up tomorrow, before lunch, and before bed. The rest of the time you will read the 22nd Psalm in the morning and evening. At least in Russian, at least in Church Slavonic. Which one is clearer to you? The main thing: do it consciously. And remember that many have now entered Lent.

Now I turn to the wish.

Maxim: What should Muslims read?

Irina: I believe that Muslims, along with Christians, revere King David, he was a prophet, it's okay if they read this Psalm with you.

My dear brothers in God, Muslims, do you honor King David as a prophet of the true God? So, he wrote beautiful prayers, beautiful Psalms - they were like songs. You may ask, "Why do I need to read them instead of reading what I want from my heart?" My dear friends, because in these words he expressed his feelings, which created high vibrations. And in order for you to perceive these vibrations and acquire the skill in such high-vibration prayer, training is necessary. And let this period be a learning experience for you.

1:20:31 Wishes of Sergius of Radonezh to earthlings.

Irina: I know that now many of my Orthodox brothers have entered Lent. The purpose and meaning of fasting is not for the flesh to suffer, but for the Spirit to rejoice. At this time, we intensify all our spiritual work on self-analysis, on forgiveness of those who have offended us, on mercy to the poor and needy, and, naturally, on prayer and reading spiritual books: the Gospel, the Epistle of the Apostles and the works of the Holy Fathers of our church, many of which are in the Spiritual world near me or on other Angelic levels. But even if they are in incarnations, their disembodied parts of Souls continue to pray for the entire human race. They are worthy of your study of their works. Is not it?

So, spend the time of this Lent not arguing about who is right and who is wrong between these two in the conflict, but on introspection and reading spiritual books. And this Fast should be the main thing in this Lent. This is a Spiritual Fast. Physical fasting is not so important, it is only a means, you can observe it if you want, if you feel that it is necessary. But what I told you about the Spiritual part is necessary so that the lesson that Russia, Ukraine, and the whole world are now learning is not in vain. So that every life that people gave is not in vain, so that this sacrifice is not in vain, the efforts of each of you are very important now. And I wish you, with God, with prayer and love, to go through the time of this Great Lent and all the time of the next stage of the quantum transition, which begins tomorrow.

I bless you with my angelic blessing! I'm with you!

Maxim: I thank and accept you, Sergius - Bartholomew!

Irina: And I thank you!

Maxim: I thank Archangel Michael in the phantom of Seraphim of Sarov! I thank LiSioni, who was here today.

I thank each of you who watch us and who help us. Low bow to you guys. Your help is greatly appreciated, and I direct everything you help towards the development of our project.

Don't lose us, subscribe to the Telegram information channel. On this channel we will fully display all the information about all our projects, about all our educational, training moments, about all our centers, that is, there will be an information channel through which you can completely track all the movements in our project. It's right under this video. It will start working, maybe not now, in the near future, but you can already subscribe. I hope that we will see you next Sunday, and I hope that it will be YouTube, a convenient platform. But if it’s not YouTube, we’ll definitely see each other on another platform, and you can tell me there so that I don’t interrupt Irina, so that I behave decently, so that I don’t behave like a child. I love you unconditionally, regardless of what you show towards me. Yours Maxim Rusan and Irina Podzorova.

#2 First contact with Kirchiton from the planet Daraal: 1st conference in Voronezh

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pervyy-kontakt-s-kirhitonom-s-planety-daraal

00:00 Introduction

Maxim: Let me introduce you to Irina, let her tell you a little about herself: who she is, what she does and in general, how it all started, how it all happened - such a light story. Irin, please tell me.

00:21 Irina’s childhood

Irina: Hello everyone again. I grew up as an ordinary girl, raised by my mother and grandmother. I didn’t believe in aliens, in the sense that I thought that someone lived near the stars, but from there it was too far away to fly to us. I understood this perfectly. I watched films and read books, like all teenagers. And she knew that the stars were very far away and it was impossible to reach them. Therefore, I thought, even if there was someone there - I simply admitted it - then for me they could not be here.

01:13 Meeting with aliens

Irina: When I was 13 years old, it was 1999. In the evening in July, I was playing - it was already about 9 pm, it was already getting dark - I was playing ball with the guys near the park, and then we began to disperse. They left, and I decided to walk a little more. Then I walked around the park and decided to go home, but not through the main entrance, but through the back gate, which opened onto an unlit, dark street. I went out through this gate, walked down the street, there were no lights on. In general, our village is quite large - about five thousand people. And I noticed that no cars were passing, I couldn’t even hear people’s voices or laughter - there was some kind of calm. Then I walked along the side of the road, raised my face up and saw: there was a black triangle ahead, but it stood not like a rocket, but horizontally. It stands on three supports, and next to it are five people, as I thought then, five dark figures. In this triangle there were white round windows, the door was open, and even the stairs were visible. I stopped and thought: “But nothing like this has happened before during the day, I passed here. What it is? Is there some kind of construction going on, or some kind of attraction? Then I became interested, I thought: “There are five people standing there - let me go up to them and ask what kind of triangle this is.” I went to them. I approached, and the first thing I saw was that they were much taller than people, about three meters. Dark figures, and they have no neck. Their heads are connected like this (shows). And on the face there are three eyes: two round yellow eyes and a little higher - red. I saw these figures, stopped and couldn’t understand what they were, who they were.

Question from the audience: Are you scared?

Irina: I was just surprised. And one of them asks me in Russian in an ordinary voice, not mentally, but simply in a voice, male, low, but completely human, in Russian he asks: “Who are you?” When I heard a human voice, I thought that maybe some people, maybe they were filming some kind of film, you never know, the actors had changed clothes, they were clearly men. I automatically asked: “Who are you?” He says: “I am Kirchiton.” I say: “And I am Irina.” Introduced herself. He says to me: “Will you fly with us?” When he said “you will fly”, I already compared the triangle, the appearance of these people and the word “you will fly” and realized that these were aliens. Who else could look like that and ask such questions? I say: “Where?” He says: “Where we live.” I say: “I can’t fly with you, I need to go home, my mother is waiting for me there if I don’t come for a long time...” No, I wanted to look, but I understood that it was very far away, where could they live, and what if I won’t be around for long, then my mother will look for me. That's how I answer him. He tells me: “Mark the time - in exactly two minutes you will be here.” I really wanted to... I think if I’m here in two minutes, that means... I want to see where they live. I tell him: “Okay, then I agree.”

06:20 Flight on an alien ship

He turned silently and walked up the stairs into a triangle, I followed him, but these four, they were silent the whole time, followed me. We entered the triangle, and the first thing I saw was white light, everywhere, like from these light bulbs (points to the ceiling).

Maxim: I didn't prepare. (The audience laughs)

Irina: There were no lanterns there. Just light. I took a special look: gray walls, a semicircular ceiling, so grayish-dark. And I was still surprised, how can there be light without lanterns, without light bulbs? Then I walked in and turned right. There were five or six chairs along the wall. They (the aliens) are three meters tall, and, it seems, the chairs should be under them, but then it would be difficult for me to sit on them. And they (the chairs) were under me, that is, I calmly sat down on one of them, and those four stood opposite me. There were round windows above them, but they were high up, I couldn't see anything there. It was dark and that was all. And Kirchiton walked a little further, where the triangle ended, in a semicircle like this (shows). There was some kind of table there, and lights and some buttons were blinking, but I didn't look. He walked up and blocked the view. Before that, he said: "Sit down and count." I sat down and began to count to myself: "One, two..." I didn't experience any special sensations, I sat and counted. When I said "fifteen" to myself, he (Kirkhiton) came up to me again and said: "That's it, we've already arrived."

Question from the audience: How old were you?

Irina: Thirteen. When I walked in and turned my head to where the door was, it disappeared. I haven't told you yet. It's not that it closed, there wasn't even a gap left. There was just a wall. Well, when he said: "We have arrived," I turned my head again, and again the door appeared there. He went through this door, I got up and followed him.

09:00 Na planete Queue

We went out, and the first thing I saw was day on the street. It was already dark there, evening. I look - it's day. I raised my head up and saw that the sun was almost at its zenith, but it was not yellow, but a white color (points to the ceiling), only with a slightly purple tint. It was quite hot. I was in summer clothes, but it was still quite hot, and there was a smell in the air, for example, when a sulfur bomb is lit, or matches are left in the room for a long time. I looked around and saw that it was a triangle, we were standing next to it. There was such a flat round area covered with asphalt, but as smooth as a table (points to the table in front of him), not a single bump.

Question from the audience: What planet is this? Were they trees, houses? What was it?

Irina: There were no trees there. I took a special look and there was asphalt everywhere. Even when we walked along this square and went down, there was a threshold, and we went down from it and continued along the road. I didn't see a single blade of grass there, not a single green tree, everything was simply covered with asphalt. A little to the right, I looked around and saw that there were houses in the distance, but not a street, but they were standing in disarray. It seemed to me like twenty floors from afar. They were black, but you couldn't see the windows, just some towers. And not square, like we have at home, but round. We have these water towers, only these ones are dark in color. And not from brick, but from something completely unknown. It was far away. We didn't approach them. We walked in silence along this road, and suddenly I saw several people just like him (three meters tall with three eyes) coming towards us. They stopped near us and we stopped. They told him something. They looked at me and said something to him. He answered them. Then I look at them, I look at him - if you told me, turn away, and then turn around and tell me where Kirchiton is, I wouldn't be able to tell him apart. They were absolutely identical.

From the audience: Maybe when we, say, see the Chinese, they all look the same to us.

Irina: Well, I don't know. If you put two Chinese, you can tell them apart.

Maxim: In fact, now Irina will tell you, and then we can ask questions, some clarifying points. What she is telling now is the beginning of our conversation, our dialogue. Now she is simply talking about how she met one of the "non-humans," one of the aliens. We just have everything on time. Those who don't have time now and who don't like the information can calmly leave. It happens that a person doesn't need the information yet, that is, if you are not ready to listen to it further, you just get up and leave. This is just the beginning of what we will talk about next. Carry on, Irin.

Question from the audience: And if you breathed there, did that mean there was oxygen there?

Irina: Yes, there is oxygen there.

Question from the audience: What kind of planet is it?

Irina: This is the planet Daraal. It is located in the constellation Cassiopeia. It was he (Kirkhiton) who told me about this later.

Question from the audience: What is the name of the planet?

Irina: DA-RA-AL.

Maxim: Constellation Cassiopeia.

Question from the audience: What language do they communicate in?

Irina: He spoke to me in Russian.

Question from the audience: What about each other?

Irina: He said something, the words were incomprehensible. They just said a few words and went back where we came from, and we continued straight ahead. I breathed this air, but the smell made my eyes water a little, and my throat began to sting. I say to him: “Kirkhiton, what does it smell like here?” I was only thirteen years old. And he tells me: “This is sulfur oxide in the atmosphere, but its concentration is safe for you.” Well, okay. We walked a little more meters and stopped near a square building, about two floors. Such a long barrack. Also without windows - dark. Two floors, yes. There was a door with a handle, he opened it and walked in, I followed him and saw that it was again a large room, like a hall, empty, only in front there was a high table, taller than me, right across the whole room. And again there is light, and there are no lamps. There is a smell, but it is very weak. And he wasn’t there at all in that triangle when I went there. And it was in the square. Kirkhiton said: “This is our store.”

Question from the audience: Were they wearing clothes?

15:25 Description of the Daraals

Irina: In the light, I looked at him: he was in a dark jumpsuit, and his face and hands were open. But his skin is gray and smooth. Five fingers, only they are thin and long. Gray smooth skin, without wrinkles, without anything, there was no hair anywhere. He says: “This is our store.” We approached this table. He continues: “Our goods lie on it.” I say: “But I can’t see anything, I’m too tall.”

16:08 Alien food

Kirchiton came up to me from behind, lifted me by the arms and said: “Look.” In fact, there were many objects lying there under glass or plastic. There were a lot of objects lying there, but what I managed to see were only two objects. There lay a bird, a plucked bird, similar to our ostrich. This reminded me of how they sell chickens in our stores, but here they sell them without heads and so on, and they just had plucked ones, but with a head, with limbs, with paws, and had such a wide beak. Why do I call it an ostrich: firstly, it has a long neck, but it was smaller and so big. The beak was curved, the neck was long, otherwise it was a bird reminiscent of ours. And next to it, a little further away, lay a stick, as black as a long pencil. I saw these two objects, and he put me down. I say: “What is this lying with you?” He says: “This is our food, we eat this.” “What kind of wand is this?” He took it out, but not from there, but from himself, but I didn’t see his pockets - he just stretched out his hand and took out exactly the same one. “And this is our thing - a flashlight.” He clicked on something, and a beam came from there, just like we have laser pointers, only there the beam was brighter and white. Thin white beam. Even with this light (the light in the hall) it would be clearly visible. He removed it.

18:40 Alien money

Then he took out an object from somewhere else and said: “This is our coin.” It was not round, but in the shape of a rhombus, like this (shows half a palm), even a little larger. Yellow color. He handed it to me - it felt kind of metallic to the touch.

Question from the audience: Is it heavy?

Irina: No, it’s not heavy. I looked, there was something written on it: some triangles, signs, it’s not clear. But he (Kirkhiton) showed me his alphabet and tried to teach me the language, but that was all later.

Maxim: Yes, I will add a little. When you met Kirchiton at the age of 13, he, when you flew back, asked: “Will you be our contactee?” - right?

Irina: This is already on the second contact.

Maxim: Oh, yes? Sorry then. I won't interrupt.

Irina: He gave me (a coin), there were some triangles, lines, some incomprehensible letters. I gave him (the coin) back.

19:50 Flight back home

He says: “I said, in two minutes I’ll bring you home. Let's go to. I'll take you." And while we left and walked to this square, where the triangle stood, I asked him along the way: “Where are we now?” He says: “We are now in the city of Kuuli, and this is the capital of Daraal. “What is the capital of Daraal?” (Answers) “Daraal is our planet.” "How? - I say. - The capital of the entire planet? (Answers) “Well, yes. We don't have countries. And only one capital." I say: “Where is this?” (Answers) “We are now in a constellation, from your planet it can be seen as the constellation Cassiopeia. 150 light years from the Sun." We have entered this triangle. These four were no longer there. I already sat down on the chair myself, I didn’t count anymore. She turned to the door - it was closed again and had already disappeared. I looked and thought: “Where could there be, what kind of gap? No, just a wall." He went to the remote control and pressed something. I sat there and didn’t count anything anymore. Two minutes passed - not much time, he comes up and says: “That’s it, you can go home. In the near future I will fly to you again, we will talk.” Didn't say anything else on this contact. I got up. The door was already open. I went down the stairs and saw that I was standing in the same square near the park. Again, no people, no cars. It's already so dark. I didn't have a watch. I went out, took a few steps, and heard a whistle from behind and a gust of wind in my hair. I felt. I looked back - the triangle was no longer there, just a bright star was flying. 1-2-3 seconds and she disappeared. The sky was starry. Well, I went home.

#1 The purpose of man, his highest essence and past incarnations. Astral travel

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/prednaznachenie-cheloveka-ego-vysshaya-sushchnost https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yMEb_auC4Wg

00:12

Host: - Mid, please tell me, did the Americans land on the Moon?

Irina: - Yes.

00:14

Host: - Coincidences are not accidental, is that so?

Irina: - Yes, that’s it. Everything has its own meaning and its purpose.

Host: - Who or what creates them and is it possible to consciously influence them?

Irina: - The Spirit itself creates them before incarnation, but in alliance and advice with consultants of the spiritual world, whom you call the highest teachers. They always create and send the spirit into those circumstances and conditions that will contribute to its development and the growth of spiritual vibrations in it in comparison with material ones.

Presenter: - Thank you.

Host: - At what point does the spirit plunge into the physical body? At the moment of sperm production, or at the moment of egg production, or at the moment of their fusion, or a little later? Does it come from the parent or from outside?

Irina: - When parents are chosen for him.

Guides accompany the spirit to incarnation at the moment when conception occurs. That is, at the moment when male and female cells merge, the spirit, which will be incarnated while still outside, introduces its life force into these cells and remains next to the mother. He can be separated from her, fly in the astral plane, but his life force will be in the cells. But he himself directly moves into the embryo at the 7th week of development, since the nervous system of the earthly fetus does not allow it earlier.

Before moving in, his memory is immediately blocked. He settles there and the rest of the time he is in the womb, he adapts to the new body. Of course, he can temporarily leave it and fly in the astral plane. He will have vivid images and memories; you yourself know that the fetus in the mother's womb also sleeps and wakes up. At birth, the stress that the child experiences, going through pain and fear, erases the last remnants of memory that remained in him, and he perceives the world as a baby, and begins to develop and grow. But the experience that he has accumulated in past incarnations affects him directly, therefore, with the same methods of education applied to different children, different people are obtained.

Presenter: - I see, thank you!

Host: - Can a child retain information about past lives?

Irina: - Information about past lives may be preserved. The spirit may not be completely blocked from memory. But this is done with the goal that he, in his present material incarnation, will apply this knowledge for some of his purposes for which he was incarnated, if these are positive memories. And if these are negative memories, this experience is left with the goal that, being in new conditions, he will reconsider his attitude towards those things that happened in a past life and caused low vibrations in him.

Presenter: - Thank you.

Presenter: - There are many power plants on the planet. How do you feel about them and what energy production options do you recommend?

Irina: - Power plants are a stage of development that we went through, and it is necessary for you. We recommend creating a device that is installed in our ships and allows us to turn on the gravitational engine and obtain a plasma field. As you saw in the diagram, there is a power plant there.

The principle of its operation is based on the conversion of hard cosmic radiation into visible light and into electricity, and radio waves, partially released from this energy... If you create such a device, you will be able to simultaneously remove radiation where it is increased, and convert huge amounts of radiation from this radiation volumes of electrical energy.

Host: - You probably just read my next question...

Presenter: - What is radiation?

Irina: - These are energies of the second level that do not need, there is no need to be pushed out of the substance, they come out on their own. In this case, one substance changes into another, losing energy. This radiation energy can damage the first level energy that is found in the molecules of the human body.

Presenter: - I understand Mid, thank you!

Presenter: - Why are there animals on earth? Reptiles, insects, other creatures and can you eat them?

Irina: - I grew up in Esler, and what happens here with animals is, of course, unusual for me. But I know that this is part of your civilization, your culture, and there cannot be changes in the sense that your food industry is based on animal husbandry, crop production, and you cannot have it any other way here. Of course, all forms of animal bodies, insects, what you call birds and so on - God, when he created the conditions for the evolution of all these material shells, of course he knew how they would be used by incarnate spirits. And it is no coincidence that the bodies of earthlings and some other humanoid races are created precisely with the ability to digest animal proteins, and not just plant proteins.

Presenter: - Thank you.

Host: - Can a spirit incarnate into an animal?

Irina: - If we are talking about a rational spirit - Limis, then he can only incarnate in a being whose nervous system will allow him, whose brain and the structure of the nervous system will allow him to think, perceive, dream and do everything that rational spirits do. The animal's nervous system does not have the ability to do this, so they have different vibrations and he will not be able to connect the life force with the animal's body.

Host: - What spirits are embodied in animals?

Irina: - There are animal souls called Eromes; after the death of the body, they also leave them, staying for some time in the astral space. They usually walk around the place where the body died. It also depends on whether the animal is wild or domestic? The degree of development of his animal soul... In your earthly calculation, those energies that made up the animal soul gradually dissipate in the astral space and the animal enters a state of sleep. It just falls asleep and forgets about everything, and dissolves.

Presenter: - Thank you, Mid.

Presenter: - Interesting question. How many human sins are there and what are they?

Irina: - Sins? I ask you to explain what sin is for you? I can speak a little in my own terminology.

Presenter: - Sins are something that negatively affects the development of a person’s spirit.

Irina: - How do you see the development of the human spirit? I need to know this to answer. In your understanding, what is sin? Transform your terms and concepts into yours.

Presenter: - Thank you, there is no need to answer this question. I know the answer. I will answer the person myself. Simply, the questions were written by a person who is interested in exactly how you answer these questions.

Irina: - Development can be in different directions. And, accordingly, things that hinder development in one direction or another. Various things can be called sins. If he meant development towards good, evil deeds will be called sins. But unfortunately there is a development in the opposite direction - it is also believed that I am developing by improving in evil deeds, doing them more sophisticated. And then for these levels of consciousness, evil deeds will be the opposite.

Presenter: - Thank you! What an interesting answer you gave...

Irina: - Therefore, I asked what is development in the concept of that person? What ideal did he set for his development? The quantity and quality of sins will depend on this ideal.

Presenter: - How to properly learn to hear your Higher Self? How can you distinguish his thoughts from your own? That is, from this noise in the head that a person invented for himself?

Irina: - In your human body there is only one opportunity to find out the will of the Higher Self. That is, the Higher Self is you yourself, but having access to information about the past, your tasks. This is a term to make it more clear to you that this is a level of consciousness higher than yours, in which you usually reside in the material world.

How to move to the level of consciousness of the higher self?

You can only achieve this through spiritual development. That is, the recognition that material achievements, although important, are important as tools for spiritual improvement. Once you understand this and realize it with your whole being, you will move to a new level of vibration that will allow your thoughts from your higher Self to enter your consciousness, but you will call this an intuitive experience.

How to distinguish from your fantasies?

Fantasies are in many ways reflections of your desires to receive satisfaction, namely in the sensual sense or more subtle ones. And your higher selves, intuitive insights, will tell you not about this, but about fulfilling your task. Usually this is an increase in love in yourself and in the world, an increase in knowledge, cognition, everything that makes you closer to divine vibrations. All those thoughts and feelings are the higher Self in you, everything that pulls you back into judging others and into the thought that you only need to love yourself - this is a rejection of the higher Self.

Presenter: - Thank you, thank you.

Host: - What is conscience and does a person need it?

Irina: - This is another reflection of the higher self, but more connected with the moral standards of society. That is, in everyone, as you know, the spirit, incarnating, has a blocked memory of the past. Moral norms manifest themselves in him in the form of feelings of what is possible and what is not. That is, in your language this is called manifestations of conscience. If the action you did and its consequences have already been experienced in a previous incarnation, then your higher self will tell you through your conscience that this is wrong. That is, you may not even know why this is so, but you will have a clear feeling, even if everyone around you does this and it is normal for them. You will have a clear feeling that this is wrong, that you need to move away from this, and you are often not even able to explain to yourself on a logical level why this is so.

Host: - Thank you, very interesting answer.

Presenter: - Why did Notre Dame Cathedral burn down?

Irina: - I deal with contacts with contactees and do not follow the news in your world.

Host: - That's it, thank you very much, I heard you, let's move on.

Host: - You describe your world as ideal, but what in your world does not suit you? What do you disagree with?

Irina: - I can only say about Esler or the Interstellar Union.

Host: - For now, I'm only interested in Esler, your personal opinion in relation to your planet, to your world.

Irina: - In general, I am quite satisfied with our government. Ours is structured a little differently. Hierarchy of society. We are not ruled by one person, we are ruled by the community. Each city has its own community. One or more Eslerites are selected from each community to create, well, one might say, a planetary government. The laws that are adopted in Esler seem quite fair to me, and what I don't like there... I think, as a scientist, that our government should pay more attention to education... We have community schools, in your opinion, where should we go? we take children... I think that our government should pay more attention to educating children not only about the spiritual component, but also, like you, pay more attention to purely physical sciences. We have all this specialized. Not everyone studies in such a volume, for example, mathematics and exact sciences. Only if you have chosen the specialization of a scientist will you study it, but otherwise our education is aimed more at studying psychology, social sciences, and art. I would increase the share of exact sciences.

Host: - That is, we would increase the share of spiritual sciences here, and you would like to increase the share of material sciences... Thank you very much, I understand!

Host - Do you have the concept of deception, lies, lies, and do your residents deceive each other?

Irina: - The concept - deception, lies and lying - is what you can call sins, in the sense that they are separated from God, from his energies. This does not belong to civilizations, but to those spiritual levels from which spirits come. If, as I have already said, in every monastery there is a sinner, so in every prison there is a saint.

Host: - So you have lies, deception, but to a lesser extent?

Irina: - If you look at the level of governments, at the level of ideology, propaganda... Then we have fewer lies in the sense that we do not have wars and other crimes, such as yours, against the people, so it makes no sense for governments to say, that everything is good even though everything is bad. And if we have lies and deception, then this is usually not at the level of state ideology, which is usually very developed in your country. And at the level of interpersonal communication, lies always have some purpose.

Presenter - Thank you.

Host: - What are dreams and where is our spirit actually located while we sleep?

Irina: - Dreams are partial memories of travel outside the body. The fact is that your nature allows you to be in the astral space while the body is sleeping. Since the spirit itself does not need rest, unlike the physical body, therefore, while the body is recovering, the spirit leaves it, just like you do when you put your car in the garage... What you call dreams are partial memories of that , what's happened.

Why partial? Because you were unconscious. Your body wanted to sleep, and with this desire you went out and were in it, so you were not aware of yourself. Returning to the body, when connecting with it, those last fragments of memories that you had are lost, since you immediately pay attention to the material world and begin to act in it. This is a defensive reaction of the subconscious aimed at surviving in the material world. After all, before people lived, after sleep they had to begin to act for their safety, and being distracted by astral images, they could harm themselves.

Host: - So it turns out that in dreams we go to the astral plane?

Irina: - Yes, the astral is the more modern name for that part of the spiritual world where people's souls go when their bodies sleep.

Presenter: - Thank you!

Host: - What came first, the chicken or the egg?

Irina: - The process of evolution you describe is generally correct, but evolution was directed by divine energy in all beings. That is, even when initially connecting parts of the cell with each other, these protein molecules and so on, they connected under the influence of Divine energy. It was directed evolution. Further, organisms improved gradually depending on living conditions. We went through natural selection - that's all true. Because the genetic set can change gradually depending on living conditions. And those birds, those creatures from which modern chickens originated... First, it was not the chicken or the egg that appeared, but the information in the DNA about their body, naturally it was encoded first in the cell, but what kind of cell could there be from which the chicken itself is produced? ? This is naturally an egg.

#5 Second contact with Kirchiton from the planet Daraal:

1st conference in Voronezh

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vtoroj-kontakt-s-kirhitonom-s-planety-daraal

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0r9FuQ47koA

00:00 - The second coming of Kirchiton.

Irina: Several days passed, and my mother asked me (at about 10 pm it was also in July) to go to the neighbor across the street and ask him for something. I went. I knocked on his window, but no one opened it for me. I see his gate in the yard is open. I think: “I’ll knock on the back door now, maybe he’ll open it there.” Getting in. There you need to walk across the yard to his porch. I'm coming. I look, it’s dark there, I can’t see anything. I go to the door, look - and there is a lock. I’m standing on the porch, thinking: “He’s not at home, I have to go.” And then I wanted to look up. I didn’t hear anything, didn’t see anything, didn’t even think about “them.” I just raised my head and there was a flying saucer hanging above me. Yes, it’s no longer a triangle, but a plate. Such a dark color. I look - the round windows there are visible, the stars are shining in them, but the light is not on in them. It (the plate) is 6 meters in diameter. And about 3 - 4 meters from me, like this (shows). She sank low. I looked at her and immediately realized that this was Kirchiton. I'm waiting to see what happens next. This plate flew away from me slowly through the air, towards that guy’s garden. I think: “We need to go after her.” And she ran. To see what will happen next. I also looked at my feet - there were such weeds in his yard, no matter how hard I fell. I look - she stopped. And I stopped. A ladder emerged from it. A round hatch opened and a ladder came out. But not to the ground, but just below the knees. And I see that this ladder has handles so you can hold on. They felt like plastic, not wood or metal. And I climbed up this ladder - it’s not high there - and fell into the hatch. When I climbed into it, it also surprised me; it didn’t glow. If you look from the road, you won’t even see the plate.

03:12 We are all idiots.

Question from the audience: What do they call themselves?

Irina: They say that they are “from the planet Daraal.”

Question from the audience: Well, we are people, but who are they?

Irina: Daraalians. Well, in general, in their language it is called “gopneish”, that is, a spirit embodied in a material or densely material body. They are the most gopish, we are the most gop. They don’t differentiate so much who is people and who is someone else. Just gopneyshi - intelligent spirits in a physical shell. It’s just that we live on Earth, and they live on Daraal.

03:52 Daraal time

Question from the audience: Do they have a concept of time?

Irina: Yes, it exists. But for them, one revolution of the planet around the star takes our 10 months. And one rotation of the planet around its axis is 18 of our hours. They also divide everything into periods, this may not be exactly our hour or half an hour, they have their own measures there. After all, they also live in the material world and must somehow navigate.

04:33 What is the Interstellar Union

Question from the audience: And here, what interest do they have?

Irina: Their interest...In our galaxy there is a so-called Interstellar Union. It consists of 116 civilizations, which includes the THREE that WE CREATED 3 million years ago. These are Burhad, Tumesout and Selbet. They created us.

Question from the audience: What do the Daraals have to do with it?

Irina: They didn't create us. But they are part of the same Interstellar Union that these civilizations created. In general, the Interstellar Union was created by Burkhad and Tumesout. And Selbet helped them create us people.

05:15 Incarnate Spirits

Question from the audience: Where did they come from? After all, they all come from somewhere. Did someone create them too?

Irina: I will now answer as is considered according to their religion. But! They combine religion with science, it is one whole. They believe that there is a creator God. He first gave birth to all intelligent spirits - all of us who sit here - only we were still without a body. That is, we all appeared before the creation of the material universe, we just don't remember it. He gave birth to us (they distinguish these two moments), and he created the material world. That is, they distinguish between the words "give birth" and "create." To give birth is to convey a part of yourself, to create is to do SOMETHING without a part of yourself.

Question from the audience: To create means to clone, right?

From the audience: No, this is not cloning, but something else.

Irina: They give this example: it's the same as a person giving birth to a child and creating some material object, drawing a picture. Is there a difference between his child and this picture?

07:18 And again Kirchiton. Second flight on a flying saucer.

Irina: I climbed up the plate through the hatch, and then it disappeared just like that door. You blink once and he's already gone. The floor just became, without a gap, without anything. There was such a semicircular room: gray walls, again there was light inside, but it was not visible from the outside. This surprised me. And then I had all the other contacts on a plate.

Question from the audience: And again there was Kirchiton?

Irina: Kirchiton. I stood up and he was standing in front of me. He told me: “Let's go. We are flying to the lunar base. We’ll talk about your contacts.” And he walked forward along a small corridor. And it ends in a semicircular room. And again there are chairs on the right, but with semicircular arms, like they probably are on buses, but a little larger. He said, “Sit down,” and I sat down. Opposite there were some boxes, and a little higher there were round windows. I sat down on a chair. The previous triangle was a big ship, this is a smaller plate. In the triangle, when we were flying, they turned on the artificial gravity device, so I didn’t feel anything. Since the plate is smaller and is intended specifically for contactors, it does not have this device. Kirchiton also explained to me: “Our researchers studying your psychology, the psychology of earthlings - our contactees, came to the conclusion: if we ride contactees with artificial gravity, it will be more difficult for them to believe that they were in space.” This is how they justified it. But I didn’t know anything yet, I wasn’t warned, he said “sit down” - I sat down. He came up, started pressing something, and after a few seconds I felt as if I was falling somewhere. The chair just falls through. But I, not expecting this feeling, wanted to jump up. The chair is falling through! Naturally, I wanted to jump up so as not to fall. But instead of jumping up, I jumped up to the ceiling (there were 4 meters there) and hit the top of my head so hard that I got stars from my eyes. Then after contact, there was probably a lump for a week or two. Instead of falling to the floor, I somehow hung in the air and immediately realized that this was weightlessness. I still read and watched films. I was stuck and couldn’t move. Kirchiton turned around, he couldn’t turn around like that (like people), he turns around with his whole body, he doesn’t have a neck. He turned around and saw it. Came up to me. And he walked around the ship, because his shoes allow him to be attracted by some kind of magnetic field, so as not to dangle in this weightlessness. He came up to me, took my hand and sat me back on the chair. He says: “Hold on!” I grabbed my hands. He walked back silently. And I have the feeling that my pulse is pounding in my temples. I've never had anything like this before. My head was spinning, and when I looked at objects, they seemed to be staggering. And I started to feel a little nauseous. Unpleasant feeling. It didn't last long, about 2-3 minutes.

12:20 Base on the Moon

He came out and said: “Let’s go.” I got up, followed him and felt that it was somehow strange for me to walk, as if I had been pumped full of some kind of gas, I was somehow jumping. And it’s somehow very easy to move, raise your arms. That's how it felt. I say, “Where are we?” And we left the plate and found ourselves in a cave, it was such a big cave. He says, “This is a moon base. This cave has a normal temperature and atmosphere. We don’t have to wear protective suits.” We did not walk on the surface, but found ourselves immediately in a cave. We went out - it was also light there, again there were no lanterns, it was light. The walls were stone, the floor was also stone. There was air. But it was pretty cool. The cave was huge, the ceiling was maybe 20 meters high. And surprised by this feeling, I began to jump. And when I jumped like that, I flew higher than Kirchiton.

Question from the audience: There was simply no such attraction there, right?

Irina: Yes. Kirchiton says: “Let’s go,” and we went to the wall. There was such a round cave - we approached - there was such a brown door. She went down on her own. We walked through - there is such a narrow corridor, it turns like this (shows), and the doors on both sides of the corridor are so black. We entered the second one on the right, he opened the door and again found ourselves in a room, there were no corners, it was oval. And the walls were not gray, like in that cave, but greenish. And in this room there was a table, only without legs, but simply rising from the floor, about my chest height. Also so brown. And there was another Daraalian, like Kirchiton in appearance.

15:22 Irina becomes a contactee or THREE CONDITIONS

Irina: Kirchiton turns to me and says: “Do you agree to be our contactee?” I say: “What is needed for this?” (Answers) “To do this, you now need to agree to three conditions.” I say: “Which ones?” (Answers) “I will assign you a place and time twice a week.” And we lived in a village, where we mostly had forest. (Continues) “I will now bring you to this place, I have already appointed it, you will come there in the evening, at what time I will tell you, twice a week, Tuesday, Thursday, at the appointed time in the evening you will wait for me, and we you and I will visit the planets of the solar system first. When we study them, the planets of the Galaxy. If you don’t come, instead of every missed physical contact, and physical contact means he comes physically, instead of every missed physical contact, you and I will have 5 mental contacts.” I say: “What is this?” He says, "It's mental contact." But he did not explain to me in detail what kind of mental contacts were. And I thought: “Well, somehow in my thoughts, then.” (Kirkhiton continues) “Second condition: it is advisable not to tell anyone about your contacts.” I say: “How can anyone? Even your mother? I lived with my mother. “You see,” he says, “if you talk about contacts, people will start asking you for evidence, but we are forbidden to give evidence. For some reasons: military, political - it’s dangerous for yourself.” But then I decided to tell people anyway, even without evidence. He warned me that “if people then start to distrust you, it’s not our fault.” Therefore, I still decided to tell everyone, because, firstly, I was interested in people’s reactions, and, secondly, to see for myself in all this, because when you just make contact alone, doubts arise. You constantly go to contacts - information overwhelms you...

From the audience: And what a few years... There was almost no literature... Neither Kryon, nor various esoteric literature.

Irina: I was told that besides me, Kirchiton has other contactees, but they don’t tell anyone, because they don’t want to be considered liars or crazy.

Question from the audience: Why do they (Daraal residents) need this? Through you, what did they want?

Irina: I’ll explain now. Just about the conditions... So I ask: “Don’t tell anyone? Even mom?” (Answers) “This is not a complete ban, but if you tell, no evidence will be given. We are not allowed to give evidence." I say: “Okay, I agree.” (Kirchiton continues) “The third condition:

contact is established for life. Then lie down on the table, we'll give you a chip now."

19:14 Chip installation

Irina: This is the word "chip" and, by the way, the word "mental", I heard it from him for the first time. And I say: "What is a chip?" (Answers) "This is a micro-device for surveillance. When we install it for you, I will have the opportunity to be aware of what you are doing, where you go, with whom you communicate - everything will be visible, as on the screen. This chip will make mental contact between us possible, because without it mental contact is impossible." I say: "Well, put it on." He says: "Lie down on the table." I walked up to this table and put my hands on it. The table was warm to the touch, that's how silicone baking molds are, it was exactly like that, like velvety and rubbery at the same time, or something. I put my hands on him, jumped on him and lay on his back. And even before this, Kirchiton said, pointing to the second Daraalian: "His name is Pirzhiton. He will help you get a chip. But he doesn't speak Russian. In all of Daraal, only I know Russian, because I am the only one in contact with you. I studied the language."

21:01 How do aliens know Russian?

Irina: But I was always surprised that he knows Russian quite well, very well. And he speaks without an accent. He studied in Daraal. They receive data from the Interstellar Union about our countries, languages, religions, sciences. They have a whole database on our planet.

Maxim: Her second contactee, who is in astral contact, also speaks Russian. This is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler. And he studies what I call esotericism.

Irina: Yes, bioenergy.

Maxim: He diagnoses people based on their internal vibrations. He sees the same thing in flowers, he sees bacteria. In general, he sees the vibrational and energetic world and makes diagnostics. Plus, they are also studying our planet, our herbs, our medicines. Because they cannot give us (their drugs), and their task is to help us, to help us grow and develop. Tell me more, Irin.

22:26 Features of the alien chip

Irina: I lay down on the table. Kirchiton and Pirzhiton approached from both sides. I look at them - they look at me. And then Pirzhiton held his palm like this in front of my eyes, my eyes closed on their own, and I don't remember anything else. So my light was turned off. Then I opened my eyes - I don't know how much time has passed - I'm lying on the same table. Kirchiton stands nearby and says: "Get up. We have supplied everything for you." I got up and looked at myself - everything seemed fine. I say: "Where did you put it for me?" He (Kirkhiton) says: "We put it under your left rib, under your bottom." "What does he look like," I say? (Answers) "It consists of organic materials, in the shape of a human hair, 2 millimeters long."

Question from the audience: So, if you take x-rays, it won't be visible?

Irina: Yes. He told me this: "All types of radiation pass through it: X-rays and so on. It also cannot be rejected by your body's defense system, and over time, after a few years, it will become completely part of your body. It's safe for you. All. Now I can watch you. Now you are our contactee."

#6 Intelligent life in our Galaxy. How do aliens reproduce? Incarnation of the soul, reincarnation

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/razumnaya-zhizn-v-nashej-galaktike

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tFqxoE2jwIQ

00:07 How many planets has Irina Podzorova visited?

Maxim: How many planets have you visited during this time?

Irina: We visited quite a lot of planets. At first, he (Kirkhiton) took me around the solar system; we went to each planet in protective suits. I had a suit that they put on me, they selected it for my height. And in general, he told me that the choice of costume for each contactee is made individually. When they install the chip, they remove all parameters.

00:37 Deti na planete Sequence.

Maxim: Are there any children there at all? Good question.

Irina: Children? Yes.

Maxim: How long do they live there? Everything is different...

00:43 Do contactees introduce each other?

Maxim: Do the contactees contact each other?

Irina: No, contactees do not contact each other, they believe that there is no need to introduce contactees to each other. This will probably be proof of contact, they don't provide that.

01:08 How do they reproduce on Daraal?

Maxim: Irina, tell me how Kirchiton and his Daraal race reproduce children?

Irina: Daraal has a permanent population of 150 million people, they have strict birth control there, so strict that a child can only be created after the death of one of them. They don't reproduce like us. There is a special apparatus for reproduction, called Mitchentu, and when, accordingly, a Daraalian dies, the government decides who will take his place - a man or a woman. Then they take genetic material from the man and woman (parents).

02:07 Are there families on Daraal?

Question: Do they have families?

Irina: No, they live alone.

02:12 Who raises children in Daraal?

Question: If he is born, who raises him?

Irina: When he is born, he is sent to special institutions. Parents can come. Parents are those who gave the genetic material, but they do not directly give birth to it.

Question: But they will still find out who his mother is?

Irina: Naturally, it says in its own language that this is your genetic parent.

Question: Do they have feelings for their children like we do?

Irina: I saw children in Daraal. The genetic material of a man and a woman is placed in this Mitchent device, and a specific cell division program is set. When the physical body is formed to a certain limit, then, like a child in the womb, a spirit comes for reincarnation. In general, they believe in reincarnation.

03:26 What is reincarnation?

Irina: We can reincarnate on any planet.

Question: Not only on Earth?

Irina: Not only. You may have lived in a past life on other planets.

03:41 Who decides where the spirit will incarnate?

Question: Who decides when and where the spirit will incarnate?

Irina: Special consultants in the Spiritual world decide. The spiritual world is one for the entire Universe.

03:52 Who is God, why did he create the Universe?

Question: Is God one for the entire Universe?

Irina: God is one for the entire Universe. This is the one who created everything, this is the one who created everything, created the entire material universe and gave birth to us all. He created the material universe for us, not for himself. He created it for our use, so that we would develop here, study, so that we could build our lives here, live using material things and objects. It is for the same purpose that a Father gives his child a complex construction set.

Maxim: Because it is very difficult to go through lessons in the form of a spirit, it is impossible in the Universe, he can only imagine going through these lessons, but never go through them. We can go through these lessons only if we have a physical shell with an attached spirit, which we call the Soul.

Question: Depending on how you complete this test and complete all your lessons, will you end up on some planet?

Irina: Every planet has its own conditions. In addition to physical, densely material planets like ours, Daraal, Esler, Burkhad, there are also planets.

05:10 How many planets are there in our Galaxy?

Irina: In our Galaxy there are 727 planets with intelligent life, including ours, but only 116 of them are included in the Interstellar Union, so we are not included there.

Maxim: They have conditions under which we can join this Interstellar Union. We must comply with them, Irina has everything written down. She talked with ufologists and psychiatrists. Irina has a very large accumulated material in order to present it all correctly. They set the conditions that the Earth must meet in order for it to be able to enter the Interstellar Union, and in order to continue contact with us. It's called mass contact.

06:00 Mass contact.

Irina: Mass contact, that is, at the level of governments, will be possible only before joining the Interstellar Union. Otherwise, they see no point in mass contact, other than stirring up the population. And, moreover, if mass contact occurs now, then our government and military structures, having entered into this contact with them directly, will first be happy and surprised at the meeting with extraterrestrial brothers in mind. And then, naturally, they will have thoughts of taking alien technology. Exactly what technologies?

06:38 Gravity engine.

Irina: This is the engine. By the way, they move on an engine that works with the help of gravitons. It's called a gravity engine. And that is why they make a gravitational jump and can fly to the other end of the Galaxy in a few minutes. It’s not that they exceed the speed of light, but without reaching it, they turn on the gravitational engine and simply make a jump.

07:05 What do aliens, Aryans, Atlanteans look like?

Question: Do they look different on each planet?

Irina: Yes, they look different. Daraalians look like I described them. Eslerites, they have a different look, they are our height.

Question: Are there others similar to us?

Irina: There are people similar to us - these are Burkhadians.

Maxim: The Burkhadians are what we call Aryans, they are two meters tall, blond hair, blue eyes. Their eyes are different. Why blue, they say, because they glow.

Question: The ancestors of us?

Maxim: Yes, they are one of them.

Question: This is where the inhabitants of Atlantis come from?

Maxim: Atlanta, yes.

Irina: The Tumesout people are very similar to Russian people, but they are from 5 to 8 meters tall. Because they have a smaller planet, accordingly, the gravity on the planet is less, and therefore their body was formed by evolution more.

Question: Are there planets without physical life?

08:04 Who are plasmoids? Types of plasmoids.

Irina: There are also thin-material plasmoid civilizations; in fact, there are tens of times more of them than dense-material civilizations. Even here on Earth we have different types of plasmoids. A plasmoid is an energy being (there is a Daraal term “bravod”), which is not embodied in a physical body, but in one consisting of the energy of electromagnetic waves. To put it simply, this is something like an intelligent ray of light or an electromagnetic wave; in ancient times they were called “nature spirits”. These are one of the types of plasmoids: these are spirits of the elements, sylphs, salamanders.

#7 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: answer to the main question Origin of life

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/proiskhozhdenie-zhizni

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QETeIVzD8Sk

00:00 Conversations with Kirchiton. Three races that created us and formed religions on Earth.

Irina: When I met with Kirchiton many times after contacts, and we visited planets, we talked about everything. And, in the end, he began to tell me, gradually, about the history of the Earth: we were created, and about those who created us. These 3 races formed the religions of our Earth and the holy books of different religions, respectively, in Russia - this is the Bible. These are records of ancient contactees such as Moses with aliens.

00:36 Moses is a contactor with the planet Tumesout.

Irina: Moses was a contactee with the planet Tumesout. These are those that are from 5 to 8 meters tall. Why did you choose him? They had a whole plan, even larger, even more global than that of the Daraals, the Eslerites and the rest.

00:57 The Original Spirit, the first son of God, our elder brother - Jesus Christ.

Irina: When God gave birth to all the Spirits, he first gave birth to one Spirit, the very first son. The essence that he gave birth to we now call Jesus Christ. We showed up after him. The essence of Christ helped the Creator God himself in the creation of the material Universe. Jesus is the first son of God, he invested in him greater capabilities, greater knowledge than in all of us, and more of his image.

Maxim: That is, Christ is not a physical image of a person, but an image of the Spirit, born of the Creator.

Irina: He is the firstborn son, we are the children after him, he is our elder brother.

Reply from the audience: Those who were before Jesus Christ? BC?

Maxim: We will tell you everything now.

02:23 Reasons for the creation of many religions?

Question from the audience: Why was it necessary to create so many religions, and not just one?

Irina: It is necessary to create many religions, because different entities are incarnated, with different spiritual levels, with different concepts about life, and one religion simply will not suit all of them. Everyone has different concepts about life, therefore, in order to form moral rules that suppress the animal nature in people of different levels, different religions were created. Anyone who matches the vibrations of an Islamic egregor will not believe in a Christian one and vice versa. It was necessary to do this. One religion for everyone is impossible because we are all different at this level of development. Especially when most people do not feel the Spiritual world. There are people who feel, like I do, that Spirits exist, there is an astral plane, because I go into it every day.

03:27 The purpose of the incarnations of Christ.

Irina: I met and talked with Kirchiton, topics began about the Bible, about the creators. He said that the Bible's account of the Old Testament before Christ is all the history of the Jews. How they were chosen as the people in whom the Essence, born first, was to incarnate.

Why did she decide to incarnate here? Christ incarnated on other planets earlier, on those where they very much turned away from the spiritual path towards the material, in order to create a religion that would help the incarnate Spirits return to life with God.

For this purpose, he incarnated on those planets. There they did not treat him the same as here on Earth. He lived there for some time and taught the people. Perhaps there were some conflicts there, but they did not reach the level that has reached here on Earth. He taught the people, created a suitable religion for their worldview, for their terminology. For some believers there should be one terminology, for monotheists, for example, there should be another terminology.

Maxim: Well, that is, they gave him a car, and he comes to tune the car.

05:04 Contactee Moses is the author of the book “Exodus”.

Irina: The Tumesout people made contact with Moses. Who was Moses? He was from the Jewish people. The Jewish people were enslaved by the Egyptians. Pharaoh gave the order to destroy all boys so that they would not reproduce. Moses was abandoned as a child to Pharaoh's daughter.

Pharaoh's daughter raised Moses as her son. They did not hide his Jewish origin from him. Having once seen that an Egyptian was offending a Jewish slave, Moses killed the offender and disappeared into another country.

All this is described in the book of Exodus in the Old Testament. In addition to him, Jewish Levites also wrote, but most of them were written by him as a contactee.

Fled to another country. This was about four thousand years ago. Then there was a different civilization, a completely different world, there was no modern knowledge: astronomy, physics, there were no televisions, no computers, no rockets.

People considered all the aliens who descended from the sky on saucers and ships to be Gods. There were no other concepts, because the stars themselves were considered the eyes of the gods. They did not know that planets are the same as suns. Ancient people had a mythological consciousness.

06:38 Contact between Moses and the Tumesoutians. Holy Land.

Irina: So, Moses fled to another country and got married. The wife's name was Zipporah. His son was born.

Moses was about 70 years old, and at that age he tended sheep. The civilization was environmentally friendly, and the people were strong.

On one of these days, Moses saw that a bush was burning, but it was not consumed. The ship sent a beam to form a ball and attract his attention. These were the Tumesoutians.

Since Moses was a Jew, he spoke Hebrew. At that time there was already Hebrew. When he saw the burning bush, he went to look and a voice was heard. Like a voice repeater: “Take off your shoes, where you stand, Holy Land.”

Why did the Tumesout people say that? They decided to formulate in him the concept that they came from above, that they were gods, in order to create a religion. This made it easier to explain to people about the planets.

Maxim: They chose the moment so that he could believe one hundred percent.

08:20 Elohim - Gods. Tumesoutians and Burkhadians. Atlanta and Arias. Exodus of the Jews.

Irina: “The land on which you stand is Holy Land.” This was said in Hebrew, the Tumesoutians had already learned the language. Later, when Moses began to communicate with them, he called them Elohim, that is, gods who came from heaven. Elohim is the plural translated as God in the Bible.

Taking off his shoes, Moses says: “Bring my people out of Egypt.” Why "mine"? The Tumesoutians have already decided to form a people whose vibrational characteristics will allow them to embody such an Essence as Christ. The essence cannot incarnate in everyone. If it enters a woman who is low vibrational, it will destroy her. The Tumesout people were helped by their first partners - the Burkhadians.

Maxim: Burkhadians are our creators. I will call the Atlanteans Tumesoutians, for simplicity, and the Burkhadians are our ancestors of the Aryans: blond, of our height.

Irina: The Tumesout people began to work with Moses. Bring the people out. Pharaoh did not want to let them go. What is called the “ten plagues of Egypt” is the influence of the Tumesoutians.

Pharaoh let them go. They went into the desert.

The Jews were originally from Canaan. But while they lived in slavery for 400 years, their land of Israel was occupied by other tribes. Who will let the whole people in now?

Everything there is already occupied, cities have been built. The Tumesouts and Burkhadians did not use their weapons; they gave the Jews the opportunity to conquer this land themselves. The history of wars is described in the book of Exodus by Joshua.

#8 Conference in Voronezh. The second coming of Christ. Revelation of John the Evangelist

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/konferenciya-v-voronezhe-vtoroe-prishestvie-hrista

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YZbphUxsTWQ

00:01 Atlantis.

Maxim: We had a single continent on Earth. There was always sunshine, it was warm, but there was a temperature difference. That is, we had a paradise that was created so that humanity could exist here.

00:14 “The enemy of the human race is the Serpent” (Bible) - are these reptilians?

Irina: These are the Selbet people. Because of this, they became the tempting serpents in the Bible.

Maxim: Yes, in the Bible it is called Selbetites, reptilians - “Serpent Tempter”. This is exactly what the Bible is talking about, this tempting serpent.

Irina: That is, he is called the enemy of the human race.

Maxim : The enemy of the human race. That is, the reptilians, one of our creators, tried to destroy us.

00:34 Second Coming of Christ. Mass contact.

Question: You say that if Jesus sacrificed that he can no longer reincarnate, what about the second coming of the Savior in scripture?

Maxim : Another higher Spirit will come here in order to..., but this is my interpretation.

Irina: Christ will come a second time, he will come in the same body.

Maxim : Will Christ come in the same body?

Irina: In which he was crucified and is now physically located on Burkhad. He will arrive by ship. What is written: "... I will come with thousands of angels..." - this means that he will come with his friends from different planets.

Maxim: Is this mass contact or what?

Irina: This will be mass contact. But what is written in the last book of the Bible, which you call "The Revelation of John the Evangelist." Yes, you love this topic, Mead. He loves this topic - the Revelation of John.

Maxim: Mead loves to philosophize, he asked me such questions yesterday.

02:00 How many years did people live on Earth before the war 12 thousand years ago?

Question: And before this war 12 thousand years ago, before this blow, how long did people live? In general, everything on Earth was not oxidized?

Maxim: 3 million years ago we were created.

Question: Did people live longer than they do now because there was no oxidation?

Irina: Longer.

Maxim: Mid, how long did people live before the war 12 thousand years ago, when there was a different atmosphere here?

Irina: 10 times longer than now.

Maxim: A thousand years?

Irina: From 600 to 900 years in general.

02:39 How tall were people before the war 12 thousand years ago?

Maxim: Was the height of people the same?

Irina: The height was the same as that of the Burkhadians. But in the new conditions, since the atmosphere and food became different, the height increased from 2 meters 20 cm to 2 m 80 cm.

03:30 What is the essence of Revelation from John the Theologian?

Irina: The Revelation of John the Theologian is not a prophecy that predetermines the future, it is a warning about what will happen to your planet if the Interstellar Union is forced to intervene and make mass contact while there is a time when you are not ready. Well, this can happen if your power and military structures are threatened. I just can't quite keep up with him. Mid, slow down please. I just have the ability to perceive, trance. The longer I am in a trance state, the more my ability to perceive decreases slightly.

05:12 In what case will the Interstellar Union make mass contact?

Irina: We, the Interstellar Union, will do this only if your power and military structures start a global war, or your governments bring the planet to the brink of an environmental disaster - in this case, the Interstellar Union will be forced to make mass contact, regardless of the consequences of the contact with your military structures to save all ordinary people who chose the planet and incarnation and who are not to blame for the actions of your irresponsible power structures.

Question: Thank you. But this, again, as you say, is not a prediction, which means it may not happen?

Irina: This will not happen if you follow everything that Christ said, and everything that other founders of religious teachings said. If you look at them from a spiritual point of view, there are no contradictions between them.

Question: Is it correct to say that the church is a superstructure above God?

Irina: Sorry, I didn't understand the term "superstructure".

07:11 The goal of Christ is to bring a Teaching that will facilitate the rapid progress of all embodied entities.

Irina: I'm talking about the purpose of Christ at the incarnation. Having become incarnate, he fully remembered all his lives, including life in the Spiritual world, and all his goals and objectives. And that his incarnation was prepared for a very long time, about two thousand years from the moment of contact with Moses and until the birth of his mother, the mother who was able, having been brought up in the conditions of the Jewish religion, to embody this Essence.

His goal was to bring teachings that would facilitate the rapid spiritual progress of all beings embodied here. But everything went wrong, but even when they killed him, they killed him not for evil deeds, but for good ones, not for violating your laws, but for fulfilling them. It was not robbers who killed, it was the leading people of that time who killed, those who were supposed to stand guard over his life killed.

09:01 The body of Christ remains immortal, not subject to aging.

Irina: Then he, having come out of a damaged body, from a very badly damaged body, he decided to return to his body, and the Burkhadians, who were preparing his incarnation and accompanying him in his physical existence, flew in and took his body from the place where it was, neutralizing the guards . They physically restored his body, and he connected with it again and, with his energy received from God, erased information about aging and death in every cell of his body.

Therefore, his body remains immortal forever and is not subject to aging and disease, and he is the only immortal material Being.

#9 2nd conference in Voronezh. Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: Mead answers questions. Part 1

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/2-ya-konferenciya-v-voronezhe-chast-1

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aBdjqacY8LA

00:02 Hadron collider.

Maxim: Why was the hadron collider created? Is this good for the Earth or bad?

MidgasCaus: These are your attempts to knock gravitational energy out of matter.

Maxim: Can he harm us or not?

MidgasCaus: It doesn't have enough energy to penetrate beyond the free energy of the vacuum, where parallel spaces are located. But in order to knock out gravitational energy, you don't need to be on Earth, since the Earth's gravitational field will not allow it to be knocked out from there.

01:43 Gravity engine.

MidgasCaus: The gravity drive that Kirchiton spoke about is based on the same principle. But it is turned on only no closer than 80,000 km from large gravitational masses, otherwise it will not work and will not move the ship anywhere, or will move it incorrectly.

02:09 The idea of earthlings and aliens about the structure of matter. The meaning of life for alien scientists.

MidgasCaus: Your attempts to study matter are advancing science, but you do not have a correct understanding of the structure of matter and the distribution of energy among its levels.

For us, gathered here (we are all scientists, we explore the Cosmos), the meaning of life is to explore the Universe, therefore any knowledge is precious. And there is a point in studying matter and energy using such devices, but you need to draw the right conclusions: call portions of energy energies, not particles, introducing new concepts. These are not particles of matter, these are different energies. You call them electrons, quarks and various other names, of which there are a lot, and it's all one thing - energy. You will not advance in the study of the Universe this way.

04:41 Fate. Life scenario. Is it possible to change fate?

Maxim: Does fate exist?

MidgasCaus: This is the script you wrote for your life before incarnation into your body. These are your plans, but they may change during the implementation process. There is no fate as a limitation on freedom of choice, because otherwise it would not be the Spirit who would be responsible for his mistakes, but the one who created fate for him. But this is not so; the Spirit itself must be responsible for its mistakes. Life is neither good nor evil, it is a container of good and evil, depending on what you yourself turn it into. Don't be afraid of anyone. Be afraid of yourself. You yourself are the creators of your own blessings and the causes of your own disasters.

06:07 Karma.

Maxim: What is karma?

MidgasKaus: This is the name of those tasks that you brought with you from past incarnations, and which you must learn here in this (incarnation). You know from learning experience that new things are difficult. Teaching is always easier than learning. When you teach, you say what you know. When you study, you have to master something you had no idea about. This is in the field of information. In the field of practical skills and cultivating new qualities, training is also required. But it goes through trials, because the experience of a happy life can lull the Spirit's ability to move forward, achieve and want something.

08.15 The difference between fate and karma.

MidgasKaus: Destiny is what you yourself dreamed of before your incarnation. Karma is what the spirit consultants who gave you the opportunity to incarnate here suggested to study.

08:42 Is it possible to know the future? Prophets.

Maxim: Is it possible to know the future?

MidgasCaus: Only for the purpose of making those who do not believe in the Spiritual World admit that it exists, or to prevent what can be prevented. Prophets are born to show people that God exists. Because everyone knows that only he knows the future, which means that if there were no God, there would be no prophets. They do not need artificial objects, which are usually used by fortune-tellers and magicians; the future is revealed to them directly in the Spirit of Truth.

10:35 Why did many of the invitees not come to the conference?

Maxim: I'll ask a simple question, in principle, I understand the answer to it, but I would like to hear: why did I invite a lot of people today, but so few came?

MidgasKaus: This means the following: what we are saying, and what will be discussed here further, does not correspond to the goals of their spiritual evolution. This information may hinder them in later life, so their consciousness sent them reluctance (to come). Or external circumstances, with the help of higher teachers, developed in such a way that they did not get here. There is nothing random in such meetings, and there are no random people here. This means that everyone who has gathered here is needed to find out about this contactee, about the contact and its information. This information will be useful to all of you.

12:34 Vaccinations – evil or good? The effect of vaccinations on children.

Question: Mid, tell me, are vaccinations evil or good? What do they give us?

MidgasKaus: I studied this issue as a biologist. This is training your army, which is inside the body. Your blood contains protectors, but they need time to recognize this or that enemy that has penetrated you. If there are few enemies, the defenders have time to develop weapons - chemical, biological - and the aggressors die.

Question: Why have vaccinations crippled children recently, why have children become disabled?

MidgasCaus: If there are many enemies unknown to these defenders, they multiply so quickly that your defenders do not have time to draw weapons. Vaccinations are a small amount of enemies or their bodies, or what they are made of. There are different types of vaccinations. When they enter the body, your blood cells that protect you perceive them as a real danger and prepare a weapon. And when dangerous microorganisms enter, they can already resist fully armed. Your Russian army has exercises where weapons are used. Vaccination is similar to this teaching, but only with microcreatures in your blood.

15:54Causes of side effects of vaccinations.

MidgasCaus: Side effects are due to the fact that most of your modern people are susceptible to allergic reactions due to the chemically aggressive biological environment in which people now live. Because of food, because of various artificial substances that did not exist in ancient times. Because of this, the body of many people began to react even to such weak irritants contained in vaccinations as if they were dangerous substances, and dangerous side effects developed.

17.04 To vaccinate or not to vaccinate?

MidgasCaus: As for the benefits, I will only say my opinion. It’s up to everyone to decide whether to get vaccinated or not. But just remember that the percentage of complications after vaccination is tens of times less than the risk of complications after a collision with an aggressive pathogen and an unprepared organism. It's my opinion. It's up to you to decide, and the responsibility will be yours.

#10 Contactor Irina Podzorova answers questions from the audience. 2nd conference in Voronezh

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kontaktyor-irina-podzorova-otvechaet-na-voprosy

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nlnNmMYNN_c

00:01 Irina: When Christ was taken to Burkhad, you are already familiar with this story, the purpose of his incarnation was to create here an organization of people in which his vibration would be located. Through this vibration, the spirits embodied in these people acquired the spiritual experience necessary for the transition to higher spiritual levels.

01:07 This organization, which Christ figuratively called “My Body,” was called ecclesia in Greek, which was translated in Russian as “church.” The civilizations of Burkhad and Tumesout helped the disciples of Christ and the disciples of their disciples to form this organization. They developed special actions, which are now called sacraments, with the help of which the energy of the highest levels of the spiritual world can enter a person and change not only his spiritual vibration, but also the state of his physical body. There are 7 such actions in the church, the sacraments of the church, and any of them has meaning, but only for those who believe in Christ as the son of God.

02:26 If for you he is a simple person, a prophet, a teacher, anyone, but not the son of God, the rituals will not work, because... belief in it involves a vibration that attracts the spiritual energies I have named.

03:14 Question from the audience: There are other religions, they also have their own rituals. Who invented them?

Irina: All religions were invented by civilizations for different types of people. Because All people differ in the level of their understanding and spiritual development; there cannot be a single religion for them. One who is able to imagine Allah as his god is not able to imagine Krishna as his god. Accordingly, on the contrary, these are two different representations and they require different levels of consciousness.

04:01 Question from the audience: If you take a small child from a tribe of savages into your family... What does it mean the spirit is not ready?

Irina: In families of believers, despite their upbringing, non-believers or believers in another religion often grow up, which causes a lot of negative emotions in these families. Not everything depends on upbringing, a lot, but not everything. The spirit comes here already largely formed by past experience.

04:46 Maxim: Can I explain the question. In general terms, this is a certain understanding of the true faith, formed in a certain period of time in a certain place, with a certain understanding of that race, more precisely, the human race, which existed there with its own way of life and its customs. How can one explain to the Chukchi tribe that Christ is? The Chukchi tribe has a belief in an idol in which they believe. True faith lies in one hundred percent faith in where you direct your energy to create, to create.

05:38 Question from the audience: So they believe in an idol and still go to develop?

Maxim: They believe in the idol, give this idol energy so that this idol forms a common egregor, which will further influence the entire tribe and those people who believe in this egregor.

06:00 Irina: In pagan religions, aliens, plasmoids, ordinary people, animals and even natural phenomena were often deified. This is all good, at the level they were at. It is better to be a good pagan than an evil Christian.

08:20 Question from the audience: Rodnoverie - the original Russian faith that existed before the baptism of Rus', does it exist now, in our time?

Irina: I have a contactee from them. They are very different. There are many directions. This is a return to those forms of faith that existed before the adoption of Christianity. There is a lot of light there, but the problem is that there is a lot of politics there. Some groups, unfortunately, veer into racism. This is unacceptable at the level humanity is at now. In the ancient world, some pagan tribes had racist beliefs, because... the herd instinct thus protected them from dissolution into other peoples.

08:34 Representative Burkhad wants to know from those who are ready to talk about this, who is not ready, let them not say how who is going to use the information received?

09:06 Maxim: Having received 100% confirmation that everything is happening exactly as I imagined, I am ready to further develop a direction that does not contradict religion, in order to enable people to correctly perceive reality, use energies correctly, and think correctly , correctly be able to visualize and grow in their vibrations.

10:07 Irina: Thank you for your answer. I know this goal, this true goal that you voiced, with which you came. I told the Burkhadian where you are from and who you are. Of course, this will help ensure that people who come to you will learn to balance their energies and achieve higher states of spirit, which, in turn, will help cleanse the astral atmosphere and attract, as you know, high spirits to incarnate here . Your goal corresponds to the evolution for the coming of a new era.

11:30 Question from the audience: How can everyone in the room be useful?

Irina: Maxim has now voiced a goal, which, as the Burkhadian said, will contribute to the advent of a new era. You have all heard his words, you agree with his goal. This means that your benefit may be that everyone, to the best of their strength, capabilities and desires, will help him in the goal that he voiced.

#11 2nd conference in Voronezh. Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: Mead answers questions. (Part 3)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/2-ya-konferenciya-v-voronezhe-chast-3

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X5417qAsfw4

00:00 Start of video.

00:03 Who are the Masons?

Irina: This is a secret organization created for the purpose of trying to secretly manage all economic and political issues on your planet. These are people who only disguise themselves with religious ideas. In fact, among them there are many people who do not believe in anything, there is a lot of cynicism and hypocrisy.

01:58 Secret organizations are not the path that can lead earthlings to development.

Irina: Among Esler's contactees there were several people you named, but they left the ranks of this organization because we explained to them that secret organizations are not the path that can lead earthlings to development.

We explained to them that God does not hide anything from people and speaks to everyone. They often consider themselves chosen, not by God, but by that higher power, which they believe they can control. Among your people of the past, military men, people of art, there were many Masons. But those Masons who were in the 19th century and even earlier are not the same Masons that exist now.

03:29 Modern Masons have become even more cynical, and they have lost the slightest desire to build a temple of the one they call God.

Irina: After all, Freemasonry was originally created as a monastic-knightly order. What it has become now is its opposite.

04:23 Are there extraterrestrial civilizations that control us?

Irina: If you were controlled by any civilization of the Interstellar Union, all types of weapons would be destroyed, attempts to bring the ideology of evil to people would be immediately stopped.

05:39 Unfortunately for you, you are in charge of yourself. This is necessary for your development.

Irina: Because the interference of the Interstellar Union in your political processes can harm your development. Each civilization must go through the path of development independently.

06:12 Every person on Earth has a question, and it sounds like this: “How to become wealthy and happy?”

Irina: I’ll just tell you my opinion. You have a very large difference between the incomes of the population.

07:16 On Esler there is no such difference in income as on Earth.

Irina: I’ll tell you what I think.

07:43 It is impossible to become rich, in the sense of wealthy, successful and even healthy on Earth in this society.

Irina: Because the amount of resources, although large, is in the hands of those people who are not interested in competing with the ownership of big money. For this reason, only a few are the richest. Next, the structure of your economic system resembles a pyramid. The less funds, the more similar people. What does this depend on?

08:45 Your wealth now, in present reality, depends on the circumstances of your birth and on your personal ability to use financial flows.

Irina: Not everyone has this skill.

10:25 To become successful and rich, you need to be able to endure and expect more.

Irina: If you give two different people the same amount of money , after a few years it may turn out that one has more money, and the other has lost what he had. This depends on the attitudes of the subconscious, which, of course, are the result of all past incarnations and upbringing from childhood in this, due to life experience, in the aggregate. How to become rich and successful? Only by learning to manage financial flows in such a way as to understand that a lot of money, energy, labor, desire must be invested in a big money business and, most importantly, the first profit should not be spent on yourself, but put back into the same business, because you need to be able to endure and wait for more.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/2-ya-konferenciya-v-voronezhe-chast-4

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CH1dyOr-hzI

00:00 Does magic exist and can you use it to kill another person?

Irina: Of course, there is magic. You can go to any bookstore and see how much literature there is on this subject. They cannot write books about something that does not exist. Magic is the laws of the astral world that you have not studied. But, of course, there are many prejudices, all sorts of fears, superstitions and the like, but there are also true spiritual laws and rules of astral safety. It takes a lot of experience to separate one from the other.

01:41 Magic is the energy of reflection of the astral world.

People have known this since ancient times **.

02:04 In religions you can find traces of the magical activity of ancient people.

You can check. Each of you has magic.

02:26 Self-hypnosis is the simplest type of magic.

This is the conscious influence of thought on your physical and psychological state. If you convince yourself that an ordinary object has a high temperature and touch it, you will get a real burn on your skin. This is magic for you. For the ancients - magic. For psychologists, this is the law of how your body works. But they have not yet been fully explained.

03:35 You can kill with magic. But it is not magic that kills, but a person who believes in murder and turns on the self-destruction program.

For example, if a magician, sorcerer, shaman, authoritative for people, makes it clear that he is killing someone with his magic, the one who believes in this will kill himself. He will turn on the self-destruct program. Either his immune system will stop working, or even his cardiovascular system will stop functioning. Doctors - your doctors at the autopsy will show only cardiovascular failure. And it was not the sorcerer who killed, but faith in him.

04:53 Question from Shimorets:

As you know, it is beneficial for any government that its subordinates are obedient and calm. Then why do your power structures allow criminals before the law to carry out their ideology into society and youth, attracting them into their structures?

Maxim: What does this mean?

Shimorets : This means that you are allowed to promote a criminal lifestyle and, moreover, your government structures, which should not be by nature interested in such propaganda, do not actually interfere with it.

06:27 Maxim answers Shimorets' question.

There is an answer to this question. Our world is driven more by money. And for money we are allowed to do things that are bad. That is, destroying our physiology, advertising alcohol, advertising pornography. Advertising is a business process. In most cases, if you have money, a lot of money, a lot of money, you can afford to do almost anything you want. This is our management policy. Money controls us.

Shimorets: So your answer is: those who have a lot of money live on low vibrations of the spirit?

Maxim: Yes, and without faith. They don't care at all. They don't believe in anything. They only believe in money. And it is very difficult to convince a person with money that there is a God who is higher than them in level and in egocentrism. In most cases, if a person has a lot of money, he understands that he can feel like God already here on Earth.

08:05 Shimorets: Is the issue of owning money the same as the issue of owning personal weapons?

08:16 Maxim: Money is a weapon.

By achieving many things. If we compare money with energy, then for a spiritual person the energy of love is an opportunity to receive any benefits, as he believes... And if we take the energy of money, then a person who has money uses money to obtain the same , he believes, is good at a physiological level.

08:58 Shimorets: You and you understand very well that a person who is filled with love will not be able to keep a lot of money. Even if he has them. For one reason, that true love, having money, will begin to spend it in order to help others, without thinking about itself. The essence of love is to forget about yourself. Therefore, many people who had wealth in ancient times and wanted to be free from the material world sold them, distributed them to the poorest and went either to nature or to some religious institutions. This is a natural consequence of the desire to free ourselves from the power of money.

10:30 After all, money has power over a person. Of course, you can use this energy for good purposes and more. But for this you need to be able to love people and collect money at the same time.

11:14 These are completely different energies and it is quite difficult to combine them .

11:32 Question from Maxim Shimorets.

There was a phrase: The essence of love is to forget about yourself.

And for the first time, in contacts, now, I do not agree that the essence of love is to forget about yourself. As far as I understand correctly, love is the energy that we project both into and out of ourselves. It turns out that I cannot forget about myself either in the divine or in the financial sense, because if I don't have money, I won't be able to project love in terms of the fact that I can give knowledge, give something else, and I cannot forget about myself and reset the understanding that I need money. I believe that in true faith there may be, without materiality, perhaps the essence of love is to forget about oneself as a physiological nature, but we are not deprived of our physiological nature, we have our own needs, we live in a society in which money, Unfortunately, or fortunately, I don't know, they have very great power. And I believe that without having money, forgetting about myself, meaning not having money or giving it away, not being able to manage money, I will not be able to teach.

13:24 Without money, I will not be able to convey information.

Because I understand that in order to convey information of this nature to me, I have to earn money, spend my energy so that people know about it. Thus, I will not be able to do this without money.

#13 2nd conference in Voronezh. Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: Mead answers questions. (Part 2)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Pi6V30bzW_w

00 : 00 Autism.

Irina: Autism is, of course, a disorder, but it comes from a painful experience in the body's past. The incarnated spirit is so frightened by the circumstances of its past life that any communication frightens it, and it builds its own world within itself. His memory of what exactly happened is blocked, but the fact that someone comes up to him and starts talking causes fear and aggression in him, and a reluctance to communicate even with the closest person. This disorder may go away over time if the Spirit is convinced of the safety of the environment in which it finds itself. His subconscious reaction will reduce fear, and gradually he will communicate with the world, leaving his formed world of imagination, but for this he does not need to communicate with him when he does not want to. He perceives it as a threat and becomes even more convinced that it is dangerous. This delays its recovery.

Question: So a person must decide for himself at what point he stops being afraid or does he need some kind of help from doctors or psychologists? How does this happen?

Irina: This is a very individual moment. Each Spirit has a personal vibration, this or that event happened to each Spirit, and even one identical event will cause different reactions in different Spirits. You need to look at the situation. If an autistic person accepts help without aggression or fear, it is necessary to provide it to him in the amount that he can accept. If he reacts with aggression and fear, it is better to leave him alone and simply maintain the vital functions of the body.

03:38 Human abilities.

Question: Why do humans only develop a few percent of all capabilities: brain activity, physical endurance, and so on?

Irina: So that you master what is. You have not mastered even a tenth of the opportunities that have already been given to you.

Question: How to master them?

Irina: Only through training, experience, different systems, depending on what we are talking about, individually. Until you learn to make the right decisions, superpowers are dangerous for you.

Question: What determines a person's intellectual abilities? Does this have anything to do with his past life experiences? Why are there people with more developed intellectual abilities and others with less, what does it depend on?

Irina: The spirit, its quality, is formed in the totality of incarnations and the experience of being in the spiritual world plus the experience gained, all this together, strictly individually. There are no two identical people, no two identical Spirits. Everyone has their place, and everyone is important to God and the Universe.

05:55 Alcohol.

Irina: You can drink with pleasure only for a short time. When addiction to substances sets in, the pleasure will disappear very quickly, and the negative that you acquire will be much greater than the pleasure that you received in the process of moving towards addiction. I am a biologist, a psychologist, and a Tashigan resident is standing next to me, studying the influence of various kinds of substances on your body and your psyche. He is very experienced in this matter and asked me to tell you that joy is possible only for a person free from all substances.

07:24 Question: Which civilization greatly influences the destructive development of us?

Irina: When it is said that civilization does not have contactees on Earth, it means that their Government did not officially send their representatives for this purpose, that is, they do not have permanent contactees here. But every civilization visiting the Earth for tourist scientific or other purposes can come into contact with any of its inhabitants, but this is not contacting, this is a one-time contact. Selbet, of course, sends researchers, some of whom, arriving on Earth, come into contact with earthlings without the informational or other purpose for which contacting is usually pursued. This is the personal desire of the Selbet ship pilots. Now they influence, unfortunately, among them there are many who, in various secret and overt ways, negatively influence your civilization. 43 percent of the crimes committed by aliens against you are committed by representatives of Selbet, and this is an indicator for the last 50 years. This is a very high figure and everyone present here has the same opinion that the government of Selbet, despite cooperation with us and being part of the Interstellar Union. We believe that the Selbet Government is not providing enough assistance in tracking down criminals on its planet and its colonies. Many in the Interstellar Union think so, but our opinions without evidence and facts are not enough to accuse the Selbet Government of condoning criminals.

#14 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: answers to questions in VK (part 1)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otvety-na-voprosy-v-vk-chast-1

00:00 Start of video.

Irina: Greetings, dear friends! Thank you all for following the information that I post in my Cassiopeia group! Today I decided to answer the questions that appeared in your mind after getting acquainted with the information from my extraterrestrial friends, and for this purpose I today invited representatives of three civilizations. Now in the astral bodies next to me there are MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, Ashtar, who represents the civilization of Sirius, and LiShioni, a representative of the Shimor civilization. Maxim helps me, who will now read questions from you, MidgasCaus will answer them.

Maxim: Yes, I welcome everyone too! I can't be seen, I'm behind the camera, I'll just help Irina and ask your questions. Irina, in our group there is a person who calls himself Vlad Petrov, he has a huge number of questions, but due to the fact that you have already answered many questions, you and I have written down those questions that, I think, will be of interest to everyone .

01:34 Give a clear definition of the word Soul and the word Spirit?

Maxim: What are Soul and Spirit, how do they differ?

Irina: Soul and Spirit are the names of one essence, their difference is that the Spirit is an immortal essence, born of God, and the Soul is the same essence, connected with life force - a special form of energy, to connect with the physical body .

Maxim: thank you very much! As I understand it, MidgasCaus answers questions through you, right?

Irina: Yes.

02:26 What does spiritual development consist of?

Maxim: What does spiritual development consist of?

Irina: Spiritual development consists of raising your level of awareness of what is happening and seeing everything in the true Light, which is love. The goal of any spiritual development is to replace all feelings and emotions in your Spirit with only one emotion, one feeling, one state of energy, which in your Russian language is called “love”.

03:10 Many people say that a person has 7 bodies....?

Maxim: Thank you! Again, Vlad Petrov asks the question, how many energy structures does a person’s aura have and what are they responsible for?

Irina: I will describe it in terms that you understand. The aura of an earthly type person consists of seven structures.

The first - in your language is called Ether or Prana - is the vital force that the physical body releases from the chemical reactions that occur during the breakdown of food substances into simple substances, joining oxygen.

The second - you call it the Astral shell, it is responsible for emotional and volitional structures. Emotions mean the energy for the Spirit’s reaction to a particular event in the external or internal world. Will is understood as the energy of the Spirit, which is directed by it to achieve a particular goal.

The next level is mental, the mental field, it contains information from the intellectual and logical structures of your consciousness. Consciousness refers to the energy of the Spirit, which is aimed at perceiving the external and internal world.

The next level in your language is called Causal - it contains information that contains images that are inaccessible to you in your normal state of consciousness, but which make up your past experience. In your psychology this is called the subconscious or the contents of the unconscious.

The next level is what you call Buddhi or Pure Mind, it contains information that is also inaccessible to you in your normal state of consciousness, but unlike the previous level, it was not produced by the Spirit while he was in this body. That is, this is information that has not passed through the brain of this body. To put it simply, this is information about your previous incarnations and about life in the Spiritual World between them.

And the last level, which you call Atman or Atmas, is what you call Superconsciousness, Higher Self, conscience, intuition - these are all manifestations of the pure Light of love that exist in each of you, this is a state of no difference, no difference from God as Spirit. The ability to enter this state constitutes the last seventh layer of your aura.

Maxim: Mid, I understand correctly, we have 7 energy centers, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: How many energy centers do you, the Eslerites, have?

Irina: 12.

Maxim: So you differ from us in energy structure?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Are you similar to us on the physical level?

Irina: Yes.

09:03 Can your friends tell you how they imagine God?

Maxim: Thank you! The next question is from the same Vlad Petrov, how do Eslerites imagine God?

Irina: God is an extramaterial Being who gave birth to all of us and from his energy, creating dense material structures that you call the Universe. What you call galaxies, stars, planets are parts of its energy structures. To put it simply, everything you see around you and you yourself are God. Not the whole God, but parts of his energy structure. The consciousness of God is available to each of you through the Atmas, through the consciousness of the Higher Self. By coming into contact with your Superconsciousness, you become, in your essence, no different from the consciousness of God. God is everything and everything is - God, this is the concept of our civilization.

10:42 What do you know about who wrote the Bible?

Maxim: I thank you, Mid! Who wrote the Bible?

Irina: If you mean the canonical writings of the Old and New Testaments, then it has many authors, more than 40 people. Some of them were contactees, for example, Moses Ezekiel, Isaiah, Daniel, Paul, John the Theologian and many others. Some of them were not contactees, they described the events that took place in their present, but in your past, they can be called chroniclers, historians. But those books that were included in the Canon of the Holy Scriptures for Christians underwent a strict selection and only those books that helped to form the Christian egregor were included, and everything that could cause disagreement in the emerging community of believers was not included in the Canon. Although this does not mean that the events described in non-canonical books are not true or that the point of view expressed by the author of a non-canonical biblical work is incorrect.

12:48 They say that humanity is an experiment. Question: Who organized this experiment? (Please expand on the topic)

Maxim: I understand, thank you very much, Mid! A very interesting question from the same Vlad Petrov, who organized the experiment to create humanity and what was its meaning and purpose?

Irina: Initially, the experiment to create hybrids on your planet was decided to be carried out by representatives of the planet Tumesout, who discovered your world. The goal was to develop from those animal forms that did not have time to develop through natural evolution into a being capable of containing a rational Spirit for incarnation. To speed up this process, since your planet and its neighbors - Mars and Venus, seemed to them an ideal place for the formation of a fairly developed civilization, a future partner. And they did not want to wait many thousands, or even millions of years for natural evolution to continue. This was the purpose and meaning of the beginning of experiments on those animals of your planet that were subjected to genetic changes in order to create a nervous system and general metabolism capable of creating a body suitable for the embodiment of an intelligent Spirit.

Maxim: Is it true, I heard that Yetis are creatures that went through their own evolution?

Irina: Yeti is a tribe, one of the tribes of ancient people who appeared after the war 12,000 years ago, who fought off the main peoples and continued to live in harmony with nature, without building cities, industry, everything that you have. They lived in caves, in forests and, of necessity, they had a process of reverse evolution in the form of hair growth, since they did not have the kind of life support systems that became common in cities. But, despite this, even due to the fact that their consciousness was not so absorbed in material existence as that of other peoples, but was in harmony with nature and with those natural Spirits who lived nearby, their consciousness became more capable of various kinds of mental , mental and magical work with spatial energies, your body, and so on, which are inaccessible to you, since raising a child from an early age in your world does not at all contribute to the development of such abilities.

17:12 Is our Earth a living being?

Maxim: Thank you very much, very interesting! Is the Earth a living thing? This is a question from Anna Sukhatskaya.

Irina: Any planet, any star has electromagnetic fields, which are the basis for the embodiment of certain intelligent Spirits. The planets and stars themselves are not living beings in your understanding; rather, their energy-information shell is the basis for the manifestation of one or another intelligent Spirit. So the answer is yes and no. As a physical object, the planet is not a living being, but as an energy object in the universe, yes, it is.

18:45 How did you come to harmonious technologies on your planet, how long did your technical evolution take you?

Maxim: Thank you, Mid! Anna Sukhatskaya further asks the question, how long did technical evolution take at Esler and what did it consist of?

Irina: The path of our technical development as a whole resembled yours on earth, with the only difference being that we did not have such a long period of using jet engines and those types of energy that you call nuclear, for us it was only a few decades in your calculation. The path of our technical evolution from the first very simple technical devices that you call machines, without movement by air - by land transport, and to the first flight into space, took, according to your chronology, about five thousand five hundred years. By flight into space we do not mean a flight around the planet, but a flight to other stars in the galaxy.

Maxim: Mid, is your race a hybrid and did it evolve on its own?

Irina: Our race occurred through natural evolution.

Maxim: How long did it take for MidgasCaus to emerge from the unreasonable creatures?

Irina: From the time of the appearance of this species of animals, from which, through natural evolution, the intelligent Beings in which we incarnate developed, according to your chronology, a little more than 150 million years have passed.

21:54 Does it depend on the level of consciousness?

Maxim: I thank you! A question from the same Anna Sukhatskaya: does the degree of technical perfection of a race depend on the level of consciousness of its inhabitants?

Irina: Yes, it depends. Due to the fact that God is not only intelligent, but also love, he does not reveal many things to scientists of those races whose races are not ready for spiritual development, so that they do not destroy themselves. To put it very simply, those ideas that, if globally introduced into the life of every earthling, could destroy the planet or harm the inhabitants of the galaxy simply cannot enter the noosphere of your planet. The scientists of your planet will discover information about the world order only as your civilization matures and your power structures realize the value of life and the well-being of each of you.

23:56 What is the purpose of knowledge transfer?

Maxim: Thank you, Mid, thank you! What is the purpose of transmitting knowledge to us by your Esler civilization?

Irina: We want you, earthlings, to become our full-fledged employees and friends in this vast galaxy. And so that you, together with us, study other worlds, send expeditions to other galaxies, study those forms of life in subtle worlds that are not yet accessible to your scientists. And, of course, so that life in your world is as calm, measured and harmonious as ours on Esler. For this, our government sends workers here, one of whom I am.

Maxim: And how many of these workers from the planet Esler do we have on Earth?

Irina: On those Earth bases that belong to the planet Esler, there are currently 536 representatives of my world.

25:57 You claim that the spirit or soul cannot incarnate in the bodies of animals. However, in many regression sessions, some people see themselves at the moment of regression in the body of an animal?

Maxim: Thank you, Mid! Question from Lydia Erlinikova, Chelyabinsk, why do some people see themselves at the moment of regression in the body of an animal?

Irina: Those who, at the moment of regression, see themselves in the body of an animal - at this moment they remember their incarnation in those plasmoid worlds that were responsible for the life of certain animal forms, since plasmoids very often have contact with the animal world of a particular planet . And for various reasons, being in a subtle body, they take the form of one or another type of animal, and it is in this form that they remember themselves. If, at the moment of regression, the Spirit could remember itself in the body of the animal in which it supposedly incarnated, it would not be able to convey this experience, since in the language of people there is no understanding of the processes that occur in the brain of the animal.

27:33 How do they generally evaluate the regression technique?

Maxim: Mid, a question from the same Lidia Erlinikova, Chelyabinsk, how do you feel about the regression technique?

Irina: Positively, this is a good experience for unlocking those processes in memory that your consciousness needs to realize yourself as an immortal, eternal being and to realize those problems that come from past incarnations into this one and prevent you from living. Very often in your race the consciousness of an ordinary person is not able to come into contact with the Superconscious on its own; it requires help in the form of the state into which a regression specialist brings them.

28:59 Who blocks memory during incarnation and why?

Maxim: Thank you! Who blocks memory during incarnation and why?

Irina: This is done by Guides, Spirit Guides who live on the 21st level of the Spiritual World, according to the hierarchy. They do this so that the past experience of the disembodied Spirit does not affect life and adaptation to the new body and circumstances. So that he can freely collect new information for life in the world where he finds himself, and for fulfilling the tasks that he has set for himself, precisely through the body in which he has incarnated.

30:00 How can they explain the infection of people by aliens and other destructive entities?

Maxim: Thank you! Question from Lydia, the same Lydia, do spiritual entities inhabit people? Why do they do this, and is it possible to protect yourself from such influences?

Irina: Yes, they are moving in. This is done by those spiritual beings who, for a variety of reasons, do not want to wait in line for incarnation. They want to move on as quickly as possible.

#15 Answers to questions from subscribers of the “Cassiopeia” group on VK (part 2)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otvety-na-voprosy-v-vk-chast-2

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yfFa_bqGpC8

00:01 Conditions for the manifestation of a disembodied low-vibration Spirit in the human body and how to protect yourself from this?

Irina: (continues the conversation) ...manifest in the material world. But by the fact that they commit violence, occupying, albeit with the consent of a person, his physical body, but by showing violence in the future, they violate the law of God, therefore such Spirits are not higher than the 6th level, according to the hierarchy of the Spiritual world. But such a Spirit cannot inhabit every person. This process is very difficult: it is necessary that the personal vibrations of the embodied Spirit and the personal vibrations of the disembodied one who wants to connect with someone else’s body coincide as much as possible. Since personal vibrations depend on the feelings and beliefs of the Spirit, in order for a disembodied Spirit to take a place in someone else’s body, it needs to find an embodied Spirit, filled with resentment, despair, anger, jealousy, greed and other vibrations that will help it gain a foothold in the aura its new owner. But it is the disembodied Spirit who will consider himself the master of the situation.

Maxim : How to protect yourself from this?

Irina : Live in the Light of true love, never be afraid of any spiritual entities, always, if any negative emotion arises, get rid of it as quickly as possible. Always set yourself up for a positive attitude towards life, always be in contact with your Higher Self and remember that your body is only temporary, that you are an eternal and immortal Spirit, who had many such bodies, and in the future there will also be many of them. Understanding and realizing this will allow you not to experience negative feelings and emotions for minor reasons, which means that the low-vibration Spirit simply will not be able to cling to the energy structure of your aura.

03:34 Levels of Spiritual Entities and their general characteristics.

Maxim : Thank you, Mid! You spoke about the level of spiritual entities, please tell us in more detail, what levels are there and what happens at these levels?

Irina : There are 24 levels of the Spiritual World, the world of disembodied Spirits. It is located a little further from the material in terms of its vibration level than the astral world.

From the 1st to the 6th level live spiritual entities, which you call demons, demons, evil spirits.

From the 1st to the 6th level, their energy characteristics and attitude towards God, towards people, towards themselves and their level of consciousness change.

The 7th and 8th levels are occupied by those Spirits who have had many incarnations in earth-type plasmoid worlds, that is, what you call the Spirits of Nature.

From the 9th to the 16th level there are Spirits who occupy an intermediate position between service in hatred and service in love, and the level of service in love increases from the 9th to the 16th level inclusive.

From the 17th to the 24th level live Spirits, which in your earthly language are called Angels or Virgos. These are those Spirits who have no other goal than serving God and his children in love and truth, and the level of awareness of themselves and their mission grows from the 17th to the 24th level inclusive.

06:32 Level of consciousness of modern man.

Maxim : What percentage of the brain does an ordinary earthly person work at and is it possible to increase this figure?

Irina : If you take into account not only conscious processes, but also subconscious ones, and the processes of managing your hormonal, immune and other body systems, then your brain works at 100 percent. The percentage of participation of neurons in transmitting information to the embodied Spirit, what you call the level of consciousness, is currently about 10-15 percent. It is possible to increase the percentage of neurons in this process, but you have not yet mastered the percentage that you have now. To master 10-15 percent of the capabilities of your brain, you need to increase the level of imagery in children's perception of the world around them and the speed of thoughts, and give them a task on the speed of thinking. The older the child, and the more adult the person, the more difficult it is for him to reconstruct what he has learned. It is advisable to start this process before age 10.

08:38 Pythagorean psychomatrix as the most accurate system for calculating human vibrations.

Maxim: How do you feel about modern astrological and numerological theories? To what extent do they reflect the essence of things and how similar are they to theories about calculating personal vibrations?

Irina : We treat modern numerological and astrological theories with interest and positively. There are actually few coincidences with the theory of personal vibrations of the Spirit, since you have different systems, different terminology. The closest vibration calculation that I can advise you to use in your practice is the Pythagorean psychomatrix system, since he received it as a contactee of Burkhad, which quite closely reflects our system.

10:19 The emergence of our species as a dense material civilization on Earth.

Maxim: What is our civilization on Earth?

Irina : Before the creation of your species by the Tumesoutians 3 million years ago, there were no dense material civilizations on Earth. What existed on Earth then were thin-material plasmoid civilizations, which actually still exist next to you.

11:13 About the impossibility of interfering with changes in the number of people on Earth.

Maxim : Will the Earth be cleared of people, and if so, for how long is it planned?

Irina : I have not heard such conversations in our galaxy. The word “cleansing” can be applied to plants and animals, but not to intelligent beings. Nothing like this is planned in our galaxy and cannot be planned, for the simple reason that the life of any embodied Spirit cannot be interrupted, according to our laws, until he is ready, until his internal spiritual growth allows him to leave this world. And this can only be decided by those who see all the hidden depths of consciousness and subconscious. These do not include you, not us, not the Burkhadians, no one except our common Father, and only he can decide who and when to cleanse, but not us, the Spirits. We do not take on His functions.

13:06 Determination of the purity and truth of contact with the Spiritual essence.

Maxim : How can you determine, when making contact with a spiritual entity, the purity, safety and truth of the fact that a pure entity has contacted you?

Irina : In order to determine the truth and purity of the spiritual essence that has come into contact with you, you yourself need to have the knowledge of God, which the Superconscious gives you, and you yourself need to be in fairly high vibrations. Then you will immediately recognize that the one who tells you what seems to be the right words is, in fact, internally disposed towards you with hostility, because every tiny stain is visible on clean white clothes. If you are pure and light in vibration, any evil will be noticeable next to you. If you are a clot of darkness, then you will not discern anything, even if you know by heart all the religious scriptures of your world.

14:39 Egregors and Akashic Chronicles.

Maxim : What are Egregors and what are the Akashic Chronicles?

Irina : Egregors are energy formations in the noosphere of your planet, partially accessible through the astral shell of your planet, which contain mental, emotional and volitional energies, similar in purity of vibrations and in idea.

The Akashic Chronicles are part of the egregors, which contain the information component; this is its large library. Anyone who has a connection with any egregor usually has access to its Akashic Chronicles. That is why, people who often think about the same topic are visited by unexpected ideas, discoveries and other processes that seem to appear out of nowhere in their minds. This is precisely from the Akashic Chronicles of this or that egregor, which gives its participants this or that information depending on the quantity and quality of the energy received from them.

16:53 Opportunities for healing ourselves and the influence of emotions on the state of the physical body.

Maxim : How can people learn to raise their vibration level and is it possible to learn to heal oneself?

Irina : The more positive, positive feelings, emotions and thoughts you experience and evoke in yourself, the higher the level of your vibrations will be. Accordingly, the more often and longer you are in a state of negative emotions or producing negative thought forms, the more you lower your vibrations. Ideally, when the Spirit controls the body, of course, a person can heal himself. But, naturally, if the healing of a particular disease does not go against the plan for its implementation, since diseases are often processes aimed at realizing one's true place in the world or at the emergence and maintenance of that feeling of love and compassion that is born in the people around . People who are sick in body and soul have their own reasons for experiencing these states, and if the Spirit is conscious enough to understand this reason why it arose and can eliminate it, gradually the physical body returns to normal. Gradually, because physical matter is not as malleable as astral matter. The embodiment of thought forms of physical matter is slowed down for the reason that the rapid embodiment of your thoughts and feelings in physical matter can destroy you. Therefore, a delay has been given in the physical embodiment of your thoughts, plans, feelings, both positive and negative.

20:14 About the existence of incurable diseases.

Maxim : Are there incurable diseases?

Irina : No, an incurable disease, as such, does not exist, but for every person, any curable disease that he himself considers such and which helps him to pass this or that lesson in the material world can become incurable. Remember that healthy or sick bodies in this world are only tools for the development of the Spirit.

21:08 About the expediency of biological sterility of spacecraft of earthlings.

Maxim : Does it make sense to ensure the biological sterility of spacecraft of earthlings landing automatically on the Moon and Mars?

Irina : This only makes sense if your scientists set themselves the goal of looking for microorganic life on these celestial bodies, since terrestrial contamination with microorganisms can lead to misconceptions about the microscopic life of these objects. If you already know exactly the answer to the question: is there any extraterrestrial microscopic life on the Moon or Mars, there will be no need to thoroughly sterilize your devices. For example, representatives of the Interstellar Union, including our representatives, when they fly to Earth, do not subject their devices to any additional processing, just as those devices that visited Earth before flying back to Esler are not processed. This makes no sense, since each microorganism developed under the conditions of a particular planet, and therefore, through long evolution, it acquired the ability to infect and infect certain creatures whose bodies consist of certain proteins. If a microorganism does not have the necessary enzyme, developed through a long process of evolution, then it will be absolutely safe for the inhabitants of another world.

23:56 The effect of telegony in animals and people and the birth of healthy offspring.

Maxim : Is the information about the telegony effect correct and is it possible to have sex with multiple sexual partners?

Irina : What you call “telegony” - this effect is present in the animal world. Thanks to the instinctive energy of those animal Souls that are embodied in animal bodies, when connecting with the first sexual partner, a female animal takes into itself the energy of its Soul, its Soul, that is, it takes part of the partner’s energy structure into its energy structure. In the future, not always, but quite often, and depends on the amount of energy and strength of a particular animal, a change in the genetic apparatus of a female individual is possible, which at the physical level will lead to the consolidation of the characteristics of a male individual in its genetic apparatus for the rest of its life . The quantity and quality of traits, again, is very individual, not just for each species, but even for each animal.

As for people, this effect is present for you, but it is suppressed by that intelligent Spirit that goes to incarnation. Since you, like us, are governed not only by instincts, but you are a rational Spirit and govern yourself, then the Spirit that incarnates in the body also governs that part of the instinctive nature that it received from its parents. To put it simply: that child who is born from a father and mother in your world, by the fact of his origin not only from earthly parents, but also by the fact of his birth from God, therefore no longer belongs to the Spirits of his parents. And the baby animal completely belongs to its parents, since the rational Spirit is not embodied in it.

As for “sex with different partners,” my opinion remains the same. What you call sex is not an end in itself in our world, but only a reflection of those internal processes that occur in the Soul of loving people. Of course, our civilization is interested in having the same state of affairs in your world, since we believe that the physical sexual union of only a loving man and a loving woman can lead to healthy offspring and can eliminate all those misfortunes in families and in a society that produces an excessive passion for the sensual, physical side of the issue.

Maxim : Thank you, Mid, very much!

#16 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: answers to questions in VK (part 3)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otvety-na-voprosy-v-vk-chast-3

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=c8k3x1UmVIk

00:10 Introduction of participants

I: Hello, dear friends! We continue the section “Answers to questions in the CASSIOPEA group.” Now with me is the already familiar MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

M: Hello everyone! My name is Maxim, I am also present here. As always, I am invisible, and I will ask questions.

00:28 Contacts of aliens with everyone

M: Question from Dmitry Parshakov, city of Zlatoust, why don’t aliens contact everyone?

I: Because contact with representatives of alien civilizations for earthlings is always a lot of stress, and our xenopsychologists always carefully select contactees so as not to damage their energy structure and psyche in the sense that you need to be prepared physically and psychologically for physical contacts. And for energetic types of contacts, such as telepathic, astral, you need to be prepared spiritually and energetically, since not everyone has the types of vibrations that are capable of perceiving our astral bodies and telepathic signals. For these reasons, the candidacy of each contactee is considered by the Interstellar Union, and without its approval such a decision cannot be made by us independently. By us, that is, by specialists who work directly with you.

01:46 Animal nature and its causes

M: Thank you! A question from our good friend, who has a huge number of questions - this is Vlad Petrov, what is the animal nature and what is its reason? Why can many people cope with it, but others cannot?

I: Speaking specifically about your human race, the animal principle refers to those instincts of the primate species that were inherent in you at your creation. They are necessary for your survival in this world, these are: the instinct of self-preservation, the sexual instinct, the instinct of leadership, the hedonistic instinct, which is responsible for the desire for pleasure, and the social or herd instinct - this is the animal nature in man. In no case does it carry any negativity, it carries positivity - these are positive energies inherent in every animal and, accordingly, in you; and without them no one would have survived or created the society that you know. But the whole problem is that they need to be able to control: the Spirit must control the instincts, the Spirit must control the body, and not vice versa; and the problem is that not everyone wants it. You asked: “Why doesn’t everyone want this?” The answer to this question lies in the will of each Spirit, who makes one or another choice in his life, that is, everyone chooses what is closer to him in energy: either material pleasure, or immaterial contact with the Spiritual world and with God in the form of internal Light in oneself .

03:36 Criminals among aliens and the fight against them

M: Thank you! Are there criminals among aliens? What kind of fight is being waged against them in the Interstellar Union?

I: There are criminals in all worlds, since on each planet a variety of Spirits, from different spiritual levels, incarnate. A special organization has been created in the Interstellar Union, which can be translated into your language as the “Galactic Security Service”. It performs the mixed functions of your FSB and the Ministry of Internal Affairs in the sense that it prevents crimes and investigates those already committed. Speaking specifically about your planet, the problem is that there is a very great interest in alien civilizations, and this is sometimes taken advantage of by criminals from a variety of reptilian-type civilizations: the planets Tashig and their colonies, Selbet and their colonies - they have the highest percentage of crimes. Bases have been created on the Moon and on the outskirts of the Solar System, on Triton, Oberon and other satellites of the giant planets, where representatives of the Galactic Security Service are located, and every crime committed against an earthling is thoroughly investigated, and the culprits found are strictly punished according to special laws. The only thing is that in the Interstellar Union there is no death penalty: criminals are sent to a special planet, where they live until the end of their days, doing hard work and without the right to leave that planet.

05:47 Borders of the Interstellar Union

M: What boundaries does the Interstellar Union cover?

I: Our Galaxy. The boundaries of the Interstellar Union end with the boundaries of our Galaxy. Your planet is included in his territory.

06:11 Undivine energies

M: Are there non-divine energies and where do they come from?

I: All energies are divine in origin, but in structure, which depends on the choice of this or that Spirit producing this or that energy, the energy may contradict the divine. In very simple words, divine energy itself can be directed against the divine Light within oneself. That is, by the choice of the Spirit, who chose darkness, this divine energy turns into its opposite, just as the ax that creates houses in the hands of the executioner turns into its opposite - it kills.

07:14 Why are earthlings their own enemies?

M: Why are we, earthlings, our own enemies?

I: I'll just tell you my opinion. I believe that your main reason for this attitude towards the planet and yourself is your social ideology. This is the focus of ideology on the materialistic perception of the world; this is a departure from genuine spiritual knowledge, which calls for everyone to realize their inner Light and unite with God. Every child in the family is taught this at Esler and continues to be taught in our educational institutions. The programs of your educational institutions are aimed only at cementing in the minds of the younger generation that matter and the methods of its accumulation and distribution have priority in your world. In fact, matter is only an instrument in the hands of the Spirit; You forget to tell your children about this, and a generation grows up that does on Earth what you see. That is why you are your own enemies.

08:52 The role of astrology in human life

M: Thank you, Mid! Question from Mira Denfi, what is the role of astrology in a person's life?

I: Astrology is an ancient teaching about the influence of stars and planets on your character, on your destiny, on your behavior. This teaching reflects the real processes occurring in the Spiritual world with a person. These processes consist in the fact that when the Spirit chooses an incarnation, the Consultants of the Spiritual World, whom you call "angels," specifically calculate the place, time and parents. And they take into account, among other things, the position of the planets, and also take into account numerological characteristics. But they do this not for control, but so that people who know astrological charts can study the characteristics, astrological and numerological, of the born Spirit and understand who incarnated and for what purposes. That is, in very simple language, one of the functions of planets and stars is not only the life of intelligent beings on them, but also the creation of a special image for recognizing the one who will incarnate.

10:34 Opinion about Aspies and Ra Materials

M: Thank you! Mead, a question for you from Alexander Shiryaev from St. Petersburg, what is your opinion about Aspi and Ra Materials?

I: Unfortunately, I am not closely familiar with these materials; but what I heard about them from my contactees, including from Irina, tells me that the origin of these materials is contact with a plasmoid life form, the location of which is in the chromosphere of your Sun. This is a special energetic form of life, intelligent, which delivers those materials in a form that is close to the worldview of plasmoids. Naturally, since they have a different body, different sense organs, a completely different perception, then their opinion about energies, about the energy structure of a person, about purpose can be radically different from our common - humanoid.

11:44 What is gravity

M: Thank you, Mid! What is gravity?

I: This is the energy of the third level, which is inherent in every atom at the micro level. You don't have such a word in your language - at the "supermicroscopic" level. Each atom contains three levels of energy: the first is called electromagnetism, the second is what you call radiation and thermonuclear energy, the third is gravity. At the micro level, it acts as a force that attracts atoms to each other and forms dense matter. At the macro level, it acts as a force that allows all stars, galaxies, planets and even the smallest stone to move in space along their trajectories and in their orbits, that is, to be attracted to each other and not fall on each other.

M: Thank you, Mid! I think we will clarify in more detail about gravity later. Question from the same Alexander Shiryaev, is the ether-dynamic picture of the world closer to reality than the theory of relativity?

I: If by ether we understand those energies that are in space and form material energies, that is, those located between the material world and the Spiritual - the next astral, then yes, it is closer to reality than the theory of relativity for the reason that gravity itself, which is in every material object, space does not bend or change in any way. Those effects that you call the curvature of space and time - this is actually how you record those material energies that are a transition to the Spiritual world - what you call ether. You call them ether in general, and there are several types of them. For example, the closest one to you is the astral veil: it separates your material world from the Spiritual world, it is closest to you directly.

14:58 Gravitational interaction of stars

M: Thank you, Mid! Do stars interact with each other gravitationally?

I: Yes, stars, planets, galaxies, and cosmic dust interact. All types of stars that you know, they interact with each other gravitationally, and also by transferring to each other electromagnetic types of energy, radiation, hard radiation, thermonuclear energy. They interact in all types of energy.

15:36 What is needed to improve the Soul

M: Question from Roman Kashchenko from St. Petersburg, how does the improvement of the Soul occur, and what is needed for this?

And: Perfection of the Soul consists in approaching the Source of all perfection, and the Source of all perfection is the One who gave birth to all Spirits and created the material universe. This happens by comparing one's qualities with the qualities of the inner Light of love; and with the choice to discard those qualities that interfere and gradually develop or acquire those necessary for the development of Light.

M: Thank you very much, Mid! Bye everyone! We will definitely continue our section in the next video.

I: Goodbye!

#17 Magnetic fields from the point of view of aliens: conference with a researcher and ufologist

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/magnitnye-polya-s-tochki-zreniya-inoplanetyan

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-jVuHXXFEoo

2:09 Determination of the magnetic field.

Irina: What you call a magnetic field, in our terminology, is called one of the types of energy of the first level, inherent in the atoms of any substance. It is generated by every particle and can exist in the atom itself or extend beyond its boundaries into space.

2:56 Does a magnetic field have a material carrier?

Irina: Any atom of any substance in our terminology is a carrier of a magnetic field, electricity and other types of energies of all three levels. The characteristics of these atoms vary depending on the type of element. The difference between atoms is caused by the amount of different types of energy and the speed of their vibration, what you call vibrations in a particular substance. And so they consist of the same energies, just in different quantities and at different vibration rates.

4:16 What is the nature of the magnetic field?

Irina: These are energies of the first level. The nature of the magnetic field is one of the types of material energy. There are several types of them, from the point of view of our science: heat energy, electricity, magnetism, radio waves, light. All these are first-level energies embedded in atoms, which are either within themselves, as happens with heat, and then you call it a simple vibration of atoms and molecules, or go beyond the atoms, and then you call it electromagnetic vibrations, radio waves or light, depending on the vibration frequency spectrum. For you, this is tied to measuring instruments, to the ability of your body's receptors to perceive certain vibrations.

5:50 What is the structure of a magnetic field?

Irina: If you look at what happens in space when a magnetic field appears, when this type of energy leaves matter, it looks like a tornado, a funnel that spins. And it is voluminous, like a whirlpool in water.

6:50 How was the Earth's magnetic field formed?

Irina: Any celestial body, be it a planet, a star, or even a small, from your point of view, asteroid, has its own magnetic field, which is formed by the interaction of those particles of matter that are contained either in the atmosphere of the planet, if it is present, or in its interaction those particles of energy, light, photons and other energies that come from a star, if we talk about celestial bodies that do not have their own thermonuclear radiation, that is, about planets, their satellites and asteroids. For any star, the magnetic field is formed by a slightly different method, because when energy is emitted from it at the second level (what you call thermonuclear energy), those energies from the substances that form the star, which you call electromagnetism, will necessarily come out, that is, there will be light, and a magnetic field, and electricity, and everything else what you are recording.

Maxim: So stars have a slightly different process of forming magnetic fields?

Irina: Yes, because. thermonuclear reactions occur in them.

Maxim: Is it also a little different for gas or ice giant planets?

Irina: You call gas giants those planets of the solar system whose atmosphere consists mainly of hydrogen and helium, right?

Maxim: Yes, like Jupiter, for example .

Irina: The process of formation of a magnetic field on planets of this type, in general, does not differ from the process of formation of a magnetic field on other planets, with the only difference being that from the high pressure of gases closer to the surface of the planet, the temperature of the gas can increase, and from this they can start magnetic fields are formed according to the same laws as those of stars. But all this will be on a very reduced scale, because there are still no thermonuclear reactions of their own. There will only be its beginning, but the gas giant planets simply do not have enough mass of matter or temperature to start a thermonuclear reaction. Although there may be some prerequisites for it.

Maxim: So it turns out that the formation of the magnetic field is closer to more substantial planets, like the Earth, right?

Irina: Yes, what you call the solar wind are particles of energy that spread through space from your star, they reach not only the Earth or Mars. They go far beyond the solar system, and practically do not lose their energy, and they also come from the atmosphere of the planets you named, despite the fact that they are at a great distance from the star. Therefore, these particles interact with particles of gases, with atoms of gases that make up these planets, they create their own magnetic fields, just like on other planets. And there is an elementary, even weak atmosphere on very small planets.

11:38 Do galaxies have their own magnetic field?

Irina: The magnetic field of a galaxy is the totality of magnetic fields and all its largest stars. If we look from the outside, from another galaxy, we will not be able to measure the magnetic field of every star or planet. We will only detect magnetic radiation from the largest stars and the center of the galaxy, what we call the energy center of the galaxy. This forms a magnetic field around it. Each galaxy, like a collection of stars and planets, has its own magnetic field, which includes the magnetic fields of the objects I named as segments.

12:56 What causes attraction and repulsion of a magnet?

Irina: In the atoms of some substances, we call this the energies of the first level, magnetism, can spontaneously leave these atoms and with this release influence the energies of the third level. We call this microgravity, and you call it internal nuclear forces that hold atoms and molecules in place and give matter density. A magnetic field, if released from atoms, can affect the microgravity of other elements, and due to this, the effect of attraction of this substance in which the microgravity has changed to the substance that emitted the magnetic field occurs.

14:51 Magnetic field - a response of material bodies to a gravitational field?

Irina: In our science, it is customary to divide all the energies of the material world into three levels, they are all connected and interact with each other. Level 1 energies are heat, light, electromagnetism, radio waves.

Level 2 energies are what you call radioactive radiation (hard x-rays) and the energy of thermonuclear fusion, that which is released when atoms of different elements collide at high speed and at high pressure with each other.

Level 3 energies are what you call gravity. We divide it into 2 types. Microgravity: what allows objects that you see and can sense their structure and density through receptors in the skin to not be gas and in a more diffuse state. Which attracts atoms to each other, and allows molecules to be built according to certain systems. Every substance has a molecular lattice - this is the structure of the substance, which is built according to its own laws and individual for each substance.

Macrogravity is what allows the laws of kinematics, mechanics, and dynamics to manifest themselves in your world. This is everything that you call the force of movement, attraction, centrifugal force - this is a manifestation of macrogravity. This allows all planets, stars, galaxies and the smallest speck of dust in the universe to have their own speed, trajectory, orbit. Do not scatter in chaos, but move according to certain laws.

18:51 The relationship between magnetic fields.

Irina: All magnetic fields of any material object, like gravitational and electric ones, are really connected to each other due to the fact that if atoms generate a magnetic field, it causes changes in all surrounding atoms. It can generate another magnetic field or, on the contrary, slow down its manifestation and remove it. In our model of the universe, everything affects everything.

Maxim: That is, the magnetic field of the galaxy is connected with the magnetic field of magnets on some planet? Do magnetic fluxes intersect?

Irina: The magnetic field of a galaxy includes, as segments, the magnetic fields of absolutely all stars and planets located in this galaxy. The planet's magnetic field includes segments of the magnetic field of smaller objects located on it.

21:38 Magnetic flux speed.

Irina: The speed of the magnetic flow very much depends on the surrounding energies, on the substance that generated the magnetic field, but our scientists know that energy flows of the same level have the same speed. Streams of energy outflow from matter of the same level have the same speed. Therefore, our scientists were able to discover that the energy that is at the 3rd level, called gravity and the carrier of which is the graviton, when released from the substance in which it is contained, has a much higher speed than the energies of the 1st level (magnetism, light, radio waves). It is on this principle that our engines are based, on which we can move throughout the galaxy within a few tens of minutes.

Maxim: So the speed depends on the level of energy that is being divided?

Irina: Yes, the deeper this or that energy is embedded in an atom, the higher the vibration speed it will have when released from it.

24:19 Magnetic induction.

Irina: In our science there is no concept of magnetic induction, there is the concept of a magnetic field.

Maxim: When a magnet passes with a conductor, an electric current is formed in it. Do you use such devices?

Irina: In our terminology this is not called induction. This energy of one type of 1st level (magnetic energy) gave rise to the release from an atom of a second type of energy of the same 1st level. That is, in this case, electric.

Maxim: Magnetism and electricity are energies of different levels?

Irina: These are energies of the 1st level, but they are of different types.

Maxim: Why does an electric current begin to be produced when a magnet acts dynamically on a coil? What is the mechanism for this?

Irina: What you call electric current, we call radiation or energy flow of the 1st level. I know that in your science the carrier of electricity and magnetism is the electron. In our language, electricity and magnetic field are separated, that is, particles of magnetism energies and particles of electricity energies have different names in our language.

Maxim: We have differences here, we seem to have combined these processes. From the standpoint of your science, why is the flow of energy released when a magnetic field passes near a conductor? What is the mechanism?

Irina: When a magnetic field acts on atoms that are carriers of all three levels of energy - we call this pushing out or knocking out energies - one energy entering the substance at a certain speed, flux density, etc. can displace those energies that were contained in the substance before the moment of exposure.

Maxim: This happens only in motion, that is, if we hold the magnet, then nothing happens?

Irina: When moving, this flow intensifies; in a static state, energy is released, but your devices do not pick up this flow; they lack sensitivity.

28:26 Magnetization mechanism.

Irina: Magnetic energy can enter the atoms of a particular substance and push out certain types of energy from it, but at the same time it can either remain in the substance or leave it on its own. When magnetic energy enters a substance and its sufficient charge remains in the atoms of the substance, then while this charge remains there, the substance acquires the property of generating a magnetic field, that is, this energy slowly leaves the magnetized substance, and from this the effects that you named appear.

Maxim: That is, demagnetization occurs over time, energy gradually leaves the substance, over the years, let's say.

Irina: Yes, the magnetic energy in this substance is becoming less.

30:09 The influence of the magnetic field.

Irina: With a large amount and intense flow of magnetic energy, changes in the speed of oscillations (vibrations) of atoms in a particular substance are possible in the direction of increasing them. The temperature of the substance will increase.

32:06 Does an atom have its own vibrations? Standing waves occur within an atomic structure when vibrations are reflected from one atom to another. And the atoms are located at the nodes of packet-standing waves. Don't you have such a model in science?

Irina: Everything that you listed, we do not call wave packets, but manifestations of microgravity, which keeps atoms in their place, but at the same time it oscillates at a certain speed, always different, depending on what kind of substance it is and in what it is in a state of aggregation. We call these vibrations of atoms a manifestation of energy of the 1st level, but one that has not left the atom itself. This energy is for maintaining the state of aggregation.

33:39 The original source of the magnetic field.

Irina: The original source of the magnetic field is what we and you call an atom, that is, a small particle of matter. We do not divide the atom into the structures that you divide. Those structures that you call subatoms are different types of energies for us. What you call an electron is a particle of energy, you call it a particle of energy and radio waves, and electricity, and a magnetic field.

Maxim: It turns out that from the standpoint of our science, an elementary particle is located inside an atom, but from your standpoint, that an atom simply has different types of energies?

Irina: Yes.

34:57 What is the magnetic field tied to?

Irina: A magnetic field is always generated by matter; another thing is that in space there may be substances in a state of aggregation that is not noticeable to your instruments. If there is a magnetic field or electric field, you must always look for the source. For us, space itself is a carrier of substances and energies.

36:04 Magnetic fields of atoms of various substances.

Irina: The amount of energy contained in each element is different. It depends on the type of element, on its state of aggregation - what you call the rate of thermal vibrations. And since the amount of energy is different, then the magnetic fields will be different in strength, structure, flux density, and different characteristics.

37:11 Magnetic keeper. This is a phenomenon when two iron rods are applied to each other, a conductor is placed between them in a special recess, an electric current is briefly applied to the conductor, then the conductor is removed and the two rods remain stuck together almost tightly due to the magnetic field. Moreover, they remain firmly stuck together for a long time. Describe the mechanism of this phenomenon, and what force holds the rods together?

Irina: When you see not just a manifestation of a magnetic field, which you can detect with a device, but you see a change in the attraction of substances to each other, here we are talking about changes that occurred in atoms not only at the 1st level, but also at the 3rd level eat. In the case you described, the energy of electricity caused changes in the deeper structures of the substance of the atom, in its 3rd level energies. The atoms took a different position in relation to each other, that is, they changed their crystal lattice and began to attract each other differently. In this case, we speak briefly: the energy of the 1st level caused the release of part of the energy of the 3rd level, but due to the gravitational field of the planet, the energy of the 3rd level did not leave the atoms, but simply redistributed the crystal lattice.

Maxim: It turns out that the force that holds two rods together is the internal energy of the substance?

Irina: Yes, that's what we call it.

39:42 Magnetic fields of planets, movement between them.

Irina: What you are asking now is used in one of our types of engines, which we call planetary. That is, they are used near planets. With their help, flights are made from the planet itself to that point in space where it is possible to turn on the gravitational engine, and where this will not be interfered with by the gravitational field of the planet itself. This engine consists of plates rotating in different planes, consisting of a special alloy, which includes two main components - thiur and palladium. These elements contain energies in such types and vibrations that, with the help of energy coming from the engine, they can capture the magnetic field radiation of a particular planet and create their own magnetic field, either repelling it from the planet or attracting it.

Maxim: If we want to move within the solar system, will such engines be enough for us?

Irina: The maximum speed that a ship with a mass of up to 1200 kg (including contents) can develop is 1/8 of light speed. Knowing the distance between the planets, you can calculate the travel time and understand whether such an engine will suit you or whether you will need to make gravitational jumps.

Maxim: Is such a movement mechanism sufficient across the Solar System?

Irina: If you want to spend several days traveling to this or that planet, then that's enough. If you want to get to the planet in a few minutes, then you need a gravitational engine.

43:40 Are magnetic lines of force ethereal vortex tubes?

Irina: Magnetic energies that have already left the atoms and formed a magnetic field affect those energies that are in space itself. Here we come to a part that is still unknown to your science. In space there are border energies between the material world and that part of the universe that we all call the spiritual world. Between the two worlds they are next to each other, they penetrate each other, as you say - parallel. Between them in space there is energy that separates the material world (that is, the world of matter and the world of energies) from the spiritual world, from its first level, which for simplicity we call the astral. In your terminology these energies are usually called etheric. In different systems they may be called fields that are generated by those particles that you call leptons, torsions, etc. These are all different names for the same thing - spatial energies that separate the material world from the spiritual. In our terminology, this energy is usually called "vacuum free energy". Why do we call it the free energy of the vacuum? Translated into your language, because with this name we emphasize the fact that it can exist in an absolute vacuum, when I say in absolute, I mean the absence of any substances or energies in this space. And why free - because in our understanding this energy arises independently. It exists, but with the help of special methods of influencing it, it can be extracted from the vacuum and used.

Maxim: Transform into electricity, for example, right?

Irina: Not only electricity. In energy at almost any level, even in gravity.

Maxim: That is, there is a principle that is common to the universe, one type of energy can always be transformed into another.

Irina: Yes, while maintaining the law on conservation of energy.

Maxim: That is, it turns out that magnetic lines of force are a manifestation of these layers between the subtle world and our dense, material world.

Irina: The magnetic field, coming out of matter, that is, these energies of the first level, which I spoke about, leaving space into absolute vacuum, can, with a sufficiently intense flow of exposure time, radiation force, affect those energies that you call ether. But this requires isolation from substances and fields of the material world, everything except the influencing energy. In simple terms, such experiments must be carried out far from the planet in outer space, where there is no strong gravitational influence of other celestial bodies, and, accordingly, so that there is as little star dust and interstellar gas as possible.

Maxim: If we can influence the free energy of the vacuum with magnetic energy, then it turns out that with the help of certain well-organized magnetic interactions we can extract energy from there.

Irina: Not only magnetic interactions, you can also influence electricity, different types of energy, which are called radio waves.

Maxim: But you need to understand what you are doing, how to organize these processes.

Irina: Yes, you need to understand the conditions for creating such a flow, what place in space and how exactly to direct it, what type of magnetic field to isolate this space so that the energy does not dissipate, but is directed as a beam to one or another place in space.

Maxim: We are probably still far away; our civilization does not yet have such knowledge to competently influence.

Irina: To conduct such experiments, you need to move at least 100,000 kilometers away from your planet, with your mass and gravitational constant.

Maxim: Do you mean that it is impossible to extract this free energy within the planet?

Irina: You simply cannot isolate yourself from the Earth's gravitational field.

Maxim: Is it like an interfering factor?

Irina: It will retain free energy. There is free energy on Earth too, it exists in any cubic millimeter of space, but it is restrained there by the same gravitational field.

Maxim: So it's much easier to do this in space?

Irina: Yes, it will be easier.

50:53 Extracting energy from magnets.

Irina: What level?

Maxim: Well, let's say, to receive electricity.

Irina: In the form of a field?

Maxim: Yes, in the form of an electric field that can be used for domestic purposes and exploited.

Irina: That substance that you call a magnet also contains electrical energy. When exposed to various types of electrical or magnetic energy, both an electric field and a magnetic field may arise, and most often it will be a mixed field. What you call electromagnetic. You simply don't separate it, but we have different words for the names of these fields and for the names of those very small portions of energy that it forms, as I already said. So any substance, what you call atoms, it contains all the energies, and with a certain impact on them, each of them can be extracted.

Maxim: But the law of conservation of energy will always be observed.

Irina: Yes. The law of conservation of energy is invariably observed throughout the universe, since in the material world it is the basis for maintaining its existence.

Maxim: As I understand it, the misconception in our science is that our science represents energy as something separate from the universe, although in the universe there is constantly a transformation of one type of energy into another. And we have moved away from this a little. We don't understand these processes, so it's difficult for us.

Irina: The fact is that in our science there is no separation in our understanding of the material world from the spiritual being that gives rise to it.

Maxim: That is, it's all interconnected: the universe, layers of space...

Irina: Yes, and they are interconnected, first of all, not through the energies of different levels, but through the spirit itself.

54:02 Permanent magnets, self-rotation.

Irina: What do you call a permanent magnet?

Maxim: This means how we, for example, make some kind of magnet from rare earth elements. That is, an ordinary one, which has two poles, and we create some kind of geometric structure that would self-rotate in space. Is it possible to do this by interacting with some external fields?

Irina: Any magnetic field affects the surrounding atoms and the energies surrounding it, including the gravitational field.

Maxim: I would reformulate it a little: you probably know that we have engines, maybe you also have engines with a rotating rotor and a stationary starter. If we somehow place magnets of a certain geometric shape on the starter and rotor, is it possible to make the rotor constantly rotate without stopping? So that the interaction between the rotor and the starter with a magnetic field is such that there is non-stop rotation.

Irina: To have non-stop rotation, you need a constant supply of energy, but in any substance that will make up a magnet, in this case, which will be the source of the magnetic field, the amount of energy is limited by the amount of substance that it contains.

Maxim: So it’s impossible to create?

Irina: Only if you provide an influx of energy from the outside, from another level or another type of the same level.

Maxim: And the magnet itself, if we take an ordinary magnet, made of neodymium, for example, metal, does it not provide an influx of energy from the outside? It's just some kind of closed system, right?

Irina: Any magnet emits the energy contained in its atoms.

Maxim: Ah, this is the internal energy of the substance, it turns out.

Irina: Yes.

57:04 Creation of a magnetic field by a hemisphere.

Irina: What you call sound is the gas vibrations that you feel. Gas vibrations, if they are intense enough, cause movement, sound waves, that is, wave vibrations of air atoms. They cause changes in the atoms of substances around them, including metals. This is what you call sound pressure. And with sufficient intensity of vibration of certain atoms, it is theoretically possible to release a small part of the magnetic energy.

58:58 Does ball lightning have its own magnetic field?

Irina: Yes, it does.

59:10 The influence of magnetic fields on the human body.

Irina: The human body, as a carrier of material matter, also has its own electromagnetic field. Exposure to it by an external magnetic field is possible if it is powerful enough and has special wave, what you call vibrational characteristics of this magnetic field. Penetrating into the matter that makes up your body, into its protein structures that make up your tissues, your organs, it can change the ratio of energy in these atoms, and naturally this can affect metabolism in one direction or another. Accelerate them, slow them down, affecting the organs that secrete those substances that you call hormones. That is, such an influence, both positive and negative, is quite possible.

Maxim: Does the magnetic field of the planets have more of a negative or positive effect on a living organism?

Irina: Any organism that lives on a particular planet is initially evolutionarily adapted to its magnetic field. A genetic predisposition to a magnetic field is passed on from generation to generation, among the inhabitants of a particular planet.

Maxim: And if we temporarily move this organism to another planet, then it may experience poor health due to a different magnetic field, right?

Irina: This requires a fairly long period of time for this organism to be on another planet. The adaptive capabilities of the physical bodies of humanoids are quite high and manage to adapt by changing external secretory activity: hormonal and nervous systems, and they manage to quickly and completely adapt to the magnetic field of a particular planet, although depending on the amount of vital force, in one or another the body, his spirit, his nervous system will depend on how he will endure it.

Maxim: That is, there are a lot of factors, a whole spectrum.

Irina: There are a lot of factors.

1:02:22 Correction using magnetic fields.

Irina: The vital force in the human body flows through special channels. It shows some kind of grid. In your language you call it the etheric body. This is not only an electromagnetic field, it is a combination of electromagnetic fields of all atoms of the physical body, and a special type of energy that only a living organism has, which we call vital force. You accordingly call it “prana”. A magnetic field can affect the intensity of the flow in the etheric body in the direction of its increase, if you direct an intense flow of the magnetic field to one or another place in the physical body, which is reached by points associated with etheric channels. But usually this influence is short-lived; it stops the moment the external magnetic field is removed.

Maxim: So this is short-term stimulation?

Irina: You can say so.

Maxim: Is it possible to influence the work of energy centers in this way?

Irina: What you call chakras, what is manifested on the physical level, are energy centers of etheric energy, and the same as with etheric channels, that is, increase the intensity of the work of the chakras, that is, their rotation and intensity, and processing different energies, possibly with the help of an electric or magnetic field, but again this influence will be short-term and will gradually disappear after the external field is removed.

1:05:40 Bloch wall or neutral zone between the poles of magnets.

Irina: We do not divide this substance, this material body that emits a magnetic field, we do not divide it into different zones.

Maxim: So, you don't have the concept of "north pole, south pole"?

Irina: No.

Maxim: And from your position, is this some kind of closed energy vortex?

Irina: This is a vortex, if the magnetic field has left the boundaries of the substance, it can be recognized by our device, if it is a small magnetic field, then it is like a mini-vortex. For us, it does not have, as for you, a positive or negative charge, because for us it is one energy.

Maxim: And if you look from our point of view, then we have a north and south pole, but from your point of view it turns out that these are vortices? Are the flows just multidirectional?

Irina: Yes, they are directed in different directions of space.

Maxim: It turns out that these vortices form such a closed system?

Irina: It still affects other structures that are nearby.

Maxim: I meant by structure, are these two vortexes connected in some way?

Irina: They influence each other.

Maxim: So, between these vortices you have no concept of a "neutral zone"?

Irina: We don't take such moments into account.

Maxim: So they don't carry any serious meaning?

Irina: We consider them not significant in creating a magnetic field.

1:08:30 Magnets have a second magnetic field.

Irina: What is longitudinal magnetic interaction?

Maxim: The scalar field, he said, manifests itself at the moment when ordinary magnetic fields are mutually compensated. That is, when we put two magnets together, then in the place where they are folded, a second field allegedly appears, which is not detected by our instruments. It also has magnetic properties. So you haven't met anyone like this, have you?

Irina: If it is not detected by your instruments, then how did your physicist discover it?

Maxim: And he folded geometrically different magnetic forms, and thus it turns out that until you fold this magnet in a certain structure, you will not get this scalar field. And if you add it up, it turns out that pushing and repulsion are already happening. Something that shouldn't happen in theory.

Irina: What difference did he see between the scalar field and the ordinary magnetic field?

Maxim: Well, he describes one of the properties that it is many times weaker than a normal field.

Irina: If he doesn't have instruments to detect it, how could he detect whether it's weaker or stronger?

Maxim: Well, these are his hypotheses. But have you ever encountered such a phenomenon, that there is some kind of second field?

Irina: The fact is that the magnetic field contains various inhomogeneities; they can be called subfields, a scalar field, and a supermagnetic field. We simply do not separate them. For us it is one thing.

Maxim: That is, in your concept, this is some kind of consequence of the manifestation of the magnetic field in different formations, right?

Irina: Yes, these are inhomogeneities of the magnetic field. The gravitational field also has its own inhomogeneities.

Maxim: And depending on this, on inhomogeneities, certain effects appear that can be detected?

Irina: Yes, this is one of the manifestations.

Maxim: So, the person was in a hurry and discovered some kind of second field?

Irina: The point is that you can make an assumption about whether it is weaker or stronger, the main thing, but without measuring it with instruments you cannot find confirmation of this assumption.

1:11:54 Magnetocaloric effect.

Irina: This is exactly the same effect that I mentioned earlier. The effect of magnetic energy on atoms causes an acceleration of their internal vibrations. What I called warmth.

Maxim: Accordingly, the vibrations increase and heat is generated.

Irina: Accordingly, the fluctuations increase, and you measure that the object has increased its temperature. What you call temperature, we call the amount of internal energy of the first level that is released into the external environment. Thermal energy.

Maxim: That is, this is a replacement. The magnetic field replaces the energy, and free thermal energy begins to be released. From the perspective of your science.

Irina: You could say so.

1:13:13 Restoration of the magnetic field of Mars.

Irina: Every planet has its own magnetic field. Including Mercury, Venus, Moon, Mars, Earth...

Maxim: Mars has an opinion that it is partially destroyed, as I understand it.

Irina: Naturally, it differs in power, but this depends on the density and composition of the atmosphere, because what you call photons that arrive from the Sun and collide with those particles that are in the atmosphere of Mars, with those atoms, i.e. To. The density of the atmosphere of Mars is lower than on Earth, then the number of collisions of photons with these atoms is less and, accordingly, the generated magnetic field is also less.

Maxim: So the atmospheric factor is still present, it turns out?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: And if there are technical capabilities and motivation to restore Mars, for habitation, the atmosphere of Mars, then in principle it can be done, right?

Irina: With the technologies of the Interstellar Union, restoring Mars may only require doing the process that in your language is called terraforming. This takes up ordinary resources, energy and material, and the resource of workers takes up quite a significant amount.

Maxim: How long will it take to restore Mars to the same level as the Earth? With the same nature, the same atmosphere. How long is it?

Irina: To restore the atmosphere, to recreate what you call the biosphere, that is, certain plants, microorganisms that will further maintain this atmosphere, and slightly change the orbit so that there is no such temperature difference, and slightly move its two satellites away, which will draw back the atmosphere, I personally would give about 300 Earth years.

1:16:50 Application of extremely strong magnetic fields for protection against cosmic radiation.

Irina: Our specialists who work in space, in outer space or on ships, those who themselves move in space, or work with contactees, including from your planet and from many others who have to constantly be in outer space, They practically do not use magnetic fields to protect against cosmic radiation, because we believe that the fields created by the energies of the first level are ineffective and very energy-consuming, protect against the energy of the second level, which is radiation. For this we use a special device that collects cosmic radiation into a special battery and converts it into electricity. That is, we achieve two goals by doing this: we protect our crew and contactees, to whom we show various planets, from damage by radioactive energy, and at the same time accumulate energy for our engines.

Maxim: By the way, I have already heard about such technology. Very interesting. It turns out that you are killing several birds with one stone.

Irina: We think this is the most effective.

1:18:59 Teleportation using magnetic fields.

Irina: The teleportation effect is not associated with magnetic fields, but with interdimensional energy. What you call ether and torsion field, and we call free energy of the vacuum. It is found not only in a vacuum, but in any space. Each substance consists of certain energies. Under certain conditions, using the same free energy of vacuum, it is possible to transform the substances of a dense material body into a wave structure, which can be moved in a device to any distance. To conduct experiments of this scale and level, you need to understand exactly what you are doing and why, otherwise there may be negative consequences for the space and for the surrounding substances.

Maxim: There is information that there used to be teleportation gates to other planets on Earth, is that true?

Irina: We were before.

Maxim: Did you accumulate some kind of energy in the crystals? There were crystals, they say?

Irina: There were different principles.

1:21:37 Why does it demagnetize when a magnet is hit hard?

Irina: If you look at the energy level, a magnet is an accumulation of energies in a dense material state. If it has magnetic energy that was embedded in it, it has a magnetic field. A blow is the impact of another dense material object. At the moment of contact, a wave passes through the object that was hit. From the applied mechanical energy, magnetic energy will leave the object.

Maxim: Does one energy push out the other?

Irina: Yes.

1:23:23 Why can some substances be magnetized, while others cannot?

Irina: Those substances that can be magnetized contain those elements, internal energy of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd level, which allow the accumulation of magnetic energy, a magnetic field. And those substances with which this cannot be done - their structure of atoms and crystal lattices do not allow this to be done; they have nowhere to accumulate magnetic energy. The same substances, but in different isotopes and states of aggregation, can emit and accumulate different types of energy.

#18 Conference in Voronezh 09/28/2019 (part 1)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z2oBrdqnTQ4

Terms, names, names of planets, etc. sound in the Daraal language, with a representative of which Irina communicates.

00:49 Maxim Rusan and Irina Podzorova.

Maxim: I welcome everyone, we are starting our conference. My name is Maxim Rusan. I am a lawyer and economist by training and am finishing my studies at the Institute of Practical Psychology and Business Psychology.

Once upon a time, I, like many others, lived an absolutely simple earthly life and did not even understand how everything in this world worked. One day I was lucky enough to meet a person who gave me the opportunity to personally understand and realize what was happening around me, who I was, why I came here, what religion is, God, who created us, etc. Each of us present here always has an internal request to understand what is happening to us. Therefore, I would like to introduce you to Irina Podzorova - she is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations!

01:43 Beginning of Irina's contacts with aliens.

Irina: I welcome everyone who came, thank you for your presence! Until the age of 13, I also lived the ordinary life of a rural teenage girl.

When I was 13 years old, I met representatives of an alien civilization who came into contact with me. From that time to this day I have been in contact with them. At first it was Kirchiton, a representative of the planet Daraal. Then, it happened a year ago (now 2019), MidgasCaus, a representative of the planet Esler, began to contact me. Fate decreed that I refused contact for a long time due to personal reasons, since I wanted to live the ordinary life of an earthly woman. But a year ago I decided to finally understand all this and find out what it is. And I returned to contacts.

Irina: I turned to ufologists with a request to help me figure it out. They asked me questions and began to understand the situation. It turned out that in April of this year (2019), in a completely unusual way, we met Maxim.

03:25 The story of meeting Irina on behalf of Maxim.

Maxim: Yes, this is an interesting story.

I once needed an operator. They recommended me a person who knows how to shoot video and edit it. He turned out to be a former employee of the Ministry of Internal Affairs. One day he comes to me and says: “Max, I had such an interesting situation, they called me from TVC and asked me to go to Povorino to film a “crazy woman” who communicates with aliens.”

I have had a big request for this since childhood, I read a lot of literature, and began to get seriously interested in esotericism about 5 years ago. Cataclysms began to occur in my life, which we can talk about later, but the point is that I was completely reset. They reset it to such an extent that I was left alone - that is, there was no one left in my head except me and God. Well, my mother is still nearby.

So I told my cameraman, “You have to believe it’s there to ask her good questions for the TVC.”

He leaves and comes back the next day with such round eyes. I ask: “What happened?”

“Max, I don’t understand, but I think it’s true!”

We started watching this video. Irina talks very well and interestingly, she is quite open. She doesn’t have higher education, she doesn’t have the opportunity to read encyclopedias and everything else, but in the video she starts talking about different energy structures, talks about her contacts with Kirchiton, about the design of flying saucers, etc.

I look and think - look, wow! It’s normal, so I went to take the crazy one off.

I say to the operator: “Let me give you money now, will you go to her again in Povorino and ask her the questions that I will write?!”

Questions so that I understand whether the person is really crazy or whether she really has something real and she feels something. I wrote 9 questions on all areas of activity: attachment to a religious egregor, understanding of the Solar system, what the energy structure is, entities, etc. That is, that list of questions that she had to answer, and I had to believe her.

But as soon as I gave him a piece of paper with questions, he received a call from the TVC with a request to complete the video footage. This was very cool for me - you can also go for free.

He's coming. And then I had a session at the Institute of Practical Psychology and Business Psychology. It’s 11 pm in the evening, he uploads everything to Yandex disk, I live in a room with my friend, who also studies at this institute, and I see her video with answers to my questions. In the video, Irina says: “Maxim, greetings from Kirchiton!” I thought: “Well, that’s it, I’ve got it, some Kirchiton sends his greetings to me”...

Further, Irina says: “I can answer 6 questions for you myself, because I am in contact all the time, and we discussed this with Kirchiton.”

Irina not only answers my 6 questions, she explains my questions in a structured manner. 3 questions were from the area that she could not know for sure. He says that in order to answer them, I must enter into mental contact with Kirchiton. She openly makes mental contact on camera. The degree of purity of information that it conveys is evident in its immediate openness and the absence of the “noise in the head” that we all have, which makes it difficult for a person to see structures and get in touch with his Higher Self.

I personally went with the cameraman to Irina. After the conversation, we were about to leave, but then MidgasCaus “comes”. When Irina comes into contact, her energy structure changes and the feeling that she is under chemical drugs, because at the energy-chemical level the composition of her blood changes, certain hormones are released... Now she is more or less balanced, because we ask the Beings with whom she communicates constantly balance it.

09:45 Presentation of the MS representatives present in the astral body at the conference.

Maxim: Now the people sitting here are the ones who need this information and need this structure. Not many people came, it seems to me that now a third of those who called and wanted to come are here. The same thing happened at the last conference. Either they don’t bring it, they don’t bring it.

You have these brochures that say “Alien Representatives of the Interstellar Union.” Those who study civilizations like our Earth do not know all the answers to the questions. It says who is this or that representative of the Interstellar Union by profession. You can ask specific questions about what interests you.

Maxim: Irina, who is present here now in the astral body so that you can ask questions?

Irina: Present here are: Raom-Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, Siomoni Gikhtori from the planet Gikhor and LiShioni from the planet Shimor. The rest have not arrived yet, they will come later.

11:20 When and who discovered the Earth? The beginning, goals and participants of the experiment to create on Earth a hybrid of an intelligent being - a human.

Maxim: How does our Galaxy work? Who created us and why?

Irina: About 5 million years ago, our planet was discovered by astronauts from a planet called Tumesout. It is located 1050 light years away in the constellation Orion. When they discovered it, there was already biological life here: plants, animals, mammals, among which the closest to us were primates, similar to modern chimpanzees, but taller and with a different body structure. At first, representatives of Tumesout gave the opportunity for natural evolution on Earth, so that intelligent creatures would develop from these forms of primates through natural selection, but for 2 million years this did not happen, unfortunately.

3 million years ago, specialists from Tumesout began an experiment, the goal of which was to create a hybrid from terrestrial primates, combining their genetic information with their own.

Irina: To help in this experiment, they attracted 2 more civilizations: representatives of the planet Burkhad from the constellation Cygnus and representatives of the planet Selbet from the constellation Canes Venatici, as biologists. These 3 civilizations participated in the creation of our species, this happened 3 million years ago. By this time, the Interstellar Union had already formed in our galaxy. Currently, it includes 116 civilizations out of 727 intelligent humanoid civilizations living in our Milky Way galaxy. All civilizations with which I come into contact are also members of the Interstellar Union. I am in contact with representatives of the planet Daraal and the planet Esler. These are not our creators, but they are also part of the Interstellar Union.

Now here at the conference there is also a representative of our creators - Raom-Tiyan from the planet Burkhad - the capital of the Interstellar Union, located in the constellation Cygnus at a distance of 670 light years from Earth.

3 million years ago they began experimenting with introducing genetic material into the nuclei of primate cells. And they watched what kind of creature would be born.

They needed a creature whose nervous system would allow them to connect with a rational spirit. As a result, 3 million years ago the first man emerged from a monkey.

16:00 Percentage of earthling genes.

Irina: In percentage terms, human genes include:

-45% - primate genes;

-35% - genes of Burkhadians;

-15% - Tumesoutts genes;

-5% - genes of Selbet people.

16:23 What do the representatives of the planets Tumesout, Burkhad and Selbet look like ?

Irina: The inhabitants of the planet Tumesout look like our European-type people, but are from 5 to 8 meters tall. I was on Tumesout.

Maxim: As I already know, the entrances to the pyramids were created for the Tumesoutians; once upon a time, earthlings were together with alien civilizations and tried to live and develop together. Tumesoutians are from 5 to 8 meters tall, they are giants. Therefore, no one can understand how the pyramids and other architectural structures were built, using what technologies. They don't tell us all this. The Tumesoutians are part of the Interstellar Union and have high technology in terms of construction, race development, genetics and much more.

Irina: Representatives of the planet Burkhad also look like us, that is, they are a warm-blooded anthropomorphic type. How are they different from us? They are between 2 and 2.8 meters tall, with white skin, often blue eyes and blond hair.

Maxim: This is what we call in history the Aryan race. This is what Hitler was going for, dreaming of leaving only the Aryan race. His goal is not completely clear; later, during contacts, I will ask about Hitler's true goal, what did he want to do?

Irina: Representatives of the planet Selbet are humanoid creatures, but of the reptilian type. They are cold-blooded, oviparous, similar to our reptiles. They are intelligent and walk on two legs. They are two meters tall, look like our lizards, have a triangular-shaped face, covered with scales, and four webbed fingers.

When explorers from the Interstellar Union first discovered planet Earth, they were very interested in it because of the amount of diversity of life on it, making it one of the unique planets in our galaxy. Few places have such diversity. For this reason, they wanted the resulting hybrid to have their genes. They believed that the more genes they had, the greater the amount of their energy that would be contained in this creature. They were interested in us carrying their energy too. Thus, the first creature was created.

Maxim: The Reptilians in our religious egregor are the very tempting serpent that tempted Eve.

People are wondering why we have existed for 3 million years, but consciously only for the last 2 thousand, and according to the chronicles about 12 thousand years?

21:27 What were the first people on Earth like? How many were there?

Irina: When the first people were created, not two of them were created, but 18 people - 9 men and 9 women. They were not immediately adults, but first an embryo, then a child.

They had a celebration when a rational spirit finally became embodied in this hybrid.

22:05 Rational spirit (limis) and animal spirit (eromes), group soul of animals.

Irina: All representatives of the Interstellar Union do not consider the material body to be the main thing in a person, they consider it only a means, a reflection, a carrier, an instrument of the rational spirit. The spirit was born by our Father God even before the creation of the material world. Now we are all here - intelligent spirits incarnate. And those who are in astral bodies are also incarnate intelligent spirits. They believed that now a rational spirit had incarnated in the hybrid, because a rational spirit could not incarnate in a creature whose nervous system was not adapted for mental activity. In the language of Daraal, the Intelligent Spirit is called Limis. The soul of an animal is called Eromes. Insects have a group soul. The soul of an animal will not be able to incarnate into a human and, conversely, due to the different types of connecting links of their life force with their physical body. After the creation of intelligent hybrids, the Limis from our system began to be embodied in them.

24:43 The reason for the dispute between the Selbet people and the Burkhad and Tumesout people.

Irina: As a result, a dispute arose between the reptilians of Selbet and the other two races (Tumesoutians and Burkhadians). The reason for the dispute was the Selbetites' assertion that there are already more anthropomorphic races in the galaxy. The earth was a unique place, here lived the creatures we call dinosaurs, that is, the reptilian type. 5 percent of reptilian genes, and not 15, was due to the fact that the Tumesoutians and Burkhadians believed that exceeding 5 percent would disrupt the development of our body, because each gene is responsible for a specific protein, etc.

The Selbetites said: "It's good if you created anthropomorphs, etc." there are only 5% of our genes in them, then, since we helped you with this, then help us create a race of intelligent reptilians, but by combining our genetic information with those forms of reptilians that already exist on this planet! To put it simply – intelligent dinosaurs.

The Tumesoutians and Burkhadians considered that such a difference of races on one planet, which will continue to form in the future, with their religion and people, is impossible. They said that in such a young civilization, even differences in skin color and height can already sow discord between peoples. And if reptilians and anthropomorphs differ so much, then there will simply be another reason for different wars. Such a young civilization is not yet ready for this level of struggle with its xenophobia, against the backdrop of two types of races living on one planet. Such a difference is possible only in the Interstellar Union, where, before going into space, wars on the planet must stop, and group consciousness is ready to accept the existence of other races and recognize the right to their existence. Young civilizations that have not yet completed their evolutionary path of social development are not ready for this level of consciousness. Therefore, there was no point in provoking wars and creating reptilians once again.

Irina: The Selbet people have their own psychology, and they agreed among themselves that if they are not allowed to have their own representatives on this unique planet, then they will destroy the created hybrids. According to Raom-Tiyan, this decision was made not by the leadership of Selbet, but by those humanoid specialists who were on Earth at that time (3 million years ago), without informing their government about it.

When the representative of Selbet decided to destroy the earthly, already intelligent hybrids, they could not just take them and kill them, otherwise they would have been immediately accused. They had to make it look like an accident. And then the story happened, which is described in figurative language in chapter 3 of the Book of Genesis in the Old Testament, which talks about the temptation of Adam and Eve and eating the forbidden fruit. You are probably all familiar with this story.

29:30 The real story of the Serpent-Tempter.

Irina: This story appeared in the Bible for a reason. Moses wrote it down. In ancient Mesopotamia, he was a contactee with the planet Tumesout. Representatives of Tumesout spoke to him in his language, at the level of his picture of the world, his ideas about it. That is, when they made contact with him, they did not introduce themselves to him as aliens, inhabitants of the stars, etc. They introduced themselves to him as gods in order to avoid conflict with his picture of the world. There was no science about other planets then. People looked into the sky and saw stars as luminous points. Therefore, all the galactic representatives who came into contact with people, to be understandable, did not contradict the picture of the world of the ancient contactees who existed then. When the Tumesoutian began to contact Moses, he told him in the figurative form of a myth about what happened in those ancient times. At the same time, he presented to him the representatives of Selbet who committed the crime with the symbol of the tempting serpent.

Why a snake? Because in this symbol he encrypted the fact that this was a representative of a reptilian civilization, and not some other. This text, which Moses wrote down, was given for a reason; it was given to subsequent generations as a true story, but in an allegorical form, for further deciphering.

31:50 Climate and geography at the time of the creation of people. Atlantis, Pangea, Eden.

Irina: At the time of the creation of people, the Earth had a different climate, it was a little closer to the Sun and had only one continent. The division appeared later, after the war.

Maxim: This is what we call Hyperborea and Atlantis.

Irina: These were parts of that single continent or its city.

Voice from the audience: The name of the continent is Pangea?

Irina: This is the modern name of that continent.

In the place where the Mediterranean Sea is now located (it didn't exist then, it appeared after the war, 12 thousand years ago), closer to today's Turkey, there was a base for the creation of man (what we now call "Eden"). There was not just a scientific base, but also what we call a testing ground for training our ancestors to follow the social path of development. They wanted to create us and let us go through all the difficulties ourselves, give us independence. They were interested in further communication with full-fledged employees, that is, representatives of the civilization that had gone through all the stages that they had gone through earlier.

34:30 Eden is a training ground for children. The birth of the first people.

Irina: In this "Garden of Eden" a testing ground was created for the education of children, since humans were created at the fetal level, and by then they were already children. They were also taught the language, that is, the simplified Tumesout language, without any complex terms, in its simplest form. From it, later, Hebrew emerged, which in turn also underwent changes. Children perceived their creators as their parents. They did not have such concepts as "gods".

Question from the audience: Were they born?

Irina: Yes, they were born from earthly primate females, as we call them - by the method of genetic modification or artificial insemination. Our creators could see DNA enlarged, they had devices that could form gene chains - add or remove unnecessary things. We are just starting to do this now. You can make not only plant hybrids, but also living creatures.

Maxim: Those people whom we know as great - Christ, Krishna - are precisely a hybrid of an earthly woman and the genetics of that civilization that wanted to convey its idea of the world and the Universe. Why was this even done? So that you can have direct contact with your daughter or son, because... their energy structure made it possible to receive information from those civilizations.

If we take a person, we are very closed, not sensitive. It is only recently that we have begun to understand more, more information is appearing. This conference is for a person to understand who he is and why he exists.

38:10 Forbidden fruit. Adam and Eve.

Irina: At that base there were not only terrestrial plants, but also plants from other planets, necessary and desirable for the development and maintenance of the existence of our creators. One of these plants is called Khorool, in the language of Tumesout. The fruits of this tree are very desirable for ensuring mental and physical activity of representatives of Tumesout.

But, for a person who has a different genetic set and a different body structure, the fruits of this tree were poisonous, that is, after a person ate the fruit of this tree, from several hours to a day, in the absence of assistance, physical death occurred from poisoning.

Knowing this, the Selbetites decided to destroy people, presenting it as if there had been an accident. That is, so that people come up themselves. They ate these fruits, and when they are found, the Selbet people will say that people ate them out of curiosity. When children grew up, they were explained the harm of this fruit and that it should not be eaten. Children idolized their “parents” and saw them flying on ships. The Tumesoutians and Burkhadians could not imagine that children, growing up, could disobey them.

Maxim: these are the apples described in the Bible. People ate them, and then they had to be rescued.

Irina: The description says that Adam and Eve hid after tasting the fruit. But they were actually unconscious and could not respond. They were found and provided timely assistance.

When they were asked why you did this, they did not hide it and answered that all this was set up by the Selbet people, revealing the truth in this story. This was reported to Selbet and the culprits were sent to their home planet with subsequent isolation as punishment for attempted murder.

42:30 Settlement of people on Earth, colonies on Venus and Mars.

Irina: Those people who were rescued were decided to be expelled from this base to an independent life on Earth. They were resettled around the Earth for independent development, showing them how to build houses, teaching them how to sow bread, grow fruits, vegetables, etc. in accordance with the then climate and human metabolism, different from the present time. In those days, humans had no need for animal food due to a different climate, Earth energy, magnetic fields, and metabolism. Our bodies were supported by such food.

Why did they decide to expel people? Because if the earthlings do not trust the creators, then someone else will set them up for something, and it will come to the point that the earthlings will take up arms and go against their own creators. Thus, humanity developed over many thousands of years, multiplying, filling the Earth, as the creators instructed them to do.

In addition, the aliens were engaged in creating conditions on the other two planets for favorable living conditions for people. It was Venus and Mars. In those days, the conditions on these planets were different. Venus had a different atmosphere than it does now, with carbon dioxide, sulfuric acid and a greenhouse effect. Venus was then located a little further from the Sun and had a favorable climate for the existence of liquid water and vegetation, etc.

On Mars, due to the fact that there was insufficient oxygen levels, aliens had to plant vegetation, creating an atmosphere favorable for human life. And it all ended with the fact that about 200 thousand years ago, about 20 thousand people settled on Venus and Mars. This was done so that in the conditions of the formation of various nationalities there are more opportunities for social evolution with the subsequent entry of humanity into the Interstellar Union for joint cooperation in the discovery of new planets, etc.

47:00 Golden Age. Interaction of people with dense-material and subtle-material civilizations. Plasmoids - who are they?

Irina: It’s been like this for many thousands of years. This was the same Golden Age mentioned in the ancient scriptures. There were no wars, people had superpowers, because... They openly contacted various aliens and civilizations of subtle worlds. There was no winter on Earth, there were large trees, fertile land, everything grew quickly, there was a different magnetic field, the composition of the earth.

Their own cities were formed on Earth, people lived in harmony with nature. The aliens did not insist that we develop our technology, they watched how social evolution would go, and it could go in different ways - either in a technical direction or in merging with nature. For thousands of years, earthlings chose the second path - they had warmth, enough food, there were no enemies among predatory animals, and they lived in harmony with nature and with the plasmoid worlds existing on Earth.

What are plasmoids? We are now in dense bodies, they consist of substances. This matter has density, its energies formed what we call atoms. There is subtle matter - this is the material world, not the spiritual; in our language we call it electromagnetism. These energies are not carried by matter, one might say a radio wave or electromagnetic fields. The body of a rational being can also consist of these fields. For example, ball lightning is a plasmoid manifested for our vision, located at a vibration level that is in the spectrum of frequencies visible to us. Plasmoids are embodied in those bodies that have no substance, just energy. Simply put, it is an intelligent beam of light.

Maxim: There are dense material civilizations - humanoid, insectoid, reptilian, and there are civilizations of the fine material world - plasmoid. There are tens of times more of them than dense material ones, so I asked Irina to explain for understanding what they are.

Irina: Plasmoids in our religion and culture are called spirits of nature and elements: forests, fields, rivers. Mermaids, brownies, the spirit of fire are different types of plasmoid civilizations. They exist not only on Earth, but also in space, near the stars, near the Sun.

Maxim: Some of the plasmoid civilizations formed the religions that we have on Earth. Vedic cultures, for example, do not mean anything bad; they simply carry their vision and idea of where to develop.

54:00 War 12,000 years ago. Reptilian attack (planet Selbet).

Irina: 12 thousand years ago there was a global war in the solar system. The culprits of this event were again representatives of Selbet. This is the same race whose representatives at that time long ago forced people to eat the forbidden fruit on the earthly Base (“Eden”).

A political party came to power in Selbet, which was sharply opposed to the representatives of Burhad, one of our creators. The land was then considered a colony of Burkhad. The war began far in the galaxy and a few years later representatives of Selbet attacked the solar system and those colonies that existed: Earth, Venus and Mars.

They made a surprise attack on the Burkhadian bases, the main one of which was on a planet called Phaeton. The well-known asteroid belt (fragments of Phaeton), located in orbit between Mars and Jupiter, are the consequences of this attack. There were no guard posts in the solar system, no one expected an attack. Having reached the solar system, representatives of Selbet divided into several formations of warships, the first of which headed to Mars, the second to Earth, and the third to Venus. First they destroyed Mars. The Selbetians possessed weapons capable of blowing away the atmosphere or turning oceans into steam.

57:40 Relocation of people from Venus to Disara. Who lives on Venus now?

Irina: The Burkhadians and Tumesoutians, naturally, stood up for the defense of humanity, and when the Selbetians used chemical weapons against people on Venus, the Burkhadians, having landed their ship, managed to evacuate almost all the people to another planet called Disaru in the constellation of Hercules. The descendants of those people still live on that planet. Outwardly, they are no different from us, the people of Earth. The planet Disaru is also part of the Interstellar Union, and they have their contactees on Earth. If we give them clothes and teach them the language, we won’t be able to tell them apart.

Maxim: All names are given in the Daraal language, since Irina is in contact with this humanoid. In other languages, the planets may be called differently, but we can clearly tell where exactly they are located. Our astronomers call such planets, for example, G1521.

Irina: Plasmoid civilizations live on Venus. On any planet that has a powerful atmosphere with thunderstorms, lightning and other phenomena, there are many plasmoids. In the Earth's atmosphere we call them sylphs, spirits of the air. They appear as bluish orbs when viewed from astral space.

01:00:35 The death of Mars as a habitable planet.

Irina: Planet Mars got it much worse; almost all of its inhabitants died. Both people and representatives of Tumesout lived on it, who had a whole city there. As a result of the war, Mars was left without water and atmosphere. There are still remains of that civilization on Mars today. Due to the low amount of oxygen and oxidation, the skeletons of its inhabitants can still be found there.

01:02:55 War on Earth. Selbet attack. Cause of the Flood. Preventing a collision with the Moon.

Irina: The Selbetites fired several energy-gravitational bombs at the Earth from the distance of the orbit of Mars outside the plane of the ecliptic (the circle that the Earth passes around the Sun along the constellations). During the bomb attack, the continent began to split and volcanoes erupted. We see the consequences of these impacts now by looking at the map of the Earth, since before the Flood the Earth had a single continent.

As a result of the use of this weapon, the Earth began to fly further away from the Sun (after which snowy winters appeared on Earth) and moved towards the planet, which is now called the Moon. Before this war, there was no Moon as a satellite of the Earth; it was a planet located between Mars and Earth, with a large alien base.

The collision would have been inevitable (with another asteroid belt), if not for the intervention of the Burkhadians, with the gravitational fields of 17 of their ships, which stopped this approach, which had already increased to 4 times the size of the Moon. After the rest of their ships arrived, they were able to place the Moon in the orbit in which it is now. Due to artificial intervention, the Moon is always turned with one side towards the Earth. As the Moon approached, the water began to overflow its banks, the coastal areas drowned, and this is called the Great Flood.

01:06:10 What did the ancient people die from, where and how did they escape?

Irina: Many people on Earth died from volcanic eruptions, from poisonous gases coming out of the Earth, from earthquakes, from floods.

About 3 thousand people were taken to Mars, which the Selbetites attacked a little later, from which people were taken to the base of the Moon, under a glass dome.

There they remained until the cataclysms on Earth (volcanic eruptions, continental movement, increased radiation) ended and it became suitable for life.

#19 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: meeting in Voronezh (part 2) 09/28/2019

00:25 How Irina became a contactee. Types of contacts.

Irina: I became a contactor, as I already said, at the age of 13, without thinking about anything like that. I didn't think aliens even existed. It's not that I didn't believe in them, I just didn't think about this question. I heard that there are flying saucers, it was 1999. But I didn't think about whether they really exist. If you were to ask me: "Do they exist?" I would say I don't know. Maybe there is. But they are far away. Since childhood, I looked at the stars and thought that maybe someone lives there. But I understood that it was far away. So they live there, we live here. And how will they arrive to us? That's what I thought.

At that time I lived in the Povorinsky district, in the village of Peski, there is such a village.

01:26 Appearance of an alien ship, description of their appearance.

There, in this village of Peski, in the evening, in July 1999, I then turned 13 years old, just recently, I was playing on the street. There we had such a rural park. I raised my head when I was walking home and saw that there was a triangle on the ground, that is, a ship, but then I didn't know that it was a ship.

Maxim: What time was it?

Irina: I don't know, I didn't have a watch, it was twilight, the lanterns were already on. Maybe around 9pm. So, I was walking along the road and saw this triangular object standing. It stands not like a rocket, vertically, but horizontally, on three supports. And there are 5 people standing there, that is, figures. The fire is burning, round windows. At first I didn't understand what was happening, that is, I didn't think there were aliens there, because I didn't see this object flying, I already saw it on the ground. I thought something was going on there, maybe a car, no, it didn't look like a car, maybe they were building something, but during the day it didn't happen. And my curiosity didn't let me go.

And I saw that there were five of them, I counted them and I thought that means there are people. This means that they also came to find out what kind of thing was there. I'll go and ask them too. I was, however, interested in the fact that something suddenly appeared that had not been there yet during the day.

Coming closer, I saw that they were taller than a person, firstly - about 3 meters, they had no neck and instead of a head there was a semicircle. (Shows.) That is, the head is connected in a semicircle to the body.

They had 3 eyes on their heads, 2 round yellow eyes and one red one on their forehead, like a lantern.

04:10 First contact with Kirchiton .

I stopped and thought: "What is this?" My first question. Suddenly I heard one of them, in Russian, not mentally, but simply in an ordinary low male voice say: "Who are you?"

I thought that if he spoke like that, like a man, then some kind of film was being filmed here. They changed their clothes. In response I asked:

- And who are you?

He answers:

- I am Kirchiton!

- And I am Irina! - I introduced myself in turn.

- Will you fly with us?

And when he said the word “fly,” it struck me like lightning in my head: “Oh, these are not people, these are aliens, from another planet.” I compared this “you will fly” and the fact that they look like this, and it turned out that they were clearly not people.

- Where? - I ask.

- To where we live! - Kirchiton answers.

I look at the others, there are five of them, one is talking to me, and four are not saying anything, and they are the same. Absolutely the same. If I look away, I won't be able to tell who's talking to me.

Maxim: Well, the Chinese are all the same for Russians too.

Irina: I really wanted to see it, I was interested, but I thought it might be very far away. I understood that the other planet must be far away. And then we lived with my mother alone.

And I say: “I can’t fly with you, I need to go home, my mother is waiting for me there!” If I don’t come for a long time, she will look for me and be very worried!”

Kirchiton says: “Mark the time and in exactly 2 minutes you will be here!”

Question from the audience : Were you scared?

Irina: No, absolutely not. Because when I already realized that they were aliens, I understood that since they were from another planet, they could look whatever they wanted. They have different living conditions. I understood that people could be completely different on another planet.

Maxim : I will shorten this information a little. All this information is in the group. You can read it. The first time she simply flew, then the second time, when they arrived, she consciously agreed to become a contactee. That is, they asked her: “Will you be a contactee?” She asked: “What are the conditions?” She was given conditions. How long did he take you, twice a week?

Irina: Yes. There were three conditions.

Maxim: What were the three conditions?

Irina: This was already on the second contact. I was then taken to the lunar base. I’ll say right away that at the first contact I was taken to the homeland of Kirchiton, the planet Daraal. This is the constellation Cassiopeia.

07:55 Description of Irina’s second contact with Kirchiton.

The second time Kirchiton came for me in a flying saucer.

Maxim: So they took you to the moon?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What is there on the Moon?

Irina: There is a base on the Moon. Under the Moon, or rather, on the far side of the Moon. Closer to its South Pole. There is an entrance to the base.

Maxim: Are there many bases on the Moon in general?

Irina: I was told about one large single base of 18 Civilizations of the Interstellar Union, including Daraal.

They took me there and, what is most surprising, I was always surprised in their ships, that when you get there, it seems like a white light, like this light from lamps, and if you go into a triangle or into a flying saucer, there is a very bright light, but there is no lamps

08:50 Lunar base.

When we arrived at the lunar base, we did not walk on the surface of the Moon, we went straight into a cave where we could stay without protective suits. A certain temperature and atmospheric composition were created there. This was a few days after the first contact. It was the end of July 1999. Accordingly, it's summer, I'm in light clothes. A little cool, but you could breathe and move around.

And when they brought me into the room, there was another Daraalian, a doctor by profession.

Maxim: Irin, I think all this information is in the group. In general, they inserted a chip into her. They said three conditions. What conditions?

09:20 What were the conditions for Irina to become a contactee?

Irina: 1st condition: You will come 2 times a week to the place that I will show you (it was a place in the forest, in a forest clearing), in the evening, respectively, at 21:30, he assigned me Tuesday and Thursday, two times a week. On the same days and times. And this will be the summer period; in winter, when snow falls, it does not arrive.

I will pick you up on my flying saucer and show you various planets: first of the Solar System, and then of the Galaxy. I planned to show it.

Maxim: And how much has he shown you already?

Irina: Yes, he showed me the entire Solar System and several dozen planets of the Galaxy. I don't remember everything now, of course, a lot of time has passed.

Maxim: Because there is an idea to write a book for Irina, it will be called "Planets of the Solar System". More precisely, to describe all the planets, 727, that are part of the Interstellar Union, on which there is intelligent life.

Irina: In addition to the first condition: if I don't come, I miss physical contact, that is, in the physical body, then instead of the missed physical contact you will have 5 mental contacts with me. Maxim knows what mental contact is.

11:55 Explanation of the essence of mental contact.

Maxim: I first met Irina before the moment when her energy structure was balanced at other levels. Because then the Eslerites installed two more chips on her, which harmonized her. They gave her the opportunity to communicate on other levels, and to see plasmoid civilizations from another level, and from the earthly level she can see other civilizations. She doesn't physically remember how much contact she had when we already knew each other, or rather, she doesn't feel it. There is an exchange with the energy of its structure with an exchange of the energy of its structure. He does not use her body, they exchange energies. High-vibration energies of the representative of Daraal - according to sacred systems, for example, if we analyze energies, then we consist of seven chakras, seven energy structures, and the Daraalians have 24!

Eslerites have 12 chakras, that is, 12 energy structures. We have different energy structures, and it is very difficult for us to adapt for communication without any additional devices. Therefore, the number of contactees on Earth is small.

13:06 Mom's doubts and Irina's medical examination, Irina's doubts .

Maxim: Her mother took her to the hospital, to doctors, highly qualified psychiatrists. Irina told me about all the contacts. Mom thought that Irina was going into the forest, doing something there, it was unclear what, and when she came home she called it "contact." And, accordingly, her mother, understanding her, first took her to the gynecologist to check her. It turned out that she did not have the contact that my mother thought about. Then she took her to psychiatrists. They checked for a long time, and eventually they themselves began to communicate with Kirchiton. They realized that this was something interesting for them, some kind of incomprehensible structure, and they asked: "Can you enter this state?" She says: "Of course I can!" Only Irina was in convulsions during the contact, and they held her so that she wouldn't fall. They began to ask questions to communicate with Kirchiton. Then my mother was told that since she consciously causes this condition, and does not just arise, then, accordingly, this cannot be equated to a mental illness. That is, it is not a disease. No one can really say what it is, the doctors do not say that they communicated with an alien, so as not to think that the doctor needs to be treated, and, accordingly, she was quietly given back into the hands of her mother.

And so, from the age of 13 she had contacts in this form. When I met Irina, and she tells me all this, tells me, tells me, and our institute also provides empathic consultation, that is, she feels emotions, and I understand that some strange emotion is coming. Suddenly, bang, I understand: "Irina, don't you believe what's happening to you?" She says, "Well, to be honest, yes." I was surprised. I say: "You say you have real contact?" She says: "Yes." "And don't you believe that you have real contact?" She says: "Well, I have doubts."

15:30 About Irina's communication with ufologists .

She turned to ufologists. And ufologists began to form structures for her, they began to push her so that she would give them evidence. That is, steal some thing from the plate there or tell us where your contact is, we'll take a photo of the plate. And there are rules of the Interstellar Union: they do not provide evidence. The group clearly has an article explaining why they do not provide evidence. There have been so many times already, and this is already the second conference, when people come: "Prove it to us!" At first we even tried to do something, we tried to provide indirect evidence, but in the end we realized that a person is such a structure that if you prove something to him, he will then ask: "But prove that I am a person, and I I exist." The very structure of man is a huge amount of doubt, even about what he can touch. Not to mention that he can't see. Therefore, evidence of contact is not given. We can talk about this, we can have discussions about it, even if someone doesn't believe it, even if someone doubts it, but at least we can try to present this information in the form of such a specific conference.

We are here trying to convey the information that they convey to us, and what this information is for. That is, for growth and development.

16:50 Is it possible to refuse contact.

Maxim: Third, what was the condition?

Irina: Contact is established for life. And they told me that if we install the chip now, you won't be able to refuse. If you refuse now, I will bring you to Earth, and we will not see each other again. I mean, I really wanted to hide it all. As Kirchiton told me: "Because if you tell all this to people, they will say - prove it to us! And the MS prohibits us from giving evidence to contactees in order to protect them from the intelligence services." He told me so. And he said: "Therefore, in order to protect you from people's censure that you are deceiving them, it is better not to talk about the contact."

Maxim: Now, at this point in time, all contacts have been postponed due to negotiations, once a month. Agreed. The requirements were twice a week. Then - twice a month. Ultimately, they postponed it to once a month, explaining that it was impossible to organize contact here nearby. Moreover, we have a large number of airfields and many other structures here, and we have to go very far.

18:02 Maxim’s role in working with Irina, why he took on this work.

Accordingly, I help Irina in this structure and understand perfectly well how my help can result in me. Because a lot of people really don't perceive, don't believe and think that this is a show. For me this is absolutely not a show, because the information that I receive from them is priceless to me. I, due to the fact that Irina has contacts, due to the fact that I can be interested in different things from different structures, I answered all the questions that I could not answer for myself all my life. That is, I answered my internal queries, answered personally who I am, what the Soul, the Spirit is, why religions are formed, how they are formed... No one could have answered so many questions for me!

18:25. About the capabilities of Irina's curator - MidgasCaus.

MidgasKaus, who is Irina’s curator, is from the planet Esler, who is constantly in contact with her, he also diagnoses astral fields, identifies diseases of various levels, microbial structures, anaerobic structures. That is, at the astral level, he makes a complete energy-informational diagnosis of the body.

Due to this diagnosis that he made, I initially maintained all my faith in everything. As soon as I started to doubt everything about this: “Max, what are you imagining, what kind of aliens are they?” or: but they said it would be like this, but it was like this. Or: why does the information I read contradict? And I keep coming back to the idea that there is a diagnosis. At the diagnostic level, it is impossible to deceive a person. Here is Irina, she doesn’t know how to do diagnostics, she’s just learning. And accordingly, someone does the diagnostics, some kind of structure for me. I bring myself back to why I believe. And I don't need proof. And when I understand that I went through it myself, and the diagnosis is not 99, but almost 100 percent. That is, a clear reflection of the entire microbial flora, there are organs, where, what, how, he described everything in such detail that in order to get such a diagnosis at the level of our medicine, which we now have, I would have to be treated in a hospital for a week, take a thousand tests, for various there. For example, here is an allergy. Identify allergies. I know that there are a lot of tests, forty structures need to be checked. Everything is very simple here. A diagnosis is simply carried out and everything is said, including where this disease came from, that is, what projection of your mental image forms this disease. Since there are psychologists here at our conference, quite experienced psychologists, every competent psychologist understands that all diseases are psychosomatic in nature. That is, the initial cause of the disease is psychosomatics. And the consequence of this disease is the appearance in the structure where there is no energy, where the immune system does not work well, of some kind of virus, or bacteria, or microbe, or something else. I even answered the question of how all this is formed, why all this is happening.

Before meeting Irina, I had quite a lot of interesting experience in restoring myself with the help of my esotericism teacher. She practices according to the Merkabah system. She restored me and took me for training, saying: “You will either study, study, or I will not restore you.” I thought and said: “Okay, I agree.” It's a pity that she is not here at the conference. She lives in Novaya Usman, which is quite far away.

22:22 Meeting between Irina and teacher Maxim .

Irina and I decided to joke about this teacher of mine. I tell her: “Can we help the girl, in my opinion, she has something wrong with her head: she communicates with aliens.” That is, I didn’t tell her, although she told me everything about these structures, explained how it was all formed, how it all happened, where it came from, what. But she didn’t say a lot of things. And when I brought Irina to her, to my teacher, at first she was skeptical: like, who do you communicate with, how, why... then she says: “Can I have your hand?” I’m sitting here, here is a man who taught me esotericism, working with energies for a year and a half, they take each other’s hands, open their eyes, and Irina asks: “Are you also a contactee from Burkhada?”

That’s how I sat, I was stunned. I say: “Wait, why didn’t you tell me?” She says: “But I was told not to tell anyone, it’s impossible, or you didn’t hear”... And there was some kind of moment... you know, there is “I believe”, and I believed that I believe !

And, except for my teacher, I think, okay... if Irina still doubts. They found each other, communicated on their own level, they realized that they were in contact with the same civilizations, but Irina says: “Is there still somewhere to go?” This is Irina telling me... I’m already sitting, I understand that everything is fine! And she says to me: “Is there anyone else who will watch?”

23:53 Meeting between Irina and the contactee with the plasmoids.

And I’m taking Irina to a very interesting woman; people come to her from all over Russia. She works with the Spirits of Nature, with tribal egregors, Christian egregors, Vedic egregors, that is, she communicates with plasmoid civilizations, and at the expense of plasmoids restores people. That is, it lifts people who are lying down. Completely recumbent. And there are many such people in Voronezh too. I know her well, intimately. I take Irina to her, I introduce them, and I understand that Irina explains to her what is happening to her. That is, not the opposite effect, but Irina tells her: “Here, you have this one standing next to you, this one there, you communicate with this one, you work like this”... And then Marina begins, says: “Who is this ? And that's why I don't need proof anymore. I understand that this structure is all working, this structure is all real. And according to the information that comes from there, this is nonsense, just a revelation for me. Why?

25:17 Irina is a gift of fate for people.

I am making this discovery for all of you too. I want to show that this is all real, this all exists, even in this form. For me, Irina as a person is a gift of fate, who gave me a huge amount, and not only to me, she will give you a huge amount of information too. We will be opening a Center for Spiritual Development in the future. And in the future she will also be involved in training.

I remember myself as a child, when I draw pictures in my head and start coloring them with colors. Children have it. A large number of children, especially since the 1980s, come as high-vibration souls who understand everything on a subconscious level. And if those who understand this on a subconscious level are given the opportunity to explain how it is, what it is in general... Like sometimes you open a book, you don't know its translation, like there's a picture, but you don't understand what's written. Irina is the structure that can explain what is written, and what kind of picture, and with what pencils it was written, and on what page, and why. That is, you can answer absolutely all questions.

26:30 Irina's versatility and level of awareness .

We have Irina as a contact person. She is multifunctional in terms of the fact that, I would say this: "Whether you want it or not, but you already had to," that is, she initially had no choice, and then I also appeared in her life, who began, having the opportunity to understand , what kind of structures these are, ask the right questions and began to project it as not only a spiritual mentor. Because the information it gives does not contradict our Christian religion in any way. That is, our religion is the basics of the information that it can provide through our friends. I can only be responsible for the religion that I know myself, which is our Christian Orthodox religion. Unfortunately, I do not have time to study more Catholic and other religions. I mean when I talk about religion, our Orthodox Christian religion.

So, the level of her awareness and understanding of those structures that are nearby, in addition to the single flow, is, of course, off the charts. Indeed, Alexander correctly said that the strongest energy that structures us on the physical level is that energy of the true light of Love, if you can call it that, which comes from the Spiritual world.

I'll now explain why... Irina, can I talk, because I understand the structure...

Irina: Yes.

28:14 Creation of the Soul by God .

Maxim: Now I will explain. When God gave birth to Souls, we call them that because he did not create them, but gave birth to them, this is part of him.

In order for Souls to grow, gain experience and energy in the world in which he gave birth to them, they could not do this. They are there in certain Laws, in certain spatial dimensions, as far as I can explain it. There is no room for making mistakes. There is a clearly structured table of ranks, a table of what can be done and what cannot be done.

Question from the audience: What are errors?

Maxim: I'll explain now. I mean lessons for growth and development. That is, in order for the Spirit, born of God, let's call it that way, the Absolute, God, Creator; whoever calls it, it is the structure that formed the Spirit. He made a projection of the physical world so that the Spirit, incarnating into a physical body, could have freedom of choice regardless of the energies and structures that allow it to grow. When he makes mistakes, he realizes that he could have done it differently, or, while heading somewhere, he sees that there is a choice between the spiritual and the physical. And we all, like normal people, have our own physical attachments, hobbies, pleasures and everything else. And at the same time, we have a spiritual structure that is located in the same physiology. And with our physical structure we guide our spiritual structure according to the physical level of development.

29:54 What is the Spiritual world.

When we receive information from the Spiritual (let's call it the "Spiritual World"). Because the Spiritual world permeates absolutely all physical worlds. Everything that we see on the physical level: atoms, molecules, planets, the same aliens - these are just the same physical structures, for the possibility of incarnating the Spirit, for growth and development.

That is, there is the Spiritual world, as a separate structure, from where all the energy comes for the formation of the entire physical space. And already in this physical space various types of energies are formed. That is, by dividing this pure energy of Love from the Spiritual world into various other energies, both physical and subtle worlds, planets, and everything else are formed.

They are trying to convey to us information that we, as carriers of the Spiritual structure in the physical body, can make a choice: we can grow this Spiritual structure to the level of the next understanding, or we can lower this Spiritual structure to the level of unconsciousness, and again, in any case, we will strive for this growth.

31:07 24 levels of spiritual development.

They tell us that we have levels of spiritual development. That is, according to the assumption of both the Daraals, and the Burkhadians, and the Eslerites, they think the same way in relation to the spiritual world.

We have 24 degrees of spiritual development.

From levels 1 to 6 we consider them demonic structures. What does “demonic structures” mean? This means low vibrational ones that are far from the true light of love that we ultimately strive for in order to grow. To return, to become that God who will also give birth to these Souls. But this, of course, is in our understanding. It is difficult to understand and realize. We live for about 100 years. Burkhadians live 15,000 years. There are structures that live for 1.5 million years on the physical level. And the higher the structure of the Spirit, the greater the opportunity for it to incarnate into a higher structure for further growth and development. They tell us that we are here, now, making a choice - where we are going - we are growing higher into a spiritual structure and will incarnate on more interesting planets, in more interesting structures, because we will be more conscious, or we will slide into demonic structures, and I'm sorry, we'll be born on a planet with monkeys, where they kill each other with sticks. Where there is no socio-cultural order, no awareness, there is no religion. And our religion, when it tells us that there is heaven and there is hell, it clearly gives us the understanding that it is here and now that we have a choice where we are going. Either we go towards the development of this structure, or we go into degradation. But, in any case, in terms of the level of spiritual development, we strive for the one who created us. We are his children. Children on a spiritual level, embodied in a physical structure.

33:14 About the incarnation, about religion, Christ, the role of the Orthodox egregor.

Maxim: A moment arose in my life when I clearly understood: religion is like a political system. Everything is clearly spelled out and structured there: I came, brought money, prayed and went. But then, when I understood the essence and meaning of what was happening there, my attitude towards it completely changed. In any case, in order to advance the knowledge that is given to us, we need a financial egregor that will allow us to organize the same kind of events, drink tea, coffee, get dressed, put on shoes, in order to live and carry this true light of Love.

When Christ came here and when he created the Christian egregor, he clearly understood that it would enter the structure of government. And this structure, subject to conditional subordination in this structure, will give the opportunity to grow this structure, enjoy financial benefits, create certain institutions that will teach them how to correctly present this religion, because few people are even ready to believe in God, not to mention , to some aliens or some other entities. Why can't they explain to us, in our structure, who the aliens are, why they draw scary pictures. Because there is already a clearly drawn Orthodox religious egregor, which clearly corresponds to the structure of the growth of the Spirit. That is, you earned money, spent your energy, as Alexander will say, took part of your energy and contributed it to this egregor. That is, you, paying attention to this egregor, and time is the most precious thing we have here, time is given to us so that at the physiological level at this time the embodied spirit takes lessons and grows or degrades. This is called freedom of choice, in the sense of how you want to live and why everything happens.

They (the aliens), for their part, explain this information to us as deeply as, for example, a Christian egregor, our Orthodox, does not explain to me. I sincerely believe in him, and I will always support him, because my entire generic structure is in this egregor. Well, at least for the last 3-4 generations, many of them, of course, did not even go to this church, because there was the Soviet Union. But the Orthodox egregor does not mean anything bad. He carries 10 commandments that clearly correspond to the 108 Laws of the Universe, which correspond to the structure for growth and development. And the 7 deadly sins, which determine the area of soul degradation at the physiological level.

In the simplest language, how can you explain to a monkey how to get a banana? Give her a stick. This stick is the religious Christian egregor that we have formed here. And there's another problem: the Eslerites speak one language, the Daraals speak another, the Burkhadians speak a third, the plasmoids generally whistle, you may not even understand the sounds, but due to the fact that there is a relay, you can somehow translate it all. And here there is planet Earth. And there are people, and there is egregor. Everyone here speaks the same language. We Orthodox Christians speak Russian, but the Catholic egregor is already formed in a different language. Conventionally, in a language that can be understood by a huge number of people who are part of this egregor.

37:10 About the egregor of the United Light of Love.

What happens: forming together into this egregor, they form the United Light of Love, that divine Love that surrounds us everywhere in limitless quantities, which goes back. A person, as a structure itself, lets this Light of Love pass through itself. We call it Divine Light, Light of Love, or energies that come from space, let's call it the Earth, the Universe, the people who surround us, everything is conditional. A person, due to the fact that he has freedom of choice, passes this energy through his chakra structures. And each chakra structure has a positive energy moment, that is, you can project joy, love, happiness.

Or, due to these same energies, you can project negativity: pain, resentment, anger. This is the structure that you project into the Light of Pure Love; it, accordingly, returns back to the Creator. And the structure that you form through the manifestation of your negativity, misunderstanding, pain, resentment, hatred, and much more, it goes to feed the low structures that were also created by him, the Creator.

For what? So that these low structures grow in us, at least. And from us, further, higher. Everyone who is here now, if he already has an embodiment here on the earthly level, then he was definitely embodied in demonic structures. And the Christian egregor will never tell us about this. He will call it "Hell". So he says that now you have a choice.

It is at the moment here and now, from this life, that you must make a choice.

And if the church told us that you can reincarnate, reincarnate, you would endure everything: “Oh, I’ll do it in my next life!” This was created so that here and now you already understand that you need to grow. Grow in your spiritual structure, grow in your inner vibrations, grow in the understanding of what you project out of yourself, receiving this structure from the outside.

39:25 Why were we created?

They, the aliens, as we call them, are our creators on the physical level. They created and structured us for a very long time, for what? So that these Spirits, who are at a certain level, can incarnate in us and take these lessons here. I call lessons the meaning of growth and development of the Soul.

Irina communicates with Spiritual structures, Irina communicates with alien civilizations and plasmoid structures. The level of her contact amazed me so much, I have never read this in any book, that this is possible. Let’s say Carlos Castaneda communicates with plasmoids, the Strugatskys also communicate with plasmoids, there are people who communicate with Spiritual structures at the level of disembodied spirits as mentors, as guardian angels, as helpers. We all have some kind of structure behind us, we are not alone here.

We are never alone. Even if you are left alone on a different energy level, or left on a spiritual level, someone is always present with you. They are always trying to help you, just as you are trying to help your child. In order to make it clear that the level of growth and development of you depends only on you. Not from Mani, not from Petya, not from Sasha, not from the bad job you work at, which you yourself chose; namely from you.

40:57 Like attracts like.

Your internal state is the receiver of the projection of the true light of Love from the structure that nourishes you. There is such a law in the Universe, it is called “Like attracts like.” When you yourself are filled with this Love, you project it yourself, free of charge, without demanding anything in return, you receive the same from this structure. The only thing, of course, as a physiological being, at least some time must pass. Every structure that you draw for yourself, into which you project this energy free of charge, it will form over time. And we, without knowing this, project negativity from ourselves. And what we do is we attract this negativity to ourselves.

We are trying to create a structure that will supposedly help someone, but at the same time we put negativity into this structure. We are trying to deceive, to earn more money... I’m speaking conditionally, I’m not saying that this is how it is... for example, to deceive in order to earn more money - it seems like the right position - the grandmother needs to buy an apartment, the child needs to go to kindergarten there, money needed. But due to the fact that we form this structure at the expense of negativity, it will, in any case, then attract negativity. And, ultimately, when you leave here, and when you leave your physical body and get into the etheric, astral, mental, and all your other bodies, only from there will you be able to see the entire projection that you made.

They tell us about this.

So I suggest moving on. They are already waiting. I already have such pressure, as I understand it, they are tugging at me too.

Let's move on to Irina's contacts, real contacts. Now is the time to try asking questions specifically to these structures, which she can translate and relay to you. She is at least open to this structure, she can present it, she can give it. And the fact that there are so few of us here today does not mean anything. Even if there were two people here, I would still be holding this conference too. Twenty people... but even if we were half or three times smaller, I would still sit here with Irina.

Every person who understands this information, and every person who will carry this information further, does not mean that there are aliens. There are aliens, this is not a discussed point. As a child, whenever you looked at the sky, you knew for sure that someone was there. Remember yourself as a child. There is no child who thought that there was just sunshine there. He always feels. There is a separate Spiritual world; it permeates absolutely all spaces, all times, all physical matter, it permeates everything. And there is a physical world that was created by these energies in order for Spirits to incarnate.

Our Interstellar friends, clearly understanding why the Spiritual structure created the physical world, also help create these physical beings at the physiological level.

44:16 The connection of the spirit with the physical body.

Irina: The spirit connects with the physical body during incarnation, it is completely connected, for an earthling this happens in the 7th week of pregnancy, when those parts of the nervous system that are responsible for transferring the vitality of the spirit into physiology are formed. What does it mean? This means that we, humans ourselves, are both physical and spiritual beings.

It all started with our existence as spiritual beings.

44:59 What is the Spirit? How is it different from matter?

Matter is divided into fine-material and dense-material. In addition to these two natures, so to speak, the properties of which are known to everyone, in our world there is also a separate third nature - Spirit. How does Spirit differ from Matter, you ask. Spirit differs from matter in approximately the same way as an electromagnetic field or, for example, radiation differs from gas. Imagine a gas - oxygen, and it is in this room. And besides oxygen, this room contains electromagnetic fields, radio waves, for example. Right now there are a lot of radio waves here. We don't feel them because our body's receptors can't perceive them without the antennas on radios, but they are actually there. So, oxygen is not visible to our eye, and radio waves are not visible to our eye.

Then how are they different from each other? Both are not visible.

Voice from the audience: Vibration frequency.

Irina: Frequency, right.

That is, atoms, oxygen molecules have one frequency of vibrations, which collects them into an atom; in our language, they, of course, consist of electrons, protons, etc., that is, of energies, in the language of aliens. But radio waves have a different frequency. Scientifically speaking, these are the same electrons, but not collected into atoms, since they have a different frequency.

So the Spirit is distinguished by a much higher vibration frequency than any radio wave, ultraviolet, or radiation. It is millions of times higher than their vibrations.

Maxim: Everything that surrounds us is energy.

Irina: Yes. The next question that may arise, if there are differences in vibration levels, is what exactly is vibrating - matter or spirit? That is, what environment?

47:20 The cardinal difference between our science and the science of the Interstellar Union.

In fact, if we look from the perspective of understanding the world of our interstellar friends, their position is radically different from our science. It is in this question - what comes first.

Our science believes that matter is primary. That there was a Big Bang, that there was nothing before it, and that all our thoughts, all our feelings, everything we see is all a manifestation of electromagnetic signals in our brain. Our consciousness dies along with our body. In short, once the body dies, there will be no consciousness. Our science thinks so.

Our interstellar friends have the opposite position. They believe that the dense material world is not independent. It is a manifestation or projection, a reflection that is accessible to the receptors of our body, of that very Spiritual world. That is, when physicists ask the question: what exactly is vibrating, what structure, we can answer that it is the spiritual structure that is vibrating.

The lower the vibrations, the closer they are to the receptors of our body and the closer to the material world, to what we can perceive.

A piece of ice differs from steam only in the frequency of its vibrations; in both cases there is water. By nature they are no different. But a piece of ice that we can pick up has slower vibrations. When we say slow, we mean low. Why we call them “low” is because their wave frequency is low, that is, more time passes between oscillations. Therefore, their atoms stay close to each other, and we can pick up a piece of ice in our hands.

If the vibrations become higher, then they are less attracted to each other and fly apart. This is characteristic of water vapor, and we cannot hold it in our hands, but it remains the same water.

The same thing happens with the dense material world and spirit.

Among the Burkhadians, among the Eslerites, among the entire Interstellar Union, the science of physics is not separated from knowledge about the spiritual world, unlike us. That is, in our country religion is separated from science. But for them it has not been separated for millions of years; for them it is a single knowledge.

Even in schools, in families, in a variety of educational institutions, they teach the embodied spirits in their world, their children, physics and chemistry from the perspective of the spiritual world. They do not say that matter is primary, and Spirit does not exist at all, this is the area of religion and everyone’s personal matter, believe it or not. They say that there is Spirit, different levels form materiality, and so on. And they believe that all the troubles that happen on Earth are precisely the consequences of our materialistic consciousness.

51:12 The difference between the technical and spiritual levels of development is the main problem.

Maxim: That is, our level of technical development is much higher than the level of spiritual development.

This is where all the problems come from. We do not maintain the balance of this yin-yang of Chinese philosophy. We are highly developed technically, but very lowly developed spiritually. Due to this, we have wars, we capture each other, seize resources, in order to possess them we build management systems in order to control the masses of people in order to achieve a certain result and protect the values that a few people on the planet have. A person doesn't care that these are embodied spirits; he may not even know about it. He is satisfied with what is happening, wars, seizure of territories, he does what is convenient for him.

52:10 About the primordial energy - Spiritual Light, Love, Reason .

Irina: There is, as I already said, the original Spiritual world. Which was back when there was not a single atom in this physical Universe at all. And we were all there already. Everyone sitting here, we have already been there. We are still in this original light. In fact, we are not getting out of it. It's just that now we are distracted by the material world. Incarnation into the material world does not in the least interfere with the connection with this light, because, as Maxim correctly said, it permeates everything. Any cell of our body. And this original Light - why I call it Light - because that absolute energy, absolute love that created the material world and gave birth to us, firstly, it is Energy, secondly, it is Reason, thirdly, it is Love.

This can also be called Truth, Life, Light, it has many names, but in fact, these are all names for the same thing. That same primordial Energy. Why do I call it "Light". Because when the Spirit realizes its true nature, it feels precisely the light within itself. This is not physical light, of course, but at least that's what we call it - Spiritual Light. Because in our material Universe we can perceive it that way.

Maxim: Yes, we feel it even more like a glow from within.

Irina: The spiritual world exists, it is divided into 24 levels.

Maxim: Yes, by the way, I haven't finished talking about them

Irina: Yes, they are divided into 24 levels according to the level of their vibrations, which, in turn, are the level of self-awareness of this very light.

54:35 Who is a demon? His difference from an angel.

Irina: Now I'll tell you a little about why they are called that, who a demon is and how he differs from an angel.

A demon is the same spirit, it has the same nature as all of us. This is also a rational spirit, this is also a son, a daughter, if in earthly terms, the same child of God, the same part of him, only that part of him that is not completely aware of itself as light, even partially, at certain moments of life, it completely forgot that she was Light, and she imagined herself to be Darkness. I believed it. Therefore it is a Demon. God, wishing us good and happiness in this material Universe, he created what we call the Laws of the Cosmos. Or, in other words, the Commandments. He created this not to forbid us pleasant things, but to make us happy. That is, prohibitions can bring not only misfortune, they can also bring happiness. If you look at their essence. A demon is one who, imagining himself as Darkness, suddenly believed that he does not love God, and that God does not love him, stopped feeling this Love and, as a result, went against these Laws. And he began to do all these things that we call sins in Christians. And it wasn't just that he began to do them accidentally from time to time, but he consciously, without regretting it at all.

Maxim: Yes, and in this structure it grows from the 1st to the 6th level.

Irina: I'm explaining more now using the understandable Christian terminology on which we were all brought up. The entire Russian Federation was raised in Orthodoxy. And I try to express myself in a way that is clear, because the language of biblical parables is known to everyone, it is in films, books, and sayings. Even those who are not familiar with Christianity have relatives and they have heard about it. What Alexander spoke about, what he called the Demo-animal nature, this just means that the Demon Spirit who has already incarnated will use his body in its instinctive part. That is, he will use what Alexander called the “animal principle” - what we took from the animal. Instincts, in themselves, are good. As Alexander correctly explained. But, if you use them the way the Demon uses them, consciously, or as even a bright, good Spirit can begin to use if it suddenly leaves the path of Light. Anyone can turn away from it, in fact, because we have freedom of choice, as a rule. As Maxim said. And in this body he begins not to connect with his inner light, but to connect with his animal instincts. There are several of them. And the first sign that he has united with his animal instincts, and not with the Spirit, not with the Light in himself, is that he considers himself a temporary physical body. Not with the eternal Light, the Spirit, but with the body. And lives like a body. What does the body need?

Maxim: That’s why there are 10 commandments and 7 deadly sins in our Christian egregor. For those Spirits embodied on the physical level who do not understand themselves where: either smart or beautiful...

58:40 Awareness of the embodied Spirit, levels of spiritual development.

Irina: And that Spirit, which at least partially realizes itself as Light, feels divine love in itself and in the world through the beauty of nature, through the beauty of music, it can see God’s appeal to itself even in any song, in any poem. For him, the whole world becomes God's appeal to him. I think many people here are familiar with this condition. And then he considers himself an immortal Spirit. And his body - this does not mean that he humiliates his body, and he humiliates his instincts. But he fulfills them, he controls them, and not they control him. The body for him is a tool for his actions in the material world. A tool, but not the owner of this Spirit.

I just talked about Demons, from the 1st to the 6th level. Why they are divided into these levels is because they differ in vibration levels. Less awareness as consciousness, more awareness, some formed feelings, differ in frequency.

At the 7th and 8th levels live Spirits who have had many incarnations in subtle worlds, subtle worlds of the earthly type, that is, these are earthly plasmoids, Spirits of the elements and nature. They occupy levels 7 - 8. They are no longer Demons, they do not recognize themselves as Darkness, but they recognize themselves as part of this very nature. They do not separate themselves from nature. They perceive the light of God as nature.

Further, from the 9th to the 16th level inclusive, there live Spirits who can be conditionally called “average”, who create both good and evil. The most ordinary Spirits who are interested in both material and spiritual things. And again, from the 9th to the 16th level, the level of their interests, the level of their vibrations, thoughts, feelings are different, it’s all different.

Maxim: These are the Spirits of consumption of material goods.

Irina: Yes, Spirits who cognize the material world create different programs.

But from the 17th to the 24th level inclusive, there live Spirits who very often recognize themselves as Light. And the higher the level, the more often they realize it, the more they believe in it, and, most importantly, the more they bring it to the world. That is, as Alexander correctly noted, it is impossible to help a person if you do not love yourself.

1:02:10 About helping other people from the point of view of energy, awareness of oneself as Light. Intuition, conscience, Higher Self.

Maxim: If you don’t have energy in yourself, it’s impossible to help someone.

Irina: You just won’t know how.

Maxim: Sometimes we do what we do - we give away the last and demand: “Where is it back?” But there is no return... and we are left without everything, and we also begin to project negativity towards the person or the object to whom we gave it...

Irina: That is, if a person does not recognize himself as Light, at least partially, he cannot truly love himself. What is “Loving Yourself”? This means fully understanding that you are not separate from God, that you are part of him, and that he loves you. This is not about permissiveness. Anyone who believes that everything is allowed to him, and God will not do anything to him for this, nothing will happen to him, this is not self-love. This is different. Self-love is always connected with love for God. Anyone who loves himself, feels Love within himself, will never consciously go against the Laws of God. It’s not that it’s forbidden to him, he has no desire to do it, because the Light of Love is not compatible with such energies.

Voice from the audience : Acts out of conviction, not under compulsion.

Irina: Yes. And you cannot help a person by wasting your energy if you do not see the Light in yourself. If a person is in trouble or illness, in order to see how to help him correctly, and not harm him, himself, or others, you must first find out how to do it. Understand the reasons that brought him to this state. And the man himself knows these reasons. His inner Light. What we now call the “Inner Light” I call the “Higher Self”.

Voice from the audience : Conscience?

Irina: Conscience is one of the manifestations of the Higher Self. Another manifestation of the Higher Self is intuition. Conscience, intuition and the desire for good are manifestations of our true or higher Self.

Every person has a so-called natural “moral law”, what does this mean? On an intuitive level, despite being brought up in some kind of evil, negativity, all the same, any person, especially in childhood, until nothing in him replaces his essence, he always feels if an action is evil. Even if he doesn't say it out loud, he feels it's bad. Because it's built into us. This is the natural moral law. It manifests itself through conscience and intuition. And this is all a manifestation of that primordial light, which is our true Self. While we are embodied in this material body, this true Self for us is the Higher Self.

1:06:09 Why do we say - Higher Self?

Because when we connect with our Higher Self (every person has such an ability, property), we always feel that we are rising up, we experience a feeling of ascension. It is because of this feeling of uplift that we call it the Higher Self. We feel at this moment even a little outside the body, in the Universe, simultaneously in the past, present and future. And in this state we truly love ourselves, truly love God and truly love others. And only then can we, by connecting with our inner light, can we try to help someone who needs our help, who is suffering, not just by eliminating the cause of its consequences, but we can try to awaken his inner light, bring him to a state of contact with his Higher Self, so that his Higher Self can answer all his questions: why he came to this state, what it gives him, how to get out of it. No one can help a person better than he can help himself. This is exactly what Alexander was talking about.

Maxim: I want to add. Sometimes, when situations arise in our lives, even without the opportunity to communicate with our Higher Self structure at the moment, we can ask the right question. We basically ask it like this: “For what?” And you need to: “For what?” For growth and development. For what, we can always think of something for ourselves, but to the question “For what?” we can always answer.

From 17 to 24 levels - these are Prophets, seers, angels.

1:08:43 About the saints.

Irina: Those whom we call angels, there is such a word in Orthodoxy as “Saints”. Nowadays it is spelled with the letter “I”, but in fact, they were simply called “light” before. These are those who have a growing level of awareness of themselves as Light; they have a corresponding high frequency of vibrations. These are Spirits who have realized themselves to a greater extent as Light. And they not only realized themselves as Light and distanced themselves from everything, but those who realized themselves... there is an expression “slave of God” that confuses many, but in fact, the word “slavery” was used then in different concepts and meanings than we have now taught by the Soviet education system, which was built on the fact that the slave system is all bad. In fact, the word “slave” can be very well replaced with the word devotion. Service. Devotional service. So, the Light Spirit, the Holy Spirit is the Spirit who realized itself as Light and in the service of Light, and Light in all other Spirits who did not even realize that they were Light.

Maxim: That is, the expression “servant of God” needs to be replaced with “devoted to God.”

Irina: Yes, a devotee, and devotion cannot exist without true Love, because it cannot be forced. Slavery can be forced, but devotion cannot. True slavery is true devotion to Love.

#20 Contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: meeting in Voronezh (part 3) Incarnation

00:22 Is the Earth flat or round?

Maxim : Let's start with questions.

Irina : Yes, you can ask.

Question from the audience : Tell me, is our Earth flat or round? And if it is round, then why is it depicted as flat on the UN flag?

Maxim : Is the Earth round or is the Earth flat, did I understand the question correctly? Who are our astrophysicists? Let MidgasCaus answer.

Irina : In fact, the earth has a shape that can be roughly described as an ellipse: from the equator it is more elongated, and from the poles it has this shape [Irina shows with her hands]. Why do they say the earth is flat? Because, usually, this is how your planet is perceived by those structures that you call plasmoids. They are located in the subtle body, and they have receptors, but there are no such eyes. For example, the same sylphs, while in the air, look down at the Earth and, flying above it, see it as a plane.

02:33 The concepts of “storge” and “agape”.

Question from the audience : The word “slavery” has another meaning, like “devotion.” And in Greece there are different concepts of love - storge, aginya, agape. Can they explain all these expressions for understanding?

Irina : Mead will answer.

Maxim : I didn’t even understand the question. MidgasCaus understands.

Irina : Storge is more of a friendly devotion. I spoke about another devotion, unconditional, which in Greek is called "agape." This is not just devotion, it is complete surrender of yourself and complete trust in the energy structure to which you surrender, i.e. in this case, the Light, God. You cannot completely distrust it when you realize that you are part of the Light, and here, perhaps, it would be appropriate now to read our Eslerian mood.

04:00 Eslerian mood.

Irina : Meade wants to read the mood. There is no word “devotion” in it, but there is precisely an attitude towards these vibrations. He suggests reading the mood now so that everyone is in the mood before answering your questions.

Maxim : Mid, the conference is not ready yet. When there are more of us, we will clearly understand what this mood is, and then we will be able to pronounce it.

Comments from the audience : We agree. We don't have any negative vibrations.

Maxim : Write it down.

Irina : “I am the Universe. The universe is me. The power of the universe is my power. And my Spirit is part of the flow of existence of the Creator of all worlds. His power will be directed to the benefit of all beings living in all worlds and planes of existence. Reality will remain in truth, and lies in the illusion of perception will disappear forever.”

05:43 About unconditional devotion to the Creator through self-awareness of the Universe.

Irina : Why did he read this mood now? Because the one who has realized himself as the Universe and realized himself as the flow of existence of the Creator of all worlds cannot help but be betrayed, he cannot help but love. When I say “we,” I mean ourselves: our thoughts and feelings, our energy, will, that’s all – us. We, in fact, are streams of the Creator's existence. Now God the Creator exists, and we are now as parts of His thought, and He is thinking about us now. He didn’t just invent us, He continues to think about us, and one of His thoughts is now embodied in this body, that is, we are all part of Him. And the one who realized this, and not just read and felt something, he cannot help but be betrayed, he cannot help but be a slave, but he does it voluntarily. He is not taken into slavery by force. In fact, the word “slave of God” suggests that a person recognizes that he is no longer anyone’s slave: neither a slave of his instincts, nor a slave of demons of low-vibration structures, nor a slave of his own negative qualities.

Maxim : I call it embedding into the Light Team. I believe that prayer also charges you if you belong to the Christian egregor and sincerely, truly believe in it. And this is Esler's prayer.

08:08 High vibrational level of essence, evaluation criteria.

Irina : Are we high vibrational beings? To what extent can we understand this ourselves?

Maxim : I think Raom Tiyan would answer well. He is a specialist in energetic interactions with hybrid life forms in the Galaxy from the planet Burkhad. I roughly understand Mid, but I haven't heard Raom Tiyan.

Irina : He said that you can evaluate your vibrational level of essence while in this physical world, in this material body, by the purity and level of sudden spontaneous connections with the Light. Now he will explain what we are talking about. Many people experience this condition when they feel it without doing any exercises, but on their own. For example, when they wake up in the morning (it doesn't matter what time, and it can be sudden), they suddenly begin to feel connected. At the esoteric level this is called enlightenment, illumination, i.e. he feels like Light.

Question from the audience : Can we say that this is more of a sattvic state?

Irina : If, according to the terminology of Hinduism, yes, it's probably not even sattva, it's more like moksha. You should understand this term. Mead is a specialist in Hinduism and "sattva" is a Hindu concept. At all understandable levels of secular consciousness, this is called insight, i.e. a person suddenly feels that he is a part of God, he is not a body. And it's not just not eating the body: the first sign is a feeling of great joy, sometimes reaching the point of delight; in psychology this is called the term "ecstasy". This is not only a mental insight: in this state, the usual tendency of a person is to simply freeze and not move. That is, he has a sense of eternity: he always exists, always was, always will be. I think whoever has experienced it will not confuse it with anything else - this is the first point. The second point: the higher a person raises his vibrations, the better he feels the subtle worlds, those centers that we call the "seventh energy center" begin to awaken in him. While in the physical body, we begin to feel the spiritual beings that are next to us: first these are the plasmoid worlds, then there are more subtle astral beings. In everyday life, such a person who is on high vibrations will differ from others in that he will perceive life optimistically. And even if he encounters difficulties, he will not fall into despair, but will understand that they were sent to him as a lesson.

The more often depressive states occur, the lower the frequency. This is an optimistic, friendly attitude towards people, a willingness to help not to the detriment of yourself and not to the detriment of the one you are helping. The more often and the more sincere these feelings are, the more vibrations the Spirit has. It is by these criteria that they can be distinguished, i.e. not according to certain words with which a person speaks, since he can speak very beautifully, but in the Soul be different. If two people communicate and one of them is a sensitive or simply experienced person in life, a good psychologist or simply wise, elderly, who has lived a lot, then, usually, he feels it very well. This is manifested not only in words, it is manifested in behavior and in a person's worldview, his deeds and even in little things. For example, a person is traveling on a bus, and if he talks a lot about spirituality, about the Spiritual world and says: "I meditate, communicate with beings of a high order," but at the same time, if he sees an old person and does not give up his seat, and if and will give in, only to appear good in front of everyone. But a highly spiritual person cannot help but do this, since he has a built-in vibration that will see that help is needed. Because of this vibration, he perceives the world differently. He perceives every person with whom he communicates as his equal, i.e. not higher and not lower. He does not rise above anyone, he does not humiliate himself before anyone, he considers everyone who is in front of him to be brothers and sisters in the same Light.

15:40 Abortion. The Spirit's choice of his incarnation, parents, gender. Connection of the Spirit with the body. Waiting times for implementation.

Question from the audience : If a woman has an abortion in the seventh month of pregnancy before the Spirit has united with the physical body, is this considered murder, a sin or not?

Irina : Raom Tiyan is ready to answer. The fact that in the seventh week the Spirit settles into the body of an earthling indicates that he is already completely united with the physical body. But this does not mean that he cannot go out of it into the Astral, since we all go into the Astral in our dreams. In fact, the Spirit, connected with the life force, which was brought to incarnation by Spirit Guides of the 21st level (they are called guide angels), leads that Spirit, who has already been chosen parents, life, country, to where he should be born. First, choose the planets. We can actually incarnate on any planet, in general in a plasmoid world, even on the Sun, on Antares or on Earth. Consulting spirits of level 22 help you select a country, gender, family.

Maxim : Level of incarnation of the Spirit for completing the Soul lesson.

Irina : It’s different for everyone, depending on what they need to save. When all this has already been selected, parents are chosen. How do they choose their parents? Consulting spirits stand with the Spirit who wants to incarnate in a special room, which is usually called the “memory hall”. It's a bright room with a screen that shows. I conventionally say “with a screen” so that everyone can understand.

Maxim : There is a slightly different structure, but to make it clear how this happens in our physical world.

Irina : I still have to express myself through the image of the physical world, otherwise we won’t understand. There are no screens physically. In front of the spiritual screen, so to speak, each Spirit sees a father and mother, and he chooses them with the help of consultants. The spirit may refuse to incarnate with them, but then it may be denied incarnation. They have a certain queue for incarnation, since there are a lot of Spirits and you need to wait. If he has already waited his turn, then he must agree with those whom they have chosen for him, but they do not forcefully embody anyone. There is such an agreement that gives him the opportunity to incarnate, and he incarnates where he is prompted. He understands that the consultant's advice is good. They do not force him, but they tell him: “If you want to incarnate, then you have such and such a choice,” and the Spirit decides for itself. Upon consent to incarnation, the Spirit is given a specific time for incarnation, even a specific day, hour, or year.

Maxim : That is, what we call astronomy, astrology - it all works. The spirit comes at a certain time, to a certain place, in certain structures of the planets - this is called a “corridor”.

Irina : With specific tasks to implement. The spirit is necessarily present at the conception of its body. Each of us was present nearby at the conception of our future body, when male and female cells unite. The Spirit is not alone nearby, but usually with guides, because it must be led into the material world from the world of disembodied Spirits through the Astral. When the male and female cells unite, and the first division of this new cell begins, the Spirit already has the vital force that it received from the sources of nature, from God, precisely for connecting with this new body, and the Spirit can already be called the Soul. He has already united with this vital force, which we call in Russian ether, the etheric body. In the East there is a term for this: “prana”. Standing nearby, he introduces part of his life force into these cells, which have already divided. He is already connecting with it, but he himself is not entering there yet.

Maxim: Gives energy for the growth and development of those cells, which then, ultimately, will give him the opportunity to incarnate into this physical body.

Irina: Until seven weeks, until the body develops, the Spirit itself is nearby, usually with the mother. He can be absent from her, he can travel in the Astral or even return to his spiritual level, but more often he is nearby. The cells that divide are a living being separate from the mother's body. Why are they separate? Because in addition to the cell of the mother’s body, there is also a cell of the father. Since dad’s cell is present there, then this genetic information of theirs forms a third - an organism that is already different from both the genetic set of mom and the genetic set of dad, if we consider this at the bodily level. On a spiritual level, there is energy in him, and it is very small, but it is there, which does not belong to the mother. This is the energy of this Spirit, which will have to enter the body. If you interrupt your life consciously, before the transmigration of the Spirit, then it will still be murder, i.e. deprivation of the life of this Spirit. Why would this be murder? Because if we deprive this body of life now, then he will no longer be able to enter it in the future and will not be able to be born. And since he cannot be born, then he will not be able to fulfill his tasks, which he may have been waiting for for many years and waiting for this incarnation.

Maxim: Regarding the incarnation, the period of incarnation, I asked approximately: this is somewhere from 50 to 100 years - the average level of expectation for the incarnation of the Spirit.

Irina: Sometimes they wait for 400 years.

Maxim : It has become faster only due to the fact that the number of physical beings for the embodiment of Spirits in our Galaxy is growing.

Irina : It will still be the same murder for them as the murder of an adult, only it is postponed in time, i.e. you do not kill the physical body that was born, but you do not allow it to be born. It makes no difference to them that you killed an already born Spirit, or that you did not allow this Spirit to be born, since for them it is all the same - murder.

Question from the audience : They don't kill the spirit? Killing the physical body?

Irina : Naturally, we won't kill the spirit. We kill only the body.

24:33 Ancestral energies. Disincarnation of the Soul and the path to the Spiritual world.

Question from the audience : Ancestral energies. A man in this family was born, his Spirit went to where all the Spirits are. And then he incarnates and drags with him ancestral energy, which he did not acquire himself, but does it follow the genus? If the Spirit is on its own, then why does it carry ancestral energy? It turns out that he didn't come to this family with this in mind. Someone, somewhere, did something, then rests for 100 years, waits, and someone else will pay for him here.

Irina : Why will he pay for it?

Question from the audience : Is he by birth or, on the contrary, will he receive some benefits?

Maxim: Explain what you mean by the word "generic energies"?

Answers from the audience : Generic programs, generic egregor, which was created for you. Why do they say "genus energy"? Because a person in this family, he does it this way and that way... but he didn't do it. And the one who did badly went to rest and said: "Beauty!"

To be unhappy is "written in one's destiny" - there is an expression, why? The soul then came into being a new one.

Irina : So that we can now understand the terminology, I will depict how the Spirit leaves after death, where it then comes, where it is, and where the egregor is located. [Draws] Here we have a material world, there will be one stripe - this is the material world. This is where the physical body is located in the material world. Here the second layer is the astral world. Above it, higher in vibration, is the world of disembodied Spirits. A dense material world, a little higher there will be a thin material world where plasmoids live. The dense material world has its own vibration frequency. In the subtle material – higher. The Astral and the world of disembodied Spirits, which itself is divided into levels or floors.

When several people live on Earth in bodies, they don't just talk, think, feel, show emotions, they connect all this with the release of life force from themselves. The combination of oxygen and food produces vital energy in our body. When we, Spirits, begin to experience feelings, thoughts, emotions, desires, then we release energy from ourselves, and it all comes out of us, from our auras. If two people have approximately similar thoughts, feelings, and vibrational actions, then in the Astral these thoughts are combined into a certain structure, which we call an egregor. There are religious, political, scientific egregors. What is a generic egregor? This is when there is a connection according to the level of vibration of the physical body. The ancestral egregor is a connection in the astral plane of energies released by people with similar genetic information in the body: father, mother, child who live in the same family. Egregors are located in the Astral - these are tribal, social, religious, there are many of them there. The world of disembodied Spirits is located above egregors.

When the physical body dies, then the exit of the astral body, i.e. his Spirit in the astral shell, occurs through the Astral, through his egregor. He rises higher, where disembodied Spirits live. This takes a different amount of time for everyone. As long as the Soul is united with the life force, the Spirit is called Soul. When the body dies, the Soul comes out, and at first it is in the Astral Plane. How long has she been there? This is very individual, the average period is usually about three days. It depends on the attachments she has to the material world. Those. if they miss him there and get upset, then this period will be delayed, since the Soul will not want to leave. Then she gets used to living without a body. Usually, if this is not an astral traveler, then the Soul is not used to being without a body, and at first it thinks that it is alive and is trying to do something. Then Spirit Guides come to the Soul and say that it is time to rise higher to another level. And the Soul rises to its level in the world of disembodied Spirits, which it reached during life, that is, from the 1st to the 24th.

Moreover, there is one important feature: for example, 2 friends, or a husband and wife, or a child and a mother, if they are at different levels, when one is higher and the other is lower, then the one who is at the highest level can, if desired, visit the Spirit below. It cannot be the other way around, i.e. who on the lower level cannot visit the Spirit who is on the highest, because he cannot rise until he reaches it in his consciousness. Then they live in the Spiritual World. At first they have vitality, but every day, in the earthly sense, it becomes less and less, it leaves him. And approximately, on average, it takes 40 days, it finally goes away. This is very approximate, since it could be a month, it could be 60 days, but on average it is 40 days. And then the Soul becomes Spirit, since the life force has left it. Usually, a meeting with the Light, a meeting with God, occurs for every Spirit. It is usually after returning to the world of disembodied Spirits that she encounters God in the form in which she can perceive Him, and usually this is Light. There the Spirit is shown in images how he lived his life, where he was previously incarnated, whether he completed his tasks or not. All this becomes known.

Then the Spirit remains at the level it has reached, then lives for some time, analyzing everything. The spirit remembers its entire life and analyzes whether it has achieved what it wanted. But if he wants to achieve something else, then he will need to incarnate again, because matter is a means for change, for choice. And so the Spirit decided to incarnate in order to learn something, convey something to other Spirits, or achieve some of its goals or dreams. He decides to incarnate where a place has already been chosen for him, and the incarnation will go through these generic egregors. He will be escorted, and he will go to the material world. This does not mean that the Spirit will be responsible for some actions that it did not perform. This means that he will use the energy accumulated by previous generations to achieve his goals, i.e. this will be another remedy.

Question from the audience : Will the Soul fulfill everything that was not accomplished in a past life in this new one?

Maxim : Not a fact, but there is energy for this.

36:40 Genetic diseases.

Question from the audience : Question about genetic diseases: are they transferred to the next incarnation or not?

Irina : What we call a genetic disease concerns the physical body, it does not transform into a generic egregor at the energy level. The physical body remains on Earth after death, and the fact that there are some genetic disorders, some diseases, possible damage to the body, anything on the physical level, does not concern the Soul.

Question from the audience : Genetics is not the body, it is the Spirit, it arose on a different level. The disease does not occur on the physical level.

Irina : What we call genetics is the structure of the physical body. What you call the genetics of the Spirit can be understood in different ways. Do you mean generational sins?

Answers from the audience : From body to body. There are genetic diseases that are transmitted from mother to child.

Irina : These are diseases of the body.

Question from the audience : Is this purely DNA from body to body? The child was incarnated in the family where his Soul earned this genetic history.

Maxim : Where his Soul goes through a lesson with that genetic disease that is in this physiology by gender.

Irina : She didn’t deserve it. If a teacher gives a difficult task to a student that he must complete for his perfection, this does not mean that the student is bad. This means that he has been given such a lesson for greater perfection, even if it is difficult for him to do so. The fact is that our physical bodies are, in fact, just a means for improving the Spirit. DNA, diseases, they are also a means, but this does not mean that they are a punishment. When a teacher gives a student a difficult task that he cannot complete, and even if it upsets him, this does not mean that we do not love him or want to punish him. Or we set him some task that he doesn't want to do, but we clearly tell him that if you don't do it, you won't achieve what you wanted. If you don't finish school, then you won't go to college, you won't become like this; If you don't understand that you shouldn't offend the weak, then when you grow up you will have a lot of problems. This is training at different levels, and this is not punishment, this is training.

39:56 Generic egregor and its essence.

Question from the audience : Then what is the essence of the generic egregor?

Irina : This is energy support. The more bright people in a person's family, the easier it will be for him to overcome life's adversities, since he will feel strength and support.

Question from the audience : If there is a negative program in the family, for example, there was a landowner, he lost, he shot himself. Children fell into Soviet power, survived, and then started doing business, and something happens there too, and a person almost reaches suicide. Then I went to a psychologist, they say the birth program, my grandfather shot himself. What's this? What's the point? Why did this Spirit find himself in this particular situation and have to bear all this on himself?

Irina : If he ended up in such a generic egregor, where there is a negative program, then it also exists in the Spirit that incarnated. He must go through this path, since this all happens for a reason, and everything is chosen very carefully.

41:20 Birth canal. Working out the karmic program.

Question from the audience : Do we walk in our birth canal? Is it our ancestral Soul that incarnates, or is it conditional, I can go from one channel to another?

Irina : You can go not only to another birth canal, you can go to another planet.

Question from the audience : Still, the concept of “birth elevator”.

Irina : This is if you decide to incarnate on Earth and in this generation.

Question from the audience : Is this a decision to incarnate on Earth to solve the problems of the Soul?

Irina : Yes, to solve the problem of the Soul, that’s right.

Question from the audience : How will the Soul understand that it has already learned this lesson for its ancestors? She took the ancestors’ program, so my ancestor was dispossessed, and I’m starting a business, this business is not working out for me. You understand that this is a karmic program that is built into me from my ancestors. How will I understand how I can work it out? What can help me?

Irina : Awareness and acceptance of this situation can help you, i.e. accepting it is not for evil, not for being punished. The situation is not your ancestors, but since you came to these ancestors, that means yours is already too. You were not just forced into this physical body, you as a Spirit still chose. Such questions with karmic knots and everything else could exist in your ancestral egregor. You and this ancestor, who created the situation for you, may have incarnated, and then you created a situation for him, which he worked out. This needs to be resolved with your Higher Self individually.

43:24 Cremation or traditional burial. Organ transplantation.

Question from the audience : When a physical body dies, what is more correct: to burn it or bury it in the ground?

Irina : It all depends on the traditions of the country. The fact is that organs do not die all at once, they die in a certain sequence. Some Souls can hold on to the fact that there is a body left on Earth that still releases energy for some time until all the organs decompose, and if it is burned, all this ends immediately.

Question from the audience : Is it more environmentally friendly to burn?

Maxim : You can’t say that, because each country has its own traditions, there is the formation of its own egregors, there is the formation of a certain structure.

Question from the audience : And if, outside the egregor of your country, you wanted to leave the world in a different way, do you have the right to do so? I don't want to be buried in the ground.

Irina : If the laws of this country allow, of course, you have the right to do this.

Question from the audience : If you let your body use organs and it continues to live, how does this affect the Soul?

Irina : When the organ of a deceased person is transplanted into another body, it will already be in another body, and it will be fueled by a different vital energy, and the influence will end. The organ of the deceased enters another physical body with its vital energy: it begins to exchange blood and various energies on the physical and subtle material level with this body. As soon as another, alien life energy begins to feed him, the connection with this Spirit is completely broken.

46:18 Opportunities for changing the birth program.

Question from the audience : Can I ask a follow-up question to the generic programs? That is, nothing can be changed in life? Recognize and live with it?

Maxim : What does it mean to change?

Answer from the audience : Change something in this generic program in this situation, here and now, in this body.

Maxim : You change this situation yourself, at the expense of your vitality.

Question from the audience : So this is possible?

Maxim : Yes, of course, you come here for this in order to change and increase the level of vibration of your Spirit and the generic egregor into which you find yourself.

46:53 IVF as a conscious conception experience chosen by the Spirit.

Question from the audience : What then about IVF?

Maxim : Good question. Leading specialist in organic chemistry and bioecology, Lynn Kruos, will answer. They conduct experiments just like this. This is the planet Tashig.

Irina : What do they think about IVF? IVF is a scientific method of creating a physical shell, i.e. They don't see anything bad in this, because the incarnate Spirit will choose those parents from whom these cells are taken.

Question from the audience : Is this child normal, full-fledged?

Irina : This is a normal, full-fledged child, with the same Spirit, only the conception did not occur in a natural environment. But for the Spirit there is no barrier; he will incarnate anyway.

Maxim : Is there an additional load on the child from the egregorial structures of their parents when incarnated in a new body?

Irina : The fact is that if children are not conceived in the usual way, then this is also not accidental. But this does not mean that a person must, must, come to terms with this situation and not act differently. It is indeed possible that there are diseases of the body that prevent him from conceiving, but for other reasons, not for the reasons that he does not need a child. It happens for completely different reasons. The disease occurs for various reasons, and each case is individual. If the Spirit has incarnated through any method, then it cannot take anything additional with it: through IVF or in another way, because on many planets of the Interstellar Union this method of reproduction is quite normal, and many have been living it for many millennia.

Maxim : I know for sure that it exists on the planet Daraal. When the Daraals long ago destroyed their planet and moved to the planet Daraal, they began to reproduce only through the apparatus, i.e. through IVF as they control their populations. They always have 150 million living beings. One dies, they reproduce another, one dies, they reproduce another, etc. As far as I understand, the Interstellar Union does not consider this a violation per se, but says that it is possible. How does this affect the level of the Soul? The spirit, if it incarnates into this physical program, then it already perfectly understands what program it is going with.

Irina : Yes, random Spirits don't go to IVF either, but those who must go through this very experience.

51:10 Infertility, adoption and having your own children.

Question from the audience : When a family cannot afford a child for a very long time, and they take the child from an orphanage, then soon their own children appear. Is there any connection?

Maxim : Let LiSioni answer.

Irina : The fact is that if diseases of the body that do not make it possible to conceive a child appeared precisely because the parents were not ready to learn how to cultivate love for this child, and if they take a genetically alien child from an orphanage, then they can, while living with him, already become ready to become parents. They can learn love and nurturing. The spirit, when it lives in a physical body, is changeable. Living with this child, they can change themselves and become ready to embody their own Spirit.

Maxim : The energy of love appears to reproduce your own child, even taking into account the illness that prevented you from conceiving. There are many cases when there is infertility, and then a woman gets married, lives with this man, they exchange energy with each other, let's call it the energy of love, and ultimately this energy makes it possible for someone who has been diagnosed with infertility to reproduce.

52:55 Telegony effect in people and animals.

Maxim : What is the “telegony effect”?

Irina : Let Raom Tiyan answer.

What you call the “telegony effect” is the energetic impact of the etheric plane on the physical body. It manifests itself both in the animal world and in the world of people, but in the animal plane it manifests itself more strongly due to the fact that there it is not the rational Spirit that we are all talking about that is incarnated, but the animal Soul that is incarnated. It is completely subordinate to the instincts of the animal body, so the effect of telegony is more pronounced in them. In humans, this effect manifests itself partly due to the fact that the instinctive programs of the physical body should normally be subordinate to the incarnate intelligent Spirit. What you know as the “telegony effect” manifests itself as a law of physical life, which lies in the fact that a girl, according to the laws of the physical world that God created, should normally have a child from the man she knew for the first time. In general, it is laid down in divine laws and norms that connection on the physical plane should occur in a state of connection in love. Why doesn't this happen here on Earth? This happens precisely because the Spirit is more influenced by instincts than by its own spiritual mind.

Question from the audience : How reliable is the information that a woman stores information from the first man of her physical contact for the rest of her life and passes the information on to her children?

Irina : This all happens at the energy-informational level of the etheric body, and not at physical genetics.

Question from the audience : Doesn't she store any of his DNA particles on the physical plane?

Irina : The fact is that even the means that usually protect against pregnancy will not get rid of the effect of telegony. When a man and a woman physically connect, not only their bodies are connected, but also their auras, i.e. energy. These auras, while bodies perform certain actions, also flow into each other and interact. Since it is laid down in the norms by God's law that the father of a woman's child should be the first, since it is generally laid down in the norms that a physical union should only be a reflection of a spiritual union. First, the union is in the Spirit, and then, as a continuation, the union is already in bodies. The fact that this process is disrupted in us is a consequence of following our instincts.

57:22 Predetermination of fate and changes in human karma. Lifespan of a person.

Question from the audience : A question that worries and has worried all worlds, all traditions, all nations, all religions, and it is always controversial, and I don't know the answer to this question. I wonder how others will respond. A child is born, is his destiny already destined or is he building it for himself? All religions argue about this.

Irina : MidgasCaus already answered. Fate is usually referred to here as a certain program of life. Karma is rather the fulfillment of destiny. Fate, how predetermined is it? It is predetermined, but at the same time, it can be subject to change. What does it mean? Let's say when you start playing, for example, chess, you have a certain established program on how to play and how to act. You can calculate several steps, but if your opponent acts in a way that breaks your program, then you will have to build a new one. Further, when you are in the Spiritual world, you have your own plan of action: your spiritual mind has already developed that specific program that you want to see as your destiny, you want to live your life this way. The spirit is told where it will incarnate, and it already knows that it will live, for example, in Russia, in a poor family or in a rich family, etc. All these circumstances certainly influence fate in a certain way. And while the Spirit is waiting for incarnation, it is already calculating some specific plan for itself. How does he calculate? He thinks: “When I am incarnated, he will act like this and like that.” Even the date and cause of death of the physical body is determined even before our birth. The problem is that this date is predetermined, but it can change. It depends on the actions by which the Spirit lives here.

I will give a simple example: if a low-vibration demon has incarnated, then he will have a certain life program to take certain lessons and die, for example, at the age of 40 from a heart attack. This is his own destiny, this is his own program will be predetermined in him only if he simply lives without changing himself, i.e. will follow these programs that are embedded in him, that is, if he does not want to change for the better. He will live, live out his 40s, gain some experience and that’s it. In fact, you can either neither raise nor lower your level, and die at it. Then this program will be executed. If in the course of his life he meets such people or reads some book that will change his entire worldview, and he wants, he himself wants, not under duress, to do good and bring Light, then he will already become aware of himself and will abruptly move to another level. Then his program changes. Why is she changing? Because behind every person there are his Mentors, who are called Guardian Angels. These are Spiritual beings who were friends with him in the Spiritual world, and here they protect and instruct him. They, seeing that this demon performs in one life a task that was assigned to him, for example, for 3 lives, will ask God to postpone this period so that he can do a lot in one incarnation. It happens that a high-vibration Spirit, for example, level 20, will incarnate here and get carried away by matter, some kind of acquisition, and will do evil for various reasons. He was given a lifespan so that he could do a lot of good in this world in 80 years. But if he has incarnated and does evil, even if he is from the 20th level, then his Angel has the right to ask the Mentors, God, to interrupt the life of his ward, before these 80 years, so that he does not seriously destroy himself. This is how we change our destiny, which we ourselves build together with consultants, when we sit and think about where and how we should incarnate. That is, we are free in our choice, which exists in our lives, but while we are embodied in this body, we are still in some circumstances that we often simply cannot change.

01:04:07 Corridor of fate.

Maxim : Is it possible to somehow go beyond the corridor of fate by receiving some, conditionally, codes, passwords, or the help of high energy structures, or divine Angels in order to get out of this corridor of fate?

Irina : Again, the question is very individual. To go beyond the corridor of fate, if this corresponds to the programs of the Spirit, then yes, it is possible, but all this exists within the framework of the physical world, physical laws. But even over physical laws, the legislator is God; he can change his laws if it suits his plans for this or that Spirit. You may have come across many cases where a person, for example, even falling from a high floor, simply survived.

01:05:15 Structure of the Gikhors.

Maxim : The Gikhors have a structure different from our civilization. They are organosilicon.

Irina : They contain a lot of hydrogen fluoride

Maxim : Silicon life form. They are of a humanoid type, but their entire structure is different from our physical structure, from the same Burkhad, Tumesout, Esler.

01:05:50 24th spiritual level.

Question from the audience: You talked about Spirit levels 1st, 2nd, and then what next?

Irina : The 24th level, which is designated in the Spiritual world as the last for our perception, differs sharply from all others in that when the Spirit reaches it on any planet, it no longer leaves the state of merging with this Light, but becomes completely with it one whole. This is already completely Light, and it does not show anything into the world except love, even more than any other positive qualities and feelings.

Maxim : That is, subsequent levels are already occurring in the Light of truth and love, which we cannot even imagine on the physical level.

Question from the audience : And he can no longer incarnate?

Irina : He can incarnate at will, but the purpose of his incarnation will no longer be knowledge of the material world, not the enjoyment of the material world, but teaching others, building religious egregors and similar things that lead other embodied Spirits to the Light, moreover, in where they already live permanently.

Comment from the audience : SuperGod mode.

Maxim : Yes, I guess you can say that.

#21 Contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: meeting in Voronezh (part 4) Religion

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WZxlxXCgJ9s

00:23 Holy Spirit. Concept “Trinity”.

Maxim : What is the Holy Spirit?

Irina : Holy Duh – is term in modern Christian church, which denotes Spirit itself God. In the Christian forming church the concept of Trinity was introduced: Father, Son andHoly uh. This was made to so Orthodoxy, in a Christian egregor, to form a concept about the fact that we were created by three civilizations, that is, Trinity. The whole Christian egregor was built on soil of the more ancient Jewish egregor.

01:40 Christ and his history of incarnation on Earth. God Yahweh and his contact with Moses .

To answer the question, who is the Holy Spirit, I will briefly say who is Christ , because theHoly Spirit – this and hisSpirit too. Christ – this he Whom you all call Christ, who is depicted on icons, who wascrucified andresurrected – this reasonable Spirit, like we all, but, in difference fromus, he was born first our God m - heavenly Father. And this Spirit took part in the creation of the material Universe. We saw this process with sides, but we simply embodied.

Christ is our elder brother, and he incarnated many times on different planets for this to create a form of religion available for those beings to come to To the Light. And so that a highly vibrational Spirit could incarnate on Earth , it was necessary to do this through egregor a certain people and through a certain woman. Father physical he could have be with exactly with this to accept its nature and vibration. He didn't find on that moment of a woman who could embody his high-vibration Spirit and with not destroying herself .

He incarnated on the planet Tumesout - the planet of one of our creators and flew in the body of a Tumesout on a spaceship to Earth to create here a religious-national egregor through which he could incarnate on Earth. That is, he built a house for himself on Earth. And it was he who came into contact with the representative of the Jewish people, Moses.

When in the Christian church they say that God, Yahweh and Christ are one and the same, then this is so. That Yahweh who incarnated on Tumesout and flew to Moses, giving him laws for the Jews, first forming a monotheistic system instead of a polytheistic one, which did not meet his goals, was Christ, but in the body of a Tumesout.

Naturally, he conveyed this to Moses in his language and in his terms. He had assistants - the Tumesoutians and the Burkhadians, who were called Angels, in Hebrew Malakh.

05:50 The concepts of "Satan" and "Elohim" . History of the Conception of Christ . The task of religion.

Christ in the body of a Tumesoutian told Moses about our creation, about the snake, about the Selbetians. He gave it to people so that they would understand that there is a Trinity. Since we were created by the Burkhadians, Tumesoutians and Selbetians. The Selbetites later became apostates and wanted to destroy us, but initially they were also part of the Trinity. An apostate or adversary in Hebrew sounds like Satan. Christ called Satan the civilization that retreated and became an enemy of the Interstellar Union and the entire human race. Since God is a Trinity, then a civilization that had retreated could not be introduced into it. All aliens were called in Hebrew by the term Elohim.

In Russian it is translated as God, but it is plural, and in Hebrew it is read as gods who came from above. One of the Elohim is Satan.

When the Jewish people were formed, King Solomon was born, a temple was built, and a woman was born - the Virgin Mary, through whom the high Spirit could be incarnated, which could subsequently incarnate Christ without being destroyed.

When Maria reached the age of childbearing, she was contacted by representatives of Burkhad. Christ was ready to be incarnated on Earth in the form of the Spirit, and they decided to take the physical father from Burkhad. To accept our nature, only mother was enough.

People living on Burkhad are 2 meters tall and have white skin. She did not have physical contact with the Burkhadian; she was injected with the genetic material of the Burkhadian using the IVF method.

But first, Archangel Gabriel, who was also a Burkhadian, asked her if she agreed. In the New Testament, the Gospel of Luke says that Mary gave birth to a son from the Lord God. Christ was the firstborn son of God and at the same time the son of that Burkhadian, who was also considered God. He was a double son of God. His percentage of Burkhadian genetic information was half that of all of us. Among the Burkhadians, genes allow the high Spirit to express its nature more and suppress animal instincts more. Therefore, when Christians say that there were no animal instincts in Christ, they mean that they were suppressed by the high nature of his Spirit.

Of course, the church will not say that these are Burkhadians. This does not meet its objectives. The task of the Bible and any religion is not to tell us about aliens, but to create a disciplinary egregor within which the Spirit can grow.

If the Earth is left without control and discipline, then everything will very quickly slide into chaos. This is why religion was created, and the idea of aliens was not needed there.

When they decided to introduce the concept of the Trinity into the Christian egregor in order to support the idea of three creators, they could not, for obvious reasons, introduce Satan there. Who should we bring in then? And they decided to separate the concepts: make God the Father separately, and the Holy Spirit separately, in order to replace the apostate Selbetites.

13:10 Irina Podzorova's opportunities to contact different structures.

Maxim : I am sure that you will still have the opportunity to attend such conferences that we will organize. You are now receiving information that interests you. You can all contact Irina and chat.

Recently, she began to communicate with spiritual structures as a medium.

Now there is communication with MidgasKaus, but before she did not perceive it, since the chip was only Daraal. Then she became a contactee of the planet Esler and MidgasCaus, since she was given more chips. One is for the harmonious perception of plasmoids, and the other is for telepathic contact with the coordination group of the planet Esler. All information stored with them can be accessed upon request via telepathic contact.

15:40 Inclusion of a person in several egregors.

Question from the audience : What if a person uses several egregors? How is this perceived at the top?

Irina : Any Spirit can be connected to many egregors. He can combine everything that fits in his consciousness without conflict. There are many people who have a broad outlook and high flexibility of thinking. They are able to combine the Orthodox worldview with magical thinking and perform magical rituals. These are two different egregors, but they exist in one person.

There are also Orthodox communists. A person can combine contradictory worldviews. All religions talk about the same thing, just in a different language, depending on where this religion was formed. Therefore, if you are able to understand what is being said, you can support all religions and not be in conflict with any egregor. There will be a harmonious content of all energies.

16:50 Components of egregor . Akashic Chronicles and Guardian Angels of the egregor.

Question from the audience : The Orthodox egregor is very strict compared to the Buddhist one.

Irina : Hard is not the egregor, but those people who are on Earth. An egregor is not just a separate mind. It consists of several parts: the information part is the Akashic chronicles, where the Spirits are located - the guardians of the egregor. If this is a religious egregor, then there is a high level of Souls, we call them Angels of the 22nd, 23rd and 24th level. They are like guardians of the egregor and distribute its energy. The energy part of the egregor also contains our energy, which is released from rituals (religious egregor) or reflections on a certain topic (scientific egregor), or dreams of winning (financial).

The Guardian Spirits themselves cannot be cruel in any way, since they are conscious beings, they are Angels, and they have a high degree of acceptance of other egregors. An angel from the 23rd level knows that the Angels of another egregor are talking about the same thing.

19:20 People's misconceptions about the superiority of one religion over others.

A person may be mistaken in the fact that his leadership instinct can take over his mind and want to control the lives of others, that is, command who should belong to what religion. If he is an Orthodox Christian with a strong leadership instinct and a repressed mind, he may want all his relatives to be Orthodox too. If he is one of Jehovah's Witnesses and has recently converted to this faith, then he is euphoric because he has learned everything, and he may want to command other Souls, not realizing that each Spirit must go through its own lessons. He can channel his energy into cruelty, showing his leadership instinct.

This happens not at the level of egregors, but at the level of individual people.

If it is not instincts that act, but the spiritual mind, then a Hare Krishna, a Buddhist, an Orthodox Christian and a Jehovah's Witness will get along well together. They will be friends, unite in a single Light, and then there will be no conflicts.

Question from the audience : I have a neighbor, and he leads an obscene lifestyle, but he lights a candle in the church and says that everything is fine with him, since he is baptized

Irina : These are his personal beliefs, which may not have anything to do with the teachings of the Orthodox Church. And if you tell him about the real teaching of the church, he may be very surprised and disagree.

21:30 Light and Divine energy. The task of developing the Spirit.

Question from the audience : Question about the universe. Light and Divine energy created other civilizations that created us. Where then did Light and Divine energy under the name God originally come from?

Irina: Nobody created it. God is eternity, He has always been, is and will be in the Spiritual world. Only material things can be created, and we, as Spirits, are born, but God is not born by anyone. Perhaps He was once a Spirit and was also born, but now He has become eternal, outside of time.

Maxim : A difficult question, since the level of our consciousness cannot perceive this structure. At the physical level, we can only perceive what we were created. But on a spiritual level it is difficult. I asked myself this question.

Irina : When we reach the 24th level, we will be constantly merging with this Light and will have the opportunity to become Gods ourselves, and this is our global task. Why were we given the material world? So that we, using material energies created by someone, learn to manage them. The child is given a construction set so that he can build a house and, subsequently, be able to build something else.

23:40 Places of power on Earth: Kailash, Arkaim, Stonehenge. Portals and movement in wave form.

Question from the audience : There are many places on planet Earth that are called places of power, and there is one that is revered by many religions - the sacred Mount Kailash. What is its purpose for us earthlings?

Irina : As was said, before the war there was a golden age of your civilization. The peoples living here have created portals for movement in cooperation with other civilizations. This was a transport system based on the possibility of the influence of certain electromagnetic waves combined with energy called free vacuum, extracted from space. The physical body of any dense material creature could be transferred into a wave form and sent to another portal and not only on Earth. It was movement in wave form, in the form of energies. In that portal, the physical body was structured from wave forms, and the Spirit remained in it. Mount Kailash was one such place. Another such place was Arkaim, Stonehenge and others. There were 12 main portals and dozens of smaller ones.

Kailash is one of the 12, but over time it became blocked because your civilization does not know how to use it and does not have certain vibrational characteristics for this, and turning on the portal the way it turned on several tens of thousands of years ago can harm you. But the changed energies of space in that place remained and can cause a change in the energy structure of people nearby and lead to easier contact with plasmoid worlds.

27:38 Energy-informational adjustment of a person in places of power. Walking around Mount Kailash.

Question from the audience : Why do people go crazy at night in Arkaim?

Irina: They do not go crazy, but begin to see those energies that are inaccessible to ordinary perception. This is possible precisely because of the changed energy of space.

Question from the audience : There is such a scientist Koltsov. He recorded the energy in Arkaim and Kailash through water, and then recorded it on a record. Does energy work in this case?

Irina: He doesn't know the scientist's work, can you be more specific?

Explanation from the audience: It records vibration and information on the water.

Maxim: You need to know the details of the device's operation, otherwise they will answer the cloudy question the way they understand.

Question from the audience : What do pilgrims on Earth get by going around Kailash?

Irina : Everyone receives the spiritual experience for which they are ready at the time of the round. He can walk and it will have no effect on his Spirit unless he believes it is possible. With his faith, trust, and openness, he opens the way to feeling that energy-informational element that is above Mount Kailash. He can receive spiritual experience of various visions, revelations in the form to which he is accustomed.

Simply put, whoever is tuned to the Buddhist egregor will meet Buddha on this path, who is tuned to the Hindu one will meet Krishna there.

Maxim : There will be an energy-informational adjustment. According to your faith, you will see what you believe in; nothing else can appear.

Question from the audience: So there may not be conflicts?

Maxim : Anything can happen: it all depends on what he represents and what it is needed for.

Question from the audience : There is a theory that there is tuning to the reference vibrations of the Earth.

Irina : The experience that he receives there is not so important as his subsequent attitude towards this experience. By reference settings we mean the remnants of the energies of the portal that were there. You can call them the reference force of the Earth or the deep force of the planet's core, but in our terminology these are energy-informational traces of the influence of the free energy of the vacuum. They remain for thousands of years.

Question from the audience : Will there be a war?

Irina: He can only say his opinion. The future has many options. He can say that there will be a war, but if we behave differently, then it will not happen, and vice versa.

Question from the audience : Which Orthodox saint is preferable for aliens to communicate with? The image of the Mother of God, Nicholas the Pleasant?

Irina : Those whom you just named may be incarnated somewhere. Mead can contact any incarnated or disembodied Spirit for his purposes, and whoever best matches his personal vibration.

35:00 Energy of Orthodox attributes (relics).

Question and audience : There are relics and other Orthodox attributes. Do they work, and what effect can they give and do they give it at all?

Irina : Mid answers. As I already said, any egregor has an energy part. When a person prays and performs rituals, he does not do it like a robot, but experiences certain emotions, thoughts and feelings. All this in the form of energy enters the egregor.

Guardian spirits, in order to strengthen the egregor and attract people there, can direct part of this energy to one or another material substance, that is, charge it.

A regular battery holds an electrical charge even when the battery is not in use. The energies of people's feelings and thoughts contained in the egregor are found in sacred objects. And the more people gather around this object and direct their attention to it, the more it charges. How does it work? If a person believes what is written in the Bible and does not doubt it (the fewer doubts, the better), if he believes God in the form in which this egregor presents him, then with the energy of his faith he opens a channel for the energies of the egregor to access him .

Christ said briefly: “According to your faith, be it done to you.”

39:30 Faith as the main source of change . Yeti and their evolutionary development.

Maxim : Faith protects us in one sense, and guides us in another. If we believe in something, then we join the egregor and devote the most precious thing we have - time, and this is our payment for supporting this egregor.

At the same time, faith is a protective function of any person. We always believe 99.9% and never believe anything 100%. This nuance protects against wild chaos, because if you believe in something 100%, then it will be so.

I will give an example with the creature from which we were created. The ape-like creature also followed the path of evolutionary development, and now this creature appears to us as the Yeti. These are the remains of a civilization that developed not in a technogenic world, but in a plasmoid one. In that world they formed a certain faith. Yeti are able, due to their faith, to move distances without a portal, without anything. They don't know that it's impossible, they just sincerely believe.

If you believe in something without a doubt, then this will be reflected in the materialization of your faith.

For example, the crosses that we wear give us the opportunity to be in contact with faith, that is, we carry with us a piece of convincing ourselves of this faith. This egregor supports us. Regarding multi-religion. By birth, I consider myself to be a member of the Christian Orthodox faith, but I do not deny Buddhism, Judaism and other religions: in each I find something of my own, reflecting my movement forward.

If I feel that a mantra suits me, then I read it. But at the same time, I support the Christian egregor because I believe in it, I live in it, grow and go to church.

43:19 Religious egregors are helpers on the path of spiritual development.

Irina : Raom Tiyan wants to add. I ask you not to perceive egregors as a limitation of your freedom - these are your helpers on the path of spiritual development. Of course, you give them life force, but this is the case that if you do not want to share power with religious egregors, then you will share it with those egregors who will destroy you.

44:00 God Thoth. Ibis bird as Tota symbol.

Question: Who is God, where did he come from, and what does this incarnate Spirit refer to?

Irina : God Thoth is a representative of the Tumesout civilization, and his image corresponds to the fact that he brought information from above. He taught the Egyptians the language, formed religious egregors, and brought them scientific knowledge, inseparable from the Spirit. That science was closer to the truth understood today by the Interstellar Union than the one you have now - materialistic. She not only separated the world of consciousness from the world of matter, but also made consciousness derivative from matter, which is completely untrue.

Maxim : I've been dealing with this issue for a long time. And when they say the phrase "divide and conquer," then by dividing science from religion, it was easier to manipulate and control people.

Question from the audience : There was an image of an ibis in Egypt.

Irina: Yes, the image of a bird, a creature flying from above. That is, it was a symbol that he had arrived. God Thoth looked like a man, and what we see in the image is his symbol, and not himself.

#22 Skype conference of contactee Irina Podzorova with ufologist Maxim Bronevsky (part 1)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/skajp-s-ufologom-maksimom-bronevskim-chast-1

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-RaWmh0r0EI

01:13 Extraterrestrial civilizations of the solar system. Plasmoids.

Maxim: What extraterrestrial civilizations live in the solar system?

Irina : In the solar system, besides the Earth, extraterrestrial civilizations exist only at their bases. Currently, there is no organic life of its own in the Solar System, with the exception of the Earth. On Mars, on Venus and on the satellites of the giant planets, there are alien bases that perform various functions to study the Earth and the Solar system as a whole. But on planets with a powerful atmosphere, such as Jupiter, Venus, Saturn, there are thin-material plasmoid civilizations.

Maxim: So we can say that plasmoids are residents of our solar system?

Irina : Yes. There are plasmoids that live in the atmosphere of a planet; we call them “planetary plasmoids.” And there are “stellar plasmoids”, they live in the chromosphere of stars, for example the Sun, Rigel and other stars.

Maxim: Are there plasmoids in the core of our Sun?

Irina : They go into the core. That is, they are near the core, not in the core itself, but next to it, closer to the surface. There is a place, right in the middle of the Sun, through which there is a portal (a place of travel to other star systems). The energy there is highly vibrational, so it is capable of transferring them to other star systems.

Maxim: Why are stars attractive to plasmoid, energy civilizations?

Irina : The energy that stars emit is not only in visible light and radio waves. It is found in many spectra of electromagnetic waves, which are attractive to stellar plasmoids as food. They cannot nourish their subtle body with our organic food, but they need to eat.

Maxim: So this is an energy boost for them?

Irina : Yes, everything that we see as light, as heat, as radiation is food for them.

04:08 Stars as portals for the movement of dense-material and subtle-material entities.

Maxim: Is it possible to use stars as portals for movement?

Irina : To fly inside a star on a physical ship, you need to have a very powerful protective field. Moreover, the ship itself must be such that not only will it not be melted by this star, but it will also be able to withstand the pressure. It is much easier to make gravity jumps with the kind of engine that Kirchiton talked about. There is no need for additional protection or anything like that.

Maxim: Is there a potential opportunity to do this through the stars?

Irina : We, Eslerites, know for sure that those portals that exist in the stars transfer plasmoids, that is, subtle-material entities. But no one knows how this portal inside a star will behave when there is a physical object in it in the form of a ship. Our science has not studied this issue. We had no need to send physical objects there, since we are not engaged in research that is not promising for us.

05:53 Are there spaceships on Earth similar to alien ones?

Maxim : Are there secret societies on Earth that already have spaceships similar to alien ones?

Irina : Based on the data of the Interstellar Union, I can say that I personally do not know of any terrestrial organization flying vehicles with a planetary engine that reaches a speed of at least 1/8 of light speed, be it a governmental or non-governmental organization. All earthlings who visit other planets in physical bodies do so on ships of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim : Is it possible to conclude that no terrestrial structures have ships similar to yours?

Irina : If there is, then this data is unknown to the Interstellar Union. Personally, I have been traveling around your planet for many years. Been to the Moon, Mars and other planets. In space, around the Earth, he traveled on his ship many times. I have never met your people on their own aircraft, I have never heard conversations about this among other workers of the Interstellar Union who work with your planet.

07:52 Secret societies of the Earth and their control of presidents.

Maxim: Do earthly secret societies have economic and financial power on Earth and do they control presidents?

Irina: I only know one thing. The secret organizations on your planet that you are talking about are making attempts to influence your policies, your presidents, and the laws being introduced. But these attempts are not always successful. That is, the president, depending on his internal qualities, may not succumb to bribery. All this does not happen in such a way that “I’ll bribe you and you will sign the necessary law”... Everything is more subtle there. All this is offered under the guise of a good deed. The president may not agree with those who propose that he introduce this or that law, since all people are different. That is, your government is not under direct control. They are free in their choice as much as possible. The only thing is that there is such a moment. Any president understands that if he passes laws that are unpopular for the elite and financial circles of his country, there is a danger that he may not remain in office. And sometimes there is a danger to his life.

Maxim : There is an opinion that former US President John Kennedy was killed by secret societies. Is it so?

Irina: Any president understands that if he passes laws that are unpopular for the financial elites, then the leaders of these financial elites can take all actions and measures, using all their money and other methods of influencing the criminal world, in order to overthrow him.

Maxim : Up to murder?

Irina : Attempts have always been made against rulers of all ranks and societies. And this happens precisely because the foreign policy course he has adopted or his domestic policy does not suit someone. Presidents understand this well, as they are excellent strategists and not naive people.

11:27 Interaction of US intelligence services with gray humanoids.

Maxim: Do US intelligence services interact with gray humanoids from the Zeta Grid system?

Irina : The Interstellar Union conducted an inspection of all the colonies of Tashig, Selbet and some other civilizations, which, according to information available in the Interstellar Union, have a tendency to secretly contact with the intelligence services of the planets of young races, which is prohibited by our legislation. But according to the results of an audit carried out by the Interstellar Union about 40 years ago, no facts were revealed confirming secret contacts between representatives of Tashig and its colonies with the political and criminal communities of the Earth. Therefore this issue was closed. If new facts emerge that indicate the guilt of individual alien civilizations, and these facts are provided to the Interstellar Union, the investigation will resume. And we assure you that the facts known to you have nothing to do with the Interstellar Union and its policies.

13:32 Rules for visiting Earth by alien civilizations.

Maxim: Can civilizations that are not members of the Interstellar Union ignore the laws of the Interstellar Union?

Irina : The fact is that your planet is under the protection and patronage of the planet Burkhad. These are one of your creators. Burhad is the capital of the Interstellar Union. According to its rules, even those civilizations that are not members of the Interstellar Union, but representatives who want to visit Earth, even if only for tourism or research purposes, are required to take appropriate permission directly from the planet Burkhad, and even more so if it is not just tourist or research purposes, but contact with representatives of your planet. According to the rules of the Interstellar Union, any representative of another planet or even another galaxy that is not part of the Interstellar Union cannot arrive on your planet without the permission of Burkhad, since they are your creators and, in your earthly language, are your guardians.

15:08 Representatives of the Vatican and reptilians.

Maxim: Are representatives of the Vatican under the mental influence of destructive type reptilians?

Irina : If there are any facts of violation by any of the civilizations of the law of the Interstellar Union on non-interference in the internal political affairs of your planet or there are facts of negative contacts with any representative of your planet, no matter where he lives or what he does, I ask you to report these facts through a contactee, either to me, or to Kirchiton, or to representatives of Burkhad. They will study this carefully. All those responsible will be punished.

Maxim : Is a regressive hypnosis session proof? Or should this issue be explored more deeply?

Irina : Yes, if not value judgments are presented, but facts that indicate that negative contact or interference took place. That is, facts such as: at what time, in what place, what person was subjected to this influence. And, of course, this case will be investigated.

16:49 Caution during astral contacts.

Maxim: Can anyone in the Universe be around the Earth in an astral body?

Irina : Yes, you are right. The fact is that even the physical space around the Earth very often, especially in past years, was visited by alien ships, on which, unfortunately, the criminals who kidnapped your people flew. But over the past two years, the contingent of forces that protect the safety of our Galaxy in your Solar System has increased. And now your solar space is much better protected. As for the astral space, the astral is one for the entire Galaxy, for the entire Universe, as is the entire Spiritual world as a whole. Therefore, of course, here, in the astral plane, any of the representatives of civilizations, both the dense material world and the subtle material worlds and from the spiritual world of disembodied spirits, can appear. Therefore, I again and again urge you to be careful in your contacts in the astral plane.

Maxim : Consequently, beings with their egoistic intentions towards a person can manifest themselves?

Irina : There are a lot of civilizations in the Galaxy with different attitudes towards you. In addition, in the same civilization, as you understand, the structure of society is heterogeneous. That is, in the same civilization, different individuals may have different directions of their actions, different opinions about you. Therefore, whenever you come into contact, astral or physical, with aliens or plasmoids, never evaluate them by the words with which the alien introduces himself, and do not look at the planet from which he came. You evaluate him only by his real actions and deeds. Only their actions and actions will reveal to you the truth about who he is and what his goals are.

19:43 Fear and free will in contacts with aliens.

Maxim: How to avoid fear and negative emotions when contacting aliens?

Irina : According to the laws of the Interstellar Union, it is forbidden to come into contact with a person if he is not ready for it either psychologically or energetically. The fact is that fear is a protective reaction of your spirit to danger. And it is during contacts that he shows either his psychological unpreparedness to make contact, or his incompatibility with energy vibrations. For a humanoid who has made contact, the fear of his contactee is a signal for him to explain to the contactee in a form understandable to him that he is not evil, and to offer voluntary contact. And if he sees that this does not help and the incompatibility continues, he is legally obligated to break off contact and not return to it.

21:10 Forced contacts by aliens.

Maxim: What if aliens still force you to make contacts?

Irina : To force - that is, to influence the contactee physically or psychologically in order for the contactee to fly - is, according to our rules, illegal. However, if humanoids really want contact, they can try to persuade the contactee - to fly with them, try to interest them in something... But if the contactee said firmly: “No, I will not fly with you,” then they should not insist.

22:26 Sphinx, Egyptian pyramids, artifacts.

Maxim: Are there really materials about the real history of the Earth and a working spaceship under the Sphinx and the Egyptian pyramids?

Irina : When the Sphinx and the pyramids were built, indeed, the priests, together with representatives of Tumesout, whom they considered gods, built structures under them that were somewhat similar to your basements, caves, etc. There is a shaft type passage there. Artifacts from other planets were actually preserved there. They could have left the spaceship and its parts, books, and so on. It was a long time ago. To what extent the priests could ensure the safety of these artifacts until now, and whether they got to them after the Arabs came to power in Egypt, this needs to be clarified now by visiting these pyramids already in the physical body.

Maxim: So there is still a chance of discovering artifacts?

Irina : If in fact what was preserved there was what the ancient Tumesoutians and their priest contactees placed there, then the Egyptian authorities will not allow researchers from all over the world to look for these objects.

24:50 Contact of earthlings with extraterrestrial civilizations in ancient times.

Maxim: Did the ancient Egyptians communicate with extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina: It was not only in Egypt. This happened throughout the ancient world: in India, in ancient Rus', in Australia, etc. Just yesterday Irina was at a conference where researchers of Mexican paleocontacts showed very interesting drawings and stone figurines, specifically about paleocontacts in Mexico. That is, the priests there also made stone figures of aliens sitting in a flying saucer. These were: Mexico, Egypt, the Himalayas, etc. There were contacts everywhere. I think you are aware of these artifacts. And while you did not have the technology of modern weapons, the Interstellar Union more openly made contact with earthlings.

26:27 Coordination organs in galaxies.

Maxim: Do all galaxies have interstellar unions of civilizations similar to the Union in our galaxy?

Irina : Among the galaxies known to us, there are civilizations that have entered space at the level of interstellar flights. Of course, different galaxies have different numbers of these civilizations. But those civilizations that we know sooner or later find each other and begin to interact. Unfortunately, there are also negative examples, such as wars and other confrontations. However, in most galaxies, sooner or later something similar in one form or another to our Interstellar Union will form. Unfortunately, there are also galaxies where civilizations do not want to come to an agreement with each other and develop autonomously. I can definitely say that they are a minority.

Maxim : That is, at some point in every galaxy a coordination body is formed. Is this an evolutionary process?

Irina : Even where an intragalactic body has not been formed and civilizations are developing autonomously, fighting with each other at different levels, we really hope that the desire to unite different worlds will prevail over those hostile feelings and thoughts that, for some reason, are still in them that prevail.

28:35 Interstellar Union as part of the Galactic Union.

Maxim: Are there large intergalactic associations of civilizations?

Irina : Yes. The Interstellar Union of our Galaxy is also part of the Intergalactic Union, in which there are many different civilizations. Today it includes 52 galaxies. This is a larger entity than the Interstellar Union. It has less to do with your planet. But civilizations from this Union, if they have such an interest, can send their researchers to our galaxy, to any of its planets, for contacts, to study this or that world. And I can say that some representatives of other galaxies became interested in your civilization, having learned that you are hybrids of three races and an animal from this planet. And they showed interest in studying your race and planet.

30:15 Alien Mitya from the Andromeda Galaxy.

Maxim: What can you say about the alien Mitya from the Andromeda galaxy?

Irina : Among them there is one of the representatives of the M31 galaxy, who is known on Earth as Mitya. He lived in the M31 galaxy, and as a specialist received permission, including from representatives of Burkhad, since they are your guardians and interstellar protectors. Having received permission from the appropriate authorities, he was able to contact your people. However, he has no contactees in Russia.

Maxim : Is it one specialist from this civilization who is in contact with earthlings or the entire civilization represented by Mitya?

Irina : This specialist is a representative of his civilization on Earth. He's alone. He presents reports on his work with you, on his research. I was not interested in what information he conveyed. But, as far as I know, no other specialists from his world have been sent here yet.

Maxim : If possible, where is it on Earth? At some base or constantly moving?

Irina : The last time I saw him was when he was at the Tumesout base, which is located near Syria. He can travel on his ship. He was on Burkhad, on the lunar base... He was not on Esler.

Maxim: Is our galactic structure already familiar with it?

Irina : Yes, because he is a specialist who flew to Burkhad already with permission from his Interstellar Union M31 and asked that he be allowed to explore your world, explaining the reason for his interest in you.

Maxim : So representatives of other galaxies, if they have any interest in Earth, should apply for Burkhad?

Irina : Yes, they should apply for Burkhad, because it is Burkhad who is responsible for you, since in your genetics the largest percentage of alien genes comes from Burkhad.

33:50 Does our Universe have boundaries?

Maxim: Does our Universe have a beginning and an end - or is it some kind of infinite structure?

Irina : According to our science, information has been obtained about very, very distant galaxies. From these very, very distant galaxies, other galaxies at the same great distance are visible that are not visible from here. We have not found the limit of the universe, and, most likely, there is no such limit in our material world.

34:40 Does the Anti-Universe exist, is there a connection with its representatives?

Maxim: Are there other universes that have a different principle of matter formation?

Irina : In addition to the Universe, there is also an Anti-Universe, which consists of matter with energy opposite to your energy. It is called “Antiverse”, but its traditional name is “Shambhala”, since that is what the representatives of this Antiverse themselves, who are in contact with representatives of your world, call it. They can travel here through the astral plane.

Maxim : Do they move here using technical devices?

Irina : They move here through astral portals, since the substance from which their bodies, the universe and ships are composed are not compatible with the energies of our universe. Therefore, it is possible for them to visit our universe or for us to visit their universe in the astral body, but this is more difficult to do than to visit any world of our universe.

36:20 Passages to the Antiverse. Where are they located? Possibilities and conditions of penetration. Consequences of intrusion attempts.

Maxim: Are there portals to another universe in the centers of galaxies?

Irina : Since the passages to the Antiverse are, as a rule, located in the centers of galaxies, there is such energy there that an astral body will not pass if it is not vibrationally compatible with the center of the galaxy itself.

Maxim : So a high level of vibration is required?

Irina : Yes. Correlating with the level of your development, these should be quite high vibrations.

Maxim: Will destruction occur if we try to penetrate with lower vibrations?

Irina : If an unprepared astral body enters the center of the galaxy, it will not be allowed through, the person will wake up in his body with weakness, headache and may get sick.

Maxim: Among some researchers there is a concept: the higher the level of development, that is, the higher the level of vibrations, the more serious the spirit has the ability to penetrate into other worlds or universes that it has not yet seen at all. Is it so?

Irina : You can only penetrate the Antiverse through the center of the galaxy. Not through a star.

Maxim : Is it possible to do this in the center of each galaxy?

Irina : Yes, there are portals in the center of every spiral galaxy.

38:20 Possibility of contact with a representative of the Antiverse (Shambhala).

Maxim: Is there an exchange of knowledge and experience between representatives of our universe and the Antiverse?

Irina : I don't know if Irina told you, but a representative from the Antiverse came to her and gave her information.

38:46 Conditions for studying the Earth by other civilizations.

Maxim: If a civilization from another galaxy decided to observe the Earth, should it build its base on the Moon?

Irina : They can build their base on the Moon if they get permission from the Interstellar Union. But, as a rule, this is not necessary, since they operate with the permission and under the control of the Interstellar Union. They do not need to expend resources and energy on building their base and are given a branch on a common base. In your language, they are provided with an "office for rent" in a huge office in which they can settle down...

Maxim: Should civilizations visiting Earth for research purposes ask permission from the Interstellar Union?

Irina : As a rule, for research purposes permits are taken, which indicate whether contact with your life form is envisaged. If provided, then for what purposes. It specifies what information the earthlings will be given, as well as whether they will take samples of your nature. It spells out in some detail what exactly will be studied and for what purpose. It is imperative that humanoids from another civilization that is not part of the Interstellar Union sign an agreement stating that they are familiar with the rules of the Interstellar Union for contacts with you and will comply with them in the same way as representatives of the Interstellar Union.

41:53 Purposes of memory blocking for contactees.

Maxim: Is it advisable to erase the contactees' memories after contactees visit extraterrestrial spaceships?

Irina : Representatives of the Interstellar Union can also block the memory of a contact in cases where specialists who are in contact with your species believe that the memory of a contact can harm either the person himself or others, or they see that the contactee's attitude towards contacts is not quite adequate. If they think that in the future, after contact, the person will think and worry a lot, then his memory may be blocked. Most often, the memory is blocked for those contactees who had physical contact once or twice simply to install microchips and further astral contacts. It is believed that astral contactees have no need to remember physical contact, because in the future he may ask for a repetition of physical contact, and for astral contacts this is impractical.

43:44 Alien bases and transport networks on the Moon.

Maxim: Are there transport networks or tunnels under the surface of the Moon?

Irina : Under the surface of the Moon there is one large base for eighteen civilizations, which belongs to the Interstellar Union. And there are several of its divisions, but in other places on the Moon under its soil. They are indeed connected by transport networks, but these are not magnetic cushions. An aircraft can fly through these tunnels.

Maxim: Are they designed specifically for flights?

Irina : You can walk there. There is an atmosphere and pressure created there, as in all the lunar bases that are located here. The conditions there are quite suitable for representatives of all humanoid civilizations.

Maxim : Do you mean a small aircraft for one person?

Irina : An aircraft with a diameter of up to 8-10 meters can fly there. (Mead shows a round pipe, which in some places is made of stone, and in others of some kind of metal, rings. Something like nickel, silver... Something related to electrical conductivity).

Maxim : Are these tunnels created artificially?

Irina : Robots.

46:19 Contactor Viktor Korshunov.

Maxim: What kind of civilization interacted with contactee Viktor Korshunov?

Irina : According to my data, which I received in the database of contactees of the Interstellar Union, he was in contact with the civilization of the extragalactic colony of Burkhada. This is Tulum.

Maxim: Do representatives of Tulum work with the Earth?

Irina : Yes. But their contacts occur less frequently than among the Burkhadians themselves.

47:35 Alien bases in the Perm anomalous zone.

Maxim: Are there many extraterrestrial civilizations in the Perm anomalous zone?

Irina : There is a base there, but it is closer to the Nizhny Novgorod region, not far from the Zhiguli Mountains.

49:05 Are humans a product of hybridization or genetics? Myths as a description of real events. Marriages of earthly women with "Gods".

Maxim: According to information from some civilizations, humanity came from other planets, and according to information from other civilizations, humanity was created genetically. Where is the truth?

Irina : You were originally created as a product of hybridization with your primates. But later, when what you call the “golden age of humanity” came, which existed before the war that occurred 12 thousand years ago, your civilization developed, colonies were created on Venus and Mars, and, indeed, representatives of many galactic civilizations You even created your own settlements and made contact with earthlings. Since (I have already said) your planet is unique in your sector of the galaxy in its diversity of animal and plant species, all this was of great interest to galactic scientists and ordinary people from other worlds who wanted to live here as tourists. Therefore, naturally, they also built their bases here. But unlike those that exist now, they were not hidden. These were like your current villages.

Maxim: Can we conclude that modern humanity is a product of the hybridization of several cosmic races?

Irina : It happened that civilizations that flew to Earth came into direct contact with your people and produced offspring. But this was not an intervention in your genetic apparatus, as, for example, when you were created. These were voluntary marriages, since basically your women really wanted to unite with the gods and have offspring from them.

Maxim : Are such cases described in the myths of Ancient Greece?

Irina : And in the myths of Ancient Greece, and in the myths of Ancient Russia, and in the myths of Scandinavia. Almost all over the Earth there are legends that talk about union with the gods and about children from these marriages.

Maxim : It turns out that now on earth there are descendants of a man hybrid with the gods?

Irina : Yes. But connecting with your people and having offspring was not considered an intervention in your genetic apparatus.

53:26 Goals and stages of hybridization. Conditions for connecting a high-vibration Spirit with the physical body.

Maxim: What is the purpose of hybridization, which is carried out by various extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina : Hybridization is used in different cases and for different purposes. It happens that some type of intelligent being wants to change certain properties of their physical body, which, for example, are not developed. And then they look for representatives of such civilizations, whose genes will be dominant over their own genes. All this is being studied by scientists. First, the DNA of the species of interest is examined, their chromosomal set is studied, all variants of connections are studied, it is determined what kind of offspring should be obtained, special predictions are made, after which experiments begin. At the initial stage, they do not reach the development of living beings. As a rule, cell cultures are grown first, since immediately starting to combine the DNA of different species from different planets is considered unethical and is fraught with the appearance of an intelligent creature with some mutations, from which the creature can then become ill, and a spirit can move into the sick body. First, experiments must be carried out to ensure safety for the body.

Maxim : Is it true that a high-vibration spirit can inhabit a body whose genetics are also at a high level? In other words, should the genetics of the body correspond to the vibrations of the spirit?

Irina : Yes, that's true. A rational spirit can only join a body whose nervous system is sufficiently developed for the spirit to manifest itself through the body. That is, the vibration of this body must be developed, and it must correspond to this spirit. For example, a dog's nervous system does not correspond to your spirit because its cerebral cortex is not developed enough for your consciousness to appear there. And if your consciousness does not manifest itself there, then you will not be able to connect with the dog’s body with your life force.

56:30 The influence of the Spiritual world on the development of the planet.

Maxim: Does the Interstellar Union interact with the spiritual world or noosphere of the Earth?

Irina : Representatives of the highest hierarchies of the spiritual world incarnate in different worlds: on Earth, on Burkhad, and in other worlds. When they go to the spiritual world and remember their lives on other planets, then, of course, they interact with each other on various issues. If on a planet of humanoids there are creatures capable of feeling the spiritual world and coming into contact with it (you call them mediums), then, of course, they come into contact with the spiritual world on any planet and then highly developed spirits influence the development of this planet, to develop in them a more conscious and brighter attitude towards different aspects of life.

Maxim: I came across information that around each planet there is a so-called noosphere, in which the highest vibrational spirits of this civilization live, and they help the development of this civilization. Is this the case?

Irina : We can say that the spiritual world is located around the planet. We can say that it is located inside the planet itself. Both will be true, because it permeates the entire planet. The space of the spiritual world is parallel to our material space, and at the same time they are in each other. What is called the “biofield of the planet”, “noosphere of the planet”, “astral atmosphere of the planet” - this is all the same thing - the spiritual world, which is a parallel dimension on any planet. And it also has its own levels, its own spheres, its own areas. For example, the spiritual world consists of three areas: 1. the astral world (closest to the material in vibrations); 2. a little further - the world of disembodied spirits, which, in turn, is divided into 24 levels; 3. even higher in vibrations - the 24th level, this is the same world that you usually call the Kingdom of Heaven. This is the supreme abiding of God in his original light. There is nothing and no one there anymore. High vibrational spirits have access there, but in itself there is only the consciousness of one who gave birth to this world and every second supports its existence with his light energy.

1:00:00 Planets supervising civilizations.

Maxim: Do high-vibration spirits live in the biofield of planets that help the development of the planet in whose biofield they live?

Irina : In the higher spheres of the spiritual world, at levels 22 and 23, there are those whom you call the highest angels, mentors, teachers, and indeed there are such associations that consider it possible to help this or that planet. For example, just as in the Interstellar Union Burkhad decided to take care of the Earth, so in the spiritual world there are their own spiritual unions that supervise this or that civilization, this or that planet.

1:01:30 Goals of the incarnation of saints on Earth (Sergius of Radonezh and Seraphim of Sarov).

Maxim: Are saints on the level of Sergius of Radonezh, Seraphim of Sarov and others high-vibration spirits from the spiritual world?

Irina : Most often, those whom you call saints in your religion really came from high levels of the spiritual world in order to teach people from low levels to serve God, and this is not slavery, this is the highest freedom in the light of his true love. They themselves were born at this level, and they see happiness, joy, pleasure in this, and it is natural that they want to share their love with the whole world. Therefore, they voluntarily go to incarnate in a world similar to Earth, even realizing that not everyone there will accept and understand them. As a rule, they believe that if at least one out of a hundred manages to convey this truth, then for his sake they go to these hardships, since they consider this the highest manifestation of love. Their task is to show the path of spiritual development in the environment in which a person finds himself, since they themselves previously went through stages of spiritual development. They were also at low levels and, accordingly, know what thoughts and feelings prevail there, and therefore they try to speak with people in a language they understand.

1:03:33 Slavic-Aryan Vedas.

Maxim: Are the historical materials – the Slavic-Aryan Vedas – real? Which extraterrestrial civilizations transmitted them?

Irina : Representatives of Burkhad and their colonies came into contact with the Slavs and the Indo-European race in general. There were also contacts with representatives of the planets Shimor, Esler, Tumesout. The pantheon of gods in a particular polytheistic system could include both representatives of various alien civilizations, and representatives of plasmoid worlds, and even people themselves, for example, kings, leaders, heroes, whom people deified over time. What you call the Slavic-Aryan Vedas, like any other religious text, was transmitted by a contactee either with one of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union, or by someone who was in contact with plasmoid worlds (the one you call a shaman, priest, etc.), and he wrote down the text that was transmitted to him as information.

1:05:12 Representatives of Burkhad on Earth. God Perun, Zeus and others.

Maxim: Is God Perun an alien representative of one of Burkhad's colonies?

Irina : God Perun, like Zeus and others, are all representatives of Burkhad on Earth. Everything that you call thunderbolts, lightning - all this demonstrated what kind of weapons their ships possessed to protect themselves from ill-wishers, for example the Selbetans.

1:06:04 Bases of the Interstellar Union on Earth. Construction. Rent.

Maxim: Are there bases of extraterrestrial civilizations on Earth that are not part of the Interstellar Union?

Irina : There are bases of the Interstellar Union on Earth, but they can contain representatives of any civilization that has received permission from the IC to be on these bases.

Maxim : Do they mainly use the bases of the Interstellar Union or are there cases when they build independent bases?

Irina : When they received permission to work on Earth, there is no such need to build a separate base, since they usually submit a request for a place of work. They are given some place, because in reality, enough bases have already been built on your planet and on the Moon, and there are even inactive ones, and there are abandoned ones. Naturally, if the Interstellar Union says: “We don’t have a place, build your own base,” and indicates a place, etc., then in order to start research and not to fly here every time, they will be forced to start building something of their own. But so far there have been no such cases.

Maxim: What is the rental fee for the alien bases of the Interstellar Union?

Irina : It depends for what purposes. For research purposes, space on the base is provided to the scientific communities of the galaxy free of charge, but on the condition that they share the results of their research with the Interstellar Union. Tourist bases pay 25-30% of the paid tour to the Interstellar Union if tourists belong to another civilization that is not part of the Interstellar Union.

01:09:00 Alien bases on the ocean floor, their protection.

Maxim: Are there alien bases at the bottom of the oceans, under water?

Irina: Yes, there are bases underwater. Representatives of the planet Desnit especially like to build bases underwater, since their planet has entire underwater cities. And they have developed good technologies for building in places under pressure (in water). They use special materials. They can be either glass or non-glass. (Mead shows Irina an image: the bases under water look like balls with thick walls. She doesn’t understand exactly what kind of material it is, but assumes that it is metal ceramics).

Maxim : Do they build bases at such a depth that our people cannot reach them?

Irina : Underwater bases are convenient because your military does not have access there. You have submarines... But alien underwater bases are built where submarines do not sail. Even if a boat lands there, the base may not only camouflage itself, but send a signal that the submarine will go back.

Maxim : Is this an effect on the psyche?

Irina : There is a type of infrasound that propagates even better in water than in air. And if the sound beam is directed at the one who controls the boat, he will swim away from there in the opposite direction and generally float to the surface of the water, since he will be afraid to be under water and he will not be able to explain why. We know that if your military discovers our base, they will invite other military personnel there as well. Research will begin, attempts to penetrate the bases... The inhabitants of the base understand that this can lead to conflict. Therefore, in order not to let this happen, specialists at alien bases turn them back.

1:12:50 Cases of collision between earthly military and UFOs.

Maxim: Have there ever been any clashes between the terrestrial military and aliens?

Irina : Yes, such cases are known. The Interstellar Union has become cautious in contacts with earthlings, because several aircraft, even tourist ones, which did not cause any harm to your planet, were shot down by your military. And since they were tourists, they were not equipped with any means of protection against your weapons. But now the Interstellar Union strongly recommends that those organizations that organize flights of tourists to your planet equip their ships with basic means of protection, since they believe that your space is aggressive.

Maxim : There is such information from a contactee from Sweden, Anta Johansen. Its alien curators said: “You have an interesting planet, we are starting to enter the atmosphere and land, not touching anyone. And suddenly your warplanes start attacking us. Out of the blue…"

Irina : Yes. If a pilot flies to Earth for the first time, then, as a rule, the reaction of your military surprises him. But those who have been working for a long time, naturally, are no longer surprised. They simply avoid contact with your satellites and aircraft. For example, I have been here since 1983 and have flown a flying saucer (as you call it) myself, and I have had meetings in the air with representatives of your military structures. But, naturally, I was not surprised by their reaction, I simply did not bring the matter to a collision. But on my ship, like on any research ship, there is protection from the damaging elements of your weapons.

1:15:30 Protection of alien ships.

Maxim: What can you say about protecting alien spaceships from terrestrial missiles and other weapons? Does electromagnetic radiation (field) somehow collect around the plate?

Irina : There is a plasma field (plasma ball) that protects the ship from small stones so that they do not crash into the ship. Missile defense is simply a matter of directing the electromagnetic radiation. Any rocket has instruments inside, and it flies not just like a thrown stone, but according to a certain program. The rocket's electronic devices record what trajectory it should follow. And the electromagnetic field of ships disrupts the operation of electrical devices of rockets. Therefore, the rocket goes off course and changes the trajectory along which it needed to fly. At this time, the ship flies to the side, and the rocket flies further. No collision occurs.

1:17:30Air games between aliens and earthly military. Recording of these processes by aliens.

Maxim: What can you say about the air games of aliens with the earthly military?

Irina : There are different cases. Yes, there are such specialists who like to show their superiority. And when they are almost caught up, they duck to the side. They have artificial gravity turned on in their “plate”, so they are not subject to overloads and can deviate at any angle. Saucer pilots are well aware that there is no artificial gravity device on earth-based planes. As a rule, the “dishes” have a scanner screen, which with a scanning beam makes it possible to see what is happening on the plane. Then the alien pilots give the earthly pilot the opportunity to practically catch up with the ship, while observing his emotions, and then they quickly dodge and watch his new reaction.

Maxim : We also have specialists who have such a sense of humor. Is there technology that can read a pilot's mind?

Irina : There are beings among the specialists visiting Earth who can see his aura on the screen. There are types of screens that show the energy structure. And from the aura you can guess what emotions and feelings a military pilot experiences.

Maxim : So we can assume that the pilot of a military aircraft experiences aggression and other negative emotions?

Irina : Yes. The flying saucer pilots, who thus evaded the planes, then fly to their base and enthusiastically tell and show recordings of what they saw. I have repeatedly met with such specialists from Tashiga on the lunar base and saw these recordings on their ship.

Maxim : Do they record the whole process?

Irina : They showed a recording of the external trajectory, and how the devices flew, and the reaction of the pilots, and how they behaved.

1:22:02 Instructions, powers and behavior of aliens when meeting with earthling pilots.

Maxim: Do extraterrestrial spaceships communicate with the terrestrial military via radio communications?

Irina : We do not use your means of communication. If they are installed on some of our ships, it is very rare.

Maxim: Does this happen as an experiment or not?

Irina : We do not have the authority to enter into verbal contact with representatives of your military service.

Maxim : So you have clear directives on this matter?

Irina : We only have instructions for talking with contactees. But if we meet your military or civilian aircraft on our “plate”, which begin to pursue our ship, we understand that the words: “Earthlings, stop! Don’t attack,” will not help, since your military structure considers this a violation of borders. The Interstellar Union, on the contrary, believes that since you were created by the Burkhadians, and your contactees have the right to visit other worlds, then our ships have the right to be in your airspace. And your planet, in general, was considered a colony of Burkhad for a long time. But when there is persecution, there is no time for talking. In general, the instructions instruct at this moment not to enter into any contacts or play, but to leave.

1:24:40 Cases of collisions between UFOs and airplanes.

Maxim: Can you tell us about cases when the earthly military shot down a UFO?

Irina : There were cases when some representatives of other planets shot down planes. This was due to the fact that the plane was attacking his ship and the pilot, succumbing to an emotional impulse, used a weapon and damaged the plane. Such cases have happened. But defending yourself with weapons in such cases is prohibited. You are instructed not to make any contact, but simply leave this place by turning on the planetary engine.

Maxim: Were there any cases when UFOs were the first to open fire on earthly aircraft?

Irina: Yes, such cases also happened, as well as the kidnapping of your people. But this has already been done by criminals for completely different reasons. For example, if they did not want to hide their presence in front of the military at all. Having noticed that they were being watched by your military, they could use weapons.

1:26:50 The probability of meeting an alien or biorobot on Earth.

Maxim: Do aliens similar to earthlings appear in public places on Earth?

Irina: Different civilizations can produce biorobots that are practically indistinguishable from you in appearance or behavior. As you understand, biorobots act according to a programmed program. And no rational spirit lives in them. They can be completely identical to humans. They can talk, walk, move around, act according to the laid down program. Some civilizations send precisely these biorobots to make contact. In cases where these civilizations need to visit places on Earth that are difficult for contactees to reach, or if some civilization does not have contactees, and they need to explore your food, for example, then they send their representative to the store. And they take money from civilizations in contact with you, who have contactees on Earth. They give them money. Some contactees are asked to share money for research purposes, since making their own money instead of yours is considered unethical interference in your internal affairs.

Maxim : That is, these are basically biorobots. Is it possible to meet the aliens themselves on the street?

Irina : Yes, if, for example, a representative of Disaru (these are your descendants and they are almost no different from you) flies to your planet, puts on your clothes, which also need to be made or bought on Earth, learns your manners and language. Maybe some tourist will want to do this for the sake of the feeling that he is an earthling. This may well be the case. But personally, I am not aware of such cases. If anyone wants to walk around the Earth in the guise of an earthling, it certainly won’t be researchers; we don’t have time for that. Even if my physical body was similar to an earthling, I would not waste my time on this, because I already spend a lot of time among you in my astral body and I know everything. I talked with the Burkhadians, communicated with Kirchiton from Daraal, and none of us even had the thought of walking among you to study you. We don't have time for this because we are busy with research. We are studying your planet through contactees.

1:31:15 About “men in black”, the FBI and biorobots.

Maxim: Who are the “men in black”?

Irina : I would not be surprised if your intelligence services will come to the contactees if they become aware of the contact. But at present, there is no point in doing this for the special services, since it has long been known that this exists, and the contactees are not hiding. Irina is an example of this. Perhaps in America or in other countries where this was hushed up before society, perhaps there were special services whose representatives could introduce themselves as biorobots, aliens, or anyone else, just to intimidate this person.

Maxim : The situation there is a little different. When a person met these people in black, they initially introduced themselves to him as FBI agents, but during the conversation he realized that they were not a person, but a biorobot.

Irina : I have not encountered such cases. If they said: “Don’t talk about contacts,” you need to inquire about the reason, ask for documents. Who could direct biorobots of another civilization to contactees? If only representatives of civilization who are against your civilization in general - in principle, for example, individual reptilians...

Maxim : Could confrontation in space become a reason for similar “games” here on Earth?

Irina : Theoretically, anything can happen, since biorobots can be easily obtained, they are not in short supply, they can be bought and programmed to do any action. The only question that arises is: who needs this, and for what purposes did he come? Why did you send biorobots to this contactee and tell him not to talk about contact? Here you need to think about what kind of contact there was and what was said. And then we will reach out to those who benefit from it.

#23 Crop circles: questions for contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Rf1_hulpUwo

Guest Oleg: Hello, Maxim! Hello, Irina!

Maxim: Yes!

Guest Oleg: Greetings from overseas! So, I [want] to hold our first conference on a topic that will open up a lot of incomprehensible and interesting things for us. In particular, crop circles. Ira, who is present with us now?

Irina: Present with us is a representative of the planet Burkhad - Rameli Triar, who on her planet is a specialist in external and internal energy interactions of matter and energy. In earthly language, this is something like our physicist.

01:06 Why was the most complex figure made by a UFO on the fields of England in 1997 called “pitching fractals”?

Guest Oleg: This is very interesting and exactly what we need in our conference today. The conference will be held in crop circles. They look like this (displayed on the screen). It is considered to be the most complex fractal figure, which appeared in 1997 in England. It’s called “jock fractals”, they were called that, they were on that field. I want to start with a phrase that is quite popular: “Those who believe do not need proof. And for those who don’t believe, it’s useless to prove anything.” Therefore, today we will start with evidence for that category of people who are sane and can listen to our evidence.

02:04 Why couldn’t Raom Tiyan explain all the details of the formation of crop circles?

Guest Oleg: In our previous conversation, which we recorded, unfortunately, there were overlays with sound. There, Raom Tiyan said that he does not have the moral right to explain absolutely everything, because crop circles are not created only by one civilization. Is that so, Irina?

Irina: Yes.

02:22 Is it true that crop circles are some kind of psychological test for earthlings?

Guest Oleg: Raom Tiyan’s explanation is that this is some kind of psychological test that extraterrestrial civilizations conduct on us earthlings. How will we react to them? We don't understand the essence of this test. Can Ira explain to us what kind of psychological test this is?

Maxim: Rameli, what do you think Raom Tiyan meant when he spoke about the psychological test in relation to the formation of crop circles?

03:11

Irina: There are many types of psychological tests known to identify different types of characters, pathologies, development, etc. What you call crop circles is the so-called drawing test, widespread in earthly psychology. These are figures that represent symbols of certain structures: either galaxies, or symbols of planets, or the internal structure of atoms and molecules. And many, many different other things that are applied to the surface of the planet by a special type of electromagnetic fields. In order to see the level of development of consciousness and intelligence of those who will speculate about their meaning.

Guest Oleg: Oh how!

Maxim: Yes-yes.

04:07 What idea does the 1687 painting of the devil drawing circles contain?

Guest Oleg: We will not assume, but will ask questions. For example, this painting (on screen) of crop circles from 1687 shows the devil drawing circles. This was the first painting to be statistically recorded at the end of the 17th century. The entire earthly audience can be divided into three parts. It's not me who divides it, it's the researchers who share it. These are believers who need proof; unbelievers, who, as I said, do not need proof; and third, intelligent ones, who are trying to understand what it is through earthly logic. Therefore, we will now try to appeal to the public that is reasonable, that is, reasonable skeptics, so we will call it.

I have prepared and want to ask about 10 questions. If it takes about 5 minutes for each question, that will already be an hour. So, first question. Comrade experts, get ready.

Maxim: Yes-yes.

Guest Oleg: According to this picture, there is such an incomprehensible situation. Crop circles are very large, they can be up to hundreds of meters. They are almost very difficult to see from the ground. What was the point of creating them in the 17th century, when people didn't fly and [the view] from above still couldn't be understood?

Irina: The fact is that the absence of flying machines in certain centuries of your history did not mean at all that the people of your civilization (for whom these tests were intended) could not fly in ancient times. This was intended for those, in your terminology, travelers in spirit who could leave the body and look at the Earth from above.

06:04 Crop circles are not only for people, but also for all living creatures on planet Earth.

Irina: And a plus, for those plasmoid civilizations that are also considered part of your planet, that is, for terrestrial plasmoids. Tests are also carried out for them.

Maxim: We do not live here alone, like physical bodies. There are also plasmoid civilizations, which are also considered part of the Earth.

Irina: Earthlings (laughs).

Maxim: The spirits of nature are the same, the spirits of water, the spirits of fire, and something else. This is a subtle world with an embodied spirit in it. Therefore, these crop circles are not only for us.

Guest Oleg: I understand that. Parallel.

Maxim: For everyone on Earth.

Guest Oleg: Then the question is: they perceive us from above as a single population - plasmoids are not plasmoids, right?

07:22

Irina: I understand that for you, earthly people, nature spirits are more of a funny folklore than a reality. But, nevertheless, for those space civilizations that conduct research activities here, everything is much more serious. Many civilizations fly to Earth precisely for contact not so much with your humanoid form, but with plasmoid civilizations.

Guest Oleg: Yes, but the question was a little different, I said that...

Irina: Therefore, yes. The question was: are you perceived as one?

Guest Oleg: Yes, yes, yes.

Irina: You are perceived as the inhabitants of planet Earth: both plasmoids and humanoids. Those spirits that go to incarnate on this planet are perceived as a single whole. Those who were sent specifically to Earth. They are divided by density.

Guest Oleg: This means that for them we are a single whole, regardless of the fact that we do not recognize plasmoids and spirits. It turns out like this.

Irina: For many years, residents of one country, for example, Israel, did not recognize the inhabitants of North America or the territory of modern Russia. But this does not mean that they were not for us a single civilization of earthlings.

Guest Oleg: This opens up new questions, but I don't want to go off topic, although it's very interesting. It turns out that we must ask questions about how we can unite into a single civilization, regardless of the difference in our physical stay on Earth. Right? We still need to expand on this topic.

09:11

Irina: It's [still] very early for you to talk about unification with plasmoid civilizations. Your first stage: uniting in one spirit with all countries. I mean, not in a political, not in an economic sense, but in a spiritual sense, when any military conflict will be impossible.

09:48 For whom and why are circles drawn in deserted places in Montana, Canada?

Guest Oleg: Social. Yes, this is the most pressing agenda. (on the screen there is a map with dots (crop circles)

Now another question that will be very interesting for our listeners. Here is a map of the United States presented. It is clear that here (shows) the middle of Canada, Montana, where there is no one. It turns out that crop circles are drawn here, where there is no one at all. And who are they drawn to? That is, the question echoes again.

Irina: Your modern technology, aircraft, can now detect these artifacts anywhere on Earth.

Gost Oleg: Maybe.

Irina: And now the question of placing these symbols on the surface of your planet depends rather on the distance of a particular place from the base of an extraterrestrial civilization located on your planet and on the convenience of our ships visiting this or that place. Ours, I mean, not specifically Burkhad, but the Interstellar Union.

10:44 Why do England have the most crop circles?

Guest Oleg: And here is one more sub-question. There are a lot of crop circles in England, America, and the Netherlands, but it turns out that if you look at the number, then more of them are created in the Western world (I don't have a picture of their distribution). In particular, everything complex was created in England. Is there some kind of pattern here? Why not in Russia, but more are being created in Western countries.

Irina: Yes. There is a pattern that depends, first of all, on the fact that the territory of various countries is supervised by the bases of various civilizations of the Interstellar Union, which approach the topic of creating these symbols in completely different ways. Simply put, the governments of some planets are willing to invest more money, time and human resources in the creation of these symbols, while others are less so. They are more willing to direct their attention, energetically or otherwise, to contactees.

12:41 What explains the increased intensity of creating circles in the late 70s of the last century (more than 10,000 figures)?

Guest Oleg: I see. This is also very interesting. We are simultaneously trying to uncover this topic. The questions I'm asking now are from the community, not my own. It's not that people suffer from them, but they constantly try to answer them. For example, since the late 70s, when strong monitoring began, more than 10,000 images of all kinds have been created, better called figures or circles. With all this, our understanding of these 10,000 [is not great]. Maybe we understood one or two. 1/1000 of one percent. Again the same, maybe stupid question. If we are so stupid and don't understand, what's the point in creating 10,000?

13:15 For aliens, the path to solving this or that symbol is more interesting than its solving itself.

Irina: The path to solving this or that symbol is no less, and even, I will say, more interesting for us than the solution itself. The very path of unraveling, the path of mental operations performed by your scientists, and even ordinary people, suggesting this or that meaning, the options for the appearance of these figures, the discussion itself, this not only gives us a better understanding of your character and the forces distributed in your society, but also These very circles and information are already changing your society.

14:07 What caused the increased UFO activity in England in July 1996, when 150 drawings were created in public in one day?

Guest Oleg: Good task for us. Another question about unusualness. In England, in July 1996, during one day, under “white light,” 151 formations appeared. Moreover, people watched them form. She may not know about it, but I wonder why they are suddenly showing such activity. With what it can be connected?

Irina: Are you interested in why so many appeared in one place or how people could not notice the ships that formed them?

Guest Oleg: No. I'm wondering what triggered it more? Why is this: no, no, and then, once and 151? What was the trigger, what was the key? Why was this necessary?

Irina: The fact is that not only figures, not only patterns are a test. The location itself, their number and speed of appearance is also a certain test for you. Since different scientists involved in earthly psychology form different theories, discuss them on the field, so to speak.

15:30 Is there a connection between the crop circles near Stonehenge and the portal that runs through it?

Guest Oleg: Then immediately the question about the place. I scrolled back (displayed the photo). This fractal appeared near Stonehenge, in England. Is there any connection with Stonehenge?

Irina: She says that this figure in the shape of what she saw is quite famous in the Interstellar Union. It denotes with one sign the purpose of the Stonehenge that the ancients built.

Guest Oleg: Oh! That's it, very interesting.

Irina: These decreasing circles and connecting at one point speak about the purpose not even of Stonehenge itself, but of the very portal-passage that it created. And how to turn it on. Everything is drawn here.

Guest Oleg: Okay. Let's move on to the next question. Sometimes it's a question, sometimes you want to hear a comment.

16:35 In what way were pine trees on 15 hectares bent like ears of corn in Butte, Montana in 1998?

Guest Oleg: This is a very interesting fact. In 1998, in the city of Butte, Montana (this is where I showed) pine trees were bent to the ground on 15 hectares (that's 150 acres). These are not herbs, not flowers. And they weren't broken. That is, can you imagine 15 hectares of land with bent pine trees? There was nothing: no wind, no storm. Is this fact known?

Maxim: Did I understand correctly? That is, the pines were bent like ears of corn? Not broken, bent?

Guest Oleg: Pines, yes. Not broken, bent. Yes.

Irina: Do you understand that the force that bends and twists the stems of grass in different directions acts in this way: it temporarily makes the place of bend soft, one might say, liquid. The atoms in this place begin to vibrate faster. Due to the protection of the special field, this occurs without raising the temperature so that these herbs are not scorched. The same thing, but using more energy, can be done with trees.

Maxim: I knew about bent ears, but that trees bend too...

19:36 Why do some organisms, when exposed to the energy field of a UFO, die in circles, and some do not?

Guest Oleg: Yes. Let's move on to this (next photo). This is how they curl, this way. This is one of the [fragments] of twisting. Next question to follow up. Where they curl, a certain swelling is created in the middle of the ear. It doesn't break. Midges were recorded on these ears of corn, which seemed to have grown to them. Some of them were dead, others were frozen, in a catatonic stupor. When people picked them up and tore them away from the spikelet, the midges immediately flew away. But not all, some die. I wonder what the consequence is when some organisms die and some don't. It turns out to be an interesting post factum. Although she [Rameli] said that it is solidity that turns into liquid. It's clear.

Irina: The fact is that those living organisms that are at this moment in these places are also exposed to the influence of this field. Due to the inhomogeneity of the electromagnetic field itself, what happens is that the body of one of your insects experiences a stronger impact, and they can no longer recover. Others are less affected and can live for some time afterward. Due to the electromagnetic field, the physical structure of insects and their molecules is disrupted.

21:01 In places where crop circles form, quartz powder, magnesium dioxide and magnetic iron ore are found, the concentration of which is a thousand times higher than the composition of the soil nearby. Does a UFO emit these elements?

Guest Oleg: Great. Then again a follow-up question. When they examined the soil after the formation of crop circles, they found several substances. The first of them is silicone dioxide, this is a powder of our quartz sand, perfect shapes, 50 microns, balls. Silicone dioxide, 50 micron beads, in soil. Second, increased amounts of magnesium oxide. The third material is called magnetite. This is a magnetic iron ore, in our opinion, composition. Now, when they analyzed the soil inside the circle and side by side, the percentage of these three substances inside the circles exceeded 1000 percent. Therefore, the question is, this ball (which I will ask a question about later), it is white and yellow, what does it receive, are these elements still emitted under it?

Irina: The magnetic field that I said affects the plant and the soil nearby, and, naturally, according to the law of transformation of one energy into another, it is quite possible for the same magnesium to pass from plants to soil and create oxides, polyoxides, monoxides, etc. there.

Guest Oleg: So there is a transmutation of elements?

Irina: Yes. Atoms of some elements begin to transform into others, because under the influence of a magnetic field everything begins to change.

Maxim: Rameli, when forming crop circles, what energies are more present?

Irina: The type of engine that generates these energies is a planetary engine, which works on the (magnetic field) principle of attraction and repulsion from magnetic fields. If necessary, an intra-atmospheric engine is turned on, which operates to suppress gravitational energy. The energy that forms the circles themselves is... In fact, it can be different, because depending on the shape, size of the circle, type of ship, and finally, there can be both magnetic and electric fields, and their different ratios. Even the gravitational field can change. Light and radio waves can be used. Almost all types of radiation known to you can be recorded.

Guest Oleg: Okay.

Maxim: That is, depending on the civilization that does this and its technologies, various types of energy can be used to form these crop circles.

Guest Oleg: There is something to talk about and something to ask, but we won’t get distracted and move on to the next slide (displays two photos). Shown here, you see, is a circle on the field that was taken (1 photo) and a year later (2 photos). The effect was noticed that where there was a circle, everything grows better the next year. They know about this effect, and how can this be explained?

Irina: Any soil, in any place, on any surface, consists of a structure of internal capillaries that allow water to pass through and, in turn, consist of... Now I'll give [an example]. The soil itself consists of certain substances, which contain nutrients for plants in certain proportions, etc. And all this changes under the influence of energies that form circles. From the plant stems themselves, during the transformation of which this twisting is possible, those substances pass into the soil. And the substances in the soil itself change: nutrients become more available for dissolution in water, for example, and absorption by plants. Due to this, the effect is such that there will be more...

Guest Oleg: Growth.

Irina: The growth and development of green mass in certain [fields] is accelerating. Even the amount of nitrogen compounds is higher in those places, because partly, the nitrogen that is in the atmosphere turns into those compounds that are in the soil. Because under the influence of electromagnetic fields it is almost impossible to avoid this effect.

Guest Oleg: Yes, it's impossible, because our air consists of almost 77% nitrogen.

Irina: Yes. The lower layer of the atmosphere, and even those surrounding rocks, influence there. Even those insects that were there - some molecules can already pass from their structure. Even an insect that is [there], for example, or some microorganisms - elements from their structure can pass into certain organic compounds. They can already become part of the soil.

Guest Oleg: Therefore, the next comment right away is not a question. Questions a little later. The comment is this: anomalies have been noticed that if crop circles appeared before the formation of seeds, for example, wheat, then seeds are no longer formed there. But, if the circle appears while the seeds are already forming, then they grow very quickly. This is just a comment. Here's a comment with a question. Witnesses who saw how these patterns were formed, Sisi again, we know (smiles)...

Maxim: Listen.

28:05 Sometimes people hear the whistling sound of white balls flying over the field. Launches those plasma balls from UFOs?

Guest Oleg: They noticed a whistling, hissing sound. These were white, yellow flying circles, such orbs, balls. And then there was this collapse, a sound like a power line. It is clear that some kind of ionization is taking place, and, most likely, there will be a high electric field strength. It turns out, she said, our ship flies (shows), it turns out that it launches plasma balls?

Irina: The fact is that under these plasma balls... This is a protective plasma field.

Guest Oleg: What? Again?

Irina: You just see flying balls, yellow, white (in fact, they can be red or any color) - these are the protective plasma fields of aircraft.

Guest Oleg: Oh!

Irina: Either those aircraft, or devices, devices that you would probably call alien probes, which, following an automatic program, fly and create these [circles]. Because many civilizations do not want to risk their pilots and send not pilots or ships to draw circles, but mini-devices that can only create energy, spin it in the necessary way to form a figure. And to avoid being affected by your military forces, which could damage the ship.

Guest Oleg: And where is the ship itself - is it far away or we don't see it?

Irina: If this is a ship that is located... If it is a ball with a diameter of at least 5-6 meters, then most likely there is an aircraft inside. Mini-disco, so-called. It creates a plasma field around itself. And, if these are smaller circles, then the ship itself may even be at its base. It can be outside the Earth's atmosphere or anywhere, because its control is not by radio, but is largely automated.

Guest Oleg: Wonderful, wonderful. This explains a lot, although not everything. (smiles)

Maxim: (laughs)

31:23 Why does recovery occur, sleep improves and a surge of strength is felt after visiting places where circles form?

Guest Oleg: Therefore, let's move on to the next comment. I'm just commenting more for those people who will watch and not understand what I'm talking about. The effect has been documented in humans. Some people's rheumatism went away completely, some slept very well, some had a lot of energy after visiting the circle. But a very interesting effect was when a whole bus arrived with an excursion to look at this field. A few minutes later, all the people on the bus fell asleep. How does this affect a person, why do some recover, [some] with energy, but the bus falls asleep?

Irina: These electromagnetic fields affect the energies of space itself. Living organisms, especially intelligent organisms, react to this first of all. That is, spirits embodied in a physical body that have their own energy and electromagnetic field. They respond to these charged systems because the electromagnetic field doesn't just go away, it stays in place, in the structure of the plants, the soil itself, and changes the spatial energies around the experience itself. That which is not in the atmosphere, but deeper than the atmosphere itself, i.e. the same free energy of vacuum, etc., which is already the boundary (as Raom Tiyan said) between the material and spiritual worlds. And first of all, those intelligent embodied spirits who come to this place react to this. Because they have their own aura, their own energy, therefore, interacting with the energy of the flying machines that were there and formed [the drawings], they can react differently depending on their own vibrations, on their attitude towards all this. That is, if they experience rejection, they may feel unwell. If they have complete acceptance, then these energies begin to act on the principle of resonance, bringing the organs of the physical body into harmony along the waves.

The fact is that these energies can affect different people very differently. Those energies that exist in already created circles have not gone away, they are present there, but they can be felt, they can also be felt in the physical body by a person who is sensitive to various changes in energies. How they will affect you, whether it is healthy or depressing - this largely depends on the energy structure of the person himself, which, in turn, depends on the direction of his consciousness.

Guest Oleg: At the same time, we take everyone who has a good consciousness?

Irina: It’s not even someone who selects people, but these energies themselves, interacting with the auras, bioenergetic structures of different people, bring different effects, so to speak. Stimulating for some,...

Maxim: Yes, for some these energies will be useful, and for others, accordingly, destructive. This is probably why it is impossible to invent a device that will help everyone, in fact.

35:35 Why don't mice eat wheat from circles?

Guest Oleg: There was such a case, in my opinion, in England, when people came to a wheat field. They took wheat from inside the circle, then moved away and took other samples of wheat (there were already grains there) in order to start germination and see the effect. When we arrived home, we left both of them in the barn. When we returned to the barn a couple of days later to conduct the experiment, we saw that the mice had eaten the wheat that was not irradiated. That is, they did not touch those [grains] from the circles, but ate everything else.

36:32 Why does bread baked from wheat from these circles have an unpleasant smell?

Guest Oleg: Another remark of people who took ready-made wheat from a circle formed when the wheat was already ripe fits into the same topic. When they baked bread from this wheat, it had a very unpleasant smell and taste. I understand that Ira has already explained this, but maybe some more comment.

Irina: On the part of those civilizations and those pilots who formed these circles, this is a random effect. It is caused by a change in the internal structure, in this case, the plant proteins that comprised the structure of these grains. Because protein denaturation occurs in any case, be it plant or animal, which is located directly in the zone of formation of the circle, at the moment of its creation. This effect is largely unpredictable, because different plants react to these energies in completely different ways during the period of growth and development. The results that may result may be quite unusual for a person. That is, the chemical composition of these particular proteins [may] change.

Guest Oleg: In general, this is not very useful?

Irina: This is a random effect, and it is almost impossible to avoid it with the types of energy and the rate of formation that exists.

38:14 What did NBC Corporation do in 1998 to discredit the crop circle issue?

Guest Oleg: I see. In conclusion, I would like to make this comment. Our heavenly friends will be interested to know this, or maybe they already know. The government here suppresses this knowledge in every possible way. Moreover, they form circles of people (not crop circles) who are engaged in all sorts of fakes. In 1998, the American media corporation NBC sponsored three people. She gave them money so that they would fly far to New Zealand, make circles there and then take it all off the plane. When the researchers actually came and asked to study this matter, we want to know where it was formed. They, of course, did not give any coordinates or anything. Because these effects that we talked about, of course, were not there. Second, they chose the most remote, sparsely populated location in New Zealand to do it all. Then it was all shown on the mass media, on television, and they said: “Yes, we did it. And everyone is doing it all around.” But they actually invited a specialist. And there was confusion. It turned out that they could not prove that it was real. He says: “Then provide us with copies.” They said that there are no copies, and we will not tell you where it is, what it is and how. This is in conclusion.

Therefore, I wanted to tell you that, on the contrary, on our earthly side everything is being done to discredit this matter in every possible way. I think that we have done a lot, in particular in this program, to interest you, dear friends. Precisely because this is a serious matter. These circles and this circle in particular are hundreds of meters! This is not a meter. Can you imagine 15 hectares of land?

Maxim: Yes-yes-yes.

Guest Oleg: This is one and a half by one and a half kilometers. I want to see how they [do it].

40:45 The mechanism of formation of circles and the changes that occur in plants and in their locations should show Earth scientists that extraterrestrial civilizations exist.

Irina: Rameli says so. The fact is that the very mechanism of formation of these circles and the changes that occur in plants and around them, and in energies, and even their location - as a test, they should already tell your scientists that extraterrestrial civilizations actually exist.

Maxim: Look, the circle (photo on the screen). A merkaba, and at the ends of a merkaba there is another merkaba.

Irina: Yes. There are already some stars there.

If the circle is made by earthly people, its obligatory and main difference will be that, if viewed from above, from this circle the road along which they left or was leaving will definitely be visible.

Irina: (laughs)

Guest Oleg: (smiles) Yes. I would like to make a remark, right there. Firstly, they are done in the snow so that it is generally impossible [to determine]. Everyone who made these fakes did them on wheat, because it's easy to cover up your tracks. But circles are made on crops of carrots and potatoes, that is, where there are small sprouts and when it is impossible to hide traces in and out. And all these fakes that they are trying to repeat are made on ripened wheat.

42:26 The size, complexity and speed of creating figures suggests that people cannot do this with their technology.

Irina: And even what was made on ripened wheat can be distinguished, because no matter how you disguise it, you can distinguish the trace where they left and, moreover, the very size and complexity of this figure, the speed of its appearance, they will say that your technology could not do this.

#24 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: scientific questions from America

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/nauchnye-voprosy-iz-ameriki

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CCUoI1Pz69I

Participants - Scientist (s), Irina Podzorova (I)

00:00 (y): There is an opinion that until a certain period there was only one ring surrounding the Earth, then artificially, according to the underground community, a second huge ring was created and then a third to establish an earthly quarantine. Is it so?

(I): It's just that your scientists began to register a second level of energy, which you call a radioactive ring, which is formed from the fact that solar energy, colliding with the earth's magnetic field, forms various "vortices" in space, but your spaceship passes through them quickly enough passes and is well protected so as not to be harmed. Of course, if you go into outer space in this space in your spacesuit, you can get harmed, but in our spacesuit it is safe.

01:50 (y): But it turns out that these scientific data, which have been published, on the level of radiation of the ring, are not correct, because they say that these rings are so radioactive that ten-centimeter lead passes it through like paper. Do they have incorrect data on radiation levels?

(I): The fact is that your spaceship, which leaves the gravitational field of the Earth at the second cosmic speed, passes through this space in a fairly short time and goes to a safe place for itself, and does not have time to get harmed.

(s): Thankful for the answer, but it turns out that we are being kept in a lie, that official science is lying about the level of radiation in the ring?

(I): Your science recognizes the American flight into space. She can't contradict herself, can she? Science says that you landed on the moon, which means you crossed this space.

(y): They don't say a coping mechanism.

(I): The fact is that if you send an official request to your journalists, the government, the Institute of Nuclear Physics, and Cosmonautics, then you will receive an official response with the necessary calculations. The main thing is to formulate the question correctly. It is best to frame the question on behalf of the public rather than on behalf of one individual.

05:10 (s): We have lost a lot of spaceships, but it’s interesting how Roscosmos calculates the spaceship’s position in space. Are aliens watching the satellites we launch? And how do they monitor their ships themselves?

(I): To fly through interstellar systems, we do not use complex calculations; we are automatically tuned to one or another planet. The locator is the magnetic field of the planet. Even the smallest planet has its own, even weak, field, which in its characteristics differs from other people’s magnetic fields, for example, in the structure of magnetic lines and the direction of vortex twists. And when a pilot visits a planet for the first time, he is guided by neighboring planets, which guide him by distance to that planet. And when it gets there, the magnetic field data is automatically recorded in its database. Then, when you need to visit this planet, no calculations are made, you simply select the desired button.

Regarding ships: as far as I know, from the news about your solar system (which are created by the bases that are on the satellites of large gas giants, there are bases of the galactic security services) indeed, often your ships simply do not turn up on time at the point in space where the ship flies planet. This is due to the imperfection of your description of the solar system. You may not take into account some small asteroid that could collide with your ship, change its direction and subsequently lead to missing the planet. And I believe that if there were a person there, this would allow for more efficient exploration of the Solar System, he would be able to return the ship to the desired direction.

12:50 There is official data that the Moon is being “bombed”, that is, the Earth’s satellites are deliberately smashing the Moon. Who are they bombing there?

(I): The fact is that our friends from Tashiga very boldly sometimes work with contactees from the USA, they have many contactees among the highest military circles, and these contactees make secret reports to the government. The government doesn't always like this, and they are trying to find out where our secret bases are on the Moon, and they are starting to look for evidence of contact. “What will happen if you drop a satellite there?”, “And if you start a rumor in the media that I’m about to launch a nuclear charge there, will aliens come to persuade me not to do this?”

15:00 (at): Now you can see flying dots on the moon, are these our friends flying there? Do they fly in groups?

(I): Your telescopes and lunar observation system have improved; it works almost around the clock, but the Interstellar Union also continues to work under these conditions. The Interstellar Union decided not to make a secret of our location on the Moon. Various ships are flying.

Many civilizations are looking for contactees among you. Not only humanoids, but also plasmoids are also interested in the flora and fauna of your unique planet.

#25 UFO-conference “UNKNOWN-2019”: Panel discussion “Contact is contact”!

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ufo-konferenciya-nepoznannoe-2019

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rgCMFta9Vag

00:46 Opening remarks by conference participants.

Host: Now you will have an amazing and, perhaps in its own way, unique panel discussion. Let's talk about what we heard. There was a wonderful report about the Nazca mummies, and I will ask our speakers to comment on this.

Pavel Khailov : The finds are now sensational. I hope that scientists will nevertheless begin to study these artifacts and one day they will announce to us that extraterrestrial civilizations were on earth.

Host: That is, officially.

Pavel Khailov : The fact is that I study extraterrestrial civilizations, and for me these finds mean nothing, but, more precisely, they confirm that there were extraterrestrial civilizations. The previous report was on the Mexican paleocontact, and I can say who was in contact with the Mexicans there. This is a civilization from the Pleiades, they are still in contact there.

Tatyana Makarova : And I would like to wish courage to those researchers who took up this matter, because it turns out a very strange situation: it would seem that this is a scientific breakthrough, this is a topic that needs to be researched, which can make us look at our history differently and on our interaction with what surrounds us. And, most likely, we will again be faced with the fact that they will try to somehow belittle, somehow discredit the work, present it not in the light in which it is necessary, because we have encountered such an attitude more than once, more than once year and more than one decade. Unfortunately, this is not the position of the science that should move us forward, so courage and once again courage. And it's just super that thanks, probably, to modern means of telecommunication, thanks to the Internet, this information has come out into the world, that is, it will not be possible to simply shut up now.

Host: Yes , in the wake of this report by Dmitry Galetsky about the Nazca mummy, a lot of controversy arose, and the book that Korotkov presented clarifies a lot, because there are speculations.

Let's figure out what it is. In fact, I don't want to think that we descended from this Nazca mummy, somehow it doesn't look human, frankly. But, nevertheless, we showed this information without Ren-TV, taking into account what we understand.

And my second question to you was about the previous report, about Mexican paleocontacts. Here are the artifacts presented on the table, I think our conference participants had time to take photographs and feel how real it is, it is closer than the image, this is what is present right in front of you. Another question: how much do you understand this, what does this have to do with our actual history of the Earth, which can be ignored.

Tatyana, comment on what you see in front of you, what you know about our speaker, the wonderful Andrei Zhukov, who has been studying this for probably several decades.

04:20 About the position of official science from the point of view of not recognizing obvious facts.

Tatyana Makarova : Firstly, they have been studying for several decades, secondly, they are studying despite the resistance of the same academic science, and thirdly, Andrey and I just recently tried to read the very signs that are on some objects, then there is the writing that exists.

I, of course, cannot say that these results are 100 percent reliable, but those two artifacts that we read with the help of our intermediaries, with the help of our trance technologies, they gave quite interesting data that intersect with what Andrey knows from the research he carried out.

I think we will continue to study further. But you and I, first of all, should be impressed by the number of such signs, the most diverse, but, let's say, with the same features, which are found simply in huge numbers on this huge part of our globe, well, how can you not notice this one? How can one still turn a blind eye to this and say that wild, semi-literate Indians are sculpting everything in their huts on winter evenings?

Host : Again, there is confirmation that, indeed, some are trying to sculpt artifacts for sale to tourists, and they look mediocre.

Tatyana : But they are very different.

05:55 Comments from speakers on the presented artifacts and ways to study them

Presenter : Here are the relevant artifacts, which are simply a folded structure. Tatyana, it turns out you used your psychotechnics to decipher? A little more detail.

Tatyana Makarova : Here, it seems to me, we need to use all possible means and methods of study, because the topic is huge, a topic that is important for us, for understanding ourselves. After all, we are all human, but who knows what biological roots each of us has? Who has what DNA elements? Who behaves how, I'm not even talking about the fact that each of us may have some kind of personality that has its own deep experience: someone, perhaps, was the beings from whom these images were sculpted. Therefore, here it is necessary, on the one hand, to study, on the other hand, to be very careful in interpreting the conclusions, in general in approaches to research, but it is necessary to study.

Host : Please, Pavel, if you can say something.

Pavel Khailov : I am a geologist by profession, I looked at what rocks these artifacts were made of. This is jasper, a fairly strong rock. This is orgilite, but I have not yet determined this, because there is no way.

Host: If you just try it on the tooth.

Pavel Khailov : Yes, this is silicified sandstone. This is ceramics. But it's impossible to say for sure. I looked at the previous report about the finds in Mexico in full, I saw these products and some stone products and, indeed, they are very similar to the Pleiadian devices.

Host : Who made them?

08:09 About the appearance of depicted humanoids and their correspondence with reality

Pavel Khailov : I work on extraterrestrial civilizations, and some details are exactly the same as these devices.

Host : So, you want to say, it is close to authenticity, to what happened?

Pavel Khailov : Yes, of course, the Mexicans did not depict the appearance of humanoids very accurately, there are mainly humanoids with wide slanted eyes, this may not be an entirely accurate depiction of them.

Presenter: There is a lying mummy in the apparatus. What is it if you studied?

Pavel Khailov : Humanoids with wide slanted eyes. It is impossible to characterize humanoid aliens. We can say that humanoids are short, judging by this product, with wide eyes, that is, they resemble dwarfs with wide eyes. This data is not enough to draw any conclusions, because they, like a stencil, are basically the same image.

Host : That is, it turns out like an image.

Pavel Khailov : Yes, this is an image, but this is an inaccurate image of aliens, because I can say that it reminds me - there are Sirians with narrow, slanted eyes.

Host : Is there anything about them in your book?

Pavel Khailov : Yes. There are grey-skinned dwarfs, they are not tall, but their eyes are different, that is, not exactly the same, but wide, almond-shaped. It is impossible to say for sure about these products: some more facts, some additional data are needed.

Pavel Khailov : Based on this discovery, the aliens take away their own comrade who was on Earth. Here, you see, he lies. This is my conclusion.

Host: Yes, good, thank you. Andrey, please comment on the topic of your subsequent research. How long are you going to search and what do you think you will end up with?

Andrey Zhukov : We have a whole team, and we intend to continue research in this direction, because, indeed, the array of artifacts is huge. Another thing is that these are not documents, not photos, not video images and, as Pavel rightly said, they must differ from the originals, especially if this was not done live, not portrait photography, but from memory, from the stories of ancestors or from some then previous samples. That is, the child will redraw from a photograph; naturally, the similarity will be caught, but it will not be an exact identification of the original image. Therefore, such deviations are quite normal things, regardless of the country and the era. Accordingly, it is impossible to talk about complete compliance with the appearance of this alien, otherworldly creature. Unfortunately, we do not have exact terms in our conceptual apparatus, so we use the words that we have available. Both for the subtle worlds and for the alien ones, we have a lack of concepts and terms. What we own is what we use.

12:20 About Calvin Parker's book and alien abductions

Host : There is a story about Calvin Parker, a new book that will be published soon by Stigmarion. This is a kidnapping that happened decades ago in the United States. They conducted unsuccessful sessions of regression hypnosis with him, but he flew out of hypnosis because he could not relive this experience again, since they were experimented with puncture and removal of certain liquids.

I would like to ask our speakers: are you aware of such things? In particular, in a report about the Mexican paleocontact, Andrei mentioned that children were raised and biomaterial was immediately made. And here they used real living earthlings, moreover, they stole two people on that very day while fishing and carried out some research with both of them. By the way, a second version is being prepared: Hollywood is making a whole film based on Calvin Parker, so it’s quite possible that you’ll hear about it soon. Tatyana, what do you think: is this all really happening?

Tatyana Makarova : Moreover, this happens much more often than we would like. And here it is very difficult with the evidence base, because there is no way to get any confirmation, those traces that remain on the body of such abducted persons, since they, as a rule, disappear very quickly. Apparently, some kind of biotechnology is used that allows this to be done with such abductees. But I would say that it was quite surprising to me that those specialists who worked with Calvin, world-class specialists, did not pay attention to the essence of this situation. Basically, even when they used hypnotic trance methods, they resembled curious observers with questions of this type:

“Oh, how was that? Oh, tell me, what color was the skin of this woman who kidnapped you?” I'm surprised no one noticed that these situations started with Calvin long before the main contact that occurred.

Host : So they were regular?

Tatyana Makarova : Regular, and moreover, they would not happen without a reason. I have worked with similar contacts and understand that such people are usually led, maybe even from birth. I have had such cases. If I had a chance to work with this person, then, of course, I would try to find out the meaning of the actions performed with him.

Host : By the way, we sent a request. Calvin was unable to attend our conference this year, perhaps next year, he is already approaching 70 years old, so it is quite possible that the session will take place with the help of another regressologist, Diana Orlan, who is present in the hall and speaks perfect English. A joint tandem can give truly unique results. I know that you regularly try to help those people who have been exposed to such contacts.

15:55 Why do aliens abduct people and what is behind it?

Host: This is so incredible, why is this happening?

Tatyana Makarova : This is exactly what we need to understand, because we are being watched, forgive me, like we watch animals in zoos. We, from a highly philosophical point of view, can admit that they communicate with us this way. Well, suppose someone arrived on our planet, someone needs to understand how humanity works. There may be such experiments, but historical data and modern investigations make it clear that the matter here is not entirely neutral scientific and that something else lies beneath it. And you and I need to understand what lies beneath such situations, and there are far more than a dozen of them and they occur in more than one place on the globe. And what connection do these situations have with our historical past? Here, at least, with those situations that are reflected in these artifacts, which, thanks to Andrey, you now see with many others.

Host: Is the experiment continuing?

Tatyana Makarova : Moreover, it is developing.

Host : Pavel, I ask you to answer this topical topic: since it is developing, what is happening?

17:16 About gray-skinned dwarfs from the Reticulum constellation and their reproductive experiments on people

Pavel Khailov : In ufology, these contacts are called contacts of the fourth, fifth and sixth degree. These are close contacts with abduction and return, abduction contacts. Now, from the perspective of my knowledge, I distinguish different abduction contacts. You have all heard that the gray-skinned Grace dwarfs have been doing their experiments on earth for a long time. Their origin is known: this is the Zeta system, the constellation Reticulum.

Host : I would like to show you a map, to be honest, I don't know where it is, but it doesn't matter.

Pavel Khailov : So, under an agreement with earthly curators, they were on Earth for about a hundred years, now they are not here, they were asked to leave, they were saving their race from degeneration. Since you imagine what gray-skinned dwarfs are, they are degenerates. That is, their limbs atrophy, their organs atrophy, they have problems living on a physical level.

Host : That is, with genes.

Pavel Khailov : They can't give birth, they don't have love and sex, they don't have any of that at all. And under an agreement with Shambhala and with our curators, they carried out experiments on the reproduction of bodies for a relatively short time. That is, they chose people - biodonors, and this was not done by force, as far as we know, it was the people themselves who concluded the agreement.

Host: Consciously?

Pavel Khailov : Yes, they already knew that they would be kidnapped, it is correctly said that this happened throughout their lives from childhood. And perhaps, I don't even rule out that this happened in more than one lifetime. That is, these people were obliged by agreement with the gray-skinned dwarfs to participate in these experiments. They knew everything perfectly well, the simple fact is that many people here on Earth have a blocked memory, and they perceive this as a disaster.

Host : So it was a banal scientific experiment on survival?

Pavel Khailov : The fact is that they have already agreed with the gray-skinned dwarfs on these experiments. They were as follows: reproductive sperm cells were removed from men and a healthy female biodonor was selected, usually under 40 years of age. And these women regularly experienced immaculate conception: they suddenly found out that they were pregnant, although they remembered that nothing of the kind had happened. Then after three months the fetus disappeared somewhere.

Host: And they didn't remember anything.

Pavel Khailov : Ufologists found out that when a regressive session took place, it turned out that the woman was abducted using special methods, almost bloodlessly, as healers use, the fetus was removed. There were practically no traces after the removal of the three-month-old fetus. Now the activities of the gray-skinned dwarfs have already ended, they were asked to leave, and, as far as I know, there is no information about them anymore and they are not on earth.

Host: How does this information correlate with those frescoes or other inscriptions that people gave birth to aliens for them?

Pavel Khailov : Gray-skinned dwarfs are consumers of ready-made products, but if we talk about the creators, then this is a separate conversation. That is, several civilizations took part in our creation, in the creation of humanity. Repeatedly.

21:30 About the concealment of alien information by government and religious structures.

Host : I ask Andrey to also comment, if possible.

Andrey Zhukov : Unlike Pavel, I am not a ufologist. I have been working on this issue for two years, because, firstly, I have been fascinated by ancient Mexico since early childhood and I am an archaeologist by training, and secondly, huge amounts of data.

I did not study ufology, because for me, since my school days, the fact that our planet is inhabited by representatives of various humanoid races, and not just earthlings, was a matter of course. As we all know, the ocean occupies 70% of the planet's area, it is very deep and there are a huge number of creatures there, but not all of us are oceanographers. This is a normal part of the existence of our world. So for me, the fact that the Earth is a crossroads of worlds is normal, I know from childhood, I just didn't do this on purpose. Now I'm getting started because there's a ton of factual material available that allows us to delve deeper into this issue.

Regarding the information that Paul spoke about, I am sure that this issue has been the prerogative of government agencies for centuries. Therefore, the issue of interaction with alien civilizations and, in general, the issue of their existence and presence on Earth is a taboo topic, only now in the new information field, when it is no longer possible to contain the flow of information, even the Pope two or three years ago was forced to admit: "Well, yes , there is an alien civilization, yes." Only he did not say whose representatives lie in the Vatican basements.

But just as information about the foreign policy relations of our government with the government of other countries is forbidden for us, what can we say about relations with other civilizations that are controlled by the relevant structures.

Here is the famous astronaut, American hero Mitchell, who allegedly roamed the lunar surface for 9 hours during the Apollo 14 program! A few years later, he spoke on the radio and also said openly that all these issues of contacts with alien civilizations have been well studied, but this is the prerogative of the highest echelons of power, government structures, and military intelligence services. We are not given the opportunity to do this, so we use those crumbs of information that seep through personal communication, through people who come and ask to restore them using various regressor techniques, reiki and others. But we do not have a summary of information, because this is for official use.

Pavel Khailov: We can do without them. We have enough information without them.

24:42 Contactor Irina Podzorova and her short story about herself

Presenter : Colleagues, look, our program has a special guest planned, who is a contactee. Now I will invite Irina to the stage, she will tell her story, and while she is telling, I will ask the distinguished participants of the panel discussion to prepare one question that we will ask. Please, Irina! Greetings.

Irina Podzorova : Hello! My name is Podzorova Irina. I am a contactee for extraterrestrial civilizations. At the age of 13, a representative of the planet Daraal from the constellation Cassiopeia came into contact with me. At first I had physical contact twice a week. And not so long ago, a representative of the planet Esler from the constellation Boötes contacted me. I have astral contact with him. Now I have my own channel on YouTube “Irina Podzorova. Cassiopeia" and its own group "Cassiopeia" on VKontakte. If anyone is interested, you can read the information.

Currently, I have four types of contacts: physical, but once a month, astral, telepathic with the coordination group of the planet Esler, and mental contact with a representative of the planet Daraal. I also communicate with any types of dense and subtle material civilizations that have the ability to access the astral space. More recently, I have had the opportunity to contact spirits who are not embodied in the physical world.

I am also actively studying my new opportunities that I now have, I am engaged in communication with the Higher Self, regressionology and cosmoenergy, and, most recently, I had physical contact where I was shown the planet - the homeland of cosmoenergetics. This is the planet Gihor.

Contactees are present here, their extraterrestrial mentors in astral bodies are also here. I welcome everyone and want to tell you a little about our galaxy.

About the civilizations of our galaxy.

In our galaxy, there are currently 727 civilizations of the humanoid type, densely material, like us, and tens of times more subtle-material civilizations, which in ancient times were called “spirits of nature.” They live both in the atmospheres of planets and in the chromospheres of giant stars and ordinary stars.

Of the 727 humanoid, dense-material planets, 116 are part of the Interstellar Union, the capital of which is located in the constellation Cygnus. This is the planet Burkhad, whose representative is here now in the astral body. If anyone has questions, I can ask them to him. I don’t have much time right now, and if anyone is interested, you can check out the Cassiopeia group. Everything is there, including my contacts and everything else. And now I would like to answer your questions.

30:37 Opinion of ufologists about Irina’s contacts

Host : Let's start with questions from Tatyana Makarova. She thought about it, I think she has a number of questions, especially, let’s reveal a secret: Tatyana conducted a regression session.

Irina Podzorova : Yes.

Host: Is this a real contact or a fictitious one? At first, it is necessary to separate to what extent this is a fiction or whether it really happens, as with Calvin Parker. Please Tatyana, you have the floor.

Tatyana Makarova : Well, you threw it straight into the embrasure. We really worked with Irina, and I hope that I was able to help her in some way at these first stages, when she just needed to alleviate her physical condition.

Irina Podzorova : Yes, I have mental contacts with representatives of Daraal.

Host : But they were tough, from the video it was visually clear that the whole body was convulsing. We won't show it so as not to shock you, it was somehow strange. If we are talking about normal contact.

Tatyana Makarova : You know, I have a difficult position. I will try to say it in a way that is both honest and understandable. I think that it is necessary to separate Irina as an intermediary - the person through whom all this happens and the interests of the substance that works through her. And the contact, as far as I understand, is real, but not quite the way we would like it to be.

Host: And who did we want to see?

Tatyana Makarova : Well, I think that if we, earthlings, perceived ourselves as a party to contact, then we would like to see more openness, more trust, more truth. Again, I'm not saying this in relation to Irina. This is in relation to those beings who work through it. So far we see that the information provided by the other party to the contact does not quite correspond to our understanding of legality and legality.

Host : Okay, Tatyana, what is your question, so that our viewers and those present in the hall understand that the other side can answer your harsh question.

Tatyana Makarova : In principle, I asked my harsh question, and, knowing such contacts, I received the answer that I expected to receive. I understand why this answer came. I won't voice it.

Now I would not like to ask why the other side of the contact does not leave evidence of its existence and, moreover, the checks that Irina carried out did not produce results, did not provide confirmation of the authenticity of this contact, which, in principle, in some sense, puts Ira in such a difficult situation that, apart from the words that she can tell, she has nothing to confirm what is happening to her. Is that right, Ir?

33:52 About the goals of the Interstellar Union

Therefore, I would now like to ask this: those who are in contact with you, how do they feel, do they satisfy their interests, do they achieve their goals by working through you?

Presenter : And who is answering now, please say so.

Irina Podzorova : MidgasCaus answers, this is a representative of the planet Esler. He is working with me right now, and he will answer. He already answered Tatyana Viktorovna; they, of course, communicated in absentia through me.

MidgasCaus : As I already told you, Tatyana Viktorovna, my goals are no different from the goals of the Interstellar Union as a whole: this is the creation on your planet of such conditions for your society that will make possible mass contact and your entry into the interstellar union as an equal employee and partner . For this purpose, as far as I work with the contactee, I am quite satisfied with her work and the transfer of information that is achieved through her.

Tatyana Makarova : Thank you. As a matter of fact, I was expecting such an answer from him.

Host : Okay. Some kind of displeasure, Tatyan. Again, on one issue and now let's move on.

Tatyana Makarova : This displeasure is not about Irina, I'll clarify again.

Pavel Khailov : The point is that understand, all people are skeptics and do not always believe in everything they hear and see. Don't misunderstand us.

36:00 What is the big experiment on Earth and its uniqueness for the entire Galaxy?

As a ufologist, I will immediately ask a very difficult question: what is the big experiment?

Irina Podzorova : There is a representative of the planet Burkhad here, this is the capital of the Interstellar Union, his name is Raom-Tiyan, and he wants to answer this question.

Irina Podzorova : A great experiment with your race began many millions of years ago and it consisted in the fact that you contain the genes of several civilizations and your earthly animal. You are hybrids. Therefore, the big experiment was and is to create from the genetic information of different races a creature that can exist in the conditions of the Earth - a planet that is famous throughout the galaxy for its diversity of life and ideal conditions for its development. The big experiment is whether you yourself, without our intervention, can create a society that will still allow you to enter the Interstellar Union with the same rights as others. For now, for obvious reasons, this is not possible.

But the experiment continues, including through the information that we give to various contactees, because all the information that representatives of the Interstellar Union give to earthlings goes through direct control on Burkhad, because our race was directly involved in the creation of your bodies.

Pavel Khailov: This is about development for any civilization, but what is the big experiment? Why is it called a great experiment within the cosmos of everything?

Irina Podzorova : Within our galaxy, such creatures on such a planet with such development opportunities have been created for the first time, and that is why this experiment is of very great significance for the entire Interstellar Union, and even observers from the Interstellar Unions of other galaxies are following it with interest. I believe that is why this experiment is called large, global, universal, cosmic. You can come up with many terms that will denote the same concept.

Pavel Khailov : Thank you.

39:18 Mexican artifacts as a teaching aid for ancient priests

Host: A small clarification: did you attend the report that was dedicated to the Nazca mummies? Is this part of the experiment or what was it? Your version.

Irina Podzorova : For representatives of various cosmic civilizations, the entire history of your humanity is represented by a single race, unlike you, who believe that this is not so. So, contacts with representatives of your race were in different regions of the Earth, with different tribes, and what was shown in Mexico, the artifacts found were not just drawings, these were diagrams of the priests who taught. They had a secret priestly language, many of them were contactees with various civilizations and these were, in modern terms, textbooks for the younger caste of priests.

Host : Andrey, please, your question.

40:44 Circumstances and reasons preventing the Earth from entering the Interstellar Union?

Andrey Zhukov : Can your interlocutor name the forces that hinder, at the planetary level, a person's progress towards direct contact with representatives of another civilization? Well, not by name, but to identify, so to speak, the enemy.

Irina Podzorova : Which specialist's answer would you like to hear? Raom-Tiyan, MidgasKaus or coordination group?

Andrey Zhukov : A representative of the security forces on their part.

Irina Podzorova : Raom-Tiyan wants to answer as a representative, albeit not of a power structure on his planet, but as a representative of the capital of the Interstellar Union: you need to understand that I will only say my personal opinion. I believe that your civilization is being prevented from entering the Interstellar Union by the activities of your political and military structures, which create on your planet the conditions for the development of the entire society that you see now and which are incompatible with the moral standards and scientific research of all 116 worlds of our union.

We have walked your path much earlier and we know that violent coups in this area are not only useless, but even unacceptable. Your society itself, through evolutionary means, must come to an understanding of what is good and evil in your understanding. But, alas, you can only come to him in one case. Then, when the majority of your society realizes that the worldview that makes you now perceive the Spirit as a derivative of matter, and not vice versa, the eternal, as a derivative of the temporary, and not vice versa, it is this that is the global and deep cause of all the evil that is happening now in your world.

Host : Are there any specific signs? Let's say the US government, the Russian government, or the Chinese military. After all, from that high point of view you can see the dominant forces that are hindering?

Irina Podzorova : I cannot single out the government of any one country as the dominant obstacle to reunification with us, because in the political structure of any country there are both destructive and positive forces, which nevertheless direct the country on the path of correct, from our point of view, development. Which development, from our point of view, is correct, I have already said.

And I cannot here single out any country in which there are more or less destructive forces compared to others, since from my personal point of view, everyone is more or less on equal positions in this matter.

44:05 About extraterrestrial forces hindering the development of humanity, as a delusion of humanity itself

Host : Can we say that the destructive interfering forces are exclusively internal human forces or are there extraterrestrial forces that are interested in slowing down the development of humanity as a galactic race? Exactly extraterrestrial outsiders. And what?

Irina Podzorova : The fact is that everyone who is present here now, all people, you are not physical bodies, you are Spirits embodied in physical bodies. And many of you, and even almost all of you, had one or more incarnations on other planets. And besides incarnating on other planets, for a long time, like me, you too lived in the spiritual world between incarnations. Therefore, I can say that extraterrestrial forces also influence the political structures of your world, but only in the sense that the Spirit, embodied in this or that politician who adopts destructive laws for your society, could have lived on any of the planets before this incarnation, could live in the subtle material world and, moreover, before this incarnation, he spent a long time in the spiritual world at one of its levels, which change according to the frequency of their internal vibrations.

The fact is that we do not understand the planet as a space isolated from other planets. There are quite possibly those present here who lived on my planet in a past life. It is also quite possible that in my next incarnation I will live on Earth. We do not have the teaching that the spiritual worlds of different planets are isolated.

48:14 Options for interaction with aliens, their differences and principles of freedom of choice

Question from the audience : When they touch you, how do you feel? I just have fear and rejection. When gray creatures are thin, it repels me.

Irina Podzorova : If you did not see an alien spaceship nearby while you were in the house, and if it came to you through the walls, it is clear that your contact is not physical.

When you pushed him away and felt it, with 80% probability you were in the astral body yourself, having left the physical. With a 20% probability, you felt it in your physical body, but then your consciousness was changed. In any case, it was not physical contact, because... physical bodies cannot penetrate walls and doors, but astral bodies can.

It felt very real to you. Being an astral traveler myself, I know that astral travel can not only be different from reality, but even surpass it in sensations.

I used to have physical contact 2 times a week, now once a month. I went to a deserted place in the evening. A plate flew towards me and, naturally, he touched me.

Host : Did you have a contract?

Irina Podzorova : Yes, I have a valid contract with them since I was 13 years old.

Host : Can you terminate it?

Irina Podzorova : Yes, I can terminate it, it’s according to my will.

Host : Are you satisfied with the interaction that is taking place?

Irina Podzorova : Yes, in the form in which it is happening now, I am satisfied.

Host : It used to be tough, I know.

Irina Podzorova : Previously, this interfered with my personal life, and I, as Tatyana Viktorovna knows, broke off contact for 6 years. I haven't had any contacts other than astral travel, but it's not physical or mental like it was before.

51:55 About ufologists' doubts about the prospects and openness of these contacts

Tatyana Makarova : Colleagues, a good dialogue has now taken place, which shows this: Irina, as a mediator, is absolutely honest, because broadcasts the information that suits her. But you saw for yourself what kind of information this is - no specifics. My many years of contact experience says that there will be no specifics for some reason, because... You and I are being used as test subjects. Irina, one of your comrades told you during contact that he is studying the reactions of the people you encounter and your personal reactions.

And now it's happening that you and I are sitting here and torturing this man who is honest, and some force is studying us.

Host : Who reacts how, right? I saw a couple of people disappear from the hall upon contact.

Tatyana Makarova: Studying these situations, you and I have to understand that this is not direct communication and it is a little strange. When our special services prepare a resident and send him somewhere overseas, they study the situation, those people who occupy key positions, those connections that need to be used in order to adapt to that society.

Here it turns out that those who come, they come with their own rules and they don't care about our rules. They think they are dominant. Irina's story shows that if you set conditions in front of them, they will not go anywhere and will fulfill the conditions.

Host : That is, you can replay the situation using knowledge and skills, which is what you use.

I wanted to counter your speech that Irina clearly said that they propose to choose free will, hoping that someday we will mature and become smarter, taller and stronger. But the history of mankind does not speak about this, by the way. Over the last couple of thousand years, everyone has been at war.

Those who get better move on, but you stay here in kindergarten.

This is the final moment of our conversation, there is no time for questions, but you can personally communicate with Irina behind the scenes.

I would like to ask through you: what is the message for us gathered here at the “Unknown” conference, what is important for us to hear? And preferably more specific, please.

55:20 Message to all conference participants

Irina Podzorova : MidgasKaus and Raom-Tiyan are united in the message that they want to convey to everyone through me, and I join them in this opinion.

The purpose of my contact is not to lead people somewhere to some bright future or to re-educate our society. My goal is different, and MidgasCaus often tells me about this.

My goal is to teach everyone who communicates with me to get in touch with his inner spiritual light, his Spirit, which you call the Higher Self. In different religions and teachings it is called differently, but the essence is the same. That highest part of you that is simultaneously in the past, present and future and which is in continuous fusion with the true light of love.

If a person does not just connect and talk with him once or twice, but does this regularly, then he will gradually lose the ability to experience negative feelings and emotions: resentment, anger, fear, which destroy him and the world around him.

In the light of love, all destructive feelings dissolve and nothing remains but it.

Now MidgasKaus and Raom-Tiyan are teaching me how to conduct such conversations with people, sessions that can be called communication with the Higher Self, according to their method, which may not be classical, but allows you to train a person to do this at any time without me .

Host: To summarize, we are birthing a new method of regression or communication with the Higher Self, and it will be time-tested. Tatyana will be happy to give her critical feedback if she has any. Irina, thank you for your presence and for your contact.

#26 Contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations Irina Podzorova: answers to questions on VK. What is truth?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/otvety-na-voprosy-v-vk-chto-est-istina

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k1Rd8jDLbDM

00:30 What do Shimora and Tashiga representatives look like?

Irina (LiShioni): The height of the representatives of my civilization is from 180 to 240 cm, the skin is mainly blue and light blue, but on our planet there are 18 different tribes with different skin tones from light blue to a violet shade, which you call bright purple. Otherwise, the physique and body proportions are similar to earthlings.

Representatives of Tashiga have an average height of 110 - 130, a thin flexible body, a large pear-shaped head, two almond-shaped eyes, which are slightly raised with a wide part upward to the temples, a nose and mouth are inconspicuous, they are less reminiscent of people of earthly civilizations than Shimorians. Tashigans have skin ranging from gray to grey-green depending on whether they are Tashigans themselves or from one of their many colonies in the galaxy.

02:55 How many generations of Daraals are reproduced artificially?

Irina (Mid): I have personally known representative Daraal Kirchiton for a long time. For my own personal interest, I studied the history of Daraal. And I can say that for the last 5600 earthly years, the generation of Daraalians has been reproduced through the apparatus. Considering that the average lifespan is about 350 Earth years, it becomes clear that these are tens of generations.

4:07 What are feelings? How many of them does a person have? Where do they live in it and where do they go after the death of the body?

Irina (Mead): What you call feelings is included in the internal structure of the spirit. They are located in the internal structure of the part of the Spirit, which is called the Spiritual Heart or, in other terminology, the Essence. This has nothing to do with the heart as a physical organ. This is the core of the Spirit itself, its Essence, its Essence, on which the other two parts of the Spirit already depend - mind and energy. After the death of the physical body, feelings do not go anywhere, they remain in the Spirit and together with it they go into the spiritual world to the level that it reached during life in the material world.

5:50 Define the word conscience and where did it come from?

Irina (Mead): As I said earlier, conscience is the name in Russian for that part of the Spirit that is associated with contact with the Higher Self. That is, with that part of its energy, consciousness, subconscious and everything else, which is the image of God, the light of God within every spirit. Conscience, like intuition, does not directly relate to the mind, feelings, or energy. It permeates everything, just as light permeates space. Conscience, like light, like love, did not come from anywhere; on the contrary, it is that energy, that consciousness, that will, that mind, which is precisely the reason for the manifestation of all other parts of the Spirit. That is, I am talking about that one light that gave birth to us all. Of course, in your society it often speaks to you not through your inner voice, as it is with us at Esler, but through the moral guidelines of your society, your parents, and other sources that are authoritative for you. But all this comes from the fact that you do not practice widespread dissemination of information about contact with that inner light that is inside each of you.

8:30 They say that there were two moons orbiting the Earth. Is it so? How many years ago, by whom and why were they destroyed?

Irina (LiShioni): The history of the Solar System, which was given earlier, tells you that before the war of the Selbetians with the Tumesoutians and Burkhadians for your planet, the Earth did not have a single natural satellite at all. After the war, when the Earth was moving away from the Sun and even left the ecliptic plane, the powerful ships of your creators stopped its removal from the Sun with the help of their gravitational fields and installed it in that orbit, giving it the speed of rotation around its axis and around your star that you see Now. And, since the Earth moved away from the Sun, on its way it captured into its gravitational field the planet that was between the Earth and Mars. The small planet that you now know as the Moon. The Moon was then about 14 times closer to the Earth and there was a real danger of a collision between the two planets. But by the forces of the MS, the orbits of the two celestial bodies were adjusted in such a way as you see now. It is for this reason that the Moon always faces the Earth with one side.

11:00 Where did the information on Earth about the three moons come from then? Or maybe this is some kind of mythological story or some kind of idea about some civilizations?

Irina: There is also information about several Suns. The Moons, the Suns - these are all those MS objects, mainly of the Tumesoutians, huge round ships of light that appeared in the sky, in the Earth’s orbit were actually its satellites, base stations, and naturally the ancient people mistook them for the Moon, for the Sun. They were visible very well, because, for example, even what you call Nibiru, this ship has a diameter of about several hundred kilometers. This is indeed the base of many ships, a factory for the production of robots and much more.

Maxim's comment: Interesting, that is, this is not the planet Nibiru, but there is a ship? Or is there a planet Nibiru?

Irina: There was one that was destroyed near Sirius, from which an asteroid belt remained. By the way, on one of Irina's contacts, Kirchiton took her to just one of these asteroids near Sirius, where there is still a Tumesout base where the remains of the planet are being studied.

13:00 At whose expense is the budget of the state of your planets replenished?

Irina (LiShioni): The budget of our planet is replenished thanks to the coordinated work of all parts of our society. That is, our economy is based on state control of trade turnover and on the conscious, free subordination of all citizens of the planet to this control. That is, the basis of our budget is the production of exactly those goods that the population really needs, and the sale of these goods for those monetary units that are the unit of labor in a particular area.

15:05 What are your monetary units? What are their names?

Irina: Lampshin.

Maxim's comment: How many lamps does a Shimorets get on average?

Irina: For a period equal to three rotations of Shimor around himself, about 110 hours in Earth time, 520 lamps.

Maxim's comment: MidgasCaus, how is your system structured?

Irina: In general, our system resembles the communal distribution of produced things and objects. That is, the production of our goods is not endless, as much as the consumer wants, but according to order. If you need to produce some product for which there is a demand in society, our factory produces it, you might say. Each Eslerite has a special device at home, one might call it a computer, which connects him with the universal network of producers. Using it, you can send a request to this database, whatever it needs. And based on this data, orders are already being formed to produce more in a given month.

Maxim's comment: How do you earn money to buy these goods?

Irina: Every city in our city has its own community administration. The Esler Community Union generates money. But we don't have real paper money, we pay with what you would call chips. We have electronic money. Naturally, either the government transfers electronic money to the account of one or another Eslerite, or if it is an MS, for example, those structures in which the Eslerite works. For a long time now we have no real money that can be produced as material media.

19:56 How do you trade with other planets? Do you even engage in trade with other planets?

Irina: In general, as a civilization, no, but as individuals, there are. The MS has special converters in which you can convert our internal Esler currency to the intragalactic one.

20:30 Why did aliens create people on Earth, but did not themselves settle on this planet?

Irina: Because the planet was first chosen precisely to observe the natural evolution of primates in such conditions of a diverse animal world. And then, when natural evolution did not occur for 2 million years, this planet was chosen to conduct an experiment to create a hybrid, as you already know, of three civilizations and an earthly primate. There are enough planets in the galaxy where representatives of any civilization can settle. There are many more stars with planets than without them.

21:40 What was the number of people on the planet at the time the decision was made to settle on Venus and Mars?

Irina (LiShioni): According to MS historical data, at the time the decision was made to settle on Venus and Mars, there were about 2.5 million people on Earth.

22:25 What was the number of people on the planet at the time the decision was made to settle on Venus and Mars?

Irina: Initially, they settled 20,000 on Venus and 20,000 on Mars about 200,000 years ago.

22:46 How was this dispersal supposed to speed up evolution?

Irina: Thus, MS scientists have created a theory that in societies isolated on other planets, social evolution will take a different path, and there will be more opportunities for creating societies with their own laws, concepts in which certain things will be embodied in the future perfume. Because different living conditions, different nature, distance from the Sun and everything else, it was believed that this affects civilization.

23:52 Who brought Christianity to Rus' and why?

Irina (Made): If we talk about the mass spread of Christianity, then this was done by one of the princes of your state in the past, whom you all know, and who is canonized as Saints, like Equal-to-the-Apostles Vladimir. He is called equal to the apostles because he, as an apostle, brought this teaching to another country. This was his decision at the time of his acquaintance with Christianity in Constantinople. He decided that it was more in line with the laws that he established in his principality, that it would help the unity of Rus' under the single banner of Jesus Christ more than those disparate clans, tribes and even individual families that existed earlier. They often came out from under the influence of the prince, since they were fans of various gods, priests, and all this was dispersed among various egregors. Therefore, seeing ideological disagreement in the ranks of his subjects - the Slavic tribes, he decided to introduce not only because he himself sincerely believed in Christ. How could he be sincere at that moment, because he really had a very difficult life, too, and there was a lot of contradictory things in his soul. He decided that this religion would be suitable for him and his family, and to further consolidate the power of him and his sons on the throne. At that time, he decided so, and this was one of his leading motives.

27:09 Why is the migration of peoples happening now and what is happening to Europe?

Irina (Mid): Often in contact with representatives of your world, I hear speeches about how something terrible is happening to Europe, that it is being captured by representatives of Asian peoples, that this assimilation will not lead to anything good, and other speeches. Naturally, I will express my personal attitude to these issues. Exactly the same thing is happening to Europe, as should happen due to the low birth rate in European countries and the overestimation of this indicator in Asian countries. Because all this is happening at a faster pace than it would have been if there had not been that war in Asia, which was unleashed by your earthly military and political structures, which are influenced mainly by economic programs. In the sense that there are a lot of mineral resources in the region of war, and it is the struggle for influence on these regions that the leading powers are waging among themselves, which simply, one might say, pit these peoples against each other, fighting for influence on them in order to receive through them minerals. I think that if the leading world powers unite, they will be able to quickly, within 2-3 Earth days, stop that war with terrorists. They are able to do this due to their technical component and human resources. But the whole point is that it is precisely those oligarchic structures of the Western world that turn Islam into a bait for young Islamic fundamentalists, who then make weapons with money secretly transferred from precisely those same Western oligarchs. And all this in order to keep this region in tension, to fight for influence on the minds of these peoples, as I said, in order to take possession of what is rightfully theirs - what is under their feet. And that is why the influx of Asians into Europe is a natural influx, since they are fleeing that life, from war, from hunger, from diseases, from epidemics that are caused by these actions. Naturally, obeying the instinct of self-preservation, they will look for a better place for themselves and their children. In fact, this is an indicator of a deeper problem in your society, namely the disunity of earthlings as states. If you were united at least in the desire to restore peace on the entire planet, then in 24, maximum 48 hours, all terrorist groups would be stopped.

32:42 According to Andrei Tyunyaev, there are many biorobots, chimeras, clones and hybrids on Earth, but there are practically no people left in the image of God. What do you think about it?

Irina (LiShioni): I would like to clarify with respected Tyunyaev what signs he uses to determine who has the image of God and who is a biorobot. If Tyunyaev or the one who asked the question has this information, I will be happy to familiarize myself with it. By what criteria does the respected Mr. Tyunyaev identify clones, biorobots, chimeras on Earth and separate them from people with the image of God? Does he have an accurate instrument for establishing the quantity or quality of this image in the souls of people? It is impossible to answer this question without knowing what a person means by these concepts.

Maxim's comment: I think he means that there is a physical body, but there is no soul in it.

Irina: To judge who has a soul and who doesn't, you have to be God. And not just God, it must be completely in the light of God. And at the same time, even if you are completely in the light of God, you will never tell someone who is not in it that he is a biorobot. You'll just say he's not at that level yet.

35:29 Are there physical bodies without souls?

Irina: Yes, corpses. Any physical body in which there is life force, in which the spirit is embodied, has a soul.

35:58 What is Tarot, Scandinavian runes, Book of All-Light Literacy and can we use all of this?

Irina (Mid): The objects you named refer to the knowledge systems of various peoples and, or rather, not even the peoples themselves, but their priests. Tarot, runes, initial letters - these are all symbols of the concepts that are encrypted in them. They were created to be taught by older priests to younger ones. That is, these are some symbols of the secret priestly language. Naturally, they were different in every nation. And even then, over time, when the cults that gave rise to these knowledge systems began to be replaced by Christianity and other more modern belief systems, those priests and mystics who later used these systems put their meaning into the ancient symbols. And it is not a fact that it coincided with their original ancient meaning. You can use everything if you know exactly why you are doing it and what it brings to you. There is no absolute prohibition here. This is a matter of the soul of every person. There can be no absolute prohibitions here, because there is nothing wrong with these knowledge systems, they are just ancient systems of concepts. It's like, is it possible to read the myths of ancient Greece to a child? It is possible, even necessary, I would say. There is nothing unnatural, nothing dark in these systems. These are absolutely adequate systems of ancient mystical symbolism that described the real world. By the word real world I also mean the spiritual world.

39:11 Is it possible to harm yourself by using these structures illiterately?

Irina: You can harm yourself by using anything incorrectly. Here illiteracy rather than use is harmful. That is, to put it simply, if a person misuses some material or spiritual object, subject or teaching, he will definitely harm himself and others. A very simple example: can the teachings of Christ harm someone? Would you say no? Remember the fires of the Inquisition. What is this? This is precisely the wrong application of his teachings. It is not the teaching of Christ that harms, but its incorrect understanding. I repeat once again that Christ brought a bright teaching, but even this teaching did not prevent people from turning it into the flame of bonfires.

40:35 What is truth?

Irina (Mid): I will answer the question again. Since this question literally repeats the question Pontius Pilate asked Jesus Christ. He asked him what truth is. As you remember, Christ did not answer anything to this. This question cannot be answered in a way that will be true for everyone. Now you will think that I am saying that the truth is different for everyone, which means you can do whatever you want. This is wrong. In fact, there is only one truth. Truth is just a word written on paper. For you - those who have not yet known it. And when you know it, this question will lose its meaning, because you will learn that the words: Truth, Light, Good, Love, Life are names of the same energy that created everything around and which gave birth to us all.

42:16 What is Reiki and can it be used?

Irina (LiShioni): What you call the word Reiki is the energy of 11 plasmoid civilizations, directed by their unification specifically to change the life processes in the cells of dense material bodies. These 11 plasmoid civilizations also include the civilizations of your Sun, Sirius, Arcturus, and Betelgeuse. This association is similar to our MS, only this is all in a subtle material sense. Just like with tarot, Christianity, any teaching and practice, this must be applied, knowing exactly what you are doing, why, and accurately following all the rules of the system in which you find yourself. Correct use of Reiki and getting rid of the belief that it is a panacea for everything does not bring anything bad.

44:13 Is it really the choice of the child's Spirit when a mother tortures her own child to death? Is this the Spirit's path to self-development and self-improvement? What is evil for?

Irina (Mid): Actually, this question is very simple. Evil, as the action of Spirits, in the world is necessary for the manifestation of that freedom that is originally inherent in all Spirits. That is, a mother, torturing her own child, with this torture demonstrates her free will not to be in the light, God, truth, but to be in its opposite. The right was originally given to all Spirits, because love, like light, can only be free. Before incarnation, the Spirit is given a life program, but it does not include death from the evil actions of other Spirits. That is, the murderer's action, in other words, cannot be justified by the fact that this program was created by the soul of the murdered person in some way. This is truly his personal evil. Why this happened precisely to the soul that was next to him at the moment of his immersion in negativity is, of course, not an accident. This murdered soul must also learn a lesson in forgiveness, acceptance of what has already happened in the spiritual world. But this does not mean at all that such a program was created. For example, this happens with the souls of unborn children. They had a clear life program, they thought about it for a long time, came to life, but they were not even allowed to be born by those parents who were responsible for their birth. In this case, the program is simply interrupted, and the Spirit goes back to the queue for incarnation. Another important aspect in this matter is that when a person dies a natural death, he dies according to his program. That is, he comes to the spiritual world already ready for the transition. When he dies a violent death, it always happens when he is not ready. That is why the ICJ is strongly opposed to the death penalty in any of its manifestations. Since in this way you can bring even more harm to the Spirit, who became an evil demon and killed many people. The motive of revenge in these cases is unacceptable, since revenge for the murder committed will not bring the killer's Spirit to awareness. It will lead to the entry of an unprepared Spirit into the spiritual world and its greater degradation, which does not meet the general goal of the evolution of all Spirits of the entire spiritual world. Therefore, murder is always evil, it is always against the program. And it cannot be justified by anything, not even by choice. That is, it cannot be said that if a person killed someone, then it was planned that way by the program, and the killer carried it out. In this case, there is no one to judge, you need to judge the one who created this program.

50:18 What is lithotherapy? And what energy is in the stones?

Irina (LiShioni): Crystals and stones are objects composed of certain molecules that naturally emit certain types of energies. In MS terminology, these are first-level energies, that is, electromagnetic oscillations of one frequency or another. By influencing the electromagnetic fields of the physical bodies of humanoids, they can activate or suppress one or another process in the cells, which is what lithotherapy is based on. Some crystals and stones have so-called crystal lattice memory. These are special properties of stones and crystals that allow a person or humanoid, having directed their life force into this object, to charge this life force with one or another thought form, which will subsequently influence the auras of other people and humanoids. Not only stones have this, but also crystals, even salt and sugar, for example. They have the ability to recharge, that is, to absorb charges of the vital force that comes from people and their emotional outbursts.

Maxim's comment: What energy do the stones themselves carry? That is, is it possible to massage with stones or apply stones or treat organs?

Irina (LiShioni): The stones themselves have energy of the first, second and third levels, like all substances. But mainly the energy of the first level comes from them, that is, these are electromagnetic fields of one frequency or another. They can influence the electromagnetic fields of the organs of the physical body and either activate or suppress certain metabolic processes; they synthesize various substances there. In fact, lithotherapy is one of the subtypes of physiotherapy, that is, treatment by nature.

Maxim's comment: So all this works, all this is effective?

Irina (Mid): Yes. Your people are well aware of the effect that is observed in people who suffer from attacks of rheumatism, for example, from lying on hot stones. Or from covering yourself with sand, clay, dirt and other forms of material energies that act both through substances that penetrate the skin, and no less through heat, which we consider the same electromagnetic radiation, one of the types of energies of the first level of these substances. And even the same minerals, the same belemnite, for example, has its own energy, its own substance, which at the chemical level acts as a substitute for many minerals that are sold. And at the energy level, since it is very ancient, lived in the atmosphere of that antediluvian earth, gained energy and substances there, it activates the human energy system.

55:40 What does extraterrestrial intelligence think about the church and corruption in this structure? How does this affect ordinary people who are not yet ready to move beyond the church?

Irina (Mead): Yes, someone else’s sin cannot in any way affect the sincerity of another person, who through him receives the effect of an egregor built before him many centuries ago. Corruption in the sphere of church, politics, economics and other spheres in this society is inevitable, since your society itself is based on the promotion of consumption. This propaganda does not bypass the church either. It consists of those people in your society, in which you are all. The personal sin of the priest to whom a person comes to receive grace through the sacrament cannot in any way affect the power of this grace. Since God is capable of manifesting himself through any matter, through any person, even through an animal. And naturally, it can manifest itself through any egregor. The main thing here is the sincerity of the person coming and his complete trust not in the church as an institution, but in Jesus Christ as a person, his love for him. This is what opens access to the energies of the egregor.

58:00 For what purpose is the second coming of Christ planned?

Irina (Meade): The second coming of Christ is not planned to reward the good and destroy the evil. Any war, any battle brings only new problems and expenses, which is not in the MS in general and especially in Jesus Christ as one of its main inspirers. The purpose of the second coming of Jesus Christ in the same physical body in which he was killed here last time will be that when the Earth enters the MC, Christ will personally come to receive it there.

Maxim's comment: That is, until the moment the Earth is ready to enter the MS, there can be no talk of any second coming of Christ?

Irina: From the representatives of Burkhad, who directly communicated with Christ in his space on the planet Burkhad, the following information came - Jesus Christ is aware of everything that is happening on Earth, and he decided to make the second coming precisely an act of joining the MS, since it will be the entire MC knows that what he experienced on Earth in his first incarnation was not in vain. And when he appears here with representatives of Tumesout, Burkhad and other representatives of the MS, according to the Burkhadians, the first thing he will say is that I personally came to join you to the MS, where you will become the 117th civilization, and we will now be together with you, and I I can live on Earth as freely as I lived on Burkhad, and how long I have been waiting for this moment.

Maxim's comment: Is Christ alive?

Irina: Yes, of course, he is not only alive in the Spirit, he is alive precisely in the body that was crucified, buried and resurrected.

Maxim’s comment: How does the egregor that he built affect Christ now?

Irina: Christ influences him. He supports him with his energy, his Spirit. He built it together with the Burkhadians, directing them here, giving them direct instructions to build a Christian egregor precisely for the fulfillment of the center of everything Christian, all Christian life, which you call the sacrament of the Eucharist, and it really changes at this moment. Not the chemical and physical characteristics of bread and wine, but the energy component, which becomes indistinguishable from the energy component of the blood and body of that Christ who is on Burkhad. All this is done in order to change the physical characteristics of your body, to suppress your animal genetic nature, which prevents the Spirit from manifesting itself in all its manifestations.

M. Bronevsky: Greetings Raom Tiyan. Today is another series of “Answers to Questions”.

Irina : Raom Tiyan greets you, all listeners and members of the Cassiopeia group.

01:12 Space cycles and the development of civilizations.

M. Bronevsky: Thank you, Raom Tiyan. So, let's go. First question. There is an opinion that there are cosmic cycles when certain star systems, when moving in space, enter zones of space with a predominance of either low-frequency energies or high-frequency energies. In one case, the degradation of civilization is likely, in the other case, there is a possibility of civilization flourishing. In particular, according to many sources, since the 90s, our Earth has already entered zones of space where high-frequency or high-vibration energies predominate, and now there are all the prerequisites for the spiritual development and prosperity of humanity. In the Slavic Vedas, such cosmic cycles are called the Night of Svarog and the Day of Svarog.

And the question is: do these cycles really exist, and is our Earth now on the threshold of a new Golden Age?

Irina : Such cycles exist, but personally I would not associate them specifically with the movement of planets in space around the center of the galaxy. These cycles, rather, are associated with the cycle of redistribution of spirits of various levels of the spiritual world in incarnations in the material world.

To put it simply, in one cycle on one of the planets, a larger percentage of spirits incarnate from the highest levels of the spiritual world, which we call from the 17th to the 24th, those that you call angels. And in some cycles of a particular civilization, more spirits from low levels of the spiritual world, which you call demons, are incarnated.

And each planet, each civilization goes through 4 development cycles, in which the percentage of these spirits varies. But here, too, everything is very individual and the duration of a particular cycle is not strictly regulated. Thus, this duration largely depends on the actions of civilization itself, that is, on the actions of the spirits embodied in it. That is, bright feelings and thoughts that form the noosphere of a particular planet are capable of shortening the dark cycle of incarnation of a greater number of low-vibration spirits in this world. And, on the contrary, if the dark cycle is already coming to an end, but there are many embodied spirits living on the planet who produce a lot of low-frequency energies, then the dark cycle continues, even if in time it should have ended.

All this is not strictly regulated and is largely controlled by the civilization itself, which exists in one place or another in space and time.

04:48 Cosmic cycle of the Earth's development.

M. Bronevsky: What cycle is the Earth in now?

Irina : Your world is now in the penultimate cycle of the dark time, after which there begins first a cycle of an even greater decrease in vibrations, and then an upward rise. Figuratively speaking, if the dark cycle is considered the night of the earthly time of day, then this is the time after sunset, but midnight has not yet arrived; after half the night, the time of approaching dawn comes.

But at present, many Interstellar Union specialists note that your development process has accelerated significantly compared to predictions, and there are high hopes that you will go through the dark cycle faster than planned.

06:37 Indigo people and the development of earthlings.

M. Bronevsky: Okay. Then this question: there is also an opinion that now high-vibration spirits from different worlds and dimensions are actively coming to Earth, which some sources call such a term as Indigo people, as I understand it, due to the fact that energy flows of color predominate in their aura indigo. Is this really true?

Irina : Yes, they come. During your development cycle, many spirits incarnate on your planet from demonic low-vibration worlds, and the percentage of spirits that incarnate from high-vibration angelic worlds, they largely decide to do this themselves, that is, they consciously go to live in this cycle here, on Earth. In the spiritual angelic world, many are ready to incarnate on planets like yours in order to raise the overall spiritual level and to help you build a society where low-vibration spirits will either be blocked or have the opportunity for personal development created for them.

High vibrational spirits, going through the period of childhood in the physical body, they really don't remember much, but they have the opportunity to use a large amount of information that is stored in their unconscious memory. That is, without remembering their incarnations and life in the spiritual world, they have access to some abilities that they had in past incarnations, and have access to that subconscious memory of life in the spiritual world, which tunes them in this life to high vibrations. That is why blue and violet colors predominate in their aura, which show that their higher energy centers are well developed.

09:07 The influence of society on the Spirit of the indigo man.

M. Bronevsky: But if we talk about their childhood, then our society does not lead them to the vector of materiality, do they not move away from their goals?

Irina : Everything can be very different. I remind you once again that the level from which the spirit incarnates can change greatly in the course of life. That is, how a high-vibration spirit, carried away by certain aspects of life in the material world, can greatly lower its level. So, on the contrary, a low-vibration spirit, a demon, having gone through some lessons in the material world and having met either people, or books, or teachings that will awaken in him what you call conscience, repentance, due to the awareness of his mistakes and a sincere desire to correct them , can very much rise to a much higher spiritual level during his incarnation.

All this is very individual. And it is impossible to predict in advance what path the spirit will take in the material world. One can only assume that the plans for the embodiment of one or another spirit involve some growth, but, unfortunately, they are not always fulfilled.

11:03 Development of civilization and reduction in the number of low-vibration spirits

M. Bronevsky: As I understand it, with the evolutionary development of any cosmic civilization, the range when low-vibration spirits can incarnate in this civilization is ultimately reduced?

Irina : Low vibration spirits can incarnate in any civilization that exists, both humanoid type and plasmoid type in any galaxy. Even those that are highly developed. But in fact, the cleaner the noosphere of the planet, the less low-vibration energy it contains, the fewer demons are sent to incarnate in these worlds, and then only those who need to learn a lesson in life in these communities that have reached their highest point development, both spiritual and material.

12:15 Universe and the Supreme Coordination Council.

M. Bronevsky: In the last communication session with MidgasCaus, we discussed galactic and intergalactic communities and here is a question in connection with this: is there some kind of coordinating body of the most developed civilizations that oversees the entire universe, solves problems at the level of the entire Universe?

Irina : Just as the galaxies farthest from us that are part of the Intergalactic Union can observe, there are other galaxies that are not visible to us. And in fact, the end of the Universe has not yet been found, and therefore it is not only too early to speak for the entire Universe, but, I think, it is impossible, because the further we move in the study of space, in the study of the Universe, the more we understand that we are learning only a small facet of reality.

M. Bronevsky: So it turns out that during your development you come across certain intelligent structures that are new to you?

Irina : Regularly.

13:56 Secret religious communities of Earth and extraterrestrial forces.

M. Bronevsky: Are there any extraterrestrial forces behind secret societies and Masonic lodges?

Irina : Among the communities you named, it is quite possible that there are contactees. I have not specifically studied the issue of your secret religious communities, but, most likely, some kind of community will be formed around the contactee with this or that civilization, which, for various mystical and occult reasons, can become secret, even invent its own language, inaccessible to the uninitiated. The same thing happened in your ancient times, when such secret communities were communities of priests, shamans and other clergy, of completely different religions, different peoples. There were a lot of contactees among them.

How much extraterrestrial forces influence these communities is, of course, an open question and all this is very individual, since the information transmitted by aliens, even to members of these communities who are contactees, can be interpreted differently, and, moreover, the contactee may not tell other members of his community what he knows. That is, when we (“we” - I mean the civilizations of the Interstellar Union) come into contact with earthlings and transmit information, we do not force or force the contactee to state everything in the form in which he received it. After all, it is always his free choice of what exactly to reveal to his people, to whom he reveals his contact: either to keep everything to himself, or to interpret it depending on his worldview. We have no right to communicate differently, since there is complete freedom of choice.

16:22 Level of development of the contactee and transmitted information.

M. Bronevsky: It turns out that the more erudite a person is, the purer the information passing through him?

Irina : We always try to speak in contactee terminology. The fact is that if we use words and terms that he does not understand, it will be very difficult for both him and us to convey information. Even the very fact of contact with an alien life form is very unusual for many contactees, sometimes painfully experienced, so we try to be closer, we try to speak in a language that he understands, so as not to move away from him psychologically.

17:13 Surprisingly unique life forms of the Universe.

M. Bronevsky: When discovering new Universes, new frontiers, do you sometimes come across new forms of life that surprise you, that you did not even expect - in their uniqueness, in their structure?

Irina : Yes, this happens. And this is exactly what happened to your world, your planet 5 million years ago, when it was discovered by space explorers from the planet Tumesout. They were amazed, and the representatives of our Burkhad civilization were amazed at the diversity of life in the hydrosphere, in the atmosphere, in the lithosphere - in general, in all the shells of the planet. Life was developed, both microbiological, plant life and animal life in a wide variety of forms.

There were a lot of explorers here from all over not only our galaxy, and almost all of them were amazed when they first visited this planet and encountered the diversity of life on it. As they say, and we also have a similar saying - it is better to see once than to hear a hundred times. And for many galactic explorers this was and is the case.

18:51 Using the free energy of vacuum on Earth.

M. Bronevsky: Will humanity in the near future be able to switch to new energy sources using the free energy of the vacuum? What is needed for this – new scientific knowledge?

Irina : For you to switch to using the free energy of vacuum, you need not only new scientific knowledge, you need a complete change in your entire scientific paradigm. What you have now, your scientific picture of the world, which describes the universe, does not allow you to even begin experiments in the direction of discovering the free energy of the vacuum. I know that there are some theories, there are assumptions, but before you use it and convert it into other forms of energy available to you, for example, electricity, you first need to clearly and specifically prove its existence in general, and not only in a vacuum, but in every cubic millimeter of physical space.

For these studies, for these experiments, you have all the necessary scientific forces, that is, your physicists, astrophysicists and other specialists are ready to begin studying, but here the political-economic factor comes into play, since research into new types of energy will interfere with those people who sell energy sources available to you.

21:11 The thinking of researchers and the development of scientific knowledge.

M. Bronevsky: Does such a factor as the thinking of researchers play a role here? That is, this old scientific knowledge of ours, modern knowledge, creates a kind of blockage for the development of new things, that is, until this blockage is removed, it is impossible to carry out any new experiments, because there is no understanding of how to do it?

Irina : For many people, the current picture of the world really prevents them from not only conducting new experiments, but even adequately perceiving already conducted experiments. So, it is known that many scientists, even from the 19th century, which is so close to you, said that, for example, it was impossible for an airplane to fly, since it was heavier than air. And many said that stones cannot fall from the sky, since there are no stones there, and those stones that fall are fakes, etc.

This was said not by some peasants, not by some uneducated people, but by scientists. And why they said that and could not believe that the impossible was possible for them - because they had very highly developed critical thinking, which in the scientific community of your world is considered a virtue. And this critical thinking rejected all new knowledge and new experiments in order to preserve the very picture of the world in which they were confident.

23:34 Scientists are innovators and conservatives.

M. Bronevsky: But, it seems to me, the main problem of many researchers is that they block any opportunities for themselves with their critical thinking. It turns out that a person thinks in such a way that this is impossible, but why not think the other way around: let me find all the possibilities to accomplish what is, at first glance, impossible.

Irina : In general, you have not only people, but also all the spirits - they are all very different, and they are divided, one might say, by character into innovators and conservatives. These are two completely different models of thinking, and it is sometimes very difficult for such spirits, whether incarnated or not, to understand each other.

M. Bronevsky: Both types exist among researchers.

Irina : Both types exist among researchers. And the task of your government, the task of your scientific communities is to create conditions for more people with flexible thinking to come into science and, especially into education (since it is education, school education, that influences the formation of the primary picture of the world of a person, a future scientist-researcher). and capable, albeit critically, of comprehending information. At the same time, do not be afraid to admit some unusual theories that conservatives are usually afraid to admit, lest their picture of the world be destroyed.

25:13 Intelligent spirits and scientific development of earthlings.

M. Bronevsky: But I have a suspicion that intelligent spirits come from other worlds, from other extraterrestrial civilizations, incarnate here and become scientists in order to somehow “shatter” our civilization, the scientific world, a little. Is there such a thing?

Irina : Of course. The spiritual world is one for the entire Universe. Anyone who lived on any planet in our or any other galaxy, or in general in a plasmoid world, can naturally incarnate on Earth.

M. Bronevsky: That is, if, for example, he was an engineer there, he can bring his knowledge here, right?

Irina : Yes. But the fact is that, due to memory blocking, he will not specifically remember his life on this or that planet and the ideas that he carried in that world. Some thoughts, some desires and aspirations naturally remain in his spirit, since the character of this spirit has already been formed in those incarnations. And naturally, having found himself in one or another environment in a new earthly world, he will strive more to be an innovator, to think boldly, to invent some things, than the spirit that has incarnated many times on Earth. And he will be more likely to be an innovator than a conservative.

27:00 Types of technical devices for generating electricity on alien bases.

M. Bronevsky: What types of technical devices for generating electricity are used at alien bases on Earth and on the Moon?

Irina : The most varied types. These could be what you call solar panels, but in a slightly different form (we extract more energy from the light and radiation of stars, including your Sun, than you do in your solar panels). These can be installations that convert gravitational energy or free vacuum energy, electrical energy, magnetic energy, radio waves and many others. These are different converters.

M. Bronevsky: So the principles can be completely different?

Irina: There may be different solutions depending on the design of the base itself, the purpose of a particular device, or even on the preference of a particular civilization.

28:23 Technological balance with nature on planet Burhad.

M. Bronevsky: How did you come to a technological balance with nature on your planet? How long did it take and does this period depend on the level of consciousness?

Irina : For a long time, our civilization developed only in the conditions of our planet, but we realized that natural resources need to be protected, including not only minerals, but also clean air, water, nature in general - this is the same resource as useful fossils, for future generations. Our civilization was able to realize this without going through environmental disasters or even those periods when they could threaten us.

That is, our civilization, since the advent of the first intelligent Burkhadians, lived more in fusion with nature than followed the technocratic path of development. Of course, we had technology, but it was only a means to achieve certain goals, and we never put it in first place. For us, even the exploration of space, the exploration of other planets and contacts with the Interstellar Union first began on the astral level, that is, without any spaceships. We went into space on our spaceships later, but we developed interstellar flights much faster. We did not do it in such a way as to first visit some planets of our system and then stay inside it for a long time - the development of interstellar flights in spaceships went much faster for us than for you after the beginning of the space age.

This, of course, also depends on the general level of awareness of spirits in a particular civilization, on development cycles, which, as I have already said, are largely individual. Therefore, I believe that the percentage of consumption of natural resources on a particular planet and the general attitude of civilization towards nature still largely depends on the ideology that is formed in society by one or another Government.

M. Bronevsky: And now your priority is also the development of consciousness, and technical development is in the background?

Irina : Now, after going into space and beginning the active exploration of our galaxy, the process of converting natural resources into our consumption of vitality, energy and other benefits that our civilization has on a technical and generally material level has been significantly simplified. Because we have already transferred many of the production of instruments and spacecraft either to planets that are not suitable for organic life, or even into outer space. And even the consumption of Burkhad's internal natural resources is under control in the sense that although we do not have birth control, as in many other worlds of the Interstellar Union, this is only because we are developing more and more new planets to create colonies and settlement throughout the galaxy.

Moreover, our science is actively exploring those planets in star systems on which life was previously impossible. This is what you call "Terra formation". We can install one or another planet that was previously unsuitable for life, for example, due to excessive proximity to its star or an unsuitable atmosphere, but, of course, within certain limits, into a new orbit around the star. We can change the angle of inclination, change its atmosphere and many other parameters that allow us to still create a colony there if it is convenient for us for some reason. And this direction is now actively developing. We have colonies even outside the galaxy, naturally, with the permission of the Interstellar Unions of those galaxies.

M. Bronevsky: So it turns out that there is coordination between our Interstellar Union and the same union of another galaxy, when it is necessary to obtain permission, for example, for construction, etc.?

Irina : Yes, there are both extragalactic colonies of our planet and other worlds in other galaxies, and there are also exchange processes - colonies in our galaxy, belonging to civilizations from other galaxies.

35:00 Ecological disasters and the existence of civilizations.

M. Bronevsky: Have there been such cases when an environmental disaster was so great that civilization simply ceased to exist?

Irina : Yes, there have been such cases. There have been cases when a civilization that had mastered interstellar travel almost completely perished from an environmental disaster on its planet, and only a small part of its inhabitants could move to another world. This happened, for example, with the planet Daraal. This story is known to everyone in the galaxy.

They lived on a planet in a completely different place in the galaxy, and they had a catastrophe that claimed many, many lives of the inhabitants of that planet, and only a small part moved to that place in space that you call the constellation Cassiopeia. Because of this disaster, the government of Daraal decided to limit the birth rate, strictly control the number of inhabitants on their planet and introduce many other things into their laws so as not to repeat the fate of that planet.

M. Bronevsky: So it turns out that for civilization this is such a good shake-up for the future - what should not be done?

Irina : For them, this is exactly how it turned out.

36:47 Blocking the memory of past incarnations.

M. Bronevsky: There is a concept that a certain energy field is installed within the Earth, which blocks the memory of past incarnations when a person is born. Is it so?

Irina : The memory of past incarnations is blocked in all spirits that incarnate in the material world. This occurs due to the need for spirits to adapt not only to a new body, but also to a new environment in general, a new world, and new knowledge that he will receive there. Past memory, past experience can interfere with this.

M. Bronevsky: Is this also happening in Burkhad?

Irina : Yes.

37:32 Impact of an alien implant (chip) on a contactee.

M. Bronevsky: I have information that when some contactees had physical implants installed in the head area, they began to see energy flows of people, plants, trees, as well as some disembodied spirits, and other psychic abilities were also activated. Thus, it turns out that the installed implants somehow unlock the person's brain, and he begins to see what he could not see before. Is this really happening?

Irina : Indeed, there are types of devices that activate the ability of the receptors of the physical body to perceive certain types of radiation, both the electromagnetic plane, and the ability to feel and see the energies of the spiritual world (what you call the astral world). But again, you need to remember that not only the implant affects the contactee, but also the contactee's body itself, his spirit, his psyche influence the implant itself. That is, the same implant installed in different people gives different results depending on the person's initial abilities, depending on his attitude in general to the entire contact situation. The influence of an implant is not an influence from the outside, it is not controlling a person; it is, rather, helping him to establish contact and perceive other types of energy and thought forms.

39:25 Extrasensory abilities of the incarnate Spirit.

M. Bronevsky: As I understand it, with spiritual development, what we call extrasensory abilities automatically turns on when a person goes through certain stages of development?

Irina : There is no system that would automatically include the abilities of everyone who has gone through one or another system.

M. Bronevsky: So you still need some kind of training, besides spiritual development?

Irina : You need to clearly understand that the development of certain abilities must meet the tasks of the spirit that has incarnated. If in a given incarnation he must go through lessons in the manifestation of some special abilities and bringing into the world what he can bring with their help, then they may even activate themselves. For example, through some kind of impetus for the manifestation of ability (taking some lesson in the material world, some kind of meeting or some kind of contact). But we must remember that an ability that others do not have is not only an opportunity, it is also a responsibility. And, moreover, this can be a difficult lesson for the embodied spirit who has this ability, in terms of how he must treat it correctly. He must simultaneously not reject her and begin to believe that he has something special that others do not have. This can lead him away from spiritual development.

M. Bronevsky: As I understand it, if a person in a previous incarnation had some kind of extrasensory abilities, but in this incarnation he is scheduled to go through another experience, then they will be blocked, that is, they will not be needed by him?

Irina : Yes, it can be so. If he possessed psychic abilities in incarnation, then later, after the death of the body, the spirit in the spiritual world is shown how he used these abilities, how much this led to his growth and development in realizing himself as light, how much this influenced the people around him and to what extent side, and in the future.

When a desire to incarnate again is formed, and he goes to consultants for this, then he is offered several options for incarnation in this or that world, in this or that status, and there psychic abilities may be turned off completely, or something else may be turned on that will be needed for its development now.

43:00 Embodied low-vibration Spirit and psychic abilities.

M. Bronevsky: And when the soul of a demon, say, incarnates in some civilization, can he also have psychic abilities?

Irina : Maybe. This will then be a lesson for him in using these abilities in the state of the demon in which he is, that is, with the help of them he can, for example, begin to do good to people. And with the help of these abilities he will then be able to rise in his development. But at the same time, there is, naturally, a danger of another option - that he will begin to use these abilities for evil. It is precisely in the choice of these two options that his lesson will consist.

44:16 "God" or "Higher Mind": energetic structure or personality.

M. Bronevsky: Can you give a clear definition of the term "God" or "Higher Mind"? Is this some kind of energy that coordinates the universe, some kind of energy structure, or is it a personality?

Irina : I heard, including from my contactees, that the Russian word "God" is translated as "great organizer of the galaxy." And in fact, everything that you see around you now and perceive through the receptors of the body, and you yourself as a spirit, are actually a part of God. That is, the matter that is around you is he. God is everything that is, and everything that can be, and everything that you cannot even imagine. This is the Absolute, this is the one who created all matter and every second supports its existence with his energy. It is simultaneously energy, personality, and oversoul. And all the names that people or even extraterrestrial beings can give, they never reflect the whole of God, but only some of his facets.

M. Bronevsky: And it turns out that this structure permeates all spaces and all Universes that exist around?

Irina : She not only permeates them, she is them in many ways, that is, the matter that exists is God, one of his energies, which is in dense material form. What is a dense material form? This is the form that is accessible to the receptors of the dense material body.

46:25 The concept of “God” or “Higher Mind” on the planet Burkhad.

M. Bronevsky: And at the level of your civilization, is this more of a philosophical concept or closer to a scientific one? Are there any serious experiments that this structure exists, it permeates everything, and so on?

Irina : In our civilization, many spiritual entities, spirits of all levels of the spiritual world are embodied, who bring this knowledge to our culture, science, and philosophy. In our country, science is not separated from the knowledge of God; on the contrary, our knowledge of matter proceeds within the framework of the knowledge that matter is a form of God’s energy accessible to receptors.

We all understand that evidence of the spiritual world can only be given by spiritual means, but not by material means. Matter and spirit are one in their divine nature, but they are in different vibrations. Therefore, we do not need to prove the existence of God or the fact that matter is one of the forms of divine energy to anyone. The very system of our education, our culture, and this is spoken about everywhere, and the ideology of our society completely describes the picture of the world that I told you about, the very paradigm of scientific thinking and thinking in general as such is based on the knowledge that the spirit is primary, and matter is secondary.

I know what is wrong with you on Earth. I know that in your case, matter, for example, the brain, is considered to produce consciousness, etc., and not vice versa, but in fact, the materialistic worldview does not answer a number of the questions that are answered by a worldview in which the spiritual has priority started.

48:57 Definition of the term “God” or “Higher Mind” in various civilizations.

M. Bronevsky: In the information of various contactees with extraterrestrial forces, there is a mention of the Highest in the hierarchy of the cosmic system, which coordinates the work of the entire universe. It has different names - “Higher Mind”, others call it “Creator” or “Creator”, and representatives of the Pleiades use such a term as “Creation”. As I understand it, we are talking about the same structure, it’s just that different civilizations see it a little differently and call it their own?

Irina : In fact, you need to look: different civilizations can talk about the same structure or understand it slightly differently. To understand terminology, you need to look not at the words, but at the meaning behind them.

M. Bronevsky: That is, on the definition of this term?

Irina : Yes. If you come across the same concept expressed in different languages, then it will sound completely different and obey completely different linguistic laws. It’s one thing for you - on one planet called Earth, with similar living conditions and similar societies, and what can we say about different civilizations of the galaxy, and not only dense-material, but also thin-material worlds, plasmoids, of which, by the way, there are a lot in the Pleiades .

M. Bronevsky: It all depends on the level of development, on their experience, through which they went, etc. This is where this philosophy is formed.

Irina : This depends on their level of development, and on the living conditions in a particular world, and even on the characteristics of the body in which they are embodied, since different perceptions of the surrounding world naturally give a different picture of the world.

M. Bronevsky: I heard that the thinking of non-humanoids is very different from the thinking of humanoids?

Irina : Yes, most often this happens.

51:11 The purpose of the spiritual evolution of all beings.

M. Bronevsky: There is an opinion that every creature in the universe needs to evolve in order to rise to the level of the Creator and create their own new universes and worlds, and there is also an opinion that the Universe itself, together with all the intelligent beings inhabiting it, is constantly evolving and all the time moves to a new quality level. Do you agree with these statements?

Irina : I agree with the statement that for every spirit, a rational and immortal spirit, the purpose of its birth in general is not really to become like God, but so that it also becomes the same as God. With the same possibilities for the creation of matter, with the same possibilities for the distribution of material energies and on different levels, as the one who created this material world where we live. That is, I believe that I, as a son of my Father, was born by him in order to become like Him.

52:40 Civilizations from the Pleiades constellation.

M. Bronevsky: Then the following question: often in the information of contactees there is a mention of civilizations from the Pleiades constellation - as a rule, these are creatures that are similar in appearance to us earthlings, only at a higher level of development. Are you familiar with these civilizations? Are they part of the Interstellar Union? Do they have bases on Earth or on the Moon?

Irina : Some civilizations that exist in the Pleiades cluster are part of the Interstellar Union, some are not. There are even colonies of our planet that have existed there for a very long time, but which are not part of the Interstellar Union, they exist separately and have formed their own Union of Pleiades civilizations - for various reasons. And, since they separated from our planet, they have already formed their own separate society, and they may, for one reason or another, not be part of the Interstellar Union. There are also civilizations there that are part of the Interstellar Union. I can also say that there are civilizations there that have not yet achieved not only interstellar flights, they have not even reached your level of development, for example, technical, scientific.

M. Bronevsky: But these are not colonists, did they evolve there?

Irina : Yes, those who developed there evolutionarily. There are, among other things, planets of various forms of hybrids: there are, for example, planets of hybrids of Tashigans and various reptilians and various other forms. There are also experiment planets.

54:39 Independence of colony planets.

M. Bronevsky: I understand that a colony is like a civilization that sets off on a free voyage, and it is responsible for everything itself, that is, for its development, etc.?

Irina : Colonists who first arrive on a particular world may first be connected with their mother planet, and then they can develop and remain in touch with it (constantly in contact with it), but they can also found their own autonomous society. That is, we have no obstacles in this.

M. Bronevsky: And make a decision on your own - whether to join the commonwealth somewhere or not?

Irina : We don't have any types of coercion. If a former colony wishes to separate and live in its own society, there are absolutely no obstacles to this, because the will of any colony is to remain in the Interstellar Union or simply in contact with the mother civilization, just like the will of any planet in the Interstellar Union is to remain in it, or exit at any time.

M. Bronevsky: Is the decision made by the planetary council?

Irina : If we now have 116 planets and some world, using the method of expression of the will of its inhabitants that is accepted in it, decides at the planetary level to leave the Interstellar Union, then according to the laws of the Interstellar Union no one will hold it.

56:22 Exit of civilization from the Interstellar Union.

M. Bronevsky: Have you ever had such situations when, after some time in the Union, someone decided to leave?

Irina : Yes, we had such situations. We had situations where a civilization was excluded from the Interstellar Union, where a war broke out either on the planet itself, or in some colony, or those forces came to power that oppressed the inhabitants of the planet themselves. Well, the most famous case for you is the planet Selbet, whose inhabitants attacked your world 12 thousand years ago.

At first, Selbet was asked to send an expedition here himself to stop his own inhabitants, to help the Interstellar Union stop the Selbet people from destroying the Earth and the Solar System. But since Selbet not only did not listen to the words of the Interstellar Union, but even intensified his aggression, a decision was made to exclude him from the Interstellar Union completely. And its restoration in the Interstellar Union occurred only more than 250 Earth years after the war, when new forces came to power on Selbet and were able to find and punish all those responsible for the aggression. And this process was not quick: there were a lot of checks on the Selbetites, there were a lot of conversations with them, arrivals to that planet, including from Burkhad, that is, the process of leaving was much faster than being accepted back.

58:32 Consequences of violating the rules of the Interstellar Union.

M. Bronevsky: Did you have friction with civilizations from other galaxies that violated some rules here, and then you had to turn to the Interstellar Union of another galaxy for clarification of the situation, etc.?

Irina : Such conflicts arose not at the level of civilizations, but at the level of individual ship pilots or their councils. That is, either individuals or collections of these individuals could violate some agreements with our Interstellar Union on some planet. But the galactic security service, I believe, acted very correctly in these cases: it did not act harshly itself, it informed the Interstellar Union of the galaxy from which the emissaries came, and usually the Interstellar Union of another galaxy very quickly sent representatives of its security service to resolve the situation Here.

59:56 Definition of the term “Civilization” on the planet Burkhad.

M. Bronevsky: Please give your definition of the term “civilization”.

Irina : Civilization in the broadest sense is a community of intelligent inhabitants of this or that world, which creates for itself the conditions of life and activity on this or that planet of the dense material world, or in this or that space of the subtle material world (if these are plasmoids).

1:00:46 Passage of the stage of wars by extraterrestrial civilizations.

M. Bronevsky: Do all extraterrestrial civilizations in their development go through the stage of wars, division of territories or some kind of “showdowns”, or are there civilizations that did not go through this stage?

Irina : There are civilizations that did not go through the stage of wars or went through them to a very small extent. Although I must admit that such civilizations are actually a minority and, unfortunately, our civilization of Burkhad is not included in it.

1:01:20 The danger of alien viruses, bacteria and fungi for earthlings.

M. Bronevsky: Is there a danger of our viruses, bacteria, fungi for aliens, as well as a danger for earthlings in terms of the introduction of alien viruses and bacteria?

Irina : The danger of alien microflora is greatly exaggerated by your biologists. The fact is that each microorganism, in order to infect a macroorganism, must have a certain ability to infect, which depends on the enzymes that a particular microbe secretes to penetrate the macroorganism, to destroy its cells and suppress its immunity. This mechanism is developed not in a few hours, not in a few days, but over many, many centuries of evolution and adaptation of microorganisms and macroorganisms to each other.

An infectious process is always a reaction of a macroorganism to a microorganism that could harm it in some way. If a microflora is encountered that is completely evolutionarily unfamiliar to the macroorganism, then no infection will occur, because the microbe simply will not have the appropriate enzymes, not only to suppress the immune system, but even to penetrate the body's tissues. For this to happen, much more time must pass than what our scientists on Earth, for example, and especially your contactees in our worlds, spend in physical bodies.

But our scientists, in order to completely reduce the risk of an infection unfamiliar to your contactees, have developed such a system that people with reduced immunity or with an allergic reaction to some earthly substances cannot be selected for physical contact, because there may be different situations when immunity may react incorrectly to substances that are unfamiliar to your body.

1:04:12 Aggressive civilizations and the Interstellar Union.

M. Bronevsky: Are there many civilizations in our galaxy that have the prerequisites to pursue an aggressive or aggressive policy towards other races? Is the Interstellar Union holding them back?

Irina : If a civilization has already reached the interstellar level, and we see that it poses a danger in terms of the capture of other civilizations by military forces, then the Galactic Security Service, through joint efforts, first tries to come to an agreement with the power structures of the world from which these creatures came. Agree on their peaceful exploration of space, even without entering the Interstellar Union. If this fails, for the benefit of the entire galaxy, Galactic Security may even block an aggressive civilization either on their planet or within their star system. It is believed that the exploration of space by different civilizations should not interfere with the development of those races that, due to their technical underdevelopment, cannot yet repel more developed races.

And that is why, for example, it is strictly forbidden to give the Earth contactees accurate information about the structure of our ships and engines in general - for the reason that among you there are people who are members of the military services, etc., who can use the information from the contactees to get out beyond the solar system. And in order to avoid a collision with you outside of it, it has been decided not to give technical information until you are ready to join the Interstellar Union.

M. Bronevsky: But it seems to me that such information is very difficult to convey, because for this you probably need to read a course of lectures?

Irina : You can give general principles, you can teach your scientists simply by examples, showing what our ships are made of, what our engines are made of, how to make it all, but this kind of information should not come to you before your spiritual development occurs .

1:07:44 Factor in the creation of a nuclear bomb.

M. Bronevsky: I heard the following example: the inventor of the atomic bomb, a German (I don't remember his last name now), was given information on how to create an atomic bomb by some beings from other worlds.

Irina : The fact is that the creation of a nuclear bomb was only a matter of time after you discovered radioactivity in general. Whether from another world or from your world, it was only a matter of time. And in fact, this served rather as a positive factor, since your entire civilization saw what even energy that is collected in very small atoms invisible to the eye can lead to.

1:08:56 Conditions for accepting a planet into the Interstellar Union.

M. Bronevsky: Can civilizations that fear aggression from other civilizations, that is, that are looking for protection, join the Interstellar Union? Are there such cases?

Irina : If the civilization is ready, that is, it fulfills the conditions for acceptance into the Interstellar Union that are known to you. These are: the absence of wars on the planet, the harsh suppression of crime that exists there (since we know very well that on any planet a spirit can incarnate, sowing darkness and enmity around itself, so to speak). If the condition of the absence of the death penalty, respect for life from the moment of conception, and so on is met, then, naturally, even regardless of the technical level.

But, if there is a desire not just of a separate government structure to join the Interstellar Union, but if it is a desire expressed in planetary form, that is, one might say, by an open universal vote of all the inhabitants of the planet. Such a decision should not be made by governments, but by the majority of the planet's population, because this decision will affect all its inhabitants. And if the planet meets all the listed conditions, then, naturally, it will be accepted, because we have no obstacles to entry. And in this case, there will be not only protection, in this case there will also be open contact with its inhabitants, there will also be those relations in which the scientific, cultural and technical achievements of our entire galaxy, the entire Interstellar Union will be provided to the new member.

1:11:24 Prerequisites for the emergence of organic life and evolution on the planet.

M. Bronevsky: As far as I know, there are a lot of planets in the Universe where there are no conditions for the emergence of intelligent beings through evolutionary means. What prerequisites and factors must exist for thinking living beings to be formed on the planet by evolutionary means?

Irina : Not on every planet there are conditions for the emergence of organic life, and not on every planet where organic life arose, it generally comes to some forms suitable for evolution into intelligent beings. Sometimes everything ends at the level of microorganisms, sometimes at the level of plants, sometimes at the level of some primitive animal bodies.

What should be the prerequisites? It must be a world with a stable temperature without sudden changes, with a thick enough atmosphere so that too hard radiation from the star does not penetrate, with a sufficient distance from the central body so that life does not die in the first stages of formation. But at the same time, there must be enough hard radiation from a star or from space objects so that certain mutations can occur in the cells of organisms, which subsequently lead to useful results, that is, so that there is variability.

Conditions on the planet must be soft enough so that life does not die, and at the same time hard enough so that it develops, that is, there would be what you call the struggle for existence. This is, rather, a law that says that adaptability to different conditions contributes to the emergence of new variants of living beings, from which in the future those bodies in which intelligent spirits will incarnate can develop.

1:14:18 Energy structures of microcreatures: bacteria, viruses and fungi.

M. Bronevsky: Do bacteria, viruses and fungi have their own autonomous energy structures?

Irina : Every living organism has its own energy vibrations.

M. Bronevsky: I mean that after the death of these microbeings, do these structures remain alive?

Irina : Those forms of bodies that you named, souls are also embodied in them, but these are not the intelligent spirits that you and I are. These are other types of souls, which are called animal souls. Microorganisms in our understanding are animals, only they are microscopic animals. Viruses, bacteria, and fungi are different types of microanimals. Animal souls are embodied in them, not born of God, like you and me, but created by the inhabitants of plasmoid worlds - what you call the elements.

Usually the following law applies: the more primitive animal bodies are in development and the smaller they are in size, the more of these bodies the soul is incarnated, that is, what can be called a group soul is incarnated.

M. Bronevsky : So it takes up a large volume of these creatures?

Irina : The fact is that in colonies of certain microorganisms, in many hundreds, or even thousands of bodies, the same animal soul is embodied, this is a group soul. Then we move on to your insects, for example: in them one group soul is embodied in fewer animal bodies than in microbes. After the death of all the bodies of a group animal soul, it is not immortal at all, but it can reincarnate into other animal bodies of the same group of living beings, but with each incarnation it has less and less vitality left and, in the end, it dissipates into astral

1:17:22 Destruction of bacteria, viruses and fungi with external energy.

M. Bronevsky: Is it possible to destroy bacteria, viruses or fungi through energetic influence on them, that is, without the use of antibiotics?

Irina : Yes, you can destroy it with energy from the outside - disrupt the biochemical processes in a microorganism that cause the appearance of vitality in it.

M. Bronevsky: Is it necessary to select the frequencies necessary for the impact in resonance?

Irina : There are various systems of energy influence known in the galaxy: there are also through the selection of resonant frequencies.

M. Bronevsky: So, such things are used in your medicine?

Irina : Yes, they do.

1:18:20 Destruction of bacteria, viruses and fungi by the power of the Spirit.

M. Bronevsky: And, let’s say, with the power of consciousness, the power of thought, you can destroy yourself?

Irina : The power of consciousness is what you call the power of the spirit. The spirit is actually primary in relation to the material body, and therefore, indeed, it can create in itself those vibrations that will suppress, temporarily or completely destroy certain microbes. The fact is that matter is indeed subject to the spirit, but in order to manifest this power in the physical body, one must not only have vital force, but also be able to direct it. And it is directed by the power of imagination, this force can be directed with the help of visualization of images, but the driving force of this energy is thought, and it is precisely the thought that arises without doubt, that is, what you call faith. Doubting the results of your work dissipates this energy and prevents it from manifesting itself.

1:19:52 Assumptions about the appearance of HIV on Earth.

M. Bronevsky: How did the human immunodeficiency virus appear on Earth? There is a version that it was created in secret laboratories to control the population. Is it so?

Irina : The human immunodeficiency virus, according to our data, first circulated among animals - primates, and then from direct contacts of these primates with people (various types of contacts) this virus entered the human body and initially could not survive there, it died. But, thanks to the mutation caused - scientists of the Interstellar Union suggest that this mutation was not random, and there are various assumptions whether your criminals did this or whether it was the result of directed radiation, or even the consciousness of an individual person caused a mutation already in the DNA of this virus - it has become virulent for humans.

1:21:24 The effectiveness of drugs against HIV.

M. Bronevsky: Is it possible to somehow completely destroy HIV in the body? Are there already such drugs on Earth?

Irina : According to my information, there are civilizations in the Interstellar Union that are studying, among other things, your pharmacology through contactees. According to this organization, which studies your medicine and pharmacology, an antiviral drug has not yet been found that would completely destroy the human immunodeficiency virus, but there are drugs that keep it in an inactive state. But when you stop taking these drugs, the virus comes out of this inactive state again.

M. Bronevsky: Is it possible to do this with your technologies?

Irina : Yes.

M. Bronevsky: Okay. Then we will end the session here. Thank you very much Raom Tiyan.

Irina : Thank you for your questions.

#28 Questions are asked by a bioenergetic healer. About the causes of diseases, oncology and healing methods

Bogdana : Hello, my name is Bogdana Kam, my son Valery is with me. I have been studying the issue of the bioenergetic impact of healers on humans, studying it in practice for more than 15 years. I have a number of questions that I would like answers to.

Irina, who is present with us now?

Irina : Hello, I greet everyone. With us is a representative from the planet Esler - MidgasKaus, biologist, psychologist. He studies energy healing.

00:37 Healing methods as complex treatment at the physical, energetic and psychological levels.

Bogdana : Since we practice healing, before treatment, we begin to cleanse the person: we remove extraneous entities and gaps, which we call “evil eyes and damage.” Then, we begin to influence the chakras and then the diseased organ. I would like to know: is this scheme correct or is there another method of treatment?

Irina : What healing method do you use and how do you recognize the presence of the negative programs that you listed?

Bogdana : This is a non-contact effect: the healer is at a certain distance from the patient and uses his hands to diagnose the presence of gaps and entities in the person's energy information field. And after we begin to patch up the holes and clean the person, we move on to treatment.

Irina : By the word "entities," do you mean spiritual entities from low-vibration worlds or a person's own thought forms?

Bogdana : Unfortunately, I do not have such information. Everything is visualized and felt with the hands, like some warm balls in a person that move in different directions. But this is provided that such entities exist. It happens that they are not there.

Irina : Yes, you are doing the right thing. First, cleansing is carried out at the energy level, and then, if necessary, the effect on the physical body is carried out. This is called complex treatment on the physical and energetic level. It would also be good to supplement it on a psychological level, i.e. identify not only the presence of negative programs and entities, but also the reason for their appearance. It is also not by chance that they appear in a particular person. Even what your Russian common people call the evil eye and damage are certain negative programs from other people. They do not appear for everyone and not at all by chance. That is, the own vibrations of the astral-mental fields can either attract or repel the negative programs of other people. Therefore, it is important to identify the own programs of the person who has contacted you so that such problems do not arise in the future.

04:01 Visualization of how a diseased organ becomes healthy.

Bogdana : When treatment is taking place, sometimes the patient's organs are visible. How productive will it be if, during the impact on the patient, we visualize how the diseased organ becomes healthy?

Irina : If you visualize how a diseased organ becomes healthy, i.e. clearly imagine that it changes its color, its structure or mentally fill it with energy, then you will create a corresponding thought form in your astral field. This thought form, as one of the types of programs, will be sent by you to the patient's astral field. And the coincidence of your personal vibrations and the vibrations of the patient will determine how much your thought form is able to influence his energy, how much it is able to launch its own energy processes to restore this organ. In other words, the effect of the same healer will be significantly different from the vibrations of the patient himself.

05:41 Reading prayers and seeking help from the Spiritual world when carrying out healing.

Bogdana : It happens that during treatment we use prayers. Does the healer's influence on the patient increase when reading prayers?

Irina : How do you understand the word "prayer"? Are these certain words charged with energy or is it an appeal to a certain person?

Bogdana : Most often we use ordinary prayers, for example, "Our Father," which is used in Orthodoxy and is the main prayer. And a prayer to the Most Holy Theotokos.

Irina: When you read a prayer, are your consciousness, your Spirit, your thoughts tuned to communicate with the essence that is being addressed in the text? Or do you read a prayer simply as a set of words that have a certain energy?

Bogdana : We ask for help from the patient and help in his healing.

Maxim: Who do you ask for help for the patient? Is it a specific person or are you just addressing the patient?

Bogdana : We turn our words to God so that He will give healing to this person.

Irina: In this case, if you turn to a person, then it is not the prayer itself that helps the patient heal, but the person to whom you turn. That is, right at this moment you can not only say prayers in front of the sick person, but also in your own words ask God, the Mother of God, or any saint in the Spirit to turn to this person and introduce him. And then the energy of this particular entity will be directed or not directed towards the patient. But this already depends on the will of the person to whom you are addressing.

08:07 Doubts that arise in a healer during treatment.

Bogdana: Does everyone who comes to a healer need to be treated? There are times when you feel that you don't need to help this person, but he came.

Irina : If you have any doubts during the conversation with the person who appears, doubts about yourself, doubts that you can handle it, then with these doubts you will dissipate your own energy directed at the patient. If you feel that you are not confident in your abilities, you should manage this patient under the supervision of a doctor, if the case is serious and you are afraid of harm, or if you feel that you cannot cope, you should tell the person that you are not able to help him. This will be better than giving a person false hope. It is best and most effective to take on healing those cases in which you are confident. This will make it easier for you, and there will be no complaints about your work.

09:46 Energies received during healing, their source, strength and quantity.

Bogdana : What energy does the healer use and where does it come from?

Irina : Everything is very individual. That's why I first clarified with you: what energy do you use and from what source; whether certain entities give it to you, or whether you connect to certain channels, energy systems or use the life force of your etheric body. All this is very individual. Energy can come from external energy systems. For example, cosmoenergy is the external energies of extraterrestrial civilizations. Reiki systems, which consist of energy frequencies of eleven plasmoid civilizations, that is, subtle-material civilizations that are aimed at restoring metabolism in the bodies of dense-material beings. Many other healing systems based on contact with other types of plasmoids can be individual for each specific healer. There is also healing through various religious egregors, ranging from Orthodoxy to various types of occult-esoteric practices that connect to the egregors of polytheistic religions, such as runes, various magical systems, etc. Everything is very individual.

Bogdana: When working with a patient, the energy itself begins to flow and then stops. We assume that the amount and strength of energy is given in doses and varies depending on the disease and the severity of the disease. What do you think about it?

Irina : If you feel that the source of energy dosely directs you the type and amount of energy for each patient, then this already speaks in favor of the fact that the source of energy is external for you. Those. This is not your own life force, which you have the right to direct to the patient in any volume. Naturally, in this case, the external source decides who and how much to give. Most likely, this is what happens in healing practices associated either with other civilizations of the humanoid type or with plasmoid civilizations. All this speaks in favor of the fact that this is not your bioenergy, and in such conditions, the entity that gives energy decides to whom and how much energy to give, depending on the disease. This will be a question for the essence itself, why it decided this way.

12:56 The attitude of the church to healing and the Interstellar Union's view of illness from the position of an individual approach.

Bogdana : The Church categorically objects to healing, citing the fact that diseases are given to a person for sins. And only by realizing your sins and repenting of them can you heal yourself. Diseases are punishments, and what do you think about this?

Irina: There is a generally accepted teaching in the church that illness does not arise due to the sins of an individual person, since there are many known cases when those who were subsequently recognized as saints were seriously ill until the end of their earthly incarnation. Such cases are known, and this does not mean that they were punished for sins. The fact is that God does not punish anyone in the sense in which we are accustomed to understanding it. God does not take revenge for the evil that the rational Spirit has committed. God does not send suffering for the purpose of revenge. God sends those circumstances in the life of a particular person that help him realize his own mistakes and delusions. If it is a disease, then God will send the disease, but this is not at all necessary. And this does not mean that he is sinful compared to healthy people. It happens that those who commit a lot of evil remain physically and mentally healthy until the end of their incarnation. This also happens often. In this case, the church says that some disturbances in a person's psycho-emotional state may cause changes in the physical body. While the Spirit is connected to the physical body, the state of the body affects the state of the Spirit, and vice versa: the state of astral-mental vibrations affects the metabolism in the body and, accordingly, its health. We can say it differently: if a person is kind inside, forgives everyone, but at the same time he has a struggle with himself inside, for example, instead of expressing his grievances, he begins to keep them to himself in order to be educated, etc. , then he will get sick because he accumulates negative energies and vibrations. Such a person will be more seriously ill than one who outwardly seems scandalous, but he knows how to express his grievances, and this frees him. That is, this is a very fine line, everything is very individual, and there is no way to say that this is a punishment for sins. We can talk about the consequences on the physical level from a certain thought or emotion, but even in this case it cannot be said with certainty that a certain thought or emotion causes a certain disease. For different people, the same thoughts can cause completely different diseases or cause nothing at all. Each person is individual, and talking here about a specific addiction, a specific illness from a specific thought simply does not make sense.

17:04 Viruses and bacteria and methods for their effective and safe destruction.

Bogdana : As far as we know, the virus is a living material structure, and viral diseases are quite difficult to treat. And under the influence of a healer, the healing process actually simply speeds up. Are there methods for a healer to influence the virus, and what are they?

Irina : I will answer you as a biologist: what you called a virus and what I can call a microorganism are living independent organisms. Viruses can only live inside the host cell. In the host cell, they multiply their genetic material and distribute it to other similar cells. As for other microorganisms, such as bacteria and protozoa, they live more autonomously. But the similarity of both is that they live in the host's body, using its vitality and its chemicals for their needs. Simply put, they are microparasites in a particular organism. Those methods of energy healing, those energy fields that we are talking about, are capable of suppressing or destroying microorganisms, as well as increasing the patient's own immune defense. But this also depends on the body of a particular person, who may not perceive these energies. If you take two people suffering from tuberculosis and having tuberculosis bacteria, then in one, under the influence of a healer, these bacteria will die, and the other, under the influence of a healer, will not feel any effect. On your planet, very recently, from the point of view of history, antibiotics were invented. And before the invention of antibiotics, there were also healers and magicians who used a variety of energies. However, I will tell you as a biologist: tetracycline saved Europe from the plague epidemic, as well as from cholera. Because, as you understand, microbes multiply very quickly, and you may not have time to act with energy. The body itself must have a very large reserve of its own immune forces, which the healer can awaken in it, but this may not be enough. Therefore, in those times that you call the Middle Ages, many cities were completely destroyed by one or another microorganism, although there were healers and church services to stop the epidemic. There were also safety measures to prevent the spread of the outbreak, although people at that time did not know about microorganisms. But it has been experimentally established that contact with a sick person brings illness to the person who was in contact. You can see echoes of this in the book of Leviticus, which is part of the Old Testament. In this book there are instructions for the Levites, i.e. contactees of the planet Tumesout and Burhad, who were in ancient Israel, what to do when a leper person is discovered. Leprosy is an infectious disease. This book does not say that if you read the word or lay on hands, everything will disappear. Just the opposite: it says that he needs to be isolated and measures must be taken to prevent the spread of this disease among people. All this just means that in our material world microbes, viruses and larger parasites can act, even despite the energetic impact. They have great protection against such influences.

The energetic impact is rather applicable to diseases that are caused not by infections, but by the psycho-emotional state of the patient, which I already told you about. In the case of infections, energy healing can help recover. But I would not recommend completely relying on this type of healing without antibiotics, because if a person gets sick, for example, with whooping cough or syphilis, then exposure to antibacterial substances will be needed. This has already been tested by our civilization in relevant experiments on the effects of different types of energy on certain microbes, and I, as a biologist, can tell you that the most effective and safest thing for the body will be the rapid destruction of microbes through exposure to chemicals. In ancient times there were herbs, including antibacterial ones, there were various substances of animal origin, etc., but still, the history of your medicine shows that without antibacterial substances, without bacterial phages and without vaccines, your situation with infectious diseases would be much worse more deplorable than now. I mean your entire civilization as a whole.

24:42 Causes of cancer.

Bogdana: What is cancer, and who is susceptible to this disease?

Maxim : We have been waiting for this question for a long time. We tried to talk about this topic with experienced doctors who treat cancer. But one twirled his finger at his temple and said that he would not play with these toys. And the other said that maybe he would come, but he didn't come. I assume that many doctors understand perfectly well what cancer is, but do not want to raise this topic, knowing full well that a lot of money is made from treating cancer.

Bogdana: I agree with you.

Irina: You have some confusion in terms, because what you call cancer or an oncological process can be completely different conditions. Different types of microorganisms, protozoa, fungal flora, etc. are capable, under the influence of their own mimicry, of taking on forms that are very similar to human cells and forming tumors - an accumulation of some cells that do not belong to your body, and this is also a form of parasitosis. And, by the way, all these forms of the simplest microbes and fungi that I mentioned can be heterogeneous even in the same tumor and in the same patient. The tumor can be very variegated in its cellular composition. However, the cells of the body are also capable of mutating under the influence of DNA malfunctions, but even if a mutation occurs, those cells that will form in the tumor will switch to a more ancient and simpler method of nutrition for them - oxygen-free. This suggests that such cells will break down the same glucose anaerobically, during which many substances will be released that lead to intoxication of the body. And then such a patient dies not so much from a tumor, but from poisoning by those substances that were formed as a result of the breakdown of his tissues by those cells that switched to a more ancient method of nutrition.

So what influences the formation of cancer? Both protozoa, microbes, fungi, and cells of the human physical body, which have switched to a more ancient method of nutrition, have in common that they are able to live and feed in low-vibration states of the human Soul. Simply put, a person's negative thoughts and feelings are capable of providing the person's vital energy for the development of these pathological cells, both parasitic forms external to the person himself, and internal ones that have switched to the feeding method characteristic of protozoa, for example, amoebas. This is precisely in many ways the same psycho-emotional state of a person, which evokes such low-vibration energies in him that they affect the human body already at the physical level and cause foreign growths and tumors in it, which already kill the body itself.

29:55 The influence of magical rituals on the occurrence and course of the disease.

Irina: I feel your silent question: is it possible to cause such a disease through the external influence of a magical plan? As a practitioner, as a healer, you may already know that a magical ritual performed on a specific person, even by the most powerful practitioner, may not have any effect on him. It all depends on the vibrations of the person being affected. That is, if a person has an energy field of high vibrations, then this dark program will not only not stick or cling, it will simply be reflected from him and can go to the person who sent it. Naturally, they have their own methods of protecting against this, but, nevertheless, it is so. And only if a person has a low vibration thought. What is low vibration thought? The highest vibration belongs to the one who created it. This is a vibration of pure love, joy, acceptance of everything that happens, gratitude and empathy. Everything that differs from it in vibration will be lower than it, for example, mild irritation or old resentment. In the material world these formations are not visible, however, in the astral world all this is a clearly manifested image. For example, the same thought forms of resentment, anger, jealousy, envy, etc. from the astral space are visible as some dark colored ribbons, cords or some clouds that surround. That is, these are very real formations.

Our rational Spirit, which has embodied itself in an earthly body, is capable of creating a certain thought form with its thoughts, charging it with its own vital force, and it gives it some consciousness. In the future, if this thought form is negative, it will provoke him to similar thoughts. In your psychology this is called memory. Those. a person has created a negative situation in his memory and constantly returns to these memories. And the person does not want to return, but the thought itself comes to him. Such thought forms are perceived by some healers during diagnosis as separate entities. Such entities have some kind of conscious life; they strive, firstly, to preserve their own life, which they endowed with, and to fulfill the desire or feeling that gave birth to it. This ability to generate such living beings, such living thought forms is given to us all by God, but it is given for positive purposes. So that we create positive thought forms that will further help us on the path of development. But some people use them in such a way that they attract various magical influences from outside and accelerate the course of various diseases. That is, the same infection, having entered the body of different people, will behave differently, because the body's immune response already depends on its vibrations of the astral-mental field. That is, the cleaner and brighter the thoughts, the stronger the immune system. But only if the immune system has the resources to produce cells, and this depends on a varied diet, rest, sports or physical activity. Because if a person just sits and thinks positively, but does not develop his physical body, then, as you understand, his immunity will be impaired.

Therefore, in man, since he consists of a physical body, astral-mental fields and the very consciousness of the Spirit, everything must be developed harmoniously. The body and thoughts and emotions must be healthy and adequate in the situation in which they arise.

35:35 Productive ways to influence cancer diseases.

Bogdana : Thank you. I would like to return to oncological diseases. Please tell me, in your opinion, do we have the most productive ways to influence cancer on Earth, both medicinal and non-medicinal?

Irina : Personally, I am a supporter of first identifying the energetic vibrations of his body for every cancer patient and, in general, every patient, and only then prescribing treatment. But, in general, as far as I am familiar with this disease, I deny the need for immunosuppressive and cytotoxic therapy, because in the cancer process, in the vast majority of cases, the patient's immune system is already oppressed by this process itself. Therefore, the use of chemical drugs, although they destroy some part of the tumor cells, but further reduce the production of immune cells, can further activate the cancer process, which will be suppressed for a while, but after stopping therapy it will appear in a new place. I am a supporter of influencing cancer precisely from the point of view of immunostimulants. First, this is a complete cleansing of the body from all forms of parasites that are detected during diagnostics, then cleansing from the metabolic products of these parasites and those toxins that were formed when they were destroyed by chemicals. Then, stimulation of the patient's immunity together with the replenishment of his body with vitamins and microelements, since cancer cells, like any parasites, consume a lot of microelements, vitamins and glucose, which comes with food. Usually the patient has a deficiency of these elements. At the same time, those vitamins and microelements and the food that he eats without getting rid of the tumor go to replenish the reserves of the tumor itself. Because the metabolism in its tissues can be tens of times faster than that of the cells of the body itself. Therefore, the use of vitamins and minerals in cancer patients who have not gotten rid of at least most of the tumor itself will not lead to anything. It will not lead to the replenishment of the body itself with these elements, because the tumor, the cells that it contains, will take almost everything upon itself. This also applies to glucose and other substances necessary for the functioning of the body.

39:23 Ways to protect a healer while working with a sick person.

Bogdana : Please tell me how a healer can protect himself from diseases and other types of influences that may affect him in the process of working with a sick person?

Irina : That's why I'm telling you about confidence, because that energy of self-confidence and that vibration of the absence of doubt that will exist will already charge your field with the energy that will repel the negative vibrations of the patient from you. To put it simply, if you don't just admit the thought that something is coming to you, but you believe in it, then you will start the process of accepting those vibrations. But everything will depend on your own body, on your own thought forms, on your own charge of astral-mental fields, because if this vibration of the disease is alien to you, then your field, like the energy field of a person and any dense material being, will self-cleanse. But if you already have the prerequisites for your own similar disease, then this can accelerate the development of this disease. There are a huge number of special methods of protection, depending on the methods of healing, and those entities that transfer energy to you usually transfer a protection system. There are systems of protection before a session, for example, imagining oneself in various energy shells, starting from a white ball and ending with pyramids of various shapes, shells, a ray of light, and ending with methods of protection after a healing session. This is done by reading certain mantras, spells, cleansing with fire, water and other elements. There are various techniques. Personally, I can say the following: the technique that you personally believe in works, and only if you are confident in yourself. Because it is the energy of faith that gives your visualization the form of energy that is created around your field and which protects you.

42:41 Devices for self-treatment of diseases and their effectiveness in different patients.

Bogdana : Please tell me, there is an idea to invent a device that people could use on their own for treatment, as an alternative to healing effects. Is it possible for earthlings to make such a device at the present time, or is this a utopia, and the influence of a healer cannot be replaced by anything?

Irina : You have devices that were created based on studying the energy of healers. You have these devices on Earth. They imitate the fields that were recorded in the work of a particular healer. But, as you understand, they were recorded when working only with a certain patient or with a certain group of patients. With any disease, even if there was another person who suffered from the same disease, but with a different organism and with different vibrations, then those vibrations that were created for the other, and which the device imitates, may not have any effect on the second person. The work of the healer and the patient is very individual. I repeat that with the same disease, different patients can use completely different energies, depending on the reasons that caused this disease and on the accompanying problems, both energetically and emotionally, mentally, physically and even socially.

Bogdana: If we initially identify the energy vibrations of the patient and already build a device based on the frequency of exposure to these vibrations, is a cure still possible?

Irina : If you identify the energetic vibrations of the patient and direct the same vibrations into his body, but with the opposite charge?

Bogdana : Yes, to compensate. This is exactly what I'm talking about.

Irina : This will act on his cells, but only at the moment when you produce this effect. This will be a temporary effect, similar to the effect of painkillers. When a person leaves the sphere of action of the device, these vibrations that his sick body produces will be produced again.

45:49 Healing on Esler.

Bogdana : Healing is practiced on your planet, or do you have other methods of treatment. How does this happen for you?

Irina : On our planet, medicine exists in the form of a synthesis of philosophy, esotericism and biology. We consider every disease at the psychological, biological and energetic level. Naturally, we have chemicals, various devices and special places in the astral space where patients are placed. This is a room in the astral space, but not the physical one. And there are certain vibrations that cause changes in the astral field.

47:30 Rules for interaction with the other world.

Bogdana : A question not related to healing. Sometimes the dead fly in on the street, in a cemetery, in a dream. We already know the sound, energy, smell, by which we can determine that the dead are nearby. These objects are nearby for some time, then disappear. They often try to say something. Is it necessary to establish communication with such entities, and how can we learn to hear a conversation in a language we understand? How can you communicate without harming yourself and your loved ones? Because after that you feel a loss of energy.

Irina : Those whom you call dead are some types of plasmoids or disembodied Spirits of different levels. When a subtle-material entity or an immaterial entity interacts with any person, in all cases an energy exchange occurs. There is only your desire here. If you want to communicate with him, if you feel his appeal to you, then you ask him to mentally speak to you in those images and words that will be understandable to you. If he doesn't succeed, he can't always get along with you, then using your will, ask him: I ask you to leave me alone and never contact me again. No violence can be approved in the Spiritual world. And everything depends on the purpose of the entity that is addressing you, on its spiritual level, where it came from and why. You can communicate safely with everyone, but you need to understand that everything is God and a reflection of God in yourself. If you believe that communication is safe for you, you will protect yourself with this belief. If you believe that she will harm you, you will be afraid of her, thereby opening your defenses to receive some programs from her. Loss of vitality is possible, provided that you are incompatible in vibration; in this case, the energy goes not to the essence, but to the contact itself, to establishing a channel. If it is impossible to completely avoid the loss of vitality in this contact, then I can advise you, after the contact, to restore your vitality in the way that is familiar to you. Because when communicating with the Spiritual world, energy exchange always occurs, which can occur in different ways.

51:01 Premonition as a hint from the Spiritual world.

Bogdana: Sometimes there is a premonition of some bad event, and, as a rule, such an event occurs. Can such an event be changed or is it fatal?

Irina : A premonition is not just your own premonition, it is hints from high spiritual beings who know the future. But it doesn't just happen. Everything happens with the goal that you change something, or when this happens, you believe that the Spiritual world exists. There is a God who knows the future and tells his highest Angels, the highest beings, that the future is known. Such premonitions never happen just like that. The future has many options and it really can be changed, but if there was some kind of premonition, and it really happened, and it could not be changed, despite attempts to do so, it means that it was given with the goal that you and those to whom you will later you will talk about it, you will believe it, i.e. for witnessing. A premonition is given either to change it (this is a premonition of something bad), or to increase faith in the Spiritual world among those who are not able to feel it. It's not just like that.

53:10 Valery's astral contact with aliens and his detailed analysis.

Bogdana : Around 2007, my son saw an alien flying saucer. He got very scared and hid. At that time he was about 18 years old. He was then astrally taken to a plate and saw himself undergoing surgery. What kind of surgery did he have and why?

Irina : Describe the aliens and the contact itself. It could be anyone.

Valery : They looked like gray, small humanoids, with two black eyes. They looked the way they are now mostly used in films. Body height is about one and a half meters. And after the contact there was a feeling that I was simply thrown out of the ship, and I immediately flew straight into the body. And when I already woke up in my body, I could not move. The body ached, there was colic, and the body temperature was simply icy: the body had cooled down, and I did not understand what it was. But after that the visions began. If someone tells me something, then I see what is happening to him, or will happen, and what he is doing. I see when a person is deceiving me, and how everything really happens. All this began to happen after contact. What it was, I still don't understand.

Irina : Describe the beginning of the contact, please. Did you leave your body yourself or did they see you?

Valery : I went to bed and woke up from an uncomfortable state of my body. I opened my eyes and realized that I seemed to be in a doctor's office. Looking around, I realized that everything around was metal and there were portholes, from which I saw that I was in space.

Irina : Who was next to you?

Valery : There were two humanoids next to me.

Irina : Did they tell you something?

Valery : They spoke a language that was incomprehensible to me.

Irina : Did you hear him mentally?

Valery : Yes, I heard him mentally.

Irina : Have you tried to contact them?

Valery : I tried to ask: what is happening? But I couldn't speak. It felt like my mouth was taped or sewn shut.

Irina: And mentally we tried to ask them: where am I, who are you?

Valery : No. I was very scared.

Irina: Did you understand that you are outside your physical body? Or did you think that you were in the body?

Valery : I thought that I was in the body.

Irina : So you thought that you were taken from home in your physical body?

Valery : Yes, that's right.

Irina : During this contact, were you alone in the apartment, or was someone present?

Valery : There was a small child - my sister, but she was sleeping. At the moment when I already woke up in my body and began to move, she touched me and asked: “What’s happening to you, why are you all icy?” And I told her the whole situation.

Irina : In your physical world it was at night?

Valery : Yes, it was at night.

Irina : When you found yourself in this spaceship, were these two humanoids simply watching you, or did they perform any actions?

Valery : They performed actions on the body because it felt like the stomach had been cut open and they were picking at the stomach.

Irina : Before this contact, a week or two ago, did you turn to some kind of healer?

Valery : No.

Irina: Have you yourself practiced any practices of astral travel or occult eccentricity?

Valery : No, because from that moment it all began.

Irina : Before contact, did you see a physically unidentified object?

Valery : Yes, I saw it 200 or 300 meters from me, very close.

Irina : How long before contact did you see a UFO?

Valery : About a day.

Irina : Was it a ship, a ball or another form? What he did, how he behaved and other features; was he one or several?

Valery: It was at night, I was in the forest on the mountain. I looked from the mountain towards the forest and saw a ship in the shape of a triangular dish, and from it, towards the trees towards the ground, there was a ray of light, as if they were looking for something. When I saw this, I hid behind a tree and watched it. The object flew for 15-20 minutes and was looking for something. Then I ran towards the house.

Irina : Did he move closer to you?

Valery : No, he moved from side to side, but did not fly up to me.

Irina : What did you think when you saw him?

Valery : I thought that they were looking for something, that they needed something.

Irina: How did you perceive them?

Valery : I saw the ship and realized that it was a saucer, because... The moon was shining and it was very clearly visible.

Irina : So you immediately realized that these were aliens from another planet?

Valery : Yes, and because of this there was fear.

Irina : Did you have a desire to get in touch with them?

Valery : There was no such desire, there was only a feeling of fear.

Irina : Did you feel the threat that came from this plate or, rather, interest?

Valery : More of a threat.

Irina : Did you think that you could be harmed?

Valery : Yes.

Irina : For what reason? Did you feel it energetically or just because you read a lot of negative things about aliens?

Valery : I probably felt discomfort on an energetic level.

Irina : Did you feel that you were noticed from the ship?

Valery : Yes, that was the feeling.

Irina : Based on what you just said and according to your description, I can conclude that these were representatives of the planet Tashig. They have contactees and what you saw in the forest could have been contact with some contactee. They have physical contactees. Some contactee could come physically to that forest, and you could accidentally see the beginning or end of the contact. What you call the beam is an anti-gravity beam to raise or lower the contactee. And, as I understand it, when you went home, there was still a plate left?

Valery : Yes.

Irina : At that time, contact could have occurred with the contactee who came to the meeting. He could have been taken to the ship, or there was an end to contact, and they put him back down. You might just not see it. And since you may have found yourself in this area by chance, and at this time, when no one expected it, since contactees agree on the time and place of contact, you were sensed by a device on the ship, which senses the presence of living intelligent beings around the vibrations of their brains, which are different from the vibrations of the brains of animals, for example. There are special biological analyzers that sense and show the pilot that there is an intelligent creature, for example an earthling, near the ship at a certain distance and direction. And by the vibrations, by the type of his brain activity, the pilot sees how he reacts to what he sees. In any case, from your suppressed vibrations of fear, they saw that you do not want physical contact, that you do not strive for contact. Because when there is interest in contact, the vibration is different. And when you went home, one of the pilots of this ship still decided to visit you in the astral body, despite the fact that you did not want physical contact. But still, something interested them in your vibration, and they decided to explore you astrally. Everything that you told in the sequel about how you were taken to the ship in your astral body, then, yes, they can use this opportunity. When you go to bed, and during sleep the astral body is separated from the physical, and all spaceship pilots know when it is night on Earth. And since they already recognized your vibration on the device, they were able to tune in to it. There are a lot of astral travelers among the Tashigans. For example, I am now here in the astral body, and the astral traveler can tune in to these vibrations according to the readings of the device. That is, the Tashigan astral travelers were on the vibration of your body, they waited for the night when you would leave naturally, so as not to take you out by force, since, in this way, it is possible to cause damage to the physical body if you take out a person who does not have experience of astral travel. Therefore, they waited for the natural withdrawal of the astral body in sleep, your body fell asleep, and you came out. They made contact with you on the astral plane and the fact that you saw a ship, two humanoids - it was an astral image. Because Spirits who go to the Astral can, with their thought forms, form an image of a house, a plate, space and everything that exists.

Why did they do this? Why did you see this, because you might not remember it or consider it a dream? Because when your astral body was next to them, and the astral vibrations of the Tashigans are significantly different from the vibrations of an earthling, it felt alien vibrations and realized itself, realized the danger. Then you saw two humanoids in the Astral and what they did to you: they cut your stomach, etc. - this was an image of the fact that they were conducting research on your astral body. Nothing was physically cut to you. For what purposes they needed it, this needs to be discussed with them. There was no continuation of contact after this?

Valery : No. After this, visions began in this world.

Irina : Before contact, you didn't have anything like what you're describing now, or did you have it, but not in this form? Remember your childhood, adolescence? What the mother will say: Have you noticed any manifestations in your son?

Valery : No.

Bogdana : I actually noticed it. I won't say that he had clairvoyance, but he always had the sacrament.

Irina : Before this contact, were there similar cases with him?

Bogdana : No, it wasn't.

Irina : I mean communion?

Bogdana : He could say, for example: Mom, most likely it will be like this. And so it was, exactly in this form.

Irina : Why did I ask this? You could have inherent abilities, for example, from a past incarnation, from the Spiritual world. Abilities of special, intuitive knowledge of reality. For example, you may unconsciously interact with the noosphere of the Earth or with spiritual teachers from the Spiritual World. All of this could appear after contact due to the fact that your astral body was influenced. For example, by involuntarily examining your astral body with various energies, you could have strengthened something, for example, something that you already had. That's why I asked about earlier manifestations of your intuition. And your mother claims that this was the case, and that she noticed similar things in you before.

Bogdana: Thank you very much, thank you Mead. The answers to the questions were very interesting. I think that questions will arise even after analyzing our conversations. Thank you very much.

Irina : Okay. Goodbye.

Irina: Hello, my name is Irina. I am a contactee with Extraterrestrial Civilizations. Now next to us is the representative of the planet Esler MidgasKaus in the astral body. He is ready to answer a number of questions.

Ivan: Good afternoon, my name is Ivan Ektal. I deal with psychology, energy and working with people's subconscious. We met with Irina to talk and, among other things, ask questions to representatives of another Civilization.

00:35 Ivan: Here's an interesting question: the structure of the Spiritual World? If possible, briefly, what is the Spiritual world and what is its structure?

Irina: The spiritual world is, in our understanding, the world where disembodied Spirits live. It is divided into three main areas. This is what you call the Astral World. This is the part of the Spiritual World closest to the material world, which is intended mainly for visiting Spirits who have temporarily left the material body and live in incarnation.

The astral world, in turn, is divided into 7 sublevels or 7 floors, as it is also called, which differ from each other in the level of feelings and thoughts that correspond to your seven chakras. This is the Astral world, which is around the Earth, around the planet. Around each planet it is arranged in its own way, but around the Earth it is divided into 7 floors, which correspond to the vibrations of the main seven human energy centers.

Further, the next world after the Astral World, after the highest floor of the Astral World, is different in vibrations - the World of Unembodied Spirits.

This region, unlike the Astral, is the same for the entire Universe. Spirits live in it, incarnating everywhere, both in thin-material worlds and in dense-material worlds, Humanoid worlds, Plasmoid worlds. At these levels live everyone who is embodied here in the Universe at a given time of its existence.

It, in turn, is divided into 24 levels. Each level has its own characteristics, vibrational characteristics, characteristics of thoughts and feelings of the Spirits residing there, and for each level there is its own work, its own tasks that the Spirit must perform when coming there, in return for the energy that it will receive for its existence there .

Ivan: That is, the Astral world is also part of the Spiritual world?

Irina: The Astral World is a part of the Spiritual World, closest to the material in vibrations.

Ivan: Okay, I see.

Irina: 24 levels of the World of Unembodied Spirits:

1 to 6 are occupied by low vibrational Spirits, which on Earth are usually called demons, demons and other dark spirits. Why are they called dark? Because in them... they are not aware of their own Light. They consider it to be darkness, that is, they do not believe in themselves as a part of God, as a part of the universal energy, they deny it.

Ivan: They are not engaged in creative activities, so to speak?

Irina: They are not engaged in creative activities, and they are engaged in the destruction of what they themselves created in the past. We call this process degradation. From a higher level, the Spirit descends to a lower level - it degrades. And they are engaged in the destruction of what other Spirits have created for some of their own purposes. The reason for all this is usually a misunderstanding in general of what a creative goal is and what a destructive goal is. In a misunderstanding of justice, love and other basic, fundamental concepts.

Irina: Levels 7 and 8 are special levels, they do not relate to demons or average Spirits, they occupy a special position because Spirits live in them, who had many incarnations in the Plasmoid worlds, namely in the Spirits who are responsible for elements and for certain places in the nature of the planets. Not just those who had many incarnations there, but for whom these incarnations had a special meaning. They see God, they see the Light, they see love only in the manifestations of nature, so to speak, not in people...

Ivan: Can we say that they do not have direct contact with God, with the Creator?

Irina: Yes, they do not have direct contact with God, with the Creator. Naturally, they themselves may think differently. But the fact is that for them Light, the energy of God, manifests itself through matter. They may consider matter eternal, for example. Give her the attributes of God. Having incarnations precisely in the Plasmoid worlds, in the subtle worlds. What we call subtle matter is, in the understanding of your earthly physics, various types of energy.

Ivan: Energy worlds, relatively speaking.

Irina: Energy worlds, yes. Although it is thin, it is matter. Moreover, many of them may not even consider themselves to be matter, they may consider themselves to be Spirit. They consider their worlds so different from dense material ones that they can call themselves Spirits. But where they are embodied, it's all the same, even if it's subtle, it's still matter. They are embodied anyway. Very, very many of us incarnate there, but those for whom these incarnations make a lot of sense get to the 7th and 8th levels. Who constantly strives there. These are the Spirits that get to the 7th and 8th level.

From 9 to 16 are levels, we have a special term, which can be translated into Russian as average Spirits occupying a middle position. They occupy an intermediate position between the world of destruction and between the world of creation, between the world of material consumption and between the world of material creation.

From 9 to 16 inclusive and from level to level, awareness grows in the understanding that all Spirits incarnate here to create, to bring good, and so on. But unlike those Spirits that will follow, they usually pay attention to the material world. But not for its destruction, but for its knowledge. For the consumption of various goods that exist here. But for consumption, not for the destruction of others. That's the difference. Just to satisfy your current needs. But at the same time, without engaging in consumption and satisfying one's feelings, without doing this at the expense of others. Simply put, they earn their own income. And they first get to know the world at the 9th, 10th level through sensations, through body sensations, through taste, through smell, through some kind of pleasure. When they seek these pleasures, they may actually forget about both God and spiritual development. But, what is important, here the evolutionary development lies in the fact that, although they forget about God, they still understand that this cannot be done at the expense of others. Unlike those who live from levels 1 to 6. They also strive for pleasure, but they do not adhere to any principles of conscience or any compassion in these matters.

From 9 to 12 these are the levels of material consumption. Then there are levels of material knowledge. The goal, for example, of the 14th level is already the knowledge of the material world and, not just the material world - whether something can be done or not, but the recognition of its laws, how it works. Level 15 is the level when a person not only learns, but creates ideas that improve the material world in some way. They are considered creators.

Now, level 16 is transitional, it is very difficult. Level 16 is a transition to the next world, to the next levels. This level is called Spiritual Seeker . He, unlike everyone else, although he remains in the middle world, is already beginning to develop a desire to cognize the Spiritual world. He already has the concept that not everything is so simple, that not only does matter exist, that the Spiritual world exists, and he is engaged in learning various spiritual teachings, for example. And it is very difficult to pass, because when passing it, you can either fall, because a person can fall into a fanatical religious movement, for example, which will not cause in him the desire to develop, but only hatred of dissidents, which will not contribute to his progress in any way , on the contrary, a fall. Or, he will find creative spiritual teachings that will allow him to cleanse himself of all negative attitudes, of the emotions that they generate, and then he will go higher. They can usually go to many religious movements, groups, search for their own and for a long time not find any satisfaction in this search. He is called a seeker. But, if he finds something that is close to his soul, if it resonates with light in him, then he can sharply increase his level and go to another.

Next come the levels, which can be called in your Russian language World of Angels, these are from 17 to 24 . The most fundamental difference between this world and other worlds is that Spirits live there, who have already realized themselves as a Spirit, and not as a body.

Ivan: They are more aware of the spiritual component.

Irina: Yes, they are more aware of the spiritual component. And from level to level their awareness of what they were born for grows. The desire to serve unselfishly grows in them. Serve God, serve neighbors. They may even completely forget about themselves, for example, and completely devote all their strength, all their resources, both material and intangible, to the benefit of others. Of course, in the understanding that they understand this good. However, once they got to this level, then, in the incarnation when they got to it, they no longer had a motive, let alone to get pleasure at the expense of others, and they didn't even have a motive to serve matter. They understood that they incarnated in the material world to know God, to know the spiritual path, and they understood that without this knowledge all material accumulation is meaningless. Usually this is expressed in the words that what is the benefit if you accumulate some wealth or get some pleasure, but a person will still die and, without improving himself, go to the Spiritual world.

Ivan: We can say that they value the spiritual more than the material. The priority is shifted more towards the spiritual than the material.

Irina: Yes, their priority is more towards the spiritual. And from levels 17 to 24, awareness grows. Level 17 – Angels of Nature, level 18 – Guardian Angels and so on and so forth. And the higher the Spirit rises in levels, the more opportunities it gains to influence the life path of other Spirits. 22, 23 and so on 24 levels are Spirits who are already tasked with monitoring... For example, selecting incarnations for others, teaching others, being mentors. Naturally, more opportunities come with more responsibility. It's easy to fall down from these levels if...

Ivan: Okay. The question is, from what levels do Spirits incarnate into people on Earth?

Irina: From everyone.

Ivan: From everyone, from 1 to 24?

Irina: With 1 times 24, yes.

16:05 Ivan: What Spirits, from what levels, predominantly incarnate on Earth at the present time?

Irina: Now your planet is going through a cycle of historical development, in which the share of Spirits from the first 12 levels exceeds the share of incarnating Spirits from the last 12 levels. If 24 levels are divided into two. The first 12 are attributed to the world of material consumption and the remaining 12 to the world of material creation, then the share of incarnated Spirits from levels 1 to 12, the last 25 earthly years, on Earth was approximately 73%, and 27% were incarnated from levels 12 to 24. But this the figure fluctuates every year, I say on average.

But recently, this indicator has tended to increase incarnating Spirits from the Highest levels, because the Interstellar Union is carrying out special work to cleanse the Earth's noosphere from negative thought forms, from negative egregorial structures, so that the pure vibrations that emit Light and Love, so that they attracted Spirits from the Highest levels to incarnate.

Still, the Interstellar Union decided to help your Civilization in this way, in your socio-evolutionary development, so that you do not go through so long and hard the path of development that is characteristic of many civilizations: wars, decay and moral degradation of power structures, and so on Further.

Ivan: Yes, I see, good. That is, in different eras, different Spirits incarnate on Earth from different levels, does this indicator vary?

Irina: It varies, yes.

18:44 Ivan: What happens to the soul after death?

Irina: If we talk about an earthling, his life span has already been determined before his incarnation. Naturally, it changes depending on the passage of lessons on Earth. It can be either extended or shortened, depending on how much it degrades or improves. But, nevertheless, the date of its final separation from the physical body, if it is natural, that is, it is not caused by force, becomes known in advance in the Spiritual world.

In the material world, shortly before the death of a person's physical body, the so-called Spirit Guides come, who from the 21st level are Angel Guides, they are also called. Their task is to guide the human Soul, separated from the body, into the Spiritual world. To guide her through the Astral and further to the level she has reached.

Ivan: During your lifetime?

Irina: During life, yes. The usual practice is that Spirit Guides, one or two, depending on the Soul that leaves the body (it can relate to death differently) come to the material world and wait for the separation of the Soul, being directly near the physical body. So, even if there is no one physically near the dying person, in the Spiritual world those High Spirits are always waiting for him, who are always ready to help if anything happens. Even if a person dies who has degraded, for example, to the level of a demon, that is, he will belong to levels from 1 to 6, they will still come to meet him. Naturally, those demons who helped him degrade can also come, they can also come to their friend. However, Spirit Guides are always present. When the Soul is finally separated from the body, the Spirit Guides meet it. It can be in a different state there, naturally, depending on the attitude towards death and how prepared the person is. The fact is that when the Soul leaves the body, its thought forms begin to form the surrounding reality around it, astral images. She may begin to see, for example, her deceased relatives or something else. Spirit Guides turn to the Soul. If they see that the soul does not perceive them, they can take on an image that is close to them in order to still guide the Soul to that level, calm it down, and say that nothing special is happening. To guide her to the level of the Spiritual world that she has reached. If it's level 1 to 21, they do it. If it is a level above 21, they only take it to level 21, and then it will go on its own. Because it is impossible for the Spirit, which is at some level, to rise higher until it reaches it precisely in the material world.

Ivan: Can a spirit from a high level descend to a lower level in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Maybe only for him it will be connected with a decrease in his vibrations and with the struggle that the lower level usually pushes out, it's hard to just be in low vibrations. But still, it is possible.

As soon as the Soul was taken to the spiritual level where it is located, the rules are explained to it. That is, how can she live there, what can she do. And initially, the Soul that left the body still has the vital force that it took. Until your approximately 40 days after death, the Spirit is united with the life force.

Gradually this vital force dissipates from her. Usually within a few days. This is always individual, of course. But the average period is from 3 to 7 earthly days, after the final separation from the body. Firstly, the thread of vital force is immediately interrupted, that is, it is impossible to return to the body. Usually within an hour after death, the thread of life force is severed.

And from this moment the decomposition of those substances that were in the body begins. Those microbes that were in the body, they decompose this body into elements. With the goal that these molecules, these atoms, enter the environment for further construction. In the future, precisely because the life threads are broken, the Soul can no longer return to the physical body, although sometimes, when people are afraid of death, they try to do this, they try to return, but this is impossible.

The soul may try to return, especially since it is surrounded by relatives whom it feels sorry for, for example, who do not yet want to let it go.

25:02 Ivan: What happens if the Soul really wants to return, the relatives suffer greatly for this person who has died, and what happens to the Soul in this case?

Irina: If relatives suffer a lot, then they highlight this suffering, that is, these emotions, emotions of grief, the desire to see her and so on, emotions of non-acceptance of her death. Naturally, all emotions go into the Spiritual world. And since they themselves are alive, these relatives, then these emotions are reinforced and charged with their vitality.

And they go into the Spiritual world, some of them remain in the Astral body, but a lot goes into the Spiritual world. And since they are charged with the image of this Soul that has left, then these emotions, charged with vital force, go to this Soul. Here it already depends on the evolutionary level of the Soul itself; it can accept this as its nourishment, its food. On an emotional level, it will look like she likes that they think of her this way, that she is remembered, and she will begin, for example, to want to continue to replenish her vitality. Moreover, she will lose it every day, and at about the 40th day, this is all very individual, but approximately, on average, at the 40th day, the Soul has already completely wasted its vitality and becomes a Spirit.

Ivan: It turns out that on the 40th day, approximately, the Soul completely loses its own vitality, but if there are relatives who are ready to share their vitality with this Soul, through their suffering, experiences and everything else, then they begin to create this channel feeding this Soul with your life force?

Irina: Yes, they are starting to create this channel, everything is correct. And here everything depends on the development of the Soul itself, on its attitude to the situation... If it is ready to accept this channel, it can even further provoke thoughts about itself, it can come to them in the Astral, through a dream, and so on. Somehow provoke further action. Why might she want this? The fact is that the life of the Spirit without vital force is unnatural. Still, the Spirit is comfortable being surrounded by life force.

Ivan: And then it turns out that the Soul gets stuck in the Astral World and does not go to the Spiritual World?

Irina: She can live in the Spiritual World, but she will often visit the Astral World.

Or maybe he will remain in the Astral.

The guides will come, she will simply refuse to go with them. But according to the laws of the Spiritual world, no one has the right to force, compel, and so on. They can only offer it to her, explaining everything as it is.

Ivan: But if she refuses, she can stay - “stuck” in the Astral World and subscribe to the life energy of her relatives.

Irina: Yes, but Angel Guides, from time to time, can, of course, appear and they, most likely, will do this, will appear before this Soul. They will explain the consequences of such behavior, that she may degrade, and so on.

Ivan: In my practice, I have often encountered such situations when Souls get stuck and begin, relatively speaking, to live next to relatives, thus feeding on their energy and only depleting people.

Irina: The only way out here is for her to move on and develop. The only way to help this Soul here will be to block this channel, because otherwise you can finally make it with your life force... Set it up for parasitism.

Ivan: Yes, parasitic use of someone else's life energy.

Irina: Yes. And in the future, this same connection cannot always exist, or relatives, they may get sick from this, because they lose their vitality. Or, they will still go about their business and forget about this Soul. In the future, it will not be easy for her to rebuild her internal script. That is, she will have to work on it later in incarnation. If you truly feel sorry for your departed relatives, then you should not contribute to their degradation. You must, if this has already happened, and you feel that this channel has been created, you need to block it, because in this way you will, on the contrary, contribute to the development of the Soul. She will then move on and solve her problems.

Ivan: Blocking the channel means stopping suffering. Realize that suffering is meaningless.

Irina: Yes, come to terms with death.

Ivan: Stop generating negative attachments, negative emotions, all these negative connections in the form of suffering, pain for the departed Soul, for the departed Person.

Irina: The fact is that there may be pain for the departed Soul, this creates a channel. And the channel can be even stronger if there are any negative feelings left, resentment towards this Soul... This can also feed.

Ivan: Yes, any negative emotions establish such negative connections, negative channels. I have even encountered situations where this happens in the next incarnations of a person.

Irina: Such karmic connections.

Ivan: Yes, when already in the next incarnation of a person he continues to feed some Soul with which he established a connection sometime earlier. I even saw such things.

Irina: In fact, these are negative connections. They hinder the development of both Souls.

31:40 Ivan: Okay, another question, do all people have Spiritual Guides and who are they?

Irina: Of course, everyone has Spiritual Guides. At least in the sense that before incarnating here on Earth, each of you must have met with the Consultants of the Spiritual World at least once. Because without selecting the conditions for the places of incarnation, you simply would not have been incarnated.

Ivan: And in the process of life, in the process of incarnation?

Irina: In general, according to the rules of the Spiritual world, those Consultants who helped select the conditions for incarnation, they did this for more than one day. This is all calculated, it is all calculated through various symbolic signs, so that the signs, for example, of a horoscope, numerological calculation, correspond. Astrological and numerological systems are created not to influence the incarnate Spirit, but to show those initiated into this who exactly has incarnated. And, naturally, Consultant Angels, knowing all this, knowing all these symbols, knowing their meaning, they select, including taking into account these parameters, in order to show others through symbols who has incarnated and for what purposes and tasks. And, plus, they select the conditions for incarnation, so that, taking into account his individual qualities that he has developed over all previous incarnations, he develops, grows in love, in acceptance, in humility, in patience. He himself sees that he lacks, so to speak, height. And selects appropriate conditions for him. This is not a matter of one day and often not even one month. And the Spirit usually meets, that is, it comes to the Consultants, then the Consultants can call him, explain these conditions to him, talk to him, they become his Spiritual Mentors.

Ivan: During the process of embodiment, does this communication with Consultants continue?

Irina: The thing is, this is a pretty serious step. Firstly, he is offered several options. And the Spirit itself becomes acquainted with these options. Where will he be born, who will his parents be, what are his goals and objectives. And he definitely gets to know how long he will live. This is how the Consultants selected him. As I already said, everything is changeable: how long he will live and from what reason he will die. All this will be told to him. If he has questions: “Why is this?”, he will be shown the reasons for this in previous incarnations. And in the process of life, naturally, Consultants are ready to communicate with the Soul if it realizes... Firstly, it realizes the connection with its Spirit, with the entire part of its Spirit. That is, not only with the consciousness that manifests itself through the material brain. And with that part of the Spirit that remained in the Spiritual world, which you call the Higher Self.

If a person follows the path of spiritual evolution, if he gradually begins to realize himself in the Spiritual world, if he begins to communicate with this part of himself, then through this part of himself he begins to communicate with his Mentors, if he has such needs and has such a desire . They won't refuse. They will come.

Ivan: So they are not always next to a person?

Irina: Firstly, they themselves can already be incarnate. They can deal with other Souls. The fact is that even if they are, for example, in incarnation, and a person turns to this counseling center while already in incarnation, then that Mentor, that Consultant who is familiar with his history, will answer him there. They are all ready to answer. They’ll get to know each other, and he’ll simply answer that he’s busy right now. He cannot necessarily say that he is in embodiment. He can simply say, my name is so-and-so, I’m ready to answer you.

Ivan: Help instead of him.

Irina: Yes.

Ivan: So this connection with the Mentor occurs only at the request of the person himself?

Irina: Usually, yes. This again depends on the goals of the incarnation. If the purpose of incarnation involves some kind of action or spiritual practice, Consultants can come themselves. In a dream, in some altered states of consciousness, they can appear and simply guide you on the path.

Ivan: Maybe the initiative is on their part?

Irina: There may be an initiative on their part, but they will always take into account the person's possible reaction.

Ivan: Yes, I see. Whether a person is ready to accept help or not.

Irina: Yes, they think about it too... It's not just that all this happens, they think about it.

00:01 The place of the Spiritual world in material space.

Ivan: The next question is, where is the spiritual world in space?

Irina: What do you understand by the word space?

Ivan: By the word space I mean material space. What we call the dimensions of material space.

Irina: So, you just asked where the Spiritual world is located in material space?

Ivan: Yes.

Irina: The very word spiritual presupposes an understanding that it is outside of material space.

You operate in terms of three-dimensional space. For example, you have a sheet of paper, if you draw a person there, imagine him alive, then for him this sheet of paper will be space. And this space will be two-dimensional for him. That is, if this person is alive, then he will not see you sitting next to him. You are in a different space for him.

Ivan: In another dimension, yes.

Irina: In another dimension, we simply call it another space. That is, if you put your finger on this sheet, he will see it. He will see your finger as some strange object in his sky, for example, or in some of his space, some kind of round, that is, he will see it in its own shape. But he won't see all of you, because you are beyond his range of perception.

That’s why it’s the same story with the Spiritual world, only this is outside the three-dimensional world.

02:13 Dimensions of space.

Ivan: Okay, then the next question, since we are talking about dimensionality. Are there spaces more than three-dimensional? So we discussed two-dimensional space, three-dimensional space, in our understanding. Is there, say, a four-dimensional space, a five-dimensional space?

Irina: What you call the fourth dimension, the fifth dimension, the sixth dimension and so on... I know how this question is understood in your science. The fact is that we do not consider time to be a separate characteristic of space. We do not consider time as a dimension at all. Time for us is not a linear indicator, a dimension. Like the length, for example. Time is just a convenient way for us to report. A convenient way for this or that Civilization, so to speak, is a way of counting the intervals of this Eternity, Eternal Existence.

Ivan: This is not very clear to our people, I’m afraid.

Irina: Now I will explain.

Ivan: Time as a criterion for changing space is probably clearer this way.

Irina: Time for us is a way of measuring the changes that occur in space. For example, your Earth revolves around the Sun. As it revolves around the Sun, it returns to the same point. This revolution of the Earth around the Sun and its return to one point occurs during the same period of the Earth’s existence. And the existence of the Earth is very long, it is longer than the existence of individual people. And compared to the life of an individual person, the existence of the Earth is endless. Their lifespan is very different. Therefore, for the convenience of individual people who live on Earth, a counting period was invented. For example, the Earth's revolution around the Sun and return to one point is a certain period of time, it was called a year. Then it was divided into special periods, months, and so on. And they divided the month. This is all for the convenience of those who live on Earth.

Ivan: That's understandable.

Irina: For us, time is a way of calculating existence. But it does not affect our measurement. That is, we have, as you said, three-dimensional space.

Ivan: That is, time is like a parameter for changing space.

Irina: Yes.

Ivan: Okay.

Irina: Now measurements. As I have already shown with the example of a sheet of paper, there is a one-dimensional space, it is just a point.

Ivan: Yes, I see.

Irina: A straight line is already the movement of a point. Further, if there is just length, it will be one-dimensional space, if width is added, it will be two-dimensional.

Ivan: If you add a third coordinate, it will be three-dimensional, there will be volume.

Irina: It will be three-dimensional, there will be volume. Here you have a voluminous space. And then, if we add, for example, the next dimension, it will already be, as I already said, the fourth dimension, this will already be the Spiritual world, that is, the Astral, so to speak. Not the entire Spiritual world, but the closest part of it. The fourth dimension, so to speak, the Astral. You don't see subtle worlds, for example. If you look from this point of view, then the fourth dimension will be the world of energies.

Ivan: The fourth dimension can be considered as an energy component.

Irina: Yes, that your scientists are already measuring it. That is, this is some kind of dark matter, dark energy in the Universe that you detect, and you don't know the explanation why it is needed and what it is. This collection of plasmoid worlds, those that make up the fourth dimension, is inaccessible from here. Next, the fifth dimension, which is no longer accessible from the subtle world. The fifth dimension will already be the Astral.

07:25 Plasmoid, astral worlds, spiritual world, energy of the Creator.

Ivan: So the fourth region is astral?

Irina: The fourth dimension is plasmoid worlds, so it will be more accurate.

Ivan: So this is plasmoid energy?

Irina: Yes. That is, the three-dimensional world is densely material, substances. The fourth dimension is energies without substances, just fields. The fifth dimension is the Astral world. And then comes the sixth dimension - this is the World of Unembodied Spirits, which I have already talked about. And the seventh dimension is something I did not say about in the structure of the Spiritual world... There is another area of the Spiritual world, which is even further in vibration from the material than the World of Unembodied Spirits. This is exactly that Light, that vibration that supports everything. That energy of the Creator, which in Christian terminology is usually called the Kingdom of Heaven. Naturally, Christ spoke the language of the concepts of that time. That is, he called it the Kingdom. At that time, the Kingdom was the complete management of the King, the implementation of his laws. He called the Spiritual world heavenly. Not these heavens, which are visible, so to speak, but that Kingdom from where the entire Spiritual world is controlled. He assumed that the formation of the Material world comes from the Spiritual world. This is the manager of everything. And this is already the seventh dimension. That is, this is the Kingdom of Heaven. This is the Divine World, in which there are no longer Spirits, in which there is only God, but to which Spirits from the last three levels have access.

Ivan: With 22 by 24, yes?

Irina: Yes, from levels 22, 23, and 24, spirits have access there. That is, they match the vibrations so much. But they do not live there permanently. They have access there as needed in order to communicate directly with God, so that God can explain to them plans for incarnation. So that he can instruct them how to instruct others.

10:06 Parallel reality in the astral world.

Ivan: Okay, then the following question. Are there parallel three-dimensional realities?

Irina: Parallel to what?

Ivan: Parallel to this reality.

Irina: Now I'll explain to him. The fact is that he means... We have a theory that when some event occurs, we are left with the reality that this event did not happen. You about it?

Ivan: Yes.

Irina: Divided.

Ivan: Yes, an option, as a division of reality. You can describe it this way.

Irina: Do they exist physically or in the astral plane?

Ivan: Both physically and astrally.

Irina: Only the physical Universe physically exists. Here it is, three-dimensional reality. There are different egregors in the astral atmosphere. And there, indeed, those scenarios of events can be formed that were not fulfilled in physical reality, were not embodied. And they exist there in mental images.

Ivan: That is, in astral structures.

Irina: Yes, in astral structures. But Spirits do not incarnate there, because there is no matter from mental images... As a physical reality, only your three-dimensional space exists.

For example, there was some kind of war on Earth a long time ago. That's it, it has already happened in the three-dimensional world. In the astral space it might not have happened, because many people do not want wars, and they could create in the Astral, so to speak, their own egregor, their own world. Such a separate world, created by the mental images of different people, is called an egregor. We can call it a world, because when you get into it, into this egregor, it really seems like some kind of world, especially if it is powerful enough. And there may indeed be a scenario that, for example, there was no war. But in fact, in the physical world all this has already happened. That is, you can find traces of this. It's all there. Roughly speaking, the one who was physically killed in this war, that’s all, it’s already happened. If a city is destroyed, there is no physical reality where it is intact. It needs to be restored again.

Ivan: As I understand it, there is a parallel reality in the Astral World?

Irina: There is a parallel reality in the Astral world; they are created, like egregors, by thoughts.

13:09 Alternative, parallel reality, egregor filling.

Ivan: That is, they exist on the energy level, but are not manifested on the material level?

Irina: I'll explain now. For example, a writer writes a book. For example, he is writing a book about the alternative reality that exists in his mind. About the fact that some commander was advancing, for example, Adolf Hitler. He attacked, but it didn’t work out, the war didn’t work out, he was quickly destroyed, and so on. He created a reality in his book where everything was different. Anyone who reads this book, if he likes this idea, he likes the experiences of the characters, and so on, he begins to get involved in this process. While reading, he begins to create his own thought forms and, naturally, allocate his life force to them. When we read, we allocate vital force to emotions. And in the Astral it is formed...

Ivan: Fills me with his energy.

Irina: Yes, and the more people read this book, precisely with the feeling that they like it, that they are pleased with it, the more powerful this egregor is. And in the astral, the one who goes into the Astral, in general, a person who has not read, but for some reason his vibrations will coincide in thoughts with the egregor, he can get there. During astral travel, he will see the world that was created. But, returning to the body, he will already see that it was an astral journey.

Ivan: That is, on the astral level, we can say that there is a parallel reality?

Irina: Yes, created by you yourself.

14:42 Manifestation of material reality.

Ivan: Created by people themselves, of course. But how is material reality manifested, only one reality?

Irina: Yes, because any written book or script for any film cannot change what has been created. That is, if, for example, the city of Leningrad was bombed. And any book written about the fact that it remained intact cannot restore it. You need to perform some physical actions for this. Go and build new houses and so on, because it has already happened.

15:16 The influence of astral reality on the material world.

Ivan: I see. But, nevertheless, these parallel realities are astral, can they somehow influence material reality?

Irina: Like any egregors, through your faith. For example, this can be shown very well by writing science fiction books. Any well-written science fiction book that is published in large numbers influences the consciousness of those who read it. Through this consciousness she can influence the material world. For example, you have a writer that I recently learned about from my contacts - Stephen King. He wrote a number of books, and they greatly influence the consciousness of those who read them. Again, everyone reads the same book differently. And it naturally has different effects. That is, one and the same book can have completely different, opposite in its meaning, influence on different people. Someone will understand the same book as a stimulus to action, to transform themselves. She will have a positive effect on him. But the same book can have a negative impact on another person, with different concepts and worldview. And when a person reads it, if it has been published a long time ago, has already been read by many people, with these feelings that I described, a person, reading it for the first time, already includes it in this egregor. And it begins to feed him if he becomes emotionally involved in what is happening. He begins to feed him with his life force, but this egregor begins to interact with him. How? What other reading people have formed can come to him in the form of some thoughts, in the form of an understanding of what is written, in the form of some images, in a dream, or if he is sensitive, then even in reality. Usually this is what you call literary impression.

17:29 The influence of the Spirit on matter.

Ivan: I see, that is, one way or another, a person can attract some parts of another reality, astral, parallel reality, so to speak, into materiality?

Irina: Yes, it depends on his faith. This all happens according to the general law that the Spirit influences the body. And, accordingly speaking, on your body, and the Spirit influences the matter surrounding it.

Ivan: On the matter with which it comes into contact?

Irina: Yes.

Ivan: To that part of the material world with which it somehow interacts.

Irina: Of course.

Ivan: That is, a person can create a parallel reality, an astral one and, so to speak, materialize?

Irina: Again, a very good example of this influence is shown in the example of Adolf Hitler. He had enough of his personal energy and his personal enthusiasm, his mind to exert such a powerful influence on the minds, on the Souls of his contemporaries already living with him, that they took military action with other states. He was able to call them to follow him, he was able to create an egregor that was already influencing other people.

Ivan: That is, in this way he created his own astral reality. Another, so to speak, parallel. He embodied it in materiality.

Irina: Yes, he also wrote a book, accordingly, in which he outlined his ideas, and it was written in such a way that it already had an influence on many who came into contact with it and, namely, an influence in the direction in which he wanted. He created such a force, such a destructive egregor, which influenced the destruction of many states and the death of many people. Caused these consequences.

19:31 The difference between the Spiritual world and the material world.

Ivan: Yes, I see, good. What is the difference between the Spiritual world and the material world?

Irina: The difference is that in the material world there is matter. By matter we understand the same Divine energy of Light, but in other vibrations, accessible to the perception of the receptors of a particular body. That is, in the subtle material world, everything is accessible to the perception of subtle bodies. In the dense material world, everything is accessible to perception through the receptors of the dense material body. In fact, all these material particles that you call atoms and particles - portions of energy that you call quanta and so on, are all the same Divine energy, but in different vibrations. The Spiritual world differs from the material world in the level of manifestation. And so, in essence, it is one and the same. It's just Light. It manifests itself on different levels accessible to perception.

20:41 Levels of manifestation of the Spiritual world, accessible to perception.

Ivan: What do levels of manifestation mean, what do you mean?

Irina: I mean density.

Ivan: Different energy characteristics?

Irina: Yes, different energy characteristics. I'll explain now. What I mean is that, for example, a piece of ice and a cloud are composed of the same molecules, but the difference between them is in the level of density. That is, you can support a piece of ice with your hands, a cloud is a gaseous state, this is impossible. I'm just emphasizing that this is a very material example. This is just an example, this is not an analogy of what happens in the Spiritual world, this is just a material example of what the levels of manifestation are. We can say that the element of water manifests itself at different levels of manifestation, from gaseous to dense, but it is one and the same water. Is the analogy clear?

21:49 Basic differences between the Spiritual world and the material world.

Ivan: Yes, the analogy is clear. Any other perhaps interesting basic differences between the Spiritual and the Material world?

Irina: In the Spiritual world there is no matter, there are no substances that you know from the Periodic Table, and there is no what you call the spectrum of electromagnetic waves. That is, no radio waves, no light, precisely in the material appearance of light, as you call photons. No electrons, no photons, no radiation, no gravity.

Ivan: That is, everything that is considered particles?

Irina: No time, yes. That is, there is no light, no gravity, no radiation, no radiation, no time, no three-dimensional space, it has its own spiritual space. In general, the space there is perceived as one. That is, even those who consciously go to the Astral feel that their consciousness is not in the three-dimensional world. You simply don't have a word in your language that can describe this. They don't feel that there is length, width, height or anything else. They feel that it is all one, like a ball; this is usually how they are perceived.

23:18 Subjectivity of time in the Spiritual world.

Ivan: I see, and there is also no time there, as you said, in the Spiritual world?

Irina: In the Spiritual world there is a feeling of time as simply its existence. But it does not coincide with time in the material world. That is, it is subjective, one might say. There are no time periods, for example, according to the Sun. Or stars by which you can somehow navigate. There, each Spirit is oriented according to its subjective feeling of its life, that is, such and such segments of its life. But this is all very individual, by the way. That is, for example, if one day has passed on Earth, then two Spirits living in the Spiritual World at different levels will feel this day differently. Like your time period, from several hours to a year. That is, as I already said, the flow of this internal time is subjective. But such a thing that time is counted as in the material world, there is no such thing there.

24:29 Linearity of time perception in the Spiritual world.

Ivan: Okay, is time there linear or not? Is this even a parameter?

Irina: If you mean from the past to the future?

Ivan: From past to future, from future to past?

Irina: The fact is that periods of existence, as they are perceived by the Spirit, are subjective. Naturally, they are perceived as linear, because the Spirit, he feels that he exists. He feels the flow of his thoughts, for example. And the flow of your thoughts is already time. For him they occur in time, it is subjective. Because when the perception of time, even subjective time, completely stops, the Spirit cannot think at all. For example, in order to say the three words “I see the light,” one must already perceive oneself in time, at least subjectively.

Ivan: Time is still needed. The flow of thoughts already implies time.

Irina: Of course, because in order to connect even three words into one sentence, so that the words are one after another, you already need consciousness, which is at least located in subjective time. If it does not exist at all, the Spirit simply will not be able to say: “I see the light.” Because he will not discern that I... See... Light. That is, he will have such a continuous consciousness, and he will not be able to separate this thought.

26:12 Options for moving the Spirit in time.

Ivan: I see, good. There is time, it is subjective for each Spirit. And does it only move in one direction or can it also move in the opposite direction? Is it possible to move through time in different directions?

Irina: The fact is that in the Spiritual world, as I already said, time is independent of the material world and because of this it is possible to visit your past, for example. That is, what has already happened in the material world. It is possible to visit in the Spirit, in the astral body, those events of the past that have already occurred. For the Spirit this is no longer difficult. That is, it does not matter whether the event has already happened or is happening. With future events, everything is more complicated, because you can visit future events, but it has many options.

Ivan: I see. That is, it is unknown which option, so to speak, to go for?

Irina: Your future depends on the present, on the choices of many, many people, and it has many options. In the Astral it looks like many variants of the same thing, and you can go to the future version, but it is unknown which of them will be embodied. Not known with 100% certainty.

Ivan: There is a probability of distribution, but what kind of probability will be realized in materiality is unknown?

Irina: Yes.

Ivan: I see, but can the Spirit move both backwards in time and forwards in time?

Irina: Yes, because it is not dependent on material time. He has his own subjective.

Ivan: Does it have its own subjective passage of time?

Irina: Of course, just to even be aware of yourself as a stream of thoughts.

28:05 Possibility and reasons for the incarnation of the Spirit in the past.

Ivan: And the question is, the Spirit can be incarnated in the past, let's say, that is, have one incarnation, let's say, in this time, in this century, relatively speaking, and have the next incarnation in the past time, three centuries ago?

Irina: There are no obstacles for this. If it suits the purpose of his spiritual evolution, then yes he can.

Ivan: So the Spirit can choose time?

Irina: This happens less often than incarnation in its usual time.

Ivan: Than sequential incarnations in time.

Irina: Yes. Because this requires a goal. Why does he do this, why does he need to return and live there again? Sometimes the goal is different. For example, there may be a goal to generally show that the Spiritual world exists, and then a Spirit from the future, who has already lived in your time, incarnates. Getting into the Spiritual world, he is brought back, and he is embodied in that...

Ivan: Relatively speaking, what is the past, relative to its previous incarnation?

Irina: Yes, the difficulties of translation from Ehler, from Esler are all clear to us.

Ivan: Okay, I'll say it in Russian. That is, let's say that the Spirit first incarnates in the 20th century, and the next incarnation the Spirit incarnates, say, in the 15th century.

Irina: In this case, even if this happened, it has a special meaning, usually not only for him, but also for those people where he incarnated there. Simply put, since he is embodied in the past, some of the information is left to him, that is, his memory is not completely blocked. They leave him some information about what will happen for them, for the people of the 15th century. And usually they become such people, like the one who was Wolf Messing, for example.

Ivan: Yes, I understand. In my practice, I have encountered cases where incarnations do not occur sequentially in time, incarnations occur in the past.

Irina: I will say that it is much less common.

Ivan: Yes, it's rare, but it happens.

Irina: It happens.

Ivan: I've just encountered this before.

Irina: This has a special meaning.

30:14 What is the Higher Self?

Ivan: Yes, this makes some sense, of course. It definitely doesn't just happen, so to speak. What is the Higher Self? In principle, we have already talked about this a little today, but in a nutshell.

Irina: The part of the Spirit that is not united with the body and is located at the level of the Spiritual world from which it incarnated here is called the Higher Self.

The entire Spirit cannot unite with matter; it is too different from it in vibration. That is, right now, sitting in front of me, you are simultaneously in the physical world, part of you is in the astral world, and part of you is in the World of Unincarnate Spirits, and another part of you is in the Kingdom of Heaven, so to speak, from which we are all happened.

Ivan: In the World of the Creator, relatively speaking.

Irina: Yes, your part is also in the World of the Creator. So, the Higher Self is that part of you that is, firstly, in the World of Disembodied Spirits, and that part of you that is in the World of the Creator. There they are united. That is, here, being in physical embodiment, in a physical body, we do not separate them. For us it is simply Light.

31:45 The soul as a part of the Spirit, embodied in the material world.

Ivan: For us it's just Light. Okay, so that part of the Spirit that incarnates into the physical body is what we call the Soul, right?

Irina: That part of the Spirit that incarnates, yes, is the Soul. Because the Soul is a Spirit that has acquired vital force for incarnation. This is the Soul and, relatively speaking... Now I will select analogues to make it clear.

Ivan: In general, it's clear, yes. That is, this is a part of the Spirit, embodied in the material world and possessing a certain energy, vital force for, so to speak, incarnation and for life in the material world.

Irina: Imagine two communicating vessels, for example, one in which there will be 5 liters of water and one in which there will be 2 liters of water. And imagine that they are connected by a rubber tube, that the water that is in a 5 liter container must go into a 2 liter container. 2 liters of water came in, the rest couldn't, they remained in that vessel. This is an analogy of the fact that part of the Spirit was embodied in the body, and part remained in the Spiritual world.

Ivan: Yes, quite understandable, of course. I understand you completely. That is, this is simply the part that is embodied in materiality, and the rest remains in the Spiritual world.

Irina: Yes, and they are connected there.

Ivan: And they are connected, okay.

Irina: Communication channel.

33:26 Channel of communication between the Soul and the Spirit, intuition.

Ivan: Unless, of course, this channel is blocked by a specific person. The channel of communication is with the Spirit.

Irina: What remains in the Spiritual world has a part of consciousness. It realizes itself there. And, naturally, it knows that part of its Spirit is embodied. It was he who chose the incarnation. And, naturally, he tries to communicate with his embodied part, because it is in his interests that he develops. He turns to himself, so to speak, embodied, with different thoughts, advice, ideas on how to go. Usually you call it intuition, conscience and other manifestations of your own.

Ivan: That is, intuition is, so to speak, what...

Irina: Communication channel.

Ivan: Communication channel, what the Higher Self is trying to convey to its embodied part, to its Soul?

Irina: Manifestation of a communication channel. One of the manifestations of a communication channel.

00:00 Ivan: How many Souls does the Higher Self have? Can one Higher Self have several Souls?

Irina: No, one Soul.

00:09 Ivan: One Soul. That is, each Spirit or Higher Self has one incarnation at the current moment?

Irina: What I said, a 5-liter vessel, it cannot pour part of itself into two material vessels, so to speak, only into one. Because if the Spirit, one and the same, embodies different parts of itself, so to speak, in different material bodies, then it will receive, firstly, different consciousnesses, that is, it will have contradictory experiences. It is very difficult to combine them into one. In addition, there will be, for example, completely different consciousnesses, and this will be a contradiction. In general, thoughts, feelings, they will contradict each other, and he will not achieve the goal of his spiritual evolution. That is, one might say, he will have a split personality. He can't do that.

01:17 Ivan: That is, only one incarnation of the Spirit can occur at the same time? Is only one Soul of each Spirit embodied at any particular moment in time?

Irina: Yes, because a rational Spirit, when incarnating, will not be able to simultaneously receive experience from several material bodies, because different consciousnesses, they will simply think differently, with different speeds of thought processes, and this will not help him in any way, it will only confuse him .

01:47 Ivan: What about astral bodies?

Irina: What you call the astral body is part of the structure of the Spirit, in the structure called the Heart, what we call feelings and desires, partially. You just have different terminology.

Naturally, in the structure of the Spirit there is only one structure in the Heart, which we call feelings and desires.

02:16 Ivan: Yes, it's clear what the astral body is. I mean that in astral reality, as we have already found out, several astral realities can exist, and can the Spirit simultaneously live some different experiences in them, having several astral incarnations, relatively speaking?

Irina: They don't incarnate in the Astral. They are incarnated either in the subtle-material world or in the dense-material world. They are temporarily in the astral plane either by leaving the body while it is still connected to it, or by finally leaving it.

02:53 Ivan: Why is contact with the Higher Self needed?

Irina: Contact with the Higher Self is needed in order to realize the true purpose of incarnation in this world, firstly. Secondly, to receive strength from it, that is, to receive Light energy from it, in order to have the strength to fight with oneself to change the surrounding reality. That is, usually for a person the conditions of the material world can be very difficult, he can receive very unpleasant experiences. And in order not to despair, so as not to go into low vibrations and in order to know the true goals of his incarnation, it is very useful for him to learn to communicate with his Higher Self. And to check all the information he receives from other sources in the material world. To check how well it corresponds to his goals and objectives. That is, where to go? Who should I follow? Who should I listen to? What should I do? Especially in spiritual matters. Yes, and in everyday matters too. Now you have a lot of people on Earth who give advice to others, for example, how to live. So that each person simply does not get confused in these tips and does not start executing other people's programs. It is very useful for him, right from childhood, to establish contact with his Higher Self. So that only the Higher Self gives him advice on his spiritual development, on his living conditions, on his everyday issues, that is, where to go to study, who to work with. To prevent him from simply starting to carry out the programs his parents, for example, put into him, will only delay his evolution. So that he fulfills his own, so that he feels them, so that he follows them. And I ask everyone who is listening to us now, the information that I give through contactee Irina, that you also check it (information) through your Higher Self. If it corresponds to the goals of your spiritual evolution, you accept it and embody it in your actions . And if you feel that it does not suit you, I ask you to follow the voice of your Higher Self, and not my words. Because no one can know what best suits spiritual evolution for you than you yourself in the Spiritual world.

05:39 Ivan: What prevents contact with the Higher Self?

Irina: Disbelief in his existence, first. Doubt about its existence. Negative emotions that are in a person's astral body, that is, his heart, so to speak. Negative feelings and negative emotions, negative thought forms. What are negative ones? Directed against other people, at the destruction of other people or at the destruction of ourselves, at goals contrary to creation, contrary to the love of the Creator, and so on. That is, these negative ones, which reduce a person's vibrations, they interfere with establishing contact with the Higher Self. And plus disbelief in its existence, doubts in the existence of the Spiritual world in general. Self-doubt, that is, lack of trust in oneself. Distrust of the guide that leads to the Higher Self. There are a lot of factors there.

06:49 Ivan: Mistrust, doubts, these are manifestations of fear? Fear in one form or another, right?

Irina: Yes, this is one of the forms. If we understand fear as a defensive reaction, it is one of the forms of protection.

07:07 Ivan: Okay. In short, the more negative emotions a person has, the worse his connection with the Higher Self?

Irina: Yes, the worse he hears him, the Higher Self answers him in any case. That is, it hears his attempts to communicate, but the denser, so to speak, the dark clouds in the sky, the harder it is for the Sun's ray to break through. So here, the more negative vibrations in a person's astral body, that is, between his consciousness and the Spiritual world, the harder it is for a ray of light to break through from there into consciousness.

07:47 Ivan: I see. What is the recipe for working on yourself, removing negative emotions and thereby establishing contact with your Higher Self?

Irina: Yes.

07:58 Ivan: To better hear your intuition, as one of the expressions of the Higher Self?

Irina: Yes, to improve contact with the Higher Self, firstly, cleanse yourself of negative thought forms, negative vibrations, track various kinds of grievances, irritations, and so on. Cleanse yourself from them in time. Try not to experience new negative emotions. That is, getting rid of the very reasons for their occurrence by working on your beliefs. And increase awareness of yourself as Spirit. That is, reflecting on the fact that you are Spirit, that you are only temporarily embodied in a body, this will also strengthen contact with the Higher Self. And increase self-confidence, fight doubts, drive away fears. That is, develop self-confidence, self-love. Love yourself, because those who don't love themselves don't know how to love anyone. He does not know what love is; he mistakes destructive emotions for love. And develop in yourself the energies of love for yourself, for others, for God. The energies of love are most conducive to connecting with the Higher Self.

09:27 Ivan: That is, if a person does not have the energy of love for himself within himself, then he cannot radiate it outward?

Irina: He radiates what he takes to be love, but those around him perceive it differently because they feel that it is not love. Usually the one who radiates such distorted love is then very surprised why others do not accept it or reject it, and becomes even more offended. This vicious circle can lead far down the path of degradation.

09:56 Ivan: Yes, great, this is an interesting point, because I regularly do this procedure with clients, where we simply take it and see what the word love means for this particular person. That is, what set of emotions a person means by the word love. And usually people are very surprised, because there is nothing like the feeling of love, as a rule, for most people. There are continuous negative emotions that create a certain negative scenario, and for some reason a person calls all this love.

Irina: Because they don't love themselves, first of all.

10:30 Ivan: It's understandable that they don't love themselves, but people just don't realize it. A person thinks that this is love.

Irina: Again, as I already said, this is all a problem of your attitude towards children. In general, attitudes towards children in families, attitudes towards children in your educational institutions. That is, you simply cannot teach. Not just to teach with words, but to show children in practice what it is.

10:58 Ivan: Okay, Mead, let's not continue in this direction, otherwise we will again go into a long debate like a couple of days ago. How to distinguish answers from the Higher Self from the answers of other entities, extraneous, so to speak, entities.

Irina: For a beginner?

11:17 Ivan: Yes, for a beginner. When a person begins, let's say, try to contact the Higher Self or the Mentors, for example, and often receives answers from, so to speak, an incomprehensible source. How to distinguish this source? Or is it really your Higher Self, or are some other entities, so to speak, interfering in the process and answering you something?

Irina: This is just practice. Here it may not even be in the words, not even in the answers, but here only in the level of vibrations. Only practice can help you learn to distinguish one vibration level from another. Daily practice of communicating with the Higher Self and tracking your feelings and states at this moment will help you distinguish with whom we are talking. That is, what sensations should there be, what feelings should there be specifically when in contact with the Higher Self. Which are the norm in this communication, which are not the norm.

12:25 Ivan: Some criteria for people, so that people understand.

Irina: There are criteria. If, firstly, with responses from the Higher Self and from the Mentors, that is, from higher Spiritual structures, so to speak, in the consciousness that is converted, in the one who is embodied, a person begins to have certain feelings of Light, for example, filling himself with Light and there are no negative emotions there. That is, they are dissolved there, even those negative emotions that a person has inside before contact, they dissolve in the Light. That is, a person seems to temporarily forget about some of his fears, problems, and so on. Usually the feelings in this case are joy and openness. That is, these are positive, so to speak, vibrations, calmness. If an emotion of fear appears, if an emotion of irritation or other destructive emotions appears, this is a sign that you are either not in contact with the Higher Self, or, if you are in contact with it, but do not agree with its answers, that you will now break off contact , and another entity can take its place. That is, you track your vibrations in this state, and when you truly come into contact with the Higher Self, it will cause you a vibration that you will not confuse with anything else. Your own experience is important here; there are things that cannot be explained in words. I cannot explain to a person who has not tried sugar what sweet taste is and how it differs from salty taste until I give it to him.

14:10 Ivan: Yes. It's just that I've encountered situations in my practice where people, for example, are blocked by fear from contacting the Higher Self, and in a person, even an attempt to contact the Higher Self causes fear. And it is precisely to this fear, to these negative emotions, that other entities, so to speak, of a destructive plan, immediately react and begin, using this fear, to respond as if on behalf of the Higher Self. And the person thinks that yes, he has contacted whom something, with the Mentor, with the Higher Self, and this communication continues.

Irina: What feelings does he have at the same time?

14:48 Ivan: What feelings? Very different, but, as a rule, not too positive.

Irina: Now, if these feelings that I described are not there, this should already alert the person. And in order to get out of contact with these entities that the Higher Self has replaced for him, he must, firstly, realize the reason why these negative emotions are in him, cleanse himself, raise his vibrations in various ways, at least by reading the mood that I spoke about . When there are doubts, that is, if the entity is in some form or simply responds, and there are doubts about its belonging to the Higher light spiritual structures, there is a universal way to imagine yourself with Light, imagine that a ray of light is emanating, say: "I fill you with light, I give you my love" and direct the beam with thoughts. If she accepts, if she sends her own in response, the positive vibrations intensify, the person feels positive emotions, then this is a sign of contact with the Higher Self. If this entity leaves, dissolves, or sends negativity in response, this is a sign that it does not accept your Light. This is a sign of a negative structure and then you need to strengthen your Light so that it does not send, and do not be afraid of it. That is, she cannot harm you as long as you are afraid of her. As long as you are not afraid of any entity, it is under your complete control.

16:34 Ivan: Do you control all interactions with her as long as you are not afraid of her?

Irina: Yes, you give control of the situation to your fears; you give it to your hands.

16:46 Ivan: I see. Why is the memory of past incarnations blocked?

Irina: Because the memory of past incarnations can prevent the Spirit from adapting to a new life, to new parents, to the new world into which it has incarnated. That is, in his previous incarnation he was a certain person. And this person could receive some kind of experience, both positive and negative, and she had her own name, for example, she had her own parents, her own wife, and so on, a spouse. If the memory is not blocked, then the child who is born will not be able to perceive even his parents as his parents, he remembers them as others, and he will reject them, learning from them, their help. He will not treat them as authorities, so to speak, in childhood. In the future, he will compare his life, where he incarnated, with the one that was before, and this will prevent him from adapting. A very simple example, if he previously lived in a rich family in some kind or in a government one, then having incarnated in the conditions of a poor family, he will only remember and yearn for his previous environment and experience, for his previous capabilities, instead of taking lessons in this life.

18:11 Ivan: That is, in order to take new lessons?

Irina: Yes.

18:14 Ivan: But it often happens that from incarnation to incarnation, over several incarnations, the same lesson is repeated, which a person, the Soul, does not learn?

Irina: But it is taking place in new conditions.

18:26 Ivan: So, new conditions are being created for going through this lesson again?

Irina: Yes. And so that those attempts to complete the lesson, the memory of those attempts, do not prevent him from completing, trying it again, for this purpose the memory is blocked.

18:26 Ivan: Any positive developments or achievements in past incarnations?

Irina: In general, all experience, whether positive or negative, even when the Spirit is in the Spiritual world, it is transformed into qualities of character. Those who have children, many children, know that all the children who were born to you, for example, in the same families, with the same parents, they are all different. That is, with the same upbringing, with the same environment, they will have different character qualities.

19:13 Ivan: Yes, finally.

Irina: This is that negative and this positive experience, which already in the Spiritual world was transformed into his character qualities, which he will have to work with in this life.

19:28 Ivan: How to protect yourself when going through regressions?

Irina: Firstly, you need to clearly know why you are taking it, why you are taking it. That is, if it is just out of interest, you need to understand what caused this interest. That is, simply because it is interesting to know who I was in a previous incarnation, or it's just some problems that need to be solved, or something else, or I'm interested in something specific. You need to know the goal clearly. Secondly, whatever the goal, it is necessary, very desirable, before regression, I am not saying now that this rule is mandatory for everyone, but it is very desirable that, for safety reasons, before undergoing regression, you should first make contact with the Higher Self. Because if you can't get in touch with the Higher Self, then regression, this technique is even more difficult than talking to the Higher Self, because there you will already go into the past. And when you get in touch with your Higher Self, be sure to ask if you want a safe regression, whether it agrees that you go into regression. And if only it answers: “Yes,” then only then, in order to further protect itself, ask the Higher Self, at least first to show you that past life that it considers the most important.

21:03 Ivan: To solve a specific issue?

Irina: Yes, and only then, when it shows you, again ask permission from the Higher Self to view a specific life, for example, the last one before this incarnation. Or look at life on another planet for which you have a specific question that interests you.

21:21 Ivan: So it makes no sense to go into regression simply for the sake of curiosity, is it advisable to do this to solve some specific issues?

Irina: Curiosity can also be caused by various reasons. That is, if a person comes to you and says: “I want to find out who I was in a past life just like that,” you should always understand, ask him what it is just like that, why he was interested in this topic in the first place.

21:46 Ivan: Yes, why is the topic interesting...

Irina: ...Do you even believe in reincarnation? That is, why do you believe in it, what is it for you. And during the conversation, the true goals will be visible. Why were you interested in this topic at all? Why was he curious? This means that something worries him here in this life. That is, to find out this question. He may not realize it himself, just call it curiosity. And he himself may not know the reason for this curiosity. Your task as a specialist is to find out why, for example, many others are not curious, it doesn’t matter. And if he cares, then you need to look for the reason.

22:26 Ivan: So, there are some reasons for this?

Irina: Yes.

22:27 Ivan: Yes, good, great, I understand you. I completely agree that it is necessary to find out the reason, and in fact, so that the person himself is aware of these reasons. Give a person the opportunity to see them and understand these reasons.

Irina: Yes. I appeal to all regress specialists, please be more careful in the process of going through regression. Be sure to watch the reaction of the person you are doing to, especially when guiding him through the negative moments of incarnation, be sure to monitor the reaction. If you see that this causes a negative reaction of rejection in a person, do not fixate on these moments. That is, so as not to cause nervous shock, for example, emotional shock. If, for example, you see that a person is reacting violently to some of his past events, do not continue to leave him in them. That is, do not leave it in them, just send it to your connection to the Light and already look at the next life. If you see that, seeing a negative situation, he accepts these emotions, that is, adequately, then you can consider them in detail and work with them. And if you see that he rejects everything, that he is afraid, and so on, he is not ready yet, it is better to come back to this next time, when he is already emotionally prepared. Do not upset, so to speak, the emotionality of your patients, this can harm him both on an emotional and physical level.

24:07 Ivan: Yes, of course, I agree. It's just that in such cases, when I lead a person into some kind of negative situation, I just look so that the person is ready to work through it, accept and balance, so to speak, and neutralize that negativity, rethink it, draw some lessons from that negative experience. To see how that negative experience affects this life, this incarnation, how it's all connected and how to review it all, rethink and balance, and neutralize this negativity. And when you do this, then, accordingly, the influence of this negativity on this life is also neutralized.

Irina: Yes, of course. If he's willing to untie the knots, that's great. But if you see that he is not ready to work at this level, that is, somehow there is no need to return him there again and again, he is not ready yet.

24:59 Ivan: Of course, of course, if a person is not ready. I never force a person into any situation, especially if the person is not ready.

Irina: If during the process of regression you understand that a person does not remember his life, but tells his fantasies, just don't show it. Continue asking him, as I already said, and in the process of immersing yourself in this state, even, for example, if he remembers himself as some famous figure, and you understand that this is not so, just focus on the details, ask him to describe him, for example, environmental details. And as you dive into this state, information will still come from memory.

25:47 Ivan: Of course. Here, in fact, in my opinion, it is not so important with the help of what images a person describes. And these images, to what extent they correlate with the realities of that incarnation. A person can describe that incarnation in images that are understandable to him in this life, and this has no meaning. Even if this happens this way, that is, a person describes this life in his own terms...

Irina: ...I was saying that no matter what he tells you, no matter where he remembers it, don't start with him, let alone argue, but somehow contradict him, even mentally. Be fully involved in this situation with him.

26:18 Ivan: Yes, even if a person describes and sees it all in his images, great, good, you can work with these images.

Irina: Yes, and it's still advisable to keep a record. Some kind of audio recording, video recording, so that later, when he comes out of this state, so that he has something to work with. He must definitely look through all this, already in his normal state.

26:39 Ivan: Usually in my work a person is not in a state of deep trance, he remembers everything perfectly, he is perfectly aware of everything. And it is precisely this awareness that helps a person neutralize all this negativity and rethink it. And the person leaves in any case with a positive experience.

Irina: Even if you don't put him into a trance, sometimes he himself, remembering himself, will plunge him. And in any case, I advise you to keep some notes so that you have something to work with later. Again, this is optional, if he does not want to record, it is possible without recording.

27:16 Ivan: Yes. Usually, every time I work through a situation, it ends with a positive experience, transformation into a positive one, and the person remembers it all perfectly, and there is no deep trance. After the session, the person is perfectly aware of all this, understands and comes out with a positive attitude. Therefore, I usually don't even keep records, because there is simply no such need, as a rule.

Irina: I see, okay. Any questions?

27:43 Ivan: What are the differences between your emotions and ours? What is the difference between emotions in your world and in ours?

Irina: That is, the structure of the Spirit that I described as a reaction to changes, how they differ in our different worlds, in different bodies, right?

27:58 Ivan: Yes.

Irina: Naturally, it was described in the structure of the Spirit that emotions are reactions to changes in the external and internal situation. Naturally, they depend on the receptors of the body in which the Spirit is embodied, and on the world in which it lives; there are many different factors. Their name depends, firstly, on these emotions. That is, the name may be different. The same emotion can have many different names. And as I already said, both in your world and in ours, emotions manifest themselves as a reaction not only to changes in the external situation, but also to changes in some of their own thoughts. That is, in response to changes in internal perception, emotions also appear. What is the difference? Since from childhood, children are still taught to distinguish the reasons for the emergence of emotions themselves. And they teach not only in families, but also in educational institutions, and from an early age, while still a child, he does not yet have a complex picture of this world, it is easier for him to track his emotional reactions. But you don't even have this in educational institutions, and, as far as I know, few parents do exactly this. It's not that our emotions are different, but every adult Eslerite knows the reason for their occurrence, at least the majority, as far as I know my compatriots. And the emotion that arises in you is very often a mystery for the Spirit itself, that is, for the person from whom it arose. They can react emotionally to one situation, real or even fictitious, or from their memory, conscious or unconscious, it doesn't matter. They can react emotionally to one thing, but at the same time believe that they reacted to another. That is, they do not track the reasons, they do not have this connection. But again, it's not because they can't. This is because they are not taught to do this, to tie. An emotion arose, what caused it? Exactly what caused it, what is its cause? The consequences of a lack of connection, a frequent absence, not just a connection, but a lack of understanding of the connection between the emotion and the immediate cause that caused it. Lack of understanding of these connections leads to the fact that a person begins to be mistaken about how to act, that is, what actions to perform. Emotions are released energy, right? The energy you spent reacting. They weren't just wasted on reaction, were they? Based on these emotions, whether a person, an Eslerite, or any incarnated Spirit in general, he often makes decisions on how to act. And if the cause of the emotion was incorrectly recognized, then the action is often incorrect. And because of these distortions, so to speak, in understanding the reasons, you make many mistakes both in interpersonal communication and in understanding yourself. And because of this, there are many different psychological disorders, mental illnesses, and so on. In more than 70%, so to speak, of patients in psychiatric hospitals, these are some kind of emotional reactions that are not tracked. That is, a person cannot explain the reason himself. Since he himself cannot explain the reason for his feelings,he begins to have a disturbance in perception, and so on. And this makes him even more afraid and sinks into low vibrations. There, due to low vibrations, the corresponding entities from the Astral world join, and they already bring a person to the point where he becomes inadequate to the environment in which he is located, and already requires external help in his life and getting out of this state.

32:43 Ivan: So you see the main problem in the lack of awareness of the causes of emotions.

Irina: Yes. That is, the emotion arose, but you can, it is the earthlings who can misinterpret the reason for its appearance.

32:57 Ivan: I see.

Irina: Because they don't teach you this.

32:59 Ivan: Okay, what should we do about it? Any advice, just keep track of the condition? That is, track your emotional state?

Irina: Already an adult or a child?

33:05 Ivan: To an adult.

Irina: Yes, learn this from the very beginning. That is, at the initial stage, I will now advise. If you want to understand the reasons why you feel this way, why you react this way, why you have certain thoughts? This is all hidden in the depths of your own Soul, in your subconscious, we usually call it the unconscious part of memory and so on. That there is some experience you gained in this life or even in previous lives, but previous lives again influence through the concept of this life. All this must be taken into account. And to track what exactly caused your reaction, but as I said, this tracking is necessary for making the right decisions. What is right? This is what will contribute to your development, not your degradation, but your development, including spiritual development.

34:10 Ivan: That is, it will lead to positivity, and not to negativity?

Irina: Yes, which will lead to positivity, and will not lower you into negative vibrations. The very beginning stage. Everyone keep yourself, so to speak, a Diary of your emotional state. It is desirable that it is not just a notebook, but that you can carry it with you. It can be in your electronic devices, or it can be where you write down some of your thoughts. One might say that this is an analogue of such a personal diary, but it will not be used to describe events, but rather to describe emotional reactions to them. And my only advice is that you should be completely sure that no one will read it without your consent. Because if you doubt it, then you will not be sincere...

35:08 Ivan: ...Will you not write sincerely?

Irina: Yes, and this will prevent you from figuring it out. And in this, so to speak, emotional diary, I will call it that, a diary of your emotions, your emotional picture of the world, you will... Again, this is not necessary when you think that you do not understand what is happening. That is, something, for example, brought you out of balance, caused some kind of emotion. Usually, of course, the causes of negative emotions are recognized; this is the very first thing to work with. Because they are unpleasant, that is, they cause discomfort. Therefore, the first thing that is usually learned is the causes of negative emotions, the true causes. And if something unbalanced you, caused a negative emotion, we call it negative: fear, anger, despondency, irritation, and so on. These are the negative emotions, and you felt them, so you write them in your diary. Firstly, the date, preferably time. How can you then figure out when you wrote it? And write down exactly what you feel. And write what you think at that moment caused this emotion. The human emotional system strives for balance. When you come to a harmonious state, you re-read what you wrote and ask yourself a question, again depending on what the emotion is. Why did it arise? That is, what did I want to achieve by reacting in this way? You will have some answers coming, even if not from the Higher Self, just from your memory. And you will write them down too.

37:21 Ivan: Yes, I see. That is, such a diary of observing emotions and their causes? Some kind of introspection, tracking emotions, their causes and analyzing this in order to better understand your condition and the cause of your condition?

Irina: Yes, and then you will do this for more than one day, preferably for about a month. Then it will become clear to you in what similar situations you experience similar emotions...

37:45 Ivan: ...Then, after analyzing this diary, you can see some reaction patterns, some standard reaction scenarios, how does it all happen? That is, find some patterns?

Irina: Yes, and then, having learned these patterns, it will be possible to identify your beliefs, even those that you are not aware of, and somehow work with them. Look at whether they are negative, that is, they destroy, or whether they are positive, and so on.

38:10 Ivan: Okay, yes. Thanks for the advice! This is where our questions end. Thank you for so many useful and interesting answers! I hope that our viewers will also find all this very interesting and useful to listen to. Thank you, Mid! Ira, thank you!

Irina: Thank you for your questions. I hope our answers will be useful to you, dear friends. Goodbye!

38:50 Ivan: All the best!

#32 Sensation! Dialogue with a Reptilian from the planet Selbet from the constellation Canes Venatici

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/dialog-s-reptiloidom-s-planety-selbet

Irina: Greetings, dear friends! In our group, a lot of questions are addressed to representatives of the Selbet civilization. And we decided to invite one of them in the astral body to answer a number of our questions.

Now we have with us a representative of Esler - MidgasCaus, who is already well known to you, and a representative of Selbet Te Per Hredours.

Maxim: Thank you! I salute Te Per Hredours. Te Per Hredours, how can I contact you? Can I address you as “you”?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Great!

00:56

Maxim: How old are you?

Irina: According to your earthly measures, according to the Earth’s revolution around the Sun - 387.

01:11

Maxim: How long do the representatives of your civilization live by earthly standards?

Irina: About 700 years.

Maxim: Who are you by profession and what do you do?

Irina: I am a biologist, ecologist, transformer of genetic information in the cells of humanoid races of our reptilian type.

01:46

Maxim: They say that you are good geneticists, is this true?

Irina: I think so.

01:55

Maxim: Where is your home planet?

Irina: From Earth, it is visible in the region of space that you call the constellation Canes Venatici, at a distance of 730 light years from your Sun. This is the planet Selbet.

Maxim: So you are directly a representative of the planet Selbet, which participated in our creation?

Irina: Yes.

02:26

Maxim: How long has your civilization been developing?

Irina: From the moment of the first mention of intelligent life forms on our planet until today, a little less than 13 million years have passed according to your chronology, if we take the period of the Earth's revolution around your Star as a year.

Maxim: How do you personally feel about earthlings?

Irina: I am struggling with two feelings: wariness towards you as a civilization, and sympathy for your enlightened individuals for their courage in the fight against the system that you have.

Maxim: What do you think about our race as a whole? So you said that two personalities are fighting within you: one that supports enlightened teachers, and the other that is against what?

Irina: The system that you have created, the egregorial system, the noospheric system, which even controls your Government.

Maxim: Please describe what you look like or what members of your race look like?

Irina: The average height of representatives of our race is from 2 meters 30 centimeters to 3 meters 70 centimeters. Skin color is gray-green. In general, the body structure resembles that of your reptiles, with the only difference being that we walk on two legs. We have scaly skin, a small tail and four fingers on our hands with remnants of membranes between them. Eye color is yellow, pupils are vertical. The ears are invisible, only two holes. There is no hair.

We are cold-blooded organisms, that is, our body temperature depends on the temperature of the environment. And our method of reproduction is not through viviparity, like yours, but through laying eggs.

Maxim: Te Per, please tell me, were dinosaurs on Earth representatives of your civilization?

Irina: No. Were not.

06:11

Maxim: Did dinosaurs contain your genotype?

Irina: We were not allowed to do this.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina: We started doing experiments with dinosaurs. Representatives of our race planned to create an intelligent reptilian, including from your reptiles, which prevailed on Earth at that time. But the representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout, known to you, were opponents of these experiments, and we had to stop them.

06:55

Maxim: Did you know about our Earth before the Tumesoutians and Burkhadians found us?

Irina: The Tumesoutians were the first to discover your planet.

Maxim: So you learned about our planet after?

Irina: Almost immediately after the discovery, the entire Interstellar Union learned about it. We arrived, of course, later, but found out almost immediately after the opening.

Maxim: Have you started doing experiments in parallel with the Tumesoutians and the Burkhadians to create your own species?

Irina: It was a joint project. We hoped and not only hoped, we were confident in cooperation on this issue with the other two races and called on the Interstellar Union to support us, our idea.

Maxim: What went wrong?

Irina: Representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout convinced the Interstellar Union that the presence of reptilian and anthropomorphic races living on Earth together would cause a great risk of military clashes due to the differences not only of the races that exist now, but also due to fundamental differences in the structure of the body.

08:53

Maxim: I got it! Were dragons on earth representatives of your civilization?

Irina: No. Were not.

Maxim: Dragons were representatives of whose civilization?

Irina (to Maxim): He calls dragons - not dinosaurs. Please explain what dragons are.

Maxim: Dragons are what we describe as large snakes that had large wings and could fly.

Irina: Pterodactyl or what?

Maxim: No. We have mythology that there were dragons on Earth. These are large lizard-like creatures with wings.

Irina: If you mean creatures crossed with birds and the ancestors of those animals that you call bats or birds and the same dinosaurs, then these were the products of genetic experiments.

10:24

Maxim: Thank you! Do you know those whom we on Earth call “nagas”?

Irina (to MidgasKaus): Mid, please explain to him, you know Indian mythology.

Now!.. (pause) Yes, these are representatives of Selbet and several of our colonies, who, in accordance with the agreement with the Interstellar Union, helped develop some of your earthly tribes. Taught them. Helped rulers make laws. Made contact.

Maxim: Was it after the war?

Irina: Both before the war and after. After the war, much later than representatives of other races. I want to emphasize that after the war, despite the fact that our planet was accepted back into the Interstellar Union after about 250 of your years, we were allowed to contact you much later.

Maxim: They say that your race is very hostile. How do you see your race? Hostile towards earthlings?

Irina: Among the representatives of my planet there are indeed many radical groups who believe that you need to be controlled from the outside, meaning from the Interstellar Union, and insist at almost every meeting of the Interstellar Union on external control, albeit secret, hidden from your people, so how their arguments seem quite convincing to many. They are that, given your level of armament and technological development, the moral state of your society may pose a danger.

The fact is that the greater the technical equipment of a society and the more sophisticated its weapons, the greater caution is required from the Government of this planet. Judging by the energy that emanates from your planet on the astral level, your technical development is significantly ahead of your spiritual development. For this reason, so that you do not destroy yourself, many representatives of my race raise the question of external control through your rulers to the Interstellar Union, even with the help of hidden violent methods in the interests of your entire civilization.

But representatives of the Interstellar Union, who are authorized to give such permissions, always answer these radicals that intervention at this level is impossible, because each civilization must learn its lessons, even if it is on the verge of destruction.

Many in our world disagree with this. Yes, I want to say that among representatives of other worlds of the Interstellar Union there are also those who disagree.

Maxim: Do you have bases on Earth and underground?

Irina: No. There are no bases on Earth or underground in the possession of Selbet at the present time.

Maxim: Can your radical groups try to rule the Earth without the consent of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: They can. But, if representatives of the Galactic Security Service become aware of this as a fact, it will be regarded as a crime and a violation of those laws of the Interstellar Union that each civilization accepts when it enters this union. The only Interstellar Union will give instructions to our Selbet power structures so that we, together with the Galactic Security Service, protect earthlings from this type of interference.

Maxim: Are you currently collaborating with the Tashigans (the Grays)?

Irina: Of course! We cooperate on all issues related to biological, medical and genetic experiments and not only in the region of your planet, throughout the galaxy.

Maxim: Does your civilization have contactees on other, perhaps astral or mental levels on Earth?

Irina: Officially, our Government refused to train specialists for contacts with you. If there are contacts, only at a private level, independent of the Government.

Maxim: There is an assumption that your civilization is controlled by the Order of Masons. What do you think about this?

Irina (to Maxim): Now Mead will explain to him what “Masons” are, because the understanding is a little different...

Now!.. (pause) What you called the Order of Masons is one of the many secret societies that think that they are in charge of some processes on your planet, but in fact they are in charge of themselves - the very system about which I said earlier at the very beginning of the conversation. That same egregorial structure, a system that is built on the blood, suffering and humiliation of all ordinary people, on whom nothing on your planet depends. And they are even more susceptible to the influence of this egregorial system. Since the higher a person’s position in your society, the more strict upbringing she usually receives in childhood, at school and in your educational institutions, which have implanted this system in the consciousness.

Therefore, the Order of Masons is one of the managed structures of those areas of the spiritual world that are interested in ensuring that the life of every earthling costs nothing.

Maxim: Then the question is different. What do you think about Satan and who do you think he is?

Irina: Should I answer within the framework of the Christian religions you created or just my opinion?

Maxim: Just your opinion.

Irina: The word “satan” in the language of those people who were explained who it is, in a language called Hebrew, means and is translated as “enemy.” My personal opinion is that “satan” is not an individual person, but that dark side of every spiritual person that allows him to deviate from the path of good. And the essence of the worldview of this “satan” is that freedom of choice, free will is placed higher than the need to serve the Absolute Mind. The need for freedom of choice is the essence of “satan”, because it creates the illusion of permissiveness. But in fact, there is no personality independent of the Absolute Mind.

The one who in Christianity is called Satan, and later the Devil, is a created image not of our entire race, but of that group of it that, unfortunately, went to war. The image of “satan” was created, like a serpent, like a dragon. The image was created for the Jewish group. To create a new egregor. In order to form an egregor independent of ours, the reptilians, since it was necessary to achieve the goal that they achieved with the coming into the world of the one whom you call Christ.

Maxim: Thank you! Tell me, please, did you help us form any of the religions?

Irina: If only at the level of individuals, but there have never been such projects in our Government, unlike the Government of Burkhad. Because we consider the formation of religion pointless, especially on planets with a predominant materialistic consciousness. Since the development of religions on such planets, according to popular opinion in our society, only leads to an increase in violence, since people who come to one religion begin to deny all other religions.

Maxim: Thank you! I have a very interesting question for you... I know that we have 5% of your genes, is that true?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: How do you think your genes influenced us?

Irina: Thanks for the question! I wanted to tell you about this myself... I believe that 5% of our genetics had a positive impact on your ability to be resilient in any circumstances, which you demonstrate. When you go to the end with the courage that allows you to conquer high peaks. You do, as it seems to some of you, meaningless, useless things, like skydiving. That is, courage, risk, the desire for new and new expansions of your living space - this, I believe, is due to the influence of those 5% of our genes on your brain, on your instinctive programs, which gives the spirit certain thoughts and feelings.

Maxim: Thank you! Do you think the war was necessary 12 thousand years ago, and was it worth starting?

Irina: I believe that our ancestors should not have started the war at that moment. But we are raised in our society. And in our educational institutions we are told that this was a mistake not of the entire Selbet Government, but of its individual representatives, who at that moment captured the majority in our Council of Minds of the planet.

I believe that it should not have been started, and it was necessary to come to terms with that state of affairs. Perhaps many now on Selbet will not understand what I am talking about, but I believe that our race had to, in any case, come to terms with the decision of the representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout at that time, who considered it possible to create only anthropomorphic humanoids on your planet. And under no circumstances should our representatives go to the destruction of intelligent beings, because this contradicts not only the laws of the Interstellar Union, but also the law of Absolute Reason. But those who made this decision at that moment and those who carried it out, they were embodied from very low levels of the spiritual world, so they went for it for obvious reasons of pride, anger, envy and other destructive feelings that cause you too Now there are problems with wars.

Maxim: What is the religion on your planet now?

Irina (Te Per Hredoursu): Fastorianism? Explain the main points, please...

Our system of religion most closely resembles your polytheism. In every aspect of reality we recognize what can be simplistically called your God. But these manifestations are the generation of one God, who, in turn, is the generation of one whom we cannot name. But a certain spiritual essence, which can be roughly called your Christ or God, is responsible for each branch of reality and helps the incarnated spirits to create it.

There are quite a lot of them. Each of them can be addressed with requests and each of them can be thanked. They are not all equal. Among them there are subordinates and above them there are managers. That is, it is a system similar to your polytheism.

We have temples. We have rituals, developed in some detail by what you would call priests, most likely.

Yes. For us, flights into space and being in the Interstellar Union are combined with polytheism, and even with elements of totemism and what you call contagious magic. This is all included in religion.

Maxim: Very interesting! There is a race we call "Draconians". Does she have anything to do with you?

Irina: Are you talking about the constellation Draco?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: In the Draco constellation there are 5 of our colonies and several more planets with hybrids of our reptilian type with other types of humanoids. Perhaps, as I heard, the Draconians call the aliens to your Earth not from our planet, but from the constellation Draco.

30:48

Maxim: What types of humanoids did you cross with there?

Irina: With representatives of Tashig and the colonies, with representatives of Esler and the colonies, with representatives of “Rauminsu” (they’re like the Shimorians, only they have slightly longer ears)…

Throughout the galaxy, we are doing a fairly large number of experiments on crossing and even with insectoid types of races.

Maxim: That is, you cross your genotype with different races. Why are you doing this?

Irina: To breed a more perfect creature.

Maxim: What is this for?

Irina: For a more perfect use of all the resources of the material world, a more perfect knowledge of the laws of the material world, in order to learn the laws of the spiritual world through the material world.

We believe that the creature that we want to breed, in the end, it will have the advantages of all races and will have a minimum number of disadvantages of these races. Because when you start doing genetic experiments, crossing different races, both the advantages and disadvantages of different types of bodies pass into the hybrid creature. To suppress deficiencies, you need to introduce genotypes of other races, and this is actually a very delicate job.

Maxim: Could you breed a hybrid from a human and your race by increasing the percentage of your genome?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Are there such creatures in the galaxy?

Irina: Yes. There are reptilian-anthropomorphic creatures in the galaxy.

Our ancestors talked about this at the Interstellar Union, but at the time when they created you, they thought that there would be just such a hybrid here. It is with this ratio of Burkhadians, Tumesoutians and Selbetians that was originally conceived.

Maxim: Thank you very much. How do you assess the level of your knowledge of the history of our civilization?

Irina: I am quite familiar with the history of your civilization, since since childhood I have been interested in the history of Selbet in relation to the wars that my ancestors waged, especially in relation to space wars. When I heard the story of the Earth in our educational institution for children, I was shocked by the cynicism with which representatives of our civilization went about killing intelligent beings, hiding behind the idea of justice.

Maxim: Were you always frank with me when answering questions?

Irina: Yes. He was always frank.

Maxim: I really thank you. We have been waiting a long time for a meeting with Selbet representatives in order to ask these very questions. I hope we are not saying goodbye to you and will see you soon, because there will still be a lot of questions after this video conference.

Irina (to Maxim): Can I address my words to the representatives of those who will watch us?

Maxim: Yes, finally.

Irina: I greet all earthlings who are now watching this video, and I ask you not to consider our race as an abode of evil in space. The abode of evil is not in us, but in that dark part of the spiritual world that makes us turn away from the source of light, considering it evil!

Maxim: I thank you. Thank you so much. We will definitely pass this on to our group, to those people who watch us. And thank you again for your candid answers.

Irina: I thank you for the invitation. If you or the representatives of your planet have questions, I will be ready to answer them.

There are a huge number of intelligent beings in the galaxy, and among all races there are criminals. The man himself is no exception to this. He does not understand and does not realize that he is destroying himself and his planet by placing all the blame on others.

#33 God, Krishna, soul, reincarnation, aliens

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/bog-krishna-dusha-reinkarnaciya-inoplanetyane https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5fkvTbyDrEk

00:28 Greetings to the meeting participants.

Irina: Greetings, dear friends!

Today we have another video communication session with representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations: with MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and LiShioni from the planet Shimor.

Our conversation today will be about various spiritual paths of development within a particular religion. My friend Alexander is present with me, who follows the path of Krishna Consciousness.

Alexander: Hello everyone, my name is Alexander. I have been practicing Vedic culture for a long time. I'm very interested in following this path because I find a lot of resonance in it. I'm happy to do this, I don't force anyone to do anything. I have a number of questions, and I would like to perhaps expand, so to speak, my circle of answers. I have a small but wealth of knowledge from the literature I have read, my personal practice, spiritual practice, and joint practice.

01:55 About the reality of the space around us from the point of view of the material and spiritual worlds.

Alexander: Is everything that we see around us real (real) and what is reality? I'm interested in probably the most obvious question: "What am I?" I understand that I seem to be a person and physically I see arms, legs, I can move my tongue, but inside I feel that there is much more potential hidden there than I can even imagine. The Vedas have a very detailed description of all this. There is a specific point of view of a certain circle of people who have experience. I'm interested in hearing about this experience. We could somehow start with this. I understand that everyone is concerned about the meaning of life. I'm sure you've revealed it more than once. I am interested in comparing these points of view, according to Vedic philosophy, and those options for experience that are offered by the individuals with whom you communicate. How can they answer this question? That is, the question is: what is happening here and is everything we see real?

Irina: The representative of the planet Esler – MidgasCaus – is answering.

First, I would like to thank you for your personal courage in agreeing to meet and tell everyone about your personal spiritual experience. I know it wasn't really easy. Your question about the reality of what we see is actually very important. The fact is that you can give two answers to this question, and it will, at first glance, contradict one another, but they will both be correct.

Our material Universe, in which we now live, is real and unreal at the same time.

What does it mean? It is real from the point of view of our direct experience, which we perceive through the receptors of those physical bodies or subtle bodies in which all Spirits are embodied. It is unreal from the point of view if you look at the material world as a creation of itself, because, in fact, it is an absolute reality... What is absolute reality? This is what really exists, and apart from this phenomenon there is nothing. And if you look at reality from this position, it becomes clear that only the Spiritual world, the spiritual Light, which actually exists in all Spirits, has real reality. And not only in all Spirits. The material world that we see does not constitute the whole of reality, but one of its infinitely small facets of the real reality of the Spiritual world. Embodied Spirits have such a peculiarity of perception that if they live more by the interests of their body, their flesh, that is, if you look from an esoteric point of view, by the work of the three lower energy centers, then for them the material world becomes completely real, and the Spiritual world, to Unfortunately, it becomes an illusion.

Alexander: Is this just a system of chakras, according to the level of consciousness?

Irina: yes. The fact is that the word “chakra” is a symbol, a designation of some spiritual reality of the structure of our common spiritual structure, of which the Spirit in general, any intelligent born Spirit, consists. And if a person (and we are talking here and now specifically about an earthly person and I am answering you as a representative of the Earth) lives, to a greater extent, in the interests of satisfying the instincts of his body, then he tunes the vibrations of his Spirit to the vibrations of his body completely. And for him the perception changes in the sense that he, even as Spirit, begins to consider himself a product of matter. You call this worldview materialism.

Alexander: materialism, right.

Irina: There is another paradox, which lies in the fact that if a person begins, to a greater extent, to live in the interests of his Spirit, fully realizing himself as a spiritual being, and the body is only his temporary instrument, then the more he lives the life of the Spirit, and for bodies performing only the necessary functions for its survival and for the birth of the same Spirits and nothing more. The more a person lives a spiritual life, the more he begins to realize that spiritual reality is a real reality, and the material world is either an illusion or, most often, only a reflection of the real reality of the Spiritual world.

08:05 Combining material and spiritual realities through achieving balance between the lower and upper energy centers (chakras) of the human body.

Alexander: How to combine material and spiritual realities and find the balance of energy centers?

Maxim: How to combine two realities: material and spiritual? How to work? Because when you immerse yourself in spirituality, it is no longer possible for you to communicate normally with materialists.

Alexander: We’ve been discussing this a lot lately: how to make a spiritual life out of ordinary life, out of ordinary material life?

Maxim: It’s not about making a spiritual life out of ordinary life, but how to combine spiritual knowledge and the understanding that you need to somehow support the body here. Because, as a rule, these are extremes: either a person is an avid materialist and earns money, or he is spiritual and does not want to come into contact with matter. But where to find this balance is a mystery to me.

Irina: This is one of the topics that we often talk about too. Why are we talking? Because it occurs very often. The fact is that, indeed, in a modern person, an earthling, projections of seven chakras, that is, seven energy centers, are manifested in the body, as you know. Three of them are the lowest. When I say the word “lower”, this does not mean that they are worse than the highest, they are low vibration, that is, lower in vibration. Three of them are higher in vibration, high vibration. As you have rightly noted, when a person’s thinking is at a certain vibration, certain energy centers, then he adapts his worldview to these vibrations. And, naturally, by rebuilding his worldview, his entire behavior is automatically rebuilt. The question was how to balance the three upper energy centers and the three lower energy centers. The fact is that in the state of manifested incarnation here on Earth, this is possible through the center, and our center is in the fourth energy center. Here (Irina points to the center of her chest).

Alexander: Heart chakra.

Irina: Yes. That is, if balance is found there, if the fourth energy center is fully developed correctly, if there are no negative vibrations associated with an incorrect understanding of manifestations of love and acceptance, understanding and forgiveness, then balance is automatically built. It's similar to how you used to have those scales that had to reach balance with equal weight. And they had a balance at one point. This point is reached in the fourth energy center. If it is correctly developed, then the balance, as you said, of the spiritual and material is built correctly. And not only is it built correctly, but a person acquires correct, true priorities, which express him not as a material being, but as a spiritual being that uses matter in the interests of his spiritual development. But if the fourth energy center is not balanced, if there is a rejection of at least something, even material, even spiritual, and even with elements of condemnation, resentment and the like, then the balance will not be built and something will prevail. And this predominance of one is, in fact, harmful to spiritual development. Spiritual development can also be destructive. That is, both materialism and a misunderstanding of spiritual development. Just as excessive materialism does not allow one to set true priorities and look at things from a spiritual point of view, so going into spirituality, condemning matter in any of its forms, makes a person a religious fanatic. In fact, there is nothing good about this either. If you are a true believer who follows the path of love, then this is very well expressed in the word “Bhakti”, that is, you already have it all. This is balancing along the fourth energy center.

Alexander: This is the development of love, this is exactly what balancing is?

Irina: Yes, you not only have the development of love there, you have there a cleansing of all negative vibrations. And sincere forgiveness of everyone and forgiveness of yourself, and building such a position that you do not rise above others, but also do not humiliate yourself, that is, keep a balance. I want to emphasize that this is, naturally, not only in your religion, it is in all earthly religions, but everything is expressed in different words, taking into account the mentality and faith of the teacher who created and followed him “parampara” (I don’t understand the word)

Alexander: Parampara.

Irina: Every religion has it and it has its own. As you probably already know, there are religious egregors in the astral world. That is, energy formations, information formations that are responsible for the formation of religions on Earth and their manifestations in the material world. Each religious egregor has its own Spirits - Guardians from the Spiritual World, from fairly high levels. They make sure that lower spiritual entities are not included in the religious egregor.

14:52 Interaction of the Guardians of religious egregors.

Alexander: Who is the Guardian of the Vedic scriptures? Who is our Guardian, Hare Krishnas?

Irina: The fact is that if you look at the astral egregor, I'm not talking about the Teacher and Founder of religions, I'm talking about those Guardian Spirits who exist at the moment. They can change, they can either go to incarnation or come from it, that is, they can change. And your egregor, if you look at it in general, without separating it from other branches of the Vaishnava tradition, currently has 12 Guardians. And, by the way, Christian has 7.

As I already said, in the Spiritual world, which is common to all planets of the material world, there are 24 levels. Those responsible for religious egregors are usually levels 22, 23 and, partially, 24. And, naturally, all high Spirits of these levels are responsible for certain religious egregors. They communicate with each other, and they cannot have any contradictions in the single Light: they all dissolve, which you also feel now. I can see it in the energy.

Alexander: Yes, that's true.

Alexander: I don't fully understand what's happening to me now. I don't feel familiar now: someone has now come into very strong contact with me and I feel that this is the first time in my life there are such changes that I have not touched before. I'm shaking a little now, I can now feel every hair on my body, this is amazing for me. What is happening to me?

Irina: The fact is that you are quite sensitive to energies. Now, in fact, in addition to earthlings, there are two representatives of alien civilizations present here, albeit in astral bodies, but you also feel the astral bodies. Usually you feel them on an unconscious level, but now here are the vibrations of contactees and esotericists who are engaged in astral travel and other practices and who can enhance your sensations of these things.

Alexander: Is this their energy?

Irina: You feel the presence of alien representatives: we have a different energy than earthlings. Because, firstly, we were born on another planet, we have a different body, different food, a different Sun. And our energy, naturally, will be somewhat different. Therefore, you, as a sensitive person, simply compare this with your experience, but you have not seen anything like this, so you are somewhat confused, judging by the astral vibrations.

Alexander: Absolutely correct **.

Irina: You have no alertness. You now have openness, but not to information: you have openness to us as individuals. Because, in fact, subconsciously you feel that these vibrations, although not familiar to you, are somehow close.

Alexander: Absolutely right: something familiar.

Irina : You can feel it in your energy.

Alexander : Thank you. This is actually surprising, because I have never seen anything like this anywhere. I have been to different sources, places of power, but this is the first time this has happened to me.

19:25 The structure of the intelligent Spirit from the point of view of the teachings of the Interstellar Union.

Alexander : I would like to return, probably, to some more mundane things: I am very concerned about the issues of reincarnation. In the Vedas, it is said that the Soul is a part of God, it is a piece of him, a piece of love. And the material body, sooner or later, will die, it will end, and this piece of Soul or Consciousness will remain. Then what is it - Consciousness? Is it capable of moving into other forms of life and what is the law of life movement?

Irina : I will speak in simple words, accessible both to adherents of your tradition and to those people who are not in your topic. What you call Jiva is actually a combination of Atman and Prana, I just said this for you, because you now understand what we are talking about.

Alexander : Atman is the Soul.

Irina: I will talk about the teachings of the Interstellar Union. I represent the Interstellar Union, consisting of 116 civilizations. We have a single teaching about the Spiritual world and, I want to immediately emphasize that it is not separated from the science of the material world. That is, this constitutes a single body of knowledge about the Universe for us. According to this teaching, it is better to talk about the structure of the Spirit. The Spirit consists of three structures (we will immediately translate all our terms into Russian), which consists of the Mind, what you call the Heart or Essence. But this has nothing to do with the physical heart, rather the physical heart in Russian was called that way because it performs the same functions as the Spirit.

Alexander : what does this mean?

Irina: The word “heart” is Slavic, it meant in the middle of the body. So, in the middle of the Spirit is the Essence, what we translate into Russian as “Essence” or “Heart” and I will talk about it in more detail. And the third structure of the Spirit is Energy, that’s what we call it. Each of these structures, in turn, is divided into three abilities, which are simultaneously, to one degree or another, manifested in everyone. In Reason it is thinking, imagination and memory. The Essence or Heart has desire, feelings and what we call instincts, that is, this is the structure that allows its instincts to be read from the material body in order to fulfill them, for vitality. Energy consists of three abilities, too, of three energetic vibrations - consciousness, will and emotions. Our emotions and feelings are different from each other. The meaning of the word “Emotions” differs from the meaning of the word “Feelings”.

In your psychology, feelings and emotions are similar concepts. We clearly distinguish that emotion is an energetic reaction to changes in the external or internal environment. And feelings are somewhat deeper, they are no longer an energetic reaction, but an attitude: an unconscious, wordless attitude towards this or that phenomenon. For example, love cannot be called an emotion.

Alexander : Yes.

Irina: And you asked about what Consciousness is?

23:56 Consciousness of the rational Spirit as divine energy for the perception of worlds.

Alexander : Yes, what is Soul, Consciousness?

Irina: We do not associate Consciousness with the entire Spirit, it is one of its energies. This is the energy that is responsible for the perception of the external and internal worlds. And it, in turn, is divided into consciousness as perception and self-consciousness as the perception of oneself as different from others. This is the Spirit that I described, it is called in our terminology - the intelligent born Spirit, which, as you said, is a particle of God. But a particle, for us, is a description that is a little closer to reality, which, in fact, does not fully reflect reality. Because the word "particle" is a material explanation of spiritual things.

Alexander : Then what?

Irina: The fact is that Spirit, unlike matter, cannot be divided into particles.

Alexander : Absolutely right.

25:13 The structure of the material world and its levels of density.

Irina: I would like to bring some clarity to the understanding of what matter and Spirit are. Everything that we call matter is divided into dense and thin. What do we call dense matter? This is everything that is included in the substances. That is, everything that consists of atoms. Simply put, this is everything that goes on your periodic table.

Alexander : We haven’t talked about subtle matters yet.

Irina: Yes, we share this. What do we call subtle matter? We call a special type of matter that does not consist of atoms, but consists of what you call energies or, as your modern science now says, fields. That is, everything that relates to the manifestation of energy without matter, various energy fields - this is the subtle world. Why is it called precisely the word “fine material”? Because it has higher vibrations than the dense material world, and it is intermediate between the world of substances and the first region of the Spiritual world, which we call the astral. The astral world, according to our teaching, does not belong to the subtle material world, as some of you here refer to it, but to the Spiritual, already higher vibrations. Because in the subtle world there are also many levels of density. By density we mean the speed of vibrations, their frequency and the speed of vibrations of which this or that energy consists. Here we count 3 levels of density in the dense material state, this is what you call the solid, liquid and gaseous state. And we count 56 levels of density in the subtle state. Your science does not teach about them, but the various bodies and worlds of those creatures that you call plasmoids consist of them.

27:53 The material world from the point of view of Vedic culture.

Alexander : The Vedic scriptures say that the material world consists of five primary elements: ether, earth, water, fire and air. But there are three more substances that also relate to the material world - this is the false ego, mind and intelligence.

Irina: In fact, the last three that you named: false ego, reason and mind - they relate to us to the Spiritual world. Why do some of your religious and spiritual leaders refer them to the material world? Because the person who composed these structures had a certain spiritual experience, and for him much was already merged with the Light. And he already attributed everything that was lower in vibration to matter.

Alexander : But this is said in the Bhagavad Gita? Krishna said this.

Irina: Yes, and it was they who attributed this to matter.

And we look at the world according to the level of vibrations. Not by feeling, as he said, he said this at the moment of merging, one might say, with himself, because at the moment of merging with himself, with his Light, everything that is perceived as lower than oneself in vibrations can be attributed to matter .

Alexander : So this is a low level of vibration?

Irina: Krishna proceeded from the idea that there is one primordial Light as reality. And when he was in it, in this primordial Light, he was in continuous fusion with it. And, naturally, in his own way he perceived the false ego, mind, reason - various names for those structures of the rational Spirit that I listed. And then, he listed the material world not by density level and vibrations, but by elements. He spoke in terms of the time. If he had started talking about the periodic table, I don't think it would have been helpful at that time. He told how the ancient people among whom he was located understood the world - according to the elements. Why did they understand this? Because they interacted with the same plasmoids that controlled these elements. Now among you people there are also such people. These are mainly those involved in various forms of shamanism, magic and similar levels of interactions with subtle beings. In the Vedic scriptures they are simply called the elements. But, as you understand, an element itself is a set of elements, and it is controlled from the outside by those intelligent Spirits who are embodied in their plasmoid worlds and have the task of managing and leading this or that element. That is, what materialists call the laws of nature is, in fact, not a blind chance, not a blind element, but a manifestation of intelligent Spirits embodied there.

Alexander: I don't understand a little **.

Irina: Fire, like an element, has its own rulers - the Spirits of the element of fire.

In your terminology they are called "Spirits", but in our terminology they are called subtle-material beings - Spirits, embodied in the subtle-material body of a fire plasmoid. The usual term is "Salamander" for Europeans.

Alexander : We call them Demigods **.

Irina: The term "Demi-God", as I already said, a particle of God, is an adaptation of the description of spiritual reality to those who have not experienced this experience. There cannot be half of God or a quarter of God, since He is not divided into parts. A demigod is a Spirit who follows the path of spiritual development. He has found himself in a state of fusion, but he is also conditioned by the perception of the material body in which he is embodied or in which he is no longer embodied, but still continues in his thoughts the experience that he received. We can say, very roughly: who half realized himself as one.

Alexander : A well-realized person?

Irina: Among plasmoids, naturally, there are also such personalities, as among people, as among Eslerites, Burkhadians, and representatives of any civilization. I want to immediately emphasize that incarnation, especially since the question was about reincarnation, the incarnation of intelligent Spirits occurs in the bodies of material beings, whose nervous system allows them to connect with the body. This is precisely why experiments were carried out, including with your earthly animals, in order to breed a creature whose genetics made it possible to incarnate for the first time. This is when your race was created.

34:57 Creation of the human race through genetic modification of the DNA of terrestrial primates.

Irina: The human race was created from animals that you call primates. To enable the intelligent Spirit to incarnate in him, it was necessary to complicate the structure of the brain. What we called consciousness, what we called intelligence, so that it could manifest itself through the brain. After all, among material beings, the manifestation of the Spirit always goes through the body in which it is embodied. And so, to give the opportunity to express themselves, many experiments were carried out to combine the genetic material of terrestrial primates and the genetic material of aliens from other planets who experimented here. Neither Esler's race nor Shimor's race were involved in this.

Maxim : Still, did people come from monkeys?

Irina: They happened, but not independently, but genetically. Naturally, here we are talking only about the body, and not about the Spirit.

Alexander : How long has the human form itself existed on Earth?

Irina: Your race was created. If we take one revolution of the Earth around the Sun per year, one revolution, then your race has existed on Earth for three million years.

Alexander : Three million years ago, the first intelligent man appeared, who was genetically different from a monkey, who thought differently and could already allow himself much more conscious actions than a primate. Thus, from that moment on, the person began to take some conscious actions because he began to realize what was happening in this world?

Irina: Before answering the question of how human development began, I must say a few words about the creators of your bodies, who they were. These were representatives of Burkhad, which is located in the constellation Cygnus. These were representatives of Tumesout, which is located in the constellation Orion. These were representatives of Selbet, which is located in the constellation Canes Venatici. The fact is that in fact, both technically and by providing material resources, other civilizations also participated. But genetically, in addition to the earthly primates, only these three civilizations participated in your creation. Genetically participated, that is, the genes of all three, in different proportions, were placed in the DNA of these primates, until a creature was born that could embody, as I said, the intelligent first Spirit. What can I say about the representatives of Burhad, Selbet and Tumesout? Representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout are considered in the Galaxy to be representatives of the so-called anthropomorphic civilization, if we speak in Russian.

Alexander : What does this mean?

38:50 Anthropomorphic and reptilian humanoids and their biological differences.

Irina: Anthropomorphic civilizations have a biological development of the body similar to earthlings in that they have a body shape, height, basic metabolism, warm-bloodedness, childbearing, and so on, similar to your race.

Alexander : Are they representatives of the material world?

Irina: They are representatives of the dense material world, not plasmoids. Here are the representatives of Tumesout and Burkhad - they are representatives of anthropomorphic civilizations and their genetics are in total greater in the representatives of your race. They differ somewhat from each other, but these differences are not significant. Representatives of the third civilization, called Selbet, belong to the representatives of the so-called reptilian civilization.

Alexander : They still exist.

Irina: Yes. What is a reptilian civilization? This is a civilization that, unlike anthropomorphs, has a different biological development cycle that resembles the forms of your earthly reptiles.

That is, this is cold-bloodedness, often not viviparity, like yours, but the laying of eggs and body structure, reminiscent of your reptiles. And a special structure of the brain, which, of course, determines the special image of the incarnate Spirit. That is, as you know, the incarnate Spirit in its manifestations depends on the forms of the material body into which it finds itself. That is, from receptors, from hormones, from everything that he acquired. We prefer to use the word "humanoid" in a broader sense. In our understanding, a humanoid is any Spirit embodied in a dense material body. I want to emphasize that we also call not only anthropomorphs, but also reptilians, insectoids and others, humanoids.

Alexander : That is, these are living beings living in the material world?

Irina: In the material, densely material world, which have different body shapes. And this body shape depends, naturally, on genetics, on their DNA. Metabolism, organs of perception, and so on are arranged in a certain way. Here are humanoids, they are, as I already said, anthropomorphic and come in reptilian and some other forms. And you are hybrids of three types of organisms: 2 anthropomorphs, 1 reptilian and that earthly primate who did not belong to any of them, because he was not an intelligent form.

42:27 What is the difference between modern man and the appearance of our creators?

Alexander : How much different is our human form from the form from which the genome was originally taken?

Irina: You have the least differences with the representatives of Burkhad. There are differences, mainly in the external structure of the body, that is, they are taller, for example, due to the fact that the gravity on their planet is somewhat less. They have a different skin color: from your point of view, it will be white because there is a different radiation from the star. They have less variety in eye and hair color. That is, they have hair, unlike many non-anthropomorphs, but the color is mostly a light shade, because, again, due to the lack of sufficient amounts of that protein that you have a darker color creates. And there are differences in metabolism, but they are not significant and they are accustomed to more oxygen.

Alexander : Compared to them, do we have less oxygen?

Irina: Yes, there is less oxygen on Earth, but they can exist quite comfortably on this amount, but they will feel approximately the same as you do in the highlands. The Tumesout people are more different from you. Firstly, by height: they also have very low gravity and their height, if measured in your units, is from five to eight meters. Basically, their body structure is similar to yours, their skin color is closer to the Slavic type and they often have dark hair. How do reptilians differ, I have already said that they are cold-blooded, have a different brain structure, methods of reproduction, skin color, and so on. From each of these creatures, a certain number of genes were introduced into the genotype of the originally created person (because changes were later made). Most of the primate genes were left behind - 45 percent, because the conditions of existence on this planet did not allow a smaller percentage.

46:06 The percentage of our creators' genes in human DNA.

Alexander: We have a lot of differences from everyone else. Who finally put it all together?

Irina: Those scientists who worked with representatives of the planets Burkhad, Tumesout and Selbet. But other representatives of the Interstellar Union also helped them, but only as scientists, organizers, suppliers of material resources, and so on, they did not participate genetically. So, the primate genotype was left in you by 45 percent, in the creation of the future hybrid, the Burkhadtsev genotype was added by 35 percent, the Tumesoutts genotype was added by 15 percent, and the smallest part was added by the reptilian genes by 5 percent.

46:53 Life force for the embodiment of the rational Spirit and the state of Ananda as a connection with a single Center.

Alexander: We are discussing man as material, but we started the conversation with the fact that there is material, but what is spiritual? The Vedas claim that the Soul, as a part of the Consciousness of God, is brought into the human body. This means that those scientists who created our species took into account the fact that consciousness would enter this body?

Irina: Considered.

Alexander: Great. Then, when the period of presence of this body on this Earth ends, when its resource runs out, what happens to Consciousness next? Perhaps there is some kind of law that is responsible for how the Soul leaves the body?

I would like to return to the issue of reincarnation.

Irina: In order for the Spirit to be embodied in any body, it needs to have vital force in order to connect with it. The initial supply of vital force for incarnation, from its sources, is given by the very Spirits whom we call Consultants, who help it incarnate. Naturally, everything comes from divine sources and I want to emphasize once again that from the point of view of the Spirit, nothing except the Light of God in one vibration or another exists in the universe. All forms that consider themselves evil and so on, they are only Spirits who are not aware of their unity with a single center, and as a result they lose the state of Ananda.

Alexander : Ananda is bliss.

Irina: Yes, bliss, good. And whether they lose connection with the center or do not lose connection with the center, they never lose their awareness of this connection. And because they lose it, they are in a state of what you call conditioning, but in reality it is the loss of the bliss that should be. And if the connection is complete, then, no matter where the Spirit is, in the material world or in the immaterial world, it will experience the same state of merging, because matter does not interfere with this at all.

Alexander : Connection with what, with whom?

Irina : With a single center.

Alexander : with God?

Irina : Yes, whom you call God. He is naturally higher than all levels, higher than the twenty-fourth level, one might say the Spiritual Sun, of which we are all rays. We are all His rays. All of us. When I say: “All of us,” I mean you, and the contactee, and everyone who is present here, and plasmoids, and demons, and everyone. We are all His rays.

50:16 The presence of God on Earth and the feeling of one’s divinity through merging with the inner Light.

Alexander : God came to Earth and how many times?

Irina: He is continuously present on Earth in his energies.

Alexander : Did you, as a person, appear here?

Irina: Yes, naturally, He appeared here. And not only did he appear here. He, as a person, is present now.

Alexander : Is he present here now as a person?

Irina: Yes, He is present now. He is now you, He is now anyone present here. But it is not the limitations of the material body that prevent one from realizing this, but the limiting beliefs in the mind, formed, among other things, by materialistic views or past negative experiences.

That is, in fact, you are He, you personally.

Alexander : Am I God?

Irina: Yes.

Irina: Anyone who begins to feel this merger, not just for some seconds, it can vary in time, although the word “seconds” is no longer appropriate there, because a person in this state can lose the sense of time. We call this when a person goes beyond the material universe. At the same time, he cannot necessarily leave the body, into the astral plane or somewhere else, he can leave, he can remain, this does not at all affect the feeling of Ananda and other things. And when he enters the sensation of Light, he feels himself to be Light, he feels himself to be an immortal eternal being, he feels himself to be part of something larger, an intelligent being who loves him. And when he begins to feel this, he quite sincerely, from the bottom of his heart, says: “I am Light. I am God." Or as the person known to you as Christ said: “I am the way, the truth and the life; no one comes to the Father except through Me.” Those Christians who do not have their own experience of the Light, they understand these words as through the personality of Christ, and from this there are divisions into levels of egregors. That is, they deny access to the Light to everyone who does not follow this path. This is actually not true. When Christ said: “I am the way, the truth and the life. And no one comes to the Father except through Me,” he said this in a state of merging with the absolute Light, the absolute Center. And he meant that he who does not follow the path of Light does not come to the Father. What is it that does not come to the Father? This does not mean that he left the Father, but that He does not come to the realization that he is united with Him. So his words apply to sincere followers of any religious system, in fact, not only to Christians. Only they do not follow the path of the personality of Christ, but the path of realizing the Light of God through the experience of other personalities. I want to emphasize a very important thing: reading religious literature and religious ritual practice without putting your feelings and emotions into it, without the practice of Love, will not bring real spiritual experience. She may bring a substitute, which, in fact, may lead her astray, but she will not bring real spiritual experience of contact.

Alexander : But, I haven’t heard for myself personally, excuse me, the question, what happens to Consciousness after the heart stops beating and the brain stops working?

Irina: Are you interested in the path of the Soul in the Spiritual World?

Alexander : Yes, when the Soul separates, it goes, as I understand it, into its other vibrations. But there is some kind of law, as I understand it, that she can incarnate further, but in this same material world, or she can go home, to the Spiritual world. I'm right?

55:38 The structure of the Universe from the point of view of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Now I will explain to you the structure of the Universe, which, according to our teaching, corresponds to the real state of affairs. As I already said, the material world is divided into dense material, which we perceive through the receptors of the body, and subtle material, which may not be felt, but can be felt, for example, like light, but already going out into higher vibrations, which can only be felt by devices and through those types of energy for which your science has not yet created instruments. After the 56th level of density of the subtle-material world, there is the next dimension, which is called in our terminology the Spiritual World. It, in turn, consists of three areas.

Alexander : Which ones?

Irina: What we call the astral world. The Astral World is the region of the Spiritual World that is closest in vibrations, not in distance, but in vibrations to the material world. That is, there most often are those Souls who have temporarily left the body, but who are embodied in the material world. This can either be in a conscious journey or in what you call sleep, trance and so on. In fact, during sleep, your Soul leaves your physical body in a special form and enters the Spiritual world, which we call the astral world. It is divided into certain floors, and they are on each planet, that is, near each planet. Again, this does not need to be understood as an atmosphere: it is both in the material world and outside, it is just a different vibration. Near your Earth there is the Astral World, which consists of seven floors, which in their vibrations correspond to the seven main energy centers. Basically, what happens is this: whichever person tunes in before leaving, that's where he ends up, that is, on that floor of the Astral World.

Alexander : We call it: - seven planetary levels. These are the three lower ones, we call them the hellish planets and the three heavenly ones.

Irina: A little further from the astral world in terms of vibration level is the so-called World of Unembodied Spirits.

Alexander : What does this mean?

Irina: This is the Spiritual world, in which Spirits, being at one level or another, await incarnation into the material world. That is, that Soul, which, as you said, left the body, physical or non-physical - subtle, it leaves through the astral plane into the Spiritual world, to the level it reached during life in the material world. There are only 24 of them.

Alexander : Where does she go?

Irina: To the Spiritual World of Disembodied Spirits, to that area of the Spiritual World that we call the world of Disembodied Spirits. It consists of 24 levels. An astral traveler who leaves the physical body can visit it, but to do this he needs to slightly change his vibrations. Because, in comparison with the Astral, the World of Unembodied Spirits is also a slightly different dimension, but there are no prohibitions on visiting. But every Spirit can rise to the level of the Spiritual world that it only reached while living in the body or when the body has already died. He cannot rise higher until he reaches the necessary vibrations. It can only go lower because its vibrations do not correspond to higher levels.

01:00:15 The structure of the Spiritual world and the characteristics of the intelligent Spirits inhabiting them.

As I already said, the World of Unembodied Spirits consists of 24 levels: from 1 to 6 - this is what is called demons in Christianity. That is, these are different Spirits who are on low-vibration energies, they have different emotions, feelings that cause rejection from the flow of love. What is the difference? They differ, firstly, in the level of their vibrations and in the actions that they produce. At the first level there are the lowest vibrational Spirits, then the vibrations increase slightly, that is, their awareness and the inclusion of intelligence, and many other energy features, grow there.

Levels 7 and 8 are given to those Spirits who had many incarnations in plasmoid worlds, that is, they were responsible for the elements and worked with them: Spirits of fire, water, air, earth, certain places of nature, forests, fields, rivers - these are just those with whom shamans and other people interacting with the Spirits of places work. The seventh level is those Spirits who often incarnated in those who were responsible for any specific elements (salamanders, sylphs, gnomes and Water Spirits). The fact is that you, as a representative of your faith, have no experience of interaction. This language is described mainly by representatives of the occult, because that is what they most often interact with. The eighth level are those that have had many incarnations among plasmoids responsible for certain places. That is, you may have heard that there is a Spirit of a certain place, a certain city or even a house. What you call Domovoi, Leshy are still the same plasmoids. If the Spirit is drawn specifically to incarnation, has had more than one or two incarnations there, but is simply drawn to them, then it will have the 8th level. This is between the demonic worlds and those that come next. From levels 9 to 16 - these are those Spirits who can be simply called average, that is, they cognize the material world in all its manifestations, they are already higher vibrational, for example, than demonic levels and they are more aimed at understanding the world of society than the world of nature , for example, like plasmoids. By the way, plasmoids also form their own civilizations, and they exist both on Earth, both in the Earth's atmosphere, and in the atmospheres of other planets. For example, Venus, Jupiter, and also near the stars. For example, near Sirius, as you know, there are 7 such civilizations, near Antares - 18, these are all different levels of density.

01:04:00 Representatives of plasmoid worlds, their appearance and features in the perception of the universe.

Alexander : Do they look like planets? Or is it subtle?

Irina: They can look like planets, they can look like energy formations, some - like just places. It is very difficult to describe the world of plasmoids from the point of view of something embodied in a dense material body, but imagine that it is some kind of intelligent radio wave. Naturally, she will have no physical eyes, no ears, and so on. He will perceive the world completely differently. They also have contactees, including on Earth. And, often, the problem is that when conveying information to their contactees, from the point of view of their vision, the contactees experience an inconsistency. That is, the vision that plasmoids provide is often simply unusual for dense material creatures. Here is a well-known example of all this - these are contacts with the Spirits of the air, whom we call Sylphs, they convey to their contactees in the astral world such a picture of the world as, for example, about a flat Earth, because from their point of view, this is really the case . And when they read in the astral plane from their contactees the information that is given to you in school, that the Earth is round, that it rotates, they are sincerely perplexed, because in their perception this is not so and they consider everything a lie. This creates a lot of misunderstandings. So, when you come across one or another source of information that calls itself a contactee, you should always understand who it belongs to: humanoids or plasmoids, because a lot depends on this.

01:06:02 The structure of the Spiritual world, continued.

Further, from levels 9 to 16, these are Spirits that have an average level. Their awareness increases from level to level if 9, 10, 11 and 12 are different consumers of material goods. Their lesson in this life is to study all manifestations of matter and experience them for themselves. They came, one might say, not to seek spirituality, but to the fullest... Naturally, in the course of life, the level of the Spirit can change greatly. For example, a Spirit, born from the 9th spiritual level, will meet a creature or book that will amaze him with something and he will feel like an immortal Spirit and gain experience of the 20th level, then he will not automatically move to it, but if he believes in him will follow. And if he starts to doubt and reject this information, fighting it as an illusion, then nothing will happen.

Further, from levels 17 to 24, these are those who in Christianity are usually called Angels.

Angel translated from Greek is the messenger of God. That is, this is a Spirit that carries the will voluntarily, carries out service, following the path of complete self-denial from the “I” that is known to lower vibrational Spirits. But, naturally, they can also incarnate and they do this too for their own purposes. That is, any Spirit, even from level 24, has the right to incarnate. For this, a place is selected for him, and everything depends on personal karma, even the karma of the people around him: everything is interconnected. From 17 to 24 levels are Angelic levels, on each of them there is a Spirit who lives there and performs certain work in the Spiritual World. That is, if demonic Spirits do not like to do any spiritual work, because they do not consider it necessary to do it: they have developed, firstly, sociopathy, rejection of everything, and secondly, they do not consider themselves obligated to help someone, but, on the contrary, they accept all benefits as natural for themselves, but at the same time, without giving anything in return. Therefore, those who live from levels 1 to 6 often travel to the astral plane to meet astral travelers from the material world and somehow interact with them. This is usually not a very high level of interaction because they can be quite aggressive. Not even so much aggressive - after all, they have a peculiar understanding, for example, of the same sense of humor: they are happy when someone is afraid of them or something else, that is, such low vibrations.

Alexander : Did I understand correctly that there are 24 levels of the material world?

Irina: The spiritual world.

Alexander : The spiritual world, that is, where Souls live and they can incarnate on completely different planets, in completely different bodies.

Irina: And in different plasmoid worlds, yes.

Alexander : The Vedic scripture says that planet Earth is, so to speak, a transfer station so that the Soul has the opportunity to go home to the Spiritual world. I heard that there is a huge layer of knowledge about what the material world is, and I realized that there is reincarnation.

Irina: Yes.

Alexander: How can you return home, to the Spiritual World? We are told: get initiated, you have obligations to the spiritual teacher, but, as you noticed, vows to the spiritual teacher can be fulfilled poorly, you can do something without love, and then it will not bear any fruit. What is the criterion for a Soul to enter the Spiritual World? Let's call it the Kingdom of God.

Irina: Yes, this is what is above level 24, yes. This is usually called in Christian scripture the Kingdom of Heaven. Why do they call it that way? Because, in general, the word “Heaven”, “Heaven” in the Christian Bible is usually a symbol of the entire Spiritual world. The fact is that the Bible was also written by contactees with representatives of the Interstellar Union.

01:11:37 Bhagavad Gita as an authentic source, written by a friend of Krishna.

Alexander : Who wrote the Bhagavad Gita?

Irina: Written by people who personally knew the Spirit whom you call Krishna.

Alexander : He actually spoke the Bhagavad Gita, the Divine Song. Vasudeva, yes, he had siddhis, and he heard this and put it in a written treatise.

Irina: And he knew him personally.

Alexander : That is, this source is genuine, from Krishna himself, where he describes what the Spiritual world is. He gave, one might say, everything.

Irina: You understand that the conversation that took place in a place known to you, in known circumstances, between Krishna and his friend, also known to you. If you look at it physically, it happened without witnesses, but this does not mean that there were no witnesses in the astral and subtle worlds. And the one who heard and conveyed everything, as he conveyed it, he presented the information quite accurately.

Alexander : Precisely enough?

Irina: He added practically nothing from you that Krishna did not say.

Alexander : This makes me happy.

01:13:06 Genetic parents of Krishna.

Irina: Yes, LiShioni? Now LiSioni wants to answer, talk a little about Shimora. The fact is that LiSioni, he is a representative of exactly the planet from which he physically originated, did not originate, but, as he said, of which Krishna is a part on Earth. His mother, she was from Earth and had all the genetic characteristics of earthlings. And his father, a physical one, I emphasize once again, who allowed him to be born, he was from that planet that did not participate in your creation, but which, nevertheless, is genetically compatible with the representatives of your world, this is precisely the planet Shimor. It is also part of the Interstellar Union.

Alexander : How did it happen, Krishna himself appeared? Devaki was his mother in the physical plane, and so was his father. How did the merger happen that Krishna himself will appear?

Irina: The fact is that his mother and that mother’s husband, so to speak, he is not the genetic father of Krishna. They were, in your modern language, Shimor's contactees. What are Shimor contactors? At the time he incarnated on Earth, there were many open contacts and there was no need to give evidence of contacts due to the safety of the contactee.

Alexander : So, they were obvious?

Irina: Yes, mostly they were explicit, for example, with representatives of Shimora. Representatives of Shimor have been working on interaction with earthlings for a long time.

Alexander : For what purpose?

Irina: In order to convey my experience in understanding the Interstellar Union and its goals. As I have already said, the spiritual goals of the Interstellar Union are inseparable from its material goals, because material goals serve only as a goal for a greater understanding of Spirit.

Alexander : So the goal is to understand the Spirit?

Irina: It's not easy to understand the Spirit, the goal is to move towards perfection. How do we understand perfection? We understand perfection precisely in merging with that primordial Light that is above the 24th level, what we call, as I already said, the Kingdom of Heaven.

01:16:02 Understanding the Kingdom of Heaven as the highest department of the Spiritual world.

I have already begun to answer the question of what the Kingdom of Heaven is - this is the department of the Spiritual world that reigns. Why does he reign in the Bible? Because he reigns over everything. What is reigning? The word "Kingdom", like the word "Servant of God" and so on, is only an adaptation of a certain spiritual reality to the terminology of ancient people. In fact, naturally, there is no slavery in the Spiritual world. It was simply easier for a certain category of society in a slave-owning system to explain the concept of belonging to God precisely through slavery, as complete property. You usually call it the word "Devote" - that's how you call voluntary slavery. That is, one who is sincerely devoted to God, as the highest vibration of love, who needs not just submission, he needs voluntary submission, coming from the freedom that he initially gave to everyone.

Alexander : Love.

Irina: He gave freedom of choice because of His Love, because in His understanding, Love is the provision of freedom. That is, programming beings for further manifestations of love is, in the understanding of God, not love. And this understanding of love, he, one way or another, through his Light, invested in all intelligent Spirits. And that is why, even you earthlings, when you give birth to children, your own children, you become their physical father, but while they are small children, you want from them precisely sincere love, not feigned, not some kind of deceitful one, it does not please you. If your child smiles in your eyes, hugs you, and at the same time does not love you in his soul, such love will not suit you. You have such a state of hypnosis. After all, no loving parent would be satisfied with such a situation if the child is in a state of hypnotic trance, that is, under some kind of suggestion, coercion, hugs you?

Alexander : Sincere love is what God wants from us?

01:18:57 The value of the material world for the birth of a rational Spirit.

Irina: Let us again return to the issue of balancing material energies and spiritual energies. You know that there are material energies and spiritual energies. You know how difficult it is to balance them. Without love, a person goes either into complete denial of the Spirit or into complete denial of matter. Both lead to degradation. I would like to emphasize, firstly, the value of the material world now. We have little time left, and I would like to emphasize the value of the material world for the development of the Spirit. Why was the material world created in general? We could live in the Spiritual without being born here at all, without incarnating. Because in the Spiritual world there is no time, there is eternity there, and because there is eternity there, the Spirit is unchanging. The change itself is a consequence of the influence of time. Since the Spirit is unchanging, it cannot experience experience; it is in a state of merging with God, in a state of continuous Ananda. And since God gave freedom, finding his children in a state of constant bliss was not part of his plans, just as the plans of an earthly parent did not include constant bliss, one might say, the infant state of children. After all, when we give birth to children, we assume that they will grow and explore the world, and this time voluntarily, not because they are Sat-Chit-Ananda by nature (that's just clearer to you).

Alexander: Sat-Chit-Ananda - Eternity, Knowledge, Bliss.

Irina: In general, the language of the Indo-Europeans, from which Russian, Sanskrit and others were formed, it had a common root. Firstly, the language was syllabic, that is, the syllable "Chi" there, it denoted the mind, one might say, from there the Russian word "Read" or "Chitta", this again is the name of not just the mind, like "Manas", it is some kind of spiritual knowledge. Yes, I would like to say that this stay in Sat-Chit-Ananda, permanent, eternal, was not part of the plans of our Parent, the One.

Alexander : God?

Irina: Yes. If the Spirit is in the eternal Sat-Chit-Ananda, without testing by the Spiritual world, then he will not show his freedom, this love will not be sincere, it will be given to him. And when he goes through all the stages of the Spiritual World, it will be sincere. Just like a child, when he is little, he loves his mom and dad simply because they exist, because they are nearby, and when he has already gone through some of his trials, he will love them more consciously. And for any parent, it is the second form of love that is more pleasant and natural, because experience is always more valuable when it is gained through trials. Why is this so valuable to you? Because this is a manifestation of freedom, which in turn is a manifestation of primordial love. Next, I would like to say a little about what you call "Tamas", "Rajas", "Sattva". I would like to say a few words about this, because in your teaching this occupies one of the most central places and not by chance. Now I would like to immediately emphasize that in your writings, these qualities of nature are a description of those forms of material energy that are in your body as an earthling.

01:22:40 The incarnation of Krishna on earth, his physical parents and Krishna

Consciousness.

Irina: Why were they named that way? The fact is that the one who created them, that is, Krishna, was the physical son on Earth of a representative of an alien civilization, and he taught him. The fact is that certain structures of the Spiritual world are also responsible for the planet and the Galaxy. The one who incarnated in Krishna, naturally, he had previously had many incarnations in a variety of worlds, both plasmoid and humanoid, and not only in our Galaxy. And by the time he incarnated into what you know as Krishna, by that time he was at the level of the Galaxy Coordinator. The entire Galaxy, that is, all intelligent forms, is what we call the Milky Way. In fact, this is such a rather high level of Spirit.

Alexander : that is, Krishna is God or not God?

Irina: He is the Spirit.

Alexander : That's understandable. Do the Vedic scriptures simply say that Krishna revealed himself at the moment when he came to the planet in exactly the form in which he lives in the Spiritual world?

Irina: This was said in a form that was understandable to you, not even for you, but for those ancient people. After all, when they listened to the teachings of Krishna, they adhered to their religious views and were brought up in a certain tradition. And in their terminology it was conveyed that he continued to be aware of himself, and his memory of being in the Spiritual World was not completely blocked, he had this system open. And when he said: “I am the source of all things” and so on, he really felt like one. And this is the same as Christ said: “I am the light. I and the Father are one.” When Christ said: “I and the Father are one,” he really felt it, and each of those present here will feel the same thing upon entering this state. Simply put, this is what you call Krishna Consciousness. Krishna consciousness is his own consciousness. The whole path of your practice consists precisely in the possibility of achieving this state and not just achieving it. Achievements can be temporary or in a constant state of being. And when you quite sincerely say: “I am Krishna,” you will name through your religious system or: “I am Light,” through some more general concepts. And you, at the same time, will not lie, since you really will really feel like him. And in fact, everyone who felt it, they weren’t lying. That is, even in the 19th century, as I already said, there were teachers, including in India, who quite sincerely said: “I am God” or something else. And the fact that the people around them perceived them differently, that is, they believed that they were liars or something else, this was not so, because if they said this to Krishna himself, if they said this to Christ himself - these individuals understood perfectly well, what happened to them.

Alexander : If you claim that Krishna is exactly the same as we say - Avatar is also Jesus Christ.

Irina: These are different personalities, these are different Spirits.

1:27:18 God as a Personality and we as streams of God’s Consciousness in the material world.

Alexander: Yes, different Spirits, yes, I agree, then God is still a person?

Irina: Yes, of course, this is a personality. It cannot be said that He is the sum of all the personalities included in it, He is the center that gave birth... You see, it is very difficult to explain spiritual things in material language. This is similar to explaining to a person who does not have visual organs, for example, how purple differs from blue. For example, the word "birth", its material description in time. It happens in such a way that before birth, the one born does not exist. Now, when we say "birth," we assume that the child did not exist before birth. When we say that the Father, God, gave birth to all Spirits, then those who have not known their own experience of Light get the impression that these Spirits did not exist before birth. But the thing is that it was timeless. God gave birth to all Spirits before the existence of all material worlds, both subtle and dense. At first we were all born into it as one, and now we continue to actually be in this state.

We at Esler have a very good formula that reflects that we are streams of God's Consciousness in the material world. We are, now. And the one who realizes this, he naturally realizes himself as a person, but he also realizes himself and everyone around him at the same time: his eyes are open, he looks at the material world, he begins to feel, usually it's like, that he is part of everything. There are experiences that, on the contrary, everything is part of himself. Both are variants of the norm. Each Spirit has different beliefs, different experiences, including religious ones, through which exactly the same things are refracted. And when I say, "Born Spirit," that Krishna is the born Spirit, Christ is the born Spirit, you are the born Spirit. How are you different from each other, all born Spirits? Now, being in the material world, you differ, firstly, in your spiritual experience, but by your nature, belonging to God, you are the same. That is, we are actually all Light, rays of Light. And God is a personality, the center itself, He is also a personality, in the understanding that He understands what is happening, He is aware of what is happening, He is not somehow asleep. He has energies that support the entire material world. They support some energies, other forms of its energy, becoming more dense, making up this material world. That is, you know that even those dense substances that are now around you are just forms of energy. Forms of energy, they already consist of higher vibrational, one might say, rays of His love.

The fact is that it is very difficult to describe a technical moment in the words of our third dimension. And if I say figuratively that your Spirit is here, your Soul and it will feel intuitively how it really is and this is much easier to explain through images. That is why all the religions of your planet are built on images. The fact is that if you tell it, then few people understand complex things, only those who have similar experiences. And whoever shows images is understood by everyone, at one level or another.

Therefore, I will say, for example, that Krishna, he, naturally, was not called Krishna then, he was one of the born Spirits. He, naturally, was born of the Spirit, just as you are the Spirit, so are everyone else. His difference, firstly, is in the spiritual level and not only in the spiritual level, also in his desire to bring this experience here to Earth. At the same time, you should not get the impression that when he spoke of himself as the source of everything, that he was somehow mistaken - no. Because, merging with the source, it is simply impossible to say otherwise, you will also not say otherwise when you merge, and not for some seconds, but at least for several hours, that is, if you measure time, again, in the material world, there it will no longer exist for you.

1:33:15 About the transformation of the material world.

Alexander : The material world is eternal: will it one day cease to exist?

Irina: The dense material form is not eternal. But those energies that make it up, of course, come from the Spiritual world.

Alexander : Everything that left the Spiritual world was transformed into the material world and, as it is written in our sacred scriptures: “Everything will return to Him”?

Irina: It will increase its vibrations from a dense material state to a subtle material state and further - according to levels, that is, what I said at the beginning.

1:34:00 The gunas of nature “Sattva, Rajas and Tamas” are religious images of the Hare Krishnas to describe the energies of the civilizations that created us.

Irina: I wanted to say a few words about the gunas, because control of the gunas of nature, not their destruction or some kind of liberation from them, but control is one of the main conditions for precisely balancing energy in the fourth energy center.

And the fact that Krishna, being both a spiritual being responsible for the Galaxy and physically the son of one of the representatives of the Interstellar Union, he knew everything perfectly about the creation of your race. That is, he knew who you were created by, he knew all these civilizations. And he tried to explain it in accessible language, the religious language of that time, to his listeners. Because in fact, what he said to Arjuna, he said more than once. He said this in conversations with different people and, in principle, never hid his convictions, naturally. He tried to express in conversations the concept of the three gunas of nature, describing with these words the energetic characteristics of the genotypes of the three races, those races that were included in your composition. But, since 4 creatures entered the genome, and there are only 3 Huns, he united the two civilizations that I already spoke about, anthropomorphs - Tumesouts and Burkhads into one guna, combining their energetic influence. After all, genetics has both an energetic and physical influence. What is responsible for the predominance of Sattva in your body is precisely a description of the energetic characteristics of the two races of Burkhadians and Tumesoutians. What is called Tamas are the energetic vibrations of precisely the primate I told you about. And what is called Rajas is precisely the vibrations of Selbetites, of whom there are five percent.

1:36:00 The structure of the Solar system and the settlement of life on its planets before the war with Selbet, and how this is reflected in the mythology of the Earthlings.

And one more important question: all these thousands of years you have been asking about what happened on Earth. There was a civilization that developed, cities were built, there were rulers. But they developed under the auspices of extraterrestrial civilizations. At that time, even the solar system had a completely different appearance than it had before the war. That is, for example, there was a planet between Mars and Jupiter, the Earth did not have a Moon, for example. The Moon was a planet between Mars and Earth.

Alexander : Inhabited?

Irina: There were basically bases there, it has already been rebuilt inside.

Alexander : Is it inhabited now?

Irina: There are bases under the Moon and, in fact, there are many living beings in them. Of course, their own conditions have been created for them.

Alexander : Underground?

Irina: Under the lunar soil, I mean, under the surface, yes. Previously, the Earth was a little closer to the Sun. Venus was a little further from the Sun, they rotated there in slightly different orbits, not even quite in the ecliptic plane. And on Earth, thanks to all this, there was a different climate. For example, there was no winter.

Alexander : Was there only one mainland?

Irina: There was one single continent.

Alexander : Why did this happen?

Irina: This happened because of the war. I'll tell you now. All these civilizations lived and developed, they had a single language, a single culture. They developed both in contact with aliens and plasmoids. The Selbetians did not reach an understanding on the issue of genetic superiority, since they wanted more than five percent in the genome of your race. No understanding was reached and an attempt was made to destroy the human race, first by deception, which entered into your sacred scriptures, into the Bible under the symbols of a serpent giving an apple. The serpent means Selbetovets. But this attempt failed.

Alexander : What was opposed?

Irina: There was a certain story, it’s a long time to tell now. You will find the materials in the group from the contactee. Approximately 200 thousand years ago, according to your chronology, conditions on Venus and Mars were similar to those on Earth, due to a different form of rotation, a different atmosphere. And it was decided to resettle some of the earthlings there so that they would occupy the entire solar system. So that there is more space, therefore, more conditions for development.

Alexander : Did life originally originate on Earth or on Mars?

Irina: Initially, life was on Earth, then it was transferred to Mars. That is, it was transferred to Mars and Venus. Then there were different conditions: there was no such heat, for example, on Venus, there was an atmosphere suitable for breathing, there were other conditions there, it was after the war that everything changed.

Alexander : Oceans, forests?

Irina: There were, yes, then they evaporated, precisely on Venus. About 200 thousand years ago, scientists of the Interstellar Union transported approximately 20 thousand people each to Venus and Mars. And they built their cities there too. Naturally, they perceived their creators as Gods. In their understanding these were Gods. People did not have their own space flights, and they, in principle, did not develop in this direction. They walked more along the path of merging with nature, this was then the path of development of civilization with communication with plasmoids, that is, not a technical path, because this civilization had not yet passed the natural path.

01:40:54 About the military actions unleashed by Selbet and the consequences of this war.

But 12 thousand years ago, a group came to power on Selbet, which was sharply opposed to the Burkhadians, one of your creators, which is now the capital of the Interstellar Union, the planet Burkhad. And a war began in the Galaxy. The civilization of Sirius, which took part in this war, suffered there as well. And then all this was transferred to the solar system and the Selbetites attacked the Earth. The land was then considered a colony of Burkhad. Selbet's government waged a war to destroy the creatures living on Earth.

Alexander : What happened?

Irina: There was a war.

Alexander : What did she look like?

Irina: The Selbetites used weapons that change the orbits of planets. And from this weapon the continent of the Earth split into pieces. The Earth began to move further from the Sun. The Moon appeared, which almost collided with the Earth as a result of this movement. It’s good that Burkhad’s ships stopped this approach with their gravitational field and installed the Moon in the orbit that it is now. That is why the Moon is always turned to the Earth with one side, because this was interference from the outside. For the Moon, they left this position so that it would not rotate around itself, like the Earth, for example. After the outbreak of hostilities, many people died. The ships that came to help began a rescue operation: first they took about 10 thousand people to Mars, then to the Moon. This is usually included in your mythological writings under the name of the Great Flood. This description is in all religions, as far as I know, mythologies, under one name or another, either as a catastrophe, or as the Great Flood. Almost everyone from Venus was saved; they managed to be taken out on ships to another planet, even before the Selbetites turned Venus into what you see now. It was they who created this atmosphere there, using chemical weapons and the same weapons that brought Venus closer to the Sun, and this greenhouse effect appeared there, making it unsuitable for life. But the inhabitants of Venus, who were genetically earthlings, were taken to a planet in the constellation Hercules, which we call Disara. She is now part of the Interstellar Union, her representatives visit Earth, and they are your direct genetic descendants. Outwardly, you are almost indistinguishable, that is, if a representative of Disar puts on the clothes of an earthling and teaches him the language, no one will distinguish that he is an alien. You are actually the same.

Alexander : How many planets are included in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: 116 at the moment. 116 planets are included in the Interstellar Union. So, Mars was completely destroyed, there was a very big battle that captured that planet, which you later called Phaethon, it collapsed, and a ring of asteroids appeared. And Mars lost most of its atmosphere, only one tenth of it remained from the use of weapons. Water from the oceans, among other things, evaporated, and it began to be located further from the Sun. He also experienced changes in magnetic fields, and he became what you know him now. Because of these hostilities, Selbet was excluded from the Interstellar Union for 250 Earth years, and was included again only when another group came to power, overthrowing it and punishing all those responsible for attacking your race. An important addition, as I already said, the conditions on Earth before and after the war were different. The atmosphere was slightly different, the magnetic fields were different, the climate was different. After the war, special devices were used to remove radiation and the remains of hard radiation. And when they brought the remaining survivors to Earth so that in the future they could populate their world, they realized that conditions had already changed. That is, the climate changed, the tilt of the earth's axis that you see today, that ecliptic, appeared, the Moon appeared. That is, everything began to change, disasters continued. That is, this weapon affected the earth's core, for example, it caused its heating with the subsequent activation of all volcanoes. A lot of things happened there, and, in the end, the Earth took on the appearance you are familiar with. For example, with the cold season, with the seas and modern oceans. Magnetic and energy fields have changed. And then the decision was made to slightly change your genotype so that you could survive on this planet.

01:47:30 Change in human genotype as a necessary condition for his survival on Earth after global climate change.

Alexander : How?

Irina: The fact is that before this war, as I already said, there were 35 percent of the genes of Burkhadians, and Burkhadians are not consumers of, as you now call, animal protein. They don't eat animals, that's their civilization. And the genotype that was introduced did not allow your people to assimilate it; one might say, you ate a dairy-vegetable diet.

Alexander : That is, there was no meat.

Irina: No, at that time you simply could not grasp it. You saw that there are predators, but then you yourself did not use it. Of course, a person could eat something, but it brought him harm.

Alexander : He still brings it now.

Irina : The fact is that you didn't have enzymes then. Why were there no enzymes? Because your genotype did not include those genes, chromosomes that encode this protein. Any enzyme is a protein; it depends on DNA. But after the war, when the climate changed, as I already said, the energy and magnetic characteristics of the planet changed, biologists decided that you need to change your diet, switch to a carnivorous type of food. That is, all this is reflected in various scriptures. And how was this change made? Two of your creators, the Tumesoutians and the Selbetians, had animal nutrition, that is, they had the necessary enzymes. But they probably didn't increase the reptilian genes for obvious reasons, because it wouldn't lead to anything. Therefore, the percentage of Burkhadian genes was reduced by 5 percent, that is, instead of 35 percent, the Burkhadian genotype became 30 percent. And the Tumesoutians, as one of the representatives of anthropomorphs who had the appropriate structure of the digestive organs and could eat what you call animal protein, their place in the genotype was increased by five percent. That is, now at the moment your genotype also includes 45% primates, 5% Selbetians, 30% Burkhadians and 20% Tumesoutians. This is what made you an omnivore from being a plant eater. Because without this change your civilization would not have survived at that time. In the beginning, there were big changes in metabolism, but in the end, it all settled down until now.

1:51:00 About human omnivorousness and following the principles of a balanced diet.

Alexander: Vaishnavas do not eat meat.

Irina : Yes, yes, he is aware.

Alexander : Do you think this is suitable or not for our form of life?

Irina: As I already said, a person in the present form of life is an omnivore. That is, he can consume everything completely safely. Naturally, in certain doses, in high doses, even water, salt, sugar, and some substances can cause damage. With a balanced consumption of all species, almost all, excluding poisonous forms of plants, mushrooms, the same animals, fish, which are poisonous to your species. Naturally, you cannot digest them safely.

Alexander : Is there a difference between consciousness and the fact that we eat meat and do not eat?

Irina: Only if a person sincerely believes in it.

Alexander : So, it's possible?

1:52:02 Sincere Faith as the driving force of the rational Spirit and its influence on physical manifestations in the human body

Irina: Yes, naturally, a person's faith shapes his body, including his body and his consciousness. That is, if he sincerely believes, not just read it somewhere and simply took note, but accepted the information on faith. For example, if he read that only plants or only plants, for example, in raw form, are suitable for nutrition. You have many different forms of nutrition. For example, there are also forms of nutrition where milk is not provided at all. And they sincerely believe that milk, for example, reduces some of their vibrations. And if they drink it, it will be so for them. There are others who, for example, think that eating cheese will raise their vibrations, and unlike this person, if he sincerely believed in it and did not change his belief, it will be so for him. It's the same story with meat. If a person sincerely believes that this will harm him: it will lower his vibrations, close his path, then for him personally it will be so. Why will this happen? Not because he ate it, but because when he ate it, he set himself a certain program. The influence of the Spirit on the body is so great. A certain example has already been given here that when a person in a trance state was touched with a cold object, saying that it was hot, a burn occurred. This is the influence of the Spirit on the body. That is, absolute faith, and in a trance it can be absolute, can even make physical changes instantly, not to mention more subtle things, where the influence of the Spirit is even greater, the influence of faith. Faith is the driving force of the Spirit, one might say. This is what he believes in, that reality will be for him. If he sincerely believes that meat does not reduce anything for him, that he can eat anything and everything for him, as the Apostle Paul said: “Everything is pure, everything is dedicated to God,” so it will be in him. Everything depends on faith.

1:54:15 Condemnation and a sense of superiority as states of lowering vibrations.

Alexander : So, by believing in Krishna, I can return home to the Spiritual world, purify myself and revive this sincere love in myself?

Irina: Of course you can. The main thing is to sincerely follow the path of Bhakti. What does it mean to sincerely follow the path of Bhakti? What is sincerity in this matter? This is when you follow the path of Bhakti, but seeing people who do not follow the same path, no condemnation of their path arises in you and not even a fleeting feeling of elevation above them, that is, that you are somehow superior to them. The feeling of superiority already lowers the vibrations of love and balance does not occur.

1:55:14 MidgasKaus transferring its energies to Alexander .

Irina: Mead says that if you allow him, he will transfer energy to you, since he can charge like that.

Alexander : I will only be grateful.

Irina: Mid, please come and interact.

10 minutes have passed...

Irina: What do you want to tell him?

Alexander: Dear Mead, you are a treasure, thank you! I will be glad to meet you again!

Irina: Of course, he will be happy too. Thanks for the interesting questions and for the openness of the Spirit.

Alexander : Thank you very much!

#34 Sensation. Dialogue with Gray - a representative of the planet Tashig from the constellation Northern Crown

---

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/dialog-s-serym-predstavitelem-planety-tashig https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dnd8gC1Wyso

Irina: Greetings, dear friends. After watching the video where there was an interview with the reptilian, we decided to invite a representative of the so-called gray civilization for a conversation. This is the civilization of the planet Tashig. They are one of the closest allies of the reptilians from the planet Selbet for research in our sector of the Galaxy. The representative of Tashig, whose name is Ari Shen Puros, or simply Ari, is a biotechnologist and ecologist on his planet and directly conducts research on contactees from our planet under the permission of the Interstellar Union, which he received on the planet Burhat in 1995 according to our chronology.

Maxim: I greet everyone. My name is Max. Do you know me. I will ask questions today. Ari, I salute you.

Irina : I greet you too, Maxim, glad to meet you.

01:43 Maxim: Ari, please tell me what you look like?

Irina: My height is 1 meter 32 cm, my physique is asthenic. Our bodies are very flexible and thin, especially our limbs. Due to the fact that they are very light, they can withstand the very strong attraction of planets, gravity. Our Tashig is slightly larger than your Earth and has a greater gravitational force. Therefore, my weight is less than 40 kilograms. The head is pear-shaped.

Irina says: “I see your image. Now I will describe you. He has a pear-shaped head, eyes wide towards the temples and narrow towards the nose, they are located slightly at an angle. The skin is grayish-green, without hair. In place of the nose there are two holes that protrude slightly above the face and narrow lips. Not like ours, just narrow lips. His head is wider than his shoulders.”

Question to the Tashigan: Is this your astral image or a physical one? He says this is an image of my physical body.

03:30 Maxim: Tell us a little about your planet. Where is it?

Irina : It is located in the constellation Corona Borealis, about 400 (just shy of 400) light years from your Sun.

03:56 Maxim: Okay. Describe your planet a little.

Irina : It is located at a greater distance from the Central Star than your Earth is from the Sun. Therefore, its climate is colder. About the same as your Martian. Due to the fact that our body temperature is slightly lowered, we can live calmly at this temperature. On the contrary, on your planet we seem to be a little uncomfortable because of this. Our oxygen content is also lower, about 11-12%, and we feel quite comfortable with these indicators, because this is our home planet, and we evolved there from animals, such as seals. (Irina says that the Tashigan man shows her that they came out of the water.)

We have many oceans. Most of the planet, more than yours, is covered in water. And on that part of the land that is available for our use there is very dense development. Only excluding spaceports, where we receive guests from other planets and places to grow our products for food. True, there are fewer and fewer of our plants left. Our scientists have decided that we can eat concentrate. In your language, these are tablet-capsules that contain all the substances we need in a form in which we can absorb it. We can live for many months only on them and only consume a little more liquid. The production of these capsules can also take place in space. We are autonomous and independent of our planet as the production site for our food.

07:10 Maxim: How long has your civilization been developing?

Irina: Mid, please tell him how much our year is.

Answer: About 30 million years.

07:36 Maxim: It turns out that you developed on your own, without any interference in the genetic structures?

Irina : Yes, we developed ourselves. Evolved from animals. I'm not talking about colonies. Our scientists in the early days were more concerned with biology than physics or spaceflight, and so we began to experiment quite early on with our genetic structure and the genetic program of our DNA. We ourselves conducted bold experiments in crossing ourselves first with living organisms of our planet. And when we joined the Interstellar Union, we ourselves proposed such experiments on crossing and breeding common creatures with other races. So, as we believe, and our civilization teaches this, and I also adhere to this opinion, that through genetic experiments it is possible to eliminate the disadvantages of one race and increase the advantages of all races that will be crossed there.

08:53 Maxim: Is it true that you are doing experiments with earthlings?

Irina : Yes, we are authorized to do this by the Interstellar Union for the purpose of bringing out a common being, as with many other races in the Interstellar Union. For this purpose, to bring out a common being, as with many other races in the Interstellar Union. We have common races with Shimor, with Esler, with Selbet and with one of the colonies of Burkhad. There was a positive experiment between creatures of hybridization of our race and the inhabitants of the planet Disaru, who are complete genetic copies of you. True, the experiment there is not finished yet, but it is already showing positive trends.

10:00 Maxim: Is it true that you are doing experiments with earthlings without permission?

Irina : Since our experiments concern ethical issues: breeding hybrids to embody spirits in them, we are obliged to strictly adhere to the instructions specially developed for this purpose by the Interstellar Union commission for contact with your planet. This commission includes the inhabitants of 42 planets that are in contact with it, including our world. This includes the planet Selbet. Although she does not have official contactees, she is still included in this commission as one of your creators. This commission very clearly outlined the instructions according to which we can invite people to experiment. Full, informed consent to this intervention must be given, with an explanation of its reason, its consequences, and even a demonstration to him of the hybrid that will be obtained from his genetic material. We can also take genetic material from an adult, our contactee. But our scientists believe that it is more effective to take genetic material from the embryo when it is not yet born. Because when a person has already been born and lived for some time in your world, his genetic properties change. That is, he may already have genetic abnormalities, because mutations in cells, including DNA, are already occurring. This will no longer be the pure hybrid we wanted.

12:36 Maxim: And those who carry your embryos, do they do it consciously?

Irina : Do you mean earthly women?

Maxim: Yes, our earthly women. Do they always agree to this?

Irina : As a scientist, I naturally adhere to the norms of the Interstellar Union. Therefore, I do not have the right, without explaining to the woman why this is necessary, let alone to deliver this embryo to her, I do not have the right to even touch her with my instrument. I can contact and explain to the woman. She may ask: what is this for? The only thing I am authorized to answer is that the Interstellar Union is interested in this, that part of your DNA will then be in a stellar creature that will live among the stars, and it will be your son or daughter, will fly in space. Many people only ask if it is possible for them to meet there later. And I answer that if they agree to this later. They can work in a completely different area of space, and we must always tell them whose genetic material was taken, from which planet, to create their physical body. That is, if they are hybrids, and they grew up in a person or using his genotype, then we must tell them about it. But in our country only part of the experiment is carried out with the participation of earthly women in cultivation. Most of the experiment is carried out by taking genetic material from them and growing them in devices where artificial conditions are maintained.

15:17 Maxim: Is it true that after women carry such a child, their memory is erased?

Irina : Yes, this is done quite often, but this is a common practice for contacts with the Interstellar Union precisely because your planet has not yet entered the Interstellar Union, and therefore the stories of female or male contactees after returning to Earth can harm them themselves . But this is usually done with their consent and at their request. If we say that I am ready to leave this memory and I think that it is safe for me, then we will not insist on that. And if we see that, according to his psychology, he will then behave adequately. That is, in the future, when time has passed after the contacts, and he hears the opinions of other people about the kidnappings and everything else about what you said, he will not begin to think and believe these people that he has suffered any harm. Because if he starts to believe it, he can cause psychological harm to himself.

16:58 Maxim: How many hybrids of you and us earthlings already exist in nature?

Irina : Personally, I am currently working at a base that is located in interstellar space. It is located at a distance of 32 astronomical units from our star. On this base, I personally observe 1106 such hybrids today. These are those hybrids that have successfully completed the genetic material.

18:18 Maxim: Do these hybrids have the ability to reproduce?

Irina: Some - no. Only about 30% have this feature. And then they can give birth to one child, and then become sterile. In fact, the genetic material has not yet been completely combined to such an extent, so our compatibility is low.

18:50 Maxim: Do you have bases on Earth?

Irina : Yes. Today we have 83 bases on your planet. The closest one to you, but not the largest, is located in the Zailiysky Alatau region.

Maxim: Around what?

Irina : Alatau, there are such mountains near Alma-Atoi or the river Ilek.

Maxim: Do you have bases on the North American continent?

Irina : Yes. But I named the one closest to you. And on the North American continent, in northern California. There is a former base near Almaty. We weren't the only ones there. Some of our colonies were there. Now it doesn't work, it's abandoned. Now our main base is in the north of California, not far from the Pacific coast.

20:05 Maxim: How do you personally feel about the Earthlings.

Irina : Okay. You are a race with quite a large potential for physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual development. Which can still be improved by adding genes to your cells that will help you think positively.

20:39 Maxim: What races do you collaborate with on Earth?

Irina : We have joint projects with Selbet, we have joint projects with representatives of Esler, one of which is MidgasCaus, here. Mainly, to study your medical industry and, in general, your biology and approach to human health as a single organism, and the like. We have joint projects with representatives of the planet Tichta, who are from the constellation Sculptor, to study your ecology and the influence of ecology on the human body and on nature, the influence of your chemical industry, and so on.

21:30 Maxim: Have you heard who the Masons are?

Irina : I heard it, but I didn’t study it in detail, you need to talk to a historian about it.

21:40 Maxim: What do you think about what we call Satan?

Irina : This is a religious image formed in one of the religions of your planet in order to create an understandable image of negativity. As you say, an enemy, an adversary, against which you need to direct your energy in order to become better. It is clear that they formed this religion on the basis of your contacts with your creator races. This was the image of exactly those who wanted to destroy you in the war. This was the most understandable image with that representative of the creator who formed your religion.

22:41 Maxim: What is your religion on your planet?

Irina: This cannot be called a religion in your generally accepted sense of the word. We do not worship deities, we do not build temples for them. We accept for God only that which seems to exist, like nature. This cannot be called materialism, and at the same time we recognize it as the creation of God. At the same time, nature itself is living and alive for us. But it does not require worship, because God in our concept, as the Universe, does not require worship as human, because this is like a meaningless waste of energy, our strength, thoughts. We must improve nature and ourselves, and only in this way can we get closer to it.

24:00 Maxim: Thank you. Did you help in the war 12 thousand years ago?

Irina : No, we didn't fight in the solar system. We participated in this war, but only to limit Selbet's aggression directly in his constellation Canes Venatici.

24:35 Maxim: do you think there is a time machine?

Irina : Yes, in the spiritual world - yes. When you enter the spiritual world, you are simultaneously in the present, past and future. And in the physical world there is no meaning to its existence. Because, having physically gone into the past and made some event there that we know can lead to a change in the present, then this reality will not exist, it is already meaningless, it seems to have already happened. But in the spiritual world we can just look, and as if we cannot influence this reality.

25:30 Maxim: What do you think the human body is capable of, what abilities can a person really have?

Irina : You, in fact, have a lot built in, and I confess to you, much more than is built into our race. Why is this because you are originally hybrids. You were created taking into account the further growth of your abilities and entry into the Interstellar Union as not only ordinary employees, but one of the leading allies. That is, those of your creators who spread life and explain its laws throughout the galaxy and beyond. Life outside the galaxy is now being explored. There are such studies. And taking into account the circumstances that I mentioned, you had the genetic abilities of three races and still retained the genetic characteristics and abilities of your earthly race, which you now call primates. This is also a special race for us, although it was unreasonable, but, by the way, it had its own genetic, energy, and mental (wave) characteristics. And that's why we are very surprised by this situation. I talked a little with MidgasKaus and I know how they feel about the video in which Selbetovet, who is well known to me, spoke. We see him often and communicate. And MidgasCaus told me a little about what was happening with the video and comments. Many people say that we, the Tashigan people, the colonies, and the Selbet people are experimenting. But this situation of rejection really surprises me. Why do you have a bad attitude towards genetic experiments, you are hybrids. It would probably be more difficult for us to get used to it, because we came naturally.

28:00 Maxim: What would you like to say or wish to all earthlings?

Irina : I would like to address with the following word: “Dear to my heart, the inhabitants of this very beautiful and surprising for many galactic inhabitants of the world. I would like to contact you with a reminder of the truth that was said by one of your inhabitants, who also contacted me from the races of the Interstellar Union. He said that in this unimaginably vast Universe we need not fear that we will not have enough energy or matter, but we should fear that we may not have enough intelligence. So I would like to wish you all reason and a conscious attitude. More reason and a conscious attitude towards contacts with representatives of the galactic community of the Interstellar Union. Remember that none of those who work, none of the employees of the Interstellar Union, want to cause you harm or pain. Well, if you do come under the influence of criminals from our planet, then I ask you to report this through contactees to the Galactic Security system so that an investigation into this case begins, and all those responsible are punished in accordance with our rather strict law. Believe me, in any world irresponsible citizens whom you call criminals can be born. And this greatly hinders the work of us, scientists who want to improve this world and ourselves in various ways, by undertaking any, even the most risky, experiments.”

Maxim : Thank you very much.

Irina : Our meeting ends. Until new meetings with representatives of other civilizations.

#35 Contact with an insectoid representative of the planet Sho-Hariki from the constellation Pegasus

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kontakt-s-insektoidom
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_BQBLzKX8Mk

00:00

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Today we are conducting an interview with a representative of an insectoid civilization from the planet Sho-Hariki, which is part of the Interstellar Union. Present with us are MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, LiShioni from the planet Shimor and a representative of Sho-Hariki, his name can be rendered by our sounds as Shpa-A-Shi. And, as always, my good friend and assistant Maxim helps us.

00:45 Name of the insectoid. Characteristics and location of the planet Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: Friends, hello everyone! Today I will ask questions to a representative of the Sho-Hariki civilization. Hello! What is your name?

Irina: My name cannot be conveyed by earthly sounds. The only adequate combination of sounds that I could find in the contactee's memory was Shpa-A-Shi. But I want to emphasize that in reality this is quite far from the real sound of my name.

Maxim: What planet are you from? Describer her. Give its characteristics and where it is located.

Irina: For the last 600 years according to our chronology, I have been living on a planet called Sho-Hariki. In the projection of the Earth's starry sky, it is visible in the constellation Pegasus. And it is located just over 620 light years from your Sun.

There are very few seas and oceans in my world. There's not much liquid in there at all.

My world is located near a large globular star cluster, which gives us a very high percentage of radiation. With such radiation, the survival time of people of your species without a protective suit is about 20 minutes.

Our planet consists mainly of elevated areas, mountains, rocks, among which our civilization has built its cities. They look like honeycombs. Individual dwellings, similar to honeycombs, are located in the air. Honeycomb dwellings are made of hardened metal. Liquid metal is cast into honeycombs.

Maxim: Very interesting.

Irina: Thanks to such a high degree of radiation, our ancestors were able to evolve from creatures similar to your earthly insects, bypassing the mammalian stage.

Maxim: You're getting a little ahead of yourself. I will have further questions about this. But I would like to know how many years have you lived? How long does a representative of your civilization live?

Irina: Our civilization is one of the most ancient in the Galaxy. Our archaeologists date back more than 250 million years to the appearance of the first intelligent representatives of our species. I want to emphasize that we live in a double star system and there are 18 small satellites around our planet. These are what you call Moons. That's why we almost never experience darkness. There are always either two Suns, or one of them, or five or six Moons in the sky at the same time.

04:47 Structure and architecture of cities on Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: Interesting. You talked about dwellings. How are your cities organized? Is there any other architecture?

Irina: What kind of asteroid are you showing me? You'll talk about space flights later. For now only about the planet.

We have an automatic system for constructing houses of any shape from an alloy containing more than 80 percent mercury. It is a liquid metal that also contains some lead and cadmium. In air it quickly becomes solid, and we can build almost any shape. Round, spherical, diamond-shaped, pyramid shapes facing each other as its reflection emerges from the base of the pyramid. Our cities are not like yours, consisting of individual houses. Our city is a separate flock or swarm of insects that live in separate cells of various shapes. Other cells can be attached to cells. They are all grey.

Why are they hanging in the air? They do not hang in the air, they are supported by an anti-gravity field.

Maxim: So their homes are supported by an anti-gravity field, and they are mainly made of mercury?

Irina: Yes. Mercury, lead, cadmium and traces of other metals. But, basically, these three elements are a special alloy for building homes.

07:33 Life expectancy on Sho-Hariki. Social order.

Maxim: What is your average life expectancy?

Irina: In Earth years?

Maxim: Yes, in Earth years.

Irina: About 3 thousand years.

Maxim: How is your society structured?

Irina: I'm looking for analogues in the mind of the contactee. Group mind. One is responsible for all, and all are responsible for one. We feel each other from a distance energetically and psychologically. This feature of organisms forms the basis of our worldview, from which the natural world order of our society follows. At the head is an insectoid. Currently, his name can be rendered in earthly sounds as Shi-Ma-Shin. Moreover, the sound "sh" is different in two different syllables. You have one, but for us this syllable can sound differently. This insectoid is the core of our society, and from it comes connections with each of us, on the energetic and psychological levels. At first he is connected with his associates, in an earthly way, with his retinue. Each of these confidants has connections with twenty other members. And so on. These connections constitute a strict hierarchical system. In practice, this means that each of the representatives of our race, no matter where he is, in space or on the planet, has access to the mind of any other representative.

Maxim: So you can feel each other at absolutely any distance?

Irina: Yes. After the young insectoid is born, we teach it how to protect itself from suffering caused by the injury or death of other insectoids.

10:47 The process of birth of insectoids and their gender division.

Maxim: How does your birth happen? Is there a gender division, boy, girl, male, female?

Irina: Representatives of Sho-Hariki are dioecious organisms. But reproduction occurs by laying eggs.

Maxim: Who lays eggs? Male or female?

Irina: What kind of image is this? No, he's not. In your language it is male or female.

We can say that we have a special sex that lays eggs. It plays a fundamental role in our society. For example, Shi-Ma-Shin is a representative of the sex that reproduces.

11:50 Eating behavior on Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: What do you eat on your planet?

Irina: We feed on other insects and those forms of mammals and birds that have evolved by this time. It's on its own planet. But if we are in space, we take with us processed products from their bodies. We can eat plant foods, but only in limited quantities. We mainly consume animal protein.

Maxim: Can you eat a person?

Irina: Only if there is no longer a rational Spirit in him. If it is a corpse and there is no other food, then we can use its body.

12:54 Leisure, recreation, entertainment on the planet Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: I heard. How do you relax, have fun, relax? Do you have such concepts as resting, relaxing, listening to music, watching movies?

Irina: All these activities are familiar to me only from the stories of space travelers who were on your planet. To answer more accurately, I need to read information from the contactee's consciousness.

What you called music, cinema, entertainment, we call it special rituals to relieve internal tension.

Maxim: What rituals are these?

Irina: We can dance, but not to the music. I'll find an appropriate term, don't worry. I can communicate well with representatives of anthropomorphs. I am a specialist in your species.

14:39 Profession Shpa-A-Shi. Insectoid dances.

Maxim: What is your profession?

Irina: Specialist in contacts with anthropomorphic types of races. You are a different type of humanoid for us. We are insectoids, you are anthropomorphs. Our scientists are specially studying you. I am one of them. I was invited by a representative of the anthropomorphic civilization of the planet Esler, because contact with another representative of our planet would be impossible either for the consciousness of the contactee or for the consciousness of our representative.

Maxim: We are not finished about dancing.

Irina: I choose a term that is adequate to your perception. We feel the radiation from our Suns and our satellites. We feel what you call magnetic fields. When they begin to form certain configurations in our sky, their magnetic fields intersect with each other, and we hear it. From a distance, this can be thought of as your sounds combined with lighting effects.

Maxim: And this is what you dance to?

Irina: Yes. We move to it, change body postures, thereby reproducing what is happening in the sky.

16:24 Energy structure of insectoids.

Maxim: What is your energy structure? We have an aura, seven chakras. What is your energy structure?

Irina: Mid, please explain to him what chakras are. Otherwise he doesn't know.

Maxim: We specially invite Mead so that he can explain properly.

Irina: Thank you. We do not describe the world with such concepts as the energy centers of the body or the etheric body. For us it is a homogeneous substance that permeates everything. For us, life force is an energetic substance that permeates space and is found in varying quantities in our physical bodies. What you called the seven chakras is your form of describing reality. For us it will just be a homogeneous structure. Of course, no one prevents the insectoid from imagining in his mind a certain number of energy centers, their shape and color, for any needs.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina: They perceive their system as homogeneous. They do not have such a division into chakras.

Maxim: Is this related to collective intelligence and something else?

Irina: Yes, it's connected. Our perception is influenced by the group mind. You called it collective. We perceive energies as permeating space and us, and connecting us with all parts, as members of our flock or swarm, only this is a reasonable concept. We are as one, because the mind of all becomes the property of one. And we can no longer divide into separate energy centers, otherwise we will perceive the energy center of another as our own.

19:13 Religion of Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: What is your religion? Do you have a concept of religion?

Irina: What is religion?

Maxim: Faith in some kind of Creator who created us on the physical and energetic levels.

Irina: What is faith?

Maxim: Faith is the absolute conviction that there is a superconsciousness that controls everything around and that permeates everything.

Irina: What belief do we have that there is a consciousness that permeates everything?

Maxim: Do you understand what religion is?

Irina: Mid, explain to him, please. He does not understand. Surprised.

Maxim: Indeed. If they have a collective mind, then it is really difficult to understand religion. They believe that they are all one.

Irina: We have nothing similar to your earthly forms of religion. It is not necessary. There is no need to serve this infinite supreme that you feel. Each of us, from childhood, knows that there is no need for a special form of service. We are here for a different role - to comprehend, to know the Universe. This is service for us.

21:02 Laws of the planet Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: Thank you. What laws do you live by? Do you have any laws at all?

Irina: How to establish public safety?

Maxim: Not only. As a structure of society, control over this society.

Irina: Control can only be for the purpose of protecting one part of society from another.

Maxim: Do you have such laws or not?

Irina: Yes, there are laws in every part of the Universe.

Maxim: Can you roughly outline what laws you have?

Irina: The law of equality of parts to the whole. This refers to rational members of society. The law of the impossibility of separating one part from the whole, up to the physical death of the separated organism. Because its autonomous energy is not enough for long-term existence. The law of universal, joint responsibility for the actions of one and the responsibility of one for the actions of the whole. The law of protecting the whole by everyone and protecting everyone from the whole.

23:08 Insectoid bases on Earth, in the solar system. Sho-Hariki contactees.

Maxim: Do you have bases on Earth?

Irina: No. Not on Earth.

Maxim: You don't have contactees on Earth?

Irina: There are contactors. There are no bases.

Maxim: And on the Moon?

Irina: No. Our closest base is on Mars, underground. 200 kilometers from the North Pole.

23:45 How the number of inhabitants on the planet Sho-Hariki is regulated.

Maxim: How do you regulate your numbers? And do you regulate it at all?

Irina: We no longer need to do this. Since we have gone into outer space and thanks to our high degree of adaptability to radiation, we can settle on planets that are not suitable for other humanoid life forms, for example, for you, Eslerites, Burkhadians. Thanks to this, we always have places to live. There is no need to regulate numbers by any laws. This does not meet the goals of our existence, it is meaningless. Because the whole must grow continuously, and if something hinders it, then this hinders the development of each part of the whole.

Maxim: Can you live where there is very strong radiation?

Irina: Yes. And without any protective devices. We have a very wide range of adaptability to planetary atmospheres and temperatures. Much wider than yours.

25:08 Body temperature of insectoids.

Maxim: Are you warm-blooded or cold-blooded?

Irina: Rather, we can be classified as cold-blooded. Only in our bodies, instead of blood, there is a substance that replaces it. We do not have vessels, but a network of transparent liquid that, like a sponge, permeates the entire body.

25:47 Shi-Harika technologies.

Maxim: Interesting. What technologies do you have?

Irina: Do you mean space or our planet?

Maxim: Both your planet and space.

Irina: On our planet there are anti-gravity emitters that stand under our cities. This technology dates back about 3 thousand earth years ago. This is our modernity. This is done so that houses hanging in the air can be expanded in different directions. This will not work with those standing on the ground. At the exit from their cell, in a special department, there is a vehicle in which any member of our society can fly far. If you need to get closer, he can use his wings. Our race has wings.

Maxim: So you can move through the air?

Irina: Yes. We can fly through the air. Not even with such a high density as on your planet.

Maxim: That is, in more rarefied atmospheres?

Irina: Yes.

27:33 Hybrids of insectoids with other races. Evolution of insectoids.

Maxim: Do you have hybrids with other races? Or are you hybrids yourself?

Irina: We evolved from our insects. Our planet is not hybrid. But we have hybrids with other races. Many races have repeatedly suggested that we do such experiments. There are successful experiences. Especially insectoid-reptilian races, insectoid-anthropomorphic races and others.

Maxim: Who proposed the experiments?

Irina: First of all, these experiments were suggested to us by representatives of the planet Tashig. There were also reptilian races. There were some colonies of your creators from Burkhad.

28:27 The role of the insectoid race in the Universe.

Maxim: What is the role of your insectoid race in the Universe?

Irina: What is the role?

Maxim: Why do you exist in the Universe?

Irina: For the same thing as you. To find the meaning of life in existence itself.

Maxim: Can our Soul incarnate in an insectoid race?

Irina: Yes, it can.

Maxim: As I understand it, insectoids are part of the Intergalactic Union?

Irina: Our planet is entering.

Maxim: Intergalactic or Interstellar?

Irina: Interstellar is part of Intergalactic. We are entering Interstellar and, naturally, Intergalactic.

29:21 Lethal level of radiation for an insectoid.

Maxim: What level of radiation will be fatal for you?

Irina: I don't know your units of measurement.

29:30 Attitude to death on Sho-Hariki. Insectoid memory blocking.

Maxim: How do you personally feel about death?

Irina: Towards spiritual or physical death?

Maxim: I want to hear about the physical first.

Irina: This is a temporary loss of self-awareness. Awareness of oneself later in a different body, a different being and with a different experience.

Maxim: Do you also have memory blocked during the new incarnation of the Spirit into the body?

Irina: It is blocked by any Spirit. If you or someone else remembers themselves as an insectoid when they are a child on Earth, it will be very disturbing. Or not only an insectoid, but, for example, a plasmoid or other entities. For various reasons, due to the individual qualities of the Spirit, memory is sometimes not completely blocked. Remnants of memories continue to influence the embodied Spirit, and they interfere with adaptation to a new body, to a new life. The simplest example of this problem on Earth is homosexuals. The memory of the previous body of the opposite sex took its toll. The remnants of this memory do not interfere in any way, but they cause many problems in relationships.

31:17 Deadly diseases on Sho-Hariki.

Maxim: Do you have any fatal diseases?

Irina: Yes, of course, as in any physical world.

Maxim: How do you think your diseases develop? Due to what?

Irina: Due to the variability of the matter of the physical body.

Maxim: And at a higher level than the physical, how do diseases form?

Irina: The spirit can form certain energies that affect the physical body and disrupt various physical and chemical processes in it. In any case, this is due to the variability of the matter of the physical body.

32:25 Emotions of insectoids.

Maxim: Do you experience emotions?

Irina: Yes. The structure of our incarnate Spirit is the same as yours. Only our emotions arise and manifest themselves differently. Naturally, we experience them.

Maxim: Do you experience such emotions as pain, fear, horror?

Irina: If something threatens the life of the physical body, then it manifests itself. In the cells of the physical body, as in any living organisms, there is a survival program, which is implemented by the instinct of self-preservation. We, like any living creature, manifest this instinct called fear. We feel it differently. When you are afraid, adrenaline is released. We do not secrete these hormones. This fear is simply expressed differently through the body.

Maxim: Do you know how to love? And do you understand what love is?

Irina: Specify the term. What is love?

Maxim: Love is the energy of the Creator, which he gives us free of charge, in unlimited quantities, which we can transform into other energies.

Irina: Which ones, for example?

Maxim: For the same emotions, pain, fear, joy, happiness.

Irina: Why transform perfection?

34:43 Fears of insectoids.

Maxim: Good question. What are you most afraid of?

Irina: Falling away from the whole.

Maxim: Are you afraid to separate from the whole as from a swarm?

Irina: Yes. Not only from your swarm. The swarm can be local or general. Our greatest fear is separation from the universal.

35:20 The influence of alien races on the consciousness of earthlings.

Maxim: Often in telepathic sessions, we hear that the consciousness of earthlings is captured by insectoids, reptilians and grays. Is this really true? What do you think about this?

Irina: Consciousness cannot be captured because it is not material. You can convince your consciousness that it is not free. Then it itself will work for the one who inspired the lack of freedom. Those who affirm such theories are interested in enslaving consciousness to create emotional-volitional energy of a low vibrational level, which goes to support those whom you call the destructive civilizations of the subtle worlds.

36:27 Interaction of insectoids with destructive civilizations of subtle worlds.

Maxim: Do you work with destructive civilizations of subtle worlds?

Irina: We have researchers of subtle worlds. They work with various kinds of subtle-material civilizations of any density level. But, basically, they work according to the Esler classification, up to the 30th - 31st density level, inclusive. And the Eslerites work with all 56 density levels.

37:05 Connecting insectoids to people's consciousness.

Maxim: Can you connect to the consciousness of people through the subtle plane?

Irina: Can we exchange energies with them?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: What does it mean to connect to their mind? Or just connect to their aura?

Maxim: Both to the mind and to the aura.

Irina: We have physical, densely material bodies, just like you. But some of us, just like you, experience astral travel. In the astral plane, astral interactions of different levels are possible with your people or with representatives of other planets. But the fact that we can interact with the consciousness or subconscious of earthlings is a natural ability of astral bodies. Once out of the body, you can also connect to the consciousness of the insectoids.

Maxim: Is this possible if the person himself wishes?

Irina: Naturally. A person's desire is his driving force in the astral world. If this desire does not exist, then he will close himself off from any astral influence. There will be no interaction. He just won't hear. We will be on different vibrations. On different waves.

38:40 Interaction of insectoids with a person in the astral plane without his consent.

Maxim: Can you influence a person without his consent?

Irina: In what sense to influence?

Maxim: Interact with this person in astral images. Or in another way.

Irina: Can we or any astral bodies?

Maxim: Exactly you.

Irina: Without the person’s consent. Coming to you in the Astral, we are in the position of any astral entities. The only thing is that without a person’s consent we can send him this or that mental image or thought. If he rejects her and is distracted by something else, he will simply close himself off from us, and we will not be able to do anything.

39:33 Attitude of insectoids to earthlings.

Maxim: How are you disposed towards earthlings?

Irina: Me personally or our race as a whole?

Maxim: You personally and your race as a whole.

Irina: Personally, as a representative of my race who studies anthropomorphs, I take great interest in studying the experience of the Spirit that lives in your world of anthropomorphs. Your civilization, as we know from history, is composed of the genetic structures of the perfect four beings, your being and three other planets with different characteristics. As a specialist, I am very interested in hybrid anthropomorphs. Therefore, I treat you with great interest and respect. Your world seems very complex to me. Since you have an individual mind that is not connected to the collective field of the Earth and the Universe as a whole, I believe that it is very difficult to survive and produce offspring alone, to work and receive development and satisfaction from this. Because you don't feel support from others, you don't feel close to them, and they don't feel close to you. I spoke with representatives of our race about earthlings, they treat you differently, but basically they are not interested in the topic of anthropomorphs at all. And those who are interested treat you as an extraordinary life form.

42:03 Appearance of Shpa-A-Shi.

Maxim: Describe yourself. How do you look like?

Irina: Physically?

Maxim: Physically.

Irina: Height is about 2.40 cm. We have six limbs and two wings at the back, these are additional limbs. The body is divided into segments. On top there is a hard cover that protects from radiation and various types of radiation. The shape resembles one of your insect species, the praying mantis, dark brown in color with wings, standing upright.

Maxim: How many limbs are you standing on?

Irina: On two, four are free. Individuals that lay eggs have a curved tube at the back, where the wings end, that you can lean on. Those that do not lay eggs have hard tips on the edges of their wings that they can rest on.

Maxim: Interesting.

Irina: Our eyes are round, consisting of many eyes, this is segmental vision.

Maxim: Like a dragonfly?

Irina: Yes. A mouth without lips, with three fingers on each side.

Maxim: Three fingers on each side?

Irina: Not fingers. Something like smooth processes that diverge in different directions when the mouth opens, and close when closed.

Maxim: Like in a horror movie.

Irina: What's terrible about that?

Maxim: This is unusual for us. We show this in horror films. Are there any other structural features?

Irina: On top we have a black mustache that bends back. They are like antennas for us; through them we perceive almost all radiation.

Maxim: Do you go to the toilet?

Irina: Yes. We have one hole at the bottom of our abdomen for all waste products.

45:49 An insectoid's opinion about the levels of development of earthlings.

Maxim: What level of development do you think our race is at?

Irina: By what classification? Technical, intellectual, spiritual or cultural?

Maxim: Technical, intellectual and spiritual level. How would you rate our race?

Irina: Compared to whom?

Maxim: With your race.

Irina: Technically they are divided into 22 levels. Those who make interstellar flights like us, are part of the Interstellar Union and use gravitational engines, they have level 20. Those who use nuclear energy are level 10. You are approximately level 12. We are at level 20. Levels 21 and 22 are those who make intergalactic flights in a few minutes. They can change not just the orbits of planets, but also the trajectories of stars. They can make up their own cities from stars or, in your opinion, globular clusters.

Maxim: And on an intellectual level?

Irina: The intellectual level depends on the amount of information in the noosphere of the planet, reflecting the real state of affairs. We roughly divide it into 4 levels. Those included in the Interstellar Union are at the fourth level according to our classification. Otherwise they will not accept it, as there will be distortions in people's minds. You are approximately in the middle of the second level.

Maxim: And on a spiritual level?

Irina: On the spiritual level, we divide by the number of incarnating Spirits from the highest levels of the Spiritual World. That is, the percentage of incarnating Spirits in a certain population of living intelligent beings. We count the spiritual level for a certain time. We have 32 levels. We are approximately at the 24th level, and you are at the 16th - 17th levels.

48:55 The uniqueness of the human race.

Maxim: What do you think makes a person unique?

Irina: Any life form is unique. The uniqueness of your race is that your bodies consist of combined genotypes of four types of creatures from different planets. You live on a planet with comfortable conditions of lighting, radiation, amount of heat, amount of liquid and everything else, which creates a very diverse flora and fauna, microfauna of the planet. Your world is very rich. This is the uniqueness of such a creature, precisely on this planet. You need to learn how to properly manage the resources you have.

50:08 Causes of human aggression.

Maxim: Why do you think there is a lot of aggression in people, and what is this connected with?

Irina: I believe that your high level of aggression is, firstly, associated with your genotype. Representatives of Selbet, one of your creators, often say that they left in you a lot of genes of your ancestors from Earth, animals. The second reason is the absence of any significant ideology on your planet that could form in people a correct idea of the Spiritual world, as the energy of love that creates the world and all worlds. You have an individual mind. If through public organizations, through different types of conveying information from some people to others, an ideology was formed - “love creates worlds”, and that only with your love can you help create the world, then aggression would be impossible in such quantities. Everyone would understand that aggression destroys what has already been created.

52:07 Healing systems of insectoids on Earth.

Maxim: Thank you. Are your healing systems somehow manifested on Earth? If so, what are they?

Irina: Yes. Our world of Sho-Hariki, as an integral part of the Interstellar Union, helps the worlds of Gihor, Gis and Saam in creating various kinds of electromagnetic fields, in a system that, according to MidgasKaus, you call cosmoenergetics. There are some energies that we help create for this system. We have an agreement with representatives of Gihor, according to which we create energies for your healing.

Maxim: So you are involved in healing systems?

Irina: Yes.

53:20 Time management. Time Machine.

Maxim: Can your race control time, travel to the past and future?

Irina: What do you call a journey? In what state of density?

Maxim: In 3D.

Irina: In the third?

Maxim: Yes. In the material world in which you live.

Irina: There is no future yet, there is no past anymore. How can one travel into matter that has already changed? Or one that hasn't changed yet? If you are talking about the material world.

Maxim: Do you have the concept of a “time machine”?

Irina: I’m scanning the contactee. As I understood from her memory, a time machine is a kind of device that can send a physical body to the past or future. We don’t even have such a teaching, because the material world is a continuously changing state of the universe. It is considered impossible to return a person in a physical body, we are not talking about astral travel, to the past. To do this, it is necessary that the atoms of this matter become in exactly the same position in which they were in the past. But they won't get up. There is not enough energy in the Universe for this. She has already changed.

And to send it to the future. Which future? Which one will be true for whom? Each creature has its own true version of the future. And they are all different in their execution.

Maxim: I understand. You don't have a time machine.

Irina: Yes. You also have a time machine. Including, she is in this room. The simplest version of a time machine is a book. It can send you both to the past and to the future.

56:35 Conflicts of insectoids with other civilizations.

Maxim: Thank you. Do you often have conflicts with other civilizations?

Irina: For the last 2,600 Earth years, our civilization has been part of the Interstellar Union. During this time, we did not conflict with other races, otherwise we would have been expelled, as was the case, for example, with Selbet.

57:10 Military conflict with earthlings.

Maxim: Got it. We have more questions from the group. How did it happen that insectoids, controlling combat robots, destroyed our planet, destroying the white giants of the high race who lived with humans? Do you know anything about this?

Irina: Let the person who asked the question name the exact time of this event, the country where it happened and the source of information. Reptilians fought with you. We were not on their side. True, we were not on the side of the anthropomorphs who defended you. This war has passed us by. If he means that war. And if he means something else, then let him clarify. But according to our history, there were no attacks on your race or on the other colony of Burkhad, which you are considered to be.

Maxim: So you don’t have violent methods of contact with people?

Irina: There were no military actions described. Violent methods are characteristic of low-organized consciousness, embodied in any type of body. You are also characterized by violent methods of influencing unwanted beings if you have embodied a low-organized consciousness, or it has become so as a result of the influence of the external environment.

59:01 Chelyabinsk meteorite.

Maxim: The Chelyabinsk meteorite was your work?

Irina: What is Chelyabinsk? This city.

Maxim: A meteorite fell there recently.

Irina: Sometimes fragments of planets, comets, and so on fly to Earth. I don't know anything about this. We need to find out. Tell me the date, we will convert it to galactic time.

59:42 Duration of contact between insectoids and reptilian and other races.

Maxim: I understand. Let's move on. How long have you been collaborating with reptilian and other races?

Irina: Local contacts with reptilian races began approximately 300 years before our entry into the Interstellar Union. They were the first from the Interstellar Union to discover us.

01:00:08 Date of entry of Sho-Hariki into the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: When did you join the Interstellar Union?

Irina: 2,600 years ago, in your opinion. When the reptilians arrived on our planet, for the first 20-30 years their contacts with representatives of our race were secret, like yours now. Due to internal contradictions between different groups of local swarms, our race was not yet ready to join the Interstellar Union. But our contactees with the reptilians, and then with other civilizations that appeared to study our world, told the central intelligence, it had a different name then, about the Interstellar Union. This idea caught the heart of the representative of the central mind, and he gave a chemical-energetic signal to join the Interstellar Union. That's what we did.

01:01:41 Why are earthlings not ready to join the Interstellar Union?

Maxim: What do you think our race lacks to join the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Unity. Unity in worldview.

01:01:55 Reliability of information transmission by the contactee.

Maxim: Do you think the contactee correctly conveys the information you gave?

Irina: In almost 70 percent of cases she conveys the images that I speak, the remaining 30 percent as she understands. You need to understand the contactee, because she was not on our planet, and we never contacted in the Astral. I consider this contact adequate to convey what I wanted to say.

Maxim: MidgasKaus, do you think Irina correctly conveys information from our insectoid friend?

Irina: Quite. I expected a much worse result.

01:02:42 An insectoid's wish to earthlings.

Maxim: Thank you. Last question. What would you personally like to say or wish to us, earthlings?

Irina: Personally, that means?

Maxim : Personally, yes.

Irina: We are distant creatures, incomprehensible to you. But know that our Spirit is one with you, and our unity of local and universal mind is only a reflection of our general unity in spiritual light. I wish you a speedy realization of this truth and entry into the Interstellar Union common to us and you.

#36 Mirach Count from the planet Burhad. Disciple Jesus Christ.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! I sincerely congratulate you on the great holiday of the Nativity of Christ. In honor of this holiday, my friend Maxim and I decided to make a video conference to answer questions from one of Christ's closest disciples, whose name is Mirakh Count.

Maxim: I greet you all! As always, I am behind the scenes. Irina, who is with us now?

Irina: Now with us is a representative of the planet Burkhad - Mirakh Kaunt, who is next to me in the astral body and, as always, a representative of the planet Esler - MidgasCaus.

00:53 Maxim: Hello, Mirakh Count. Tell me what you look like and what planet are you from?

Irina: Greetings to all of you, dear inhabitants of planet Earth! I am a representative of the planet Burhad. I look almost the same as you, only my height is a little more than two meters and sixty centimeters. I look like a man slightly older than middle age, with long blond hair, white skin and large blue-gray eyes. Here I am in the astral body and have come specifically to answer your questions on this very significant day for you all.

Maxim: Mirah Count, how old are you and how long have you been living?

Irina: Using various technologies, we live about 15,000 Earth years. I'm a little over 6,200 according to your chronology.

Maxim: Did you know Jesus Christ when he was incarnated on Earth?

Irina: Yes, of course I knew.

Maxim: Where is Jesus Christ now?

Irina: Christ is on the planet Burkhad, where I live. He is there on an island, which is in the middle of a large artificial reservoir (which you would call a lake, but it is artificial, of the correct shape). This island has an area of about 24 square kilometers (by your calculation). And only he lives there, and only his closest students, whom he himself invites, can be there.

Maxim: Does Christ have many disciples?

Irina: I know 312 students from Burkhad who more or less constantly visit him on this island. And many thousands fly to him from other planets (but this happens from time to time), that is, his closest students are from Tumesout, from Esler, from the colonies of Burkhad. He (as far as I can personally remember) has about... More than 10,000, but they happen: some less often, others more often.

3:38 Maxim: What has Christ been doing all this time on Burkhad, and what is he doing now? What's his name there? Does he physically visit other worlds, including Earth?

Irina: He didn't change his name. It’s just that his name is not always Jesus or Yeshua - he is usually called Christ (as he is called on Earth). All this time in which you did not see him after, when he flew away (after he left the Earth), he was brought to Burkhad. And all this time (until now) he was engaged in creating and maintaining his society on Earth, which in Greek is called Ecclesia... Ecclesia on Earth constitutes a single organism, and in the spiritual world, in the astral world, it constitutes what you call a single egregor. He is engaged in maintaining this egregor with his energy and processing through his body all the energies coming into it from earthlings - this is a very difficult job. Because of this, he is forced to raise his vibrations to such an extent that a very limited circle of people can even approach him (unless he artificially lowers them).

Maxim: Does he physically visit other worlds, including Earth?

Irina: Very rarely. He rarely leaves the island. The last time he visited the planet Tumesout was about 200 Earth years ago. He did not visit Planet Earth in a physical body.

5:29 Maxim: Who is the physical father of Jesus Christ, and where is he now?

Irina: The physical father of Jesus Christ was a representative of the planet Burkhad, whose name was Eender Niil. Currently, he is not embodied in the material world and is in the spiritual world.

5:52 Maxim: Who really is the one who on Earth is called the devil and Lucifer? Is it true that he is a fallen angel, where is he now? Who are demons and what do they do on Earth?

Irina: Lucifer is one of the angels of the highest 24th level. Even before the creation of people on Earth, he incarnated on the planet Selbet and degraded there to a level: first - to the average level, then (during the next incarnation on Selbet) he became a demon. And he was directly involved... He took a direct part in the story when the Selbet people tried to destroy people on Earth (even before the war, 12 thousand years ago). This was an example of how even the highest angel, having incarnated in the material world, can degrade to the level of demons.

Maxim: Where is he now?

Irina: In the spiritual world, at the level of demons. He is not embodied now. Any demon can be called a devil; the translation of the word “devil” means “slanderer.” And if you mean Lucifer specifically, he is now in the spiritual world, not incarnate.

Maxim: Who are demons and what do they do on Earth?

Irina: Demons are one of the types of demons that are usually taken into account at the fifth level. On Earth: do you mean in embodiment or not in embodiment?

Maxim: No, not in incarnation.

Irina: Demons, demons, have one goal - to bring into the world their distorted concept of freedom, that by existing outside the light, outside the love of God, one can develop, that is, in the direction in which they consider it correct. And they often even find some pleasure (temporary, of course) in this development. They assure all other spirits that God, giving birth to all of us, spirits: if he did not prevent evil by investing in us the inability to degrade (even in matter), if he did not invest, it means he wanted, it means he wanted the onset this evil, and that means doing evil is normal. In fact, freedom of choice is a gift of his love. Any of the embodied spirits who believe in the idea that “freedom is a hindrance” (that freedom is given in vain, that it interferes with one’s development in the light) can become a demon. In any case, even if freedom has led to degradation, it is still a blessing. And the one who forgets about this - he turns against God, turns away from the light of his love and, in the end, becomes a demon. Like any spirits, demons wait in line for incarnation, which is selected for them by spirit consultants. But some of them want so much (so eager to live in the material world) that they do not want to wait in line - they look for themselves on Earth or on another planet for a spirit that suits them in vibration, and, taking advantage of the weakness of his spirit, taking advantage of his low-vibration energies and wrong beliefs occupy his body. They go ahead of time against the will of God and in this they don’t even want to wait in line for incarnation. What happens to such people whose body has been occupied? It can be a great disaster and a great misfortune, because, having already let this essence into themselves, many people without outside help are not able to protect themselves from it.

11:02 Maxim: Thank you for your answer. Who was Mary

Magdalene, was she the wife of Christ?

Irina: Before converting to Christianity, do you mean?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Before converting to Christianity, she led a lifestyle that you call here a fallen woman. She sold her earthly body, her love for money. You call it “harlot.” There were demons within her that she attracted with her low vibrational energy. Upon meeting Christ, she knew the Light of Truth; and Christ, seeing this, cast out the demons from her, and she completely believed him and became one of his closest disciples. Christ had no earthly women close to him; he was not married.

Maxim: Did he have any sexual relations with women at all?

Irina: No. From birth to death, he belonged to one of the religious groups, the Jewish religious groups, which, like modern monastic orders, take a vow of celibacy.

Maxim: So he succeeded, he didn’t have children?

Irina: No. No physical

12:47 Maxim: Why are Christianity and Islam built on denying the importance of women? Why does the concept of the Trinity include only God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit? Why is there no idea of a Mother Goddess?

Irina: Was the question asked about Christianity or Islam?

Maxim: Let's ask a question about Christianity.

Irina: In Christianity, the role of a woman is not only significant, but it is emphasized there, because after Christ, after God the Father and after Christ, the second, most revered being in the Christian church is his mother, she is a woman by gender. The Orthodox prayer directly states that Mary, the mother of Christ... I will quote the Church Slavonic text: “... the most honorable Cherub and the most glorious, without a doubt, Seraphim.” Cherubim and Seraphim are the highest angels in the Orthodox tradition and no male saint has ever been called even equal to them. And Mary is named much higher. Not a single person on Earth has been awarded such an honor.

Why was there no Mother Goddess?.. The fact is that the goal, one of the goals of Christianity, as you already know, was the establishment of a monotheistic system of monotheism. And it presupposed the existence of one God. As you assume - few gods. But in many cases, in the minds of people, it was the mother of Christ who largely replaced the Mother Goddess, because in the minds of people, the Mother of God, the Mother of God, she is, as it were, a Goddess. Because God, according to the archetypes of many people, can only be born by a Goddess.

15:13 Maxim: How many years ago exactly did Christ come to Earth? What was his real name? What was his nationality?

Irina: By nationality from his mother he was Jewish, a Jew; According to his father, he was... He was not a nationality - he was a race (belonged to the race of the planet Burkhad). His real name sounded close to the Russian Yeshua. His birth occurred in the early autumn (about mid-September) of the fourth year before the beginning of the new era.

Maxim: That is, approximately 2000 years ago, as they say?

Irina: Yes.

16:12 Maxim: Did Christ physically meet earthly people after his resurrection and resettlement on the planet Burkhad? If yes, then with whom exactly?

Irina : After the resurrection and before moving to the planet Burkhad, Christ met with many of his disciples. First I saw him... Mary Magdalene was the first to see him, then many of the apostles saw him. But after moving to planet Burkhad, he physically met only those who were temporarily brought to planet Burkhad. Yes, after the death of his mother's body, he also took her to Burkhad and restored her. They lived together for a long time, and then she finally left her earthly body, and now she is also in the spiritual world. But after that she incarnated on Burkhad.

Maxim: So you want to say that Christ's mother, Mary, was also restored and transported to Burkhad after her death?

Irina: Yes. Yes, she was transported.

Maxim: Why was this done?

Irina: That's what her son wanted, who met her spirit in the spiritual world after she left her body. They agreed…

17:55 Maxim: Did Christ have siblings on Earth?

Irina: According to my mother, yes, they were. After the birth of her firstborn Jesus Christ, Mary gave birth to seven more children: there were three boys and four girls. Including, she gave birth to the last two after his crucifixion, resurrection and resettlement to Burkhad.

Maxim: So she gave birth to two more after Christ died?

Irina: Yes, yes.

Maxim: How did his relatives treat him? Did they think he was crazy?

Irina: I will not hide the fact that such thoughts often crept into their souls. Because often, from childhood, he was already in contact, naturally, with representatives of Burkhad. And he also made physical contact. He told his parents, other relatives about this... Well, that is, I mean now - his mother and Joseph, who actually replaced his physical father on Earth: he raised him. And Joseph and Mary treated his stories with great confidence, because the spirits of Joseph and Mary were also not chosen by chance, it was not by chance that he incarnated with them, that is, they were already ready for such information from him.

But other relatives, for example, Mary's brothers, Joseph's relatives - they had a fairly large family at that time. They reacted differently, roughly speaking: some with interest, others with bewilderment, others said: "...why do you need all this?"; warned him: "...you don't need to say these words there that you are saying against the Pharisees!" and so on; "...they will kill you!" - they warned him, protected him from this.

20:27 Maxim: Did Christ fall in love with a girl on Earth, and if so, with whom?

Irina: For him, the concept of "love" was extended to all inhabitants, and not only of the Earth. He lived in the awareness that he was part of the universal Light and already felt in unity with his Father. Therefore, his love could not extend to anyone more or less. He, like the Sun, shone on everyone equally with his love.

21:05 Maxim: Why did he decide to be born on Earth? Before his incarnation, did he know about his future destiny, and what goals did he set for himself?

Irina: He prepared his incarnation from the time of Abraham - this is many thousands of years before his incarnation as Christ. Therefore, naturally, he knew where he would be born - a very long time ago, he prepared his people for this. The goal he set for himself was to teach people to turn to God as love, as the One Light. To unite all people under a single banner of faith: in love, in light, in goodness. And for this, he immediately (even before incarnation) immediately planned to create here a society of his followers, his people, through whom he would subsequently transmit his energy to the Earth.

22:28 Maxim: What can you say about icons? Are there prayerful, healing icons? Is it possible to pray to them, and why are they even needed?

Irina: An icon is an image that depicts the reality of the spiritual world through physical means. The term “prayed icon” means that image, that icon in which a lot of energy is invested: human thoughts, thought forms... Light thought forms: love, happiness, faith, patience. When a person does not just pronounce words mechanically, but he turns to God with feeling, then these feelings at the astral level come out of his aura and charge the surrounding objects (especially the one to which the person’s attention is directed at that moment). What does “charges” mean - this means that this energy is accumulated in the atoms and molecules of material objects. And the person who will then be near this icon will feel this energy (if, of course, he is sensitive enough and tuned in to this wave - precisely this vibration that was put into it). If he feels this wave and this energy, it will be easier for him to tune in to prayer and good deeds. This is what is included in the concept of “prayed icon”.

24:15 Maxim: Why does modern Christianity deny the possibility of reincarnation?

Irina: This happened for the reason that when Christianity began to spread generally in the Roman Empire, Christian preachers were faced with the ideas of reincarnation, which were woven into polytheistic systems (well, that is, other religions). And, spreading their faith (the Christian faith), these preachers, one way or another, criticized, including reincarnation. Moreover, many pagan philosophers misunderstood it. For example, the reincarnation of the soul into animals was allowed and assumed, and so on - which Christian apologists resolutely opposed. And, for this reason, the doctrine of reincarnation was recognized as non-Christian, it was recognized as pagan. The highest Christian hierarchies decided that it was better to teach that a person lives one life: so that he does not hope to correct what he did in this life - to do in the next... Therefore, they decided to leave the teaching simply about one life, followed by heaven or hell - as symbols of high and low vibrations. Moreover, those who helped form the Christian egregor, representatives of Burkhad and Tumesout, decided that the very existence of the doctrine of reincarnation is unimportant for the spiritual perfection of people. Because when the spirit is born again, the memory of its past lives will still be blocked in it; and the experience that he has acquired will only be in the traits of his character and in the life task that he is called upon to embody. Why did we decide that it doesn't matter? Because we decided to follow the words of Christ, who here, when he was on Earth, answered his disciple Nicodemus to a direct question: “Can a person be born again when he is old?” Christ answered: “... that the spirit is born from the spirit, and the body is born from the body." That is, as you can see, he did not give a clear answer: neither “yes” nor “no”. This means that he considers the very belief or disbelief in reincarnation to be completely unimportant - he considers only a life of love, a life of goodness to be important, and it does not matter which theory or doctrine a person recognizes as true.

27:34 Maxim: Why is the memory of past incarnations blocked?

Irina: So that past experience does not negatively influence the adaptation of the spirit in this life, in the next life, because if the spirit remembers the previous body, its previous hobbies, for example, a woman or a man, a mother, a father, it will be very difficult for him in childhood adapting to a new dad, to a new mom, to friends, to those activities that he has never done - he will no longer be that blank slate where he can write down new experiences.

28:19 Maxim: If the Old Testament Yahweh and the New Testament Christ are the same person, why is there a fundamental difference between the Old and New Testaments?

Irina: Because the task of these Testaments for humanity was completely different. The task of the Torah, the Old Testament law, was to form a single people with a single religion, a monotheistic religion, from a people that had been enslaved by the Egyptians for 400 years; who, as we know, worshiped many gods, and they had priests and so on. The task was to create a new people with completely new laws, in a new place of residence, where they moved after Egypt.

The task of the New Testament, the task of the Christian collection of canonical books, is to bring the news, the Good News. What is “Good News” - this is the news about the good that Christ brings with him, who himself called himself light; to bring light to the soul of everyone who touches this teaching. Therefore, naturally, all the Old Testament institutions, unimportant for fulfillment (after the resurrection of Christ) in the New Testament church - they were eliminated from the canon, because they were important only for that time and for that place, and with the people for whom they were given . Therefore, there are fundamental differences.

Maxim: How can Yahweh and Christ be one and the same person?

Irina: Christ, long before his real incarnation here on Earth, wanted to be incarnated on this planet. But due to the fact that not a single egregor of the people corresponded to its vibrations, he could not come here, and there was no woman who could embody him (the earthly woman was important). He decided to incarnate on Tumesout and fly to Earth in a physical body in order to create his own people. And so he flew: first to Abraham, then to his son, then to his grandchildren and, finally, to Moses and all the prophets that you see in the Jewish tradition. This is how he formed a new people for himself, he formed a religion for himself in order to become incarnate as Christ.

31:39 Maxim: When will the Second Coming of Christ happen and will it be on Earth?

Irina: Yes, of course, it will be on Earth... But the time when he decides to do this, when he decides to fly to Earth in a physical body, he does not reveal even to his closest students. Because he claims that this will happen at the moment when his heavenly Father, with whom he constantly communicates in his spirit (that is, our common Heavenly Father), reveals it to him, and even more so, he says that it is not useful to know the date of the Second the coming of Christ, because it could disrupt the natural evolution of your earthly civilization. That is, simply put, you must (without knowing the date of this event) constantly be prepared for it and live accordingly in your spiritual life. Because if they give you this date, you will think that until this date you can live as you please.

32:54 Maxim: Who is Judas Iscariot and is it true that he betrayed Christ?

Irina: This is one of his twelve apostles. Yes, the act was indeed the one he described in the Gospel, but he did it for a specific reason. He believed that Christ came in order to free the Jews from Roman rule, that is, to lead the people. He truly believed that Christ was God, God incarnate - not just a prophet. But he believed that God incarnated not in order to bring the Message of Salvation, but in order to liberate the Jews alone from Roman rule and restore, as it were, their temple again, which was built by Solomon. But when he saw that Christ was not gathering the people to go to war against the Romans, he decided to provoke Christ by showing him to the Roman soldiers at the moment when they were looking for him (showing where he was). He was confident that when Christ faced the danger of physical deprivation of freedom, capture, he would show all his divine power and go against the Romans. And when this did not happen, and Judas Iscariot saw that he (Christ) was arrested and taken to trial, and they began to beat and mock him - Judas Iscariot saw that he was mistaken. He went and gave back the money he received for this act to the high priest and truly repented. He repented of his act; the only thing is that he did not believe that Christ had forgiven him, and could not forgive himself, and committed suicide.

Maxim: Did Judas Iscariot commit suicide?

Irina: Yes.

35:32 Maxim: In the Orthodox Church they do not perform funeral services for suicides. Why?

Irina: Because suicide is considered an act of rejection of divine love. And if it was committed not for the reasons of a mental disorder, not for a temporary clouding of the mind, but because the person did not find the meaning of life or someone offended him... Instead of correcting something in himself or in the life around him, the person goes to that step that he abandons that life, that incarnation that he himself chose. People who commit suicide are not given a funeral service so as not to create the impression among believers that God approves of this action.

36:28 Maxim: Thank you. Very accessible, really. Who are Buddha Shakyamuni and Prophet Muhammad and where are they now?

Irina: Shakyamuni Buddha is one of thousands and thousands of Buddhas, that is, those embodied spirits who have achieved a state (they call it “enlightenment”), that is, life in the divine light of love. Shakyamuni, he lived about half a thousand years before the birth of Christ on Earth, on the territory of modern India. At first he was a follower of one of the movements of Hinduism, and then he discovered the truth in himself that one must dissolve in the light of love, and all other rituals and sacrifices, castes and so on were just a means. He always emphasized that religious means should not replace the very goal of the religious path, that is, light. Now, at the present moment in time, the spirit that was embodied in Buddha Shakyamuni is in the spiritual world and supports the Buddhist egregor of its disciples from there.

As for the prophet Mohammed, he was a contactee of the planet Tumesout, the purpose of contact with him was to create from disparate Arab clans, tribes and clans - a single people with a single faith, with a single religion; to stop bloodshed there, bloody wars, blood feuds and other negative manifestations of people that gave birth to low-vibration energy formations entering the Earth’s noosphere. To stop these actions on the Arabian Peninsula, representatives of the planet Tumesout selected a man who was named the prophet Mohammed, through whom the Koran was transmitted to Earth, and the formation of a single Arab nation began. Currently, the spirit that was embodied in the prophet Mohammed is now embodied on the planet, but not in our galaxy.

Maxim: Is he not even embodied in our galaxy now?

Irina: No, not on ours, but he is on a humanoid planet.

39:17 Maxim: How does the Christian funeral rite affect the soul of a deceased person? What will happen to the soul if a person’s body is buried without this rite?

Irina: I want to emphasize that this ritual matters only for those who lived a conscious life or tried to live according to the commandments, believing in Christ as God, that is, it matters only for Christians. The rite has the meaning that it helps the spirit that has left the body to pass through the astral world - into the spiritual, that is, it directs these words and these actions, they give it energy in order to... He will still go through the astral, he will go through the Christian egregor (if it belongs to him). And to show the way through this egregor - into the spiritual world further, into the world of disembodied spirits - the words of the funeral service and its actions were created. These actions have meaning for the spirit itself. And they also have meaning for those still living in the world of people: for his relatives, for his loved ones. The words that are sung in these chants - they attune everyone living to the fact that he is alive; that you don't need to worry about him; that God will forgive him, take him into his Kingdom, and so on. They are also aimed at reassuring the living that nothing bad happened to him.

41:07 Maxim: What do the sacraments of Unction and Communion give before death?

Irina: Like the funeral rite, the sacraments of the church are significant only for Christians. For those who sincerely and wholeheartedly belong to the Christian faith, that is, what does this mean? This means that he sincerely recognizes Christ as God, recognizes his words as Truth and recognizes the Christian church as an organization that is led by the spirit of Christ, that is, through... Well, this is someone who is a Christian. It is for such a person that the Sacrament of Unction and the Sacrament of Communion allow... The Sacrament of Unction, it allows a person to cleanse himself of negative astral and mental vibrations that are generated by his bad thoughts, negative, low-vibration feelings; which he is aware of, and even those that he himself does not remember. The Sacrament of Communion for living people - its meaning lies in the fact that it not only cleanses all layers of a person's aura from negative energetic vibrations, but due to what a person accepts at the energetic level - he actually accepts not bread and wine, but the body and blood of Christ. Because it is precisely this program that is embedded in the ritual of Transfiguration - the transformation of bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ. On the energetic level - yes, they really become the body and really the blood of Christ - due to the fact that Christ is still in the body that Mary gave birth to, that is, the representative of the Earth. And from the fact that a person "accepts the blood and body of Christ", he is not only cleansed of all types of negative vibrations, but the vibrations of his physical body also change. Due to this, the instincts of his body, his animal nature - it no longer influences the spirit as much as before - this happens only if Communion is received with faith, with sincere desire, with faith in Christ and after the preparation appropriate to you say your spiritual leaders in the Christian church. As for Communion before death, any Christian considers death a very important stage in his life. And naturally, before death, in order to cleanse yourself of all negative feelings and all negative thoughts and unite with the body of Christ, that is, become a part of it - every Christian strives for this. If before death, with proper preparation and with feeling, a person takes communion, then practically he finds himself in the higher strata, the highest levels of the spiritual world.

45:00 Maxim: What does the term "transition of the Earth into the fifth dimension" mean? When did it start, how long will it last and what is its main essence?

Irina: This term refers to the transformation of the earth's noosphere, that is, that part of the astral atmosphere where your egregors, your thoughts and feelings, on which the ideology of your society depends, are located. The transformation consists in the fact that these egregors are cleansed of negative vibrations: anger, envy, jealousy, lust and other low-vibration states, which subsequently affect the minds and feelings of all your earthly people, especially young people, children who do not yet have an established worldview. Instead of these negative vibrations, others develop, which bring with them patience, love, faith, mercy and other high-vibration states. And indeed, this is a transition to a new reality, it is completely unusual for you, and when this happens, it will be a completely different world for you.

When did this transition begin? Well, if you look from a global point of view, this was the main purpose of the incarnation of Christ on Earth, because with his teaching, his blood and body (as I already explained) he changes the vibrations in people, he changes the vibrations in their minds. And already minds, already spirits, embodied in these bodies thanks to new thoughts - they can create a new reality around themselves, changing matter in this world accordingly. Therefore, speaking globally, this transition began, well, with the beginning of his life on Earth, since this was the main goal of his incarnation - the transition.

How long will it last? It all depends here... A lot depends on yourself, on your choice. Of course, the entire Interstellar Union wants it to end as quickly and painlessly as possible for you - this largely depends not even on your rulers, but on each of you individually; since the bright feelings and thoughts of each of you are already changing reality in the direction that will lead the entire civilization to life in the divine light.

48:29 Maxim: Why do you need to go to temples and churches and is it necessary to go there?

Irina: Only those people who sincerely and with all their soul believe in the reality of Christ, in the reality of his life, should go to temples and churches. And not only into the reality of his life, who love him as a person, who strive to be like him; for whom he is not just an authoritative spiritual teacher, but also the ideal of an existing person. And it is very important to understand that only those who recognize the leadership of the Holy Spirit in this church should go to a Christian church, that is, who do not believe... That is, only those people who do not believe should go there. that she has somehow deviated from the idea of Christ, because if a person considers her to be “incorrectly conveying the words of the Teacher” and still continues to go there, this is a lie to himself and hypocrisy before God. It is better for a person to sincerely not belong to the Christian church than to go there pretendingly.

50:04 Maxim: Many people believe that churches collect energy from us. Is this so, and what are these energies, and where do they go?

Irina: Any human activity in this world is connected with energy exchange. In the religious practices of various cultures - both Eastern and Western, both old and new: there are rituals, prayers, practices. They can have completely different names, but in the process of performing them, a person releases the energy of his feelings and thoughts, directed at the object of his thoughts, aimed at what he pays his attention to in this ritual or in this practice. Naturally, the church, as a gathering place for so many people, and even more so on certain days of the week, at certain hours - naturally, people gather there with their own energies, which are released in them in the process of turning to God: prayers, feelings - everything that they experience while there. These energies go towards the formation of a Christian egregor.

What is the formation of a Christian egregor? This is for the support of other believers who are still weak in faith; to support them energetically; to charge objects with the energy of the Christian egregor. In short, a Christian egregor has a lot of goals, they go towards those goals that the guardian spirits of this egregor consider necessary - these are usually manifestations in the material world of these energies, which are used to strengthen in the Christian faith.

52:17 Maxim: How can healers protect themselves from attacks by dark entities and protect themselves from being pulled over by these entities?

Irina: The best way to protect yourself from attacks by dark entities is to assume that you are already safe, that nothing can harm you. By doing so, you will be under the highest protection imaginable. Considering this, your spirit will merge with the spirit of the Heavenly Father when you carry out these practices, and not a single dark entity... But you must remember that if there are negative vibrations in your soul, then you will already attract this negative entity with your vibration, even if you believe in your invulnerability. Therefore, I once again emphasize the importance of spiritual work on yourself, on your negative thoughts and experiences with any healer - this is the key to your safety and successful work on the mission that you carry.

53:29 Maxim: What do you recommend doing with sects and religious fanatics? Why are they needed on Earth?

Irina: I advise your leadership of your country to introduce preventive measures to avoid the formation of totalitarian cults in the future - these measures should be taken, first of all, in the education system. To do this, it is necessary to cultivate in the younger generation the ability and ability, the ability and desire to think freely, to think for themselves, to feel responsible for their actions. Because the reason for the creation of totalitarian sects, as well as any similar societies, is that people are simply afraid to be responsible for themselves, and they shift this responsibility to the leader of a particular religious cult. To prevent this from happening, children need to be taught to think independently in all areas.

What to do with already formed sects and cults? First, do not ban them, because everyone should be given freedom of religion; and for those crimes that occur in these sects, it is necessary to punish the individuals who commit these crimes. Because the ban on this or that religious cult attracts even more into this sect those people who are already negatively disposed towards state power. And because of the well-known actions of government authorities, there are quite a lot of such people among your people. In order not to attract people to a banned religious organization, there is simply no need to ban it. It is necessary to declare freedom to religious organizations, and for individual crimes, as I have already said, by members of the organization, those who committed it must be punished. Secondly, in the ideology of your society, as in education, you need to do your best and by all means to spread the idea that it is desirable to think freely. That this is very bad for the spirit and leads to its degradation, when a person follows someone, for example, following fashion - this also weanes off independent thinking, that is, all these small manifestations of herd mentality that lead to the formation of totalitarian cults , must be eradicated from society by all means.

What to do with religious fanatics? What should his family members or society as a whole do?

Maxim: Members of his family.

Irina: If such a person who is fanatical in his religion appears in your family - the first thing you should do if you want to help him in this condition - you should under no circumstances: neither convince him, nor forbid him to attend meetings the religious group where he is used to - this will only arouse in him anger against you and distrust of your words. All you can do is lovingly explain to him that just as he has the right to choose one faith or another, you also have a similar right, that is, not to use any violence under any circumstances.

57:46 Maxim: What is the Creator’s plan on Earth? Does the spirit reach a certain stage of development after which its further growth is impossible?

Irina: No, the process of development of the spirit is as endless as the mind of the Creator himself is endless. We see only those steps that are visible from our position where we are. The Creator's plan for the Earth is the same as for the entire Universe - to give spirits (their children) the opportunity to grow and develop through the material world, carrying the light of their love through matter (to put it very simply) - in all the ways that the mind that we need comes up with This is what was given so that we can correctly demonstrate this light of love.

58:44 Maxim: Why do you think people tell fortunes at Christmas and Epiphany and is it possible to do this?

Irina: People tell fortunes at Christmas, Epiphany, and other days - in order to find out their future or just find out a hint of it. This is usually done out of fear of it; out of fear that something will go wrong. Of course, there are a variety of cases: simply out of interest, out of curiosity, and so on. But I'm talking about a more common reason...

Is it possible to do this? I cannot prohibit or condemn anything here. I can only say that if you do this, you must understand exactly what you are doing and why. And I want to say, remind you once again that the future has many options, and if fortune telling is used to cause fear in a person of a negative forecast and encourage him to take some action in order to avoid a negative future, and so on, then this use to evil. And if similar techniques are used there - to study oneself, for example (all this is subject to analysis, logical distribution on shelves), then this can bring a positive effect.

1:00:18 Maxim: How to learn to heal yourself?

Irina: Good question. Well, to learn how to heal yourself: first, you need to understand the cause of ailments, the cause of the disease. In your world it can be both spiritual and physical, because just as the physical body influences the spirit, so the spirit influences the physical body. To a certain extent, the spirit can overcome the physical causes of its energy, that is, it can even in unhealthy physical conditions: it can maintain a healthy physical body. But you should always remember that the body's resources are not limitless. And we also need to remember that even the spirit that lives in the light of love - its physical body can already become ill from various physical conditions, and it would be wrong to consider any illness, for example, a sign of insufficient spirituality. This is absolutely not true. There can be many causes for the same disease; There can be many reasons for different people.

How to learn to heal yourself? In order to be healthy, you need to maintain your physical body, your psyche and your spirit in a state of harmony with yourself and, most importantly, not experience negative experiences and emotions. And then you will be more resilient, more resilient to the difficult conditions in which your physical body may find itself.

1:02:18 Maxim: Does karma exist and does karma affect diseases?

Irina: Karma exists as a result of the actions that you acquired in past lives. But you need to remember that karma continues to form in this incarnation from the moment the conscious choices you make begin. Karma is the result of conscious choices in this and previous lives.

How does it affect diseases? Do you mean congenital or acquired already here?

Maxim: Let's start with innate ones.

Irina: As I already said, the qualities of the spirit that were developed in a past life affect the qualities of the individual, that is, his character. And all this can have a meaning and influence on the physical body. How does this happen? Let me give you the simplest example: if in a past life a spirit experienced a lot of negative emotions and is used to doing this, then it will go to a low level of the spiritual world. And then, having incarnated in a new life (in a new body), he will begin to infect it with his negative vibrations. At the event level, this will manifest itself in such a way that from childhood this child will be irritated by everything, even the ordinary words of his parents; he will not want to do anything useful or creative. Even if he was born into a good family, into a spiritually developed family, into a family of intellectually developed people, he will strive to leave. For example, at school he will strive to go into bad company - this will be because he will be annoyed by the correct words of his parents and mentors at school. All this happens due to low vibrations and all this, of course, has a destructive effect on the body, because when this child begins to create new karma for himself, he creates it for his body. By showing disrespect, hostility and hatred towards other people, this child, and subsequently an adult, causes an appropriate reaction from society to his behavior and actions, that is, the same rejection that he himself gives. This rejection, this reaction of society - it already causes negative emotions in him... And these negative emotions form in him diseases of the physical body, which depend on stress factors.

1:05:32 Maxim: Is a nuclear war possible on Earth and what will be the actions of the Interstellar Union in this case?

Irina: Yes, of course, it is possible... Although most representatives of the Interstellar Union hope that this will never happen on Earth; that reason will still prevail over the animal law of the struggle of your power structures. The actions of the Interstellar Union in this case - all measures will be taken to stop military operations as quickly as possible and eliminate radiation contamination (if possible). If this is impossible, the Interstellar Union will initiate open mass contact. Again, with the goal of disarming the aggressors, and, if necessary, transporting people to already formed bases under the soil of the Moon and Mars (if there is severe radiation contamination).

1:06:44 Maxim: Does the teaching of the modern Orthodox Church differ from the original ideas of Christ? If so, in what ways and does the text of the modern Bible correspond to what its authors wrote?

Irina: Are we talking about the Russian Orthodox Church?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: The fact is that, unfortunately, I have to admit that the translation of some terms (some words that the apostles wrote into Russian) - although it was done with high quality, it was done by those people who understood the true meaning behind these words what they wrote. But this true meaning is not always explained to ordinary parishioners of the Orthodox Church. And this, I believe, is a big omission of those pastors who now serve in the Orthodox Church. The teaching of Christ in the Orthodox Church basically corresponds to what Christ conveyed. But, naturally, we must remember that the very formation of the Christian church took place in conditions of pagan resistance. Many rites, sacraments, rituals - they were created after Christ, after the time of the apostles, taking into account the influence of pagan religions... With the goal that the energy previously directed by fans of pagan religions would be directed into a new egregor, already emerging Christian. For example, it was for this purpose that the celebration of the Nativity of Christ was introduced on January 7, and not on the day he was born. Because in order to replace a holiday (the Birth of one of the Roman gods, for example) - this was done deliberately.

And is the translation consistent with the Bible? As I already said, although the translation of the Bible is consistent, it is not understandable to everyone. And what surprises me most about the leadership of the modern Russian Orthodox Church is that the leadership does not particularly strive to explain words and expressions in the Bible or translations that are incomprehensible to parishioners. Personally, I would like more education of people in these matters, because some of the doctrines preached in the Russian Orthodox Church, they lead away from the Christian path rather than lead to Christ. But they arise, naturally, due to a misunderstanding of the translation that was carried out from the Greek original. Well, for example, this happened with the word “metanoia”, which means repentance. In fact, we need to explain more to people that this is not just a request for the forgiveness of sins, but this is actually a change of mind. And one more thing... I am very surprised by the attitude of the Orthodox Church towards esoteric and occult practices in the sense that the apostles themselves, when they wrote the New Testament, they wrote specific terms... When they criticized certain types of occult activities, they wrote specific terms and it surprises me why these terms are now applied to all followers of these teachings, although this was not included in the text. This, for example, happened with the word “pharmax”, which meant the person who harmed people with the help of magic and poisonous plants. And in the Russian Bible it is translated as “sorcerer”; and on the basis of this word they now criticize everyone involved in magical practices. Although all the people who were engaged in magical practices were called the word “magos” in the Bible, and they are there - not blamed for their activities. Why this is not talked about in the modern church - I am also surprised... And I can give several more such examples.

1:11:47 Maxim: Why are there many religions on Earth? And was it right to establish one religion on Earth?

Irina: It is impossible to establish one religion on Earth. For the reason that if you try to establish it: all the people to whom it does not resonate in the heart (her teaching that this is the Truth), they will adhere to it only hypocritically, under pain of punishment, and this will only lead them to spiritual degradation. I repeat once again: it is better not to adhere to any religion than to adhere for the sake of the opinions of others. Because sincerity, love and faith are the main conditions for success on any religious path. That is why there are many religions, that one religion is impossible for earthlings at the present stage of development.

1:13:00 Maxim: Does a person have free will or are all people controlled by God?

Irina: As I already said, freedom is one of the great gifts of love that our Father invested: in each of his sons, in each of his children, in each of his rays... The fact is that if God controlled everything himself - there would be no need for him to give himself commandments and not to fulfill them, and to punish himself. Well, don't punish - educate yourself... This is a meaningless activity and it is not characteristic of the higher mind of God.

1:14:12 Maxim: For whom was the Epistle to the Seven Churches written in the Revelation of John the Theologian?

Irina: The fact is that in the Christian egregor there were and still are seven guardians. Each religious egregor has its own guardian spirits. And, naturally, for the Christian egregor these are angels, there are seven of them. And the words of Christ through John were addressed to seven angels - to the seven guardians of the Christian egregor.

Do you want to know why Christ did not directly address these angels then, but did it through John the Theologian? He did this deliberately so that these words would be written down in his books and become the property of all believers, in order to warn them about the dangers of this or that deviation from the path to him and about what every believer who would sincerely love him and follow would be rewarded.

1:15:37 Maxim: How to properly pray to God our Father? Is it possible to pray to Christ and the saints? How do we know that they hear us?

Irina: A very good example of a prayer to our Heavenly Father was given by Christ himself when he was asked: “Teach us to pray”... This happened during the Sermon on the Mount in Israel, and this prayer is now known to you under the name “Our Father.” This prayer contains an appeal to the Heavenly Father, who recognizes Him as Father; there is also a desire that the will of the Father be fulfilled; there is an acknowledgment that He is Holy. The word “holy” comes from the word “light”, that He is the Light that disperses all darkness of ignorance and malice. There is an appeal to the Father - asking for food. Why is this request given? Not because the Father needs to be asked to give food (but He doesn’t want to give it), but because a person recognizes that all food, all matter belongs to Him. And there is a request for protection from temptations, for protection from evil spirits. Why is a request for protection necessary? Because, by pronouncing it, a person recognizes himself as a son, that is, he recognizes himself that he is a “creature” of the Father. He needs Him: in His love, in His protection (like a child needs the love and protection of his earthly father). This is also important, because by recognizing this, people struggle with their pride, for example. Some people have a hard time admitting that they need someone's protection. And we must remember that this prayer “Our Father” is not something that is not obligatory, it is, rather, a model of prayer.

How should prayer be structured? Naturally, there are no templates here, every person has the right to turn to the Father: mentally or out loud in the way he considers necessary and important at the moment, realizing that he hears... That the Heavenly Father is everywhere with his energy; that He hears us everywhere: our thoughts, our words, and we can speak even with the simplest words. It doesn't have to be a lot of words. We can tell Him simply as a loved one: our closest friend, father, mother - about our experiences; about what worries us, ask for help, thank Him, and so on. That is, the more we love the Heavenly Father, the easier it is for us to communicate with him.

Is it possible to pray to Christ and the saints? The very word “prayer” means turning to the spiritual world - not only to the Father. Since Christ and the saints live in the spiritual world (many of them live in the spiritual world), prayer to them is naturally also possible. If these are Christian saints we mean, then they are in the spiritual world and through the Christian egregor they receive... They hear us and understand, well, not in Russian, naturally, but understand at the level of thought forms (all our requests and wishes for them). And you can also pray to them and address them in your own words. But no longer as God the Father, the Creator of everything and our Father, but as our brothers and sisters who are simply in the spiritual world.

Maxim: How can we understand that they hear us?

Irina: Usually a believer who feels the spiritual world, feels God - he will not ask the question: “How to understand?” - He already knows that. This means that this is a question for a person who does not feel the spiritual world.

If you don’t feel the spiritual world, how can you understand that the saints hear you? Only experience will help here, your own personal experience of what you prayed; that you have the feeling of being heard - this comes with experience. It’s just that even if you don’t feel it yet, you pray; just do it sincerely, with love, and gradually these feelings will come, because the Christian egregor will give you the energy of faith (if it is weak for you).

1:21:20 Maxim: What is the Holy Fire, and where does it come from in Jerusalem on Easter night?

Irina: Well, this is exactly what I was talking about - this is exactly the manifestation of the energy of that very Christian egregor, which is given to strengthen the faith and attract non-believers. That is, naturally, the energy of the Christian egregor: it is directed in large quantities, it is directed to the temple, and it is directed in such a way that it can cause material fire, that is, combustion already in the material world. And the energy of any egregor: it is spiritual. But if there is a lot of it and it is directed by certain spiritual forces (in this case, Christian angels), it can cause the release of energy from atoms, that is... What is combustion? This is the release of two types of first-level energies from atoms of heat and light. And in this case, this spiritual energy itself, which came from the egregor: it does this. To put it in clear language, it gives rise to heat and light, that is, it releases them from material atoms, with its own influence.

1:23:23 Maxim: Who decides anyway: on what basis was a person holy or not?

Irina: In the Christian Church, in the Orthodox Church, in the Catholic Church, there are special people who deal with this issue. This is done in order to declare this or that person a saint, to make his life, his deeds an example for other believers and in order to direct the energy of the people praying to him into that very Christian egregor.

On what basis do they decide? These are specially trained people who know well the theory and practice of Christian life, that is, they know, there, the sacred scriptures, sacred traditions; they themselves are people who live a Christian life. That is, they pray, observe the sacraments, that is, they are active members of the Christian church. On what basis do they decide? Firstly, I want to emphasize that such a decision - to declare a saint - is made only after the death of a person. When a person has already died, people who believe that he is a saint, they turn to special people in the church, who interview these people, interview the people around them - how much of a Christian he was (what he did for the people, what he did for God); and they decide whether he is a saint or not - based on his actions, which they know. And their decision, it largely depends on their ideas about holiness in general. But we must remember: and that many who are truly holy, who have gone to God, who have gone to the highest spiritual levels - they are not included in the list of saints of the church, because it is impossible to include them all (no one knows about many). This is the answer to the first question, and the answer to the second...

Remains of saints. The fact is that (as I said earlier when I talked about the sacrament of the Eucharist) the Holy Spirit through the sacrament of the Eucharist, through the body and blood of Christ, transforms not only the spirit, that is, cleanses it from negative vibrations, but also transforms the physical body. He transforms in such a way that a person’s own spirit begins to manifest itself more in him, and, naturally, the divine spirit (since he worships it). And it is believed that after death, after parting with the spirit, the Holy Spirit remains in the physical body, that is, the energy of the Holy Spirit remains. And through this energy of the Holy Spirit, its various actions are manifested, that is, like through any Christian relic: through an icon, through a cross, and so on - these are also material conductors of divine energy, well, and, naturally, the energy of the Christian egregor, through which it passes.

1:26:55 Maxim: Is Christ himself satisfied with the modern Christian religion? And does he have any wishes for his followers on Earth?

Irina: I want to tell you that Christ, he feels each of you: everyone who joins his body and his blood in an energetic way. As for whether he is satisfied with the state of your religion, the state of the churches - here, probably, only he himself can say. Because, as much as I talked to him about this, he never expressed any direct dissatisfaction with earthly civilization in general in principle (not to mention a religious organization). He generally tends to be in a joyful and happy state of love and merging with the Light. I didn't see any dissatisfaction with anyone or anything, even when he was humiliated on Earth.

Mirakh Count is in direct mental connection with his Teacher, that is, with Christ. Now he mentally addressed him with your question, and Christ gave such an answer that he wants to remind all people on Earth and each of his followers, in particular, about his words that he called all people when he was on Earth: "... to be perfect: not like himself, not like a patriarch, not like any saint, but like the Heavenly Father himself; and the highest perfection is in love." And he wants to emphasize through Mirakh Kaunta that without cultivating this love in yourself - all your religious rituals: prayers, sacrifices, donations and even death itself for the sake of faith - it is not a value.

Maxim: Would you like to personally convey something to the earthlings?

Irina: Yes, I would like to. (Yes, of course, I allow it): "People of the Earth! I want to contact you with the Good News that not a single bright thought of yours, not a single warm feeling, not a single yearning of your soul for light is wasted in this dark and gloomy world, which it may seem to you when you live here . When you come to your home in the spiritual world, to your eternal home, you will appreciate the significance of all your good deeds, even which you do not notice now, at the present moment in time. I wish you to learn to appreciate every moment of your life here and now. Goodbye, dear friends, and once again I congratulate you on the occasion of the Nativity of Christ. See you again!"

Maxim: Look there, she definitely doesn't have a microphone in her ears?

Irina: I even have two whole microphones...

Maxim: They are all worried that she has microphones in her ears, and someone is telling her.

Irina: It was you who answered... There one writes: "Does she have headphones?", and Maxim wrote: "Yeah, an astral earphone."

Maxim: But when baptizing people, if he was already baptized, there was also no question.

Irina: What is this - debaptism? Now we need to first explain to him what it is... They misunderstand (he says) what baptism is in general: they think that it is a ritual, but it is not a ritual. Ritual is a human action, but in response to human action, energy is directed from the spiritual world, which already changes the person's aura. And this impact cannot be removed, because even the symbol of faith states that they are baptized only once.

Maxim: So it turns out that they are deceiving people, like debaptizing them?

Irina: They are unwittingly, they are not deliberately deceiving. They just don't understand what it is... They don't know that energy comes from the spiritual world.

Maxim: Oh, Mirakh Count, how you make me smell...

Irina: He came up to you.

Maxim: And so I have a feeling - I'm already... I even vibrated all over.

Irina: Are you also looking at the sheet, or what?

Maxim: Well, is everyone ready?

Irina: Yes, of course, we are ready.

Maxim: Who is present with us besides Mirah Count and Mid?

Irina: These are not humanoids - these are plasmoids.

Maxim: Is this hers?

Irina: Uh-huh.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, is it true that some contactees on Earth who are in contact with Archangel Gabriel are in contact with you?

Irina: Yes, there are such people.

Maxim: We decided to ask questions to...

Irina: ...To Archangel Gabriel.

Maxim: ...Archangel Gabriel. That's it, we will be immediately anathematized here. Mirah Count, how should I introduce you?

Irina: Mirakh Count and imagine. Archangel Gabriel is rather my official name. A function, like a profession. And my name is Mirakh Count. In order not to confuse the Orthodox people in general with the connection between Orthodoxy and esotericism, you can simply say - Mirakh Count, representative of the planet Burkhad. Well, Christ lives (you already said) - his disciple. Just a student. I mean, he took his mother on the ship.

Maxim: So Mirakh Count took Mama Maria?

Irina: Yes, Maria.

Maxim: To the ship?

Irina: Yes, he told her... Do you remember the Annunciation?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Gospel of Luke, third chapter... Why are you laughing? (laughs, stands)

Maxim: And he took Maria on the ship?

Irina: He said to her: “Hail Mary, the Lord is with you, blessed are you among women, blessed is the fruit of your womb, for you have given birth to the Savior of our souls.” Well, I didn’t give birth there, but what are you going to give birth to?

Irina: Do you see how tall he is? Just look how tall he is?

He says: “...now you just need to connect with the light and everything will be fine.” (I sat and connected - now it seems normal. Showed him again what he looks like).

Maxim: So, well, has the recording been going on for a long time?

Fine...

#37 Agni yoga from the original source. Roerich, Blavatsky, Spirit. How to work with thoughts and raise vibrations?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/agni-joga-ot-pervoistochnika
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XtbhWJljrCY

00:40 History of the emergence of the Teachings of Agni Yoga on Earth. The Roerichs and Blavatsky are Esler's contactees.

Dmitry: What are the prerequisites for the appearance of the teachings of Agni Yogi on Earth? Why were Nikolai Konstantinovich and Elena Ivanovna Roerich, Elena Petrovna Blavatsky, our compatriots, chosen for contact?

Irina: They were chosen because their energetic vibrations corresponded to our planet Esler. The people you named were contactees of the planet Esler, the world from which I came.

Personally, I had no contact with them, since I was born later. This is the history of our planet, I studied it.

The energy vibrations of Elena Petrovna von Hahn, her maiden name, Elena Shaposhnikova, Nicholas Roerich and their two children corresponded to energy vibrations suitable for contacting us.

They corresponded because in many of their past incarnations they lived on this planet, and that is why they were chosen as contactees.

The first to be chosen was Elena Petrovna von Hahn. Since childhood, she had the ability to sense the Spiritual world. She told her parents and her two governesses about this. She said that she sees the Spirits of Nature around, hears their voices, that they call her to play. She was then about five or six years old.

Elena grew up and got married, but her family life did not work out. She left her husband, leaving his last name, and he insisted on returning to her. Relatives advised Elena to temporarily leave for another country so that he could forget about his wife. She went to the UK.

There she made contact with Esler's representatives. These were physical contacts, and then astral ones.

I want to emphasize that in addition to Esler’s representatives, she was in contact with representatives of several plasmoid civilizations.

Then Elena went on a trip to Tibet. She communicated with contactees of other civilizations, as well as with representatives of our civilization, who served there as clergy of various religions.

She wrote down all the information transmitted to her on the world order, spiritual development, synthesis of religions, science, philosophy as she understood it, as she deciphered it.

Elena Petrovna was one of the most educated women of her time. She spoke several languages, knew how to play musical instruments, had a good knowledge of the Christian and Buddhist religions, philosophy and Zoroastrianism, and ancient Egyptian ideas.

In all this she was looking for a single root, which she reflected in her works.

As for Helena Roerich: at first she was chosen from the whole family, a little later her husband and sons joined her when they grew up.

For Helena Roerich this happened after her marriage to Nicholas. By that time, books by Helena Blavatsky had already been published, but not in Russian, and since Helena Ivanovna Roerich knew English, the couple became acquainted with this teaching.

She liked the books, and she decided to translate them into Russian, at the same time being carried away by this teaching - theosophy.

After this acquaintance, she became ready to contact Esler's representatives. At first she had contacts on the astral level through spiritualistic seances, which she and her husband had been involved in for several years. They held special meetings because at that time the passion for spiritualism and spiritism was very widespread. They sought truth through these forms of communication.

Since our Esler representatives can adapt to spiritual, astral, mental contacts, they saw that her energies were suitable, and through these forms they began to interact with her, and later physical contact occurred.

She told her husband about the contacts. He also approached us for contacts and began to meet, but less often.

Elena Ivanovna was the main contact; she was given information, which she wrote down.

Our representative advised her to write down contacts and then distribute them in printed form to the population, which she did.

The Roerich family also traveled a lot and, with the permission of our government, they visited one of our bases in the mountains of Tibet.

The bases of several civilizations were also located there. You could get inside through a cave. They were allowed physical access there and the ability to talk.

The purpose of the transmitted information was to present in a more understandable language for people of the late 19th and early 20th centuries the very ancient teaching about light, about fire, which has existed since the birth of your civilization in different forms and different forms. It was scattered among various religious teachings, hidden behind external ritual forms. The same fire. And it was this fire, it was this light that our contactees spoke about in order to give your people the idea that everything is one.

09:30 Origin of Shambhala.

Dmitry: The teachings of Agni Yogi are inextricably linked with such a sacred concept as Shambhala. Please tell us more about this.

Irina: The original origin of the word Shambhala is precisely from Esler's words. The fact is that on our planet there is a city - the capital of our entire planet, which in your language sounds something like "Shamba". In the Eslerian language there is a word "Loa", which means an alien who came from somewhere.

The base I mentioned was in the mountains of Tibet, then it became a little further north and was moved to the mountains of Southern Altai. At first it was Esler's base, and then passed on to many civilizations. Now there are representatives of many civilizations there.

During the contacts of Esler's representatives with the tribes that inhabited the territories of these mountains, with ancient contactees, even before Blavatsky and the Roerichs, even before your new era, people heard that these were aliens from Shamba, Shamba Loa, and they formed the word Shambhala. This was originally the name of the base of aliens who monitor the development of earthlings.

Later, this word acquired another meaning in addition to the base. This is a certain area of the Spiritual world, from where those mentors from the 22nd - 23rd level, the Angels, who monitor the development of your planet, observe.

Those who come to the bases and follow the development of the Earth in physical bodies from other planets are very often incarnations of these highest Spirits from the 22nd - 23rd level, who, leaving their physical bodies, return to their spiritual Shambhala and observe from there development, and are making plans for further promotion of the ideas of light on Earth.

12:35 Jacob's Ladder as a Biblical image. Planetary tasks of Maitreya's incarnations.

Dmitry: This raises the question about the concept-teaching of Jacob’s Ladder. This is the spiritual hierarchical ladder of great Teachers. I would like to learn more about the great personality of the Maitreya Teachers.

Irina: Maitreya. What kind of image is this - a rider on a horse? Big, the whole house? What kind of flag does he have?

Dmitry: Yes, this is exactly such an image.

Irina: Jacob's Ladder is an image taken from the Biblical descriptions of Jacob's dream. Jacob was the youngest son of Isaac, the biblical character, the ancestor of the Jewish family. When Jacob was sleeping in a field, he had contact with the Spiritual world with a very highly spiritual entity, and after that he saw in a dream a ladder that connects earth and heaven. This was an image of the fact that at each level there are Spirits who rise higher or fall lower depending on the experience acquired in the material world. Our representatives used images and concepts that were close to the consciousness of people raised within the framework of the Biblical religious egregor.

Maitreya is a spiritual personality who incarnates in various worlds and helps this world move to a higher vibrational level of spiritual development.

A high vibrational stage of development is when people, beings living in a particular world, cannot help but understand the path of light. Even a born low-vibration Spirit can be so influenced by the high-vibration energy of space that it begins to change. And if this does not happen, and he remains in his beliefs leading to low vibrations, he will not be able to live a long, fulfilling life in this space.

The task of the spiritual personality Maitreya is to create a high-vibration space on various planets and in different worlds. It is he who has not yet been embodied on Earth. Its incarnation will be possible only when the Earth acquires vibrations suitable for it. It will help you understand and accept the second coming to Earth of Jesus Christ from Burkhad.

Irina: Are you interested in where he is now?

Dmitry: Yes.

Irina: About 250-280 earthly years ago, one of his incarnations ended; he was in the material world, but not on your planet. He is currently in the Spiritual World and, as far as our spiritual guides-researchers know, has no plans for further incarnations in the near future.

The near future is a conditional concept, since disembodied spiritual entities live outside of time.

He said that in the near future he does not yet see any opportunities or desires for implementation. Time must pass in the material world.

18:35 Perception of the world as a single whole in the Teachings of Agni Yogi.

Dmitry: In the Teaching there is no categorical division into Spirit and matter, but there is one understanding of the single substance spirit-matter, just different differentiations.

Irina: What is the question?

Dmitry: In some religions there is a clear division into Spirit and matter. Here it is presented from a more scientific point of view.

Irina: In ancient religious texts there was a clear division between Spirit and matter. No understanding was given that this was a vibration of the same Spirit of light. Only by lowering do they transform into more densely material forms.

This was done because it was easier for ancient people to explain the spiritual-material state of the primordial Spirit through the difference between earth and sky. Just as the earth differs from the sky, so the material world differs from the Spiritual world. It was very easy to explain to the ancient man that just as you can touch the earth, feel it with your hands, so you can touch the material world.

And since the sky is limitless, unlike the earth, it can be seen, but cannot be felt by touch, it was chosen as a symbol of the Spiritual world.

Therefore, Moses, the contactee of Tumesout, when he contacted and wrote the book of Genesis, which was included in the Bible, was told in the first lines of Genesis, “In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.” The words heaven and earth meant the Spiritual world and the material world. It was very easy for Moses to explain that this is dense and that is not.

Thanks to this Biblical concept, which later passed into Christianity, Islam, and many other teachings, they understood that Spirit and matter are completely different substances. It was not yet said that, despite their differences, they are vibrations of the same thing.

This was taken into account and shown through contact information, including with those people with whom we talk.

21:46 Fiery Energy, the Fiery World is the highest vibration, the creative energy of God.

Dmitry: Fiery energy, fiery world. What is this?

Irina: Fiery energy and the fiery world is the highest vibration that creates everything else, from which everything else emanates. This is the energy of God the creator of our material world and our Father who created us as Spirits. Why exactly the Father? The image that is closest to reality is chosen - Father and son, because just as a son is born from a father, so we are born from an initial source, from the Spirit. God is Spirit.

The only difference is that the father gives birth to a son in time - that is, he gave birth to him and does not give birth to him again. And God lives outside of time. He continuously gives birth to us and continuously creates matter. This is a constant flow of energy, which, lowering in its vibrations, creates everything that we see. Everything that is manifested is only an infinite small part of the universe that exists in reality. Reality is everything that existed, exists and can exist.

This reality is a very multidimensional structure, a multidimensional space, it cannot be described in spoken language. But you can feel it with your Soul.

When we begin to feel these vibrations with our Soul, we have a feeling of fire inside us. There is a feeling that this is us ourselves, and we are sparks in the huge flame that is created around us. It was about this fiery world that our representatives spoke to their contactees.

24:42 Psychic energy is the result of combining the energy of fire and thought.

Dmitry: The Teaching says that initially fiery energy, combining with thought, becomes psychic energy. I would like to know about the different gradations of this energy. How to feel it, how to use it correctly?

Irina: By the word psychic energy, psycho-soul, contactees understood the energy of fire, which, having passed through the Atman, Buddhi, causal and mental body, lowering its vibrations, it manifests itself through various bodies.

Your science of psychology understands the psyche as the activity of the brain generated by the brain. In Esler it is understood the other way around. The fact that the Soul itself creates the body, including the functioning of the brain. Fiery energy coming from the Spiritual world, passing through a person, his aura and physical body, causes the manifestation of thoughts, feelings, and consciousness. Thus, the energy of the Creator's love is transformed by man into various forms in accordance with the experience of his understanding, relationship to this energy, to other people, to God and to himself.

How to manage it? It all depends on the level of awareness. The more a person realizes that he is part of everything, the more he sees his reflection in other people, the more he lives a spiritual life, developing his Spirit, the more he comes to an intuitive understanding of how to properly direct this energy.

27:20 Work with consciousness, purification and management of thoughts.

Dmitry: A very important point in the Teaching about working with your own thoughts. I would like to know practical advice: how to work with thoughts, how to clear thoughts?

Irina: Before clearing your thoughts, you need to carry out the first stage - analyze what exactly they are contaminated with. To do this, you need to have the skill of self-analysis - the ability to consider your actions from the outside. Thoughts, as the spiritual component of a person, are manifested through actions and deeds, i.e. through the material body.

When we begin to analyze our actions from the outside, this is the first stage in working with our consciousness. We ask ourselves why we did this or that way? What was behind this?

For example, Esler has this practice of working with your thoughts, with your consciousness. In the evening, before going to bed, a person remembers the actions of the past day, analyzes why he acted that way? How could it have been done differently?

If you do this regularly, a person will notice that his actions and emotional reactions to them and to the actions of others are repeated. If you don't analyze, don't write down, but just live, then it seems that everything is going in a new way. In fact, thoughts and actions are repeated due to habituation to certain emotional states, beliefs and attitudes.

When you find repetitive thoughts and actions, you need to consider the reason within yourself - why am I doing this? How does this make me feel? Does this cause an increase in vibration? Do you feel joy, love, acceptance, forgiveness? Or vice versa negative: anger, irritation, resentment, fear, etc.?

If this is a positive feeling, then in order to get closer to the fire, to dissolve in it, a person must cultivate these thoughts, that is, consciously strengthen them during the day, remember them, and perform these actions.

If these are negative aspects, then you need to understand that these actions interfere with the development of your own consciousness in the Light of God's love, which we call fire. Then you need to cleanse your mental body, your mental images, thought forms. How to clean? First, understand the reason why the negative emotion arose. This is already a job in which you need to keep an emotional diary, where you write down the emotion that arose and what caused it. You will see that they are repeated.

When the understanding has come that the same situations, the same people or the person himself in certain situations, cause the same negative emotional reactions, then the next stage of working with consciousness is finding out the reasons by asking yourself questions: why am I doing this? I react, is it possible differently, how can I change my emotional reaction so that it does not bring me discomfort and negativity? And then the beliefs that cause these reactions emerge.

We must clearly understand that the only real way to raise your vibrations is not by changing the people around you or the circumstances that cause negative emotions, but by changing your attitude towards them.

For example, if something irritates a loved one, then the only way to raise your vibrations and get rid of irritation is not to fight with your loved one to stop such behavior, but to change those attitudes in your unconscious that cause irritation.

You reason: “He behaves like this. He shouldn’t do that because it’s bad.” To raise your vibrations, you need to tell yourself and believe that this behavior of a person is the best at this stage of his development.

If such a person’s behavior causes irritation, and we are not ready to put up with it, then we need to make a choice. Either continue to communicate with this person, or stop communicating, without anger or condemnation of him. Freedom of choice should be provided on the basis that we, as individuals, want to be free in our actions, even if someone does not like them, because our behavior may not correspond to the attitudes of the people around us.

The next work with consciousness is changing attitudes so that the wrong behavior of others does not cause negative emotions.

The third stage, and it is necessary, is contact with your Higher Self. It is advisable to get in touch with your Higher Self every day in the morning, ask for advice on what to do this day for the benefit of yourself and those around you. The benefit is spiritual development. This stage of working with one’s consciousness leads a person to the transmutation that you are talking about.

Dmitry: Thanks for the advice.

35:40 Spiritual concept of the Cup of Accumulations. Its connection with the chakra system. Anahata is the spiritual heart.

Dmitry: How do deposits and crystals of psychic energy occur?

Irina: Are you talking about the cup of accumulation in the etheric field?

Dmitry: As a spiritual concept.

Irina: Ochasha, which is located in the fourth energy center?

Dmitry: Yes, about that.

Irina: There is also an etheric center, which is located in the solar plexus area of the physical body, there is also a bowl there, and it accumulates vital energy for the life of the body and for volitional actions in the material world.

In the fourth chakra there is a bowl where high vibrations accumulate, which then spread to the entire aura of a person and attract individuals similar in vibration to him, and attract situations that promote spiritual growth.

How does accumulation occur in anahata? Anahata is a spiritual heart that has the ability, implanted in us by God, to absorb into itself all the images and all the energies that the Spirit experiences, and all the images and thought forms that the mind of this Spirit thinks about. Heart means the core, the middle of the Spirit. It collects thoughts, images, energies, relationships in a wordless form, in the form of feelings of love, jealousy, faith. These feelings accumulate in anahata. How?

The more we dream of happiness for ourselves and for others, and think about ways to achieve it, the more positive feelings accumulate in the cup.

The more we think about destroying what we ourselves or others have created, the more the energy accumulated earlier, including in past incarnations, is wasted. Then, instead of the development of the Spirit, its degradation begins, low-vibration personalities and situations that contribute to degradation are attracted.

Degradation is a decrease in the vibrations of the Spirit, leading to the loss of the feeling of the Spiritual world and Light in oneself.

39:14 Purifiers of Space are people who carry the light of Divine Love. Spiritual and moral level.

Dmitry: The Teaching says that there are people living among earthlings who are energy purifiers of space. What is the cleansing mechanism, how does it happen? What is the spiritual and moral level of these people?

Irina: The word “space” does not mean physical space, but the astral atmosphere. This is the noosphere of the planet, where people's thoughts, feelings and emotions gather. The noosphere generates physical space, but is higher in vibration.

Space purifiers are people who create high-vibration thoughts and feelings that go into the noosphere of the planet and, gathering there, form egregors.

The law used here is that a high vibrational thought is more powerful and can suppress a low vibrational one, because more energy is spent on creating a high vibrational thought. It is a well-known fact that creating high vibrational states is more difficult than low vibrational states, even from an energetic point of view.

Therefore, the path of spiritual development of beings embodied in matter is more complex than the path of spiritual degradation. Here we need love, patience, their manifestation requires energy and a powerfully directed will.

The spiritual and moral level of the space purifier must meet the criteria of Christ’s Sermon on the Mount. Firstly, treating other people the way we want them to treat ourselves; secondly, the memory that in their dignity before God all people are equal, no matter where they are, whether at the lowest levels, including social existence, or at high levels.

We are all children of God, no matter where a person is socially.

The space purifier must understand that the Light of love that he gives to people should not be dosed depending on the social, material, and other levels of those people in whose company he is. Christ expressed this through the understandable image of a candle, that when it is lit, it is placed on the table in front of everyone, and it cannot hide. If one person sees a candle, then everyone else sees it.

If in the material world a person begins to hide his Light from at least one person, then he hides it from everyone.

Space purifiers, who spread Light around themselves and cleanse space of low vibrational energies, have a measure of responsibility. Higher teachers from the Spiritual world give them a greater flow of energies. The greater the flow of energy, the greater the responsibility for its use. If a person degrades and begins to think negatively, then this flow can be directed towards the destruction of himself and the people around him.

It is important to realize that the more a person is given, the greater the measure of responsibility.

44:23 Creation of egregors in the concept of Cementing space.

Dmitry: Please explain the concept of cementing space. It's about creating an astral cliché.

Irina: This is the creation of egregors, thought forms in various forms. Even children can do them, and they can do it more quickly and clearly than adults, due to the weak connection of children's consciousness to the material world. With their dreams, children can create different images, which become egregors in the Astral.

The more clearly a person sees a thought with his inner gaze, the more he puts in feelings, thoughts, emotions, the stronger and more perfect the thought form turns out.

If this is a positive thought form, bringing light, love, goodness, then it helps people living in this space to improve, then it causes a high vibrational state in them.

If these are low thought forms aimed at destruction - hatred, malice, jealousy, envy and others, then they produce pseudo-intelligent creatures created by man himself, called larvae. The only purpose of their existence is to fulfill the desire of the one who created them. They need vital energy to maintain their existence.

If the person who created the larva begins to experience a higher vibrational state and forgets about his initial feeling, then the larva instinctively, quite unconsciously, begins to provoke the person to release a new portion of the low-vibration energy he needs, so as not to die, not to dissolve in the Astral.

The ability to create such living, intelligent thought forms is characteristic of all intelligent Spirits and is an ability imparted by God, since we are His parts. Just as he is the Creator, so we are the Creators. Just as He gave birth to us, so, in His likeness, we can create not immortal Spirits, but such energy beings. When Spirits incarnate in plasmoid worlds, they in the same way create animal Souls for incarnation in various animals.

Energies are mentally collected, and the animal Soul is embodied either in a group of smaller bodies of insects and plants, or a single animal Soul is embodied in a more highly organized body.

48:05 Poison Imperil. Lyarvy. The influence of Imperil Poison on the human energy structure, methods of protection and purification.

Dmitry: Poison imperil. How does it accumulate in our physical body, in our subtle bodies? And its destructive effect.

Irina: Imperil poison is not a dense material substance, not a substance in the usual sense. This is the same energy of light and fire, but incorrectly processed through the human chakra system. There is no other power except God's holy Spirit. Depending on the vibrations of a person who perceives Divine energy through his chakra system, he may incorrectly release it into the surrounding space. In Biblical language, “bury talent in the ground.”

He was given energy, and he processed it not into creation, but into destruction.

How does this happen?

A person, creating negative beliefs in himself, in his mental body, about how, in his opinion, everything should happen in the world, creating the concept that it cannot be otherwise, creates the preconditions for negative feelings and emotions in the future. The human physical body emits vital force, which appears as a result of the combination of consumed food and inhaled oxygen and belongs to the subtle structure, the etheric body. Negative thoughts and feelings arising in the Spirit, passing through the chakra system to the astral, then to the etheric level, charging with vitality, create larvae, already charged with negative energy.

How do they affect the subtle bodies?

They make it difficult to access high-frequency light energies and make it difficult to achieve higher vibrational states. It's like covering a bright light bulb with a dark cloth. The light in the Soul shines, but is not so visible without cleansing of negative energy.

Effect on the physical body. In the physical body, poison slows down the metabolism in body cells, lowers immunity, causes heart disease, etc. It also causes the release of those hormones that the body does not need at the moment. At the body level, it has a destructive effect on health.

At the level of the astral body, lowering its vibrations, poison causes a loss of the feeling of the presence of God nearby, the presence in fire, in the flame, the presence of inspiration in the Soul, and causes reactive depression.

A reactive-depressive state causes a desire to escape from them into pleasure through the body. This can lead to various addictions to substances and conditions. A person is looking for a replacement for the departed light in the substances of the material world and in relationships, for example, through the body, in the same sexual relationships.

There are many different ways to find temporary pleasure, but it is always temporary.

And the loss of this pleasure, the loss of this source causes even greater negative emotions in the future, and only the accumulation of this poison, from which, if a person is interested in spiritual awakening, in enlightenment, he will then have to cleanse himself.

How to cleanse yourself? Mechanical cleansing of all subtle bodies from these states is, of course, possible; there are various energy techniques, including cosmoenergetics channels, the frequencies of which are designed specifically for this, for cleansing from imperil.

You need to understand that if work with consciousness is not done later, it will be temporary. The person will again accumulate this energy.

It's possible without energy practices, just working with your consciousness. A person realizes the reason, but for some time he will be forced to fight his larvae. They will provoke his own negative emotions in him, but if he works correctly with the larva, when he directs his thoughts to the larva, some kind of image will be visible.

And when directing a ray of light from his spiritual heart to this image, a person gradually dissolves this larva and not only cleanses himself of it, but absorbs its vital force back into himself.

And he begins to correctly use this flow of love that God sends to him through agni; he no longer buries his talent in the ground, but uses this talent to acquire other talents. Becomes richer in the spiritual sense, because the very word rich in your Russian language comes from the word god, leading to god.

It was precisely the possibility of passing this path, the possibility of faster evolutionary development of the Spirit, that was the purpose of transmitting the teaching of living ethics.

55:55 Demonic nature of the first six levels. The activity of dark forces in the astral plane, methods of protection from influences.

Dmitry: In the teachings of Agni Yogi there is information that dark demonic forces are currently very active in the astral plane. As a result, they have quick access, finding gaps in the protective network of a person's aura, penetrating and influencing a person's thoughts, even to the point of obsession.

Irina: Now we will talk about the Spiritual world and its first six levels, which make up the demonic worlds.

A Demon is a Spirit that has accumulated a lot of low-vibration energy that can no longer feel like a son of God, cannot feel like a part of nature, as happens with Spirits who incarnate into plasmoids. He feels that either there is no God, that either God is rejecting him, but in fact, the person himself is rejecting him and, performing a process of psychological projection, begins to believe that God is punishing him, that he is angry with him, that he is evil, etc. . Although this is not true.

When the Spirit enters the demonic worlds, low vibrations cause him to feel dissatisfied with the situation where he is. This state is unnatural for the Spirit. It is natural for the Spirit to be in the Light of love, and since there is a demon in it, it does not feel it, since the Spirit has closed for itself the possibility of sensing these vibrations.

Therefore, he cannot experience joy, happiness, inspiration. He experiences only negative moments of his emotional life, and when he is in the Spiritual world, this state is very painful for him, he wants to get rid of it.

In demonic worlds there are also special departments where these demons are received by Consulting Spirits from level 22.

The demon himself will not be able to rise to the 22nd level, he does not have the right vibrations. A higher Spirit can descend onto a lower one, temporarily lowering its vibrations.

Spirits from level 22 advise the demon on where and how to incarnate.

Usually demons want to change their position, they want to develop, they come to consultants with a request to select and put them in line for incarnation.

Consultants study the history of this Spirit, look at what exactly led it to such degradation, and, based on these circumstances, offer it several options for incarnation.

He has the right to agree or refuse the offer. If he does not agree with any of the options, he will not be given incarnation and will remain in the Spiritual World. If he chooses the option, he then waits his turn to be incarnated.

Many demons feel so free from fulfilling the laws of God that they do not consider it necessary to either wait in line for incarnation or generally agree to the terms of the consultants. In the material world, they look for people or other humanoids that are suitable in vibration, who are already embodied in the body, and, influencing them with various thoughts, feelings, fear, anger, or, conversely, offering them various pleasures, they connect to their field. If a person approaches this demon with vibrations, they can occupy his body for a long time.

This is how demons violate the law of God, because they occupy someone else’s body, someone else’s life, in order to live in a material body themselves, instead of waiting for their turn.

For a Spirit whose body has been occupied in this way, this becomes a big disaster, because it is possible to get rid of it on your own, but it will be very difficult to do, since the demon will resist attempts to increase its vibrations. The demon will resist in such a way that the thoughts that he sends to the Spirit will be perceived by the owner of the body as his own.

The demon will hide its presence and say that one must live in such thoughts and vibrations. This is where the difficulty lies.

Next to such a Spirit you need to have a very experienced and spiritual leader who will explain that these thoughts are not his, that they are sent by an external being. You need to have authority over this possessed person so that he believes the spiritual leader, and not the demon, because the demon will say: “No, this is all not true.” There will be a big fight.

How to protect yourself from this condition so that it does not occur?

The protective networks of the aura can consist only of Light. At the mental level, these are your own positive feelings, thoughts, dreams of bright things not only for yourself, but for all people. On the astral level, these are kind feelings towards people, high vibrational states - forgiveness, humility, patience. Appeal to God in prayers to which a person is accustomed. Sincerely, without hypocrisy, development within the framework of the religion in which a person grew up, which is closest to the heart.

These can be prayers, mantras. The main thing is to understand that behind any energy there is a personality. The spirit of man begins to communicate with the Spirit of God. On Esler this is done through connecting with the inner light, with the Higher Self. If this is a constant practice, then any negative thought that arises from the outside will be visible in this Light. A person will be able to consider it and reject it. Then the demon will not be able to join and will go to another person more suitable in vibration.

The only reliable protection is your own good thoughts, feelings and deeds for yourself and others through the body in the material world.

01:05 :04 Experience of revealing the Fiery transmutation of centers, chakras. Kundalini energy.

Dmitry: Please tell us about the experience of revealing the fiery transmutation of centers, chakras, carried out with Elena Ivanovna Roerich. The meaning of these experiments. Why were they recoded in the Akashic Records?

Irina: Getting acquainted with various Eastern and Western practices for opening their energy centers to raise vibrations, Helena Roerich and her husband became acquainted with the teaching of opening the first chakra, the source of kundalini. This is the etheric energy that is the source of life in the body and can be directed to both positive and negative purposes. Also how to spend energy on achieving perfection or moving away from it.

When a person begins to activate this energy through mental exercises or breathing practices, or a combination of both, it begins to pass through his energy centers and activate their work, that is, to enable the energy of Light, the energy of fire to manifest itself through one or another chakra.

With the manipura open, there will be more opportunity to externally manifest the energy of one's will, the energy of memory, intellect, etc. This is the opening of the center.

The practice of Kundalini is called fiery energy for a reason. It is directly related to Agni, one of the vibrations of God's energy. A person, working with kundalini, feels a stream of fire passing through him through the etheric body. For the flow to flow correctly there should be no fear, anger, or low vibrational states. Otherwise, a person will not be able to activate his centers, the physical body will experience an unpleasant state, he may become disappointed and leave this path, fall into atheism and even greater degradation.

01:08 :33 The attitude of the Orthodox religion to the teachings of Agni Yogi. Lucifer.

Irina: Contactees told Helena Blavatsky that, despite her personal enlightenment, she should not have called her magazine "Lucifer". It was unnecessary. For her, it was simply a "carrying light." But she knew perfectly well how believers treated this person. This made her wary.

01:09 :10 Temptation of Jesus by the devil in the desert. Are Satan, Lucifer, the Devil the same or different concepts?

Maxim: Irina, I want to ask MidgasCaus. When Jesus went into the wilderness, he was tempted by the devil to give up everything. What does it mean? Who tempted him?

Irina: In spiritual form, Jesus was tempted by Lucifer himself. It was a spiritual contact.

Maxim: Are Satan and the devil different things?

Irina: Satan and the devil are general concepts. Satan is translated adversary, devil from Greek is a slanderer. Lucifer can also be called that, he is Satan, the devil, and the demon. You can also call any demon.

Maxim: Blavatsky wanted to fly off the hype by calling her magazine “Lucifer” so that everyone would definitely buy it.

Irina: She caused a wary attitude among the religious part of society. She later changed the name of the magazine, but it was too late. At first the reaction was more or less normal.

At that time spiritualistic seances were in fashion; even Dostoevsky, being Orthodox, attended them. There was also criticism. Mead says that Helena Blavatsky's Secret Doctrine included many Gnostic elements.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Dmitry: Was there any distortion in the transmission of information from the Mahatmas?

Irina: She wrote not only from the Mahatmas, but also her own points of view.

Dmitry: So you added your own?

Irina: Naturally. Any contactee has the right to write not only what is being conveyed, but can also express his opinion. We have freedom of speech. She was a good astral traveler, contacting plasmoids on Venus, for example, she perceived their concept of life, of the world, which was more suitable to the Gnostic understanding of the Gospel.

The Gnostic understanding of the Gospel was precisely the understanding of it by plasmoid civilizations, their contactees through the denial of matter, through the denial of its value, extreme asceticism, etc., with which the apostles waged war. When building the Christian egregor, it was not for nothing that they did not include Gnostic things in the canons, so that there would be no excesses towards the denial of matter.

01:12 :32 The teachings of Origen. Reincarnation. Ideology of plasmoid civilizations. Denial of matter.

Dmitry: I would like to talk about the purification of religion. The teachings of Origen as the primary source of Christ. For some reason, links are made to this author. Many Gospels testify of Christ.

Maxim: I don't even know who it is.

Irina: This is a writer of the early 3rd century.

Dmitry: These are very pressing questions. In Agni Yoga there is an opinion that the moment of reincarnation was incorrectly removed. It's not clear why to confiscate? Unless, as in Hinduism, there is some spiritual laziness. But if there is a law, then why pull out of it?

Irina: Christianity was heterogeneous. When this egregor was being formed, there was a struggle between different groups to understand this or that moment. Those who read the Gospel from the point of view of plasmoid civilizations and their contactees, as they conventionally said, pagan religions. Pagan religions almost always experienced great plasmoid influence.

Dmitry: This is more related to the Spirits of Nature.

Irina: They were both Earth Spirits and cosmic Spirits. That's why they removed reincarnation. Spiritual laziness was also the reason for this.

Another important reason is that the understanding of Christ was more Gnostic in the 2nd century, when there was a struggle with the teachings, the doctrine of reincarnation could be supported by the Gnostic Gospel in the sense that the Spirit is embodied in matter, that matter is something dark, and needs to be gotten rid of from these incarnations.

Dmitry: Where is the categorical division into Spirit and matter.

Irina: Plasmoids often have a rigid understanding of our dense material incarnations. They believe that even without a body one can be closer to God; their high vibrations are enough. They deny matter as value

Maxim: That is, some plasmoids may be negatively disposed towards us, embodied in dense material bodies?

Irina: Not even to us, but to our bodies. They believe that we are caught in the traps of dense matter.

The concept that our bodies interfere with the awareness of God can be seen in Seklitova and Strelnikova, contactees with plasmoids. Orthodox Christians call these ideas the influence of Gnostic pagan teachings. About some Theosophists and Agni Yogis they say that the ancient Gnostics, who were anathematized in the 2nd century, have been revived.

The Eslerites did not have the goal of denying matter; on the contrary, they always emphasize its value for gaining experience.

This influence can be seen in Blavatsky's writings. Describing Christ, she and her theosophical students, Rudolf Steiner and others, presented his image through Gnostic teachings, which were rejected by the church for the reason that the denial of matter as the creation of God is wrong.

Irina: Have you noticed that Vedic cultures, shamans who support the teachings of plasmoids, are wary of Christianity?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Like control. And to their bodies as something that has captured them, from which they need to be freed.

Maxim: In a cage.

#38 Interview with hereditary ufologist Erekle Shonia.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/intervyu-s-potomstvennym-ufologom-ehrekle-shoniya https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t37D1gqrYzY

00:34 Opening greeting by Erekle Shonia: Changing the world and changing human consciousness.

Erekle: I am Erekle Shonia from Georgia, ufologist and specialist in anomalous phenomena. I have been doing this since childhood, because I grew up in the family of physicist and ufologist Thales Shonia.

Over the 45 years of serving this cause, our organization called the International Association of UFOlogists “Man and the Environment” has collected a lot of material, both video and audio, and letters from different parts of our country, which describe close encounters with UFOs and unidentified phenomena , occurring in nature, with extraterrestrial life forms. The time has come to declassify these materials.

Big changes are coming, which we feel every day. The world is changing around us: environmental disasters, fires, earthquakes, wars, etc. occur.

In such a period, when everything changes, people open contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations, with UFOs, and paranormal activity begins. During this period, people must be ready to have information, be able to analyze and receive information from scientists. This will allow them to be ready for a new life, for changes in mentality, in human energy and in the environment.

That peak period, which was from 1987 to the end of the 1990s in terms of anomalous phenomena, allowed us to accumulate a lot of experience in communicating with extraterrestrial civilizations. This also includes such phenomena as poltergeists, manifestations of the angelic world, etc. Now this experience is on the eve of big changes, when people's aura, energy, and sensitivity increase. All this will give us the opportunity to tell people how to act in such cases: how to make contact, how to properly synchronize yourself with the environment on an energetic and mental level, and how to direct contact that began seemingly out of nowhere in the right direction. And also how to experience internal changes, how to help your neighbor, how to transform, become kinder, wiser, make the right choice; which civilizations to contact and which not, and how to protect our human interests. Space is large, and there are many forces and civilizations there that have their own interests. Where does the truth go? It is that people have their own interests, their own path of development. We must live, and nothing should lead us astray. A person must grow morally and ethically, and for this he does not need to run away from other worlds, but, on the contrary, take all the good things from them.

If we share information with each other, think not only about ourselves, but also about our neighbors, about our countries, about friends, about relatives and about people living on the globe, then it will be wonderful.

Our species, as humans, is made from the same material, and all people on Earth are brothers.

Therefore, the information that comes to contactees or scientists belongs not only to us, but to the whole world.

06:28 Foundation and development of ufology as a science in Georgia.

Konstantin: Good afternoon, I present to you a hereditary ufologist from Georgia, Erekle Shonia, who has been studying this issue in Georgia for 20 years. What can you tell us about ufology in Georgia?

Erekle: Ufology was officially founded in Georgia in 1990. But in fact, since the early 1970s, research has been carried out here in the field of anomalous phenomena, and material was collected in a small department of the Institute of Cybernetics, where physicists worked.

This department sent materials to Moscow regarding the anomalous phenomena occurring in Transcaucasia. Some of the materials were related to man-made cases of anomalous phenomena, rocket launches, satellites, etc.

There was also a part of knowledge related to atmospheric phenomena and another part where the first visual contacts of people with extraterrestrial technology were revealed.

In the late 1970s - early 1980s, there was a case of an aircraft meeting with aliens. And since this happened with the participation of several people, it went out to the masses and was even discussed at the plenum of the CPSU Central Committee, and then was written in the Trud newspaper. The article was called "Exactly 4.40", and it described a massive contact between an aircraft and a UFO, in which several people were exposed to radiation.

After this incident, glasnost came in the field of anomalous phenomena, and a large amount of material began to flow to physicists-researchers of anomalous phenomena who were located in different places of the Soviet Union.

By the end of the 1980s, material had been collected not only with a description of visual contacts, but also with a description of other forms of life, not similar to those on Earth, as well as close contacts of people with aliens and something unidentified, such as poltergeists, spontaneous combustion and other phenomena.

In the late 1980s, Georgia decided to make this new science a separate one, and in 1990, my father Thales Shonia, a physicist by training and researcher of anomalous phenomena, founded a laboratory where he began to accept people. He founded an organization of ufologists called "Man and the Environment."

Every day people came to him, from 10 to 15 people daily, and brought their information related to changes in the life of the country, with the country’s potential, and later they began to inform him that we were threatened with bloodshed and war. This information was then precautionary.

12:10 About alien civilizations, contacts with which were recorded in Georgia.

Konstantin: Did your father, a physicist, contact aliens in his astral body?

Erekle: He was a physicist, and his laboratory was in the bomb shelter of the Georgian Academy of Sciences. And during the war, in 1992, there was an army unit there, and shooting ranges were set up there. Then a lot of materials were destroyed and burned.

The father was able to move something to another place, but part of it was lost. However, in 1995 we were able to organize an exhibition.

Konstantin: Do those alien races that were discussed have any names?

Erekle: By 1996, about 21 civilizations with their own language, writing, transcription, etc. were recorded in Georgia. Basically, we did not pay attention to their names, since there was a terminological barrier. For example, they named the planet from which they came from in their own words and language, and this often did not coincide with our ideas about space.

14:10 The first ufological conferences in the Soviet Union.

Konstantin: As I understand it, the first ufological conference was held in 1990, and after it scientists were able to exchange information with other ufologists from leading countries.

Erekle: Conferences on the study of anomalous phenomena took place throughout the Soviet Union, mostly in Tomsk. The first open international ufological conference was held in the city of Rustavi (Georgia) in 1990, it lasted 7 days, and materials, places of power, where the aliens landed, etc. were shown. Until now, in this place a person feels unusual, the pulse quickens and other phenomena.

Works covering 35 years of study were presented at the conference.

After the war in 1992, everything was lost, there was no funding, we had to close everything and move all the work home.

15:50 Erekle Shonia about contactee Irina Podzorova.

Konstantin: You and I watched a video with Irina Podzorova from Cassiopeia. She is a famous contactee. What can you say about people who are in contact with extraterrestrial civilizations?

Erekle: I listened to her recording, and it is very interesting, since the information coincides with those contactees who live in Georgia and are in contact with different worlds. Irina feels everything well and conveys it.

People have an image of aliens that they are only gray with big black eyes, but this is not so. Their forms, contents, functions are different, just like the planets where they live. There are also different commonwealths and interests.

Irina has a wide range of studies: both the aliens themselves and their civilizations, and this all coincides with Georgian research for 45 years.

17:30 First physical contacts in Georgia.

Konstantin: What can you say about the most famous case of physical contact in Georgia, when a saucer landed and a person was invited? Do such cases occur today?

Erekle: In the late 1980s - early 1990s, when there were warnings from aliens about impending changes, the activity was so high that not only astral bodies became active, but also real aliens. At that time, there were certain areas where they took 2-3 people, took them away and performed operations on them. These were interesting cases of contacts not only with UFOs, but also with different alien races - the Intergalactic Union, with technical units that transmitted information.

In addition, there have been cases of strong impact of UFOs on the environment. We could predict the appearance of a UFO, the passage of a UFO. The most difficult thing in this matter is predicting the UFO when it will land.

During the Rustavi conference, during various rituals and prayers, there were cases when Russians, Japanese and aliens prayed together for peace, transmitted information about space, about their planets. A commonwealth has emerged in work and the transfer of information between us and them.

Now the world is asking the question: when will there be official contact? And we went through this in the early 1990s.

21:05 Mass appearance of “reiki” creatures in the villages of Georgia.

Konstantin: In Georgia, every year some creatures appear in different villages, they are called “reiki”. I know that you have been looking into this issue and what can you say?

Erekle : When we have big changes, a lot of stress affects people, and this attracts the attention of extraterrestrial civilizations and those who are beyond our sight, in another dimension.

It happens that different types of creatures begin to enter houses and populated areas. They have their own schedule of appearance, mission and purpose. They begin to contact people.

People were very scared, and the first thing they did was write a statement to the police. The statements read: “I saw an unearthly creature, I ask you to help me, we are afraid.”

There were hundreds of such statements. The greatest activity occurred in 2016, before that it was in 2009. Now the activity is much less, but still continues.

Konstantin: Even pets reacted.

Erekle: This was not only associated with people, which we could attribute to mass psychosis, but there was an impact on animals as well. Physical impact: some mental trauma: the animals were afraid, trembled, some had heart bursts, they looked for shelter, buried themselves, did not eat or drink. After a week, the stress passed and they became adequate.

The same types of creatures were described in different regions.

Two were humanoid, and the rest were four-legged creatures. The presence of people in those houses and villages did not prevent these creatures from going on schedule and fulfilling their mission. The schedule was strictly adhered to.

For example, from 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock they were in the same area; from 12 o'clock to 14 o'clock - in a completely different way after 20-30 km, and from 14 o'clock to 16 o'clock - after another 60 km.

And they had well-trodden roads: they chose high-voltage transmission lines near populated areas or ravines, or empty houses and courtyards in populated areas, where their vehicles with a diameter of 13 meters landed. The creatures explored residential buildings within a radius of 600 m from the landing site.

27:02 Contactor as an object of study.

Konstantin: We have information that you had astral contact with these creatures, why did they do this?

Erekle: When ufology was born, we paid more attention to places of landing, flight, etc. But then it became more interesting who they were in contact with. It turned out that they do not come into contact with everyone, but with those with whom it is easier to do this, who have potential for this, etc. Therefore, today our main goal of research is the person with whom the contact occurs. These people are not just contactees, but they have certain potential, skills, knowledge, etc. We work with contactees who have direct contact with different entities: physical, astral, etc.

#39 Skype conference of contactee Irina Podzorova with ufologist Maxim Bronevsky (part 3)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/skajp-s-ufologom-maksimom-bronevskim-chast-3
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tGG3WNZUr6A

0:01:03 What needs to be done so that low-vibration people with developed animal instincts do not get into the power structures of the Earth, but high-vibration people with developed spiritual qualities do?

Irina: Such people get into the power structures of your planet due to the fact that the system itself, built before them by many generations of people, and not only on the physical plane, but also on the spiritual one, favors the passage of precisely these people into power.

In order to create an obstacle to their passage into power and vice versa - to create conditions for highly spiritual, high-vibration personalities to pass into power structures, it is necessary to change the system itself.

Usually a change in system begins with a change in ideology. The leading ideology of your society is precisely the indulgence of animal instincts - this is the materialism of the perception of reality, this is the assertion that you live once on earth, and what will happen after is not scientifically proven at all, which means it does not exist.

Many people on your planet believe what is written in books, believe what they say in your media, and the main paradigm of your ideology is precisely the materialism of perception. It is the materialism of perception that emphasizes the satisfaction of the instinctual principles that you are talking about.

That is why a system has been created for low vibrational spirits who are guided by instincts to come into power. It is easier for them to do this, firstly, due to the developed leadership instinct, which is not enough for a high-vibration spirit, and secondly, it is easier for them to do this, because the system itself, your society itself understands them, their desire. He supports them, that is, everyone understands why a politician wants to become a politician. Everyone understands when a politician begins to use public funds and funds accumulated by the state for the needs of everyone, begins to use them for his own needs. Everyone understands this, and everyone recognizes this as the norm in your society.

If not all, then the vast majority. Even those who condemn this behavior - they completely understand these motives, because those people who condemn the criminals in power - if they themselves are placed in these conditions, it is not a fact that they will be guided by the highest ideals.

The fact is that the very mental attitudes of these people are guided precisely by the fact that the body is perishable, mortal, the existence of the spirit has not been proven, and therefore you need to take maximum pleasure from this life.

The system itself needs to be changed.

A normal change of ideology can begin either with the introduction of educational programs in schools, because upbringing and all basic moral norms are laid down in childhood.

Explain at school, introduce a special subject: either spiritual education, that is, which will be called “knowledge of the spiritual world,” or something else, and explain to everyone that they are eternal immortal spirits, as it is in Esler.

But in your case, because of the materialism of perception and the priority of perceiving the material world over the spiritual, this is not yet possible.

Therefore, the second path remains - this is a gradual evolutionary change in society in the direction you desire. Through gradual transformation through the created society, for example, esoteric, religious, which are also created by contactees.

That is, when people get into them, they change their pictures of the world, change their beliefs and, based on them, begin to raise their children. Outside of school, these are the beliefs.

And gradually, little by little, a new system is formed, the astral atmosphere of the earth is cleared of negative vibrations.

The more such people appear, the more it will be purified.

Thanks to this, higher vibrational spirits will be attracted to incarnation, and, in the end, everything will end with a new group coming to power in a peaceful, non-revolutionary way, which will support precisely spiritual values, and not for show to people, but sincerely, from the bottom of their hearts.

0:06:40 Our earthly churches are determined, first of all, to develop their own business, and not spirituality, and see people only as consumers of their services. How to deal with this?

Irina: A similar problem arises because even among religious people, in most cases, materialistic perception prevails.

That is, religion for many is, of course, a good distraction from worldly problems, but at the same time they continue to be materialists in the sense that they cannot completely entrust their lives to God. Our Father, the Light, God, as you understand him, Absolutely. It has many different names, all of which refer to one being.

They cannot completely surrender their future to God, including their financial future, and at the expense of other people, and also, under the guise of religion, they begin to build some benefits for themselves, that is, beyond what is necessary. For life, for development and the like.

This is a general problem again in the materialism of your consciousness, because it is the materialism of consciousness that gives such a state of mind when it is often in negative emotions.

And when he is in negative emotions, he fences himself off from that flow of light and love that we are talking about, which gives endless happiness.

In this case, a person begins to seek happiness in temporary material pleasures, which naturally require money.

Because those producers of these pleasures who sell them to you naturally also strive for even greater pleasures. And for this they also need money, including money made for your pleasure.

All this is tied into such a rigid egregorial system. And if it is not the materialism of perception that prevails, but the priority of spirit over matter, then fewer negative emotions will arise, they will be purified in a person, and then he will be able to feel the flow of love and will be infinitely happy from it, and in this case he will not only not abuse his religious mission for financial purposes, but, on the contrary, he will sincerely carry the light of love and not take from his students, adepts or parishioners, but, on the contrary, give them his material fortune, because for such a person giving is much more pleasant than take, in the sense that it brings happiness.

0:09:55 What socio-economic system would you recommend to us instead of the existing capitalist one?

Irina: The fact is that with your prevailing materialistic perception, any socio-economic system will be filled with the same content as now.

planets of the interstellar union, for example, on the same Daraal, then this will not lead to anything, because in those power structures of state who will control the production and sale of products will be the same people with a materialistic perception, and having access to the monetary, production, technological and other resources of your state, in any case they will abuse this, just like your capitalists.

That is, if the manager changes, the control system itself will not change.

Capitalism, socialism and other forms are just forms of social structure for which the society of a particular civilization is prepared. In a given state, the system of government and economy that the given society supports is established. In Burkhad it is democracy, in your language. From an economic point of view, we have both public administration, public organizations, and private ones involved in the production and sale of goods and necessities. We may have equity participation.

People who control the economic process undergo training and selection, including psychological selection, so that they understand that they are working with energy flows of money or financial flows. This is also a form of energy, and you also need to be able to work with it. You need to be able to keep yourself morally pure so as not to start using what is intended for the benefit of everyone for the benefit of yourself, that is, to understand the task of the common cause.

This is also taught, and you should constantly talk to those who study in financial institutions, in education, where they train financiers, economists and other people on whom the management of material consumption depends, and this is a very important aspect of civilization.

Both domestic and foreign policy depend on the development of economic status. I, Roam Tiyan, believe that under your ideology, any socio-economic system will fail in the ratio of the number of rich and poor.

MidgasKaus from the planet Esler: we have a communal system of government on our planet. Each city is responsible for the community, which resolves economic, social, and political issues.

The Esler Community Union resolves planetary issues, including relations with the Interstellar Union. As for our economic system, I would choose an analogue among your systems - socialism, but with permission not only for private property, but also for small-scale production. Cooperative socialism with social guarantees for all Esler citizens - medicine, education, etc.

The issue of ownership on many planets of the Interstellar Union is resolved this way: at birth, a citizen is the owner of this or that space that society gives him. Usually this is some kind of living space.

Many are raised in their own families at first, but when the time comes to create their own space, the child knows that it was created for him and he will live there.

Wherever free housing is allocated to citizens, it cannot be sold or donated; such forms of transactions are prohibited. This is so that a person, under some kind of emotion, does not go to the extent of losing what he has. He can sell what he has earned himself, but he must use or refuse what society has given him.

On the planets of the Interstellar Union, education, healthcare and the army are security issues, that is, the creation of an internal climate for citizens to live in and the issue of the security of the existence of power, that is, those specific individuals who lead.

The greater the number of people dissatisfied with the policies of the authorities, the more negative emotions and feelings go into the general egregor of the state and negatively affect the rulers themselves.

They take away their health, success, luck - they block them energetically.

Every ruler here understands this, and training in these energy processes is included in the program of educational institutions.

I have been in contact with the inhabitants of your world since 1983, and it was a great discovery for me that in your schools they do not teach the influence of egregors and, in general, energy processes in the most elementary form. I didn't understand how society could exist then?

0:19:42 It turns out that the socio-economic system is not so important until spiritual development is put at the forefront?

Irina: Even if you put a positive person at the head of power, then not everything actually depends on him.

The main thing is that the entire system is also configured so that the positive changes that he will introduce into the laws can pass, and not only pass on paper, but also be embodied in your practical life.

If the laws that the high-vibration spirit will adopt are incomprehensible to your large business, then these large entrepreneurs and other people who support them will in every possible way hinder the introduction of this law, explicitly and implicitly. By sending them a thought form of rejection, they will create dissonance in the general egregor of the planet.

Therefore, the interstellar union believes that there are those laws for which society is ready. And that is why he considers it useless and even harmful to introduce any premature changes, even positive ones, if society itself has not yet arrived at them through evolutionary means.

By the word "society" I mean more than 70% of the adult population over 16 years old.

0:21:35 Maybe the problem is that the authorities and society do not have positive feedback?

Irina: A similar system was created on Esler. The fact is that the community governs, but this community also has its own legislators, for example, the laws that their ancestors came up with are unchanged.

If legislators believe that it is necessary to introduce any change into the law of society, even the most insignificant, but which will affect the practical life of citizens, then first a bill is written by these legislators, signed by those who support it.

Then the bill is discussed in the community itself, that is, in the administrative system of the city where this deputy or group wants to introduce it.

If any criticism is introduced there, they all come to a common opinion - what changes to make. So that everyone agrees - this is at least 70% of the governing community.

All this is brought to the level of discussion of the general community - that is, Esler. And again there is a refinement of those points, again criticism is introduced or, conversely, approval, and it changes accordingly.

And when it has already been approved at the level of the general community of Esler, then through our means of communication, through our communications, this bill is communicated in a simple and understandable form to every adult resident of Esler, no matter where he works.

Whether he is in space, whether he is on another planet, this bill reaches him. We even have an automatic system for this. Distribution of so-called messages from legislators.

And there, what is approved is proposed for consideration by Esler’s general council.

In a simple, understandable form for adult citizens.

By this word I understand citizens who have graduated from a general education institution. This is the approximate age of your high school student, that is, grades 8-10. He has not yet undergone specialization training, but has already completed some initial training and has awareness in our society.

And this text is sent to each such Eslerite, and we have such an automatic system that everyone can click on the “agree” or “disagree” button. And give your comments.

When at least 70-75% of all Esler citizens are surveyed, they will look at the results. If the same percentage approves, at least 70% of those who responded, then the project is moving forward.

If there is any criticism, rejection or even rejection, it is immediately pushed aside altogether and is not offered for consideration for several more years, at least in its original form.

I think that for your planet this would be the best option, that is, perhaps, to arrange the approval of various laws, announcing on television like voting, referendums or opinion polls. And bring the opinion of the people to your legislators and the highest echelons of power. I think a lot will be unexpected for them.

0:26:25 Can a new group of people who have new socio-economic solutions enter politics or should we wait until society is ripe for this?

Irina: Your deputies and legislators are also part of society, and they come to government structures as if they were working. When they propose to pass a law, sign it or reject it, they are guided by the moral standards of the society where they are located, their level of spirituality, etc.

New legislators who come to work will make some new proposals, or long-time legislators will have new ideas. You can make suggestions. Any social structure on Earth has the right to make some proposals, but the approval and consideration of these proposals will be decided by the authorities. At the egregorial level, the level of consciousness of the entire society is taken into account.

Any legislator included in the state egregor understands that this or that law will not pass, and treats it accordingly.

0:28:52 Are socio-economic systems very different among the different civilizations of our galaxy?

Irina: Yes, quite strongly, especially when we are talking about different types of humanoid civilizations.

The fact is that among the conditions for entering into an interstellar union, three political conditions are required: the absence of active wars on the planet and in the colonies, complete freedom of conscience, meaning concern for religious and other organizations, including atheistic ones, this is complete freedom of conscience and freedom of speech, that is, there are no restrictions on expressing one's opinion, but without calls for destructive behavior that destabilizes the state, political, economic and moral state of this society. The next condition is the absence of the death penalty for any crimes.

0:30:28 Are there totalitarian political regimes on planets outside the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Yes, there are authoritarian regimes that are not included because of their systemic controls that do not meet the conditions of the interstellar union, although they do according to other conditions.

0:30:47 There is a situation on Earth where, due to further technological development, humanity may self-destruct. In order to avoid this, active spiritual development is necessary. But since we are deeply mired in material things, few people develop spiritually either. How to solve this dilemma?

Irina: Raom Tiyan answers from the planet Burkhad.

Yes, indeed, the technical equipment of any civilization is both an incentive for its further development and always responsibility for the use of certain technical resources.

Naturally, the higher the energy and technical capabilities of a civilization, the higher should be the awareness of the rulers, the government of this race.

Now we are not talking about every individual citizen of the planet, because any spirit can incarnate on any planet, but at least government military structures must correspond in their awareness to the technology and energy that they use on their planet.

That is why in the interstellar union there is a direct law, which was adopted and signed by all planets included in it, so that we do not give technical details to worlds that are not part of the interstellar union about the creation of any type of weapons, technical equipment and power plant that can dramatically change the world that is not part of the interstellar union, including yours.

That is, the interstellar union, its leadership, and the responsibility of your power structures that can be entrusted with such funds do not see.

These means mean both a system of movement, gravitational jumps between stars within the galaxy, and energy and technical equipment, including biological equipment, for example, for creating biorobots and some other things, including in human energy.

All this can be used for greater degradation of your society at a given time.

That is why, after joining the interstellar union, all ways are open for equipping the newly entered civilization with all resources: scientific, technical, cultural, spiritual, and others.

The Interstellar Union provides all its data and all its bases for study by scientists of this planet that has entered.

0:34:01 Has it ever happened that a civilization, with its technical development, created new powerful weapons and ultimately destroyed both its own planet and its own biological species?

Irina: Yes, such cases have happened. They destroyed the planet and their own biological species either because of war, or simply because of excessive consumption of material resources, causing disasters.

For example, Daraal. Many thousands of years ago, their ancestors lived on another planet, and they, without fighting at that point in time, came to the conclusion that excessive consumption of the resources of their planet, which had already exceeded its capacity to support these citizens, simply collapsed, and they were not saved there many residents, that is, a lot died.

And the rest moved to another planet and created there a society that we now know as Daraal. With other laws.

0:35:07 There is information that representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations contacted the UN and the leadership of various countries in attempts to bring humanity to reason and set it on a harmonious path of development. Did it really happen?

Irina: There really were attempts in the late 50s after your civilization launched the first cosmic body into Earth orbit. Your civilization was already on the verge of destruction, and in fact, your two leading powers at that time, the nuclear powers, were already launching nuclear missiles at each other, and only the forces of the interstellar alliance stopped, intercepted these missiles and did not allow people to die.

Then representatives of the planet Tashig came into contact with the US government, representatives of the planet Esler came into contact with representatives of the USSR.

By representatives I mean the leading military and political leadership; several people were from both sides.

This was physical contact, and they explained to these people that such a policy towards their planet is fraught with its destruction, and that the interstellar union in any case will not allow, due to the ambitions of these political leaders, to destroy the entire people, and if such a policy continues, measures will be taken to elimination of such power.

After this contact, an agreement was signed that the names of the leaders who came into contact would not be disclosed to representatives of other countries, whoever came into contact with earthlings.

But this agreement did not say that there was silence about the very fact of contact with one and the other side. It was simply signed that specific identities would not be disclosed.

And after this contact, the situation began to develop in such a way that the leadership of the USSR and the USA slowed down their aggressive polemics and came to common ideas, and the threat of destruction of the earth passed at this point in time.

0:38:27 Has it ever happened that you had to intercept already launched nuclear missiles in the air?

Irina: They have already been launched.

0:38:39 Which contactees are more on Earth - with plasmoid (energy) civilizations or civilizations with biological bodies?

Irina: The fact is that there are tens of times more plasmoid civilizations in the galaxy than humanoid ones, and they actively seek contacts for various reasons. Therefore, there are many more plasmoid contactees than humanoid ones.

0:39:02 Some contactees are given a personal code to establish a telepathic connection at any time. Does this really happen?

Irina: For example, contactee Irina, after installing two Esler chips, was given a phrase in the Esler language, which turns on a telepathic channel for exchanging information at any time. We have a coordination group on Esler that hears the call through a chip tuned by this phrase and gives a telepathic response. It will not be the same specialist, but the one who will be present at the moment.

You can ask any questions, but you will get the personal opinion of the person answering. At the end he must say his name and title, that is, his profession.

0:40:07 To communicate with each other, do extraterrestrial civilizations use telepathic communication with the transmission of holographic symbols?

Irina: This also happens, but there is also a group of languages common to the interstellar union. These are the languages of Burhad and Tumesout, and those laws that are necessary for execution in the interstellar union are issued in one of these languages.

Negotiations at meetings of the interstellar union are conducted in the language of one of the creators of the union, and if someone does not know this language, then there are automatic translators, for example, into Burkhadian. From Burkhadian they can be translated using a converter into other languages, including Plasmoid.

0:42:07 There is information that there are not many protein civilizations out of the total number of civilizations in space. Is it so?

Irina: If among the 100 billion stars of our galaxy there are 727 humanoid civilizations, many of them have colonies, and tens of times larger than them are subtle life forms, which we call plasmoids, then by the ratio of all life forms to the number of all stars, we can say that there are not many protein civilizations.

Among the protein forms of life in our galaxy, the most common are anthropomorphs, a little less often reptilians, and even less often insect-like, bird-like and intelligent underwater life forms. Underwater inhabitants cannot go into space from their environment, but intelligent spirits incarnate there.

0:44:03 How common are silicon life forms in space?

Irina: Less common in our galaxy, but there are galaxies where silicon predominates. There are also hydrogen sulfide life forms. Our galaxy is built on the carbon form of life, it is familiar to earthlings. There are mixed ones - carbon-silicon, etc.

0:44:39 Are there more anthropomorphic life forms in our galaxy than in other galaxies?

Irina: Yes, we have a higher percentage of anthropomorphs.

0:44:47 Are there galaxies where non-anthropomorphic life forms predominate?

Irina: Yes, there are those too. From studies of other galaxies, we have seen that there are forms completely incomprehensible to our scientists.

0:45:33 Do these unusual life forms move between stars?

Irina: Yes, these could be creatures that resemble your insects; they can exist for a long time without oxygen, withstand low and high temperatures due to their chitinous cover. These can travel in space without protective suits.

There are civilizations whose planet collapsed for some reason, and they do not want to create colonies, and live on ships, on huge bases simply in space.

#40 Conference with the Russian-speaking community of the alien Mythi - (part 1)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/konferenciya-s-mythi-chast-1
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OidVWTONKUo

00:01 Ashtar Sheran, MidgasKaus, Raom Tiyan.

Maxim: Greetings, Pasha. Pavel is our group administrator on VKontakte and not only on VKontakte, but also on YouTube, the alien Mitya. He is a contactee under the alias Captain Bill. Do I understand correctly, Pasha?

Pavel: Not exactly: the administrator of the group is me, and the administrator of the MYTHI channel is Yusup Suleymanov.

Maxim: Ashtar is with us now.

Irina: My name is Ashtar. I am a representative of a planet that no longer exists. It orbited the star Sirius B 12 thousand years ago and died as a result of the war. Now I live on Burkhad and Tumesout, but I spend most of my time on the space station, which is now, at the moment, located at a distance of 37 astronomical units from your solar system, specifically from the Sun. Our space station has a diameter of about 60 km and is shaped like a dark sphere. On our ship there are 2.5 thousand representatives of my world, who have been living on ships and on other planets since the time our planet died.

Irina: Raom Tiyan is a representative of the planet Burkhad. It is the capital of the Interstellar Union, which consists of 116 civilizations. Our civilization took a genetic part in the creation of your species. By profession, I am a specialist in the study of contact situations with young races and specifically with your planet. And yet, I am a specialist in energy interactions in the material world. In your terminology, this is a biophysicist.

Irina: My name is MidgasCaus. I am a representative of the planet Esler, which is also part of the Interstellar Union. By profession I am a specialist in contacts with earthlings, a biologist and a psychologist. Irina is one of my contactees.

Maxim: You have a number of questions ready, right?

Pavel: Yes.

Maxim: For our representatives of the Interstellar Union (IC).

03:05 Crop circles.

Pavel: Tell me, do you draw crop circles?

Irina: Mid answers. Yes, representatives of the Esler civilization are doing this. Not all circles, but some of them.

Pavel: Can you describe some of your creations that you have made recently?

Irina: Raom Tiyan says. The fact is that I, as a representative of Burkhad, know that those circles that appeared recently, they appeared with the purpose of showing your civilization, firstly, that aliens exist. Certain patterns were made there to understand the possible origins of these circles and the meanings of these patterns you would suggest. This, as already mentioned, is a special test. It was not the task of those who drew these circles to reveal the specific specialists of the planet or the meanings of the circles until there was special permission to do so. As for the second question, such agreements are evidence of contact, albeit indirect, which is prohibited.

Pavel: Okay.

04:48 Eating aliens.

Pavel: Do you eat animal proteins and fats?

Irina: Representatives of Burkhad and representatives of Esler do not use, but representatives of the Ashtar race do, like the Tumesoutians.

05:04 Conducting contacts with earthlings, rules of the Interstellar Union.

Pavel: What other rules exist for working with earthlings? What information can you give us and what can you not?

Irina: Raom Tiyan, you are a specialist in contact situations. We cannot provide information that can serve as direct or indirect confirmation of the reality of physical contact. Those. Your authorities are aware that contactees exist, but they have no evidence that a specific representative is in physical contact. It is prohibited to provide information that can serve as proof of the reality of the contact precisely for the safety of the contactee, especially with the development of modern digital technologies, when information can quickly become the property of some of your specialists.

Pavel: Okay, I understand.

06:15 Collecting information about earthlings of interest to the Interstellar Union. The gluon bond principle.

Pavel: Do aliens watch our films and do they communicate with us on the Internet?

Irina: Raom Tiyan. Some of your television channels and radio waves may be decrypted by our means, our automatic stations, but all this is translated into a format that is used on our planets in the Galactic Union, and becomes the property of the Interstellar Union. Those moments of your culture, your art, for example, your science, which seem interesting to the contact specialists of the Interstellar Union, are recorded in a common database not in radio waves, but in our format.

Irina: I don't know what quark-gluon bonds are.

Pavel: Molecular memory.

Irina: We have a device that converts the energy of radio waves in which your information is encrypted into the format of quark-gluon bonds. These quark-gluon bonds also contain information, which in turn can be transmitted by releasing a small dose of gravitational energy, almost instantly, within our Galaxy. This form of communication is the fastest. We have special gluon receivers that receive these waves and convert them into the format of familiar sound, video or text, depending on what is encrypted. That is why your radio astronomers cannot detect radio signals, in any order, from our Interstellar Union. Because radio waves are a very slow communication, very inconvenient between a ship, for example, and another planet. For example, here, near the Earth, there are now, literally in near-Earth space, in general, your space, 7 ships of my civilization Burkhad. Of these, 3 are at bases, and 4 are nearby, but in principle, to contact the planet Burkhad, it takes 670 Earth years to simply communicate with the planet in one direction on radio waves. It's not that it's very inconvenient, it's just unrealistic to fly long distances with such a connection. That's why we don't use radio waves.

Pavel: Okay. Thank you.

09:36 The Big Bang Theory. Formation of the Universe. Plasmoids.

Pavel: Did you know about the big bang theory?

Irina: Raom Tiyan. The Big Bang is a way of describing it. In general, it does not contradict what was, but it does not take into account that the existence of the material Universe is cyclical. According to our science, the Universe goes through various cycles, and in the material world there are traces by which it can be recorded that this is not the first cycle of its existence. And what you call the big bang is the beginning of the emergence of the subtle world. I will now try to express myself in the terminology of your science. This is the beginning of the existence of the Universe in the current cycle: the material Universe in the form of electromagnetic radiation. According to our terminology, it was then that plasmoid, thin-material worlds appeared. They appeared for a reason. I remind you that our science is not separated from knowledge about the Spiritual world. And all this appeared once again for a reason, but so that in these same plasmoid worlds intelligent Spirits could incarnate in the form of subtle beings, which in modern Russian are called plasmoids. This is a term to describe a subtle being, and I ask you not to confuse it with plasma. There are many different types, types and varieties of them. After the appearance of the plasmoid world, all plasmoid worlds, several more billions of years passed, and only then did the centers of galaxies appear, i.e. what we call the dense material Universe began to form. When we say “dense material Universe,” we mean by this word any substance that is included, which is recorded in your modern periodic table. And even when we talk about the most rarefied gas (for example, hydrogen), when we talk about atoms, about the most rarefied gases (hydrogen, helium, etc.), then we mean precisely the dense material Universe. Despite the fact that in terms of density it is, of course, inferior to solids. When we talk about atoms and molecules, we mean precisely the dense material Universe. So stars, Galaxies, intergalactic gas (meaning clouds of intergalactic gas) - this is all a dense material Universe. She appeared later. And gradually.

Pavel: Thank you.

13:17 Black holes, their origin. Model of the atom in the understanding of MS.

Pavel: What are black holes, and what are their functions?

Irina: Raom Tiyan (you will tell). What you call black holes, for our science, is an accumulation of pure gravitational energy, which was obtained by the release of all other types of energy from the atom. An atom for our science contains 3 types of energies. In a simplified way, it looks like the energies in an atom are divided into different types. Light, heat, electromagnetism and radio waves are the first level. What you call radiation and thermonuclear energy is the second level. And the third level, the deepest, is what you call micro and macro gravity. While a star exists, energies of the 1st level and 2nd level are released in its atoms, in the atoms of its substance. Energy of the 3rd level is also contained in it, that is, micro and macro gravity always exist, since the gravitational field supports the rotation of the planets. But gradually the energies of the 1st and 2nd levels, due to the reactions that occur in the star, are depleted, and only gravitational energies remain there. Since the Star no longer emits light, it is a black hole for you, but the remnants of that energy, which we call radio waves, come out of it, and they are recorded. But the fact is that gravitational energy remains alone, and its atoms begin to compress themselves. Apart from gravitational energy, there remains almost nothing of what was there initially. And although radio waves remain there, due to the fact that gravitational energy holds them, they cannot leave these atoms and go beyond the shell of the former Star, in which only gravitational energies remain.

16:49 Black holes of the Universe. Portals. Anti-universe.

Irina: What is their function? For some subtle-material entities (for plasmoids and for those who are without a material carrier at all, i.e. those in astral bodies), it is possible to fall into a black hole, into this gravitational clot.

In the center of a black hole there is such a gravitational charge that, depending on its initial mass and on its location in space among other gravitational fields, the one who finds himself in a subtle material or in an astral body in the center of the black hole, due to the fact that accumulated there gravitational energies, mini-portals open for him. What happens is approximately the same as in gravitational engines. Those. he is thrown from this clot of energy into another black hole, which may already be located either in our Galaxy, or in another Galaxy, or in that part of the Universe that we call the Antiverse. There is a Universe that is opposite to ours. It consists of antimatter.

Maxim: Wait, Raom Tiyan, I just started drawing different pictures in my head. Those. Do I understand correctly that a black hole is a former star that has lost all types of energy and only gravitational energy remains. And in the astral body, or if it is not only astral, but also subtle-material, then, falling into this black hole, he moves, as if through a portal, to other black holes. I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Is it possible to choose movement? Not just any where, but, let's say, the same fine-material body get into the same Antiverse? Let's say, for some purpose, dive into this hole in order to get somewhere?

Irina: Yes. To do this, you need to find a black hole that will have a certain charge of the gravitational field and be located in a certain place in space, because this also depends on the gravitational fields located nearby.

Maxim : Are there many black holes in our Galaxy?

Irina: If we take the black holes known to our civilization, then there are 25 black holes in our Galaxy.

Maxim: There are 25 black holes in our Galaxy, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: If we calculate the field of this gravitational black hole and know where it will throw it, then it can be called a portal of communication between other Universes?

Irina: Well, I wouldn't recommend trying to jump in a dense ship. This will get you nowhere. It's just that the gravitational field that will be in the black hole will knock out all the energy from the atoms of this ship, and there will just be fragments of atoms there.

20:35 Traveling through black holes. Shielding of spaceships.

Maxim: If we want to dive through this black hole in a densely material ship, then the black hole will simply suck all the energy out of the ship and leave there the energy of which it itself consists. Right?

Irina: Well, you can, of course, shield with the same type of energy, this type of electromagnetic and gravitational fields, which have the frequency of the same subtle world. But shielding and surrounding yourself with a protective shell takes a lot of energy. It is much easier to make a gravity engine.

Maxim: That is. In principle, it is possible to move in a ship, but in order to move, a huge amount of energy is spent, which is absolutely ineffective and non-functional. It's easier to move the same distance using a gravitational engine, do I understand correctly?

Irina: We know of these types of civilizations in other Galaxies that use this. Their science followed the path that they did not discover the action of a gravitational engine, but discovered precisely shielding and travel through holes.

Maxim: That is. other civilizations not in our Galaxy travel through black holes like through a tunnel, right?

Irina: Such ships are already appearing in our Galaxy.

22:10 Energy structure of atoms.

Pavel: What are atoms made of? Is our science correct that they consist of a nucleus and electrons?

Irina: Are the ideas of science about atoms correct? Do they consist of a nucleus and electrons? Raom Tiyan, you please.

Pavel: Positively charged or negatively charged.

Irina: The fact is that what you call atomic particles is called energy in our science. And what you call positively charged, negatively charged, we call these charges energies - these are all portions of energy. If we speak according to our science, then an atom is the smallest particle of a dense material substance that retains its properties, and it consists of energy. We are talking about the fact that the very energies that exist in thin-material plasmoid worlds lower their vibrations and their vibrations. They become particles, i.e. they become matter by breaking into small particles. And they are made of the same energy. This is similar to how water vapor, for example, condenses and becomes water, and water lowers its vibrations and becomes snow.

24:01 Spiritual and materialistic explanation of the law of conservation of energy.

Paul: Can energy be created or destroyed? Those. In our science there is a law of conservation of energy. Is it being followed?

Irina: Raom Tiyan. The law of conservation of energy states that no energy can be created or destroyed, since the same amount of energy always remains, which can be transformed and move from one form to another. The fact is that this law is valid for a materialistic explanation of the world. Because in our science, as I already said, atoms consist of energy, but energies also do not exist on their own. The source of the energies from which atoms are made is located in the Spiritual world. Those. what you call the law of conservation of energy (from the standpoint of our science) does not work in the sense that the existence of atoms is maintained by the flow of energy from the Spiritual world, which gradually lowers its vibrations and becomes matter. Those. I understand, of course, that this is a little unclear to you. But the fact is that your science itself, the very system of teaching in educational institutions, is materialistic. Those. everything is explained there by the fact that substance has always existed, matter has always existed, etc., but only it passed from one form to another. Our system of education, the system of our science are not based on materialism, but, on the contrary, on the fact that matter is a reflection and generation of the Spirit. The word “Spirit” for you is a philosophical and religious category. And for us this category is quite scientific. The word “Spiritual World” means a special part of the universe in which there is no matter, no matter, no field. To put it very simply, pure thought exists.

Paul: Is it like in the Bible: “In the beginning was the word”?

Maxim: The Bible is a book that reflects the correct mental images in relation to the fact that there is a world from which all energies come. And now we can talk for a long time, but in principle, you are right. Yes, first there was a word.

Pavel: I understood correctly.

Irina: At first there was actually a thought.

Maxim: At first there was a thought. This does not mean a word, but a thought.

Pavel: Let's not go deeper then.

Maxim: Now we can hold a whole conference on this matter, so let's better talk about the issues.

27:44 The ability to visit your past incarnations. Incarnation of the Soul into the past.

Pavel: Can a person visit his incarnations physically? For example, go back in time?

Irina: Physically, no. Astrally maybe.

Pavel: Can the Soul incarnate into the past?

Irina: In rare cases, it can. Because for the Spiritual world, for the world of disembodied Spirits, there is no concept of time in the understanding of the material world as a process of change.

Maxim: In the concept not of the material world, but of the Spiritual world.

Irina: Yes. There is no time there in our understanding of the material world, because there is no change there. This is why spirits incarnate, to change. Since there is no time there, since there is eternity there, then there are no changes there. And since there is no time there, then from the Spiritual world there is an opportunity to manifest in the material past, present and future. Someone, for example, left the material shell in this world forever, and in the next life, in the next incarnation, he was born in a time past for us. But then it turns out that he was born in the past for us, but for him our present will be the future.

Pavel: As a continuation of the previous question.

Maxim: Yes, ask.

29:27 The possibility of new incarnations through cloning.

Pavel: Is it possible to create a clone of a person, wait a certain number of years (20-30-50) for this person to die, and then his Soul incarnate into his clone in the past time?

Irina: No, he must incarnate according to the law of spiritual evolution. He must be born naturally to his parents. But, in general, this is only possible on those planets where this method of birth exists. There are different planets.

Pavel: This is not ours.

Irina: If such a universal method of reproduction has already been created on the planet, which is used to create different organisms, and only in this way is it possible to be embodied in a given civilization, then yes, this is possible. This is approximately what happens in Daraal.

Maxim: This is how Daraals reproduce.

Irina: Approximately. There they are, however, not exactly clones.

30:51 Dimensions of the Universe.

Pavel: Are there any other dimensions besides our physical world and what we call “in the next world”? Miti only recognizes the existence of the 3rd and 4th dimensions, i.e. this physical world and what we call “the next world.”

Irina: What does he call measurement? What does Mitya call measurement?

Maxim : How can he answer what Mitya calls measurement?

Irina: Do you remember, Pasha, what he called dimensions?

Pavel: He does not recognize either the 5th or the 6th.

Irina: Okay . If you look at measurements as a way of measuring space, then yes, we are in the 3rd dimension. We have 3 dimensions. And your 4th dimension is time. In our country, time is not recognized as a measurement at all. This is a convenient way to count intervals, for example, between one revolution of the planet, or equal periods for convenience. For example, the Earth made one revolution and came to the same point in a certain period of time. He is always equal. Your ancestors counted it and divided it into periods. But time is not a measurement for us. For us, the only dimensions are, as I already said, length, width, height - these 3 dimensions. But does the 4th dimension exist? What is measurement? This is a world that is not accessible to perception from this dimension. The 4th dimension, in your understanding, can be called, for example, plasmoid worlds, i.e. subtle. They are, as it were, nearby, for example, there may be radio waves next to you now, and you cannot perceive them. They are like in a parallel world for you. We can simply say that plasmoid worlds are in the 4th dimension. The 5th dimension already contains the astral and spiritual worlds. The Astral World is part of the Spiritual World, as I already said. The spiritual world can be described in different terminology. I can say that the 5th dimension is the entire Spiritual world. I can begin to describe it: divide it into the astral and the world of disembodied Spirits. This means, accordingly, I will have more dimensions.

33:43 Knowledge of the Spiritual world.

Maxim: I have a question that worries me. Is there a world that created the Spiritual World? Is there something higher than the Spiritual world? So that we understand this, is there such a thing, does it exist?

Irina: The fact is that, as you also know very well, what is outside the Universe is unknowable from the inside. We need to go beyond it.

Maxim: In order for me to understand the essence of this question, do I need to get into the Spiritual world and ask this question there? So what happens?

Irina: Not just to the Spiritual world, but to its highest level.

Maxim: I understand. In order to answer this question, I need to get into the Spiritual world at its highest level. So?

Irina: We call it the world of disembodied Spirits - a world where there are 24 levels. But above the 24th level, the next region of the Spiritual World begins. Above the 24th level, the world of disembodied Spirits ends. What begins next I can only describe in your religious terms, because your science does not study the Spiritual worlds. They study only religions, and not all of them.

35:12 The emergence of biological life. Creation of organic bodies.

Pavel: How did biological life arise in the Universe? Who created the organism, plants, insects?

Irina: Souls or bodies?

Pavel: Bodies. Who breathed life into them?

Irina: Mead, as a biologist, will now explain. Organic bodies on different planets of the Universe, consisting of a variety of organic substances (both intelligent and non-intelligent beings of various types), were created mainly through natural evolution. But by the word natural evolution I do not ask to understand a disorderly system of transformations of chemical reactions. Please understand by the words “natural evolution” not the path of self-organization of matter, but the path of organization of matter with the help of directing energy. The same energy that comes from the Spiritual world and is intelligent, it creates these bodies. And there are those planets where the process of their formation is still underway. Something between your flying monitor lizards. Yes, there is such a planet. Meade shows me the bat. Monitor lizard - bat

Pavel: Like from a cartoon.

Irina: There are forms that are similar to your dinosaurs, your pterodactyls, etc. Yes, there are such planets.

Pavel: Okay.

37:25 Consciousness of plants.

Pavel: Can you confirm whether plants have consciousness? Is it possible to communicate with them in any way? Do they communicate with each other? How can such a possibility be explained?

Irina : The fact is that plants themselves, just like microbes, have a group Soul of a microorganism. Plants are also living, therefore group Souls are embodied in them, since they are also created by plasmoids. They incarnate group Souls, but of the plant type. They do not have consciousness as such, but through them, through their life, through themselves, through animals and through plants, plasmoids can manifest themselves, which have consciousness, what we understand as an intelligent Spirit. For example, through a tree, which has its own energy: since it has a Soul of a certain type, it also has energy. And by coming into contact with the energy of a tree, you can adapt to it and through it come into contact with the plasmoid who helped in the formation of this Soul. Or with someone else. In general, the plant and animal worlds of all planets are under the influence, care and tutelage of plasmoids. You call them Nature Spirits. It's not for nothing that you call them Spirits of Nature, because that's what they really are.

39:29 About various forms of organic life.

Pavel: What other intelligent physical forms, besides protein and plasmoids, exist?

Irina: In our Galaxy, other forms of life are known and exist, in addition to forms that are based on carbon life - these are organosilicon creatures. There are combined creatures - organosilicon and carbon. There are those in which, for example, the percentage of carbon in their proteins is largely replaced by phosphorus or sulfur compounds. We can talk about organophosphorus or organosulfur compounds. Molybdenum and various types of substances can also make up organic substances and various elements. This is expressed in the fact that the body will no longer be anthropomorphic, as for example among the Burkhadians, like Raom Tiyan, but will already resemble an insect, for example, an insectoid type, etc.

Maxim: Is it possible to say that all the elements that exist in the periodic table can find their form of a certain dense material, physical life?

Irina: Not for every element, but for many.

41:27 Feeding intelligent organisms with light.

Pavel: Are there intelligent organisms that feed on light, like plants, other than plasmoids? Physical organisms.

Irina: Intelligent plants?

Pavel: Yes.

Irina: I immediately thought about the Gikhors.

Pavel: Little green men.

Maxim: The little green men are the Gihorians. This is where Irina was, she visited their planet along with Kirchiton. These are organosilicon organisms.

Irina: But they still only partially feed on light, they still eat other food.

Maxim: They eat food, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Are there organisms that feed only on light?

Irina: There are no reasonable ones. The body is too big and the brain needs a lot of energy. These are not green euglenas.

Maxim: What did he say?

Irina: Green euglena are microorganisms, I don't know what they are.

Maxim: And I don't know what it is.

Irina : Mead says that this is your microorganism, which is no longer a plant, but a microanimal, it has a high percentage of chlorophyll, and it feeds on light. But even such a small microorganism still feeds on the light of the Sun, through the chlorophyll reaction, only partially. This is despite the fact that he is millions of times smaller than a person, and consumes a million times less energy.

Maxim: What does he/she (I don't know who it is) eat?

Irina: Euglena.

Maxim: What does she eat, besides light?

Irina: Other microorganisms, like ciliates. Only, unlike ciliates, it also contains chlorophyll.

43:33 Underwater civilizations.

Pavel: Are there intelligent cephalopod species? Such as octopus, squid? Do they travel through space?

Maxim: That is, are there any Galaxies with such types?

Pavel: Not Galaxies, but intelligent beings?

Irina: In our Galaxy, in that part of the sky that you call "Ursa Major," there is an underwater civilization. But, really, they are not octopuses; rather, there are bodies of intelligent creatures that resemble your big fish. Only they have differences there: they are quite intelligent, but due to the fact that they are an underwater civilization and have not reached land, they do not have physical flights in space.

Maxim: Is there a civilization of cephalopods? Like us, octopuses, they are not intelligent on Earth. Is there such an intelligent civilization? Maybe not in our Galaxy, but, in general, in principle? According to your data? There are species like octopuses, for example, but only with a brain, that can think, that fly around the Galaxy?

Pavel: Or squid?

Maxim: Or squid, right?

Irina: Which ones fly around the Galaxy?

Maxim: Well, yes. Intelligent species. Because we depict them in science fiction films, and they describe these images in their astral bodies. Is there anything in the physical world that is very similar to our octopuses, but which can think, think somehow in their own way?

Irina: It is precisely in the M-31 Galaxy that such civilizations exist. There are such planets. But, again, it is an underwater civilization, and they did not reach land. At least they don't make independent flights. They simply have nothing to build ships with, so to speak.

Maxim: In general, civilization exists, but they do not make independent spacewalks.

Irina: But there are contactees there, yes. Their body has developed to the extent that a rational Spirit can incarnate there. Since an intelligent Spirit can incarnate there, there are contactees among them. Since there are contactees, then naturally they can take him on board with them.

Maxim: This is in Galaxy M-31, which is Mitina Galaxy?

Irina: Yes. He can say more about such creatures.

Maxim: In general, ask him.

Irina: Ashtar says that Mitya knows. Ashtar says that Miti studied them.

Pavel: Okay.

47:23 Premonition of danger in animals and humans.

Pavel : How do animals that live on a volcano, at the top, learn about the eruption 6 hours before the process itself, without special instruments?

Irina: Many people feel this too. Before the eruption, several hours, even a day, while what will erupt approaches the surface, infrasound is formed, which is not heard by the ears of your people, it is below their range of perception. But this sound has a depressing effect on your consciousness: a person may experience unreasonable fear, etc. Animals, because they have no consciousness in the understanding that the rational Spirit has not incarnated there; they live on instincts. Therefore, they are more involved in this process of perceiving sounds and smells.

Maxim: That is. they are more sensitive to the perception of those vibrations that are given by rising magma or something else like that.

Irina: Yes, they are more receptive. And, moreover, they are not only more receptive, when they receive this signal, they do not analyze it. They don't suppress it. Their self-preservation instinct immediately kicks in and they run away. But in a person, precisely because he is intelligent, even having received a signal of some vague alarm, for example, he may not recognize it, what it is. He can suppress it, throw it out of his head. That is, with his Spirit he can drown out this signal and remain in place. In principle, this is one of the differences between animals and humans.

50:11 Aliens' methods of camouflage. Plasma field of alien ships.

Pavel: Can aliens, arriving in our society, disguise themselves by inducing hypnosis on people? Will they then be visible on CCTV footage? What races have these abilities?

Irina: This is not a question of race, but of a specific humanoid. Even on Earth there are techniques that allow you to influence consciousness. It is possible to influence consciousness in such a way (of course, not on all people, but only those exposed to this influence) that after contact, a person will simply forget that he saw it. Since there are such specialists on Earth, then, naturally, they are on all planets. Because, wherever a rational Spirit incarnates, he will have a desire to understand himself, how his Spirit works. There will be some teachings that can be called psychological schools that study themselves. Sooner or later, all intelligent civilizations, in different ways, come to understand and study how the psyche works: what suggestion is and how it works.

Maxim: I see. Are there aliens who can even influence technology using their thoughts?

Irina: Do you mean aliens in physical bodies now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Yes, but not with the help of thought. There are technologies that can create a field through which light will not be reflected from it. It will seem to you that there is empty space. In fact, light simply does not reflect from it. There are such fields.

Maxim: That is, an alien can walk here, having a protective shell, and he will not be visible either to the eye or to the camera, so what happens?

Irina: And not only. There are such devices on ships. Of course, not all alien ships have them, but some have them. And there are technologies that simply create a regular plasma field around the ship, which you see as a ball.

Maxim: In general, I'll translate it for you. There are, there are such technologies that the alien will not be visible, and the alien, possessing telekinesis, telepathy or suggestion, can inspire some kind of image into empty space for the person who is nearby.

Pavel : Okay. Let's move on.

Maxim: Yes or no?

Irina: Yes. Now some ships have such a device (Raom Tiyan says). For example, a regular plasma field is created around a flying saucer. And around this plasma field special vibrations are created that create an invisible, in the range of your perception, cocoon of energy. Those. you won't see anything at all. But those cameras that take near ultraviolet (and you have such cameras) can photograph the near ultraviolet spectrum. They can see part of this plasma field and then, by photographing, for example, a clear sky, you can see part of the protective shell of the ship.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, thank you very much. Next question.

Pavel: And in the infrared range?

Irina: You have to go down the vibrations. You will waste more energy. It is possible to install such a device in principle.

Pavel: No, I meant that such a ship would be captured by a camera with an infrared sensor?

Irina: Do you have cameras with an infrared sensor that take near ultraviolet light? Or only with infrared?

Pavel: Only.

Irina: If this ship does not heat the surrounding air, for example, it will somehow shield its heat, then no, you won't take it off. If the surrounding air heats up, then marks may be visible on the infrared camera.

Pavel: Okay.

55:34 The Iargans are a hybrid race in the constellation Ursa Major.

Pavel: Can you see my screen now?

Maxim: Yes

Pavel: Are there such races that call themselves Iargans from the planet Yartra?

Irina: Raise it again.

Maxim: Iargans?

Pavel: Iarga.

Irina: These are hybrids. Not exactly how it's drawn. Or he didn't take it that way. These are hybrids. Yes, there are similar hybrids. Raom Tiyan has now conveyed the image. In Daraal language, I don't know what this planet is called. There are also Esler genes, there are a few reptilians and Tashigans, that is, there are genes from 3 civilizations and a local animal. This planet, by the way, is also in the constellation Ursa Major. Its representatives made contact on Earth, but the last official contact, according to Burkhad, was in 1995. Now they have interrupted contacts for now, this is the planet Natizdon.

57:12 Conflicts in the Galactic Community. Protection of young races.

Pavel: Are there races in the Galactic community that cause the most problems, and do wars happen because of this?

Irina: Wars?

Pavel: Yes, wars.

Irina: At the moment there are no wars in the Galaxy, namely Interstellar Wars. Those planets where wars occur are simply not included in the Interstellar Union.

Problems. If we consider the threat to the existence of the Interstellar Union as a problem, then there are no such planets. The Interstellar Union is a unification of forces in order, among other things, to protect ourselves and other worlds that may be captured by an aggressive civilization that is not included in the Interstellar Union. If our security service, the Galactic Security Service, becomes aware of such an attempt, for example, to capture a young civilization that does not have technology, protection (namely, not just voluntary colonization, but forcible capture), then we, naturally, must stop this. Even by entering into direct conflict with representatives of that aggressive race that entered space without participating. There are such races. But at the moment, there are no interstellar wars on the territory of our Galaxy.

Pavel: Okay.

59:12 Genetic experiments by the Interstellar Union on Earth. Law to stop the crossing of human and animal genes.

Pavel: Can you confirm the ancient information that 7 thousand years ago aliens did genetic experiments on people and animals? For example, they made hybrids with a horse - they got centaurs, a hybrid with birds, and from hybrids with dolphins they got ichthyanders. And also that a man was crossed with a boar and they got pigs and that a pig is a man. Is this true or fiction?

Irina: After the war, a variety of civilizations flew to your planet for contacts, including scientists of different races. For example, they started flying from Tashig after Shimor. LiSioni will tell you, they are somewhere nearby. Just about 7 thousand years ago, Shimor began to contact the Earth or a little earlier. After you, 200-300 years later, Tashig came to Earth, right? Tashigan scientists are very interested in the possibility of forming various intelligent beings from those forms of animals that exist on the planets. They can do experiments. They have very developed gene formation. This is what you now call genetic modification.

Maxim: Modeling.

Irina: Yes, modeling. They can take the genes of, for example, a horse and a human and get some kind of creature. And then they can add fish or insect genes to it. This is how they have developed it. These experiments are done in order to find out whether such creatures are viable, whether they can reproduce on their own without genetic experiments. If they can, can they create a separate society. Yes, they have such scientists.

Maxim: Do they do this to people?

Irina: The fact is that this was the past of your planet, around the 5th century or later, right, LiSioni? Approximately in the 6th century AD, the new era and which you call Christian. This is the 6th century AD. The Interstellar Union, in view of the futility of attempts to form new intelligent beings, issued a special law according to which genetic experiments of this type were at least temporary. They are currently discontinued. Tashig reserved the right to cross his genes, for example, with the genes of people, but for this again contactees are needed. Naturally, only with their voluntary consent. But with animals, due to the futility of attempts to obtain new creatures, this was stopped from the 6th century AD.

Maxim: In principle, this question can be answered this way: yes, there have been attempts to crossbreed humans and other species.

Irina: There were, but they were not viable. The resulting creatures were not incarnated by intelligent Spirits; they could not unite with this body. An attempt was also made to observe these creatures through natural evolution, and even through an agreement with plasmoids, so that they would create those types of animal Souls that would contribute to the formation in these bodies of such characteristics that were not enough for the embodiment of intelligent Spirits.

Raom Tiyan says that as far as I studied the history of your planet and the history of scientific experiments on it (and studied MidgasCaus as a biologist), they encountered a genetic problem there. When these creatures reproduced (and they could reproduce), due to the fact that the genotypes were too different, mutations accumulated there, and, subsequently, nothing worked. Then everything just died.

Maxim: That is, they could have been made, but they themselves died out due to the fact that they were not viable, right?

Irina: In order for them to survive to this day, they had to be constantly supported. You could say, constantly clean their gene pool. And the essence of the experiment was not to constantly support, but to allow them to develop independently. Like you, for example.

Maxim: But the question was really interesting about the pig. Can a pig be a cross between a human and a wild boar?

00:19 Pig genotype. The reason for the ban on eating pig meat.

Maxim: But here's a really interesting question about the pig: can a pig be the crossed genotype of a human and a wild boar?

Irina: In fact, the DNA of a pig and a wild boar is almost the same. You could even say that they are no more different than, for example, a dog and a wolf. Those. joint offspring of a boar and a pig can be obtained. And since it can be obtained, it means that no genes alien from a person or from some kind of alien were introduced. Yes, there was no need for this, because, firstly, the pigs were received after they began to breed them in captivity.

Mead will now explain the reason for the pork ban. The fact is that in the desert, in the semi-desert area where this ban was given, the pig eats small rodents, since it is omnivorous by nature. And from them she becomes infected with a special type of helminths called trichinella. And in order to destroy these trichinella by heat treatment, you need to cook this meat for a long time, at boiling temperature, about 2 hours. But the fact is that in the semi-desert area that was Arabia, there was very little firewood. And residents simply would not spend them. They fried the meat for 30-40 minutes, and often ate it bloody. And almost all the meat was contaminated. People hunted there, and few people kept pigs. Usually the word "pigs" meant the wild boars, which were all infected there, and due to the lack of firewood, people could not effectively kill the worms. Infection with trichinosis is very dangerous in the sense that it causes allergic reactions, a tendency to cancer, greatly reduces immunity and even reduces the ability to bear children. That is, there are a lot of adverse reactions.

Maxim : Thank you, Mid, very much. Come on, Pasha, another question.

02:36 Gender change during reincarnation. Homosexuality.

Pavel: The next question is about reincarnation. A listener asks: “Can a man be born a woman in the next incarnation and vice versa?

Irina: Maybe.

Pavel: Or does gender remain unchanged? In what cases is the human Soul male or female, and in what cases is it genderless?

Irina: The Spirit that was a man was in the body of a man in a past life, naturally, he can be born in the next life of a different gender. The fact is that this happens quite often, because the Spirit needs a wide variety of experiences of life in different bodies, different genders, in different families, even on different planets, not to mention the Earth. Or experience in plasmoid worlds. The Spirit's memory is blocked. But, despite the fact that the memory is blocked, some types of Souls continue to subconsciously remember not their life in which they were, but their previous body. But they don’t understand that it is they who remember him. But this is precisely the basis for the fact that, for example, the Spirit who lived in the body of a woman, for example, being born in the body of a man, does not remember his life as a woman, but subconsciously he understands that he should not be a man. Because of this, you have a problem, for example, homosexuality. Those. it is not a completely blocked memory of the Spirit. It is blocked, but the memory of the past body still comes. And this can bring some confusion to life. And this is one of the lessons that the Spirit must go through: the struggle with its instinctual desires.

04:44 Search for relatives in the next life.

Paul: How can we or our relatives or friends identify us in the next life in a new body?

Irina: To incarnate again in the material world is a serious decision. The spirit goes to him and chooses his own parents from those whom the consultants offer him: they offer him, and he chooses his parents. And there is no need to specifically look for relatives from a past life, because he has already gone through that experience. If we look from a spiritual point of view, and it is fundamental for us, then kinship is determined not by the body, but by essence. The main relationship is not in the body, but in the Spirit. But in Spirit, in fact, we are all relatives. Those. we are all children of the One Light. His creation. Even I, MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, I am your relative, I am your brother, one might say. And maybe in the next life, for example, you will be my mother, and I will be your son. It is quite possible. And therefore, when you meet any person in your life, you simply remember that he could have been a relative in your past life. And the most important thing is that you are relatives in the Spirit, in the Light, you are one. And therefore, by doing something bad to him, you are actually doing something bad to yourself, as well as to the same Light that is in him. This is the main thing to remember, and not about how to meet a relative.

06:30 Creation of new Souls. Difference between the terms "Spirit" and "Soul".

Pavel: How are new Souls created? Do physical bodies (in the sense of earthlings) take part in this, or do some higher Spirits take part in this?

Maxim: Do I understand the question correctly: how are new Souls created?

Pavel: Yes

Irina: Intelligent or animal?

Maxim: Intelligent or animals?

Pavel: Human.

Maxim: Human.

Irina: They are not created, they are born before the creation of the material world in general. And, by the way, only 57% of them were incarnated at least once.

Maxim: Repeat again, please, what did you say?

Irina: They were all born together, they all existed at the same time before the big bang. You also witnessed the big explosion, but you don't remember it. The concepts of "young" and "old" Souls are not understood in the sense of creation or birth. Souls are intelligent Spirits in our terminology. They are not created at all, they are born. That's the difference.

Maxim: There is simply a difference between Spirit and Soul. And this difference lies in the fact that the Spirit, when it comes from the Spiritual world and when it is embodied in the body due to the vital Force that is in the body, then it becomes the Soul. And in the Spiritual world we are all Spirits. And here, in our body, this is the Soul. But the Soul is a part of the Spirit. And a part of this Spirit always remains in the Spiritual world, i.e. he descends through the level of vibrations and, ultimately, to the dense material body, to incarnation. But a part of the Spirit is always there, i.e. The soul is united with the Spirit.

Pavel: Okay. You can still?

Maxim: Yes, speak.

08:22 Information about a person by the iris of the eyes and lines on the palms.

Pavel: Do you recognize such sciences as palmistry, astrology, and is it possible to tell something about a person by his iris?

Irina: The last one.

Maxim: Is it possible to tell something about a person by his iris?

Pavel: Yes. According to the drawing.

Maxim: Do you recognize palmistry, astronomy, astrology, esotericism?

Pavel: And one more thing: how does a person's date of birth affect his character and destiny?

Irina: All these signs of the body that you listed: the iris of the eyes, the location of moles, lines on the palms, etc. - these are signs of the body. Their location reflects the energy of the one who incarnated, i.e. information about its energy. Because the physical body, even according to the genetic parameters that are embedded in it, is built on the basis of the etheric body. The etheric body, i.e. vital force contains astral and mental matrices. Those. all this first exists in thoughts, in the Spirit. And only then is it embodied on the physical level. And the different arrangement of different lines, etc. - this reflects the energy of the one who incarnated.

09:51 The influence of astrology and numerology during the incarnation of the Spirit.

Irina: Regarding astrology and numerology, as close disciplines. These teachings talk about how to know, how to calculate, how to identify the characteristics of the one who has incarnated. They (in astrology and numerology) contain special symbols and symbolic signs. For example, in astrology these are the planets, their position and their distance from each other, etc. In numerology, these are special numbers, i.e. calculation of date of birth, etc. When Consulting Spirits select a Spirit for incarnation, they, among other things, take into account his time and date of birth, latitude, longitude of the place of birth, etc.

Maxim: Place of birth.

Irina: Yes, place of birth, month of birth so that when he is born, based on the signs that will be at that moment in the material world (numbers, planets), those who know these teachings could understand who came to embodiment. Those. It is not the planets that influence the Spirit, i.e. force him to act somehow, but vice versa. The planets are just showing. These are the signs.

11:27 The influence of planets on the embodied Spirit.

Maxim: Is it possible to ask the following question: depending on the location of these planets, can they influence the embodied Spirit?

Pavel: By gravity.

Maxim: By gravity, by your energies, i.e. they will change their position in space, which means that the energy in space will change. And will this energy affect the incarnate Spirit who came here at a certain time in a certain place?

Irina: They can through changes in magnetic fields. They only affect the physical body. And the physical body, by changing its states, already influences the Spirit.

Maxim: That is. the location of the planets is the Moon in Mars or Mars retrograde, or Jupiter. In principle, in astrology all this will reflect the impact on the physical body, on its energies, right?

Irina : The fact is that what I just said about astrology, that the Spirit incarnates in a certain place and on a certain date, is not accidental. All this is selected by consultants, including taking into account future astrological and numerological data, so that there is a frame of reference for those who know how to calculate. To know who has incarnated and to act. But what you are calling now will no longer be the position of the planets at the time of birth. This will already be the astrology that studies the already born Spirit in life, those planets that exist, right? Those. already a different type of astrology.

Maxim: I understand. But the planets have an influence on the physical body.

Irina: The planets have an influence on the physical body, and these are the closest celestial bodies that influence the body and the Soul (through the body, of course) - these are the Sun and the Moon. The sun, as your closest star, influences your entire life. It makes life possible in general. Even the sunrise and sunset affects, first of all, the physical body - heat, cold. Secondly - on the mood, for example, when the Sun is hidden behind the clouds - this is a completely different mood. The moon influences. She, getting into different configurations with the Sun, i.e. sometimes opposite the Sun, sometimes between the Sun and the Earth, sometimes vice versa, it causes the movement of liquids not only in the seas and oceans, but also in your body, and even in every plant. This is not to mention the fact that changes also occur in the astral world because magnetic fields change from the movement of the Moon and from changes in its position relative to the Earth. There is an increase in astral energy already in the astral worlds.

Maxim: That is. the closest planets that influence a person are the Moon and the Sun. But the influence of other planets cannot be ruled out, do I understand correctly?

Irina: Other planets, which are more distant, they influence by simply revolving around the Sun in certain orbits. They even influence each other, for example, if Jupiter and Mars are next to each other in the same constellation, and this constellation is behind the Sun relative to the Earth, then the magnetic fields of these planets will interact with the magnetic field of the Sun more than usually. And all this will affect the Earth.

Maxim: That's it, I understand. I heard that the main luminaries are the most important influence. The rest is auxiliary, additional. And planetary parades definitely have an impact.

16:07 The relationship between the lunar and female menstrual cycles.

Pavel : In this regard, the question is: why do earthly women have a menstrual cycle that coincides with the lunar cycle?

Irina: Not always and not for everyone. These are only average data in fact, normal values of the menstrual cycle in women (says MidgasKaus) are from 21 days to 35 days, even up to 43 for some, but this is less common.

Maxim: You need to ask the question to the woman who asked it to you.

Irina: 28 days is just an average, and not everyone has that.

Pavel: Aren't you tired?

Maxim: Go ahead. I looked and see if I can continue to work.

16:51 Removing information about reincarnation from Christian teaching.

Paul: Why was information about reincarnation removed from Christian scriptures? For what purpose?

Maxim: Yes. Good question.

Irina: The fact is that when forming the canon of Holy Scripture, those books that explicitly mentioned this were not included. But in fact, there are enough places left that talk about it for those who know that it exists. It was not the idea of reincarnation that was simply removed. The very idea that this is possible has disappeared from the common practice of the church. Why did she leave? Because such a practice has developed among the clergy of this church. What is the clergy? These are those who performed the duties of mediation between the Spirit and the believers. Who taught the people anyway? Their main function was to educate the people and teach them the sacraments in a form, to give them divine energy through themselves in which they could perceive it. Both in the form of teachings and in the form of various energies according to the rules of the emerging Christian egregor. But among this clergy, in their internal polemics, in their internal disputes, the opinion was formed that the Teaching of reincarnation allows a person to postpone, as it were, his correction, his repentance, his metanoia. What we mean by repentance is “metanoia” - this is a change of mind that needs to be postponed until the next life.

Maxim: That is. due to the fact that a person has the concept of procrastination - putting it off until later - it was removed from the religious Teaching so that a person would not even think that this could be done later. This is exactly here and now: either heaven or hell.

Irina: That is. in simple terms, this was done to speed up spiritual evolution, to reduce everything to one life.

19:40 Human faith as a tool for obtaining additional energy. Hair length and telepathy.

Pavel: Okay. Does the number and length of hair on the head affect a person’s aura, mental and intuitive abilities? Does telepathy and energy in general increase with the help of hair length?

Irina: It all depends on your faith. If you believe that it is long hair that increases your spiritual strength, your ability to play music or write poetry, if you really believe in this and grow your hair for this purpose, then you will indeed increase your energy in this way. If you believe that by having a talisman, for example, you become stronger in the physical sense, then, indeed, by doing exercises with this talisman in your hand, you will get less tired, because you will give yourself additional energy. Simply with your power of faith (not the talisman itself or the length of your hair), using material objects, you will give yourself additional energy. Allow yourself to take energy from the chemical processes that occur.

20:56 Earth genotype, uniqueness of planet Earth.

Pavel: Why is the earthly type of person so valuable? Why do many people want to get hybrids with us?

Irina: The fact is that your type of civilization is valuable because your planet itself is unique in its diversity of animal and plant life, its location, its diversity. It is unique in your genotype composition, since you have the genes of an animal of your planet, two anthropomorphic civilizations and the genes of a reptilian civilization. Those. This is what makes your bodies unique and the experience of the Spirit that incarnates here is unique.

21:51 Your own and other people's thoughts and the ability to distinguish between them.

Pavel: How can you distinguish your thought from someone else's thought?

Irina: Thought or mental images?

Pavel: For example, we want to develop telepathy, communicate with thoughts, but we cannot understand who is speaking: an alien or a ghost, or some other Spirit. Or that's my thought. How to distinguish?

Irina: If this is just a thought without an image, then how can you distinguish yours from the one that was conveyed to you. To learn to distinguish vibrations, you need, firstly, to understand what vibration your thought has, that is, to know it. In order to know the vibrations of your thoughts, you must, firstly, be able to enter a state of thoughtlessness, that is, meditate. When you enter a state of thoughtlessness and meditate, the first thought that comes to you will cause the feeling that it is your thought. Remember this vibration. Then, when you are contacted telepathically, and when other thoughts enter you telepathically, you will feel a clear sensation that these are not your thoughts. The vibration will be different. You won't confuse it with yours. Just like you, for example, will not confuse sugar with salt if you try, despite the fact that they are both white bulk substances. Only there will your tongue act to distinguish taste, and there will your consciousness act, which distinguishes vibration.

23:43 Telepathy and the mechanism of its occurrence in the physical body.

Pavel: Can any technical devices help the development of telepathy?

Irina: Yes, chips.

Pavel: Available.

Maxim: Available on Earth, you mean, right?

Pavel: Yes.

Irina: Now. By telepathy do you mean the exchange of thoughts between two people in a physical body? Or between those who are in the astral plane and those in the physical body? These are two different types altogether.

Pavel: For starters, at least in a physical body. I understand that this is easier, right?

Irina: There are no devices that will amplify your thoughts to such an extent that they become electromagnetic waves, and then turn into electromagnetic vibrations and enter the aura of another. All the same, contact will occur through the aura, even if you are in the physical body. And even if they come in the form of electromagnetic oscillations, they will already have traveled some distance. When you are both in the physical body, your thoughts are not in the physical brain. In the physical brain there are only electromagnetic vibrations that are generated by the mental body - the Spirit. And the Spirit itself is outside the material world. In order to transmit these vibrations, which are in the physical brain, through telepathy, you need to think. The thought will be reflected, first, in the electromagnetic oscillations of the brain, and only then will it pass into the aura, and by the resonance effect will cause similar oscillations in the receiver Aura. And only then will it be perceived by the brain and then go into consciousness. And even if such a fluctuation occurs, that is, if you perceive something, it will not be a fact that this is exactly the thought that arose in the head of the transmitter. Because it will have a resonance effect, that is, a thought that may be close to him in consciousness. Well, for example, you will pass the word “fish”, and he will simply perceive it as the sea, for example. Through the physical body it will be distorted.

26:29 Planets of the Solar System.

Pavel: How many planets are there in the solar system? What do you call them?

Maxim: How many planets are there in the solar system?

Irina: The thing is that we call planets and what you call large asteroids. So there are 15 planets in the solar system, which we call planets. But we also include Pluto. We include Vesta, Pallas, Ceres, Icarus. And there is a planet that is unknown to you. It is located from the Sun beyond the orbit of Pluto and has a dark surface. From the orbit of Pluto, it is located at a distance of almost half the distance from Pluto to the Sun.

Pavel: How was the Moon formed, and why does it face one side towards the Earth?

Maxim: So, this is your question because you haven't studied the group. It's all there in the group.

Pavel: Everything is there, right? Fine.

Maxim: Yes.

27:54 Formation of the Pacific Ocean.

Pavel: How was the Pacific Ocean formed?

Irina: In general, there was a single continent. There was not just one Pacific Ocean, on the contrary, there was a single continent before the war. It split as a result of a war 12 thousand years ago into what we see now. As a result of the use of weapons, the modern continents we see today were formed.

28:26 Interstellar transport portals of the Solar System.

Pavel: Where in our solar system are interstellar transport portals, technical ports?

Irina: Our ships do not fly through portals, but using a gravitational engine. If you mean gravity beacons, then they are located outside. Mostly located outside the orbit of Neptune and not in the ecliptic plane, mostly.

29:05 About the population of Mars.

Pavel: Is there a colony of earthlings on Mars? What are they doing there? How did they get there?

Irina: On Mars there are bases of the planets Burkhad, Disaru, Tashig.

Maxim: Disaru is us, earthlings, just resettled to Disaru after the war. I'm just translating.

Irina: Disa or Tisa is a colony of Burkhad. And they can bring their physical contactees from Earth there temporarily. For example, Disaru has physical contactees on Earth. Of course, they can be brought directly to the base, and these contactees can stay there for some time. But there is no separate colony of earthlings at the bases.

Maxim: Can the representatives of Disaru with a base on Mars be called earthlings?

Irina: Well, of course, according to genetics, naturally, they are earthlings.

Maxim: That is, the representatives of Disaru are the same earthlings. But our earthlings are brought there simply as contactees, i.e. we do not have our own colony on Mars.

Irina: Raom Tiyan says that many aliens understand the word “earthlings” very differently. For example, for us, for me, as a representative of the Interstellar Union, the word “earthling” is simply a citizen of planet Earth. But many do not take into account the citizenship of the planet at all; many take into account the genetic or energetic structure, so to speak. They, on the contrary, say: “What difference does it make if we now take an earthling, move him to another planet, and he gives birth to a child there, etc., he will still be an earthling.”

31:22 Ashtar Sheran's spaceship. Teleportation.

Pavel: Are there ship planets in the Solar System? Those. planets from which they made a ship that moves freely in space? How many civilizations live on them?

Irina: Precisely a planet-ship? There is a ship that looks like a planet, rather, I would call it that, where Ashtar is right now. Naturally, there are alien bases in the solar system. Since there are bases of the Interstellar Union, since there are bases of other civilizations that are not members of the Interstellar Union, but which have signed an agreement with the Interstellar Union on research, since there are bases of other planets in the Solar System, then ships naturally exist. And since there are contactees on Earth, including physical ones, naturally, there are ships of at least the Galactic Security Service that monitor the bases and order on them. They monitor contacts so that there are no unwanted contact situations of any kind. Representatives of different civilizations can fly to Earth. To maintain all this, so that there is no anarchy, no chaos, there are, naturally, those who maintain order. These are representatives of the Galactic Security Service. What you call a planet-ship is most likely the same ships that belong to my civilization, which I spoke about at the beginning and which used to live in the Sirius region. We really fly on a spherical ship, of which I am the leader. The ship's diameter is slightly more than 63 km. In principle, this is the diameter of a fairly large asteroid in the understanding of your astronomers. It has a dark surface when viewed from the side, and in principle, it has a gravitational influence on the Oort cloud.

Irina: What is the “Oort cloud”?

Maxim: Actually, no idea.

Pavel: I understand.

Irina: Please rephrase.

For those fragments of asteroids, cometary particles and interstellar dust that are concentrated outside the Solar System. Each star gathers them around itself on the outskirts. It is usually pushed to the outskirts of the Solar System by what you call the Solar Wind.

I came here in the Astral plane, leaving the physical body. But my ship is constantly moving. When I left the physical body on my ship and came here, my ship was at a distance of 36 units from the Sun, if we take the distance from the Earth to the Sun as one.

Pavel: That is. This is exactly your spherical ship. This is not a planet converted into a ship.

Irina: You see, from the point of view of expediency, it is much easier to make a ship from a special alloy and supply it with everything necessary than to make it from an entire planet. It is possible, of course, to do this, but it will simply not be practical. The fact is that there must be an engine, the shell must consist of special alloys. And not only for protection against radiation, this is not even the most important and not the most important thing. For a ship, for its lighting, for oxygen, even for movement among planets, for a gravitational engine, to simply turn on the gravitational engine or to create some kind of portal, energy is needed. Where to get energy? Carry it with you, like you carry this fuel in rocket engines? But the more fuel you carry, the more energy you need to accelerate it. By the way, that planet where there are many bases and which is all refurbished inside (not all of it, of course, but a very large part), and there is a lot of artificial stuff in it - this is, for example, the Moon. The moon was an independent planet. And as a result of the war, it threatened to fall to Earth. And it was the Burkhad ships that gathered and created a gravitational field that did not allow her to do this. They recorded it near the Earth.

Maxim: I'll ask the question differently. Are there planets with intelligent creatures that can move the orbits of their planets due to some installations installed on the planets?

Pavel: And move between the stars?

Maxim: Well, yes. Today we visited one Solar System, then took and moved the planet to another Solar System, for example? Those. Are there any planets that can move their orbits with the creatures inhabited there?

Pavel: Teleport.

Irina: Where to move?

Maxim: To another Galaxy, for example.

Pavel: Let's say, to our Solar System.

Irina: To move a planet to your Solar System you need to make such a huge gravitational engine. And not just to do it, but to accumulate energy for it. Therefore, it is easier to transfer everything on ships. Theoretically this is possible, of course. But no one will do this. It's simply neither economically nor resource-wise, it's not profitable, I'll tell you.

38:14 Nibiru, Phaeton. Pre-war structure of the Solar System. Chronicle of military actions 12 thousand years ago.

Pavel: Tell us about Nibiru - a celestial body that has an elongated elliptical orbit and passes through the Solar System every 1600 years, creating astronomical cataclysms.

Irina: Ashtar, you are a direct participant in these events, right? So, I guess you have the floor. How can I tell you through me so that it is more or less clear, please?

The fact is that before the war 12 thousand years ago with the Selbetians, the structure of the Solar System was different. Not only the Earth, but also the Solar System. Venus and Earth were located closer to each other: Venus was further away from the Sun, and Earth was closer. The Moon was a planet between Mars and Earth. After Mars there was another planet, the size of which was slightly smaller than Mars, but larger than Mercury. Size, I mean, in terms of mass and diameter. This was the arrangement of the planets at that time in the Solar System at the time of the discovery of your Solar System by the Tumesout cosmonauts. What I'm talking about is the Interstellar Union database, and every humanoid who wishes can consult it. It is open for study. When your species was formed, when some people were moved to Mars, and some were moved to Venus, they did terraforming there. And all this time the structure of the Solar System remained the same. But when the war began, at the beginning, it turned out that a blow was struck. Selbet ships flew to the Solar System. On that planet, which was called Nibiru in Tumesout (which was between Mars and Jupiter then, and which was later broken), there was the main base of the Tumesouts. So they named it in their language. The Tumesout people are also one of the participants in your creation, our partners. On the Moon there were Burkhad and our bases, mostly. The Selbetites were everywhere before the war, and their bases were on the Moon, Nibiru, and Mars. But, naturally, the Selbet government, before its warships struck, took out its specialists under a plausible pretext. Naturally, it was not reported that an attack was planned. The Selbetites flew to their planet so that their specialists would not be harmed. The attack began from the outskirts of the Solar System. It all happened suddenly: i.e. everything was calm, your people were already living on Mars, I mean earthlings. People lived both on Venus and, naturally, on Earth. It so happened that when these ships attacked (and there were quite a lot of them), some of the ships flew to Nibiru. They understood that if they simply destroy people now, they will not be allowed to do this, because there were bases where there were other ships that could protect them. Therefore, part of the ships separated from the main mass and flew to Nibiru, where there were Tumesout bases. Some flew to the Moon, and the rest to Earth, because there was a large part of humanity on Earth, and it was decided to strike the Earth. It so happened that the impact of the weapon was first directed at the base. The first ships reached Nibiru, and the impact of these weapons was directed initially at the Tumesout bases on Nibiru, which was not a colony and no one was resettled there. Their specialists simply lived there. But, nevertheless, Nibiru is their large base. When they hit this planet, they did not have time to defend themselves from this blow, and it simply scattered into 4 large fragments. And, in fact, those meteorites that most often fall on Earth are parts of the planet Nibiru, in your opinion – Phaethon.People later connected it with the Greek myth of war, in which he portrayed Phaeton. When the blow had already been struck, and the planet (I won't say that it instantly scattered) began to fall apart. The instruments of other ships caught this, that the energy of the weapon was released. They immediately began to search and found this point in space. When the attack had already become obvious, they immediately began to gather for defense and called for help from the nearest base. There were no warships nearby, just research personnel. And on the research ships there were no weapons to protect the others when they finally realized that the Selbetians were attacking. It so happened that some of the ships flew to intercept, even realizing that they would now be destroyed, but in order to at least delay and gain time. A help signal was immediately sent. The closest one was a warship, which was the one that could protect it. At first one ship flew, then several more ships appeared. These were ships located near Sirius. A help signal was sent exactly there so that they would fly to protect. It took time to arrive, since everything did not happen instantly. Every second was decisive there, because a very powerful weapon was used. It so happened that some flew to intercept, and some flew to Venus and Earth in order to have time to take out some of the people. And while the battle began in space, those who flew to Venus put almost all the inhabitants on their ships. But at the moment when they were taken out, part of the Selbet ships reached the orbit of Mars from the side just above the ecliptic. Mars was on the other side of Earth, and they reached the orbit of Mars. Before them was the Earth. From a distance, not yet reaching the Earth, they began to influence it with weapons. It was such a powerful weapon that it could already operate at a remote distance. The Burkhad and Tumesout ships carrying people did not arrive on time, and many people died on Earth. These weapons looked like gravity bombs. These bombs, looking like white balls, were flying towards the Earth. They themselves were attracted by the gravitational field of the planet and, approaching it, entered it. And because they entered it, exactly what you see now happened. The continent split apart. And not only the single continent split. The weapons activated volcanoes, earthquakes and floods began. These are all the things that later killed most of all living things. This impact was such that the Earth simply began to move away from the Sun at an angle in the direction opposite to the impact. On her way was the Moon, which was between Mars and Earth. It was necessary to simultaneously remove the inhabitants from Mars, and by this time warships from Sirius had already arrived there. The Selbetians left a couple of their ships on Mars, and the rest entered into battle with the arriving ships of the Tumesoutians and our warships. The Burkhadians realized that now the Earth could collide with the Moon, and then these planets would simply fly apart. And then the Burkhad ships began to stop the approach of the Moon and the Earth with their gravitational field.While they were stopping, those Selbet ships that remained outside the range of the arriving military used a radioactive laser beam that emits radiation and burned cities on Mars. Almost no one was saved there, neither the Burkhadians nor the people. Only a few were able to be transported from Mars. The ship that came to defend was precisely spherical in shape. He was also from Tumesout. Our ship, which protected earthlings in this battle, was subsequently named Nibiru, in honor of the lost planet. Because he flew in and began to fight, just in the area of this planet Nibiru, which was the very first to collapse. And then it was named in honor of this first planet of the Solar System that died at the hands of the Selbetites. The ship was named after the planet. When the Earth was restored a little, people were resettled back to Earth and people began to fly to them there. They weren't just resettled on Earth. They were told the essence of what was happening, but they were told it in an accessible form. Firstly, they perceived those who fly as gods, because they flew from the sky. And people perceived it as a war of the gods. And then, when they were brought back, they were told that you were attacked by snake-like creatures, from which we protected you. And now our ship, which protected you, will fly to you every certain period of time to protect you so that you are no longer attacked. This was done to reassure people that they were being watched. And then in mythology, when modern nations were already forming, this whole story about the war and the fact that they were brought was passed on in the mythology of the Middle Eastern peoples, forming the concept that there is such a planet as Nibiru, on which the god Marduk flies, etc. P. It was precisely the one who destroyed Tiamat, i.e. snake symbol. In mythology, people began to pass this war on to their children in the images that were closer to them.that you were attacked by snake-like creatures from which we protected you. And now our ship, which protected you, will fly to you every certain period of time to protect you so that you are no longer attacked. This was done to reassure people that they were being watched. 55:24 Tiamat. Mythological idea of war 12 thousand years ago.

Pavel : What is Tiamat?

Irina: This is a symbol of the snake-like creatures with which you fought. The creatures that Marduk fought with, which was on Nibiru. If you read mythology, it's all there. They explained it in a form understandable to the ancients. Of course, they did not explain the war itself, that the Selbetites attacked, and we defended you as best we could. It was told there in a form in which people could perceive, to convey that experience, that there was a war with such a race, and, in the future, we will protect you from it so that you are not afraid. Because, indeed, for the surviving people it was a shock. After all, they lived on Earth, went about their business, and suddenly glows appeared in the sky, from which, when they looked up, many became blind, for example, immediately, because there was strong radiation there. Then there was an explosion, from which many died. Then the Earth began to move away. And then, when people were brought to Earth, there they saw for the first time that it was snowing. Before this, they did not know snow, since the Earth had a different climate without winter. It was the same shock for them. It was necessary to form such an idea of what happened. And those specialists who worked at that time made such a decision in those conditions, one might say critical.

Maxim: Thank you, Ashtar, very much for the information.

Pavel: Thank you. Until next sessions.

Irina: Thank you. See you.

And, as always, the most interesting thing happens at the very end.

57:23 Ashtar Sheran and his contactees. Formation of the sect.

Maxim: Raom Tiyan, Mid, Ashtar, thank you all very much. Ashtar, please tell me, is Ashtar Sheran you?

Irina : Yes, of course.

Maxim: How many of your contactees were sects on Earth? Why do they start contacting you, and then, ultimately, turn it all into a sect? Moreover, the sect, not the first sect, which argues in your name that you are in contact with them, and, in the end, then everyone waits for the end of the world, begins some movements, gathers people, moves somewhere, resettles them, to some mountains, something else? Do you know this?

Irina: The thing is that I contact people who match my vibrations, and I explain to them, as best I can, what I can explain. But what develops there is that when people begin to tell others about the contact, the society that is formed around them, with their reaction, also causes rejection of the contactee. There you get a reaction that is completely out of control, even mine, because you need to explain some things in the language of the contactee so that he understands them. The fact is that if I explained that this shouldn't be done, that it's actually not the way it is in his worldview, he would stop believing me altogether.

Maxim: That is. this is due to the problem of understanding the contact and the state of the contactee itself, right?

Irina: Yes. The point is that this happened. That's why I'm answering again why we can't hire many people as contactees. Firstly, they must match the vibrations. Secondly, this person must agree, and thirdly, and this is probably the biggest problem, even if the first two are met, there must be psychological readiness, there must be psychological contact. Confidence.

Maxim: I understand. Who is Ptak?

Irina: My friend.

Maxim: Does he head something too?

Irina: We lead the fleet of our planet, one might say Sirius.

Maxim: Is Ptak more human than a Tumesoutian? Does he have the same lifespan as you?

Irina: He’s older.

Maxim: But he also lives 25,000 years?

Irina: Yes. He's from my planet.

1:00:23 Who are called Angels.

Maxim: How interesting everything is. Another question: Angels, Archangels – as I understand it, that’s what they call you?

Irina: They can call us that too. Angel is the Greek word for "messenger". If I send you now with a message to your friend about me, then you will also be my angel. But spiritual beings can also be called this way. Again, a messenger of whom? If we understand it as a messenger of the Interstellar Union, then yes, we are now its messengers, we are Angels. If understood as a messenger of God, then it can also be a spiritual being. But it can also be people, because people also speak messages from God. It’s just that the point here is that you have a lot of confusion, because by Angels you understand only spiritual beings. In fact, this is not so, because even in the Bible, Angels were also understood as physical beings.

Maxim: So these are problems of terminology.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Problems of understanding the contactee, problems of understanding religion by the contactee himself about the existence of civilizations other than the Spiritual World.

1:01:38 Ashtar Sheran about the erroneous actions of contactees.

Irina: I already know who you asked about, since Irina and I already talked about this contactee, and I understood who you asked about now. The fact is that this woman was not initially as anti-social as she later became.

Maxim: Why do you think this happened?

Irina: I believe that, to a greater extent, her suspicion and rejection came from a reaction to the actions that she began to perform. She didn't just talk about me, she talked about what healing technologies had given her. Yes it's true. The energies that she transmitted to people were created by me. This is not cosmoenergetics or reiki; I can say that I did not transfer any special energy to her from my world. But the fact is that (I don’t want to justify her now) there was also her mistake, because she brought all this into financial terms, etc.

Maxim: That is. she went into obtaining material benefits at the expense of the information and the energies that you gave her, do I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes, I talked to her about it. The point is that I couldn’t put too much pressure on her, because it was, firstly, her right. Because, as you understand, it was her job. She could always answer me that I was wasting my time on this and should get something for it. The only thing I could ask her for was that, in addition to receiving money, she would first of all think about people, and not about herself. She tried to do this at first, but there was still an inevitable reaction from the society where she was. Because there were different people, but she herself was Orthodox by conviction. And for her, all this was connected with the fact that she began to use Orthodox symbols in her activities, which already resulted in the rejection of the Orthodox themselves, while using the terminology of aliens.

Maxim: I asked about this because the designation of work and contact with you will now be equated to a sect.

Irina: Therefore, I myself would like to talk about the fact that, perhaps, I would not be mentioned. So as not to compromise your starting business.

1:05:00 Helping earthlings in scientific and technical matters.

Maxim: Can you help people with the simplest technologies? Let's say, in processing some elements or preserving some kind of energy structure in order to help people recover or for something else?

Irina: Such structures have already been created by plasmoid civilizations - these are Reiki energies. And humanoid civilizations use cosmoenergetics.

Maxim: And if these are physical devices, let’s say. Coils with electromagnetic oscillations of various levels that affect humans? Devices that not only use electromagnetic vibrations, but can operate on other energies and vibrations?

Irina: Can we create these?

Maxim: Can you help create such devices?

Irina: We can talk about the principles of action. Naturally, we can talk about those laws that are responsible for energies. In this way.

1:06:01 The value of incarnations on Earth.

Maxim: How does peace on Earth look from your side? You, Ashtar or Raom Tiyan, have been living for 25,000 years, and it turns out that we are like some kind of platform for learning some lessons here on Earth in an accelerated manner?

Irina: In fact, why do they incarnate on Earth?

Maxim: Let's say, with my mentors, I chose to incarnate on Earth. I could have chosen to incarnate on your planet, in your civilization, but for some reason I chose to incarnate on Earth? It turns out that the 100 years that I will live there is a very short period of time during which I can complete a large number of lessons, do I understand correctly?

Irina: The point is that you incarnate not only for the sake of your life span. On that planet you find yourself in a certain society. You get into a certain body type that you need to develop and so on. An earthling has a certain energy, and here there is a certain type of society. You choose your parents not only if you are born on Earth, but also if you are born on another planet. All the same. Short-lived organisms also have their advantages in that they change bodies quickly and quickly adapt to different body types.

Maxim: I'm talking about some kind of mini lesson. Some quick mini lesson. In 100 years to go through what you go through, roughly speaking, in 25,000. This makes it even more interesting.

Irina : Maybe, Ashtar, you will incarnate here, right? Will you live here, or would you like to live with us?

Maxim: Ashtar, Raom Tiyan, Mid, thank you all so much, I won't delay you any longer, we'll let Irina go. Thanks a lot. It was a great conference.

And, as always, some jokes during the shooting.

1:08:08 Representative Disaru is indistinguishable from an earthling.

Maxim: Wait, it turns out that if a representative of Disaru walks down the street here, we will not distinguish him from an earthling?

Irina: If you dress him like an earthling and teach him the language, of course, you won't be able to tell the difference.

1:08:18 Energy influence of aliens on earthly equipment.

Maxim: Guys, please move away, I beg you. One second, wait. We can not hear you. They came closer here and you disappeared. Our connection is completely lost. They approached the equipment that I have here.

Irina: Stand here, everyone.

Maxim: Yes. And when they approach the equipment, we stop hearing people at all.

#42 Irina Podzorova on the radio “People's Wave of Chicago”. Extraterrestrial life

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4rNEcLNEAXg

00:26 Introduction of participants

Vladimir : Dear friends, hello! My name is Vladimir Goldstein. And today we have a completely unusual program called “Meeting Place”. Because for the first time in the entire history of my broadcasts and for the first time in the entire history of such a program, this is not just a meeting place. The correct name of the program: “Meeting place - Planet Earth.” I don't want to joke anymore. Everything is serious.

We have a meeting with a woman today. Her name is Irina Podzorova. It is located in Voronezh. We have a Skype bridge with her. Those on YouTube already see it. Maxim Rusan sits next to her. He is a lawyer, economist, psychologist and head of the Center for Spiritual Development, which helps Irina.

Irina speaks about herself very simply: “I am a housewife and a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.”

This is where the fun begins. I understand very well the skepticism of many of our listeners and viewers. Please stay tuned. I also had this skepticism until I started to figure it out. And, I figured out what it was, and I have some experience in all these issues. I'm not an exalted boy, as I tell everyone. In general, this is my subjective point of view. But, nevertheless, I want to share this point of view with you. Everything that will happen in our program now is not a joke. Not a joke. This is reality. It is truth. In my subjective opinion. This is not the station's point of view. However, this is the truth. Therefore, I recommend everyone to just listen and form your own opinion. But, here is my formed opinion - exactly this.

So, Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. I will introduce it to you now. Hello Irina! How can you hear us?

Irina: Hello! I can hear you perfectly.

Vladimir: We hear you too. Hello, Maxim!

Maxim: Hello!

Vladimir: We can hear you well too. You are in Voronezh. I think it's 11 pm or 11 pm now, right?

Maxim: More precisely, 11 minutes past twelve.

Vladimir: Okay. As far as I know, you are not alone there now. Who is next to you now? Speak plainly, don't be afraid.

Irina: Present with us now, in astral bodies, are MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and LiShioni from the planet Shimor. They are both specialists in contacts with alien races, including us. Because for them earthlings are aliens.

Vladimir: Yes. It's clear. OK then. I'm going to ask one question now, and then you'll tell me briefly how it all began. Now I will tell everyone the scheme of our program. In the first half hour we will talk with Irina and Maxim. I'll ask some questions. Irina will tell you a little about the contact itself. And then, after the commercial break, in the second half hour, you can ask us questions by phone. In addition, you can ask us questions in the chat on YouTube. We will voice some of the questions from there. I have this first question.

04:38 Why Irina Podzorova openly talks about her contact with alien civilizations.

Vladimir: Why is there such contact with you now? Is this connected with you personally, maybe some feature of yours? Maybe you didn't just come to us from special worlds into this life? Why such a unique contact?

Irina: In fact, I don't consider my contact to be completely unique. Because there are actually a lot of contactees. As far as I know, contactees, for various reasons, do not open their contacts to the public. Or they do it in this form - fantasy stories, novels, scripts for various films, and so on. In many cases, it is easier for them to do this than to talk about the contact directly and thereby arouse suspicion in their address. Aliens, in many cases, advise contactees to do this.

Vladimir: I see. You decided to put yourself under fire. Not afraid of anything. And now, on air, honestly, frankly, admit everything.

Irina: Yes, I decided to do this a long time ago. I didn't agree to contact when I was 13 years old to hide something. I decided to tell it like it is, and I have nothing to be afraid of.

Vladimir: Can I ask quickly? But this beautiful animal in the frame (about a cat), does it have some special purpose? I just wonder.

Maxim: Yes. This animal taught the head of the Center for Spiritual Development to love.

Vladimir: Great. Fine. Pardon my voice, I'm a little sick. I appeal to radio listeners: do not call now, in the second half hour you will be able to ask all your questions.

07:07 Beginning of Irina's contact with aliens. Physical, mental and astral contacts.

Vladimir: Tell us Irina, how did it all start? Briefly if possible. When and how did it all start?

Irina: Okay. It all started in 1999, when I was 13 years old. I then lived in a small village in the Voronezh region. One evening, while walking down the street, I saw a spaceship in the shape of a black triangle. Five representatives of the planet Daraal came out from there, one of them introduced himself as Kirchiton. They invited me to their planet Daraal. I agreed to visit her. They took me there very quickly. A few minutes later they brought me back. And they said that they would make the next contact in the near future.

When I came home, I didn't tell my mom anything. And a few days later, I was on the street again, in a different place in this village, and I saw that a flying saucer had arrived, this time a different ship. I was invited inside. There I saw Kirchiton, who was at the first contact. He took me to his Moon base, where he invited me to become a contactee. When I agreed, they installed a chip for mental contacts and for monitoring me.

Vladimir: That is, it was absolute contact in the physical body. You were just visiting them at their facility. On their ship they took you to another planet and brought you back. And then contacts began not in the physical body, but in the astral body. As I know, you also have physical contact from time to time. They take you on ships again, they take you, or, in simple terms, they take you for a ride.

Irina: Previously, I only had contact with the representative of Daraal - Kirchiton. There was contact for a long time. I had it physically and mentally. He prescribed physical therapy for me twice a week. At first we studied the Solar System with him. Then the Galaxy. He showed me different planets, showed me the center of the Galaxy in outer space. He showed me a lot of things. Mental contacts were mental contacts. I could join them myself. And he could, to clarify the information.

Only last year Kirchiton introduced me to MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, with whom I now have astral contacts, a telepathic connection with his planet. And I recognized many others: representatives of the planet Burkhad, Shimor.

09:55 Mars – impressions of visiting the planet.

Vladimir: Please tell me, when you were taken to different planets of the solar system, which planet do you remember most? And with what?

Irina: In the solar system? Did you like it more?

Vladimir: Yes.

Irina: I like our planet Earth most of all.

Vladimir: Well, after all, which of the other planets made the greatest impression on you?

Irina: Of the others... This was in 1999, at the very beginning of contacts. I was taken in my physical body to the planets. Then, as far as I remember, the planet Mars made a greater impression on me. We did not land or go out onto it. But Kirchiton told me about it that there are many remains from the previous civilization that lived there. By the way, they are immigrants from planet Earth. They were resettled by our creators.

Vladimir: I apologize, dear friends, for interrupting. You can read all this in Irina's group on the social network VKontakte. There is detailed information - sessions, conferences, videos and texts. There you can read in more detail about everything that Irina is talking about now. Therefore, we are talking about this very briefly now.

That means Mars. Were you there in some kind of protective suits or spacesuits? How it was?

Irina: Yes. On all the planets of the solar system, except for the gas giants, we came to the surface. We did not go to Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune. We just flew around them, looked at the atmosphere and so on. But, we went to their satellites. Not for all, but for many.

Naturally, we all went out in protective suits. For each contactee, protective suits are made individually. On the second contact, when a chip is placed, its data is taken from the contactor - the parameters according to which an individual protective suit is made. Which is not transferred to another contactee.

Vladimir: I see. And probably for tailoring? Just kidding, just a little.

Now I would like to welcome our guests. Hello MidgasCaus! And please remind me of the name of Representative Shimora.

Irina: LiShioni.

Vladimir: Hello LiShioni! We welcome you to the air of Chicago Radio "Chicago People's Wave"! Good evening to you! Evening for Maxim and Irina. Hello!

Irina: They greet you too. And we welcome all listeners and spectators who see and hear us now.

12:55 Where are the physical bodies of aliens during physical contact.

Vladimir: I have several questions. The first question is this. You are now here in the astral, who doesn’t know - in the subtle energy bodies, present there, next to Irina. Where are your physical bodies now?

Irina: The physical body of MidgasKaus, who flew from the planet Esler, is located at the base on Earth. There is an Esler base on Russian territory.

Vladimir: On Russian territory. Tell me, in what region of Russia? If it is possible.

Irina: In the forest, on the border of the Moscow and Vladimir regions.

Vladimir: I see. And what about the representative of the planet Shimor, LiShioni?

Irina: LiShioni's physical body is located on the planet Shimor. There he resides in the physical body, and comes here in the astral body.

14:04 Description of the planet Esler.

Vladimir: Question for MidgasCaus. Please briefly describe the characteristics of your planet. Where exactly is it located? Some numbers: basic data, distance from your star, similarity to other planets that we know. Something more about your planet.

Irina: He says: "My planet is located in the system of the star Eta Bootes, at a distance of 36 light years from the Sun."

Vladimir: Yes. What is its diameter? How far is it from your star?

Irina: Its diameter is about 20 thousand kilometers, in our opinion. A bit less. This is the diameter.

Vladimir: Yes.

Irina: The distance from the star is about 206 thousand of our kilometers.

Vladimir: 206 thousand or 206 million?

Irina: 206 million. He showed the numbers like this. Didn't understand.

Vladimir: Yes. A bit close.

Irina: Yes. 206 million kilometers. In its system it is in fourth place from its star. Out of seven.

Vladimir: Of the seven planets. What's the climate like there?

Irina: The climate is similar to Earth's, but a little warmer. There is no winter there at all. Even at the poles of the planet. Water all over the planet, all year round, in a liquid state, does not freeze. The average temperature is higher than on Earth. But no higher than on Venus.

Vladimir: What is your population?

Irina: The population of Esler is currently about 30 billion people.

Vladimir: 30 billion. It's clear.

Please tell me what is the average life expectancy? What is your age now? And do you know the approximate date of your departure from this world?

Irina: He says: "I was born on the planet Esler when it was 1932 on Earth."

Vladimir: I see.

Irina: The average duration of our life, if counted in Earth years, is approximately 430-470 years.

He says: “Finding out the date of departure while in this incarnation is not useful for the incarnated Spirits. Because it may interfere with the fulfillment of the embodiment program.”

17:40 Capture of alien ships by military structures of the Earth. Does US President Obama know about the existence of aliens?

Vladimir: I see. Thanks a lot. I'll ask a difficult question. Do government agencies or any other structures on Earth have fragments or entire alien ships that crashed in some secret hangars? Remains of representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations? There are rumors about this all the time. Is this true or not?

Irina: Yes, indeed, the Interstellar Union has established facts of conflicts between representatives of the Interstellar Union on their spaceships. There was a time when there was a law according to which they could fly to your planet unprotected. And, unfortunately, there have been recorded cases of conflicts between your military structure, your planet, and representatives of the planet Tashig, Tikht and some other worlds. And since these ships were not protected from your weapons, the death of the pilot and the capture of our ships were recorded.

Currently, the location of the remains of the pilot and the ships is approximately known. They are located in secret military laboratories that are one with your scientific community. Information about exactly where these remains and ships are located can be given to the contactee with the permission of the leadership of the Interstellar Union. For contactee safety reasons.

Vladimir: No, I’m not asking where specifically. Just tell me, if possible, is this available in the United States?

Irina: Yes, there is. And including in the United States.

Vladimir: I see. That is, President Obama, when he was asked a direct question, there was a petition that received a significant number of votes, with the question: “Does he know anything about extraterrestrial civilizations?" He was forced to answer and gave a clear negative answer. Was he lying?

Irina: He, definitely, like any other ruler of your country, knows about the existence of extraterrestrial civilizations from his predecessors. But, according to the Interstellar Union, it was not recorded in the contactee database. And if they made contact with him, then these were one-time cases.

20:44 The concept of joy, love and happiness from the point of view of aliens.

Vladimir: I see. Fine. Thank you. I have a personal question. What does such a concept as joy, happiness, love mean to you? And are you happy now? If yes, then from what?

Irina: He says: "In the understanding of the majority of the inhabitants of my world, the concept of happiness is in no way separable from the concept of love. But our concept of love means not just a feeling that warms the heart, not just attraction to another being, it means something more. It denotes that energy of true Light, which is the source of the entire material world. Since God is the Creator of the Universe, and he created this world as a gift to us, without demanding anything in return, we believe that this is selfless love. He gives us the opportunity to live in this material world and does not even require gratitude in return. We can thank and love him only by our own free will. In fact, freedom, like happiness, is inseparable from the concept of love. Of course, I am absolutely happy now, at this moment, to recognize myself as the son of my heavenly Father and my energy as part of his energy of endless love."

Vladimir: Thank you very much for your answer! We now need to take an information break. Before we do this, I would like to address anyone who is going to call us after the commercial. Especially for you to hear this now. I will not accept calls that will be made with the goal of telling us: "This cannot happen, because this can never happen." Please. I don't want to waste time and take it away from other people. Please just keep listening or don't continue. But ask constructive questions that will help you determine what the source is and help you get answers to any questions that have been bothering you for a long time.

We will only accept such questions.

Thank you very much for this piece of information. Please stay with us. Now, for just a few minutes, we are launching the trading engine called advertising. Stay with us.

Vladimir: Friends! We are back on the air with you. My name is Vladimir Goldstein. Today we have a Skype bridge with a contactee from Voronezh, Irina Podzorova. Next to her is Maxim Rusan, a lawyer, economist, and psychology specialist, who helps her convey information to us. Live phone number: 8474005200. We can already see the call. Let's take this call. And after that, I will ask one more question.

We will hear you now. So. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

Listener: Hello!

Vladimir: Hello!

29:40 Criteria for selecting a contactee.

Listener: I have the following question for you. Tell me, please, do aliens have some special choice of contactees or does this somehow happen by chance?

And the second question. Are scientists working on this issue, people like you, for example? Thanks a lot!

Vladimir: Thank you.

Irina: Thank you for the question. The choice of contactee is truly not random. They choose not everyone who wants it, but the one who suits them according to physical, biological and energetic characteristics. There are criteria for selecting a contactee. I have them in the Cassiopeia group on VKontakte. There's an article there.

You can read it. I'll say it briefly. In fact, there are different contactees. There are physical, astral, telepathic. And all this together at the same time. If the selection is a physical contactee, then this is impossible without the permission of the Interstellar Union. Because it will be necessary to send a ship to Earth for him. It is necessary to select a permanent place for contact, remote from people. And so on. There are many difficulties there. He must physically fit. Not only psychologically and energetically match the representatives of these civilizations in terms of their energy vibrations, but also physically do not have serious health deviations that would prevent them from being in space, for example, on planets. We go to planets with a suitable atmosphere without protective suits. That is, those people who have allergic reactions or decreased immunity are no longer suitable for physical contact. Since we have contact with life on other planets, we should not have such deviations.

Regarding energetic and psychological characteristics. In general, I can say that contactees are chosen by people who respect representatives of any race, who do not like to humiliate others. That is, they are tuned to light, goodness, acceptance of everything that happens. And those who want to devote their lives to this cause. Because it is a constant reception of information, and it takes a lot of time and effort. A person who is sincerely ready to explore the Universe and tell others about it in a form in which it will be safe and comfortable for him.

As for the research of scientists.

32:47 Attitude of Earth scientists towards contactees.

Maxim: I can answer this question because I am constantly next to Irina. I will say honestly that our scientists are quite skeptical about contactees. In most cases, this is all ridiculed. In most cases, they don't even understand. And our scientists require constant evidence. If they don't have proof on a physical level, then they don't think it's worth studying. It's my personal opinion. I've been with Irina for quite a long time. We tried to communicate with various scientists. Medical scientists. Just scientists. But I'll be honest. Our scientists, who correspond to our science, try to avoid this topic, because they are not given evidence of contacts at the physical level.

Vladimir: Thank you very much for your answers. There is a suggestion - let's try to answer each question a little more succinctly. Otherwise, everyone who wants to will not ask their questions. All our lines are lit.

33:55 Contactors: Konstantin Tsiolkovsky, Prophet Moses, Mohammed, Blavatsky, Roerichs.

Vladimir: I'll quickly ask a question that logically follows from the previous one. Can you name specific names of contactees from the past, famous people from different fields of art or public life? Who were these Interstellar Union contactees from Earth's past?

Irina: Yes, of course. I can name the contactee of the planet Burkhad. This is, for example, Konstantin Tsiolkovsky. He was a contactee physically, astrally and mentally.

Vladimir: Physically? That is, he, like you, was taken and taken on ships?

Irina: Yes. Another example. From our recent past there were Prophet Moses and Prophet Mohammed. They were contactees of the planet Tumesout. Closer to our time were Elena Petrovna Blavatsky and the Roerich family. Almost all of them were contactees of the planet Esler. These are the compatriots of MidgasKaus. This is history for him. He was born later than they were contactees. But this is a fact of his history.

Vladimir: Thank you.

Maxim: A large number of famous people in the past were contactees of various subtle-material, humanoid and non-humanoid civilizations.

Vladimir: Thank you very much. We accept the call. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

35:11 The language in which Irina Podzorova communicates with her curators.

Listener: Good afternoon! I'm interested in several questions. First. How do you communicate with aliens? Gestures, conversations, in what language?

Have you seen something new that is not on Earth? Some devices, machines that we don't have. We recently got iPhones. What is there as a connection between people? In general, everything new that differs from earthly existence, that you saw when you visited other planets. Thanks a lot.

Vladimir: Thank you for the question.

Irina: Thank you for the question. They communicated and communicate with me in Russian. Because I am a representative of planet Earth and my country - Russia. The fact is that not every alien of the Interstellar Union can contact our planet. For this they undergo special training there. It includes the study of the language, culture, religion, science of representatives of the nationality with which they will come into contact. They know very well that our Earth is divided into many countries and languages.

36:35 Alien spaceships, communications, planetary engine.

Irina: As for what I saw there. Indeed, there are devices there that we do not yet have, and are not expected to do so in the near future. This is at least the spaceship on which I visited other planets. This ship has a gravity drive. He is capable of jumping in space without reaching the speed of light, instantly moving the ship. Thanks to this design of the ship and the principle of movement, for example, a flight to the planet Daraal in the Cassiopeia star system 150 light years from the Sun takes several minutes. Not 150 years. It is by jumping that such a distance is covered. We don't have such engines yet. Or, for example, planetary engines that develop ⅛ of the speed of light. They fly between the planets of one of the systems.

I have not seen a communication principle similar to our phones. Their communication goes through an internal device, like our chips. They talk to each other. The principle of communication between different planets is not based on radio waves. Since there is a huge distance between the stars, radio waves are too slow a system for this communication.

Their communication principle is based on the conversion of some part of gravitational energy into energy, which is systematically transmitted to special sensors and converted into sound, video or text. Depending on what is being conveyed.

38:42 The purpose of contact of alien civilizations with the Earth. How earthlings can be useful to the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: Thank you very much. I'll ask a question from the YouTube chat. We won't have time to ask all the questions. We do the best we can. This may not be our last program. I really hope so.

Question from chat. For what purposes are you in contact with us (we are talking about the Interstellar Union and specifically your planet, your civilization)? By the way, as far as I know, the Interstellar Union includes 116 civilizations or planets.

My second question. It is clear that you can fly to us. What can we give you in terms of some human qualities? How can we help you? If, of course, we can.

Maxim: The purpose of the contact and how we can be useful.

Vladimir: The purpose of the contact for them? And how can we be useful to them?

Irina: MidgasCaus thanks for the question. He says: “The purpose of contact between the Interstellar Union and each of its civilizations separately and all its specialists who came to this work and carry out this mission is to gradually, through natural evolution, give information about the Interstellar Union and its laws through contactees , about the understanding of the Spiritual World that we have, with the help of this information, change the awareness of reality among your inhabitants so that you, too, can be ready and enter the Interstellar Union. They were our collaborators in studying the Universe and transferring life and intelligence to other worlds, including those outside the Galaxy.

Vladimir: Thank you. You haven't answered the question: how can we help?

Irina: How can you help, specifically, earthly civilization and each of its representatives, the Interstellar Union... You can only help by being aware of the need for a path to love, light, goodness. Because by doing this you will expel all low-frequency energies from your hearts and Souls. Thanks to this, you will form a noosphere that attracts high-vibration Spirits, which in your religion are called Angels, to incarnate. And if there are many of them incarnated, this will allow them to come to power in your military and government structures and change your entire life, on the entire planet. Which will ultimately lead you to the Interstellar Union. A particle of Light from each of you is important for the entire Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: I know that we were created by representatives of the Interstellar Union. Three million years ago. Irina talks about this on her page. We can ask about this a little later. And now I want to take a call. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

Listener: And laughter, and sin, and shame in a madhouse.

Vladimir: Thank you. No wonder I couldn’t hear you. How interesting. I already knew what it was about. Well, that's an interesting percentage. Just one person, despite my request about “this cannot be, what can never be,” could not restrain himself, could not cope.

Maxim: We are already used to it. Because a huge number of people react very inadequately to contactees. Therefore, we already view all this through laughter. Let us pass through the light, our love and understanding of their unawareness in this matter.

Vladimir: I think that these people simply don’t hear, don’t listen. This is their opinion. They don't even want to just look objectively. They don’t hear what Irina is saying. They just don't care, they defend their opinion. Although I have not read Pasternak, this is my opinion and this cannot be. It's their choice, their right. There is no problem with this.

43:32 History of the creation of earthlings.

Vladimir: Still, let me ask again. As far as I know, we were created by extraterrestrial civilizations, our human race. Literally. Briefly to save broadcast time.

Irina: Yes. Your race was created three million years ago from your primate animals. The genes of three civilizations of the Interstellar Union were introduced into their genetic structure. These are Burhad, Tumesout and Selbet. Your bodies were created for those intelligent Spirits into which you are now incarnating. I want to emphasize that the Spiritual World, from which Spirits incarnate, is one for the entire Universe. Both dense material civilizations and thin material worlds, which we call plasmoids. Any Spirit from the Spiritual World can incarnate on any planet, in any Galaxy and in any world.

After a hybrid was created, the structure of the nervous system of which allowed an intelligent Spirit to connect with it, be born here on Earth and experience life, the history of your civilization began. It was very complex, but the Interstellar Union gave you the freedom for your own development and natural evolution.

45:14 Emerald tablets. Thor and Norse mythology.

Vladimir: I see. Thanks a lot. I'll ask a question from the chat now. The question goes like this. Who wrote down the emerald tablets?

I don’t quite understand which tablets the question is about. But that's exactly how the question was asked. Either these are the tablets of Moses or maybe others. I don't know. Here's the question. Can you answer?

Maxim: Who wrote the emerald tablets?

Vladimir: Who wrote down the emerald tablets? Where did Thoth come from? And who is he really? His teachings encourage you to improve yourself and be a light.

Irina: Is this a question from one person?

Vladimir: Yes, this is a question from one person. The person's name is Maria.

Irina: The Emerald Tablets are a book. If you are talking about that book that belongs to the pen of Hermes, a religious figure who lived at the beginning of the New Era and wrote about his experience of contacts, then he was a contactee. He was a contactee with plasmoid civilizations. Personally, I have not studied this issue in detail about his contacts. I do not know anything about his contacts with humanoid races. I have not studied this work. This is not within the scope of my interests, since I am not a historian of your religions and movements. I studied them in their most basic form. I am a biologist and psychologist.

If we are talking about Thoth from Scandinavian mythology, then his name indicates a representative of the planet Tumesout, who was in contact with those Celtic tribes. Based on contacts with him, myths were created, which were then passed down from generation to generation and became known to you under the guise of Scandinavian myths.

Representatives of the planets Burhad and Tumesout are also indicated there. They mainly came into contact with representatives of the ancestors of the Slavs, Celts, Hindus and other peoples in the Indo-European territory.

Vladimir: Thank you very much. We accept the call. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

48:19 Are there intelligent beings on other planets of the solar system.

Listener: I want to ask. On which planets of our solar system are there intelligent beings? And if so, what do they look like? Thank you.

Vladimir: Thank you.

Irina: Thank you for the question. If for intelligent beings one can take not only a humanoid form of life, densely material, like us - people, Eslerites, Burkhadians, and so on, but also thin-material, like plasmoids. They are the same intelligent beings as we are, but embodied in subtle bodies, invisible to the eye, consisting of energies of various frequencies and types of vibrations.

If we consider such creatures to be intelligent beings (they constitute their own civilizations), then all the planets, stars and the sun are inhabited. Near your Sun there are 17 subtle civilizations. There are subtle civilizations on Venus too. They are especially developed in the atmospheres of giant planets. For example, on Jupiter. Powerful thunderstorm fronts and thunderstorms very often occur there, the energy of which is used to feed and reproduce these plasmoid civilizations. They release enormous energy.

Maxim: Irina, the question is most likely directed at some physical bodies. After all, not everyone knows what subtle-material civilizations are. I think we need to answer about physical bodies. Is there a presence of humanoid or other civilizations in our solar system?

Irina: At the moment, humanoid civilizations exist only on Earth. But on the Moon and Mars, under their soils, on the satellites of the giant planets, there are bases of the Interstellar Union. The most varied. And on Venus, under the ground, there are also bases. For example, Disaru and Tichta. These are two planets of the Interstellar Union. Intelligent beings live there for months, years, in your calculation. They get everything they need from their planets, or produce it locally.

Vladimir: Thank you very much for your answer. Unfortunately, our time is up. Many thanks to everyone who called us. I expected the worst. But, in my opinion, in general, we are ready for this information. I hope we will continue. Thank you very much to our guests - MidgasKaus and the representative of the planet Shimor. Thank you Maxim. And of course, thank you very much, Irina. And see you next time! I hope.

Maxim: Hello America! Until next time!

Irina: See you next time! And thank you all!

Vladimir: Thanks everyone. Goodbye!

Maxim : Goodbye.

Irina: Goodbye!

00:48 Introduction of participants. Criteria for selecting a contactee in the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Hello, friends! Today we are in touch with Raom Tiyan from Burkhada and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

Maxim: There is information that one of the criteria for choosing a contactee is that the Soul of the contactee was incarnated in a past life on some other planet. And therefore, beings from this planet supervise and contact with this Soul, already embodied on Earth. Is it so?

Irina: This is far from the main criterion for selecting a contactee. Many factors must coincide to select a particular person. Again, are we talking about a physical contactee or a non-physical one? These are different things.

Maxim: Let's look at both options. Cases of both physical and astral contact.

Irina: When choosing a physical contactee, his beliefs regarding alien life forms are of great importance. He should not experience any fears or phobias even towards earthly forms of animals, insects, darkness and other things. This will interfere with contact. It is not of such global significance whether he had incarnations on Earth or on another planet, how many of them he had and on which planets. What matters is the state of the Spirit in this life, specifically in this incarnation. The energy characteristics of the future contactee are read, whether physical or astral. For a physical contactee, more conditions must be met. He must not physically have diseases that will prevent him from making physical contacts (flights into space, for example) quite often. So that this does not harm either his physical or psychological state.

If we are talking about an astral contactee, he must have an energy structure that allows him to consciously go into the astral world and perceive information there, remember it normally and reproduce it after returning. At least 70% of the information must be without distortion, at least in his own subconscious. If these are mental forms of telepathic contact, where everything is much more subtle, the vibrations of his mental body and the mental body of not even the civilization that is in contact, but of a specific person, must coincide, otherwise distortions are inevitable.

According to the law of the Interstellar Union, a person who wants this, who does not have negative beliefs about society, himself, religious structures, egregors, is chosen as a contactee. He should not reject anything incomprehensible. He should not have the prerequisites for creating long-term negative emotional states. This will interfere with contact, because usually specialists who are trained on the astral and energetic level are in contact with you. They are very sensitive to your radiation. They will not be able to work in the usual mode if the contactor does not correspond to a certain energy vibration.

Naturally, he should have a normal attitude towards the very idea of extraterrestrial life. He must accept this contact with confidence and openly, so that he does not have any prejudice towards the information that is given to him. He must be broad-minded and interested in understanding the world, for example, the Universe. Because people who are only interested in their material existence, firstly, will not want to communicate for any long time. They simply won't need it.

What is important is that future contactees must be morally inclined to perceive the norms of the society where they live as the norm. That is, they must fully approve and accept the laws of the country where they live. There should be no rejection of laws, much less approval of criminal actions on the part of anyone. This refers to deprivation of life and the like. It’s not that they themselves shouldn’t do this, but they shouldn’t somehow approve of these negative aspects. While maintaining peace in their Soul, they still must not put up with evil. Do not indulge in what is happening around them, because condoning evil only serves to increase it in many cases.

Therefore, many factors must coincide. It is not necessary that this person was previously embodied even in the civilization that chose him for contacting. This is possible, and it happens often, but it is not always the case.

07:05 Contract for work as a contactee. Man's desire to contact aliens. Jesus is about love and commandments. Astral contacts in a dream.

Maxim: Does it happen that before incarnation, some extraterrestrial civilization signs a contract with an intelligent Spirit, and then they guide him through life?

Irina: This is most likely not a contract. It happens that in the Spiritual world there are two intelligent Spirits or a group of Spirits, say, friends in the Spiritual world. They agree to communicate with each other, even while on different planets. Or in general in different planes of existence, for example, in the plasmoid world and the humanoid world. Such things are quite possible. This is not a contract, this is just ordinary friendly communication.

As for contracts in the legal sense of the word, the Interstellar Union usually does not conclude such contracts in its current incarnation. Because, firstly, it is meaningless for the contactees themselves, because they must be guided, first of all, by their ideas, as they understand them.

Let me emphasize once again that people who are ideologically prepared for honest cooperation with other civilizations are chosen as contactees. If there is honest cooperation, then the need to record them on paper disappears. As Jesus Christ said in one phrase known to us, but not included in your sacred books: “If a person is full of love, he does not need any commandments.” This also applies to written laws. Laws are usually written for those who have not reached the level of awareness and absolute love for everyone, so that without fixation on paper, without the threat of punishment, deprivation of any benefits, they can simply fulfill them from their inner motives.

In the case of contacting, they usually choose a person who will comply with all this without fixation, and who himself will strive for these contacts. Precisely those who are interested. Or even if he was not previously interested in aliens or contacts, then based on his psychological characteristics and energy vibration, it becomes clear to the specialists of the Interstellar Union that when a contact is offered, he will become interested in this.

Maxim: Are there astral contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations during human sleep?

Irina: Yes, of course. Sleep is the separation of a person's astral body from the physical, an unconscious journey in the astral world. Of course, contact with different Spirits is possible there, both embodied on Earth, in plasmoid worlds, and embodied on other planets. And contact is possible with disembodied entities, both with relatives who have left this world, that is, left their body forever, and with various levels of the Spiritual world, to which the released astral body is attracted, according to its vibrations.

10:44 Technologies of plasmoid civilizations. Features of plasmoid worlds. Moving plasmoids.

Maxim: Do representatives of plasmoid (energy) civilizations have any of their own plasmoid technologies or spaceships?

Irina: Yes. They build themselves projections of spaceships, various cities, houses and other structures, but all this is in a subtle material sense, that is, they create forms that are familiar to themselves. Not all plasmoids do this. There are those who do not create any cities. They simply live in a space of Light or energetic vibrations. There are (those) who create for themselves mentally houses, palaces in a subtle material design. Usually these are those Spirits who have had many incarnations in humanoid worlds, and now project this experience onto their stay in plasmoid worlds. Usually they do not remember humanoid incarnations, but their subconscious desire to stay in such dwellings or in spaceships prompts them to create energy forms that are familiar to them.

Maxim: Representatives of plasmoid (energy) civilizations really need houses and spaceships, or is it just their whim to create such fine-material structures?

Irina: The fact is that the flight of plasmoids itself is different from the movement of humanoids. Since they consist of energy, there is no need to protect this energy body from cosmic radiation, because they feed on this radiation, unlike dense material bodies. There is no need to consume dense food products, water, or oxygen. They have a completely different form of life. A thin-material body does not require the creation of dense-material devices.

As for the subtle-material worlds in which ships of subtle-material energy form are created, they do not need them to move. They may perceive this not as a necessity, but as a more familiar movement through space. Many of the plasmoid civilizations believe that without a thin-material ship, movement is not as effective. They come up with their own reasons to embody the thought forms that arose in them during their stay in the dense material world. These are, one might say, their habits.

Plasmoids do not need any technical means in understanding the dense material world for movement, for life, for construction. All this already exists in their subtle-material body, in the subtle-material world in the form of energy.

14:11 Goals of spiritual development. Vibrations of God. Love is unconditional.

Maxim: What is the process of spiritual development, what needs to be done specifically for this?

Irina: As you correctly noted, the goals of spiritual development are to increase vibrations in order to coincide in vibration with the Creator. Together with Him and in Him, create worlds and support them. How exactly can one achieve a coincidence with the vibrations of the Creator? To do this, you need to know the vibration characteristics of the Creator himself.

For representatives of the Interstellar Union, there is a teaching that teaches that the essence of the energy vibrations of God, the Creator, is the Light of Love. Because we can translate the characteristics of this energy in Russian as “Light of Love”. The word “love” here means a slightly different state, which modern Russian people are accustomed to understanding. For you, the word “love” means many different states. Ancient languages were much more precise in this regard.

What we call the fundamental energy of the Creator is that love that exists on its own, in itself, and it is capable of shining. She is Light. Spiritual light is, of course, not physical. The visible light of stars is only a reflection of the Spiritual world, the world of Love.

What characteristics does it have, besides light?

The first is unconditionality. What we call “loving” is simply because you love. Not because some benefits, pleasures or career advancement will be offered for this, even on the spiritual career ladder. Careerism and love are very poorly combined because one presupposes selfishness, the other - unconditional return. “Unconditionality” - it is impossible for someone who loves not to love. This is his nature. Regardless of how those he loves respond to this love. With gratitude, indifference or even rejection.

Second condition. Since this is unconditionality, then this condition, in your language, is called the word “patience”. Without love there is patience, self-restraint in some way. In Russian, you have the word “selflessness,” which implies an unselfish, sincere giving of oneself to everything that is.

Why are such conditions possible? Because when you simply exist and you simply love, you raise your vibrations and begin to feel boundless happiness, which is the state of God, the Higher Self. After all, He loves absolutely everyone. Even those who, in response to the life sent to them, kill other living people or themselves. Takes his own life in response to His gift of love. But God, even after that answer, does not cease to love this Spirit and continues to send him life in the future. Or, for example, in response to the rising Sun - the gift of light, the gift of life, people, instead of thanking Him, begin to destroy the nature around them or each other. Despite the rising Sun, the soldiers go to fight, they do not see this gift, they do not feel it and do not thank it. But this does not diminish love. This state is considered the highest in energy in the Universe. And spiritual development specifically consists in achieving this state.

Methods for this are very different: religious, esoteric, within the framework of more secular atheistic movements. All this is done for different characters and beliefs. What is the character of the Spirit? His beliefs, emotional reactions to everything that happens, and so on. For each Spirit there is only its individual path of arriving at this state. It can either coincide with the individual paths of others or diverge.

In general, specifically for spiritual development, you need to love yourself with unconditional love. What is love? It is to endure, believe and forgive. Usually these three characteristics in Russian are included in the action of this love. Forgiveness for what seems unfair, patience is needed in order not to leave this path, to hold on to it, faith, trust, openness are also a necessary attribute of love.

Love yourself, loved ones, those around you, God. One who begins to love people usually soon has the experience that God exists in any form. This may be in the form of a spiritual revelation, in the form of a change of belief. Man, one way or another, understands that there is a Creator. When he understands this, the increase in vibrations consists of love for Him. And in love for nature, space, for the natural forces that provide the material existence of our bodies: earth, water, and so on. These are also elements. On many planets they are treated as living entities.

In fact, this is true, in a sense. Because they are controlled by plasmoids - Elemental Spirits. Therefore, treating the land and water with respect (that is, not simply consuming these resources, not like predators, exterminating them, but taking all measures to reduce the pollution of these elements) is also a manifestation of love, this time for nature.

22:56 Selfishness. Instincts. Freedom of choice. Communication with destructive people.

Maxim: So it turns out that we need to get rid of egoism in any case?

Irina: Selfishness is misunderstood and misunderstood self-love. Man misunderstands love. He understands love not as selfless giving, but as simply giving pleasure to someone, for example, to himself in something. Everything comes from this misunderstanding, from instinctive programs, plus it is reinforced by the low vibration of the incarnate Spirit itself. This leads to the fact that love, so understood, begins to manifest itself through the instincts of the body and leads the embodied Spirit to search for various pleasures, pleasures beyond the limit, which are necessary for life in the body, for example, or which interfere with the spiritual development of a person.

The person understands that this thing is stopping him. Nevertheless, he is ready to accept the fact that his spiritual development will stop, he is ready to exchange it for these pleasures. This is his free choice, to which he has every right. No one will condemn him for this under any circumstances. You need to understand that a person's choice is free and holy, but any action inevitably has corresponding consequences.

Maxim: What if a person develops spiritually, helps others without selfishness, creates benefits for others, and at some point in time selfish people begin to parasitize on this kindness? What should we do in this case?

Irina: The fact is that everything depends on the form that such communication took. If this spiritually developed person sees that such behavior of destructive people interferes with the work that he is doing, he must prevent it. Naturally, without negative emotional reactions. Trying with love, with patience, with understanding is not only to explain to this destructive person the correct positions, but simply to find out the reason why he behaves this way. Sit down, talk and explain to him that his behavior is destructive, first of all, for himself.

Mead advises: “If talking does not help, then I will advise such a person to resolve the issue through his Higher Self.”

“If you don’t hear me, talk to your Higher Self.” That is, help him with this, teach him. Usually, having connected with his inner light, a person begins to raise his vibrations, comes to the same conclusions as a highly developed Spirit, and begins to rebuild his concepts.

If a person refuses to do this, he says: “I’m not interested in this, I don’t need it, I only need the material benefits that you give me through communication with the Higher Self.” Then the highly developed Spirit will need to explain: “I’m not angry with you, I’m not offended by you. But your behavior prevents me from bringing this Light to others. Sorry. I do not have the ability to give you material resources in the amount that you need. Only because there are other people who are no worse than you, and to whom I should give my attention.” All this must be explained without negative feelings, from the position of a sound and sober mind.

27:35 The first contact of highly developed civilizations with new forms of intelligent life in the Universe. Exploration of the Milky Way Galaxy.

Maxim: In the case when, while traveling around the Universe, you encounter new forms of intelligent life? How does the first contact and finding a common language happen?

Irina: It all depends on what type of civilization we encountered, and what kind of administrative political structure there is. Do they have access to space, what kind of consciousness do they have? If the level of development of a civilization allows us to immediately enter into mass open contact with it, there are no wars there, then it is invited to the Interstellar Union. They come into contact at the official level, with governments, openly. It seems that we are representatives of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy. We have such and such advantages, our Galactic Union, we have such and such conditions, which, as we see, you have met. We invite you there, if you want to go there yourself, if you agree to continue to fulfill them, then you become part of our Union.

If the situation on the planet is different, there is destruction, destruction, power and military structures, instead of building a clear structure of power that would meet the needs of people, begin to divide this power among themselves, divide resources and engage in other destructuring of society, then open contacts will not be held. The planet will be explored at the probe level, if in a material sense. In the astral sense, research will be carried out on energy, egregors, and everything else. The relevant specialists of the Interstellar Union will study the psychology of these creatures that have been discovered, and the forms of contact that are possible for contactees. There they will look for contactees who match in vibration to convey to them their experience of the Interstellar Union with the message that these contactees, gradually changing the consciousness of society, will still lead it to the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Are there civilizations in our Galaxy with whose representatives you also maintain, for now, secret contacts, just like with humanity?

Irina: Such civilizations as Earth, which are not included in the Interstellar Union, but with which we are in contact through secret contacts, of course, exist.

Maxim: Are there still undiscovered planets in our Galaxy, or is everything already known and discovered?

Irina: The Interstellar Union has already explored our Galaxy. At this point in time, perhaps more than 85% of the stars have been explored. If they remain undiscovered, then in places inconvenient for research, in dark, dusty nebulae or behind hot clouds of gas in the center of the Galaxy. If there are some areas that are inconvenient for exploration at the moment for physical ships, then in the Astral plane research is being carried out on these stars at the astral level.

31:12 Transfer of information to a physical contactee.

Maxim: Some contactees who describe physical contacts with UFOs and their crew say that during communication certain demonstration screens appeared on which symbols were shown, etc. Are you familiar with this technology?

Irina: Some civilizations have an apparatus for creating thought forms and their projections into human consciousness. If there was physical contact, then the projection goes through the brain of the contactee, because he is in the physical body. This projection of the image may partially or even completely not correspond to what appears in consciousness, because it will pass through the filter of his brain. Moreover, if it does not have chips that stabilize this state.

32:06 Limit for the movement of ships of the Interstellar Union. Gravity jump. Spaceship navigation.

Maxim: Is there a limit to the movement of Interstellar Union ships, or can a gravitational jump be made even to a star system a billion light years away?

Irina: Indeed, there is a limit to gravitational movement between stars. For different types of gravity drives, it can range from 300-320 light years to just over 1500 for long-distance travel. One jump can be a little more than 1000 light years, approximately within these limits. It must be remembered that after one jump they follow each other many times, this does not in any way interfere with the exploration.

Maxim: How is the location of the appearance of a spaceship at the desired point in space selected in terms of navigation?

Irina: A description of the structure of space is usually included in the ship's system. You call it computer graphics. There are ships of the computer graphics level. There are ships that communicate with the consciousness of the pilot himself through his brain, through various transmitters. There are different types of ships.

But usually the navigation is already recorded in the ship’s automatic movement control system. The pilot needs to press a button or speak words about the planet where he wants to fly, or mentally, if these are mental forms of communication with the computer mind of the ship. Either he thought, or pressed a button, or said or wrote. There are various forms of communication between the pilot or autopilot and the ship's computer. It is enough to indicate this planet in different ways, and the ship itself already knows that it automatically needs to make a jump to it, depending on the gravitational field, up to 200,000 kilometers. At this distance he should exit the gravity jump.

Maxim: So, if we need to move from our Galaxy to the Andromeda Galaxy, then we need to make several gravitational jumps?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: So the on-board computer of the spacecraft simply calculates the direction in which direction to jump?

Irina: Direction, distance to the point at which you need to exit the last jump before turning on the planetary engines to approach this planet. If the jump ends very close to the gravitational field, the ship’s trajectory may be disrupted. He may enter her gravitational field the wrong way. This is done at a certain distance.

35:54 Energy of stars, matter. Light of the Creator. Human biorhythms.

Maxim: There is an opinion that stars generate energy of a different frequency spectrum not only because thermonuclear reactions occur in them, but because they relay energy from other spaces. Is it so?

Irina: (Raom Tiyan answers). Thermonuclear reactions in stars are what we see at the physical level of the Universe. This is a transformation of atoms that gives us a second level energy output. We can say that the source of all stars, all systems of the physical world and, in general, the entire material world, is hidden in the Spiritual world. Matter itself is made of energy. The energy itself consists of more subtle (you call them energies, we have a different term) spiritual structures that make up this energy.

And then everything goes into the source of the original Light. That's why I said earlier that the light of the stars and the Sun visible with your physical eyes is a reflection of the Light of the Creator's infinite love. Although this is a figurative expression, it quite accurately reflects the essence of things.

Maxim: There is an opinion that when a person moves away from his native planet Earth, his biorhythms are disrupted and he may die. Is it so?

Irina: As I already said, the selection of physical contactees is carried out taking into account the characteristics of his body. It is necessary that he does not have diseases that could interfere with his flight into space, including to other planets significantly distant from his own solar system. Or, even if he is ready for these flights, his physical body condition may worsen from this. Indeed, biorhythms are tuned to a specific planet, but the degree of adaptation of any living organisms to biorhythms and their changes is quite high.

Stays on other planets are usually not long. This could be tens of minutes or an hour according to your time. During this time, it will be impossible to disrupt the biorhythm, because they (biorhythms) last longer. Even if you transfer your person to another planet for a longer time, where the movement of the Sun is different, the length of the day is different, the length of the year is different, then after some time the person will still adapt. Our space travelers adapt to the conditions of your bases, your planet. They can live for years, months, without leaving your planet. They also have their own biorhythms, and they adapt.

39:38 Location of the Spiritual World. Spiritual Hierarchs of the Galaxy. Residents of the center of the Galaxy. Plasmoid habitats.

Maxim: There is information that in the center of our Galaxy at the astral (energy) level there are spiritual Hierarchs who supervise all energy processes in the Galaxy. Is it so?

Irina: The comparison of the Spiritual world with the material world is not described in this aspect. It cannot be said that the Spiritual World is located in the center of the Galaxy, in the Sun or in the Earth. He is outside the material world, he is in what you call “another dimension.” It permeates everything, just as light permeates a room. This is not to say that the light does not touch the wall. But if he touches her, this does not mean that he is not in the center of the room.

The vibrations of the Spiritual world are superimposed on the material world, and at the same time they are outside it. The light that burns in the room itself can go through the windows outside the room because it penetrates it with its rays, because light has higher vibrations than denser matter. Likewise, the Spirit has higher vibrations compared to matter, so it imposes them on matter.

We are not saying that it is the spiritual structures that are at the center of the Galaxy or at the center of anything else. They are everywhere and nowhere at the same time, if viewed from the point of view of the material world. Those who claim this (usually these are forms of plasmoids that live in the center of the Galaxy, such plasmoid civilizations that sincerely consider themselves part of the Spiritual World and closer to the Divine, to God than dense material beings), perceive themselves as their teachers, curators. Many plasmoids sincerely believe that thin-material life forms are more perfect than dense-material ones. They allow you to see more Light, there is less suffering. In this sense, many plasmoids are so inclined and believe that they are a more perfect form of life than a dense material one. This is a non-acceptance of a form of embodiment that is not entirely clear to them.

Maxim: So there are many plasmoid (energy) civilizations in the center of our Galaxy?

Irina: Yes, the closer to the core of the Galaxy, the more plasmoid civilizations there are. There is more energy there for feeding them and for them to build their worlds.

Maxim: What percentage of destructive and constructive plasmoid (energy) civilizations are there in the center of the Galaxy?

Irina: According to my studies, the share of parasitic, destructive civilizations is still less than positive or neutral ones. If you look at the core of the Galaxy, then 26-27% of civilizations are of a destructive type. For the Galaxy as a whole, this percentage is even smaller. But this is due to the special density of the cluster of plasmoid worlds in the center of the Galaxy.

43:26 Life expectancy on Burkhad (Pikran).

Maxim: There was information that on Burkhad the life expectancy is about 15,000 years. Do all the colonies of Burhad have such life expectancy or not?

Irina: No, not all colonies in Burkhad have such life expectancy. It depends on the conditions on that planet. Especially if this colony has existed for a long time. Living conditions on the planet may change. Society can change.

Life expectancy depends on three factors mainly. The first is from the genotype of the race. And the genotype is a rather variable thing over a wide range. The second factor is the conditions of society. Living conditions affect life expectancy, egregors, the influence of energies of all thought forms. Through their influence on the Spirit, they can either cause negative vibrations, illnesses in it, or vice versa. These are natural opportunities for the evolution of your Spirit.

Usually the period of death of the material body is determined before incarnation. It varies depending on the degree of spiritual development of a person. If the time has come for a person to leave the body forever and go to the Spiritual world, but his spiritual mentors, consultants in the Spiritual world see that he is developing successfully, that in one life he can do as much for his spiritual development as he planned, for example, in three , then his incarnation period is extended, and vice versa.

If he destroys himself in one form or another, then even with the 10,000 years appointed on Burkhad, if he begins the path of degradation there (he is free, and no one took away the freedom of choice on Burkhad), he will begin to destroy himself or others (taking into account, that his life will be long in incarnation), then his consultants may raise the question of interrupting his incarnation ahead of time. Out of 10,000 years, he will live very little.

46:24 The reason for the short life span of earthlings. Change in human genotype after the war 12,000 years ago.

Maxim: What is the reason that earthlings have such a short life span: 80-90 years? Is it genetically programmed?

Irina: Before the war (12,000 years ago), your life span was different. About 8-10 times higher than the existing one. But then the conditions on your planet were different. This was the first factor.

The second factor is that your planet is very unstable energetically and spiritually. Therefore, the genotype of your species was changed in accordance with the spiritual structures that advise the embodied Spirits on what to do. Changes have been made to the genotype of your race so that you live that long. There was and is a reason that a longer life span for the majority of people of your race in your society and system of which I have spoken will bring a greater risk of degradation. And it will not bring new spiritual experience.

You just haven't created the conditions in society, in ideology, in all the systems of your society. You need to understand that any Spirit that incarnates on your planet initially knew about these living conditions, about the duration of its life, and voluntarily went to this incarnation. He could refuse to incarnate on this planet.

But if he had refused to incarnate on this planet, there might have been no other options left for incarnation on other planets. Because the Spirit is not yet ready for them or cannot incarnate for some reason on other planets, but can only on Earth. In any case, he could refuse incarnation and remain in the Spiritual World.

48:57 Ways to prematurely bring a person out of incarnation.

Maxim: If, due to the destructive behavior and life of a person, the Higher Self and the mentors made a decision to withdraw the rational Spirit from the incarnation, how does this happen? Deadly accident, illness or other options for withdrawal from incarnation?

Irina: These are different methods, depending on the specific circumstances. From the state of the Spirit itself, from the circumstances of his life, even from the people around him. Many factors. Each case is individual. It could be anything: a sudden illness, an attack.

Maxim: Could it be oncology too?

Irina: Any disease of the physical body. Many examples can be given when the Spirit incarnated in a place and time when they could not cope with various epidemics, and as a result many people lived little, dying in childhood from the same cholera or plague. Entire cities died. The spirit consciously went to incarnate in this place and time. He had to go through a little experience of life in these conditions, just like this.

Premature termination of embodiment may be chosen depending on the reason for which this decision was made. Usually, this is not chosen right away. First, certain signs are sent to the person, warnings that he is doing wrong. Depending on his beliefs, these can be both thoughts and meetings with different people, signals from the body, deteriorating health, and a variety of circumstances.

And only if he does not hear the signals, does not want to communicate with his Higher Self and find out this issue, try to correct the situation in order to remain in this incarnation until the appointed time, then a decision will be made to disincarnate. It can be any physical ailment, depending on his body. If he has more complex programs, lessons in which he must go through a violent death, then from an accident to an attack, for example, with a weapon on him. It could be anything.

51:42 Increasing human life expectancy.

Maxim: If earthlings nevertheless begin to actively engage in their spiritual development, then, do I understand correctly, that human life expectancy will be increased?

Irina: If we look from the point of view of the evolution of the Spirit, then if a person, an earthling, engages in his spiritual development, and even more so lives in a society that supports his aspirations, not only does not interfere, but supports them, develops them, then Spirits will incarnate here, for which development within the framework of earthly civilization is possible over a longer period of time. Yes, and lifespan. But this may not happen so quickly. A person's genotype also needs time to change properly.

52:27 The influence of the Spirit on the body. Faith. Feelings. Life expectancy in the Milky Way Galaxy.

Maxim: It turns out that the intelligent Spirit, with its energies, influences the genetics of its biological body? Genetics is kind of secondary in this regard?

Irina: Just as the Spirit influences the body, so the body influences the Spirit. In a normal ratio, the Spirit should still have more influence on the body due to its mind, due to the ability of its will to suppress instincts and many aspects that follow from this. For example, the Spirit, with its faith, can even change the physiological processes in its body, on the physical level.

What is faith? It is a certain feeling associated with certain beliefs. What are feelings and beliefs? These are spiritual structures, not material. And since he can influence chemical and biological processes in the body with his spiritual structures, it means that he also influences his genotype within certain limits.

Maxim: Does life expectancy vary greatly among different civilizations of our Galaxy?

Irina: Yes, quite different. About the same as yours, from 50-70 years to 15,000-25,000 thousand in some civilizations, on average. Yes, it is different by many orders of magnitude. The average life expectancy of many civilizations ranges from 300–600 of your Earth years.

#44 Contactor Irina Podzorova on the radio “People's Wave of Chicago”

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N52sZ20H7RI

00:01 Greetings from the presenter and studio guests. A brief history of Irina Podzorova’s contact work.

Vladimir: Dear friends, my name is Vladimir Goldstein, and we are starting a program that many are expecting today. It is called “The meeting place is planet Earth,” and we again meet with Irina Podzorova, a contactee from Voronezh, and Maxim Rusan, the head of the Center for Spiritual Development, which is also located in Voronezh. We also have guests today from the Interstellar Union. Hello Irina! Hello, Maxim!

Irina: Hello!

Maxim: Hello!

Vladimir: We can hear you well. I know that many people are really looking forward to this program. The past was an outright shock for many Chicago residents. Today, perhaps, they have already come to their senses and therefore have prepared questions. I'll repeat it again for those who don't know. Irina has been a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations for many years. This was and is physical contact - Irina happens on alien ships, as well as mental and astral contacts, that is, aliens come to her in subtle astral bodies. Who is next to you now, who is in touch with us?

Irina: Now next to me is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and LiShioni from the planet Shimor. These are the same representatives of the Interstellar Union that were with us last time.

Vladimir: I'll say a few words about the format of our program, and then we'll move on directly to the conversation. Dear radio listeners, we are doing the same as last time. Firstly, we have a completely business program, not science fiction. My personal opinion is that it makes sense to pay a lot of attention to what is being said today. We don't prove anything to anyone. We don't convince anyone of anything, we have a business format. In the first half hour I will ask a few questions, in the second half hour, dear radio listeners, we will open the microphones for your questions. I want to immediately convincingly ask you that you should not call to say that you are "for" and love us, or, conversely, "against" and hate us, that everyone here is crazy and so on. There is no need to waste energy on either one or the other. Please ask specific questions that will help you get an impression and understand what is being said and what source of information is on air. I'll briefly tell Irina's story for those who haven't heard the previous program. Irina's first contact with aliens took place in 1999, when she was 13 years old. Irina was taken onto the ship, and, as a teenager, she was not afraid to board it. The first planet she visited was the planet Daraal, the alien's name was Kirchiton. More detailed information can be read on Irina's page on the social network VKontakte, where you can also watch videos with her participation. Later, more regular contacts began to occur. Now in the subtle body next to Irina there is a representative of the Interstellar Union. The Interstellar Union has looked after us throughout our entire history of civilization and has a direct bearing on the creation of ourselves, because, as it turns out, we are genetic hybrids. We contain genes from several alien civilizations and genes from primates, from which we artificially evolved about three million years ago.

04:40 Meet the MidgasCaus family. Flights between planets. Meals on Esler, Mead's favorite dish.

Vladimir: The first question, continuing the previous topic, is for MidgasCaus. Last time they said that in your physical body you are at a base located on Earth, in a forest on the border of the Moscow and Vladimir regions. A personal question, if possible. Do you have a wife and children?

Irina: Yes, I have a wife and two children. One of the sons was born quite recently, about a month ago in your earthly reckoning, the second son is a little over two years old.

Vladimir: You are here in a physical body. Tell us in general terms how you communicate with your spouse? If a child was recently born, then there was physical contact. How does this happen: did he fly to his planet?

Maxim: How does he move from Earth to his planet?

Irina: Meade has his own spaceship with a gravitational engine, in which he travels to Esler on those days when he is not working on Earth and is not physically here. Currently it moves to Esler about once every 7-10 days for a couple of days.

Vladimir: How long does this movement take? How long does the ship take?

Irina: A flight from Earth to Esler on a ship equipped with a gravity engine takes several minutes.

Vladimir: How far does the ship travel?

Irina: 36 light years.

Vladimir: Thank you! Please tell us about your favorite food. What do you eat at the base located on Earth? Are there any earthly products there? What is your favorite dish at Esler?

Irina: Since we developed in a natural evolutionary way from those animals that consumed mainly plant and dairy foods, that is, they were mammals, like you, our body is adapted to process precisely this type of food. Therefore, the Esler way of eating involves consuming plants and dairy products from our animals. From plants we use, in earthly language, fruits, juices, nuts, which grow not on trees, but on small bushes. We also have plants growing underground, in the roots of which beneficial nutrients accumulate. We have animals that give milk. They are very similar to your yaks. We bring our products to Earth and actively study your plants in order to include them in our diet. Our body is best served by foods high in iodine and silicon, such as seaweed, various herbs that you might consider weeds, such as knotweed, various root vegetables, like your beets, which contain a lot of iodine, fruits high in iron , for example, apples, which we consume in limited quantities due to pectin, which is somewhat difficult for our bodies to process. Therefore, we are looking for ways on your planet to obtain types of food that will be free of these substances.

Vladimir: Tell me, what is your favorite dish at Esler?

Irina: It will sound like SianFroy, which personally reminded me of our boiled pumpkin with milk in appearance. This is their native plant, similar in color to our pumpkin, but it is a fruit. The dish is prepared using various herbs like our spices and milk. The image that Mead has just given me is very similar to the one described. This dish is very tasty and healthy, especially nutritious for Esler's children and adults.

Vladimir: Could we try this dish without harm to our health?

Irina: Yes, quite. There is nothing particularly harmful for you, but I don't know how much you would like it. I haven't given it to earthlings to try yet.

Vladimir: I forgot to ask, what is your wife's name?

Irina: My wife's name is Kria Si Ruar.

12:47 Shambhala. Its location in the Spiritual World and on Earth.

Vladimir: What is Shambhala, where is it located and how does it influence the development of our civilization?

Irina: This word has two meanings. Initially, this was the name of Esler's base on Earth, the name of which came from Esler's capital, Champa and Loa, which means "alien." Subsequently, this word was transferred to the name of a certain area of the Spiritual world, in which spiritual beings live, contributing to the development of other Spirits. In the language of our terminology, these are approximately the 22nd, 23rd and 24th levels, i.e. three final levels in the world of disembodied Spirits.

Maxim: There is an article on levels in the VKontakte group where you can read everything in detail.

Vladimir: That is, the inhabitants of Shambhala are not on Earth in physical bodies in some place or are they still there?

Irina: Residents of spiritual Shambhala can incarnate on Earth, since they are disembodied Spirits. The inhabitants of that Shambhala, which is still a base, moved to the northwest from its previous location in the Southern Altai region, are now on Earth. Not only the civilization from Esler is present at the base. There are many other civilizations there too.

Vladimir: Initially, the name Shambhala came precisely from the Esler civilization, the planet from which Meade arrived.

Irina: Yes, this name comes from our capital Shampa and the word Loa - “alien”.

15:22 Portal for communication with alien civilizations in Crimea.

Vladimir: Are there really several portals, points of communication with alien civilizations on the territory of Crimea? It was often stated that they were located in the Koktebel area, where the Karadag complex, Mount Boyko, in the village of Bogatyr, near Sevastopol, and so on.

Irina: I know about one alien base that is located in Crimea. It originally belonged to representatives of the planet Tumesout - one of your creators. But they haven't appeared there for a long time. Now the base is inhabited by representatives of the planet Burkhad. This is one of the largest alien bases in the former Soviet Union.

Vladimir: Can you be more precise in what region of Crimea it is located?

Irina: On the territory of Crimea. I cannot give information about the exact location of the base without the permission of its creators.

16:49 Aliens from Esler. Contacts with earthlings. The purpose of aliens being on Earth. Recognition of God.

Vladimir: Thank you! Let's move on to calls from our listeners. Here's the first question.

Listener: Does the alien with whom you spoke have a physical body, or is it only a Soul that cannot be seen? Do aliens accept the idea that everything created, including themselves, is the creation of a Supreme Intelligence, which on Earth is called God? Has the alien made contact with scientists, and what is his purpose for being here? Do they affect our existence here in any way, and in what way? Or do they not have an effect?

Vladimir: Let me briefly answer that in the physical body, Meade is now at the base, which is located in the forest on the border of the Moscow and Vladimir regions. Here, with Irina, he is in his astral subtle body. For other questions, please, we are waiting for answers.

Irina: Have you come into contact with scientists? He says that he has 36 official contactees on Earth, who were assigned to him by the Esler government, but according to the rules of the Interstellar Union, he cannot talk about them to anyone without their permission, even to his other contactees, so as not to open the contact, because many contacts are hidden.

The purpose of Mead's stay on Earth is to realize his desire to work specifically with representatives of planet Earth. When Mead learned about it from the materials of the Interstellar Union, he immediately wanted to convey to us what he knew and could do. He liked the representatives of our world, and he decided to go to study to become a specialist in contacts with the Earth.

Maxim: I will add that they recognize the one Creator God just like us. It can be called differently: God, the Creator, the Absolute, the Universe and everything that surrounds us was created by God, and they all recognize this.

Irina: They recognize the part of reality we see in the visible material Universe as one of the infinitesimal facets of God, the Absolute, the Supreme Mind.

Vladimir: Thank you! Let's take the next question. We are listening to you, you are on the air. (The listener utters insulting words about the mental state of the participants in the conversation). We ask our listeners to leave the negativity with them. If they are unable to restrain themselves and cannot ask a specific question, then it is better to be left alone with their negativity.

We'll take another call now. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

Listener: Good afternoon! Please tell me, the character who is talking to us, does he know that NASA exists - an organization that is preparing to fly to the Moon and Mars in 2024? Maybe they can contribute to this organization so that there are no large costs, because they already know everything about space flights. Thank you!

Vladimir: After the commercial break, we will definitely answer the questions asked.

22:40 Views on the ever-virginity of the Virgin Mary from the Interstellar Union and the Christian Church.

Vladimir: Dear friends! We continue the live broadcast of the teleconference with Voronezh, where Irina Podzorova, a contactee with representatives of the Interstellar Union, is located, as well as Maxim Rusan, the head of the Center for Spiritual Development.

We accept questions from our listeners.

Listener: I am the priest Father Michael. The question is, why such an unprincipled attitude towards Mary's ever-virginity? Ever-virginity is one of the fundamental and unshakable dogmas of the Church of Christ. Even if you say that the conception was immaculate, but the Virgin Mary remains the Virgin Mary in all centuries. She did not have any children - this is the unshakable foundation of the teachings of the church. Ever-virginity is an unshakable title, categorically fundamental. If there is even the slightest doubt about the ever-virginity of Mary, then the representatives who claim to be disciples of Jesus Christ are liars. Ever-virginity is untouchable; it is a gift from God.

Vladimir: We will now answer this question, and then the question about NASA and flights to Mars, which was asked before the pause. For those who do not know, I will say that there was a channeling with a disciple of Jesus Christ, Mirah Count. You can get acquainted with it on Irina's page. There was a discussion about the Virgin Mary on the question asked by Father Michael.

Irina: Hello! Father Mikhail, I greet you! All the data that Mirah Count gave regarding the Virgin Mary was taken from the Interstellar Union data, including about her children. Mead does not want to contradict any canons and dogmas of the church, but he also has no right not to talk about the data of the Interstellar Union for obvious reasons. Because they are who they are. If you have doubts about the representatives of the Interstellar Union, that is your right, but information that is already recorded as historical fact cannot be changed due to the fact that it is not accepted by any representative of the church.

Why is this not reflected in the dogmas of the church? Mead will express his personal opinion on the formation of the Christian egregor. Initially, when the apostles of Christ formed the teaching, that is, wrote their Gospels and messages, they did not consider it important to initially indicate information about the children of the Virgin Mary. Because they did not imagine that it would become so important in the future. The fact is that in the Jewish consciousness, the presence of children of a woman could in no way discredit her or give her any shade of voluptuousness. No one saw anything special in the appearance of children after Christ, especially since she was a married woman, engaged to her husband, this is a fact known in Scripture, her husband's name was Joseph. Although he is not the natural blood father of Jesus Christ, he continued to be her husband. Therefore, none of the apostles was surprised by the appearance of children. The doctrine that she was pure, in Mead's personal opinion, arose due to the fact that they wanted to give her a certain shade of divinity, to equate her with the Angels. Not even just to the Angels, but so that in the minds of people she becomes an unearthly goddess. It was such a completely understandable technique, a goddess in a figurative sense. The fact that she did not give birth to more children means that she is not vicious and is a goddess. This is a well-known teaching. But we must understand that these were not Christians, they used Jewish logic. For them, having children was considered a virtue. The presence of children of the Mother of God could not discredit her in any way for the reason that she gave birth to them in a legal marriage, not in betrayal of her husband. The Apostle Paul in his Epistle to the Hebrews clearly wrote that marriage is honorable and the bed undefiled. And since the bed is immaculate, it means that the fruits of this bed are gifts of God, and not some unknown creatures. There is no contradiction here with the dogmas of the church, because they were formed on the basis, among other things, of the writings of the Apostle Paul. The only problem for the church is that your people will begin to find out what descendants of Mary's children remain on Earth. And since she is considered to be united with the Holy Spirit, this means that her children and further descendants can be endowed with some sacred properties. But this is not true at all. Spirits, just like you and me, incarnated from different levels, and a person's origin from one kind or another does not matter, but only his life in the body matters, that is, what he will achieve in this life.

This is the answer to the first question of dear Father Mikhail. It's a shame, but there's nothing more to add to the Interstellar Union information provided by Mirah Count.

Now let's answer the question about NASA's help in the flight to Mars.

30:25 Helping NASA fly to Mars. Americans on the Moon.

Irina: Direct participation of members of the Interstellar Union in the technical, political or scientific development of earthly society, which is not included in the Interstellar Union, is prohibited by its rules. The reasons are that, firstly, each civilization that has not entered the Interstellar Union is allowed to develop independently, that is, through trial and error, to find its own correct path of development. The second, more serious reason is that if, at the current level of development among earthlings of morality, ethics, spirituality and other concepts fundamental in the society of the Interstellar Union, we are given knowledge and technical means that allow them to quickly move around the Galaxy, then there will be a lot of problems with your scientists, military men, politicians already throughout the Galaxy. The Interstellar Union does not want any clashes, but with such a low level of public morality, our scientists believe that this is inevitable. For this reason, earthlings cannot be given practical assistance in exploring other planets. At the same time, our scientists are watching your research with great interest, because you are still trying to explore other celestial bodies using those types of engines that move very slowly in space and which do this at the cost of a lot of energy. Many politicians and scientists of the Interstellar Union predicted a human visit to Mars by 2020, namely by a living person, not by rovers. Unfortunately, there is no tendency yet to make a flight to Mars a reality, but anything is possible, this year has just begun for you. So, perhaps in the near future you will visit this planet yourself.

Maxim: MidgasCaus, a question that interests many: were the Americans on the Moon?

Irina: Yes, they were.

Vladimir: All those times that are known from official information happened?

Maxim: What do you mean all times?

Vladimir: There was more than one flight.

Irina: After studying your history, it is reliably known about a visit to the Moon at the end of July 1969. For other dates unknown.

Vladimir: I'll read the messages from the chat. Renat Ibragimov writes: "Leader, tell them for them, you apparently know more." Renat, I know just like you. You can read the rest on Irina's VKontakte page. Natalya Pavlova writes: "I'm shocked. I knew that the people were dense, but to see it with my own eyes, in this format. Now I'm like a child in a circus, looking with all my eyes. What kind of miracle is this? This is a masterpiece." Renat Ibragimov: "Please ask who they are for? For the Reds, Whites, Blues or, like everyone else, for Putin?"

Maxim: We don't get involved in politics.

Vladimir: We are taking the next call.

34:48 Communication between aliens. The appearance of MidgasCaus.

Listener: How do they communicate with each other? How does a person walk, jump, how many eyes?

Maxim: I'll translate. Mid, how do you communicate with each other, and what do you look like?

Irina: In the physical world, we communicate with each other just like you, through the organs of speech. When we are in the astral world, as we are now, it is through the transmission of thought forms.

In the physical body, the height of Eslerites is from 150 to 175 cm on average, their skin color is brown, the younger Eslerites are lighter, the older generation is darker. A characteristic feature of our race is wrinkled skin, even young people have wrinkles on their face, neck, and hands. Yellow eyes with a black vertical pupil. There is hair, mostly dark in color, less often light. The ears are not the same shape as yours, they are larger in size, pointed at the top, somewhat similar to elves.

Maxim: Two eyes, one nose, one mouth. Everything is like ours.

Irina: I can be in any form in the astral body. To make communication more comfortable for the contactee, I take on the image of an earthly young man.

37:50 Why did Jesus entrust John the Baptist with the care of his mother after the crucifixion?

Vladimir: Thank you! We are taking the next call. We are listening to you, you are on the air. This is Father Mikhail.

Listener: When Christ hung on the cross in his last hours and minutes, he gave his assignment not to some children, because they were not relatives, but he instructed John to look after his mother. Therefore, we do not touch upon her ever-virginity, because she is the second Eve. She had no partiality for earthly instinct. It is fundamentally. Everything the student says is a lie.

Irina: Father Mikhail, I sincerely ask you to forgive me and MidgasCaus, but indeed, these data from the Interstellar Union conflict with the data of the church. When Christ hung on the cross, he knew very well that his brothers and sisters, who by age were already able to care for their mother, at that moment were leaving with a caravan to another country to earn money. At that time, many made money by trading with other countries. The other children were still teenagers and could not look after their mother. She needed supervision because at the time of the crucifixion of Jesus, Joseph was no longer in the world of the living, and in that society a man was needed who could protect her and support her. At that time, there was patriarchy in their society, and a man was responsible for any woman. In the ancient world, this was widespread, in Judea, in Egypt, in India, in Slavic countries: the father was responsible for the daughter, the husband was responsible for the wife, and the son or her older brother was responsible for the widow or unmarried woman, in general , someone from the family. Since her children had not yet reached the age capable of caring for their mother, Jesus handed her over to his beloved disciple, practically his brother, John the Theologian.

Maxim: Brother physically or spiritually?

Irina: In spiritual terms, he was closer than his physical brother, so Jesus handed it over to him. He did not entrust this care to his disciples, Mary Magdalene, for example, since they were women. He assigned the man who he thought would best carry out this mission. Because some of her sons who could take care of her were not in the country, and others, due to their minority, could not take care of her.

43:15 Requirements for earthlings to join the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: Do I understand correctly that in order for all of us to have the opportunity to take advantage of all the achievements of the Interstellar Union: scientific, related to the treatment of diseases, and so on, we must join the Interstellar Union and meet certain requirements? What are these requirements?

Irina: When the Earth joins the Interstellar Union, then all technologies will be shared with you - medical, scientific, technical, cultural and everything that the Interstellar Union itself has. In order for the Earth to join the Union, permission from the entire Interstellar Union is required, which it will give after fulfilling all the conditions for the Earth. The most important of them is the absence of organized military actions, that is, wars, on your planet for at least five years. The second important requirement is to bring political and military structures into such an organization that a real and tough fight against corruption, the spread of drugs, weapons, and so on is carried out. So that every representative of the Interstellar Union understands that a person comes to your power structures to lead the people to build a fair and spiritual society, and not to use this power for their own purposes.

These are the two most important conditions from which all the others follow. Such as clearing the earth of garbage, the mandatory adoption of a law that prohibits all capital punishment on the entire planet, and the replacement of executions with special places where prisoners can stay for a very long time or even for life and work for their own maintenance and for the maintenance of the state where they committed crime, as practiced in the Interstellar Union. And it is imperative to repeal the law that allows the killing of unborn children. This shouldn't happen. These are fundamental things where the life of any person is respected from the moment of his conception.

Vladimir: Are we talking about banning abortion?

Irina: This is not about banning abortions for medical reasons, when nothing can be done and it threatens the life of another person. We are talking about termination of pregnancy for social reasons, when everything is in order with the health of both the unborn child and his mother. All human life is respected from the moment of conception.

Vladimir: This is a global issue, in which there are nuances related to termination of pregnancy. We have calls, but we don't have time to answer. We will continue our communication. Thank you so much, Mid! Thank you very much for the communication Irina and Maxim! Thanks everyone!

Maxim: We would like to add. We did not want to violate the rights of believers. We have an absolutely adequate attitude towards the Christian religious egregor, and Buddhism, and Islam. We respect believers. Egregors were created specifically so as not to confuse people and lead them to the true light of Love of our Creator, who originally created this Light. We respect this.

Vladimir: Thank you very much. See you again on air!

#45 Urgent. Coronavirus through the eyes of the Interstellar Union. Whose invention is this?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/koronavirus-glazami-mezhzvezdnogo-soyuza https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zD0qUVsLYos

00:01 Origin of coronavirus.

Irina: Raom Tiyan says that in any case, from research it has become clear that this is, after all, a biological weapon.

Why military weapons, and not a mutated virus in natural conditions? Because there are inserts in the RNA chain that cannot possibly exist in such places under natural conditions.

The virus consists of three fragments: there is a virus there from bats, from snakes, and from humans. And all this is connected in such nucleotide sequences that have a one in a million chance of such a formation.

Whose invention is this?

We still believe that since this is not the first time this has occurred in China, Hong Kong, etc. And they have already become systematically affected by this type of virus that causes pneumonia of various types, then we believe that this experiments of the Chinese intelligence services themselves. Only a limited number of people know about them, maybe only a dozen in all of China, because we did not trace and did not see that some saboteur could spray it there.

By all indications, it looks like this is their invention, especially since there is a bacteriological laboratory nearby in Hong Kong.

Maxim: That is, where he appeared?

Irina: Well, not in this city, but not far from Hong Kong.

02:04 The goals of creating the coronavirus.

Vladimir Goldstein : Is the virus out of control, or was it deliberately released and they are watching how it behaves?

Irina : We believe that those who created this virus are not so much looking at its action as a military weapon, but looking at how quickly they can find a vaccine for it, how quickly other countries can find medicines against it, how it affects different segments of the population: on men, women and children, how it generally affects offspring.

There was also a second goal, probably the most obvious - reducing the size of China.

Because this is a very acute problem for them.

02:47 Intelligence services and their awareness regarding coronavirus.

Vladimir Goldstein: Okay, but do the intelligence services of other countries understand this?

Irina: Well, of course, there is suspicion in many countries, including the Russians. Naturally, this is just a suspicion, because the most ordinary military and police in China, and people from the special services do not know this, only high-ranking people and not all of them .

I say that only a few dozen people, at most a few dozen people, are secretly initiated into this.

The fact is that what is its peculiarity and difference from other influenza viruses?

In general, the flu can be caused by different types of viruses, as is known.

03:31 Characteristics of coronavirus and its effect on the human body.

What exactly is different about coronavirus?

The fact is that, firstly, it has a long incubation period, during which it can be invisible and spread.

And second, it greatly suppresses the human immune system. The immune system does not have time to release antibodies before the virus infects the lungs, for example, and the person simply cannot breathe. It also disrupts cardiac activity, etc. But in order to maintain your immunity at the proper level and recover from this coronavirus, we advise you not to use antiviral drugs like Remantadine, as they may not be effective.

04:20 Immunostimulants as an auxiliary treatment before the creation of an effective vaccine.

We advise, however, to use immunostimulants that are based on the Thymus, such as “Timalin” or “T-Activin”. These drugs will alleviate pathological manifestations and greatly reduce the risk of mortality from this virus.

In general, Timalin and T-activin are indicated for any cases of acute respiratory infections caused by any types of viruses. And a vaccine has not yet been created.

This is the advice Raom Tiyan gives.

Participants: Irina Podzorova, Maxim Rusan, Vladimir Goldstein - Cassiopeia project and Raom Tiyan - representative of the Interstellar Union.

#46 Contactor Irina Podzorova on the radio “People's Wave of Chicago”. The Mind of God, Evolution, Hell and Heaven

00:00

Vladimir : Dear friends, hello. My name is Vladimir Goldstein, and today we are starting the third program in the series: “The meeting place is Planet Earth,” where our guests are two people who are now in Voronezh. This is contactee Irina Podzorova and next to her is Maxim Rusan, head of the Center for Spiritual Development. Also with them is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler. He is in the astral body next to Irina, and in the physical body, as we found out, he is at a special base, which is located in the forest, on the border of the Moscow and Vladimir regions. Hello, Irina, Maxim. How can you hear us?

Maxim : Hello. I can hear you perfectly.

Vladimir: Great. We can hear you perfectly well too. We will talk first, since I have a few questions, and then, as always, we will open the microphones, and you can ask questions to MidgasCaus through Irina.

01:18 Prayer for exorcism (Psalm 50), safety of contact.

Vladimir: Today there is such a feature in the program: Father Mikhail, a priest and a good friend of mine, who last time called our program, very much doubted and still doubts that we are dealing with pure Power. Or maybe we are dealing with an evil spirit? And so he convincingly asked Irina to first read the well-known Orthodox prayer for the exorcism of demons, and if I’m not mistaken, then this is Psalm 50: “May God be strong...”. Irina agreed. I see that everything is already prepared: there is incense and a candle. Irina, are you ready to say a prayer now? And we must understand what will happen next. And MidgasKaus, if he doesn't disappear like a demon, will comment on what's happening, right?

Maxim : The prayer is good enough, so Irina and I decided to read it together.

Vladimir: Great. I think everyone will be happy. First of all, this is Father Mikhail. And I don't mind, so please let's get started. We must cross ourselves when we read, since this is a prayer to the Life-Giving Cross.

Maxim : Let's start, and I'll continue.

Irina and Maxim: May God rise again, and may His enemies be scattered, and may those who hate Him flee from His face. As the smoke disappears, let them disappear; as wax melts in the presence of fire, so let demons perish from the face of those who love God and signify themselves with the sign of the cross, and who say in joy: Rejoice, Most Honorable and Life-Giving Cross of the Lord, drive away demons by the power of our crucified Lord Jesus Christ on you, who descended into hell and trampled upon the power the devil, and who gave us your honorable cross to drive away every adversary. Oh, Most Honorable and Life-Giving Cross of the Lord! Help me with the Holy Virgin Mary and with all the saints forever. Amen.

Vladimir: Thank you. Tell me, do we have a mirrored image here, or did you cross yourself with your left hand? I'm just trying to understand.

Maxim : Right.

Vladimir: We have a mirrored image here. There was a right hand, everything was fine. I hope Father Mikhail heard us too.

03:42 The action of the prayer of exorcism.

Vladimir: Firstly, I once again welcome MidgasCaus and would like to ask you to comment on what is happening.

Irina: Mid, how would you comment on what is happening? He says that he is already accustomed to such testing, but not from him specifically, but from other aliens, his friends from the Interstellar Union. Similar checks have already taken place. They were conducted by contactees. Many religious people perceive phenomena that they do not understand with great caution. After all, this is how the instinct of self-preservation works.

Vladimir: Does this prayer itself have power? How does it work to drive out demons and dark energy?

Irina: She creates special vibrations in the Astral, from which dark Spirits with low vibrations will not be able to be here. They will move away because it will hurt them.

Vladimir: Not comfortable, to put it mildly.

Irina: Yes. That is, high vibrations will burn them, as it were.

Vladimir: Okay. We performed the ritual. Contact with MidgasCaus was not interrupted. As far as I understand, all the demons have been exorcised, but Mead remains. Good news. Our program has not been disrupted and continues. I basically thought so. I really hope that after this neither Father Mikhail nor anyone else will tell us that we put the emphasis in the wrong place or the comma and therefore nothing happened. Or that we communicate with demons, whom even prayers do not respond to, they are so close to the source of all evil. Otherwise, you won't prove anything to anyone anyway. Fine. Before we open the microphones, a few questions from me. And, taking advantage of my official position, I want to ask them.

06:14 The emergence of organic life.

Vladimir: Scientists just can't understand how organic life arose in the first place? How did inanimate matter turn into living matter? Did it first appear in space or on Earth, and how did it happen?

Irina: Organic life did not first arise on planets. It arose even before the formation of planets from dust clouds that were around stars. The original organic life, in the form of protozoa, similar to modern protozoa bacteria and viruses, arose in space. Because many living microorganisms can withstand the state of vacuum and space cold. And all this arose due to the fact that there was so-called directed evolution. What is understood is not the elemental Force that created organic substances from various molecules, but the directed Mind of God. This is how they understand in the Interstellar Union that God, with his Mind, directs his energy to the movement of each atom. His Mind composes these molecules as if from a construction set. And thanks to this, the first organic substances arose, which combined into more complex substances and formed the first forms of life - microorganisms. But we must always remember that microorganisms, any material bodies (from microbes to huge creatures) necessarily have an embodiment either in an animal Soul or in a rational Spirit. Single animals of the Soul, as well as group animals of the Soul, were created from various energies by plasmoids, that is, by us, when we lived in the form of plasmoids. There were no material bodies then. Plasmoid thin-material worlds appeared much earlier than the physical Universe.

Vladimir: I see.

Maxim: Plasmoids are subtle-material Worlds: their body consists of energy.

Vladimir: This was more of a general theoretical question, which, perhaps, is not of interest to everyone. The next question will be very pressing, and it probably interests a lot of people.

09:23 Events of September 11, 2001 in the USA.

Vladimir: Is the well-known tragedy in the United States on September 11th the way we all think about it, the way we should think about it, or was there something else behind all this? And what is the attitude of the representatives of the Interstellar Union to all this?

Maxim: We will not get involved in politics.

Vladimir: This is not exactly politics.

Irina: The information that the Interstellar Union has about this incident, which is recorded as part of the history of your planet, in any case, does not differ from what you know. The reason was precisely religious fanaticism, hatred and, among other things, not only religious, but also national. The reason was a terrorist attack. Our reason is no different from yours.

Vladimir: I see.

Irina: This is another example of what faith in God without love can lead to. Faith without love makes a person a fanatic and even a terrorist who believes that he is doing a good deed for God by destroying those people who do not agree with his idea of God.

10:55 Quantum transition of the Earth.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you. The next question is: are certain events really awaiting us, which are sometimes called the quantum transition of the Earth to some other level. They say that one part of these events is expected in March of this year. Are there any serious changes awaiting us on a subtle or non-subtle level? About this, please.

Irina: These changes are already underway. It's a continuous process. You are in the process of this quantum transition. When it will end and with what results for you - this largely depends on the amount of positive energy that is in the noosphere of your planet. This means that the higher the vibration of your astral atmosphere, the easier and faster the transition will be for you. By the word “transition”, I mean the transition to a state of vibration of the planet, which will attract high-vibration Spirits from the 15th level and above to incarnate. Now you still have a smaller percentage of incarnations from these levels, compared to levels such as from 1st to 15th.

12:23 Hitler's suicide.

Vladimir: Did Hitler really commit suicide in May 1945 or did he live after the war? If so, where and when did he die?

Irina: According to the Interstellar Union, which was received from his inner circle, everything that was said about his suicide is true.

12:57 Contactor Vanga, planet Vamfim.

Vladimir: Vanga said that she is a contactee, and the inhabitants of the planet Vamfim contact her. What kind of planet is this? Do you know about this? Was she a contactee? And a similar question about Wolf Messing: was he a contactee of some civilization?

Irina: Both Vanga and Messing were both contactees of different planets. What Vanga called planet Vamfim is the self-name of one of the planets in the Arcturus system, which is very close to our star system, where Esler is located.

14:03 Location of planet Esler.

Vladimir: Please remind us where Esler is located and what is the distance to it in the solar system.

Irina: 36 light years. Esler is located in the star system Eta Bootes. It is not far from the star Arcturus, which is the star of Alpha Bootes.

14:19 Star system of the planet Esler.

Vladimir: How many planets are there in this star system, besides Esler?

Irina: In the system of our star?

Vladimir: In the system in which Esler is located.

Irina: There are 8 planets in the system in which Esler is located. Of these, only three are inhabited: our planet and two more of them are inhabited by our own colonies.

14:52 Contactor Wolf Messing.

Irina: And Wolf Messing was a contactee of the planet Disaru, and he was in contact with the one who on Earth is known as Saint Germain - an inhabitant of the planet Disaru, who lived on Earth under the guise of an earthling. As I already said, the inhabitants of Disaru are your direct descendants: they are absolutely indistinguishable from you, neither genetically, nor biologically, nor energetically. The only difference is that they have a longer lifespan due to the fact that they were immediately taken to Disara, and they did not live on Earth after the disaster. And another difference is that their planet is part of the Interstellar Union, and they have contactees on Earth.

Vladimir: Did Messing know that it was an alien who was in contact with him?

Irina : Yes, I knew.

16:04 Contactors Nikola Tesla and Konstantin Tsiolkovsky.

Vladimir: What was the Tunguska meteorite, and did Tesla have anything to do with this phenomenon? And at the same time, was Nikola Tesla also a contactee?

Irina: Yes, Nikola Tesla was a contactee. But he did not do these experiments that could cause such consequences. He understood perfectly well what this would lead to. He was a contactee of the planet Burkhad, like Konstantin Tsiolkovsky.

16:36 Tunguska meteorite.

Irina: The Tunguska meteorite is the nucleus of a comet, which seemed to melt and did not reach the Earth. They show a piece of ice and individual stones that were frozen into it and flew to the Earth. And since the comet was large, upon contact with the atmosphere and sudden heating, an explosion occurred, and the blast wave already caused such destruction. In fact, the fall of many meteorites that were part of the tail of this comet began long before the Tunguska meteorite itself. Over the course of many months, people began to notice that starfalls, as they called them, had become more frequent. A lot of small pebbles fell. It was the Earth passing through the comet's tail. Because the tail of a comet can stretch for many thousands of kilometers, which consist of individual pebbles and dust particles burning in the Earth's atmosphere.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you.

18:07 Roswell contact.

Vladimir: Please tell me, did the Roswell contact with aliens really take place? This is a well-known story in the United States, after which the wrecked ship and the remains of aliens ended up in the hands of the US government (such rumors persist)?

Irina: Unfortunately, representatives of the planet Tashig did not provide information about the fall to the Interstellar Union. The Interstellar Union only knows that there was contact between Tashig representatives and earthlings. But the planet Tashig exercised its legal right not to report to the Interstellar Union details about the capture or voluntary contact between representatives of Tashig and the Earth, because each planet has the right not to report private things that concern only it. Therefore, all we know is that contact really occurred, but whether it was violent on the part of the earthlings or the Tashigans themselves agreed to it, and under what conditions, the Tashigans did not provide.

Vladimir: I see. We should now have an informational advertising break, friends, stay with us, after a short break we will continue, and you can ask questions. Thank you.

with 19:38 by 24:08 Advertisement

Vladimir: Well, friends, we continue the program: “The meeting place is planet Earth.” We have a video of the bridge with Voronezh on air. Irina Podzorova, Maxim Rusan are there, and next to Irina is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler - this is 36 light years from the Sun. And we talk about different topics here. There is no need to say how ardently you support us, or, conversely, how much you dislike us. If you are interested in specific questions and you want to get answers: who do we contact, who does Irina contact, then please. We are waiting for specific questions.

25:09 Bermuda Triangle.

Vladimir: I hope many people are interested in the following question: what, after all, is the Bermuda Triangle? Is this really some kind of portal to other worlds, to other planets, etc.?

Irina: The Bermuda Triangle is not a single portal. There is a whole channel of portals that go to plasmoid worlds. In this place, where the Atlantic Ocean is now, there was (before the war with the Selbetites) a single continent on Earth. Almost in this place, with a slight deviation, there was a large city in which there were contactees, and, among other things, there was an alien base. Representatives of your creators lived on one of the alien bases: the Tumesoutians and the Burkhadians. Representatives from the entire Interstellar Union also flew to it. After the war, she unfortunately found herself under water. There was a crack in the bottom and it ended up underneath the ocean floor. And practically, in the same place, with a slight shift, a portal was formed, because there were contacts with various kinds of plasmoid civilizations. During the war, many people and aliens died. All this created such energy in this place that a channel of portals was created there, going to many plasmoid worlds.

27:20 House and child of MidgasKaus.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you. Ira, a question for you personally. You said that you were on the planet Esler in the house of MidgasKaus, and even held his child in your arms, is that true?

Irina: Of course.

Vladimir: Can you describe it a little more? I just think that many people will be interested in everyday details: the situation in the house, whether there were any smells there, such everyday, simple moments.

Irina: I remember that we went there with Kirkhiton, when Kirkhiton brought me there on a plate. We were walking down the street. There, the houses are quite far from each other. And I saw that their house was shaped like a drop, only it was directed with the wide side up and the narrow side down. So it's made strangely. The color of the walls of the houses is oblique colored stripes: white stripe, blue stripe, etc. When we entered the house, there were 3 rooms. The color inside the house is somewhere between greenish and blue.

Vladimir: When you held the child in your arms, were there any special sensations? Are there any fundamental differences?

Irina: I sat down like benches along the walls. They are quite wide and brown in color. They are not made of wood or metal, but, like Kirchiton's on the ship, they seem to be made of some kind of plastic to the touch. When I picked him up, he was wearing long dark green clothes, like a robe, only without buttons and with wide sleeves. I took it and he looked at me.

Vladimir: What did he smell like? Was there any smell?

Irina: Nothing.

Vladimir: Nothing?

Irina: I don't know, I don't remember. I don't pay attention to such things.

Vladimir: Okay. Thank you.

Maxim: I gave the child a gift. This is a toy: you do it like this and it spins.

Vladimir: That is, now Esler has a gift from Maxim.

Maxim: Yes, yes, the child.

30:47 Loch Ness monster.

Vladimir: Another question. It is also very specific, you know, this is from the series of burning mysteries of the century: there is a Loch Ness monster - Nessie, or what is it then? Is there really some kind of plesiosaur lost in Loch Ness in Scotland, or is this, after all, PR?

Irina: What people saw is a creature, but it does not relate specifically to dinosaurs. Initially, they could see some large fish, for example, which was there and scared someone. And then it all became overgrown with legends, and people began to see plasmoids, for example, which are Spirits of the same water and can take on different forms. And for a person who is waiting to see something, it is easier for them to appear before him in an image, since he is already tuned to the vibrations that they need.

The Eslerites did not conduct research on this particular lake, but according to the information that we have, no prehistoric animals live there.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you.

Irina: Prehistoric, i.e. those who lived before the war, i.e. We're talking about dinosaurs here.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you. I'll read to you what the listener writes in the chat, and I'll translate it from English for you: "I don't understand, today is April 1st, or what?"

The date today is not April 1, I have a different date here, but it doesn't matter.

Maxim: We are already accustomed, especially to the questions "What do you smoke?"

Vladimir: Oh, here's a specific question: "Please tell me, what is the difference between heaven and hell, and where is it better to strive?" Where it is better to strive, he will decide for himself, but what is the difference?

Irina: Where is it better to strive?

Maxim: No, what's the difference?

Vladimir: Let's take the call now and answer this question too.

33:18 Appearance of MidgasCaus.

Listener: Hello. Irina is talking to a person or not to a person, what does he look like? And then, she talks to him, or he explains with some gestures, or maybe she can tell us something in that language? Thank you.

Vladimir: You heard the question, right?

Irina: Yes, we heard the question.

Maxim: How do you communicate with them?

Irina: Yes, in what language, gestures or voice.

Vladimir: And they asked me to say something in their language.

Irina: Did you ask me to say something in their language?

Vladimir: Yes. As far as I understand.

Irina: She asked how much I understood her, how I heard them, gestures, and in what language, what they looked like.

Vladimir: Yes, and besides, as I understand it, there's something else to say. That's what I heard.

Irina: What does he look like? Physical body or astral?

Vladimir: I think we are talking about the physical.

Maxim: More about the physical moment than the astral one.

Irina: Height is 1 meter 70 and a little higher, that is, they are almost our height, the skin is brown, wrinkled, even among young Eslerites. If he is younger, then his skin will be lighter in tone, and if he is older, then it will be darker. The eyes are yellow and their pupils are black and vertical, just like a cat's. The hair is of different colors, but mostly dark, although there is also light hair. They have long, pointed ears at the ends, and they are larger than ours.

Maxim: Like the elves.

Irina: Like the elves.

35:16 Method of communication between a contactee and a representative of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: I'm talking to him. He is now in the astral body, and he transmits thought forms and thought images to me. This is a flow of thoughts and images at the same time. They arise in my mind when I ask him a question, I hear it as inner speech, i.e. not with your ears, but, as it were, inside yourself. I understand that this is MidgasKaus speaking, but I'm already used to it. We have been in contact for a long time, and he naturally speaks Russian, because representatives of the Interstellar Union can contact us, who have undergone special training, who have studied our language, culture, religion, science, psychology, without fail, because otherwise they will not be allowed to contact . They undergo special training and pass exams in those subjects that they will need during contacts with earthlings. Therefore, naturally, he speaks Russian to me, just like Kirchiton. When he was in the physical body, he also spoke to me in Russian, because they believe that this is correct: since he flew to the contactee, then he should speak the language in which he speaks.

Vladimir: Can you say something in Esler's language?

Irina: What can I say?

Maxim: "Son, go home."

Irina: Now.

Maxim: This is our first time trying this.

Vladimir: We need to start learning the language.

Irina: Son, go home: "Ruar lausi pitcardi."

Vladimir: We recorded it. We have a call.

Listener: Hello, please tell me, can I ask questions about the future or only about the past, or the present?

Maxim: Preferably about the present.

Listener: Can't we talk about the future?

Maxim: The future is changeable.

Vladimir: There are options for the future, we cannot answer you for sure.

Listener: Can I try?

Maxim: Try it.

37:42 Development of the Russian-Ukrainian conflict.

Listener: Please tell me, will there be a full-scale war, and will Russia attack Ukraine or not?

Vladimir: Essential question. Thank you.

Maxim: Will Russia attack Ukraine, MidgasKaus, what do you think? Will there be a full-scale war?

Irina: The Interstellar Union really hopes that a full-scale war in the region and on Earth in general can be avoided. Still, the reason of politicians will prevail over emotions, over negative desires, over their instinctive needs to have more territories. Reason will take over. Not even the mind, but the elementary instinct of self-preservation. After all, politicians cannot fail to understand that the use of serious weapons, even if they do not recognize the existence of aliens, i.e. Interstellar Union, that the use of nuclear weapons by one side of the conflict will cause retaliatory strikes with the same weapons, which will lead to the destruction of the entire Earth. Therefore, we hope that the desire to live on Earth, the desire to have our descendants here, to develop will block the evil, the negative principle in people, which forces them to press the gun button, despite the light of love, which, in fact, exists in each of us and of you.

Vladimir: I see, thank you.

We accept the call. We are listening to you, you are on the air.

Listener: Good afternoon.

Vladimir: Hello.

Listener: I want to thank all of our leaders in Illinois for allowing weed to be sold on January 1st, thank you.

Vladimir: Thank you. Probably, we should have given thanks not here, but in some other place.

40:16 Using microwave ovens.

Vladimir: Also a simple, specific question. Please tell me whether microwave ovens are harmful or not? Can I use them?

Irina: Microwave ovens can be used. Are they harmful? If you follow safety rules, i.e. ventilate, for example, the room after use, do not touch them during operation, then the radiation from them is not much higher than from your main modern equipment. You also need to remember that in your world there is now so much artificial radiation from radio stations, from your means of communication, etc., that even if you do not use the Internet or any sources of electric fields, then all the same, your body is penetrated every second by very many waves. Because in this world you live in, it is no longer possible to hide from them. In any case, you are susceptible to them, no matter where you live. The proof of this is that as soon as you take a radio, tune in to certain waves, you will immediately hear music, speech, and all this does not just appear in space. These are the same radio waves, i.e. one of the forms of radiation. And the fact that you do not hear what is happening in the ether, in the frequencies of electromagnetic radiation, does not mean that it does not exist. In any case, because your senses are not tuned to perception, you need an antenna. An antenna is another receptor that can pick up radio waves and transmit them in a form of energy that you can understand more easily. Therefore, even while already living on this planet, you are exposed to radiation.

Vladimir: That is, food can be heated. The answer is clear.

Irina: Yes, it is possible.

42:43 Distinguishes heaven and hell.

Vladimir: Let us answer the listener's question about hell and heaven. What is the fundamental difference between hell and heaven so that our listener understands where to go. He is choosing.

Irina: There is one fundamental difference between heaven and hell. In your language, in the frequency of vibrations. Heaven and hell are not places, they are states of any human Spirit: incarnate and non-incarnate, that is, anyone. And here, specifically on Earth, is the human condition. The state of paradise is the state of the closest possible connection with God in the form that the incarnate Spirit can generally perceive in this material world. This merging is possible when the vibration frequency of the human Spirit and the vibration frequency of Divine energies coincide. The state of hell is a mismatch, an imbalance of the vibrations of the human Spirit and the vibrations of Divine energies, which are so different that when high vibrations come into contact with lower vibrations, the lower vibrations experience a complete imbalance of their own essence, which is expressed in sensations of burning, pain and other unpleasant painful feelings.

Vladimir: This is hellfire.

Irina: This happens because the frequency of vibrations artificially increases.

Maxim: Therefore, priests and bright people have the opportunity to expel low vibrational creatures that tried to inhabit people.

Vladimir: Because their vibrations are higher, and they expel the lower ones with a higher vibration.

Irina: Yes. The state of Paradise, the state of contact with Divine energy is possible. For a person on Earth and his embodied Spirit, it is possible only in one state, the state of absolute unconditional Love for God, for oneself and for all neighbors that one meets. Unconditional, i.e. not demanding anything in return for her Love.

Vladimir: Thank you. Let's take another call.

Listener: Tell me, why doesn't this man from another planet speak English? Our language is spoken by 1/6 of the planet, but what about other other languages: Hebrew, for example, Chinese?

Vladimir: You asked what language he speaks?

Listener: Yes, he said that he speaks and understands Russian. Does he understand other languages too?

Vladimir: Does he understand other languages?

46:01 Language training of aliens.

Maxim: What other earthly languages do you know?

Irina: MidgasCaus says that he studied, he prepared for contacts specifically with Russia.

Maxim: Only Russian.

Irina: Yes.

Vladimir: That is. he is responsible for the territory of Russia, so he knows Russian. And in other countries, there are other representatives of the Interstellar Union who study the culture and languages of those countries, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: He is one of those who is in contact with contactees in Russia.

Vladimir: I see. Thank you.

Listener: Question for Irina. This is Father Mikhail.

Irina: Hello.

Maxim: Hello, Father Mikhail.

Listener: Thank you very much. You read it perfectly. I liked it very much. The reading of the prayer was just wonderful, well done. No complaints.

46:55 Marriage of Joseph and Mary. Death of Joseph.

Listener: How old was Joseph when he became engaged to Mary? And how old was he when he died? This is the first question. And second, what is known about me? You call me respectful sometimes, MidgasCaus, why do you call me respectable? Here are two questions.

Vladimir: Thank you.

Irina: Yes, he greets you too. Meade says that according to the Interstellar Union, he was 48 years old at the time of Joseph and Mary's marriage, and he died when he was about 75-76 years old. This was already at a time when Christ was already an adult, and he was responsible for his mother. Maria was left in the care of her eldest son.

48:21 The originality of Christ.

Irina: The Gospel emphasizes that when Mary gave birth to Christ, she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him down. The word “firstborn” just means that the evangelists knew about other children. If she had no other children, there would be no need to mention that this was her firstborn. This was the firstborn son, and he was always referred to as such. Moreover, it must be taken into account that the evangelists wrote their Gospels after all the events described, i.e. they already knew perfectly well the whole history of this family. So the word “firstborn” is precisely a confirmation of the information that is in the Interstellar Union that she had other children.

Maxim: That is. She gave birth not to her only son, but to her first-born.

Irina: Yes. It was written there: “Mary gave birth to her first-born son.”

Irina: Now I’ll answer why “dear.” The fact is that I don’t know anything about you: I didn’t talk to you, I didn’t examine you. I simply respect all people who sincerely relate to their Faith, love their God, love all people. And I feel through your voice the energy that will allow me to respect you for your Light of Love that you have.

Vladimir: Thank you very much. We have to say goodbye. See you again, friends. I hope this is not the last time we meet. Thank you. Goodbye.

Irina: Goodbye.

Irina: Greetings, dear friends! Today we have another program on issues in the group. By your numerous requests, there are now two representatives of the Disaru civilization next to us, one of them is the one we know on Earth as Saint Germain, and the second is his close friend, in the Disaru language he has the name Linn-Kruos. And, as always, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad are present with us, as representatives of their civilization.

Maxim: Great! As always, my name is Maxim. I'm behind the camera asking questions. I salute you, Saint Germain!

Irina: He also greets Maxim, me and you all. Saint-Germain says that he has not been physically on our planet for about 50 years.

Maxim: Saint-Germain, we have a very interesting recording today - we also have Vladimir Goldstein from America on Skype, who watches everything that happens here through a webcam, and sometimes he will also be able to ask his questions if he deems it necessary.

Vladimir: Hello!

Irina: Hello, Vladimir.

Vladimir: I send you greetings from Chicago! How can you hear?

Irina: Saint Germain says: “Hello, Vladimir! I salute the people of Chicago and the United States of America!”

02:00 The level of spiritual development of Saint-Germain, the environment, transport on the planet Disaru

Vladimir: At what level of the Spiritual world are you now? Can you describe the environment around you? What are you doing there all this time?

Irina: In your usual terminology, I am on the 24th level of the Spiritual World. I live on the planet Disaru, in the city of Tussin. I was born there when the year was 1537 on your Earth, and I spent a long time on your planet under the guise of an earthling, because we are physically indistinguishable. Our cities are similar to those on Earth, with the only difference being that our transport is not based on internal combustion engines. It is based on movements along the magnetic lines of the planet. And individual aircraft, which you would probably call hang gliders, but they are controlled, have gained great development. They replace your small vehicles like bikes.

Vladimir: Probably bicycles.

Irina: No, those with a motor.

Vladimir: Moped.

04:21

Maxim: Saint-Germain, can I communicate with you on a first-name basis? Is there any trick here?

Irina: No, we even address God as “you,” and even more so, as brothers.

04:40 The principle of communication with God.

Vladimir: Can you communicate directly with God?

Irina: Of course, like you.

Maxim: How do you do it?

Irina: I turn to him with my requests, not even requests, I turn to him with my thoughts. Every thought I have is an appeal to Him. Yes, it cannot be otherwise, because He hears every thought. You just need to always be aware of yourself in His Light, and then no thought that contradicts its laws will be able to stay in your mental field for long.

05:23 Significant incarnations of Saint Germain on Earth.

Maxim: What are your most significant incarnations on Earth?

Irina: I consider the most significant incarnation on your planet to be the incarnation when I was entrusted with raising the one you call your God. I'm talking about Jesus Christ now. I was embodied in his stepfather Joseph, and, naturally, this was not accidental. I have been going towards this for many incarnations. It was I who was responsible for his upbringing and his adaptation to earthly conditions. Because in that time and in the country where this happened, I completely took over the functions of his father, although his genetic father was from the planet Burkhad.

06:25 Origin and childhood of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: What did Jesus Christ do as a child? What kind of child was he?

Irina: In early childhood, when magicians came to us from the territory of modern Persia, they brought what you call “gifts to Jesus,” and then told us that the boy was being hunted by the local king. This was understandable because he thought that Jesus would overthrow him and his dynasty when he grew up. I had to take Mary and the boy and flee with them to Egypt and live there for several years. And here the money, the gold that the magicians brought with them came in very handy. We had nothing. I couldn't earn that much as a carpenter. At that time they were paid very little. Then, when we returned to Nazareth, I began to teach the boy your earthly customs, I began to teach him what I myself knew well. From his early childhood he already had contact with his father on Burkhad. And from early childhood he visited their world, including physically, he was brought into contact many times. And he traveled all over the Earth. You are correct in saying that he was in India, and in Tibet, and on the territory of Russia, and he was on almost all continents. Only he visited not with caravans, but on the ship of his father and his assistants. Thus, the boy was introduced to this planet, because before that he had been incarnated as a Tumesoutian, whose homeland was another world.

Maxim: So Jesus Christ traveled on a “flying saucer” along with the Burkhadians?

Irina: Yes, they took him for contact not only on Earth, they took him almost throughout the entire Galaxy, speaking in earthly language, he was a physical contactee, but, as you understand, he was more than a contactee. Since he was the firstborn son of our common Father, he retained in himself much more ability to remember information from past incarnations and from the Spiritual world.

09:30 Abilities and knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Where did he even study? That is, did he undergo training somewhere? Maybe some Hindus, or Tibetans, or somewhere else?

Irina: Maria and I were always surprised by his peculiarity: when mentors began to tell him this or that teaching, he even finished the phrase for them and finished it in such a way that they immediately understood that they had a very high Spirit in front of them, and asked him for mentorship. This was especially clearly manifested in the episode described by one of Jesus' closest disciples, John: "When we were all in the temple, Jesus remained there with the very wise teachers and mentors of ancient Israel, who knew not only the law of the Torah, but were initiated into all the secrets of Kabbalah, hidden from the common people. He spoke calmly about these sacred secrets without opening his books. And that's why everyone gathered around him." And when Maria and I were anxiously looking for him for the third day, we found him in one of the temple rooms, surrounded by teachers who were three times his age. He told them about God, about His Light. And what was most amazing was that they listened to him as a mentor, although he was only 12 years old. Let me remind you that all this happened in ancient Israel, where the honoring of elders by younger ones was a very common custom. And it was truly an unthinkable event.

Maxim: So Jesus Christ began preaching at the age of 12?

Irina: Yes, even earlier, when he was 5-6 years old. Playing with children his age, he was already inventing games that had not existed before on Earth. And he talked about other planets. But this was understandable, because for him I was his father, and his second father was on another planet, so he treated this absolutely normally from childhood. And so I told the children what I knew. But not all children perceived his stories favorably.

12:48 The pattern of what happened to Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Did Jesus Christ have any other choice but to die as a martyr on the cross?

Irina: There is always a choice. But history does not tolerate the subjunctive mood. What had to happen happened. When your theologians say that this was resolved at the first Council of the Trinity even before the creation of the world, in the true Light of God, they are right in that the result of all the actions of incarnate and non-incarnate intelligent Spirits in the world was already known even before the creation of the world and before birth of Spirits.

13:44 The law is a means of introducing Jesus Christ to the grace of God.

Maxim: Was the coming of Jesus to Earth a moment of correction, when he came here as Yahweh?

Irina: As someone who saw him from childhood until his very last day, I did not see in him any shade of guilt for Yahweh's actions. And knowing all the subtleties of his incarnation in the form of Yahweh, I do not find him responsible for the distortions that were introduced later. Moreover, he tirelessly denounced and criticized these distortions when he preached in Israel in the guise of Jesus Christ. He criticized and denounced the distorted teachings of the Torah, even at the risk of his life and well-being. He thereby restored the path of the Torah. And when he was unjustly reproached for breaking the law of Moses, he replied that he had come not to break it, but to fulfill it. He did not break any of the more than 600 commandments of the Torah. And when he asked the Pharisees, standing before them: "Which of you can convict me of sin and unrighteousness?" - none of them could answer him. And these were truly experts in the law. Therefore, he fulfilled it in its entirety, because for him the law was not a prohibitive means, for violation of which there would be punishment, as is usually the case with people. For him, the law was a saving means of communion with the grace of God, by raising one's vibrations. That is, in the same law, different beings can see completely different things and treat it differently. Therefore, for one, fulfilling the law will be either generally intolerable or impossible to fulfill, but for another it will be joy and grace.

16:30 The incarnation of Yahweh in Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Please tell me what they said about Yahweh even then? Who was Yahweh thought to be?

Irina: Who? Jews?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: By God.

Maxim: What did they say about him?

Irina: They said that there is no Lord but him. But they could not believe that Yahweh came in Christ, that he became incarnate. And when Jesus told them about this directly or in hints, they wanted to kill him and said: “You are making yourself God!” Several such episodes are reflected in the Gospel, but not all.

Maxim: So they couldn’t understand that there is a concept of reincarnation?

Irina: And they knew the concept of “gilgul”. Gilgul is metempsychosis in Hebrew. “Gilgul” – wheel, rebirth. But they could not believe that he was Mashiach. They were expecting Mashiach, who would not only free them from the power of the Roman invaders, but also reign over the whole world.

17:59 Communication of Jesus Christ with Mohammed, protection of religious egregors from destructive Spirits.

Maxim: Does Jesus Christ communicate with the Prophet Muhammad? And what does Jesus Christ have to do with him?

Irina: According to information from the Spiritual World, the Spirit, which was embodied in the Prophet Muhammad, is now embodied on a planet in a Galaxy very far from us. But in the Spiritual world they communicated at the level of egregor organizers. That is, speaking in earthly language, they are the ones who support the egregors. Mohammed, while not in incarnation, supports the Islamic egregor, just as Shakyamuni supports the Buddhist one. After all, they are religious teachers and founders of religious movements. They are located from the 22nd to 24th level of the Spiritual World. Mahomet is at level 23, as far as I remember the information about him, if it has not changed yet. He, naturally, knows Christ personally, and they consult with each other on creating and maintaining their religious egregor, and on protecting it from the connection of dark destructive Spirits to it, which, under the guise of Islam or Christianity, bring their destructive teaching to the masses of people in order to feed their energy.

20:20 The number of false religious teachings based on Christianity and Islam.

Maxim: Are there many such destructive Spirits who are trying to convey false religious teachings based on Christianity and Islam?

Irina: More than I would like. That is, the struggle is on a spiritual level for the minds of people, for influence on their minds. Because a destructive person, dressed in beautiful clothes, can look even more attractive than the Light. Because for an earthly person, for the instinctive part of his mind, it is more natural to strive for expansion, which is helped by destructive Spirits, and not for the path of love. After all, to follow the path of love, you need to include the spiritual part of the mind. And for this you need to overcome the resistance of the instinctive part.

21:30 Differences between destructive and constructive Spirits in the Light.

Maxim: How can we, ordinary earthly people, distinguish whether they are destructive or constructive in the Light?

Irina: Firstly, in terms of content. This is the information they give you. If it is a spiritual contact, you can tell by the information they give. But if a person already distinguishes Spirits by vibrations, then he must distinguish by vibrations. Of course, dark destructive Spirits can take the form of light Angels and even Jesus Christ, any light ones, but their vibration will be completely different, low vibration. They cannot fake vibrations. To do it, they must rise to it.

Maxim: But they can’t rise...

Irina: They cannot rise until they go through this path - the path of development.

22:32 The last incarnation of Saint Germain on Earth.

Maxim: Thank you! Saint Germain, when was the last time you incarnated on Earth?

Irina: Incarnated specifically as an earthling?

Maxim: Yes, exactly in the earthling.

Irina: The last time I incarnated as an earthling was as Joseph the Betrothed.

22:55 Sources of Wolf Messing's abilities.

Maxim: Then the question is different: did you know or know Wolf Messing?

Irina: I knew and I know.

Maxim: Where did he have such abilities, why was he embodied here?

Irina: If you are talking about the ability to so-called foresee the future, then this was only for one reason: he lived several lives, to put it simply, in your future. That is, in rare cases, the Spirit can be sent back for incarnation along the time scale.

Maxim: It turns out that there is a future that is already predetermined?

Irina: It is not predetermined for you now. But in the Spiritual world it is known because there is no time there. When you are in the Spiritual world, the past, present and future exist for you at the same time. And in the material world, the past exists in the form of information records, the present - in the form of the manifested world, and the future is only being formed. But it is formed from the actions of the Spirits. Therefore, when you talk about a time machine, that you can go to the future and to the past, then this can be done in the Spiritual world. That is, to incarnate in the past, for example, which is what the Spirit of Nostradamus and the Spirit of Wolf Messing did. When he lived in his body, then according to events in the world, his Spirit experienced a state of “memory”, but you simply call this “déjà vu”. And he had fragments of memories that he once knew this, once read it, so he could talk about the future. For example, about the end of the war.

25:38 Psychoactive substances and predictions of Wolf Messing and Nostradamus.

Maxim: Did Wolf Messing and Nostradamus use any chemicals in order to enter this state?

Irina: If you mean psychoactive substances, I didn’t feel vibrations from them, except for alcohol, and then not often.

26:05 Reasons why future predictions are wrong.

Maxim: Many predictors predict the future, but in fact this future does not come true in the form in which they predicted, why does this happen?

Irina: If you mean the Spirit who used to live in the future, and if he was born here and remembered it, because your future is the past for him, and he remembered several events and predicted them. And when this happened, he cannot explain it to himself, and he believes that God is revealing this to him, and begins to predict the future simply on the basis of his logical thoughts, that is, without remembering. He has no memories, he predicts it. And then, naturally, mistakes happen.

Maxim: That is, a person begins to think out the future not on the basis of the information that is embedded in him, but on the basis of his logical conclusions?

Irina: Yes, because he already believes in himself and that this will come true. He believes he can see the future.

27:25 Opportunities to change the future.

Maxim: Thank you! Does this mean that the future is already predetermined and we cannot change it?

Irina: What do you mean by the word “predestination”? This is a very subtle term.

Maxim: This suggests that the future cannot be changed.

Irina: You can change the future only because you don’t know about it, and therefore you can change it for yourself. But all the results of your choices, which you yourself do not know about, and the consequences that they will entail - there is a chain of events that you cannot know, they are known to the mind that created everything, He is omniscient. He knows all the election results of all his children, although the children themselves do not know about it. But knowledge does not mean “predestination.” I will now give you an example that is clear to you: if you watch the same film that interests you 10 times, then when you turn it on for the 11th time, you will already know all the actions of the characters, what it will lead to, but this does not mean , that those who watch it for the first time will know this. And it doesn't mean that you predetermined the actors' actions, you just know because you saw it.

29:10 Choices in the Spiritual and material worlds.

Maxim: Can space contain many options for the future, but we just go and choose one of the options?

Irina: What do you call “space”?

Maxim: I call this the time “here and now” and the reference point “here and now” for choosing an option.

Irina: Is this the material world?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Well, you can call it “the space of options,” because you don’t know the result of your choice. For example, if you want to stay at home in the morning or go somewhere, you don’t know what will happen if you stay at home, and you don’t know what will happen if you go. You don’t know who you will meet there, and what will follow from this. This is hidden from you. But in the Spiritual world this is all open. And about the options. If you have a choice ahead of you that can influence your events in one direction or another, then when you reach that point of choice, you have different options. But the results of both are known in the Spiritual world. But initially God knows only one way - the path you will actually take, and not the one you choose. That is, you can have as many options as you like, but which one will be reality for you is already known. But no one influences your choice itself, because before incarnation we are all shown the basic options of life that we will go through until death. The options naturally show those that we must focus on in order to develop. And in the Spiritual world we are shown what will happen to us if we degrade here.

31:48 Gaining experience in solving problems and mistakes in the material world.

Maxim: So we can choose options for growth and development, and we will live for 100 years, or we can choose the option of degradation, and live there for 50 years?

Irina: You could say so. We can choose the option for growth and development and the option for degradation, but the fact of the matter is that when we are in the Spiritual world, it seems simple to us to come, incarnate and live our lives in the material world. That is, we already see our whole life on the screen and already think: “This is how I will act, this is how it will follow, this is how one event will follow another.” It is similar to how a person sees a chessboard with pieces arranged. But everything is not at all simple when you find yourself in a material body with a blocked memory. But it is blocked for a reason, namely so that a person goes through this path without remembering anything, and then he will gain the necessary experience in solving problems and correcting his mistakes.

32:58 Reasons for blocking memory before incarnation.

Maxim: That is, a person's memory is blocked so that he can gain the right experience and correct mistakes that he could not correct before?

Irina: Yes, for this too. Well, and, naturally, to adapt not only to the body in which he was incarnated, but also to the world that surrounds him. He is first born as a child. He gets used to his parents, to older relatives in the family, to school, and so on.

33:37 The essence of Lucifer and the energy of God.

Maxim: Thank you, Saint Germain! It is very interesting! The question concerns Lucifer: is Lucifer truly a uniquely negative figure, as the Bible claims?

Irina: What does "negative" mean? If by the word "deny" we mean the denial of God... There is no unequivocally negative figure as a source of evil. Because there is no evil in the world, there is only choice. But, simply put, Lucifer, who left God voluntarily, still remained his son. And, naturally, his existence and his entire army of demons is supported by the energy of God. And the energy that he uses, including for evil purposes, is also given by God. That is, if God wanted, he would instantly stop its existence or access to energy.

34:50 The purposes of the existence of demons and evil.

Maxim: Why does God need entire troops, hordes of demons?

Irina: There are two goals. The first is to show that he gave absolute freedom of choice to his children. Because any coercion in this matter would not cause sincere love, and therefore would not cause such high vibrations as his. And the second goal is that he allowed evil deeds and evil choices to exist in his children in order to show his other good children, who remained good, an example of the fact that there is suffering when they choose evil. That is, in many cases, without going through the experience of evil it is impossible to evaluate the experience of good.

35:49 Lucifer in the cycle of existence of the Universe.

Maxim: Thank you! Did evil exist before Lucifer chose our Universe?

Irina: Evil does not exist even now. There is only Light. Evil is delusion. Do you want to ask whether there was a delusion before Lucifer?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Lucifer was in our cycle of existence, which we are going through now. He was the first to choose evil while at such a high level. But before him there were degradations of other Spirits who were not at such high levels. This refers to our cycle of the Universe.

36:47 The cyclical nature of the existence of the Universe.

Maxim: What does “our cycle of the Universe” mean?

Irina: The Universe exists cyclically. That is, it unfolds in space: first in the subtle-material world, then in the dense-material world, and then curls back up. I can only repeat the words of MidgasKaus that in the Bible this is a very famous image when the prophet Isaiah was told that the sky would roll up like a scroll. This is a very accurate image that was conveyed to the contactee, in that the word “sky” meant not just the earthly sky, but the entire Universe. Because there were stars, and it was a symbol of the entire Universe, that is, the dense material world. Not the entire universe, which already includes both the subtle-material plane and the Spiritual worlds, but specifically the dense-material world. “Everything will curl up like Light...” What does “collapse” mean? This means that it will cease to exist in a dense material form, and we will incarnate in subtle material worlds, and then the subtle material worlds will also collapse into Light. There will be a return of God to himself, to his original form, and we will be in the Spiritual world in a form closed on itself in the form of Light.

38:14 Periods of collapse and expansion of the Universe.

Maxim: How long does the period of collapse and expansion of the Universe last? What period is this, can it be expressed somehow in units?

Irina: This is approximately equal to about 125 billion Earth years.

Maxim: So our scientists are right about the big bang theory, that the Universe once began to unfold?

Irina: And before that there was a period when we were all in the Light, when we lived in a different cycle.

Vladimir: 125 billion is a manifested cycle, and then the same amount of unmanifested cycle?

Irina: This is only approximately. But the cycle does not occur in absolutely equal periods: it may be more, it may be less. Depending again on the amount of Light in the incarnating Spirits. This all affects the entire Universe, all Galaxies and all subtle worlds. Yes, but the unmanifest cycle cannot be measured in time periods, because there is no time there. Already there it can last either a moment in time or many billions of years.

39:41 Changing the mind and canceling karma.

Maxim: Can confession and repentance without physical actions cancel karma?

Irina: Not confession and not repentance, but what precedes them. This is what was called a “change of mind” by Christ. It can cancel karma if this has happened. And it can happen either in one instant, which is called “satori” in the East, or it can last a lifetime, if this is related to any choice that is very dear to the human Soul. Can karma be undone? Of course it can. Because the need for karma disappears for those who have realized the reason for its formation. The purpose of the existence of karma is not punishment, not revenge, but a lesson to those Spirits who have made a choice towards degradation. And if the Spirit, without a lesson, has already understood why he made this choice and embarked on the path of progress, then the need for this karma disappears. He had already learned this lesson.

41:07 Impossibility of destroying the Soul.

Maxim: Thank you! Can the Soul be destroyed?

Irina: By destruction is meant the cessation of consciousness and existence?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: No, it can't. Spirit is an autonomous consciousness in the consciousness of God. And it is as impossible to destroy it as it is to destroy God himself.

41:38 Incarnation to change the Soul.

Maxim: And if the Soul is very much degraded and cannot rise for a very long time, does it have a chance to rise in the future?

Irina: Incarnate, yes! Because change requires embodiment.

41:58 Adam and Eve's knowledge on the subtle plane about good and evil and eating the fruit as a consequence in the material world.

Maxim: What is the subtle meaning of the expression "Tree of the knowledge of good and evil"? What could Adam and Eve know by eating the fruit on the subtle plane?

Irina: On the subtle plane, they could know what they already knew - what good and evil are. Even before offering them food, the Selbet man told them: "Know good and evil," that is, translated as "good and evil.” But they already knew what good and evil were, because if they did not know this, then God, that is, the Tumesout Yahweh, would not have made sense then to tell them: “Do not eat the fruit,” because it is meaningless for a person that -to prohibit him if he does not understand what evil is. And only evil can be prohibited. Therefore, the spiritual meaning of eating the fruit of good and evil is that their evil act was not that they ate it, but that they had previously stopped trusting their creators - that is, the Gods. These were the Gods for them, and it was truly a collapse in their consciousness. That is, first they sinned within themselves, in their hearts. Eating the fruit was just an effect in the material world.

43:53 Good and evil are one.

Maxim: Is it true that, as Kabbalah claims, when this happened, good and evil in the world were mixed, but before they were separated?

Irina: As I already said, evil as a substance separate from good does not exist. There is no evil energy, there is good energy directed towards evil choices. Therefore, one must not confuse what does not exist with what really exists.

44:26 Physical sex as a reflection of love.

Maxim: Physically, is sex for pleasure, and not for conception, a sin?

Irina: No, physical sex is a reflection of love on the physical level of two Souls.

44:45 Sex as a fusion of matter and Spirit.

Maxim: Is it possible to come to God through sex, as Tantra says?

Irina: It is possible, if we see in this a divine action, that is, the merging of matter and Spirit.

45:00 Causes of climate change on Earth.

Maxim: Our planet is rapidly changing its climate, possibly with the help of extraterrestrial forces. Where it leads?

Irina: Do you call the radiation of the Sun an “extraterrestrial force”?

Maxim: No, extraterrestrial force here refers to the actions of alien civilizations that do not live on Earth.

Irina: I don’t know why extraterrestrial civilizations need to change the climate. Why would alien civilizations change the climate, because we can’t live here. This means that this is not our native planet. What is happening to your planet now, not only climate change, but also cataclysms: volcanic eruptions, floods, hurricanes, and so on, is largely due to the too intensive extraction of liquid hydrocarbons and gases from the cavities of the Earth’s crust. By doing this you change its internal structure. That is, from this it begins to oscillate on its axis, from this it receives uneven heat from the Sun, the structure of the earth's crust is disrupted, and the magma, which lies closer to the mantle, rises higher and also heats up the planet. This causes volcanoes to become active and so on. And plus the greenhouse effect that accumulates because you burn a lot of fuel, which produces carbon dioxide, but instead of planting a lot of trees so that they convert carbon dioxide into oxygen, you cut them down. But this is your choice - the choice of your civilization. I can only say that you do not use, for example, the same trees rationally, because you cut down trees to print newspapers on them, which you will then throw away after reading them. Or you can not throw them away, but reuse this paper many times, and at the same time plant trees. Then the greenhouse effect will decrease. This is called "recreational use of raw materials", which is very common on many planets. And I’m surprised why you don’t have a widespread implementation of this, because it saves the resources of your planet and improves the environmental situation, which also affects the climate.

47:56 Extraterrestrial civilizations and Earth's resources.

Maxim: There is an assumption that extraterrestrial civilizations use our energies, connect to us, some civilizations are trying to destroy us in order to seize the planet and use our resources. What do you think about this?

Irina: What resources?

Maxim: Hydrocarbons, water.

Irina: There is water on our planet, but we do not use hydrocarbons. On many planets, almost all of us, we don't even have such engines. This is not economical, it upsets the ecological balance and is very costly in terms of energy. That is, you need a lot of fuel to get a small effect.

48:43 Extraterrestrial civilizations and the enslavement of the Earth.

Maxim: There is a version that extraterrestrial civilizations are trying to enslave us, take over our planet, seize our resources through secret government structures in order to control us, and some use us like batteries, connect to us and feed on our energy. What do you think about that?

Irina: Your question contains two big problems of your civilization...

#48 Erekle Shonia. Heart to heart communication. Part 2. Favorites

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ehrekle-shoniya-obshchenie-po-dusham-chast-2 https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FnOFfNeJY-I

00:01 Erekle diagnostic method .

Maxim : Let's do some diagnostics. Let Raom Tiyan watch how you do it, because at the energy-informational level he will see how you work at the mental, astral and etheric level, so that the next time we meet, he already approximately understands what questions you will have for him civilization, and will be ready to answer them.

Erekle : We start by checking the person's head. What is the activity of his brain, what is happening there. The front part is responsible for logic, the back part is responsible for contact with the outside world, etc.

Maxim : How do you do it?

Erekle : With the help of a frame. Dowsing.

Maxim : What is on the frame? Some data, values?

Erekle : There is nothing on this frame. This frame is simply a dowsing method that says yes or no. Here is the individual mechanism of a person, I need this frame, another needs radiation, a third feels with the skin, etc.

Maxim : Erekle – you’re a contactee! You're just looking for methods to increase your contact!

Erekle : Different contactees have different activation organs.

After that, Erekle made a diagnosis for Irina and was 100 percent positive!

Erekle : Try everything, don't be afraid of anything! Try everything you want, but remember that sometimes we go “automatically”, since food was “stuffed” into us as children, we by inertia eat such things and eat so much of them that we don’t need it. And in a certain situation, when something extraordinary happens, for example, contact begins, there are elements that interfere, because at this moment your body is working under load, and in order to reduce this load on the body, some elements need to be removed from the diet . For some period.

Maxim : Who is on Erekle’s right? There are two people behind him - on the right and left sides.

Irina : Now I’ll go and talk to the Astral World.

03:50 Maxim’s first impression of what was happening during Irina’s contact with Kirchiton.

Maxim : If you had seen Irina’s contact with Kirchiton when I first saw him, it would have been a little shock for you too, because it looks like Irina’s epileptic seizures, and controlled ones. Since childhood, I myself have seen everything in color, in energies, and I did not know then that not everyone sees this way. When I first saw Irina, I was most interested in her contact with Kirchiton. I didn’t understand then what kind of colors I was seeing, i.e. she is having an exchange, but I don’t see the color, I don’t understand what color it is. When I started communicating with Irina, I did not feel any deception, she said everything sincerely.

05:11 Reasons for the disinterest of the special services in Irina Podzorova.

Maxim : And yet, I was very surprised that the special services were not interested in Irina. I believed that if you have such a level of contact and transfer of information, then they should definitely hire you to work in the special service and continue to work with you. But, apparently, Soviet times are over and the structures controlling this area have disappeared, but the new structure does not need this, because the new structure only needs money. If we don't have money, and we're not destructive, we don't call for revolution, they don't need us.

Erekle : I think it's better to follow this path: to become above politics and above parties, not to interfere in power structures.

Maxim : Yes, we do not interfere in politics and do not condemn other contactees, I immediately said - no condemnation, only harmonization, i.e. We are trying to understand what the contactee wanted to tell us.

06:17 Structure of the Cassiopeia group. Helping people solve problems. Donation

Maxim : 80 percent of the people who watch us are angry, some write obscenely. I try to harmonize the situation through humor. We have a good team. Now there are 6 people. Through Chicago we are keeping the US informed with the help of our good friend who will be posting articles, information and videos via Facebook. There is also a group on VKontakte, a chat on Telegram, and a person who supports communication. We are slowly trying to spread the word. I'm looking for someone to talk to that will be interesting to people. In terms of structure, our stellar friends recommended leaving the donation system, i.e. without payment as such, so that people who really need it, but cannot pay, can come. Therefore, the entire structure rests on the gratitude of those people with whom we work; we do not set a price and do not ask for money. If a person needs help, our task is not to let him go until the problem is solved. We begin to attract different civilizations, make inquiries about previous incarnations, look at problems at the energy-informational level.

09:50 "Zeroing" Maxim. Meeting Irina. Confirmation of Irina's abilities.

Maxim : Irina is a gift of fate for me. I blocked my perception of subtle structures, and as a child I saw a lot of inexplicable things, and until I was 12 years old I was afraid to get up at night. And five years ago it was as if I was “zeroed”: I lost everything - family, job, business. I was left alone and with nothing. There is no one left in me except me and God. I couldn’t even love anymore because I started hating everyone. And so, as a result, I began to study this topic. They took away everything unnecessary from me: money, alcoholic friends, unnecessary women, gave me time and completely immersed me in this topic. First of all, I went to the monasteries, and interesting events took place there. After the monasteries, I found my teacher - she taught energy practice at a university in Norway. It turns out that they teach this at universities, what we call the supernatural - energy, auric structures, healing people, etc. It took her a long time to restore me, but she told me to continue working with people. When I met Irina, she also doubted herself and her contacts. It's hard when everyone tells you that you're crazy, but she really travels on flying saucers, she had physical contacts twice a week, she contacts in the astral body. We went to see my teacher, who was skeptical about the visit of another contactee. After 30 minutes of communication, she took Irina by the hand, and they both disconnected for a while. I don’t understand what’s happening, I’m in shock. After 2-3 minutes, they simultaneously open their eyes, and Irina asks: “Are you also Burkhad’s contactee?” I almost choked on my coffee; the teacher didn’t tell me about it. Then I took Irina to the witch. The sorceress was surprised that Irina saw more than her, and began to ask many questions. I explained to her that Irina is a contactee, i.e. a person who communicates with other civilizations. Irina told her that behind the sorceress there are two Archangels of the 22nd and 24th level, that they protect her from “dark forces.”

15:03 Contactors Erekle. Alien base in the Caucasus mountains.

Irina returned from the Astral.

Irina : Erekle has contacts with a lot of people. One of them is from the planet Tumesout, or rather from its satellite. Its name is complicated.

Maxim : They are one of our creators, they supervise you. On a physical level, they look like giants, ranging from 3 m to 7 m in height. They build houses like the Egyptian pyramids. Their houses clearly reflect the interaction of the energy structure of the planet on which they are located with the energy structures of space. There are places in the pyramids where tombs stand - in such places they sleep and regenerate themselves in their sleep.

Irina: There is now a base in the Caucasus, there are Tumesoutians, Tashiganians, and other representatives there. I ask: “Raom Tiyan, why do you love making bases in the mountains?” And he says that the seismic activity of the earth’s crust in the mountains is favorable for their energy, for their habitation.

Maxim : Is he standing in the Astral plane now?

Irina: No, he is physically incarnated, and the second contactee is Guardian Spirit Erekle. I see him as a middle-aged man.

Maxim : This is the Spiritual world. They can be in different images.

Irina: He called himself Lawrence.

Maxim : You have two curators - one from the Spiritual World.

Irina : He said that Erekle communicates on a spiritual level with Esler, so he’ll have to ask MidgasCaus. But in his field there are traces of energy from the Burkhad colonies. Perhaps contactees came from there. And at home there are plasmoids that communicate with his daughter Tamara. Raom Tiyan talked with one of these plasmoids.

Maxim asks Raom Tiyan to move away from the equipment because it starts to malfunction when he gets too close.

19:12 Protective grille from destructive civilizations in Erekle’s house.

Irina : And under the ceiling Erekle has some kind of lattice of luminous elements. This is the defense built by plasmoids and people from destructive civilizations. Plasmoid told Raom Tiyan that he has been communicating with Erekle in earthly terms for more than 20 years, and Erekle realizes that his abilities are from outside, and feels that he is nearby and asks him questions.

Maxim : When you made the diagnosis now, you were in direct contact with someone. Your information came from outside as an information flow.

20:52 Lawrence specialty. Contacts of Erekle children with plasmoids. Assumption about the connection of the origin of Georgians with Orion.

Irina : I asked Lawrence what his specialty was. He said that he is an expert on energy programs for building construction and human energy structure, the interaction of man and space. I assumed that this was something close to physics, but he said that, in your opinion, it's like an architect, only their architecture involves creating space depending on the energy of who will live in it. I decided to clarify in what sense, and he said that energy, well-being and the possibility of spiritual contacts and human development depend on the shape of the room in which he is located. Because in physical space there is a projection of spiritual energies. Lawrence also said that you are largely aware of the contact, and the plasmoids told Raom Tiyan that your daughter told you about them.

Erekle : Yes, my children have contact. We are now learning to listen to children. There is an old saying: "Through the mouth of a child the truth speaks"! This is really true, nothing new has been invented, it has always been this way. We just have to learn to listen to this ourselves. And contacts occur with people who have this childlike purity.

Irina : Lawrence said that he is from the constellation Orion, the star is Pi Orionis, I was taken there in a physical body, these are one of our creators, it is located 1050 light years from the Sun.

Erekle : We, Georgians, believe that we ourselves are from Orion, we have Amirani - where Prometheus comes from. Prometheus is the Greek name, and Amirani is our legend. He was in the rank of Gods, and he was a hunter. And Orion is a hunter, and Georgian men believe that we ourselves are from Orion.

Irina : And Lawrence says that it's not in vain that you think so, because not far from you, on the territory of your country, in the southern part, there is one of Orion's bases.

Erekle : We call it the passage to that world.

24:56 Irina Podzorova about her origin, the origins of her abilities.

Irina : My mother lived in Tbilisi for a long time and said that she became pregnant by a man named Pilishvili, his parents were Georgians. They separated, but he came to see me as a child and invited my mother back, but she did not want to leave her mother, and my father did not want to move from Tbilisi to the village. My contact habits apparently come from my father.

26:47 Recommendations to Erekle Maxim and Irina while connecting to the information field.

Erekle : Maxim, at night from 3 to 4 o'clock you connect to the information field, so if you wake up, it means it's not just like that: you need to either pray, or think about good things, or convey some information. Irina also wakes up at 3-4 am, she receives the same recommendations. If you turn off your mentality, Divine information will easily come to you. Be sure to write it down. If you have pain in your head, shoulders, or arms, then you need to write information!

Maxim : Thank you! See you again!

#49 Meeting with a representative of the planet Disaru (in earthly history there was Count Saint-Germain) - Part 2

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/vstrecha-s-predstavitelem-planety-disaru-chast-2 https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BJIZP0T-ofc

00:12 Extraterrestrial civilizations and the enslavement of the Earth. Xenophobia.

Maxim: There is a version that extraterrestrial civilizations are trying to enslave us, take over our planet, seize our resources through secret government structures in order to control us, and some use us like batteries, connect to us and feed on our energy. What do you think about that?

Irina: Your question contains two big problems of your civilization. The first problem is the release of negative energies of fear and hatred towards alien elements that are unlike earthlings, that is, xenophobia. The second element is the maintenance of this unhealthy phenomenon in your environment by your own government structures. And these two phenomena are directly related to each other. That is, your government and para-government structures are deliberately whipping up fear of extraterrestrial, alien life forms, instilling xenophobic sentiments. We can say that this is a new form of nationalism - interplanetary. That is, everything that is alien is everything hostile. This comes from distortions of the energy of the instinct of self-preservation. Both government and para-government structures are taking this step in order to relieve themselves of responsibility for what is happening on the planet. But they are not fully aware of the fact that the spread of such ideas in society allows plasmoid parasitic civilizations to take the form of humanoids, including those from the Interstellar Union, coming to them in the astral body and using the fear and anger sown in their hearts to connect to their aura and use their energy for your needs. But the fact that these parasitic plasmoids use the energy of people does not mean that they do not have other energy - they can perfectly feed from other sources of nature of the worlds in which they are embodied. But human energy is simply more pleasant for them. But I want to emphasize that this is also not accidental.

Despite such a negative sequence of events in your earthly civilization, they also did not arise by chance. That is, the negative energy that is released from people's auras goes into your noosphere - your egregors. And those civilizations, those parasitic plasmoids that absorb it, at least partially prevent this negativity from spreading throughout the noosphere. You could say that in a sense they influence her like orderlies. But this is all only up to a person's awareness. To free yourself from parasitic plasmoids, you need, firstly, to restructure your thinking in such a way that you are not afraid of extraterrestrial life forms, including those images that come to you. The more kindly and lovingly you treat them, the faster they will disconnect from the energy field of these people. Because the energy of love, acceptance and trust is not interesting to them. They live on different vibrations.

04:19 Plasmoid bindings and negative energy. Plasmoids are the orderlies of the Earth's noosphere.

Maxim: So what we call parasitic plasmoid bindings are actually bindings to prevent negative energy from escaping into space?

Irina: Yes, they partially perform this function. Of course, they do not take all the negative energy from such a person, because some of it is still dissipated in space. But here I can say nothing except to once again emphasize the wisdom of God, who created all types of civilization and all types of energy exchange between them. In your language, wolves are predators, and if you look at the surface, they harm herbivores, but if you look at a deeper look, they (wolves) are necessary for all existence.

05:33 Medium Adolf Hitler and the idea of white supremacy.

Ahnenerbe activities and archives.

Maxim: I understand, thank you. The question is: who was behind Hitler anyway, and why was the inverted swastika chosen?

Irina: I want to say that starting a war was not his idea. It was used by the older brothers of the esoteric society in which he was a member. One of the brothers' name was Karl, he was a professor at the institute and traveled, among other things, to India and Japan, and there received initiations into secret monastic practices, including the practice of communicating with extraterrestrial civilizations. I want to emphasize that by the word "extraterrestrial civilizations" I also mean extraterrestrial plasmoids. That is, it was a plasmoid contactor. And there was another Karl - Karl Wiligut. He was also with Hitler. He was a contactee, including humanoid civilizations, mainly Tashiga and one of the Burkhad colonies in the Pleiades cluster, which is not part of the Interstellar Union. Unfortunately, I want to say that the Tashigan specialist who was in contact with Karl, Hitler's close associate, criminally gave him plans for the construction of a "flying saucer." He gave him everything, including information on the planetary engine, but the Germans were unable to replicate the planetary engine, because on your Earth there are still no technologies that can be used to create, for example, the necessary alloy or the electronic filling that is needed for this engine . But the schemes were transferred. Adolf Hitler, as a mystical-minded young man and a very good medium, was used by older comrades in esotericism and occultism who wanted to have power over the world. And they took advantage of Adolf Hitler's influence over the crowd. Because he knew how to speak beautifully, express his ideas, and at the same time he had increased suggestibility, like, probably, almost any medium. And they instilled in him the idea that it was necessary to restore the nationality of the gods. Hermann Wirth, who wrote the book "The Descent of Man," was the ideologist of the Ahnenerbe you know. In his book, he postulated that the Germanic nation, a white nation, originated from the gods. But here he (Wirth) spoke the truth, that is, he called the Burkhadians gods. Most likely, he only took into account the Burkhadians, since you have the largest genes from them. He described it this way: "White skin, blond hair and blue eyes - these are the gods."

Maxim: These are exactly the Aryans they were talking about...

Irina: Yes. Wirth wrote this in his book. But he was mistaken in that he called people with dark skin and dark hair the descendants of other "gods," evil gods against white civilization. And he presented all this in his book as the true history of Germany. They convinced Hitler that he was the chosen one of the gods, and he needed to restore the dominance of the white race. And then he (Hitler) began to convince his entire people of this and created the structure that allowed him to start a war on many fronts at once. What really surprised me was his alliance with the Japanese government. Since he skillfully disguised his disgust for them as subhumans, in the sense that they did not "belong to the Aryan race," but he said that they would be able to join this race spiritually, as if undergoing the necessary rituals. And they listened to him and joined the war on his side. And the Ahnenerbe existed for a very long time. This was not just a special service, these were institutes in various fields of science, in which research was carried out on genetics, biology, medicine, including with the involvement of contactees. So much material has accumulated in the Ahnenerbe archives that after the war more than 45 road cars with Ahnenerbe archives were transported to the Soviet Union alone.

11:52 "The Last Supper" and the arrest of Jesus Christ. The sinister meaning of the number is 13.

Maxim: In Leonardo da Vinci's painting "The Last Supper," is Magdalene or John depicted next to Christ?

Irina: It shows 12 of his disciples, including Judas. There were no women there. If we are talking about Leonardo's painting "The Last Supper": 12 disciples of Christ and he himself is the thirteenth. This is why the number 13 took on such a sinister meaning in your later interpretations. Because everyone understands and everyone knows how this Last Supper ended - with the arrest of Jesus.

Maxim: Is it possible during this incarnation to sign a contract for a future incarnation with another civilization, including a plasmoid type?

Irina: What is your legal language? What does it mean to "sign a contract with the Spirit"?

Maxim: Is it possible to agree in this incarnation for the next incarnation?

Irina: No. Until you come to the Spiritual world. Everything is changing here. It is possible to reach an agreement, but this agreement can be changed at any time.

13:22 Underground civilizations on Earth.

Maxim: Is there an underground civilization on Earth on the physical plane?

Irina: No, except you. The earth is dense, but for subtle beings it is like air.

Maxim: Where do the versions of the existence of underground civilizations on our Earth come from?

Irina: From where the version of the flat Earth comes from - from the perception of plasmoids. Because for them, hard rocks (such as granite and so on) are imperceptible. They live in a different vibration. That's why they say “the hollow Earth”, “we live on the inside” and so on. But in their perception it is also true. And vice versa, the fact that the Earth is dense and there is granite there is a lie for them, for them it is not true, because they do not feel that way.

14:12 The meaning of the symbol “All-Seeing Eye” (“Eye of Horus”, “Third Eye”)

Maxim: Where did the “All-Seeing Eye” symbol come from, which is used by both churches and Masons?

Irina: This is the “Eye of Horus”, which was a symbol in ancient Egypt. It was a symbol of the “eye” in the Soul of every person through which God looks. That is, God is in the heart of each of us. Then this symbol was reflected in your teaching about the “Third Eye” - that is, about some energy structure that can observe the Spiritual world. And this is the inclusion of a special type of perception. And there was still a drawing of the “Eyes of Horus” in the form of the “All-Seeing Eye”. It was the eye of God. Well, the eye is, of course, an anthropomorphic symbol. When you read or see a description of the drawing “Eye of God” or “Hand of God”, you need to understand that God does not have material eyes and hands (I mean God the Father, who gave birth to us all). He is Spirit, but this is all to be understood in images familiar specifically to dense material civilizations, people.

16:00 Violet Flame and practices of working with it

Maxim: Thank you! What is the fastest and most effective practice with the Violet Flame? And what is the Violet Flame?

Irina: This is a system developed by me and my students. To describe this energy, I used images understandable to esotericists. I called it "flame". This is an image of fire, as in Agni Yoga. That is, fire and the fiery world are a symbol of divine energies. As in Agni Yoga and Theosophy in general, and as in the Bible, of course. You remember that God is called “fire” there, so that’s nothing new. Why purple? Because here I used the symbolism of the color of your chakras or energy centers. That is, violet, as the highest-frequency color of the spectrum perceived by the human eye, symbolized the highest-frequency energy available for human perception. That is, the 7th energy center, which was responsible for communication with God. So the Violet Flame is the divine energy that activates the 7th energy center. In simple terms, this is a moment of enlightenment. What is enlightenment: this awareness is not just part of God, but part of Light. That is, the one who has realized is no longer capable of doing any evil, any evil deeds. Because they will be unnatural for him. But not because God forbade him to create them, but because man himself does not want it, just as God himself does not want it. Although, of course, no one forbade God.

Maxim: Yes, and what practices do you recommend: the simplest, the most optimal for working with the Violet Flame?

Irina: The simplest... but for a wide, as I understand it, mass of people? To realize yourself in the Light of God, that is, to turn on your violet flame (everyone has it - this is the flame of the 7th energy center of divine energy), you need to reflect (what you call meditation) on the question “Who am I?” What is needed is the simplest meditation, when a person, sitting alone and in silence with his eyes closed (so as not to be distracted by external objects), begins to ask himself: “Who am I?”, begins to concentrate his attention on what he is not. That is, first he asks himself: “Am I a hand? Am I a leg? Am I the belly? That is, he names parts of the body. Then the understanding comes to him that this is not him, that this is his instrument. Then he asks himself: “Where am I then?” And his consciousness naturally concentrates on the fact that he is in the head, in the head area. Well, then he asks: “So I’m the head?” Then he will move it (on a physical level) and ask: “Am I moving now or am I moving my head?” These are the simplest questions to ask yourself until he realizes that he is not a head, that he is not a physical body at all. Then he will begin to ask himself: “What am I then? Am I a thought? What kind of thought am I? The thought that I think is who I am?” And then he will understand that he is not a thought, that he is the core from which thought comes. Let him concentrate on this core, and then all thoughts will go away, and perhaps there will be an experience of Light. This is the simplest practice.

Maxim: That is, it is very similar to communicating with your Higher Self...

Irina: Yes! Communication with the Higher Self is one of the forms.

Maxim: This is one of the forms of meditation and access to these energies, right?

Irina: Access to the Higher Self is more likely for “continuers”, for those who have been doing this for some time and feel the Higher Self within themselves. When independent communication with it occurs. And the practice I described earlier is more likely for those who do not yet know what it is.

21:40 Reality, truth and destructive information in contact with the Higher Self or civilizations.

Maxim: Saint Germain, there are many contactees on our planet.

Many of them say that they communicate with Saint Germain, with the ascended Masters, with many ascended Masters, Archangels. Question: Are there destructive civilizations that can be represented by Saint Germain in the same way as the ascended Masters? How to distinguish reality from what destructive civilizations are trying to convey to us?

Irina: Should I give an answer for the one who directly communicates or for the one who receives information from the contactee?

Maxim: This is actually an interesting sequence of events! Is it possible to first give an answer for the one who receives information from the contactee, and then for the one who is in contact?

Irina: Okay. For someone who perceives information from the contactee, but does not have the opportunity to directly ask questions to the contactee: if a person perceives information in printed form or in the form of images (television and so on) - that is, the direct flow of information, he must compare it with what he already knows on this topic, firstly, from representatives of the Interstellar Union, and, secondly, what is most important, what becomes known during independent meditation on his inner light. You can get in touch with him (the Higher Self) right at the moment of viewing this information and ask a question. That is, if you do the exercises that I described every day for 10 minutes for 20-30 days, then such direct communication with the Higher Self will be possible. Right while reading or perceiving on TV - that is, if you came across information that confused you, and you thought that it did not come from higher teachers, then you need to directly ask the question “Is this so?” After all, it is possible that contactees really communicate with higher teachers, they just expressed their thoughts in a form that is familiar to them. It is also very common for a contactee who is actually in contact with higher hierarchs to write his opinion in his contact information. This is very common. Because he (the contactee) considers himself to have the right to speak out, even if he does not think as he was told. And all this can be mixed up, and what is probably most dangerous for the contactee is that he may think that his opinion also comes from them. Sincerely count. Especially if he does not yet know how to distinguish by vibrations whose thought came. And this comes with experience. In one day the contactee will not be able to learn to distinguish this. This comes with experience. In other words, if what you read causes a surge of inner light in you, this is the truth. For you.

If you read something that causes protest and negative emotions in you in the form of “doing something negative to someone,” if you see a clear call for some kind of negativity, or condemnation of someone, some teachings, and so on, that’s also negative energy. Of course, criticism is acceptable, but without judging the individual. That is, in any case, to say, even if it is not the true teaching that is being discussed, from the point of view of Light it must be emphasized that “for those people who believe in it, it works, and at their level it is correct.” That is, a complete lack of condemnation. Because the Light does not condemn, it illuminates. If you yourself become acquainted with the information of this contactee or through a person who, for example, read it, he can contribute a lot. This will already be a transfer through second or even third hands. That is, you should always look for the original source. It is advisable to look for the primary source to understand this teaching. In simple terms, a retelling of the Bible will not always be authentic to the Bible itself.

There was a second part of the question: how to distinguish information for the contactee himself. If he does not yet know how to distinguish by the vibrations of the one who came to him, then only by asking questions on general human topics, on moral topics and look at the content of the answers. The same principle is here: if there is an influx of light, goodness and love in yourself, this is the true answer. If opposite feelings appear, then this is a departure from the truth.

27:19 Patronage of Saint Germain over territories and planets.

Maxim: I thank you for this answer! Next: which countries or cities does Saint Germain patronize or does he have no favorites?

Irina: Yes! I know where this question came from. The fact is that before Joseph, before Joseph’s incarnation, I had several more incarnations on Earth, including before your war, where I built cities, ruled, so to speak, your countries and was a priest. Okay, I'll tell you now. I communicated with many plasmoid worlds, and therefore they say that I have power or patronage over certain territories. Despite the fact that I have been living on Disaru for many centuries according to your time, I have not forgotten my students in the plasmoid worlds, because I still come to them in the Spirit. But it cannot be said that I am now directly managing some territory. Now I live on another planet, I often visit Jesus Christ on Burkhad, we communicate with him, and my mission now extends much further than the Earth, that is, I am in contact with 15 more planets, including those that are only preparing for admission to the Interstellar Union.

29:10 Twin flames and soul mates.

Maxim: Twin flames - do they have a common maternal Soul or not?

Irina: I understand the question. First, what is the maternal Soul: all spirits are generated by God, one. This is both the maternal and paternal Soul for us. What are twin souls: these are spirits that walked next to each other for a very long time, they were familiar in the Spiritual World and incarnated together many times. They even feel like one. But it can be not only two, but also three or four, that is, a group. But they do not merge with each other, they simply feel so close to each other that they already know the movement of each other's souls.

30:15 How to cleanly bring Light to others? Choice in the space of options.

Maxim: Saint-Germain, thank you very much! We thank you, our entire Cassiopeia group thanks you, for deciding to come and answer our questions.

Irina: He says that your Light reflected mine and hers, that is, the three of us are now in one Light. Did you feel it?

Maxim: Yes! There was such an unreal flow there! You know, it's like when you fall into the Higher Self, only with some kind of meaning attached.

Irina: He says: "This is the light of my Soul, the light of your Soul and her Soul - we were all in one stream." This is the light of the three of us.

Vladimir: Thank you very much from America!

Maxim: Saint Germain, we will once again make it clear that all this exists, all this exists, and we will continue to carry the Light that we just talked about.

Irina: Now I have seen your Soul, just as you saw my Soul. I saw that there is no conscious darkness in you, that is, directed against the Light, and you can purely carry this Light to others. Which I'm glad about. And I have now become convinced of this by merging with you.

Maxim: Thank you!

Irina: Thank you for the invitation and for the opportunity to address all earthlings. I wish you a speedy meeting in the Interstellar Union.

FOR THOSE WHO WATCHED THIS VIDEO TO THE END!

Maxim: Volodya, how do you like this contact in principle?

Vladimir: I'm impressed! He gave specific answers to the questions that interested me. For example, about the future. That is, the general answer was this: it is both predetermined and not predetermined. And we can understand this only from the level of God.

Maxim: Yes, as I understand it, although it is predetermined, although it already exists, the choice of what it will be will depend on our emotional state at the time of passing through this future.

Vladimir: Well, Zeeland talks about this, where is the space of options. Which option will be highlighted by your choice...

Maxim: Yes, by your choice, by your emotions. How we go through this choice and what we feel at this moment. Because you can go through this choice with absolutely high positive emotions and see it on the one hand, or you can go through the same option with negative emotions and see something completely different.

33:06 Incarnations of Saint Germain on Earth. Joseph (Mary's husband) and King Solomon.

Vladimir: We didn't ask him another question. Was Saint Germain a man?

(Written answer): No. This was a resident of the planet Disaru, who lived on Earth under the guise of an earthling. They are us, only on another planet. We were moved there after the war 12 thousand years ago. And there humanity took a different path of development. This was Disaru's experiment.

Irina: He is not a person. He also asked to say (but I don't know whether this will be caught on camera or not) he also incarnated into the one we call Solomon.

Vladimir: Oops!

Maxim: Saint Germain is also King Solomon?!

Irina: But this is before Joseph, of course.

Maxim: So the parables of King Solomon, which are my favorite, are his?!

Irina: So, you are already familiar with his energy?

Maxim: Not just familiar, I studied all his parables! I even have the book "The Proverbs of King Solomon"!

Irina: Yes, this is included in the Bible, I read it too. Have you read the wisdom of King Solomon? These are his thoughts that are more esoteric. This is his apocrypha. It is among the non-canonical books of non-Orthodox writings. The book is short - there are 10 or 11 chapters. And she's all about esotericism.

Vladimir: But Count Saint-Germain is a historical figure, was it his coming (incarnation) in the body of an earthling?

Irina: No, he was already with Disaru. He came from another planet, he was just not at all different from an earthling. And so he lived here - on our planet under the guise of an earthling.

Maxim: So Count Saint-Germain was a resident of Disaru who harmonized in human conditions?

Irina: Yes, he learned the language and lived. At first he had no money; at first he exchanged diamonds that were grown for him on an alien base for money.

Vladimir: Okay, but what was the physical death of Count Saint-Germain?

Irina: Well, he himself flew away, and it was a person similar to him.

Maxim: So they just buried a similar person?

Irina: Yes, so that there are no questions about where he went. Because many people knew...

RAOM TIYAN FROM THE PLANET BURKHAD WAS PRESENT WITH US, AND VLADIMIR ASKED HIM A QUESTION...

Vladimir: Can Raom Tiyan have a quick question on another topic?

Maxim: Let's be quick.

35:50 Explanation of the expression “the creation of Eve from the rib of Adam.”

Vladimir: What does “the creation of Eve from Adam’s rib” mean? What are we talking about here?

Irina: In fact, there is a term used in Hebrew that means “side.” That is, side, side. And “rib” has already been translated into Russian. This suggests that male humans were first created through genetic experiments. And the female individual was created later, and the genetic material of the newly created person was used in her. That is, they again introduced into the primate - the genes of the primate were mixed (the genes of Adam himself) - in the creation of the woman they used the genes of Adam himself.

36:48 Lilith and Eve.

Vladimir: When was Lilith? Was there an experiment before this?

Irina: Lilith... They (Adam and Eve) were not two who were first created. There were initially 18 people. And they appeared almost simultaneously. And which of them was called Lilith, which was Eve - all these names appeared later. They weren't like that at all from the start.

Maxim: Why do we call them Lilith, Eve?

Irina: Because this was already told to Moses in his language - Hebrew. And they called them differently, in Tumesout.

Maxim: That is, Moses simply relayed the names into the form that we know...

Irina: Yes, even Moses himself only sounds like “Moses” in Russian; in Hebrew he is “Moshe”.

37:49 The goals of the incarnation of the Spirit in a specific people, with a specific religion.

Vladimir: Is it true that the souls embodied in the ancient Jews went through some special path in the past development cycle?

Irina: Not always like that. It's very individual. But in every nation, incarnations are not accidental. This means that the Spirit is called to learn some lessons in this particular nation, with this particular religion, or even with a specific family that lives specifically in this nation.

Maxim: That's it, we finish here.

Irina: Goodbye!

Vladimir: Thank you! Thanks to all!

Irina and Maxim: Bye-bye!

PS:

Irina: He wants to ask, how are the answers, how is the contact for you?

Vladimir: Yes, just super! I never even dreamed that I would be able to make this kind of contact in my life. For me this is like picking up a star from the sky.

Irina: You were now communicating with Saint Germain, Joseph (Mary's husband) and Solomon at the same time! At first, adjusting it gave me such a headache, I thought it was going to burst. And then everything worked out.

WE SINCERELY THANK YOU FOR BEING WITH US AND PROVIDING US SUPPORT AND HELP. AT HER EXPENSE, IRINA CAN RECEIVE PEOPLE AND MAKE VIDEOS ON THE CHANNEL WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

#180 Levels of subtle and dense material worlds. The structure of the Universe.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j_S1f0GXIaU

01:50 Greetings from participants and viewers of the broadcast.

Maxim: Guys, can you hear us? Say one, two, three, four, five. Can you hear us?

Irina: Let's see now.

Maxim: Hello, hello. No sound. Ah, hurray! Heard! Great! Guys, thank you very much. Everyone understood, we can be heard. Everything is fine.

Irina: Hello everyone. Good evening!

Maxim: Irish, what is the topic of today's broadcast? And who is present with us today?

Irina: Hello, dear friends! The topic of the broadcast today is "Dense and subtle worlds, their levels, differences between levels." Today our curators are present with us: LiShioni from the planet Shimor, he is a specialist in astral interactions, he has studied all the subtle worlds, and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms. He very often makes astral travel, studies plasmoids and subtle-material worlds. I will tell you a little about how the Universe works.

Maxim: Maybe we should start with the news we always started with? MidgasCaus, please tell us some of the most interesting intergalactic news that happened this week in our Galaxy.

03:36 Intergalactic news - criminals in space.

Irina: I noticed one piece of news that the Galaxy Security Service neutralized several ships of a certain civilization that was anthropomorphic, a hybrid with insectoids. She was not part of the Interstellar Union, but on the outskirts of her solar system in the constellation Pisces, she tells me a six-digit number, she attacked tourist ships that appeared in this zone and came out of a gravitational jump. They specially installed there an imperfect semblance of a gravitational beacon, which detected the exit of a nearby ship of the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light. It so happened that they took advantage of the moment that time was needed for a new jump and launched an attack in order to take away the technology of the Interstellar Union. Now the Galaxy Security Service has identified this planet and neutralized the criminals. But since there was such a precedent, since they committed crimes against citizens of the Interstellar Union, they, as an exception, were sent to the planet of criminals of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that there was information among sleepers that insectoids were attacking something or someone?

Irina: He shows me that they are like brown people, only they have claws on their hands and whiskers on their heads, like an insect.

Maxim: So these are insectoids crossed with anthropomorphs?

Irina: Yes, these are insectoids crossed with anthropomorphs. Moreover, they are not part of the Interstellar Union, but they go into space, although they do not have such technologies. Their technology is less advanced.

Maxim: Someone writes: “No sound.” How can there be no sound if there is already sound?

Irina: Now.

Maxim: So, Irish, shall we then begin our topic “Levels of fine-material and dense-material worlds”?

Irina: He now shows me this head from different sides and says: “I, as a biologist, have only heard about such creatures, but now they are shown in our media.” Thanks for the news.

06:45 Structure of the Universe. Density levels of the material world. Parallel Worlds.

Irina: So that you understand what the topic is, I want to talk a little about how our Universe works. All information is given according to the data of the Interstellar Union in their terminology, which is translated through me into modern Russian language in an understanding that is accessible to our consciousness at the moment. The entire Universe is divided, let me immediately explain that this division is conditional in our perception, into the Spiritual world and the material world. The material world is divided into a dense material world and a subtle material world. The material world is divided into 59 levels of density. What is density level? This is a separate reality in which there are many worlds. One density level differs from another in vibration characteristics that are several thousand terahertz higher than the previous level. Those. vibrations of the very environment of space, and naturally, of those worlds and subtle bodies of creatures that live there, they on one plane constitute one vibrational characteristic in order to coincide with each other in one space and flow of time.

Maxim: It turns out that in a single space there can exist a huge number of entities of the subtle and dense material world with different levels of vibration?

Irina: Yes, they will just be at different levels of density in the same space. Moreover, in their perception it will be a separate space. That is, now there is a room here, and in the perception in their world it could be the sea, the ocean, space or some kind of planet. This space will be one, from the point of view of an external observer, but for creatures that are embodied in bodies of different densities, these are two different spaces. Earthly people have chosen the term “Parallel worlds” for this. But the name “Parallel World” comes from the words “walking side by side,” which means that these spaces are located next to each other, without touching. But, from the point of view of the observer, for example, in the astral body, which pays attention to these vibrations, they are, as it were, embedded one in the other, not going side by side, but going together. He is now showing me two different pictures, two landscapes, where one shows the sea, the other a forest, they seem to be superimposed on each other. And so 59 levels of density are superimposed. Outside and at the same time inside them is the Spiritual world, which is without matter, which is also divided into levels, but these levels are not identical to the levels of density of the material world.

10:30 Spiritual and material realities. The emergence of a dense material world.

Maxim: The question was interesting: “What is the real world then? If they overlap each other, then which world is considered real?”

Irina: All worlds are real. Reality is what exists in the perception of a being. There is spiritual reality and material reality. And there are different levels that are all in this reality. For example, your Spiritual world, your thoughts, feelings, emotions, they are also your inner spiritual reality. What you see in the outside world: objects, people - this is also reality, only material. Material reality comes from spiritual reality, gradually unfolding through the density levels of subtle reality. First, subtle worlds of high density levels appear from 59 to 55, to 40 and so on. Further, matter becomes more and more dense until a dense material world arises.

11: 58 Density levels of dense and subtle material worlds. Plasmoids. Astral.

Maxim: Who determined these 59 density levels?

Irina: 59 density levels? This is based on the study of data from plasmoid worlds, which was carried out by scientists of the Interstellar Union. They have instruments, only they don’t have scales, but show in space what level of density it is. They send a beam into space, now they show me a beam of greenish color, dotted, but it is not visible to our eyes, they show me a projection. Then this beam returns back to the device, and it shows how many terahertz, what level of density of the present entity. 59 density levels is how much we were able to measure depending on the division of our device and its sensitivity. We call the 59th level of density the last before the Spiritual world. Between the 59th density level and the first region of the Spiritual World, just beyond the 59th level of material density, is the astral world. We call the astral world part of the Spiritual world. All levels of density are visible from the astral plane, because the astral plane is higher in vibrational characteristics, but it is located outside the material world. Therefore, from the astral plane you can tune in to any level of density of the subtle-material world and communicate with any plasmoid.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, by going into the astral plane, we can tune in to any level of density of the subtle material world and begin to communicate with any entity from any world to which we tune in.

Irina: Yes, and we can visit their world in the astral body. At the same time, the energy around the astral body will even slightly replace its vitality. You will, as it were, put on it, and you will go out into this world. If this world is not very suitable for you in terms of vibrational characteristics, then you, as an astral traveler, will simply be thrown into another. Only if he does not use special techniques to stay there with the help of his life force is this possible. If he accidentally got there, he won’t have time to hold on; special techniques are needed there.

Maxim: Nazim, please stop spamming. I see your question perfectly, but you are asking it incorrectly. What does it mean: “What is the normal life speed of a plasmoid”?

15:05 Plasmoid lifespan.

Maxim: What is the lifespan of plasmoids, Irin?

Irina: Plasmoids are a form of life that can exist within a very wide range: from several Earth days to several thousand, and even plasmoids are known for up to millions of years.

Maxim: This is by definition of our reality, our world, right?

Irina: Yes, according to the definition of the Earth.

Maxim: That is, from several days?

Irina: Yes, he sometimes incarnates, fulfills his task and immediately leaves for the Spiritual world. It happens.

Maxim: Wow.

Irina: But, from the point of view of an earthling’s perception, several days will pass. And in the world of plasmoids, where all processes occur at an accelerated rate, faster, he will live his whole life there.

15:54 24 levels of the Spiritual World.

Maxim: Irin, here people confuse these levels. They always touch the 24 levels of the Spiritual World. Please tell us, it turns out that we have levels of the material world and subtle worlds from 1st to 59th. Next we have the Spiritual World and there, too, there are levels from 1 to 24. Right?

Irina: Yes. In the Spiritual World there are levels from 1 to 24, but Spirits do not incarnate there. This is called the world of disembodied Spirits. This is the eternal Home, the Spiritual world, where we all live between incarnations, and where Spirits live who do not want to incarnate. They are there too.

Maxim: That is, the Spiritual world is the world where disembodied Spirits live, who can then incarnate from the 1st to the 59th density level.

Irina: From 1st to 59th density level. Yes. In any world. From the Spiritual world comes incarnation into the material world, into any of the density levels. There is more than one world at each density level. There can be from several dozen worlds, there are density levels of up to several million worlds. For example, our dense material world is the third level. We are at the third level of density. Our entire physical Universe is at the third level of density, and there are millions, billions of worlds. Only in the third density level. But I mean not only our Galaxy, but the entire physical world in general.

17:33 Three levels of density of the dense material world.

Maxim: What is the first level of density?

Irina: The first level of density is the state of matter in solid form, very dense.

Maxim: Let's say a stone.

Irina: Yes. The second level of density is the state of matter in the form of a liquid. This is the same matter as in the 1st level of density, only the distance between its particles is greater. It vibrates faster.

Maxim: Can we say that plants are at the 2nd density level?

Irina: He tells me that plants, like people and animals, are at the 3rd density level because they consume and emit gas. Gas is the third level.

Maxim: What then is the 2nd level of density? What example?

Irina: At the first and second density levels there are only substances, solid and liquid. And living matter, even microbes, contain all levels of density because they breathe and excrete.

Maxim: First and second levels?

Irina: First, second and third. All living beings are in third density.

Maxim: How then to divide there, let’s say, this is at the first level, and this is at the second level of density.

Irina: He says that inorganic substances are at the first and second density levels, and those that are not gaseous at this moment, for example, stones, water.

Maxim: We are at the third level of density.

Irina: Because we have gas in us. Gaseous substances are the third level of density.

Maxim: Yes. What then is the 4th density level?

Irina: There is no longer matter there. You need to look at the table to see which vibration corresponds. There are special tables for this.

Maxim: Where are they? Why don't we have them?

Irina: They gave them to me. I already wrote them. They will be on the website.

Maxim: They will be posted on our website, right? By density levels, by the number of terahertz, how to determine them...

Irina: It will be written there from so many terahertz to so many terahertz, such and such a level of density.

20:22 Plasmoids of the 4-10th density level of the fine-material world. Mermaids, goblins, brownies, nature spirits, area spirits, earth spirits.

Maxim: Let's say that at the 4th level of density there can be both terrestrial plasmoids and stellar plasmoids?

Irina: They can, but they're not stellar. The 4th level is those who are closer to the dense material world, to the planets, or those who usually live in dense matter. Not in the plasma of stars, but in the core of planets. In your opinion, these are the Spirits of the Earth. Most of them. There may be Spirit-plasmoids of natural places that are responsible for the same formation of the earth's crust, etc. Although there is a denser level of density that does this.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that approximately these are goblin, mermaids, brownies?

Irina: Yes, there are such civilizations of the 4th level. The plasmoids of your planet, and also any planet with a similar atmosphere, structure of the earth's crust and biosphere, have earth-like planets, the level of plasmoid worlds that are responsible for these planets, for their elements, for places of nature, for the formation of animal souls, usually with 4- th to 10th.

Maxim: With the 4th times the 10th, yes?

21:57 How does the Spirit choose its incarnation?

Maxim: Here's a question. And who decides where the disembodied Spirit will incarnate, what level of density and what world it should go to?

Irina: This is decided by the Spirit itself, but in consultation with its Consulting Angels, where it comes to talk about its desire to incarnate.

Maxim: Consulting angels on the Spiritual level?

Irina: At the Spiritual level, Consulting Angels are at the 22nd level in the world of disembodied Spirits. The spirit is at its level from 1st to 24th, but the one who is at 22nd or higher also has consultants with whom he consults. Consultants are implementation specialists.

Maxim: That is, consultants have their own consultants.

Irina: Of course there is. They select it together, because they have led it in more than one incarnation. Sometimes they change, but this is rare. Usually the same consultants work with one Spirit for several incarnations.

Maxim: Guys, please tell me whether everyone has a microphone crackle or just some people. Because we don't hear ourselves.

23:20 What does knowledge of the Spiritual level give when incarnated into the physical world?

Maxim: Irish, the question was this. What does knowledge give about from what spiritual level you incarnated into this world? Let's say I'm from level 16. What does this give me?

Irina: This gives you knowledge of what energies, what level, what vibrations you achieved at the end of the previous incarnation. The entire description of the level, which will be from 1st to 24th, is what you were like at the end of the previous incarnation. This knowledge gives an understanding of what character traits need to be worked with in order to go beyond this level and rise further through the levels. It is advisable to consider it in conjunction with implementation tasks. What needs to be done to get out of this level.

Maxim: It turns out that if I found out that from the 16th level, I can see what tasks I achieved in the previous incarnation and I can look at the levels higher and understand what I need to strive for. So, what?

Irina: Yes, you can look up to level 16, which means you reached it in your previous incarnation. When you disembodied from your previous body and left, you went to the 16th level. The description that you will read was at the end of your previous life. Then you lived until this incarnation at the 16th level. You were there, waiting for this incarnation. What does it mean? This means that you communicated with Spirits of the 16th level. What is level 16? This is the level of Seekers, who are on the last level, transitional before the Angels. They do not have a day and night cycle. They have a constantly shining Light, rays fall from above, but there is no sun there. They constantly see pillars of Light from the level of Angels, which descends through the 16th level below. And they, being at the 16th level, see all this and want to enter this pillar of Light and rise to the Angels. Therefore, usually from the 16th level, reincarnation occurs quite quickly, because they come to consultants, saying: “I am at the level before the Angelic level. I need to reincarnate in order to acquire the qualities necessary to move to the Angelic level.” And an incarnation is chosen for them. The characteristic of the 16th level will be that a person from childhood will have a subconscious memory of this Light, which is constantly there and to which one must strive. In psychology, this is expressed in the constant pursuit of perfection. A person is not satisfied with his level, he is constantly looking for something new.

Maxim: Yes, you can calculate your level below at the link https://bit.ly/cassiopeia-level , i.e. from what level did you incarnate from the Spiritual world?

27:35 Transition between levels in one incarnation.

Maxim: Is it possible to rise from level 15 to 20 and higher?

Irina: It’s possible. As well as, vice versa, from the 20th to the 15th.

Maxim: Is it possible to come here from the 24th level, consider yourself God, and fall to the 6th level of Demons?

Irina: Yes, you can. We had a case when a person dropped from level 18 to 6 in one incarnation. He didn’t kill anyone, didn’t do anything, but there were internal negative experiences aimed at some moments of his life and at himself, which he could not cope with. So until the end of his incarnation, he greatly lowered his vibrations.

28:21 Godlikeness of the incarnate Spirit. Free will of choice - Light or Darkness.

Maxim: Good question: “Why should I strive for something if I have freedom of choice?”

Irina: No, you shouldn’t. There is freedom of choice, but it presupposes the recognition that you must strive for the Light and the refusal of this recognition. A person can freely tell himself that he wants to bring Light, develop Love in himself, and be one with God. Why might he want this? Subconsciously, the Spirit of any person remembers its merger with the Light when he was just born from God. In the Spiritual world, we were all born from God. Everything: demons, angels, aliens, plasmoids. We are all born of God. Who is God? This is a being filled with absolute Love, happiness and selfless wish for this happiness and love for others. And we are all born from this spiritual Light. Therefore, in the spiritual heart of every Spirit, in the core, deep, deep inside, no matter how low its vibrations, there is still a desire to be loved and happy. Just because we were born from such a Source, this is called godlikeness. We never lose it. But, if we refuse by our free will the path of Light, God leaves us to live in our own choice, in our own world, to follow our own path. He does not impose His energies, His help, His love on us, He does not allow us to feel it, because we chose to abandon Him. In this case, we begin to feel a shortage of these energies from the world, God, and relatives. We start to see the negative. We begin to react to it, accumulate negative blocks, and thereby destroy ourselves and the world around us, and contribute to the degradation of the people around us. Of course, this is also a choice. And from God's point of view, you have the same right as the right to development. But every choice has consequences. And before choosing Darkness or Light, it would be good to consider the consequences of one or another choice. This is also freedom.

Maxim: That is, there are two ways of development. You can through creation, i.e. through awareness and self-realization, or you can through destruction. The first path leads to growth and development of the level, and the second - to degradation. Right?

Irina: Many Spirits from the Spiritual World also call degradation development, i.e. in this degradation one can also develop. What? Grow, increasing your degradation. This is growth in the opposite direction. It's like negative numbers. Many Spirits consider that this is also possible. But, if you look from the point of view of energy, not physics, then during degradation the mass, some Darkness, of negative energy increases. It increases and grows too. But the more development in the negative, the lower the level.

32:43 What do Guardian Angels and spiritual Teachers give to man?

Maxim: What do Guardian Angels and spiritual Teachers give to people? Do they help him grow and develop or, conversely, degrade? What do they give at the time of incarnation?

Irina: They send him thoughts about God, about Light, about Love, mentally telling him how to behave in certain life events. Angels and Guardian Angels can learn from Prophet Angels, for example, some events that may happen in the future, in order to warn a person about something, tell him this in a dream, in a spiritual vision.

Maxim: Do they show their concern?

Irina: Yes, they show their care because they consider themselves and us to be one family. Dear friends, we are all in incarnation temporarily, for several decades. Compared to our endless incarnations and, especially, eternal life, this is like the burning time of one match compared to the sun.

Maxim: Did Buddha and Krishna incarnate on the planets LiShioni and MidgasKausa?

Irina: They don’t have such information. They didn't recognize.

Maxim: They didn't recognize me.

Irina: These are the ones they didn't find out about.

34:21 How to find out the Spiritual level at the current moment of incarnation?

Maxim: They ask: "How do you know what level you have now reached in this incarnation?" Spiritual level.

Irina: You can get in touch with the Higher Self and ask him. This will be the surest way.

Maxim: Do you need to go to the Higher Self?

Irina: Yes, go to the Higher Self. In order for your Higher Self to answer you in your language, before that you need to download knowledge about these levels that you want to ask, read their description.

Maxim: In order to at least understand what we are asking.

Irina: Yes, and then it will answer you in the language of your terminology.

35:02 Is it possible to find out the Spiritual level by the date of death? Contact with the world of disembodied Spirits.

Maxim: Another question: "Is it possible to find out your level at which you left incarnation by the date of death?"

Irina: No. Only if you go to the Spiritual world, mentally follow it.

Maxim: That is, you need to go through the astral plane into the Spiritual world...

Irina: You can do it mentally.

Maxim: Through the Mentors of the Spiritual World, ask permission to view this Spirit and find out from them, right?

Irina: If he wants to talk. You can tune in to your energy and simply ask him if he wants to talk. A person who makes contact as a medium may not leave the body, but do it mentally. If the deceased Spirit comes into contact with him, then he, as a medium, will feel the approximate level of the Spirit by vibrations. Then you can ask your Higher Self or your Angel. Angels know the level.

Maxim: That is, we will not know by the date of death, only through a trip, through the astral plane to the Spiritual world, we can find out at what level the Spirit is.

Irina: If he wants to talk to a person who wants to talk to him. Usually they are busy with their thought forms, analyzing their lives, and if they want to talk, it doesn't just happen. May answer if it is a friend or relative. And if it is a stranger, then he may refuse to talk to him.

Maxim: Interesting.

36:46 Is it possible to incarnate in the future?

Maxim: Is it possible to incarnate in the future?

Irina: Yes, if you look from the point of view of the Spiritual world, the Time Tape is continuous. There is past, present and future at the same time. From here you can incarnate in the future or the past. But this, according to our observations, happens much less often than sequential embodiment at one time.

37:12 Causes of ailments during the active phases of the Quantum transition. Relief from spasms and pain.

Maxim: I'll dispel it a little. For the last two or three days, many people have had headaches. Is something happening in the Cosmos now with energies or vibrations? Is it true that the energy corridor opened from the 14th to the 21st?

Irina: It's just that now is one of the terminal stages of one of the phases of the transition, which will happen a few days before the New Year. And now the vibrations of the Earth, atmosphere, stones, and air are growing every day. If a person's vibrations in his body do not match, he may experience spasms, pain, and poor health.

Maxim: How to get rid of these pains and spasms?

Irina: Relax, devote more time to physical and psychological rest. If you feel unwell, then relax, meditate, turn to your Higher Self and throw away all fears, doubts, check your blocks again.

Maxim: When exactly will the jump happen, and how does it happen? Is it somehow stretched out in time, or will there be a quick transition?

Irina: The abrupt phases of the quantum transition occur within a few hours. And the time of onset of this jump is quite variable; in 10 days you can only say approximately what day it will happen. It may still move because... depends on the total vibration of all earthlings. How much will it change?

39:23 Deadline for the end of the Quantum transition.

Maxim: When will the quantum transition that everyone is talking about end?

Irina: It won't end. It will just go through new phases. First a cycle, then a lull for two or three years, then another cycle and again a lull. It always happens like this, cyclically.

Maxim: It's all cyclical, right?

Irina: Yes.

39:46 Worlds and spaces of the Multiverse.

Maxim: Does the Multiverse exist, like a huge number of worlds and spaces?

Irina: This is the perception of what I talked about at the very beginning. One space can contain many worlds and levels. Now you are each in your own room, in your own space of the three-dimensional world. You are in a third density body, but the space around you is filled with other vibrations. Let me give you an example. There are many radio waves around you, which are artificially created by people and carry information. Moreover, all radio waves are different from different radio stations. One may carry information about the news, the second may carry information about music, the third may carry information about a church sermon. All this is next to you in space at the level of vibrations. But there is no such receptor in your body that can translate radio waves.

Maxim: The cat eats and drinks all the time. Maybe they think that this is a crack))) Guys, our image shows it very well, this is something with your Internet or you will need to look at the recording, because our image is very high quality. Maybe your internet is not up to par.

Irina: Just as radio waves from different radio stations with different information are located next to you in the same space, so too, only in different wave spectra, are plasmoid worlds.

Maxim: As we said. While we are sitting here, another 56 worlds may be near you.

Irina: If we can have hundreds of radio stations, then 56 worlds even more so.

Maxim: Are there any internal gradations in vibrations in these worlds?

Irina: We take into account density levels, but each world takes into account the plasmoid world in its perception. And the Galactic Federation of Light has its own levels of gradation. They can divide each of the 56 levels into three more.

Maxim: Guys, I want to ask everyone to support the channel, subscribe, like, click on the bell for notifications. I see all your questions, I write them down.

Irina: That's a good question.

Maxim: What question?

Irina: Can they see us? But we don't see them.

Maxim: Tell us the answer.

42:40 Can plasmoids see us?

Irina: This is a very good question, whether these 56 worlds see us. The fact is that those plasmoids that are embodied there, they also do not perceive the physical world, they are at their own level. But among them there are those who develop their sensitivity. Simply put, psychic plasmoids who tune the receptors of their subtle bodies to the astral plane, to those levels of density...

Maxim: Here we have a cat being attacked by plasmoids. Answer further, otherwise the cat knocked everything down. Did you answer the previous question?

Irina: Among the plasmoids there are plasmoids that increase sensitivity, something like psychic or esoteric plasmoids...

Maxim: Just as we have contactees, they also have contactees. Ours are included here, and theirs are included there.

Irina: They can walk, feel, contact our third-density world. But not everyone on the air can do this. Some people don't feel it.

44:10 What and how do cats see?

Maxim: An interesting question: “What do cats see?”

Irina: Yes, they see different forms of life, subtle and even spiritual beings that come in the astral plane.

Maxim: Cats are so sensitive, right?

Irina: They don’t see with their eyes, but feel the energy.

Maxim: They ask to show the cat. We won't show the cat, she ran away. The cat can be seen in other broadcasts.

Irina: They write: “Bring the cat to the studio!”

44:35 Why can a person attract an incubus or succubus? Sex in the astral plane.

Maxim: There was a question: “Who are the incubi? Why do they say that they are getting addicted? Why do they move in, or what attracts them to a person, why are they nearby?”

Irina: Incubi?

Maxim: Yes. This is a question for Meade or LiSioni, or one of them. LiSioni maybe he understands more in the astral plane.

Irina: LiSioni says they are called incubi... He is showing now.

Maxim: Who asked to show the cat. Here she is. The cat is not visible. Incubi...

Irina: Incubi are... (laughs)

Maxim: What's there?

Irina: Meow. (laughs)

Maxim: Irin, come on, we’re broadcasting, it’s time.

Irina: Incubi and succubi are most often plasmoid entities that, in the astral plane, enter into sexual relations with the astral body of a person. Thus, they exchange energies, because when entering the astral plane, the astral body remembers the physical body how it felt during sexual contact with a person. These feelings and desires are stored in the astral body. Therefore, some plasmoids, to which this human energy matches the vibrations... (laughs)

Maxim: The cat has arrived. Suits them in vibration, right?

Irina: Yes, they don't just feed on this energy like from an electrical outlet, but it is charged with feelings and emotions. When connected in the astral plane, this plasmoid-incubus or succubus takes on the image of a person of the opposite sex and connects with his astral body as a sexual partner. At the same time, the person in the astral experiences the same emotions. And because he likes them, he releases energy and exchanges with plasmoids.

Maxim: It turns out that incubi are attracted by the person himself with his vibrations.

Irina: Yes, he can attract them with thoughts about a partner who is not nearby. There can be a strong sense of self-gratification in a man or woman who masturbates. With such an act, sexual energy in the form of kundalini is not exchanged with the partner, but enters the astral space and does not return to the person, it simply dissipates. And at this moment there may be a plasmoid entity nearby that will perceive this energy as close in vibration to itself. Then she will begin to come to the person.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting! That is, this cannot be done, because... will an entity come to you that will feed on this energy?

Irina: It's not that she will feed on it, but will wait for you to leave your body. LiSioni, I have seen these images more than once, you don't have to show them to me. I saw many such plasmoids in the astral plane.

Maxim: Irishenka, come on, we have a busy broadcast and time. So, they ask when there will be a topic about paskats. Guys, we will definitely make a topic about paskats...

Irina: She already was. You need to ask where she is anyway.

Maxim: Yes, exactly, we already had a post about paskats.

Irina: Did you send it to Olesya?

Maxim: Guys, we have already met with the Pascats, talked to them, we already have it somewhere on the channel. It's just that I haven't followed it there for a long time, or we'll put it up in the near future.

49:20 The difference between the astral and the mental. Ether. Prana. Veil of the Astral. Torsion fields.

Maxim: How does the astral differ from the mental?

Irina: In the astral sphere there are feelings, desires and emotions in the form of clouds of different colors, sparks, fire, different colors, rainbows, etc. In the mental field there are thought forms in the form of crystals and stars. But we call the astral and mental the astral world, we call the mental the higher astral, because he is closer to the world of disembodied Spirits. They tell me to tell me about the etheric border between the worlds. At the transition from the last floor of the astral world to the world of disembodied Spirits there are Guardians. If a person, having left the body, wants to visit the world of disembodied Spirits, he first goes to the Guardians, who scan him, why he goes there. If he has a reason that is useful for his spiritual development, then he is allowed through. Between the material world and the Spiritual world - the astral, there are ethereal energies, which in your earthly physics are usually called “ether”. This is the vibrational space of energy transition from the Spiritual world to the material world to the density level. The ether is heterogeneous. Between each level of density there is a smaller layer of ether, but of a different type, which separates the worlds from each other. The entire structure of space is assembled from the ether in the form of cells. And that ether, which is located between the material and Spiritual world, is heterogeneous. The part that is closer to the material world, which separates the material and Spiritual worlds, is called “prana”, the vital Force, in the language of esotericists. Closer to the Spiritual world is the veil of the astral plane. This is such a thin film that separates the material world from the astral. It is because of this veil of the astral that Spirits cannot penetrate the material world and perceive it, because the veil envelops. Which is closest to the material world from the Spiritual, is called torsion fields. These are fields that create material elements, atoms, depending on the elements. They are divided into 4 elements. Each element is twisted into a vortex in a certain way, and material atoms are created.

53:39 Spiritual levels of Irina Podzorova and Maxim Rusan during incarnation.

Maxim: Irina, what level did you come from?

Irina: From 21.

Maxim: I came when I was 16. There was a question, we tell people.

53:48 From what level is communication with the Higher Self possible?

Maxim: Please tell me, can a person communicate with his Higher Self from any level?

Irina: Yes, of course, from anyone. If you wish, believe in yourself and in the Spiritual world, this is possible.

54:16 What “forces” do magicians and witches work with?

Maxim: Question: “Who do the witches who live in the forest in fairy tales work with? Who comes to them? We have the concept that a witch is a scary old woman who casts a spell, bewitches, and sentences something.

Irina: Who comes to them?

Maxim: Yes, who comes to the witches?

Irina: If a person of any gender and age practices magic, then he has contact with the Nature Spirits of the area where he is. But not only. He can be in contact with the Spiritual world, with any of its levels from the 1st to the 24th level, depending on his vibrations. And with levels of plasmoid worlds of any density level, which it will attract according to its characteristics and vibrations. If a person has taken up magical practices, it is very important to know whether he has a pre-incarnation agreement for interaction with plasmoid worlds. If so, then representatives of these plasmoid worlds will make a portal in its space so that less energy is spent on moving between density levels, for example, from the 16th density level to the 3rd density level along the portal.

Maxim: Guys, I’m not angry today.

Irina: Why angry?

Maxim: I don’t know. They always try to make me angry and scary. I always say that if something suddenly goes wrong, then it’s all my fault. I take full responsibility upon myself. So everything is fine. Just a large number of questions, you have to really concentrate and choose your questions on this topic. I sit and do this.

56:07 The influence of resentment and anger on the vibrational background.

Maxim: Does non-reciprocal love lower vibrations?

Irina: Whose?

Maxim: He loves the one who is nearby, but who is not loved.

Irina: If he loves unselfishly, unconditionally, then no, he doesn’t lower him. If he begins to get angry that they do not reciprocate, then evil lowers the vibrations.

Maxim: What if a girl is angry that they didn’t buy her an iPhone? Does this lower her vibration or increase it?

Irina: Any anger lowers.

Maxim: If you haven't bought an iPhone, are these low vibrations?

Irina: If you didn't buy an iPhone and she said: "Thank God I have an old phone," then she doesn't downgrade.

Maxim: And if she was offended by him for not buying an iPhone, then does this lower her vibration?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Girls, do you hear? Don't demand new iPhones, it lowers your vibrations.

Irina: You can simply ask, but if you are refused, treat this as the will of God. If you asked to give you a gift, and this gift was not given, it means that the Universe did not order it to fall into your hands. Perhaps this will encourage you to make an effort in the material world and, after doing some work, acquire this thing yourself. This happens often with Mentors. The Mentors themselves can come to this person and put in a thought so that he does not give it to you.

Maxim: The main thing is not to get angry.

Irina: This happens. They know such cases.

57:40 Communication between plasmoids. Shamans are contactees with plasmoid worlds.

Maxim: How do plasmoids communicate with each other in their worlds? We communicate by voice, but how do they communicate?

Irina: What is beeping? We can roughly say that they communicate at frequencies that are not perceptible to people. They can be like flashes of light with a certain frequency and speed, a certain color, which is arranged in different patterns. It's like words to them. They can with the help of energy radiation, like waves. They can use sounds that we cannot hear, these are just vibrations of the environment.

Maxim: When a shaman hits a tambourine, he creates vibrations in the environment and thereby summons plasmoids. Is that how it works?

Irina: He has a contact. The tambourine itself is charged with his energy and the energy of his curators. They put their energy into it. The tambourine itself is visible in the astral world in the form of a luminous ball. When the shaman begins to knock on it, he puts energy into it. We hear sound when we are nearby in the physical world, but in the astral world it is like rhythmic waves in space, diverging in all directions. Those plasmoids that are in contact with him, as well as those who are simply interested and who want to make contact, begin to arrive on these waves. They see it, they feel it.

Maxim: What other interesting question would you like to ask? We have no time left. Let's have one last question, it's very interesting. Let's wait for the last question. I know that now a line of questions will quickly run, but I will stop at just any one, and we will ask it. In the meantime, I ask you to like, subscribe to our channel, and turn on the bell so that you don't forget about the notification of the next broadcasts.

Irina: Indeed. Give me some water. Someone sensed that I was thirsty. Thank you.

Maxim: So, the line started.

Irina: I noticed too.

Maxim: Yes. I can not.

01:00:15 Who is Santa Claus?

Maxim: Oh, Irin, who is Santa Claus?

Irina: What a pressing question.

Maxim: As luck would have it, I stopped it.

Irina: Would you like me to show you Santa Claus? Come out here.

Maxim: Guys, lately I've been working as Santa Claus, and a real one at that. I really love wearing my New Year's costume with a beard.

Irina: Forgive me, please. But when you asked who Santa Claus is, I automatically remembered my last New Year in my life, which was the first such interesting one. And, naturally, I remembered Santa Claus. That's why I asked him.

Maxim: Indeed, on a subtle material level, Santa Claus exists as an egregor? They believe in him. Surely it must exist on some other level?

Irina: MidgasKaus says: “The image of Santa Claus is taken from contacts with subtle-material civilizations. It was the Spirit who was responsible for governing certain seasons. He still answers now. In ancient times, people communicated with plasmoids, which control not only a certain place, but are also responsible for the correct passage of a certain time in nature. There was the Spirit of Winter, the Spirit of Spring, the Spirit of Summer, the Spirit of Autumn, separately. The Spirit of Winter had several assistants, not as is customary now. It was called Frost, because... With his arrival, frost began. That's his name. What was he doing? When the cold came, it helped plants, animals and insects to survive this period correctly. Quite simply, he told them when to drop the leaves. He managed this process, monitored it, gave tasks to the group souls of insects so that they would hide.

Maxim: That's understandable. And the flying sleigh, the reindeer. Is there an explanation for this? MidgasCaus, according to you. Why should Santa Claus fly across the sky on reindeer and sleigh? Or did you not understand this?

Irina: This is a legend of the peoples, in which the Spirit appeared like this, because the deer is a symbol of the northern animal. There was an idea that the Spirit of Frost does not live in a separate space of the plasmoid world, there was an idea that he lives far in the North, where reindeer live and ride sleighs. This idea was of an earthly person who lives in another area, in the North.

Maxim: I see. This is the old Russian idea that he should have a beard and mustache so as not to freeze his face, a warm sheepskin coat and deer that do not freeze in winter.

Irina: Yes, this was the performance. Reindeer were a symbol that a person lives in the North. Flying across the sky is a symbol of fast movement.

01:04:25 How do plasmoids die?

Maxim: I’m reading the last question, very interesting and relevant. This is not the first time he has been asked: “How do plasmoids die?”

Irina: It depends. What density level? Take anyone as an example.

Maxim: Let's take the 59th density level. A plasmoid that lived for 2 million years. How does he die?

Irina: This is the level of entire clusters of Galaxies. Not just one Galaxy, but galactic groups.

Maxim: And how does he die?

Irina: His body can occupy several parsecs. People may not know. One parsec is 3.26 light years.

Maxim: His body occupies 6.5 light years?

Irina: Even a few, not one or two.

Maxim: Several.

Irina: When it dies, it begins to collapse. His body begins to fall in on itself, much like a star collapsing into a black hole, collapsing.

Maxim: It turns out that the Universe itself is compressing and decompressing. So this plasmoid, when it grows, it expands, when it dies, it contracts.

Irina: Yes. Usually consciousnesses of this level leave these incarnations themselves. They know that they need to go into the Spiritual world, they consciously desire this. His body begins to shrink to an infinitesimal point. At this moment, his Spirit ceases to be connected by the vital Force with his body, and he automatically moves into the Spiritual World immediately to his level without Guides.

Maxim: Or maybe a plasmoid of density level 59, which has lived for a million years in the Galaxy, whose body is several parsecs, then with its part incarnate into an earthling?

Irina: Of course. If he comes to the third level of density on Earth, then 30% of him will be incarnated as an earthling, and 70% will remain.

Irina: I see. The highest level has been dismantled. Now let's look at the lowest level. How does the 4th level of plasmoids die?

Irina: The fourth is the level of dense environments - Spirits of earth, water, nature, forest. They can look like balls, or they can take the form of small people. They can take the form of stones or animals. Their body in their world looks like a small ball, for example 15 cm in diameter. As it dies, it begins to lose its outline and disintegrate into smaller bubbles.

Maxim: Wait. Guys, if we now get 2,000 likes, then for the sake of experiment, we will extend the broadcast by 10 minutes. I promise you. For the sake of a sporting experiment. Last time I was scolded for being involved in an incomprehensible collection of likes, so I didn't do it. But if we collect it, we will continue for another 10 minutes. To be honest, I myself am interested in whether we will recruit or not. Irin, please choose a question.

01:08:20 The influence of swearing on human vibrations. Emotional chakra blockage.

Maxim: Does the mat reduce vibrations?

Irina: Vibrations are reduced not by the words themselves, but by the emotions with which they are spoken. The words themselves are the expression of these emotions in a series of sounds. If there are emotions of anger, irritation, resentment, then the vibrations will lower, even if you don't say this word.

Maxim: So it all depends on how much emotion you put into this swearing, right?

Irina: You need to know the reason.

Maxim: How interesting. That is, you can aesthetically swear like Faina Ranevskaya and not lower your vibration?

Irina: For what reason did she say that?

Maxim: Sometimes it's embellished with a word, and sometimes, of course, with condemnation.

Irina: Condemnation is anger, irritation. These emotions lower the vibrations of the astral world. If they are permanent, they form blocks in the chakras.

Maxim: I understand. More galactic news?

Irina: Why don't you enable monetization? This is a question for you.

Maxim: Because I think it's very convenient to watch videos without advertising. I myself don't like watching channels that have advertising. Due to the fact that I am the project manager, I do not enable monetization of the channel so that it is convenient for you to view information, its receipt, and it is convenient for you to watch our channel. We have already calculated how much we are losing by not turning on monetization. But I don't want to spoil your broadcasts so as not to distract you from the things we are talking about with unnecessary advertising.

Irina: The world is not an illusion. All this is reality. Only our perception of this world can be an illusion; the world itself is not an illusion.

Maxim: We have 1,869 so far, we haven't reached 2,000 likes, but still the last question. I can't refuse you. If you want to thank our project, you can go down to the description yourself, there are donations there where you can send. Because all your gratitude goes to the development of the project. Before the New Year, I am finishing renovations at the School, finishing renovations in the hostel for those who will study at the School, and will continue to build a large Center, which is located a 15-minute drive from Voronezh in a very picturesque, beautiful place in a cottage village. There we will have our own park, our own pond, our own tennis court, our own volleyball courts, our own health camp, a tent camp for those who cannot afford to stay in a hotel. I will try to build a Center so that each of you can calmly come and communicate personally with Irina, with the masters, and go to the Higher Self. In any case, I will do everything to build the Center for you. Every contribution you make is an opportunity to help yourself, so that in the future you can come and delve deeper into the topics we are talking about.

“You have a lot of plans.” Yes, we have grandiose plans. I have plans to build Centers all over the world, and I’m still at the construction stage; I’m already finishing a small Center in Voronezh. Then there will be a large Center - the starting point, and we will continue to build in all cities of Russia. When they build in Russian cities, we will also build in European cities and other places.

Irina: Yes, exactly. I'm reading the questions now.

Maxim: How to remove blocks from the chakras?

Irina: Yes, this is the most frequently asked question.

01:12:45 Practice removing blocks from the chakras.

Maxim: How to remove blocks from the chakras?

Irina: Before removing the block from the chakras, you need to determine what collection of emotions it is caused by - one or a complex. To do this, the best way to get in touch with your Higher Self, higher consciousness and ask it: “Are there any blocks in my aura?”

Maxim: They ask whether you have the right to choose questions. I sit here like a Cerberus and do not allow you to choose questions.

Irina: Please don’t embarrass Maxim, otherwise next time he won’t read the questions.

Maxim: I can leave everything to Irina. She will both read and answer. I'll see how interesting the broadcasts will be. We can even experiment for the next broadcast. You will see Irina's eyes very close near the camera. Irish, sorry, interrupted.

Irina: Look.

Maxim: Got 2,000 likes. But we’ve already been talking for 14 extra minutes. Let's answer the question of how to remove blocks from the chakras.

Irina: It is necessary to determine through the Higher Self what complex of emotions it consists of. First you need to come into contact with your Higher Self, ask him: “Are there any blocks in my aura that interfere with my development?” If the answer is “yes”, then ask in which chakras. You will mentally receive an answer or feel some unpleasant sensations in your body, in certain chakras. And then ask what emotions this block consists of, whether it can be dissolved. Direct Light to this chakra and at the same time speak the opposite emotion, depending on the situation, depending on what emotion. If it is anger, then ask who or what the anger is for. We need to find out. Call up a mental image of this person in front of you, call him by name, say: “I forgive you, fill you with Light, love you, accept you for who you are.” You will channel the Light, and at the spiritual level of the Higher Self, this work will be real. He will feel at the level of his Higher Self that you are doing this. This work is allowed without his permission because you are removing your block that is associated with him.

01:15:45 About the opening of the Cassiopeia Training Center for Spiritual Development.

Maxim: Guys, in our Center we will teach you everything. It's a very long story. There's a lot to explain there. After the New Year, on January 12, there will be an opening, which I promise you will do online. I’ll walk around with my phone, take pictures of those who will be at the opening, and show you the Center itself, the hostel. I think the discovery will be very interesting. From the 12th to the 13th, just in time for the Old New Year, we are planning to open a Center with a hostel. Next, we have a wonderful retreat in Abkhazia for the New Year, we are waiting for everyone who has already signed up.

Irina: They don’t believe that it will be completed.

Maxim: They don’t believe me? It's okay.

Irina: It will be after we arrive from the retreat.

Maxim: We'll replace the microphone. I already realized that there was a problem with him. Let's try changing the microphone. Regarding online learning. Guys, there will be online courses, but they will not be contact-based courses, i.e. not for training contactees, but how to raise your vibrations, what meditation is, how to meditate correctly, how to communicate correctly with the Higher Self. There will be online courses. But learning contact management online is impossible. Why? Because you need attunement, you need personal contact, evening practices. During the day there will be training, and in the evening the group will have practices, where they will practice among themselves, work out schemes, techniques and many other things. Irin, so what? MidgasKaus, LiShioni, thank you so much.

Irina: MidgasKaus, LiShioni, thank you. They say that we also listened to the broadcast, listened to your very interesting questions about plasmoids, about blocks in the chakras, very important questions for the spiritual development of earthlings. We send you greetings, the Light of our Love and until the next broadcasts, friends.

Maxim: Regarding whether it will be paid. Guys, one more time. As long as I exist, as long as I exist, as the head of this Center, I will try to make all payments according to my heart. So that each of you can touch this topic and develop in this topic. And as long as I exist as a leader, we will not have prices for spiritual knowledge. I believe that spiritual knowledge is priceless.

And only you yourself will be able to take and evaluate that specialist, give the gratitude that you consider necessary, give to the specialist who helped you, brought you to another level, or gave you some knowledge. Bye everyone, hugs to everyone, see you again.

Irina: See you again.

01:08 The reason for the lack of sensation and vision of the spiritual world.

Tatyana: Why is most people denied access to the vision of the subtle worlds? What are the mechanisms to protect or block this output? How to get around this?

Irina: The lack of vision of the spiritual world and the lack of sensation of it is not accidental. There are several reasons for this. The main reason in your earthly world is materialistic upbringing. That is, tuning consciousness, tuning the perception of all norms of life to the fact that the material world exists. But the subtle material world and the spiritual world, which many children feel, do not.

Who are the children? These are spirits embodied in a body, who have not yet fully adapted to this body; they still have some trace capabilities, the so-called traces of the fact that they can also sense the spiritual world. Very often, surrounding adults have the wrong attitude towards children's stories about the spiritual world. They say that this is a figment of their imagination or advise not to tell, to forget about it, that is, they inspire the child that this does not exist in the real world.

For us, for example, on the planet Shimor, when telling similar stories to our children, we always tell them that the image that they saw, the creature with which they became friends, is quite real. Although he is not in material reality, he is in spiritual reality. That is, from the very beginning we explain to children both at school, as in Esler, and in every family we explain that spiritual reality is no less real than the material world. And even more real, because she creates this material world. Since this is not explained to you, the consciousness of an already grown child who has become an adult, he, even feeling something in the spiritual world, feeling something in himself, he rejects these sensations and does not pay attention to them or explains them materialistically .

How to get around?

03:53 Exercises to develop sensitivity

Irina: Sensitivity at the level of intuition and at the level of listening to the voice of your inner Higher Self, the Highest form of consciousness, is useful for everyone to develop, because it will allow a greater flow of light to penetrate into your consciousness, which manifests itself through your brain.

To learn this, you need, firstly, to believe that it is possible, that the spiritual world really exists and it is not a product of matter, but vice versa. Admit it. Secondly, admit that these sensations do not yet exist, but they can be learned, that is, you need to work on it. The first stage, as Saint Germain already told you, is usually sensations. The very first stage of any spiritual work is to determine that you are a spirit, not a body. That is, perform special, very simple meditative practices that are aimed at feeling not the spiritual world, but oneself as a spiritual being. Everything else will come after this.

To feel like a spiritual being, I will briefly repeat the exercise. With your eyes closed, relax, try to feel yourself, where you are, at what point in the body. Try to feel separated from your thoughts, from your feelings, from your body, that is, some such source of everything. And when there is a clear feeling that I am not a body, but that I am an eternal and infinite spirit, then you can move on. Imagine leaving your body, for example. Astral travel is very good at developing inner vision even when you are in the body.

And, of course, communicate with your Higher Self using the methods that were already given earlier. First read the mood “I am the Universe..”, imagine yourself in a stream of light that comes from above, and mentally or out loud, it is better, of course, first out loud, using the speech apparatus, ask: can I talk to the Higher Self, can you answer my question? Be sure to say hello. And here will be the correct answer, the true one, from the Higher Self, which will come first in the light, because the Higher Self hears your call after your conscious manifested desire. It is always with you and your task is to make this contact conscious. And ask him to increase sensitivity and so on.

But you must clearly understand the consequences of such increased sensitivity. Because if you increase your sensitivity to the level of perception of the spiritual world, without leaving the body or leaving it, your aura vibrations will change, and you will already be noticeable to subtle beings, plasmoids and to disembodied spirits who may be near you, but in another dimension. And people who can hear them, see them, who are interesting to them, can begin to get in touch.

In any case, you need to be prepared for this and think about whether you need this goal in this life? Will it distract you from some other goals? This is really not such a simple question and it is advisable to solve it before raising your vibrations. Because the outcomes of contact situations are different and, naturally, do this only in positive vibrations. If someone offends, forgive. No evil should be sent in response, it will lower your vibrations. The fact that you respond with evil to evil, the fact that you respond with an evil word to an evil word, will in no way correct this person, you will simply lower your vibrations to him. That is, to react in light to any situation. This is the only guarantee of the safe discovery of your abilities to perceive the spiritual world. Why safe? Because then no negative entity will be attracted to you, and if by chance some negative entity comes to check you, then it will not be able to cause you any psychological discomfort.

09:32 Exercises for developing vision

Irina: There are good exercises on vision, on the opening of the sixth energy center, which Esler’s representatives have already given. The development of the sixth energy center should not proceed alone. First, there must be a harmonious development of other energy centers, from the first to the seventh, and in the context of these energy centers, there must be a development of the sixth, otherwise there will be no harmonious development of this personality, this spirit that exists.

And there are also good exercises for seeing the aura. This is looking, for example, at your hands in a semi-dark room, examining your etheric body, or looking at another person with an absent-minded gaze, the same in semi-darkness, to see the etheric body around his head.

10:40 How the Interstellar Union characterizes the types of subtle civilizations

Tatyana: Are there subtle-material civilizations hostile to humanity? Do representatives of the Interstellar Union control the possible negative impacts of such unfriendly civilizations on Earth?

Irina: We are considering this issue not in the context of hostile or friendly civilizations. Each civilization embodies different personalities, different spirits, with different levels of awareness, with different opinions towards earthlings and towards themselves. There are types of subtle-material civilizations, most of whose representatives, for a variety of reasons, switched to so-called energy parasitism.

11:37 Power sources of subtle-material civilizations

Irina: Most often, low-vibration spirits incarnate there in order to learn a lesson in abandoning these forms of nutrition, for example, in favor of love. This is such a unique lesson. To pass it, they incarnated there. This is most often the case in these civilizations. These civilizations exist at different levels of density around different stars in the physical world or within them. The most famous civilization of this type is the thirteenth level of density, the star Antares. She is not the most famous for us. It is very significant for you, because low-vibration spirits are embodied there, many of which have switched to feeding on the life force of dense material beings, including earthlings.

The life force of earthlings is fed not by high energies. Each person's life force is charged by his own thoughts and feelings. It cannot emanate, for example, like heat from a stove, because a person is not only a living, but also a thinking and feeling being. Therefore, the vital energy that leaves his body comes out in any case, because a person eats, drinks and breathes. As a result of metabolism, vital energy is obtained, and it leaves the body, charged with its feelings and thoughts. It can be low vibration or high vibration.

13:45 Vibration level - as a way of protection from low vibration bindings

Irina: Civilizations of the parasitic type in the vast majority of cases parasitize on low-frequency energy. Why? Because it is impossible to parasitize on the energies of joy, love, acceptance, perseverance, courage, and so on. Entities that can assimilate high vibrational energies are at a level of development when they themselves are able to give their energies unselfishly out of love. That is why parasitism on the energy of love is impossible, because it itself eliminates possible thoughts of parasitism. One can only be parasitized by the energies of fear, hatred, envy, jealousy and similar phenomena, provided that a person cultivates these energy blocks in his etheric body for a long time, which are already moving to the astral plane, from the astral to the etheric plane, to the mental one, and so on. . And all this together creates energy blocks, and sometimes even pseudo-beings endowed with pseudo-mind, which are called negative thought forms. Which provoke a person to further produce these emotions even in a situation where this is inappropriate. For example, reminding him of moments from his past life. And this memory, even without a real situation, already causes a surge of negative emotions. Some of these civilizations are able to feed on this low-frequency range.

In itself, this phenomenon is rather positive for the person himself, because those low-vibration energies that he produces, if a low-vibrating civilization is connected to him, then they take at least part of it from his etheric field. And if this remains in him, then it creates even larger blocks and begins to disrupt the state of the physical body. Low vibrations disrupt metabolic processes in cells, first at the cellular level, then at the subcellular level. This can cause diseases that your earthly medicine calls psychosomatic. She hasn't fully explored this issue, but it's very possible.

Every medal has two sides. This side is positive even of such seemingly negative attachments, but it also has a negative side. Because those parasitic low-vibration civilizations that are attached, and if a person suddenly raises his vibrations, if he has already increased the level of awareness and stops producing these emotions, then these civilizations, in order to preserve their source of nutrition, can prevent him from doing this. They can come to him, start to scare him, start provoking him into new outbursts of anger, even through his relatives or friends, and create various situations. This is already turning negative.

Tatyana: Does the Interstellar Union somehow control this impact?

Irina: Since there is freedom of choice for any embodied spirit, the Interstellar Union can control only by explaining to a person how not to make these bindings. If a person lives in negative emotions for a long time, even if they are hidden from the world, he does not show them to anyone, but on the contrary, he is an outwardly well-meaning and well-mannered person, but inside he has it, then these emotions begin to accumulate even faster if he does not change. This accumulation, according to Divine cosmic law, is considered consent to such forms of contact, because the person himself called for them.

Maxim: If a person does not have negative energies, darkness, relatively speaking, low vibrations, then not a single destructive plasmoid, not a single embodied low-vibration spirit will violate the free will of a person, his space and everything else.

Irina: Yes, he won't and won't be able to do this, since they are on different vibrations. Even if such a spirit comes to a person, he will not feel it. Even if it feels it, then in the energetic sense such a spirit will be very small for a person.

19:51 Safety precautions when communicating with subtle civilizations.

Tatyana: What levels are dangerous and undesirable for contact? What is the danger for a contactee when communicating with such subtle civilizations? What safety precautions should be used when contacting representatives of subtle civilizations?

Irina: The only possible effective safety technique when communicating with any creature of the subtle world is only increasing awareness of love, light, truth, kindness towards any person and any plasmoid that comes to you. That plasmoid that came to you and scares or threatens you, try to see in it your brother, spirit, son of the heavenly father, just like you, it just lowered its vibrations to such an extent that it has no happiness without these low manifestations. Send the light of love in his direction, do not be afraid to lose this light. The more you give it, the more it comes from the spiritual world, as God gives the opportunity to grow and develop to the spirit, which sends its energy to this material world. It gives even more energy for this. This is the most possible effective safety technique when contacting any creature of the subtle world.

21:39 What vibrations correspond to the density of the subtle world?

Tatyana: Describe the structure of the subtle world and its fifty-six levels of density. What vibrations do they correspond to?

Maxim: This will be a separate article. It's not quick to write. Since, to describe 56 levels, Irina needs to spend one week, every day, allocating two hours for this. Therefore, we will wait for an article from Irina in order to save time on descriptions now.

Irina: I'll tell you briefly. There are many civilizations at each level. Each civilization is at a certain level of density and at certain frequencies. Typically these frequencies are measured in terahertz. In such high-frequency ranges that you do not record with your instruments.

23:09 Family values, plasmoid communities

Tatyana: Do plasmoids have family values?

Irina: This is a conditional question. Many of the plasmoids have an amorphous form of a thin-material body, which they can change. They do not have the same form of unification as a family. Firstly, they reproduce in different ways: not by connecting two creatures of different sexes, but by budding energy from a large body or emitting rays. Completely different methods, individual for each civilization. There are no analogues of family, as in our dense material world. Plasmoids have so-called communities, but they do not sit, for example, like on Earth. In the subtle world there may be a different gravity, they can fly freely. For example, they can see the world not with two eyes, but with their whole body. This will change the perception of their own bodies. And they can form group minds, such as Kryon or Hamilia, which can only remotely be called a family. There are no mother-father, mother-son relationships.

25:24 Birth and age of the spirit

Tatyana: Where and how are Spirits born? How is the age of the Spirit calculated? How many Spirits were born by the Absolute?

Irina: An infinite number of spirits are born. From the material world it is clear that they appear outside of time. We can say that we were all born at the same moment, if we look at it from time.

If you look from the spiritual world, it will also look like everyone appeared at the same time.

But this does not mean that God stopped giving birth to spirits. The process of birth is endless, like God himself.

What is perfume? We are streams of God's thoughts that have acquired some autonomy. Since God thinks continuously, we are born continuously. If you look from the material world, everything happens at the same time. This is the closest analogy in the language of your world.

Tatyana: How is the age of the Spirit calculated?

Irina: We can say that it depends on the number of incarnations, but not always. It happens that the age of the spirit depends on the quality of incarnations. How many experiences of existence in different worlds did he go through, how much was he able to develop in himself qualities that likened him to God.

27:23 Birth of the Spirit of Jesus Christ

Tatiana: You said that the Spirit of Jesus Christ was born before all other Spirits. Is this throughout the Universe or just in our Galaxy?

Irina: From a position from the material world, where there is already time, the first thought that realized itself as autonomous, so to speak approximately, is precisely Christ the Logos. That's what it's called, Logos the Word. This is the first thought that realized itself as autonomous. All other thoughts realized themselves as autonomous later. You, as a spirit, are part of the energy of God, part of the energy of Divine light. Speaking in earthly terms, you are his daughter, and Christ is your brother, who realized himself earlier from the position of the material world, since there is no time in the spiritual world. Distantly speaking, when Christ realized himself, there was only he and the Father.

Tatyana: Are these the measurements of Galaxies or Universes?

Irina: The entire Universe, not just this Universe.

28:57 Who gives a name to the spirit?

Tatyana: Do Spirits have proper names or only Spirits of the 24th level? Who gives the name and when?

Irina: God gives a name to the spirit. But for a spirit it looks like the idea of a name arose from itself, therefore, as soon as it realizes itself as autonomous and begins to communicate in the spiritual world with other spirits, it already has intelligence and is therefore able to come up with a name for itself. Although the spirit considers the idea of a name to be its creation, in any case, this thought is sent to it by God. This is what happens in the spiritual world.

When incarnated in the material world, the spiritual name for the spirit loses its relevance, because here something else operates, for example, the one that his parents named him. When he comes to his next incarnation, he will forget his previous name.

Maxim: Let me add that a name is the totality of its set of vibrations, which reflects it in comparison with other spirits.

Tatyana: That is, each spirit still has a name.

Irina: Spirits live on one spiritual level or another, they mentally communicate with each other and thus distinguish each other.

31:03 Determining whether a spirit belongs to civilization

Tatyana: How is the belonging of a spirit to a particular civilization determined? By the number of incarnations or by the first incarnation?

Irina: Who determines what, which specialist or the person himself, this is an individual question. For example, you were incarnated once on Earth and ten times on Shimora. But based on your inner affiliation, what you did on Earth, the fact that you liked it more, you can consider Earth your homeland. And you can consider ten incarnations on Shimora a business trip. As they say, where this or that soul comes from is all very individual. Most often, the soul comes from a place where there was either a very long or very significant incarnation. Even if there were few of them on that planet, compared to others, but they were very significant, then he can call it his homeland. Or, for example, this can be seen by a specialist in the Akashic chronicles.

32:21 Source of all incarnated spirits

Tatyana: Are there different types of limis depending on their origin: from the Galaxy or from the Solar System?

Irina: Incarnate, yes, of course. They are embodied in the listed plasmoid worlds. And the source of all embodied spirits is the spiritual world from the first to the twenty-fourth level.

32:45 Level of the newly embodied spirit. Description of the way of life in the spiritual world

Tatyana: What do souls do in the Spiritual world? Do they work, sleep, pray, eat, communicate with each other?

Irina: It depends on the level at which they are. The state of spirit in the spiritual world is the same as in the previous incarnation. His psychoenergetic state and beliefs remain the same. He will think there, but will not change in his vibrations. The spirit is in a state of eternity.

When he finds himself at the level he reached during incarnation, he finds himself surrounded by spirits of similar levels. He will not meet creatures that differ greatly in beliefs, concepts about life, and so on. He will meet his brothers, similar in energy and vibration, who will always understand and accept him. This is the first.

Secondly, in the spiritual world everything depends on the will of the spirit. He can mentally create a house and live in it. Can create clothes and other things for himself. He comes up with it at the level of thought forms. This is similar to unconscious astral travel in a dream. He remembers his past life in the body and the astral world around him begins to change. Only in the spiritual world does this happen consciously. He doesn't just see, not understanding what it is and where it came from, but he himself begins to think what a house should be like, the embodiment of my dreams, for example. Should he be alone or with other spirits, it is also entirely his will.

Food preferences remain the same as they were in the physical world. If he was attached to different taste sensations, then he would come up with a table, food that he loved. The most interesting thing is that when he eats, the food will be quite dense for him, because he created it from thought forms. He will really feel her taste. He doesn't need to buy food, he'll come up with an idea and it will appear.

In the spiritual world there is no need for cars, planes, helicopters. Spirits either fly or instantly move - teleport. It depends on their desire and skills in managing their spiritual body. In the spirit world, they learn this for about one earthly year, and they become very proficient in controlling their spiritual essence. This is general about the levels, what they live and eat.

Now about the classes. It depends on their free will. All actions of free will depend on awareness. A spirit of a high level of development from level 17 to 24, an Angel, according to its vibrations, will not want to sit idle, creating thought forms. He will want to participate in bringing light, serving God and serving others. This is his natural nature of love. They turn to Angel spirits from level 22, consultants, or their spiritual mentor with a request to provide them with a certain activity. Each spirit from level 17 to 24 has its own responsibilities. For example, the Angel of Nature, a spirit of level 17, goes to plasmoid civilizations and teaches the spirits embodied there to control the elements according to the laws of God. Guardian Angel, level 18 spirit, guards spirits from various incarnated entities. And so on.

39:06 What death looks like. Woman with a scythe as an image of death

Tatyana: Death as an entity, what does it look like? In a black hood, with a scythe? Process of death?

Irina: Death with a scythe cutting off life is an image, a symbol. There are real entities behind it. For each spirit, when it leaves the material body forever, guide angels come from the 21st level. Their service is to accompany some spirits to incarnation, and others from incarnation into the spiritual world. Angels who come for a spirit that must leave material life can use various methods to help quickly get rid of the life thread associated with the material world. So that this process goes harmoniously. A sharply severed thread can cause injury, pain and discomfort to the astral body, and it will require restoration. To prevent this from happening, guides help to properly separate the thread. They are the ones who can be mistaken for the death they see coming. One conductor or several.

A woman with a scythe in her hands and a head in the shape of a skull is an image, a symbol of death. Why did you choose these? The skull is a symbol of the decomposed body. Why braid? This is also a completely understandable image for peasants who constantly dealt with haymaking. It was clear to them that, just as a scythe mows down the grass, so death mows down the life of a person who, compared to eternity, did not live long. Why is the woman featured in the image? In the minds of people, a woman is a symbol that gives life to all living things, then its reverse side, death, should also be in the minds in the image of a woman.

42:35 Meeting of the soul with God after the death of the physical body

Tatyana: After death and the exit of the soul from the physical body, the soul is cleansed of the accumulation of negative energy. How does this happen?

Irina: If the soul has a large number of blocks and negative energy, it falls on a low vibration level. After 7-9 days of the material world, the soul meets God. She comes to a special room, built by the thought forms of other spirits, at her level, wherever she ends up, from 1 to 24. There, the soul contacts God in a form that it is able to perceive. Either in the form of voice, or light, or in the form of merging with it, depending on the level. It also depends on beliefs. If there are religious attitudes in the consciousness of the soul, then communication with God occurs at the level of its perception in a religious sense. God never contradicts the beliefs of faith that the soul had if they led it to an increase in vibrations, to goodness, to light. God does not destroy these beliefs and, in communicating with the soul, takes on the image that is familiar in its religious tradition.

An atheist who does not accept the spiritual world, when he gets into it, does not understand what is happening to him. The guides explain where he ended up, that it all exists. He's trying to argue. They can show him a buried body, convince him of the reality and take him to his level. Contact with God occurs at the level of categories understandable to him: space, universe, higher mind. In categories that he understands. This contact is necessary for the spirit to realize its new position. God tells and shows his life in images. Since God is superpersonal, multidimensional mind and He is omnipresent, He can manifest in any place and talk to everyone at the same time.

What you call the judgment of God is called an analysis of life in our sources. There is no judge there to condemn for sins. This is just a simplified understanding of reality. There God explains to the spirit without any condemnation, states the fact of what he has done in this life, his state of the quality of the spirit, that he has not overcome it until the end of the incarnation, which is why he ended up at this level. Facts are revealed in such a form that the spirit agrees with them. Everything is revealed in such a way that it is impossible to argue.

48:19 Spirit in the space between the material and spiritual worlds

Tatyana: Why do some souls of people, for example, those who died in a car accident, not go to the world of Spirits?

Irina: Even if death is not natural, violent, or occurs, for various reasons, earlier than planned, then in any case, the guides called by the guardian angel come to the aid of the spirit quite quickly. They are competent in the matter of separation from the material world and guidance into the spiritual world. They begin to convince you to come with them.

By freedom of choice, the spirit can remain between the material world and the world of disembodied spirits, on the astral level. In that astral plane into which each of us goes in a dream. The spirit wishes to remain in this in-between space for various reasons. He may consider the cause of death unfair, in the case of, for example, murder and, wanting to punish the killer. May be very worried about relatives who do not want to come to terms with the passing of a loved one. He wants to be with them, in uniform, even when he is not visible, to come in a dream, try to convey that everything is fine with him, that he is alive, that he will not go anywhere. The guides explain to the spirit that the longer it remains in the astral world, the more energy it loses. The more difficult it will be to recover in the spiritual world; it will take more time. If the spirit has decided to stay, the guardian angel remains next to him, continuing to fulfill his duties of protection. Guides may come repeatedly, inviting the spirit to follow them.

52:05 Relationships in the spiritual world of the souls of people who love each other during life

Tatyana: Can the souls of people who love each other be together in the Spiritual world after death?

Irina: Yes, they can, even if they are at different levels. If a spirit of a higher level wants to visit a spirit of a lower level, it must descend to the lower level, because a spirit of a lower level cannot ascend to its lover or friend on a higher level.

52:41 Family egregor in the spiritual and material worlds

Tatyana: Are a woman and a man in the Spiritual world halves of one essence or is each of them a self-sufficient spirit?

Irina: In the spiritual world, each of them is a self-sufficient spirit. But when creating a family in the material world, a man and a woman form an entity called a family egregor.

53:10 Gender of the spirit

Tatyana: Is the gender of the Spirit given from the moment of creation or does it appear at the moment of incarnation?

Irina: Gender appears at the moment of incarnation. They may change.

Maxim: That is, the spirit can incarnate into a male or female body.

Irina: Yes, they can change bodies.

53:31 The concepts of “good” and “bad”

Tatyana: How to distinguish between what is good and what is bad?

Irina: There is a good way to do this. Good and bad are concepts that are difficult to apply in relation to other people. But they are very well applicable in relation to oneself. Every person knows what is good for him and what is bad. What kind of relationship and what kind of actions towards himself he wanted. To determine what is good and what is bad in relationships with people, it is enough to think: “How would I like to be treated in this situation?”

54:38 Helping a person addicted to bad habits

Tatyana: If we talk about bad habits. For example, a person smokes or drinks, ignoring warnings about lowering vibrations, insisting that he feels good from such a lifestyle. How to find out what leads to an increase in vibrations and what leads to a decrease in vibrations?

Irina: In the outside world, only your reaction reflects an increase or decrease in vibrations to any event. It is important for relatives or friends of a person addicted to alcohol, nicotine, or drugs to understand the reason for his dependence on a material substance in his soul. What feelings, energies, vibrations does he lack? What is he looking for? This is quite clear to an experienced, life-wise, sensitive person in dealing with an addict. For example, after communicating with five alcoholics, he sees that they are all in this state for different reasons. If he wants to help them get out of the state of physical, emotional, energetic, spiritual degradation, which does not allow him to fulfill the tasks of incarnation. If a person is dependent on alcohol, then most periods of his life are occupied either by searching for or consuming this substance. Naturally, there is neither time nor energy left for one’s own spiritual development.

To help an addict get out of this state, you must first understand the reason. Don't judge him or say prohibitive measures. Prohibitions will no longer help, since a person has decided for himself that he has the right to live like this. Here he is right, every spirit has the right to one or another choice.

The only measure that can help is to talk to him in a sober state. It is necessary to explain in a simple and accessible form that yes, you have the right to this choice, but you were not just born here, you are not just a body. You are a spirit embodied in a body. I understand that you are happy and feel good about the substance, but if you spend your whole life being fascinated by it without developing spiritually, then when you come to your Father, your parent, after incarnation, he will show you that you have not completed your tasks. Then you will find yourself at a low vibration level, where you will be even more uncomfortable than without this substance.

Maxim: Today Olga, our moderator, is present at our Skype conference, who prepared a group of questions that you left in the “Questions for extraterrestrial civilizations” column. Olya, hello!

Olga: Good afternoon, dear friends, good afternoon, Maxim, good afternoon, Irina!

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Today is a very unexpected contact for us, because... We have accumulated a lot of questions about Christianity. We decided to invite one of the Guardian Spirits of the Christian egregor to answer these questions himself, because... very often the Guardian Spirits of the egregor themselves incarnated into certain people on Earth, who later began to be considered the founders of this teaching. As you already know well, the founders of Christian teaching are not only Christ, he himself did not write a single book, but they are the continuers of his work.

Olga: I welcome Archangel Michael, who agreed to answer questions from our group. From the bottom of my heart, gratitude not only from me, but also from everyone who will continue to watch this video.

Irina : He also greets everyone. Mikhail greets you, Maxim! Greetings, Olga! Greetings to all listeners of our channel “Cassiopeia”! While I was in the astral plane, I transmitted mental images to him, it happens there very quickly. I told him about our activities: about what we had already managed to do, what we had managed to convey. He asked why we were calling him, and LiSioni and I explained that we needed to answer questions specifically about Christianity. He is ready to do this because it is important for him to understand people on these issues.

02:01 Lent. What is the basis for following a strict diet?

Olga: What does Lent mean? Why do you need to follow such a strict diet? What is this based on? What exactly did they mean when they created Lent, because many people do not have the opportunity, for physical or financial reasons, to observe such a fast? Will non-compliance be a major sin?

Irina: The dogma of fasting was not adopted by chance. It was introduced from the practice of monasticism, which began almost immediately after the formation of the church. By the word “church” here I mean the entire Christian egregor, i.e. both incarnate Spirits and disembodied Spirits who belong to this faith. And among these believers there were many who left worldly life in order to become monks. "Monk" is a Greek word that means "solitary hermit." They did this in order to be able to tune in to the Light within themselves, so that there would be no interference in external life in the material world. This is a very individual point, and personally life in the material world interfered with them - it distracted them from prayer, from fulfilling the commandments, etc. They believed that it was personally impossible for them to combine these two different types of energies, because It's really quite difficult to combine the two. When they became monks, they renounced receiving pleasure through the body so that it would not distract them from those pleasures that are given by being in the Holy Spirit, in the Spirit of Light, if this is translated correctly.

The first monastic communities introduced food restrictions. It was not only animal food; there were restrictions on many foods that brought pleasure. They did this deliberately, so as not to cultivate in themselves attachment to what we call the sense of taste, for example.

A little later, when the Christian egregor had already gained strength and gained many believers, these monastic practices began to penetrate the life of the ordinary Christian community. At first it was a clear separation; for the monks, their whole life was one continuous fast. A little later, during the formation of the Christian egregor, these norms partially began to penetrate the communities of ordinary believers. For what? When Christians live in one Spirit, belong to one egregor, they voluntarily or unwittingly influence each other with their thoughts, beliefs, energies, and emotions. And since they belong to a single egregor, then through this egregor they exchange thought forms. Therefore, many believers from ordinary Christian families began to consider it correct for themselves to partially observe monastic practices. That is why, a little later, four posts appeared in the annual circle of services, and special prayers were written for services on these days. These were not just days: they were dedicated to certain events, biblical holidays. And usually before major holidays it was introduced into the canon that people fast. Unlike monastic fasting, fasting for lay people is completely voluntary in the sense that everyone observes it not according to monastic rules, but according to how he can do it, because unlike the monk, he did not take a vow of renunciation from pleasures and all worldly affairs. Naturally, here the measure of fasting needs to be determined, and I want you to remember this: if you are not a monk, if you do not have a vow, then the measure of fasting is determined for you not by your confessor, but by you yourself. You are not obliged to keep this vow, because you do not live like a monk, you do not live in a community, but among ordinary people in a completely different energetic, psychological and social environment than monks. Therefore, if you feel that during fasting you need to consume animal food for your psychological and spiritual well-being, then this will be much more correct than eating lean food and at the same time being in a state of imbalance. When you cannot concentrate either on prayer or on good deeds, but only think about what someone from above, the strict God, forbids you to eat tasty things. Under no circumstances should you think like that. It’s better to eat something tasty than to have such an opinion about God. It is better to eat something that is not lean than to imagine our Heavenly Father as such a strict overseer who only watches to make sure his child doesn’t put a piece of meat in his mouth. Rather than have such an opinion about God, it is better to eat meat.

Maxim: We will be anathematized right away. Again, again.

Archangel Michael said that fasting is needed to cleanse the body and its energies, but this abstinence should not go through the negative thoughts and emotions of the person himself from this fast. If you cannot fast due to nutrition, observe it according to your understanding. Continue to purify your thoughts and emotions through prayers and other possible and acceptable rituals for you personally. Diet restriction is an additional way to limit your body, but not the main one!

Irina: Every Spirit embodied in a body, no matter what body it is embodied in, has freedom of choice. If a person feels that some kind of food becomes an obstacle to prayer, to good deeds, then, naturally, he must limit himself in this, because no food can be the main value in a person's life - it is a means to maintain vitality. Naturally, it can bring pleasure to people - this is what God himself intended. As bodies, you are created as hybrids, but all the ways of hybridization of aliens and earthly animals took place according to divine laws, because There are simply no other laws in nature. Therefore, it would be correct to say that God also created you as people, as human bodies, because the same representatives of Burkhad, Tumesout and Selbet who created you were also incarnate Spirits who were led by God at that moment. Therefore, it would be correct to say that your body was also created by God, including the digestive organs and taste buds. Everything you have was created by God. Precisely so that you have the opportunity not only to process food into energy, but so that you can enjoy it. For what? So that while you enjoy, you can love God and thank him for this opportunity.

12:38 Meaning of the myrrh-flowing icon.

Olga: Thank you for this comprehensive answer. Many people ask when they come to church or go to museums where very ancient icons of the 5th-11th centuries are located, they notice that the icon is crying, i.e. streams myrrh. What does this mean? Does this mean a harbinger of big changes or some kind of trouble?

Irina: The fact is that the release of liquid, various substances on objects of religious cults is a feature not only of Christianity, it is typical for many religions, where there are many believers who have such strength of faith, who direct a lot of energy into their egregor. This was observed, including at the statue of Dionysus in Ancient Greece, i.e. he also secreted fluid, tears, etc. It was, but it was not a Christian religion; it occurs from time to time in both Hindu and Buddhist movements. Such manifestations as the appearance of various substances incomprehensible to modern man on religious objects are all manifestations of energy from the Spiritual world, i.e. energy can concentrate in one place. I can't find a word right now that you understand, it's not in your language at all, but the most understandable thing for you would be to create a substance from energy, i.e. concentrate atoms in such a way that they will be able to partially materialize. Condensation is only condensation from gas to liquid, and this is condensation of matter from energy. Although this is not an exact analogy, it is the closest I can get to the concepts that contactees have.

15:20 The healing properties of myrrh. The energy of the Christian egregor. Holy Fire.

Maxim: And this myrrh that stands out, is it healing?

Irina: It is not the myrrh itself that is healing, but the faith of the one who uses it is healing. It can appear on relics and other religious objects that are imbued with the energy of the Christian egregor. What is an egregor? This is a collection of thoughts and feelings of people in the astral world. When people come to church, when they form the United Church, many have the brightest thoughts and feelings turned to God that they have in their lives. This entire accumulation constitutes a Christian egregor, because for many, churches are an outlet from their life, which unbalances them, an outlet where they can come and show their brightest feelings, which they would simply laugh at in worldly life. Therefore, all this light energy collected in the astral plane can manifest itself in the form of myrrh, oil and other manifestations that are there. The same blessed fire is also a manifestation of egregor. What you call miracles in your material life, and you call miracles something that you don't know the laws of, how it works - that's why you called it a miracle, it does not obey your usual logic. But if it does not obey your usual logic, this does not mean that it does not obey the Divine Logos. Because God is that being who, as is known, the non-existent is called existing, and for whom there are such worlds, states and feelings that are inaccessible to your understanding, just as an ant is inaccessible to understand, for example, the feelings and desires of your poet.

17:49 People's perception of the myrrh flow of icons.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. One more question on this topic. Many believers believe that if icons stream myrrh, then this is a harbinger of great troubles. Is it so?

Irina: No, that's not true. This is not a harbinger of great troubles - these are people's fears. They understand this to be a manifestation of the Holy Spirit, and the Holy Spirit for Christians is God. They think that if God paid such attention to them that he showed them an obvious miracle, then that means He is warning about something bad. Because they are not used to seeing such miracles and manifestations in everyday life. Therefore, when they see something that does not fit into the framework of their worldview, they begin to perceive it as a hint of a bad future. But this happens due to their defensive reaction. In fact, God will not frighten his children by predicting a future that cannot be changed. If he gives a prophecy, he will give it through his prophets in a clear and understandable form, and only if this negative future can be changed, otherwise there is simply no point in scaring your children in advance.

19:35 Dividing the relics of saints into parts to make it possible to celebrate the Eucharist in churches. Antimens.

Olga: Thank you. Now everything has become clear. Another question: how do you feel about the fact that the relics of saints are divided into parts, given to various churches, transported, and shown. Isn't this a desecration of the deceased, especially a saint?

Irina: The fact is that to build a Christian temple on the Tibin people, i.e. on particles of relics, this custom also entered Christian life not by chance, this is the memory of those people, the first saints who were martyrs for the faith. As is known, the Christian religion was persecuted by Roman emperors and ordinary Roman citizens for the first three centuries of its formation. There were reasons for this: political, religious, and social. But, nevertheless, many Christians died from murder in various ways, and because... these dead Christians were heroes in the eyes of the surviving Christians, then, naturally, they were canonized: they were declared saints, because... they gave their lives for God. They did not renounce him, although they could have renounced and saved their lives, i.e. they put the life of God above their physical life, which was holiness in the understanding that they did not betray faith in order to preserve their temporary life. Everyone understands that life in the body is temporary, and as a sign of veneration for these people, temples began to be built near their graves. A little later, the Christian church came to understand that the person who became a saint united with the Holy Spirit, the energy of the Holy Spirit also spread in his body, which means that he can no longer be buried as an ordinary person, about whom the church does not know that he is a saint. There are many uncanonized saints; naturally, it is impossible to know all of them. About those who were known from the mouths of believers, stories about their lives, from many factors it became clear that they could not be consigned to earth or fire, depending on the area, like ordinary people. Because in their body, in every atom of their bodies, the energy with which they filled their entire lives, giving themselves to God in prayers, is preserved. This happened due to the fact that many believers, standing near the bodies of deceased saints, felt a connection with them: that they were alive, that their bodies were also alive, that they were filled with the life to which other believers were drawn. Because the word "death" refers only to the physical body, but many felt contact with the Soul of this saint when they touched the body of the deceased, when they paid veneration to him. Reverence is a form of worship not as God, the Creator of all things, but as his creation, as his children, i.e. it is a form of worship, recognition, giving thanks for the fact that such a person lived. Already in the last times of Christianity, in the last centuries, such a practice arose that more churches began to be built, and those relics that existed began to be divided, so that in each church under the altar an antimension was placed, because according to the dogma of the church it is impossible to serve the Eucharist in that a temple where there is no antimension. The antimins contains particles of relics, i.e. these bodies that contained this energy. Only on the altar, under which it lies according to the rules, according to the dogmas of the church, can the Eucharist be celebrated, i.e. when implementing “bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ.” When they, while physically remaining this substance, energetically acquire the properties of the substances I have named. This happens becausethat in Christianity the prevailing opinion is to compare any Christian saint, especially a martyr, with Christ, i.e. This sacrament is performed on his bones, on his grave. Just as this saint was united with God, with Christ, with the Holy Spirit in his life, so bread and wine are united with the deity of Jesus Christ. As you remember, in Christian dogma two natures are distinguished in Jesus Christ: his deity, divine nature and human nature.

26:15 Construction of religious buildings in cemeteries.

Maxim: Is it right that churches are built on simple cemeteries?

Irina: Do you mean the chapels where funeral services are held?

Olga: Yes, the chapels where the funeral service is held.

Irina: This does not go beyond the rules of Christian egregor. In any religion, the attitude towards death is not the same as in worldly, non-religious life, where the main thing is materialism: to preserve your body and the health of this body at any cost. Not so in religion. Religion recognizes the priority of the Spirit over matter, and therefore the attitude towards death is somewhat different: there is no such fear of death, nor of dead bodies, nor disgust, nor pity for them in the usual sense of the word. There is an understanding that this is a natural process, and therefore religious buildings are quite compatible with burial places, because a believer of any faith does not see any horror from contact with the dead. Let me remind you that in Tibetan Buddhism, for example, musical instruments are made from human bones. Not even just instruments, they play them as if through a trumpet, decorate them with various carvings, gold, silver, and stones. If a girl who has not known her husband dies, instruments are made from her bones that call upon the Spirits. They have faith that this is a powerful remedy, and the monks take them into their mouths and play, and they do not feel any horror at this, all this is quite natural.

Maxim: I thank you, Archangel Michael.

28:42 The concept of "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" in Holy Scripture. Torah. Yahweh.

Olga: Archangel Michael, as far as I understand, somewhere around 1530 there was a division of Christianity, and a separate Catholic branch emerged, which also serves the Christian egregor. Our subscriber from the Catholic faith asks: what did "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" mean in Holy Scripture? Because now they perceive this directly as a description of vendetta, especially since this is very common in Italy. And all the time everyone says "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth." In Italian it says "occhio per occhio, dente per dente." What did Holy Scripture mean when it said this?

Irina: The fact is that the Holy Scripture, by which I now mean the canonized biblical books, is divided into two large sections: the Old Testament and the New Testament. The words "an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth" were written in the Old Testament, and in its most ancient part, which is called the Torah, i.e. These are the laws that were conveyed to Moses by an alien being who arrived on a ship from the planet Tumesout, and whom everyone began to call Yahweh. As you already know, this is one of the incarnations of Christ. The purpose of these laws was to form a unified state of Israel as a political community, as a religious community of monotheism, i.e. egregor of their religious community, and as a separate independent country. Any country should have its own laws, including legal ones, in your opinion. Since in Ancient Israel, when they began to transmit these laws to the ancient Jews through Moses, through Aaron, his brother, they were faced with the fact that they adopted the legal norms that the Jews had at that time from Ancient Egypt, which is not surprising: They were enslaved and enslaved for 400 years. But Egyptian legal norms did not meet the standards that they should have for Israel. First, these rules of Egyptian law depended on who harmed whom. If we talk about "an eye for an eye": if in a fight or intentionally one person injured the eye of another, then according to Egyptian laws, if a superior injured a inferior, he could pay a fine. If a person below him on the social ladder injured his eye, they could even kill him, i.e. not "an eye for an eye," but to kill. Therefore, in order to introduce an element of fair retribution, Yahweh decided to give such a law so as not to repay with greater action for what he had caused. If Yahweh had not told the ancient Jews that for a gouged out eye or inflicted wound one should be fined or put in prison, etc., then they simply would not have understood him. They didn't have the kind of society they have now. Now you would probably call it revenge. At that time it was understood a little differently. This was called fair retribution. The problem there was precisely that, according to the legal norms of the emerging state of Israel, no more was done to the criminal than he did, because in the Egyptian laws that they adopted, there were such norms. This is later, many thousands of years after Moses, 2000 years after the beginning of the formation of Christianity, you live on Earth, in the modern world, which was formed, among other things, under the influence of these two religions. It is wrong to try to transfer your modern legal or moral standards to a time that was completely different. And the people here were completely different then. If you carefully read the Bible and read, for example, about the acts of Abraham and the acts of other contactees whom Yahweh chose to form a new people from them, read about their personalities, what they did, what deeds they performed, then you will see that even they, whom chosen as contactees, vibrationally suitable for this purpose,did not meet modern standards. For example, Abraham, and this is a well-known fact, when he came with his wife to Egypt, out of fear that he would be killed for the beauty of his wife, he asked his wife not to say that he was her husband, that is, in fact, for his He betrayed his wife's honor with his life, to put it bluntly. And this is the moral quality the person was a contactee. This only speaks of the fact that at that time and in that place there were no higher vibration ones. This means that you can already judge the general level of morality at that time.

36:34 Transfer of outdated ancient laws to our time.

Olga: I am grateful to Archangel Michael for this answer, because I want everyone to hear his words that these laws that were for that time and for that state cannot be transferred to our time and to this state.

Irina: About not transferring the laws of that time to ours. The fact is that any society on any planet, an emerging society, goes through stages of development very similar to the stages of human development from childhood to adolescence and then to old age. And transferring the laws of a society that is already transitioning to maturity into a young one that is just being formed is the same as an adult starting to behave like a child, including exhibiting all those qualities that he has long gotten rid of. For example, many children are not taught to take care of themselves and keep their bodies clean. If we think rationally, if we strive for development, we cannot transfer these norms to our adult lives and be, like children, in need of this care. He said that it is the hygiene standards that are instilled in children who are still learning this. If an adult goes to this stage again and needs to be cleaned up after him, etc., etc., and he cannot serve himself, then this will be degradation for him. In the same way as for society: if they try to transfer these old laws, which have already become obsolete, to a new society.

38:49 Shroud of Turin.

Maxim : Thank you! What about the Shroud of Turin?

Irina: Regarding the Shroud of Turin, there was a question about the dating, right? It was Mirakh Count who was one of those Angels who took Christ from the cave in which he was buried, in order to examine his body with a special device, he, together with his second assistant Burkhad, sent a beam at the guards so that they would lose consciousness: they were not in a dream, but in a state of detachment. Then they moved the stone away with an anti-gravity beam and went into the cave to examine his body there in order to inform the ship what to prepare. They freed him from what he was wrapped in and already took him onto the ship without it. What they left later became the shroud.

Regarding dating. The fact is that this thing consists of fabric. It was exposed for a long time to high temperature, which shifted the reactions of the substances of which it consists in the direction that there were fewer of those substances there. There was such a case that it was heated, so the age was shown incorrectly by half, i.e. dating of this fabric showed a different date. Now there is already an analysis where you recognize DNA, you can take blood stains for analysis. You can see from the energy that there is something left there. It's based on DNA. You had an analysis that the iron content in these stains is characteristic of blood, and not of red paint. They showed that if you just draw with blood, the spots will not be located that way. If you do this with a brush, then these will not be such stains. You had such a study, it is known.

42:25 Face of Christ on the Shroud of Turin.

Maxim: How was the face of Christ formed on the Shroud of Turin?

Irina: They wrapped him up and took him to the cave. I remind you that he was only half an earthling from his mother, and half was a Burkhadian. He had more Burkhad genetics because his father was physically from Burkhad. When he was killed and wrapped in this shroud, the processes of decomposition and rotting of his body were not at all the same as those of an earthling. Firstly, the metabolism was different, and secondly, the microbes acted differently on him. Every body that dies for the first few days releases its life force, what you call ether. It stands out and gathers over the body. This is similar to how, for example, a heated object loses its energy, and the life force of any body is charged with its thoughts. And since Christ was a rather high-vibration Spirit, while he was in the body, he charged the etheric body with rather high vibrations. And when they killed him, the physical body died, and while he lay wrapped in the shroud, the ether began to leave the body, naturally, passing through the shroud. Since his Spirit was most manifested in the head area, because we have the highest chakra there, which is responsible for the mind, for the Spiritual world, etc., then more of this etheric energy accumulated there, and it came out more. Due to the fact that this etheric body also had high vibrations, not similar to the vibrations of other people for many reasons, two main of which I have already named, when it came out, it changed the structure of the tissue in such a way that this face of Christ appeared on it.

45:12 The perception of the atmosphere in Orthodox churches depends on the forms of religious consciousness.

Olga: Archangel Michael, thank you for your answer. I understood everything. The next question is: why was it made so that in our Christian temples and churches there is always twilight, all the church ministers always wear black, there is always sorrow, no light, no joy. If you compare it with Catholic churches, and this is also a Christian religion, it is always very bright and light there, and there is no such black atmosphere. I mean everything is black. Why exactly was this done in our church? What was it that was haunting this thought?

Irina: A person is characterized by several forms of religious consciousness. One of the forms is what you call grief for the material world in the sense that there is a lot of injustice in it, a lot of negative aspects, what the high Spirit considers suffering for itself, so to speak. And this is one of the forms of religious experience, it is known in all religions. Another form of religious experience is a state of happiness, a somewhat religious ecstasy, one might say, from union with the Light. These forms are characteristic of people of different types, one might say, Souls. You now call it different types of characters, but these are different types of Souls, different vibrations, which, naturally, were acquired depending on personal experience, both in past incarnations and in this one. Some Souls see in religion only a reason to be sad that there is a lot of darkness in the material world, and it is very difficult for them to feel the Spiritual world while in this material world. This is the type of character, he is more fixated on the problem. This type of character is everywhere, in all religions. In everyday life, I am sure, you have met more than once such people who everywhere and in everything look for a reason not for joy, but for sadness. And there is another type of character who, even in the negative moments of their life, are looking for something good. Naturally, when they come to religion, such people seek and create an environment around themselves that makes them happy. They experience the Light more in a form that they experience as joy. Precisely, because different people have different religious experiences, which is why the atmosphere in this or that temple is different. Firstly, the situation in the temple - this topic is very subjective, I would say, because what one person saw was darkness: the dark clothes of the priests, the sad faces on the icons, etc. - this is his subjective view. Another person, coming to the same temple, will see that these are just symbols. For example, the color black is a symbol of renunciation of the world, so-called asceticism. He will not see any sadness in this; on the contrary, he will see the joy of union with the Holy Spirit. Therefore, I believe that this is a subjective view, especially since it is also necessary to take into account what period of the year the person was in the temple. For example, during the period when the life of Christ is remembered, especially about his suffering on Earth: he suffered, he was persecuted, and, in the end, he was executed, naturally, believers do not rejoice at this event, because, remembering, they experience everything again this, i.e. in their Souls they seem to be walking next to him to Golgotha, etc. Naturally, there is no reason to have fun, because they are experiencing other states. And after the celebration of the Resurrection of Christ, after Easter, the services in churches are different, and the clothes of the priests are different. Everyone is full of joy and rejoicing that Christ has risen. It also depends on what period of the annual liturgical cycle the person entered the temple. You need to understand the meaning behind these religious images, behind the clothes, behind the icons, etc. If a person does not understand the very meaning, the Spirit of this religion, then he will simply look at the images and think,that this is religion itself, but it is not so.

50:44 Kissing the priest's hand is a symbol of thanksgiving and honoring the giving hand.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Another question: there is such a tradition that you must kiss the priest's hand. Where did this come from and what is it for?

Irina: This is a social custom, like the veneration of an elder, one might say, a spiritual teacher, because in different traditions of different countries the veneration of spiritual teachers and teachers in general is very different. The Christian Church, coming to this or that country, naturally, people who grew up in this country, were educated, come there, they bring their traditions of veneration to the church. If in Russia or some other country: it is customary to kiss the hand of a priest - this is a historical moment, because kissing the hand is a sign of honoring the giver, because the hand usually gives something, it is a symbol of thanksgiving and veneration of the giving hand. For example, in India, the symbols of veneration are completely different. It is their custom that the body of even a living guru is holy, that it radiates divine energy, and therefore if he washed his feet or bathed, then this water is not thrown away, but used for drinking. This is a well-known Indian custom; they do not see anything special in it. This is also a symbol of honoring the energy that lives in this person.

52:40 Non-recognition of other religions by the Orthodox Church as a defense of the Christian egregor.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Why has it been done in our Christian religion, specifically in Orthodoxy, that if we talk, mention other religions, such as Islam, Buddhism, and talk a lot about these religions, then the priests in the churches, as a rule, say that these religions are not Christian and they are from the evil one. Why was this done?

Irina: Here we can note two points in answering this question. The first point is the protection of the egregor, because egregor as an energy substance also has the property of self-defense. The fact is that it is the protection of the religious egregor that manifests itself in the form of some denial of all other religions, which direct the energy of a person's faith into other egregors, because a person is inclined to believe in one thing. If he recognizes the Christian picture of the world as correct: God, the Trinity, Christ incarnate, that God is the Holy Spirit, etc. - everything that you know from the Bible and from the traditions of the church, which were formed during the life of Christian communities, then, naturally, such a person, if he sincerely believes, he cannot admit, for example, that Mohammed was a prophet after Christ, and in Having changed his teaching in many ways, he brought teachings that were more correct than Christ, including that he was not his son, but simply a prophet. It would be wrong to call Christ the son of God, because this would seem to violate the monotheism of Allah. A person, when he studies these two religions, he must clearly understand whether one is truer for him or the other. In this sense, if you look at the establishment of these dogmas and canons, these are different lines, but not every person on Earth is able to see the One, a single image behind these images. In order to see a single Light behind all religions, this requires some spiritual experience of many incarnations on Earth, on other planets, experiencing many moments of one's life, searching for Light and Love, first of all, in oneself. Because if you don't find it in yourself, there's no use looking elsewhere.

Priests are the same believers who have undergone training and initiation into this religion in order to convey its truths to others and conduct the sacraments. They do not necessarily have to be more spiritually developed than their parishioners, this is not true at all, this is not necessarily a rule. This just means that he has a certain position or a certain ministry in the church, but this does not mean that on the ladder of spiritual development he is higher, for example, than someone who comes to him as a believer. This does not at all depend on the place in the hierarchy of religious cults. Therefore, a person who does not see the Light in other religions, and I have already explained for what reasons he may not see, he can quite sincerely say that this is from dark forces, from the evil one. In saying this, you need to clearly understand: he does not seek to offend and humiliate believers of another religion, he seeks to protect his faith so that his energy does not go to another egregor. I have now explained this in clear language. For a Christian it will be clear that the moment of recognizing Mohammed, Buddha or Krishna as gods is for them like a betrayal, one might say, of their faith, i.e. they follow the path of Christ, and recognizing another with a different worldview is very difficult for them. And many of them are unable to see the One for the reasons I mentioned. It is for this main reason that religious disagreement exists - this is a natural phenomenon for that level of social consciousness that is typical for the majority, maybe 65-70% of people in your society.

58:12 The killing of infidels by Muslims is the ancient law of protecting the Islamic egregor.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, please explain how Jesus Christ views the fact that in the Islamic religion it is considered "to kill a Christian is atonement for one of the Islamic sins," i.e. Is killing an infidel considered a good deed?

Irina: The fact is that the Koran, as Mirakh Count has already noted, as far as I understand, MidgasKaus is the one who is in contact with Irina, wrote Mohammed in close contact with the representative of Tumesout. But he wrote down in it not only the materials that were given to him, he also wrote down his understanding of certain religious, political or military issues. During the formation of the new Islamic egregor, those people who began to call themselves Muslims were in the minority, they had to fight for existence, for their faith in such harsh conditions in which they then found themselves among these tribes who believed in many gods and did not recognize Muslims, drove them from everywhere, etc. I once again ask you not to transfer the mores of that society to today's, these were completely different concepts at that time. It was very tough: human life was valued much less then than it is now. Therefore, the Muslim belief you mentioned is due to the fact that Muslims often fought with Christians for various reasons. There were many wars that started from both Muslims and Christians. Here there is no need to divide people by religion, because wars always start because of negativity in the Souls of people - it is always anger, anger. Anger and anger as a person's passions, as his vices, can find in his Soul a desire to express itself, including through the most good thoughts - defending one's faith, for example. But this does not make the vice any less vicious; it still degrades a person. I say this without at all condemning these people as the same children of God as we are. We need to understand that they are the children of God who have not yet come to our understanding that the best struggle for faith is life in the true Light, this is showing by personal example, but not a struggle of ideologies. Because it is simply impossible to convince a believer of another religion of anything if he himself does not want it. Naturally, from the point of view of the Highest Love, the Highest Light of love: the law “to kill a Christian to atone for sins” is completely wrong. It promotes degradation, because to kill the incarnate Spirit, i.e. Only the one who gave it has the right to take his life. The Muslim who kills a Christian did not give him life. From the point of view of God, of Divine love, he has no right to do this, he violates the Divine law, you and I understand this. I know for sure that among Muslims there are also many people who understand this. “Thou shalt not kill” – it applies to any person. As for “killing a Christian is to atone for a sin,” many Muslims understand that these were wartime laws, when Islam fought against Christianity, and Muslims fought against Christians. They were written during a certain period. This is very similar to “an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth,” only from the other side, in a different society.

1:023:56 Tasks of the incarnation of saints on Earth.

Olga: Thank you for your answer, very interesting and very clear. Archangel Michael, all our saints who are described in the history of the Orthodox Church were high-vibration Spirits from the highest levels of the Spiritual world. What tasks did they have during their incarnation on Earth?

Irina: Not all Spirits were from high vibrational levels, because many saints came to this faith while living on Earth, to the Light through Christianity. They were incarnated from low levels, but thanks to Christianity they found the Light of Love in themselves, developed it and became saints. There are plenty of those too. The task that high-vibration Spirits carry when incarnating on Earth, no matter what country they incarnate in and no matter what religion it happens in, is always the same - to carry the Light that they experience while at this level, to carry it into the material world, in order to bring other incarnated Spirits to the same state through different forms of religion that are manifested in the society in which they incarnate.

1:04:32 Noah's Ark.

Olga: Thank you. There were a lot of questions about the Holy Scriptures, about Noah and his Ark, about its construction. And our viewers ask: what was it really? And how could he take “a pair of each creature”? What was this being described and what was meant? What really happened?

Irina: Noah’s Ark is an image that was given to Moses in a form understandable to him of the level of consciousness and his knowledge for which he was ready at the time the representative of Tumesout transmitted this information to him. But this image implied salvation not on a wooden Ark, but on the transportation of people and animals, who had managed to be saved from the global catastrophe caused by the war with the Selbetians, on spaceships. But this was given to him in images, i.e. that it was he himself who built the Ark. Many earthlings took part: they helped the Burkhadians by collecting the animals they managed... There was little time for this. According to your earthly time, several days were allotted, because disasters developed very quickly: volcanic eruptions, rupture of the earth’s crust, etc. The Burkhadians took earthlings away from the disaster in order to later stabilize the planet in its orbit and restore it to the form in which you know it now.

1:06:28 “Sons of God.” The birth of heroes by earthly women from the Tumesoutians.

Olga : Thank you for your answer. Another question about the Holy Scripture: what was meant when it was said that they took wives of “daughters of men” and they gave birth to strong heroes, giants. What did this mean? Who are the “sons of God”, and perhaps there are their descendants today? Or are we completely misunderstanding this theological explanation?

Irina: It was a story about that period of time that was even before the war with the Selbetites. When a separate group of Tumesout scientists (there were already intelligent people) began to interbreed earthly women with themselves, because... Tumesoutians are from 4 to 8 meters tall, then these women gave birth to heroes. Some of these tribes escaped this disaster and had offspring. But over time, these genes, which were from the Tumesout people, from the living conditions of these tribes after the war, were changed to those that you now have. All peoples and tribes of the Earth now have common genes, the composition of which you already know. But sometimes a malfunction occurs in your genetic apparatus, and people are born who are much taller, stronger, etc. Different peoples had them, but now this happens less often, because these genes are not manifested, they are hidden in your DNA. Scientists Burhad and Tumesout carried out DNA changes after the war in order to adapt you to survive on this planet as it is now.

1:09:25 Sacrifices during the time of Moses.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Also about Moses, because... It was already said at the conference that Moses was a contactee to whom the Tumesoutians appeared, then if you read “Exodus”, chapters 25 to 29, the question arises: why did the representatives of Tumesout need copper, wool, leather, etc. ., what they asked of Moses, and then they give instructions to make daily sacrifices and to be anointed with the blood of the victims, and also to ransom Souls? What did you mean?

Irina: A very broad topic. The formation of the new Jewish egregor took place in such religious conditions to which the people who came out of Egypt were accustomed. For 400 years, these people lived surrounded by many gods, many priests, so they created a form of religion that was familiar to their consciousness, but already brought with it new images, i.e. not many gods, but One God. Yahweh was the leader of a group of scientists who shaped everything, like the captain of a ship, in your opinion, only he was more than a captain. He was the leader of a large group of scientists: it included the Tumesoutians, the Burkhadians, and several representatives of other planets. They passed on laws during the construction of the temple, during the construction of the Tabernacle of the Covenant, during the construction of the temple they passed on drawings, etc., which corresponded to the concepts of these people, especially since the Ark of the Covenant itself was not just a golden box: it contained an instrument that helped Moses make contact. His vibrations and the structure of his physical body did not allow the chip to be physically installed in him, so he was given a device for communication. Moreover, at the time in which Moses lived, this was considered safe for him, because... how he formed a new religion. In order to hide the device from the attention of members of his society, they decided to make it an object of religious cult, which cannot be approached. First, they could break it, but that was unlikely. And, more likely, they could have been damaged by it themselves because it had different forms of electromagnetic energy, etc. This happened several times: the one who touched despite the prohibitions to do so died or became seriously ill. These cases are described, but this is a failure to comply with safety regulations.

As for the blood. I will say this in a few words, because the topic is extensive. Since ancient times, your religious cults have been characterized by animal and human sacrifices, i.e. human sacrifices. This happened for many reasons: one of the main ones is that when killing an animal or a person with reading certain religious texts, observing certain rituals, life force is released from their body at the moment of killing, as I have already said. At this moment, if this is precisely a religious murder, a ritual, then this vital force is directed to nourish some subtle-material civilizations, i.e. plasmoids. Most often, polytheistic cults are associated specifically with plasmoid civilizations, because people tended to deify plasmoids in those distant times. By the word “plasmoid” I mean a subtle-material being, invisible to the eyes of the physical body of a person in your world. Therefore, all peoples of the Earth more or less developed sacrifices, because... Representatives of these peoples of the Earth had contact with plasmoids. Not all of them, but those of them who were called priests, shamans, in your words, contactees, and they received instructions from the plasmoids on how to feed them with energy. They transmitted these instructions to the people as the will of the gods, and, naturally, they carried it out - this is how your ancient religions were formed. And when Judaism began to take shape, they naturally decided to abandon this form of animal sacrifice. Human sacrifices, naturally, were removed - this is the killing of a person, this is prohibited, this is the commandment - “Thou shalt not kill.” They decided to leave animal sacrifices for the reason that three goals were pursued there. The first goal is to direct the energy of believers through their usual religious ritual to the formation of a new egregor. This is a great power of faith, as I said. The second goal is to leave the plasmoids the opportunity to feed on the energy of the vital force of animals for some time, because the plasmoids also helped them, shaping various events in life: weather conditions, etc., which were responsible for the elements of nature. We left them in contact with them, for now in such a mutually beneficial symbiosis, one might say. The third goal is also important. Those priests of Judaism, who are called Levites, they also had their own wives, they had their own children. But because They spent all their free time maintaining the Ark, teaching people the Law of God, etc., then those sacrifices, those animals that were brought for sacrifices, they were also a source of food for the Levites and their families, as if providing food. This important detail was one of the reasons why the Tumesout scholars abandoned these forms of religious services.

1:17:10 Descendants of the Rephaim.

Olga: Thank you, everything is clear. Regarding the Old Testament, there is another question: there are these words in the Old Testament: “There was also a battle in Gath, and there was one tall man there, who had six fingers and six toes - a total of 24, also from the descendants of the Rephaim.” Who are we talking about, and what kind of battle is this?

Irina: This is one of the people who fought during the period when the Jews came to Palestine. They began to form their own state there, but there were other peoples around them. There were many of them there, and from time to time they came to conquer them. Israel was a country rich in vegetation, wildlife, etc. Why fight? To take over this country, turn the inhabitants of this country into slaves and take tribute from them. The love of money, one might say, is the cause of these wars. Therefore, one of the peoples that was described fought in Palestine with Israel. The man described there was precisely a descendant of Rephaim. Rephaim was the name of one of the tribes, which were descendants of those same Tumesoutians who, even before the war, as I already said, came into contact with earthly women to give birth to joint offspring.

1:19:25 Incarnations of Archangel Michael.

Thank you for watching this video to the end, and now for you the most interesting and unexpected thing when recording this contact...

Irina: The Christian egregor has seven Guardian Spirits. They very often embodied themselves in one or another figure of the Christian religion, who created this religion after Christ flew to Burkhad. He is one of the main personalities who formed this egregor and began to incarnate much earlier than Christ was born. His first known incarnation on Earth was a man who became known in Christianity as the prophet Elijah. But when Christ incarnated through Morea - this is a spiritual entity in the Spiritual world, a very close friend of Christ - naturally, this spiritual entity could not leave him alone on Earth, without his presence. He also incarnated next to Christ, incarnated 6 months before his birth and became the one who in Christianity is called John the Baptist. Then he did not incarnate for a long time; he participated in the formation of the Christian egregor. He came in the Spirit to the Church Fathers, who accepted the canons. He was one of the developers of Christian dogmas, etc., naturally in contact with other spiritual entities at the 24th level of development, who were both incarnate and non-incarnate. Then he incarnated on Burkhad, a little later, but his last incarnation was again on Earth and here, in Russia. This was a man whom all Orthodox Christians know under the name of Seraphim of Sarov. But that's not even surprising. The fact is that this spiritual essence, which was embodied in these different people, has its own name in the Spiritual world, by which it is also widely known, and this name is Archangel Michael.

We ourselves did not expect such information, especially with the incarnations of Archangel Michael. But when we compared many aspects of the work of healers, contactees and energy practitioners, we realized that many work with the same essence, selecting for it more suitable images of the one who brought Light and Love to people...

Olga still had questions from the group for Mikhail, and soon he promised to come and answer them for us. Therefore, soon there will be a second part, "Answers to questions in a group on Christianity with Archangel Michael."

#63 Archangel Michael. Answers to questions in the VK group on the topic of Christianity (part 2)

00:00

Olga: Archangel Michael, I greet you! If you allow me, I'll start asking questions.

Irina: Ask.

00:31 Help for the Souls of Suicides.

Olga: From the point of view of modern Christianity, suicide is the most serious sin. The souls of such people go to hell, you cannot even pray for them. Is it true? And is it really possible that all the good deeds done during life are undone by this one act? Is it possible to somehow help the Souls of such people?

Irina: In the modern Christian church it has never been stated that one cannot pray for the Souls of suicides at all. Each person can do this outside a church meeting, at home, that is, pray before God that God will have mercy on this person. What does “pardon the soul of a suicide” mean? To put it in terminology that you understand, I assigned him such mentors in the Spiritual world who will be able to explain to him all the consequences of what he did, independently giving up life in the body, and explain to his mentors in the Spiritual world exactly what conditions for the next incarnation to choose for this intelligent person Spirit, so that he can correct in himself those destructive qualities that led him to such a decision in his previous life. After all, having killed his body, the Spirit remains with the same problems that he developed in life, and which led him to the murder of his body. Only the body dies, and these problems with it pass into the Spiritual world, and then into its next life. And here prayer to God, prayer to the saints can help him. When a person prays, he does not just say words like a robot, he releases the energy of love for this person who killed himself. This energy of love goes to the Spiritual world and spiritually supports it there, i.e. he understands that they remember him, that he is not alone in this world, that they help him want to change for the better, turn to mentors and go through the incarnation that they choose for him. But due to the fact that he is on a low spiritual level, because... he does not feel the Light of Love, which led him to suicide. Therefore, his mentors will most likely choose a life in which he will develop through acceptance of what happens as the Will of God. In your language - through humility. It also very often happens that such Souls, having been born again, live very little on Earth in order to live out the period that they did not live out in a previous life, and which they assigned before incarnation. They do not live out their term, kill themselves and then in the next life die as children, having lived the few years that remained for them. The Soul goes through such a lesson so that it understands that the lifespan that it has assigned to itself in alliance with its mentors, when incarnating, cannot violate it.

04:53 Reasons for refusing funeral services for suicides.

Maxim: Mikhail, I have a question for you: why then don't our churches perform funeral services for suicides?

Irina: Because a funeral service is a ritual that is performed not just on any person, but on one who sincerely recognized Christ as God, who was a Christian not just in ritual, but in his life. Only then does the funeral service make sense. By this rite, by this ritual, the community that buried him confirms that he lived a Christian life. But since he independently abandoned the life given by the Creator, the same cannot be said about a person who left of his own free will. A true Christian who accepts everything as the will of God will never kill himself, no matter what the circumstances, because he loves this life, no matter what it is. But there are exceptions, when suicides are buried: if it turns out during the study of this case by your church hierarchs that this person was not responsible for himself, for his mind, was in a state of either illness, darkness of mind, or the influence of the dark Spirit on him, or the influence any mind-altering substance. If it turns out that he himself, of his own free will, did not want to do this, then a funeral service for such a person is possible. He still tried to live a real Christian life, i.e. he did not renounce life by his own will. He tried to live a real Christian life, but he failed, and according to his negative aspects, he was affected either by illnesses, or dark forces, or substances, and he passed away, but this was not his voluntary act of will.

Maxim: Thank you!

07:07 Those present at the Last Judgment.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. The next question: who is present at the so-called Last Judgment after death, when they look through a person's "book of life"? Is it possible to pray for the deceased to raise the Soul to higher levels when he is in this room and his life is being reviewed?

Irina: "The Book of Life", "The Last Judgment" after death, the ordeal of the Soul - these are all images understandable to believers of the Christian denomination, which depict the analysis of their own life by the Spirit, which takes place in union with their mentors in the presence of God in the form in which this Spirit is able to perceive it. I want to emphasize that contact with God after separation from the material body and breaking the connection with it occurs for absolutely all Spirits, no matter what level they are at, but each Spirit perceives this contact in the way that it is capable of perceiving it. And his mentors are next to him at this moment.

It is called "judgment" because there is an analysis of all the details of life in the body that he has done. There is an analysis not just of what he did, but of the reasons that led him to certain actions, and shows the consequences of these actions for himself and for the people around him. "Court" is the concept of a Christian egregor. If you look at what is happening there, it cannot be called an earthly court: there is no accused, accuser, sentence, there is an analysis of what is, what happened, and what it led to. And they always give advice, i.e. after contact with God, the Spirit remains aware of what happened, and mentors help him figure out how, with the help of what incarnations, under what conditions, he can increase his level of awareness, the level of his vibrations and come to love for God, no matter what he was not level. Mentors explain to him only if he asks them about it. If he doesn't ask about this, doesn't address it, but simply after contact with God, after this analysis, he doesn't ask anything, he simply goes to the level that he reached during his life, and there he reflects on everything that was said, remembers again, again and again own life. This happens until he decides to incarnate again for various reasons, depending on his desires, aspirations, etc. Only then does he go again to the consultants of the Spiritual world - the Angels in your understanding, and together with him, taking into account the trial, the analysis that took place, they select the conditions for his incarnation. A lot of points are taken into account, including, as MidgasKaus has already told you, astrological, numerological characteristics for calculation by the specialists who are involved in this, so that they recognize who has incarnated.

11:07 Prayers help the Spirit rise to a new level of incarnation.

Maxim: Is it possible through prayers to raise a person to a higher spiritual level after his death?

Irina: Don't lift it. Through prayers, if they are accompanied by a sincere feeling of love, one can awaken in the Spirit itself the very love that will help it want to rise through the next incarnation.

11:32 True repentance and metanoia blot out sins.

Olga: Does confession actually erase sins that a person has sincerely repented of?

Irina : Confession does not erase sins. John the Theologian clearly wrote in his message the words that were received during contact: "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanses us from all sin if we confess." It is not confession itself that cleanses, but the blood of Jesus Christ. What does it mean? If repentance was accompanied by a true desire to change, not to repeat this sin, and this desire cannot arise if there is no awareness of "why is this a sin?", then it is accompanied by so-called metanoia, i.e. changing settings in your subconscious, in your mind, in your causal body of energy structures. I'm already saying this especially for those of our listeners who read esoteric literature. Only in this case, if there has been a change in these attitudes, then these changes from the causal level begin to descend through vibrations into the mental body, into the astral body, etc., and thus all the consequences of the vice, what you call sin, are smoothed out. What is a vice? It is a sin that has become a habit.

13:26 Awareness of the depravity of sin. Confession.

Irina: What is sin? Sin is any conscious action of the incarnate Spirit that leads him away from the Light of God's Love. It doesn't just take him away, but blocks him from seeing this Light and understanding its true value. Confession is a sacrament; it only helps a person to come to the right state for metanoia. But it may not necessarily be accompanied by it. All believers have different concepts about repentance, about sin, but, ideally, the entire atmosphere of confession in any Christian denomination is designed to evoke in the believer a state that brings him closer to the awareness of the depravity of sin and a true desire to eliminate it, and not out of fear of God's punishment , but because of the desire to love him and be with him.

14:40 Places for confession. The rudeness of the temple workers. Clothes for going to church.

Olga: Archangel Michael, please tell me what to do with those people who come to church for confession, but their priests kick them out, shout bad words after them and say that they are excommunicated from the church? They do this only because people do not come in the standard clothes that the priests would like to see a person in. If we take the situation that our population is not very rich, and not everyone, especially women now, can afford the clothes that are quite loyal in the church. What should I do, where can I confess? Can this be done at home in front of the icon or is it only possible in church?

Irina: Any word and any thought that comes out of your mouth or from your brain, or rather, from your mental body, is known to God. Therefore, naturally, every person can repent, confess, commit metanoia, even without uttering any words at all and without going anywhere. As I already said, the temple, confession - the whole environment was created precisely to achieve this state, to help in achieving it. Any ritual side of any religion is called upon for only one thing: to help achieve the desired state of the Spirit. But there is another question here. The fact is that every person perceives Christianity through the prism of his beliefs, and every person has, naturally, an indisputable right to this. If a person believes that it is in the Orthodox Church that he should bring his confession and nowhere else: not at home or in another church, if he thinks so because of his convictions, and he considers it the truth, then, naturally, he has the right to think so and truly believes in it, then it is in the Orthodox Church that he will be able to tune in to this, bring himself into the correct state of the Spirit. Another confession in front of an icon or in another temple of a different religion - he simply won't believe it, because... this does not correspond to his beliefs, which means he will not tune in to this state. If there is such an Orthodox believer who believes that only in the Orthodox Church one can bring repentance, and this is the truth for himself, then he creates this world. As Christ said: "According to your faith it will be done to you." This means that he must go to the Orthodox Church. What to do if just such a person came and met the attitude that you described?

Two completely different questions arise here. Who exactly met the person in this way in the church: the priest himself or those parishioners, or the temple workers who are in this temple next to him? The fact is that a priest accepts confession at a certain place, and when he accepts the confession of a penitent, as far as I know the psychology of priests, he pays the least attention to what he is wearing. He is completely focused on listening. Most likely, you mean here people who are church workers, for example, the same deacons, etc., but not priests, who are close to believers, express their criticism, their condemnation, naturally, having good goals to educate a person correspond to the image that has developed in the tradition in which Orthodoxy is located. They reprimand the person that he came to the temple in the wrong clothes, that he needs to change clothes, because this is a holy place. For them, a temple is a sacred place, and therefore the appearance of a person there in a form that does not correspond to the sacred place, as they understand it, is for them, one might say, a disease. They get the impression that this person does not respect, does not love the shrine to which he came. They consider themselves obligated to, as it were, protect, firstly, this holy place, and secondly, to guide a person, as they understand it, on the path to God. They understand the path to God in such a way that, among other things, this includes the presence in the temple of women in long robes, etc., and men without a headdress. They believe that these traditions in clothing, which have developed over centuries, are also divine, because it is common for a religious person to deify, to sanctify everything connected with religion - this is such a human psychology. This is present in absolutely every religion in one form or another.

What should you do if you are faced with such an attitude, and you are driven out of the temple if you are wearing the wrong clothes? Firstly, the word itself is “drive away”. What form does this take? Did they just kick you out or drag you out onto the street? If a person behaves correctly, respectfully towards the church, no matter how he is dressed, it is difficult for me to imagine this. I understand that inadequate people can be found everywhere, but in no case should the church itself, the temple itself, be blamed for this. In any case, if you come to the temple of the Orthodox Church, you ask in advance at the entrance, if you yourself do not know the rules of visiting, so as not to confuse the believers, not to put them into a state of irritation, even into a state of anger - after all, all people are different, they will also sin - read the information. You now have a lot of literature on the topic of Orthodoxy, you can receive information by requesting your technical devices, you call it the Internet. Find out on the Internet what a person, man or woman, who comes to church should look like. Indeed, if you come there in a form that does not correspond to the image of the majority of these people, you will really unwittingly lead them into irritation, into anger, into negative emotions, i.e. they will lower their vibrations. They came there to pray, and part of the responsibility for this will be on you, because you did not foresee this situation. But when you go to any society where there is a certain form of clothing: to your job, to some financial institution, you don’t dress in such a way that everyone will pay attention to you, you will be judged. Roughly speaking, you won’t go to the store or bank in what you wear to the beach to swim. You can, of course, go, but then be prepared to endure such an attitude towards yourself that not everyone will understand you. This will already be your choice, and you will accept the consequences for this choice, so if you have read the information on how to behave in the temple, how to dress, it is better, of course, to comply with this. You have come, you are not there alone, there are people around you who may be embarrassed by your appearance.

Now about the money, there is nothing to buy with. The fact is that the Orthodox tradition does not require such large expenditures on clothing. All a woman needs to wear is a long outer garment that covers the legs below the knees and covers the elbows, as exists in your country, and a hat. These women have money for other clothes. She is quite capable of purchasing at least one set of clothes for visiting the temple, if she is interested in going there. It’s the same with men, their dress code is simple: cover your arms up to the elbows, cover your legs, don’t wear what you call shorts, even in the summer. These are simply rules of decency in a religious place.

25:27 Failure to comply with the dress code when visiting a temple. Actions when a priest violates church rules.

Olga: Thank you for your answer, Archangel Michael. The thing is, I asked for a reason. You say that priests do not expel. I will tell you specifically my case: I was not alone, I had no money, I was wearing long trousers, a short coat, I had a shawl with which I covered my hair, because I know very well that I need to cover my head. I covered my head and that’s how I came to confession. There was a queue. I stood there humbly. When I approached the priest, everything he started doing, without listening to me, without asking anything, he started shouting at me, and very bad words, that I was “forgive me, Lord,” I was wearing trousers, but I should be wearing a skirt. When I objected: “Father, I don’t have the money to buy a skirt now. I’ll buy it, I swear, I’ll buy it, well, I don’t have it now, I’m looking for a job, I came to confession.” He brought me back, I went, and after him he shouted at me that he was excommunicating me from the church. From that moment on, I didn’t go to church for a very long time. I cried bitterly, I didn’t go anywhere. In principle, I couldn’t go anywhere, but I wasn’t the only one; then I saw another woman who was also pushed out by the same priest, because she was dressed very similar to me: also in long trousers. And so the two of us cried and walked to the stop.

Irina: Olga, the fact is that if a priest allows himself to shout and use physical force for any reason, then he does not correspond to the ministry for which he is assigned; and the task of believers in this case is to convey this incident to his immediate supervisor. Each priest has a bishop who appointed him to serve. Were there two or three witnesses to this incident?

Olga: Yes, of course, there were not two, not three, there were about 20 people there.

Irina: This priest, who behaves inappropriately in the place to which he is assigned, does not correspond to his rank. So that he does not harm many believers by renouncing the faith, he must, naturally, first be warned. But it's not you who needs to do this, you didn't put him there, and neither did other believers, this should be done by the senior priest whom you call a bishop. The fact is that such a priest can cause a lot of harm to a religious institution, to a religious egregor in general. Perhaps not quite high spiritual entities are acting through him specifically to turn him away from faith. The task of any believer in this case is to report this incident to his immediate spiritual superiors. Only this needs to be done in a calm, polite tone in writing. Not one person should do this, but several people should write letters. You can combine them, send them together to the bishop and write about what happened, asking them to look into the situation. You can always find out which diocese this church belongs to and the address either in this or in a neighboring church. You can send this letter along with other believers who have either been treated this way themselves, or find witnesses who have seen it. You can describe what you saw, just without judging, without using any swear words, etc., but simply describe what happened in a calm, correct tone. Be sure to indicate that you are asking to understand the situation, because... This minister excommunicates, turns others away from the faith, and many already doubt whether to go to this temple. I assure you that the bishop appoints a lot of priests to ministry, because they don't just end up in this position. Firstly, this is a logically thinking, reasonable person, usually a monk, who has come a very long way as a simple priest, this usually happens, but it happens that a monk is immediately promoted to ministry. In any case, he was placed in order to monitor order. If an incident occurs with rudeness, abuse, the words you said, and physical impact on a parishioner for any reason: whether because of clothing, or for any other reason, then any bishop will take appropriate measures. At first there may be just a conversation, i.e. the priest will be called, they will tell him that there are witnesses to his behavior, he will be warned that if he does not stop this practice, he will be excommunicated. The bishop has the right to prohibit the ministry of a priest for a certain period until his repentance. If a priest does not listen to his bishop, he will be banned from serving, removed from this position, and he does not have the right to conduct services in churches, he has the right to come there only as a simple parishioner, like all of you. This will happen until he brings sincere repentance before the bishop, i.e. as far as it will be clear that he sincerely repented. Bishops are usually very experienced in spiritual matters, including repentance. Therefore, it is your duty as a Christian to stop, I will call it the right word, this blasphemy.

32:14 Reasons for excommunication by the council of bishops.

Irina: Regarding excommunication: it is not the priest or the bishop who excommunicates from the temple, from the church. Only a council of bishops excommunicates from the church for certain reasons that cause discord among believers. Usually these are new ideas that are not accepted by the religious egregor, which you call heresy or inappropriate behavior. The fact is that any religion has its own specific teachings, which are based on the understanding that was originally brought by the spiritual teacher and his closest disciples. All believers who go to temples of one religion or another adhere to this faith. If a person appears among them who not only doubts this faith and asks questions, but begins to convince others, i.e. to say that he is right and they are wrong, that is, to cause discord, irritate other believers or something else, if this reaches the level not of an individual church, but of the general church level, then the council of bishops has the right to gather and sort it out teaching that came through a person who is causing discord, and for the sake of unity the church has the right to excommunicate that person or group of people. The council actually has such a right. It is based on the words of the Apostle Paul that “in all things there should be unity.” If it is clearly visible at the council that this person is destroying the unity of the church, then he will be excommunicated from the church until he himself realizes and renounces the idea that he preached, only then can he be accepted back, if he, of course, , will wish it.

34:21 “Heaven” and “hell” are a reflection of the reality of the Spiritual world.

Olga: I understand, thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, please explain, our subscribers ask: what is meant by the words “heaven” and “hell”? Do Souls really, after they leave the body, if they have committed a lot of sins, go to hell, and, as the priests explain, “the devils will fry them there in frying pans,” and sinless Souls go to heaven? Can you explain this situation in a little more detail?

Irina: Heaven and hell are two images that reflect the reality of the Spiritual world in those types of consciousness that belong to the Christian egregor. In fact, we are not talking about material fire or frying pans here. Heaven and hell are two states of the Soul that begin here on Earth, i.e. they do not go to heaven and hell, but reach heaven and hell already here, living in this incarnation. Every person is either in heaven or in hell already in this body, and when he leaves it, he finds himself at the level that he achieved during life. What is heaven and hell? This is a state of perception of Divine energies depending on the types of vibrations, on the frequency of vibrations in a particular Spirit, i.e. God, as an all-perfect being, as absolute love, radiates an unearthly, immaterial Light. I call light the energy that creates everything around. Those Spirits who have developed qualities similar to those of God perceive this Light as love, grace, bliss and similar exalted states of the Spirit. If they have developed in themselves qualities that are opposite to the divine: jealousy, envy, hatred, fear, despondency and other forms of denial of the love of God, their own and loved ones, then they lower their vibrations. They change the nature of their Spirit to the extent that this same Light begins to cause them, in your earthly language, pain and suffering. But it is not the same kind of physical pain that you have in your physical body. It's like feeling unsatisfied with being alive, feeling eternally unsatisfied. You have in Russian the expression “The soul hurts”, “the heart hurts”, i.e. It’s not the physical heart, but the Soul that hurts. This is the state of hell in the form that you experience in the body, i.e. reduced vibrations.

38:22 “The Last Judgment” - the discovery of the truth about life in the incarnation.

Irina: Freeing itself from the body, leaving it forever, the Spirit finds itself in the Spiritual world, where everything is permeated with this Light, and it naturally perceives it depending on the frequency and purity of its vibrations. The purer he is, the brighter he is, the closer he is to God in his inner qualities, the happier he is, and, accordingly, vice versa, what is called hell if he has developed low vibrations in himself, i.e. vices, vicious feelings and desires. All this is just the first reason. The second reason for hell may be that a person who is accustomed to fulfilling the passionate desires of his physical body and, receiving pleasure from them, receiving pleasure from them through the body, loses this opportunity, naturally, after losing the body, and the desires and passions themselves receive them remained. This already brings suffering due to the inability to satisfy this desire - this is also a kind of hell, and he did not learn to receive the love of God, to receive pleasure in any other way on Earth. This alone can create additional suffering. The Spirit, when in the Spiritual World, as I have already said, goes through what you call the “Last Judgment.” Why is it called “scary” for many of you? Because there the whole truth about your life and the consequences that this life has brought for you and your loved ones, or not so close people, is revealed. Many Spirits, when they see this truth, begin to regret what they did, but they understand that it is no longer possible to return to that life and live it differently, it has already passed. Now in the next life he needs to think about how to correct it, how to develop in himself those qualities that he did not develop in this life, especially if the Spirit spent this life acquiring some kind of material pleasures, and not on the growth of spiritual qualities. He understands that everything material has been taken away from him, even his body, but he didn't have time to do anything, and this also causes additional suffering, and this is collectively called hell.

40:53 The influence of the wedding ceremony on the energies of the spouses. Connection of Souls.

Olga: How is the wedding ceremony in the church reflected in the energy plan and is it true that after death two married Souls will always be together? Is there a difference if, for example, one of those getting married is a Christian from our Orthodox Church, and the other is a Catholic or Jehovah's Witness, i.e. not a Christian, not our church. How will this affect the spiritual plane?

Irina: Wedding is a sacrament that is designed to invoke the energy of the Holy Spirit, i.e. a blessing for a lifetime that two loved ones will spend together. How does this affect you energetically? In any case, these two Spirits who have fallen in love with each other are given strength and energy so that they can love each other more, i.e. be loyal to each other, tolerate each other's shortcomings, do not judge, forgive. This power will be given to them to the extent that they are able to perceive it. Naturally, it is given initially by God to everyone, but here it is further intensified by the energy of the Christian egregor itself, which has collected together the energies of all believers. This is a request for energy from the Christian egregor.

Are Souls connected forever? This does not happen because everyone knows that even the church is not against multiple spouses. The Apostle Paul wrote about this that "in the event of the death of one of the spouses, the remaining spouse has every right to get married or be married in the Lord," which means to get married again. But this does not mean that after the death of all their bodies, the three of them will live there, and they will have a triple family. Which Souls will remain with each other and which will separate - this depends on many factors. It depends on how they live their lives, what kind of relationships they will have with each other, on what spiritual level they will be - close or not, and on many other things, including the task that they will need to go through already in life. next incarnation. They may or may not incarnate together in the next incarnation - this depends on many reasons, and it is not necessary that they will be together at the wedding.

43:47 Possibility of marrying couples from different religious beliefs.

Irina: About if people of different Christian denominations get married. Denominations do not in any way affect the sacrament of marriage itself. All the same, two Souls unite, they truly love each other, since they came to this wedding. The only thing is that not all Christian priests can marry believers of different denominations, because due to the fact that the understanding of Christ of salvation is different in different denominations, they can refuse to marry in the church, especially if the denominations are very different. For example, if an Orthodox and a Catholic are still married, such practices have already happened, then an Orthodox and a Jehovah's Witness are unlikely to marry, because the Orthodox priest will then have a question for the Jehovah's Witness: "How did you come to get married in the Orthodox Church if your faith does not allow you do this? Because Jehovah's Witnesses have a rather strict system of how to conduct the sacrament of marriage, and it does not involve a wedding in the Orthodox Church, i.e. these are different, very different Christian movements, and therefore any priest assumes the seriousness of faith in any parishioner, because he himself seriously believes. If he finds out that one of them is a Jehovah's Witness, he will be, to put it mildly, surprised that he came to get married in an Orthodox church, and he will have a natural question for him: "Shouldn't you convert to Orthodoxy, since you recognize our wedding?"

45:40 The ritual of exchanging rings between the newlyweds.

Olga: Thank you for your answer, I understand. Another question, also about the wedding: the exchange of rings is obligatory in the wedding ceremony. Why was this done and what does it mean?

Irina: This is symbolism based on the traditions of the country, the area where the Christian church exists. The ring is a symbol of life together, because the ring itself is like a circle, a sphere - this has always signified the power of sunlight. It was usually made from metals like gold and silver, which were dedicated to the Sun and Moon, etc. it is round in shape, it denotes the power of these luminaries, their energy. The symbolism of the rings denoted the power of life, because the Sun and Moon give strength and energy. The exchange of these rings meant an exchange - people trust each other with their lives - it is like a form of asking their partner for trust and showing their feelings in return.

47:20 The influence of the energy of true faith on the material world.

Olga: In the Gospel, Jesus says: "He who believes in Me, the works that I do, he will also do, and greater works than these will he do." What does it mean that someone who believes in Jesus can reach the same vibration, that he can perform the same miracles as him? Or was there something else in mind?

Irina: What was meant here is that faith is capable of changing the material world. Faith is the ability to direct your energy to change the material world in a variety of forms. What you believe comes to fruition in your life. Fast or slow depends on many circumstances. In any case, true faith allows you to become what you believe. If you believe in Christ, if you truly believe that you can do the same as He, and at the same time you will not just believe, but will carry the Light of love that He carried, then, naturally, God will give the opportunity through you to come to God as well as through Him. What you call miracles are changes in the material world. Yes, this is possible.

48:42 The meaning of the phrase of Jesus Christ: "The truth will set you free."

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Jesus said, "...The truth will set you free." What exactly did he mean, what to be free from? Maybe "truth" - he meant that the energies of love and God, and a person filled with this energy of God becomes free from sins, from bodily pleasures? Is this truth or happiness - energy from God? What was meant by this phrase: "The truth will set you free"?

Irina: The fact is that any person who lives and often experiences negative emotions, these emotions develop into feelings, i.e. into such qualities that are built into his Soul, into his energy structure, he acquires negative personality traits, from them he becomes unfree, not completely free in the sense that they sometimes begin to control him. You may have seen a person who understands with his mind that he needs to do good, and his negative attitudes, desires and feelings enslave him so much that he is not even able to realize what he is doing at that moment when he commits some kind of sin. These negative personality traits enslave a person and prevent him from realizing how to move towards the Light of love.

The truth will set you free. What is truth? Truth is God himself. This is the particle of God that is in each of you, and with which each of you can and should communicate. Truth is the Light that is in each of you and by communicating with it, asking it to cleanse and show you those moments that you usually do not pay attention to, and cleanse you of them, you will be freed from your negative qualities, which, You may have acquired more than one incarnation.

51:14 Understanding the phrase "servant of God" depends on the stage of spiritual development.

Olga: Please tell us, Archangel Michael, about the concept that is summarized in the Christian religion. Typically, this is the concept of man's original sin, the concept of God's servants. Why exactly was this introduced? For some kind of humility? Or was it meant something else, because in many scriptures there are other words. There are words that we are not slaves, but we are children of God. Why is there a slave concept now? What is this connected with?

Irina: Slaves can be translated into the understanding that these are people devoted to God, aware of their complete dependence on His will, His energies, just as slaves realized their dependence on their masters when you had a slave system on Earth. The slave was completely at the will of his master: he could take his life, reward him and release him - the slave could not change anything. So we all, incarnate Spirits - and I, and you all - we are children of God, but at the same time we continue to be in his power, if only because everything that we see, hear and feel around us is his. energy. He created it for us, and therefore we cannot be completely autonomous creatures from him. How to feel God? As his master, as a judge, as a friend, as a protector, as a father, or in some other way - it depends on the stage of spiritual development and the upbringing that a person received in the society where he is located. For example, the perception of God very much depends on upbringing in childhood and the attitude of parents towards him. Parents, when raising a child, before the age of 5 give him the first understanding of what the Father's love is. What type of personality did he have: all-forgiving, punishing, some other kind, father and mother, i.e. For any child, parents are higher beings, and it largely depends on their attitude towards the child, how he will perceive God in the future when he grows up. Because those attitudes about how to perceive higher beings will be embedded in his subconscious during upbringing, but, naturally, this is influenced by the experience of past incarnations, and the totality of experience gained in childhood and earlier, they influence the perception of God. There are Souls who are unable to perceive God otherwise than as a master, before whom you are a slave. There are Souls who, on the contrary, are not able to perceive themselves as slaves. The world is generally very diverse. Both have the right to exist. Look around you - God loves diversity so much that there are, for example, many forms of life around you. You have not one bird, not two types of birds, not two types of fish, but thousands of species of different colors, shapes, etc. He has already done this, he created everything for a reason with his energies, but to show us, intelligent Spirits, that he loves diversity, and it is in diversity that there is freedom and love. Therefore, both perceptions of God have the right to exist.

55:52 The meaning of the phrase “If you hit one cheek, turn the other.”

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, Jesus, as we know, taught kindness and said: “Do not resist evil; if you hit one cheek, turn the other.” As a rule, we understand this to mean that if we are offended, we must endure and forgive. What to do with those people who commit evil, in our society are considered murderers, what to do with them? If we follow the phrase “do not resist evil,” then it turns out that we should not condemn these criminals, but should forgive them?

Irina: Jesus said clearly that “if someone hits you on your right cheek, turn your left.” What does it mean to “hit on the cheek”? It means to slap someone in the face. This was not about a crime, but about a personal insult. In the society in which Christ lived, slapping, hitting on the cheek was considered an insult, but was not a crime dangerous to society. Therefore, a personal insult inflicted on a person who does not pose a danger to his life, to his health, to the life and health of his loved ones, naturally, we are called to forgive. Because you need to clearly understand the fact that if you are insulted, then not only the one who did it is responsible. You also created this situation with your attitude, by misunderstanding this person, for example, and therefore forgiving him and sending him your love is a step towards reconciliation, i.e. not to further discord that leads to fighting and killing. For example, they insulted and even slapped, i.e. they inflicted physical pressure that was not dangerous: they did not beat, did not threaten with weapons, etc., but simply insulted, after all, there is such a thing as “spit in the face,” Christ spoke exactly about this. He did not say that if a person attacks not with a slap, but with a weapon or something else dangerous, that one should not resist this - he did not say that. These are your interpretations, which do not correspond to the Truth at all, because... Neither Christ nor his disciples ever spoke out against wars, specifically against the protection of the weak, against warriors, against the power that protects, against the state authorities that existed at that time - no one ever spoke out anywhere. On the contrary, the Apostle Paul clearly wrote in one of his letters that “the ruler who bears the sword is God’s servant, and he puts an end to evil actions.” The fact that Christ did not mean armed criminals who could cause harm is evident from the fact that one of his closest disciples, the apostles whom he taught, wrote that “a ruler does not bear the sword in vain - he is a servant of God who repays evil." Repaying evil means stopping crime - this is an analogue of your public services. This no longer has anything to do with the words “do not resist evil,” because in this case it is no longer a personal insult, and resisting evil and limiting it is, on the contrary, good, it is good, because it helps to protect those people who harm can be caused and contributes, among other things, to the impossibility of further degradation of those criminals who need to be limited. If you give them the opportunity to act, forgive them and not limit them, they will have the opportunity to degrade even more - this, on the contrary, is a manifestation of dislike for them. True love does not imply permissiveness. It presupposes development in the awareness of love for God, oneself and one’s neighbors, including criminals, and love for criminals can be expressed in a reluctance to further degradation.

1:01:18 Written prayers are a form of appeal to God from the point of view of the saints.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, please tell me, we have another question: the prayers were written so that you could expand your consciousness, raise your vibrations and come to the true Light, come to God. Do we understand correctly?

Irina: The prayers were written so that with these words, which this or that Christian prayed and who was then canonized, his prayers would be included in the list of Catholic prayers. This was done so that people would have examples before their eyes of how it is correct, from the point of view of this saint, to address God: with what words, what feelings did he experience. And when a person, who himself does not yet feel enough of this love, this Light, begins to read this prayer, and if he concentrates on this, then he feels the Light that the saint felt, i.e. he fully understands why it is said this way, why it is said this way, and from this he then learns to independently address God in his own words, i.e. pray. Reading prayers required for performing rituals is only a part of Christian life, aimed at cultivating in them love for God and religious feelings aimed at egregor. But every believer is called, in addition to these prayers, to also pray in his own words in the way he knows how, as he can in the needs in which he finds himself, or with the gratitude that he wants to express to God in his own words.

1:03:23 The attitude of Jesus Christ to the experiment on creating hybrids.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, please tell me how Jesus feels about experiments to create hybrids? Does he approve of this or does he think that it should not be done, that it could harm the Spirit?

Irina: He himself came to incarnate into your race, which is a hybrid made up of three alien races for you and an earthly animal. The very fact of his incarnation in this hybrid already suggests that he did not consider the body of this hybrid to be something wrong.

1:04:20 “Basilisk” is a type of Nature Spirit. Images taken to appear to people.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Archangel Michael, please explain from the Old Testament: who is the “basilisk”, did he really exist, or is this an etiological comparison with some kind of sin or some kind of animal?

Irina: Basilisks were a name given to a certain type of Nature Spirits, whom you now call subtle-material civilizations. As I said earlier, there were forms of religion on Earth that worshiped plasmoids, subtle-material civilizations. And those for contacts with analogues of priests of their religion, i.e. priests and shamans, people capable of contacts with subtle civilizations, took on various forms, including animals. And not just animals, but like images made up of parts of various bodies of animals and birds. Therefore, the Holy Scriptures and legends of various peoples included stories about encounters with basilisks, chimeras, Valkyries, and other forms of subtle-material creatures.

1:06:27 The meaning of the image of the snake’s head on the staff of the priests.

Olga: Thank you, I understand. Archangel Michael, here’s another interesting question from our readers and viewers: when they come to the temple, the clergy have a statue on their staff at the very top, in Orthodox churches, this means that there is a statue on this staff, either the head of a snake, or the head of a dragon . What does this attribute symbolize? Why were these particular images chosen by our Orthodox Church?

Irina: This is a reminder of the words of Christ: “Be wise as serpents and simple as doves.” The staff that the priest holds in his hand personifies the wisdom of the priest that he brings to people, i.e. he leans on her like a staff. Therefore, the head of a snake at the top is a reminder to believers. But this, naturally, was done for those believers who read the Bible, who read the words of Christ. And therefore, this symbol will be clear to him - this is a reminder of the words that the priest who holds this staff is trying to fulfill the commandment of Christ: “Be wise as serpents and simple as doves.”

1:07:52 The ability to see the glow of icons, the aura of a person.

Olga: When you come to church, energetically seeing people see parishioners who pray, who rejoice, and there is a purple glow near the icons. And they see parishioners near the icons who are grieving, who are heartbroken, they are mourning something, and it turns out that near the icon there is a rather dark glow, almost black. They want to ask: what is this? What kind of energy is this?

Irina: What is this glow?

Olga: Yes.

Irina: Energy-seeing people see this not only in churches: they see this in any person they look at, if they set such a goal for themselves. This is a reflection of the energies in their perception that they see in a person. If a person’s higher energy centers are working, i.e. he is attuned to divine vibrations, to bright feelings, to high vibrations, then you will see light reflected in the person’s aura. If it is tuned to low vibrations, you will see less light, i.e. conditionally, for you there will be darkness, just less Light, again colored in the color of the corresponding energy center to which the person feeling and experiencing this is tuned. This or that negative or positive feeling does not just pass through a person, but through a certain energy center, the vibration of which he is tuned to at the moment or to several centers. From this mixing of centers all the colors are obtained, which are called the colors of the aura. People who see this energetically observe this in church, on the street, and at home - wherever they look, setting themselves the goal of seeing what is happening with a person’s aura.

1:10:08 Image of bees on icons.

Olga: Got it, thank you for your answer. Another question: in some churches, bees are depicted on the icons next to the saints, with their heads. Why was this done?

Irina: Perhaps you should ask the icon painter who depicted it. It can be anything. Perhaps they mean those saints who raised bees. Perhaps the icon painter meant that the saint was as hard-working as a bee. He could put anything, any understanding of his, into this image.

1:10:51 Possibility of re-wedding.

Olga: In our Christian religion, if a couple got married in a church, according to the canons they must live their lives together, but, unfortunately, in our life it happens that couples separate, and then they want to get married again, but the church forbids this. Then these couples go to another Christian church where this is allowed. Does this affect the Spirit itself? Will this be positive or, after all, if there is a prohibition “you can’t” - that means you can’t, you don’t need to go to other churches?

Irina: The fact is that re-wedding is still allowed in the church, but it must be performed according to certain rules. Firstly, you need to tell the priest why it happened that the previously perfect marriage broke up, i.e. there must be certain reasons. If a priest sees that some actions of a person who wants to get married again led to the destruction of this marriage, he has the right to refuse a new marriage, but only until he repents of this act. If reconciliation with the first spouse is impossible due to his reluctance, then after repentance for the destruction of that marriage, if he finds in it the measure of his responsibility in this destruction, then after repentance for this act, awareness of its consequences, the re-wedding is all it is equally possible, in this case, even with a new husband or wife, if the previous one refuses or has already entered into a new marriage. This is a very individual question that should be resolved in conversation with a priest. I’ll give you one example: when performing a second wedding, the priest will definitely ask the reason for the breakup of the previous marriage. He will say: “You made vows to each other to walk together before God. You are responsible adults and did this seriously. You understood that you said this before God. What happened, why did you change your mind? You changed your mind, what happened to you?” Everything will depend on what the people who came to get married will answer if they had a previous marriage. I will give an example: a family broke up due to the betrayal of one of the partners, the priest will ask: “Who was the initiator of this betrayal, i.e. who went to the side and betrayed this wedding? If the one who came to get married again, a woman or a man, it doesn’t matter, says that “it was my partner who cheated, and I couldn’t live with him after that, and we broke up,” then there are no obstacles to his re-wedding. And if the one who cheated comes and says: “I stopped loving my former wife, it was I who cheated and destroyed this family, and now I have come to get married again,” then such a wedding may be denied for the reason that such an attitude towards love is wrong in the Light of God. They will simply explain that he is guilty of this because he left, betrayed that woman or that man, if it is a woman to whom he made vows, that this is not just a game. We are not children, these are serious things. If the cheater comes to the second wedding, realizes this, repents and says: “Yes, I sinned,” he will come to terms with this word of the priest, will not be offended by him, the priest will invite him to return to his former partner. That is, if he truly repents and wants to return, but if this is impossible due to a number of reasons, the fact that she can no longer accept him, cannot forgive him, or has also remarried, or something else has happened, then re- In this case, even the person who has cheated is allowed to have a wedding. But we must remember that this is not a rule of the church itself, but simply an assumption, a resolution of the weakness of human nature in the sense that he could not cope with his feelings,could not resist them and changed them, even despite the promise made before God.

Maxim: Archangel Michael, we still have a guest here, do you feel it? This is Larisa, she is our friend, and when she found out that you were coming to us in order to clarify that misunderstanding of the religious egregor, she very much asked to be present.

Irina: She says: “What do you want to tell me?”

1:17:42 Difficulties in the life of Seraphim of Sarov.

Larisa: Seraphim of Sarov is my favorite icon, and I always look at her with some trepidation, there is something so dear, and I feel some kind of help from her, something responds, as if she is mine.

Irina: He says: “Have you studied my life in this incarnation?”

Larisa: No. I read in part that life was very difficult, some passages. But completely about life - I don’t have such information, fragmentary information, pieces.

Irina: It was difficult for me - not in the sense of overcoming the material difficulties that I had: lack, etc. It was complex in the sense that I, being a Spirit who incarnated many times in various warriors and who fought a lot in the Spiritual world, many times I led the fight against low-vibration Spirits, against demons. Repeatedly directly participated in acts of exorcism. Living the life I named, it was difficult for me to come to terms with evil, with personal insult, and for me, as a warrior of the Spirit, perhaps it was three times more difficult to do. There were such criminals on Earth who unfairly persecuted me. It was very difficult not only not to respond in kind, but it was very difficult to see the Light of God in them and pray for them to recognize it themselves.

Larisa: As far as I know, I walked alone - it was very difficult. People hung on every word, hoping for some miracles to happen.

Irina: He says that I was leaving people.

1:20:39 The loneliness of Seraphim of Sarov is his conscious choice.

Larisa: Yes, not with the church. People came in droves to find some kind of contact. This loneliness - was it a conscious choice? Because I know that not with the church, but all the time alone, alone, alone I communicated with God.

Irina: Conscious, because alone, without people, without the energy of other people, I more fully felt the merger with the Light, being in this body, in this incarnation. When a person came to me, I saw not just his body, I saw his energy, I understood what brought him to me. When there were a lot of such people, it began to distract me and prevent me from being in unity with the Light, and I simply went further, like a hermit, into the forest, especially at first. But then I already received revelations from God, messages that I should receive people, give instructions in faith and strengthen them spiritually, and only sometimes rest alone.

1:22:04 Answer to requests for help from saints.

Larisa: Regarding the icons. People very often turn to icons of saints with requests and prayers and, unfortunately, only a few get results. What does this depend on? Either we are not converting correctly or we lack faith? People ask for help, go to church to see icons.

Irina: Towards icons or...?

Larisa: To the saints who are depicted on icons, and they do not receive this help, the majority. Why? Either people don't believe or they mistreat?

Irina: The fact is that God hears any request in any case.

Larisa: Or the wrong requests, maybe?

Irina: This is a very individual case, and I see that you have a more personal question here. You don't want to ask me about all the people.

Larisa: An unexpected turn.

Irina: Larisa, the whole point is that some of the circumstances that people are asking to change have developed over more than one incarnation. It happens that some people ask to change other circumstances for people, without understanding the reasons that created these circumstances. They are given the answer in a form in which they are able to perceive. Even the absence of an answer is an answer. The lack of an answer to prayer is also an answer. This is a response to the fact that the time for change has not come in the material world. This is what I wanted to tell you in response to your unasked question, which you have, and I will not voice it here.

1:24:40 The meaning of a burning candle in front of the icon. Kissing icon.

Larisa: Thank you. Also, when people come to church, they light a candle in front of the icon and then kiss the icon. Is this also some kind of ritual, is it connected with something?

Irina: Yes, it's a ritual. A candle is a symbol of fire. Fire is a symbol of the Light that shines in the Soul. This is again a reminder of the words of Christ: “In the same way your Light shines before people,” because Christ said before this in the “Sermon on the Mount”: “When a person lights a candle, he puts it on the table, and not under the bed, so that it shines for everyone in the house,” Christians light candles in churches as a reminder of these words. This symbol is such that they feel that, at least, this should ideally be the case, that their Soul burns with true Light just like this candle. But at the same time, this is a symbol that everyone understands, that true bright love, which lights the Light in Souls, is sacrificial, i.e. she is ready to sacrifice herself, because when a candle burns, it decreases in size. She does not remain the same, she spends, one might say, her energy, but in return she receives a flame that can attract others to the Light. True love is always directed not only at oneself, but also at others, sometimes even to the detriment not only of oneself, but of the material form in which a person is located. A candle shrinks – it’s a material form: the more it shrinks, the longer it burns. The candle symbol is a reminder of this well-known Truth.

Kissing icons is a form of veneration of a saint, Jesus, the Mother of God or the Angel who is depicted there. When you come to visit or meet with your relatives or good friends, you have the desire to hug and kiss them - this is a form of respect, honor, love for them, because... like saints who are in the Spiritual world, your material body is not able to hug and kiss in the same way, because you are in the body at the moment and can only kiss their image - this is also a form of veneration. Being in the Spiritual world, they feel the true movement of your Souls and hearts when you kiss her.

Larisa: So this is necessary?

Irina: If you think that you should show this feeling, then yes, it is necessary for you.

1:27:52 Prayers for unbaptized people.

Larisa: Okay, thank you. There is a question: when a person is not baptized in the Christian tradition by custom, can he then order some kind of services after death?

Irina: This will not make any sense, because he did not belong to the Christian egregor at all, he did not join it. You can simply pray to God for him, without turning to a Christian egregor, not through this egregor. You can pray for him in church, but without going to services. Just come and pray for an unbaptized relative. In this case, the prayer will not go through the egregor, because the energies of the egregor, since it has not entered into it, are simply alien to it, they will not enter into it, it will not give anything in any case. Since he was not baptized all his life, although he had the opportunity to do so, it means that there were some internal contradictions in him that did not allow him to enter this egregor.

Maxim: Yes, it's like a hockey player came to play football on skates.

1:29:04 Leaving food in a cemetery is a form of almsgiving.

Larisa: Another question about Easter: very often people come to Easter, commemorate, eat at graves, but there is an opinion that they feed all the Spirits who are dead. Does this make any sense? There are a lot of contradictions now.

Irina: Do you mean those products that are left at the cemetery?

Larisa : Yes, they leave it, remember it, drink it on Easter day.

Irina: Spirits cannot eat material food. Your tradition of leaving some sweets or other products at the cemetery was not created for the Spirits. There are people - children or poor people who go there, take these products for themselves, food - this is alms in the form that a person shows on this day. What is almsgiving? This is a voluntary donation of some material property to good deeds. To buy these products, you still need some financial resources. Each person understands that the Spirit will not eat, so one of the people will take the food that is left in the cemetery. Let it be either a child or a poor adult who lacks food; if a person has enough food, he will not go to the cemetery to take food, he will not waste his time on this, but will rather mind his own business. Therefore it is a form of almsgiving.

Larisa: So the food is clean, you can eat it?

Irina: What does “clean” mean, in what sense?

Larisa: I mean energetically, although from the grave.

Irina: It depends on how he feels about it. The food itself is clean, everything is clean here. If he treats this place where he came with reverence, the one who takes food from the graves, regardless of whether it is a child or an adult, if he treats with reverence in the religious tradition, if he prays for this deceased, i.e. not just take it, but at least remember him in his own words and thank God for giving him the opportunity to find food. It was not just that he found it, it was God who created such circumstances that he came here and has the opportunity to take this food. Naturally, she will then be pure for him in this regard. If, while collecting this food, he behaves inappropriately, disrespectfully towards the dead, laughs at believers, etc., then this will lower his vibrations not because he eats the food, but because he does not treat with love, with respect for those people who left him this food. In any case, if someone was at the cemetery on Easter, but not only on Easter, on other days they go to the cemetery and leave food on the graves - you see that it does not stay there. Even if something is left and no one takes it, depending on what form you left it in, birds, insects, etc. can eat it. It will still go somewhere, i.e. your sacrifice will not be in vain, it will still feed someone. But not Spirits - they do not feed on material food; the word “feed” cannot be used at all. They perceive your energies and give you theirs in return. Nutrition is just a form of understanding available to you in your body. There are completely different energy-informational processes occurring there.

1:33:46 Helping the dead with thought forms, rituals, remembrance.

Larisa: Thank you. If you dream of deceased relatives looking sad and exhausted. Is there any way we can help them from here? Maybe order some services, do some rituals?

Irina: The first thing you can do is change the attitude that such dreams caused. If you are offended by him, forgive him in any case, because your energy associated with him, with thought forms about him, goes to the Spiritual world. You direct your attention to this image and remember it. It may be unpleasant to him, a lower vibration, for example, than he is, and he may dream of you, let you know that this prevents him from being in the Spiritual world. This can happen - you are connected, especially if this is your relative, i.e. you have lived together for a long time, energetically connected with him. If, on the contrary, this is not resentment, but regret that he left, pity, then in any case one must accept that he went his way and left at the time that God appointed him, and he went on to further development. That is, to understand that it is only his body that has died, but he himself is alive and further developing. Even if he is at a low vibration level, in any case, he will be helped there in the form in which he is able to perceive this help. You can help him with any forms of rituals and prayers that are accepted in your religion, but not just mechanically performing this prayer or ritual, but with a sincere feeling of love. It is a good tradition to give alms to children and poor people, but with a request to pray. When there are many people, especially children, who still experience purer and brighter feelings, greater trust, more openness, having prayed for your relative, they also send this energy of love to him.

Larisa: Is it called remember?

Irina: Yes, you have a tradition of commemoration. They also help him, if this is done not just to reassure themselves in the sense that “I love him so much, I did everything for him,” but with a sincere feeling of love.

1:36:38 Spiritual guides and Guardian Angels **.

Maxim: Archangel Michael, I have the last question for you for this session: are spiritual guides and Guardian Angels the same thing?

Irina: A mentor in the classical sense is one who instructs, who usually gives instructions of a spiritual nature. Anyone can be a mentor. You yourself can be a mentor to someone else. Any Spirit that has appeared, a spiritual being or any subtle-material entity, can also be your mentor in the broad sense of the word, even if it brings you some kind of negativity, some kind of damage - in any case, it instructs you to harmonize with its behavior, to build your behavior and energy in such a way as to raise yourself and your vibration. If we speak according to the law of Light, according to the law of love, then any being you meet, incarnate or non-incarnate, is your mentor, just as you are a mentor to another. The Guardian Angel in this sense is also a mentor. But those consultants of the Spiritual world who are higher in level than the Guardian Angels, they are also his mentor, because it was to them that he came when he asked for incarnation, it was they who selected it for him. They helped him choose the conditions in which he was incarnated. It could be one, two, three, or several mentors. If we mean a consultant of the Spiritual world, then one consultant usually has several Souls that he instructs. But one Spirit can also have one mentor or several. Consultants do not walk around like Guardian Angels in the astral world. They are always at that level, unless they themselves have incarnated, of course. If they have incarnated, and their ward still remains in incarnation, then the responsibilities for his guidance pass to the Spirit, also a consultant who knows him well. They usually exchange experiences with each other. The Guardian Angel, naturally, will not go into incarnation, because he is assigned until the end of this incarnation, and he will not go into incarnation himself until the one he is protecting finishes the incarnation.

1:39:29 Lucifer is the creation of God.

Olga : This is a question from our group organizer Vladimir: Archangel Michael, please tell me, is it correct to believe that Lucifer is also one of the manifestations of the love of our true God himself?

Irina: We are all manifestations of his love. Lucifer differs from me only in the level of his perception of divine love, but he is his son, just like me, just like you, just like all of us.

Maxim: Thank you. We'll probably end up with Lucifer.

While we were all waiting for the arrival of MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, Father Mikhail and I had a small discussion about religion.

00:08 Causes of conflict between religions.

Maxim: You want to say that all the problems, for example, of Christianity and Catholicism, are only in the fact that you divide God into three, but he, as God, is one. Yes? That is, the whole problem is in the unification of confessions and in the understanding of the correctness of religion, in the fact that in the understanding the Christian religion says that God is triune, and everyone else says that God is one?

Father Mikhail: Well, you can say so...

Maxim: Do you want me to give you the fourth hypostasis of the God you are talking about?

Father Mikhail: Well, if you want to tell me, tell me.

Maxim: It’s you yourself.

Father Mikhail: Well, you can say so, but...

Maxim: Would you like to give me the fifth hypostasis of the God we are talking about?

Father Mikhail: It's you.

Maxim: No. This is what surrounds us. You understand? The problem, a very big one, is what is between religions? The fact is that, due to some kind of trinity, they cannot find a common opinion, cannot unite in order to truly correctly bring that Light to people that all religions truly bring. I always wonder: why do Christians condemn Catholics, violating the canons of the same Christianity: “Judge not, and you will not be judged”? Is it possible to believe in the triune God, let's call it that, while condemning someone who believes in one God?

In general, there was a moment in my life when I even wanted to be baptized. I had such a state, there was such a lack of faith in everything, such clear materialism that I even wanted, as it were, to get out of the Christian egregor morally. And then, when I clearly began to study and become interested in esotericism, esotericism began to answer questions that no priest could answer for me. For some reason, there are some clear canons that everyone adheres to, and everything that does not fit into their canons is condemned and called obscurantism, and what’s most interesting is that everyone understands perfectly well that there was a Greek translation of the Bible. And that the same word, carrying meaning, can be presented in the sense of the context, which was done by the one who translated this text.

I clearly understand that religion was built on the basis of a certain state system, a certain place, time in order to correctly unite people of different faiths, different religious teachings, in some case, to subordinate people to this religion, so that there would be no discord in this territory. But why? I can’t understand why denominations don’t accept each other? Why do they judge each other? This is the question that interests me.

Can one billion people believe in one God, and another billion people believe in a triune God? And how can you say that some have the right faith and others have the wrong one? They believe from their hearts. They believe in relating to what they feel. They believe in relating to what the Light brings them. How can you tell another religion, another confession that “You look at the Light incorrectly, because the Light is triune, but for you it is one”?

Father Mikhail: So, officially there are one and a half thousand amendments. Officially, about which there is still a dispute, we are still not sure whether it sounded like that, or the expression sounded that way. For example, repentance is meta...

Maxim: Metanoia.

Father Mikhail: Metanoia – yes, it is a change. It’s not just saying: “I repent,” it’s not just: “Sorry, I’m repenting,” and then went to do the same. No, this needs to change.

As for the fact that religions are at enmity, people are not at enmity out of great intelligence. I can talk to you now and say that I am now going to fight with you because you said something wrong there. I won't do this. Because I subtly understand your experiences. And I sympathize with you. Therefore, it is with great pleasure that I talk to you. I see that you understand things very deeply.

As for “many manifestations of God,” this is a normal phenomenon. But, excuse me, with all due respect to you, I cannot go over hypostases. There cannot be more than three, because there is the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. This is the one who created us, the Creator - three hypostases.

MidgasCaus came up and we began to formally communicate further.

05:03 Introduction of the conversation participants.

Maxim: I want to introduce myself. My name is Maxim, last name is Rusan. I am a lawyer by training, an economist, and a psychologist. I graduate from the Institute of Practical Psychology, Business Psychology. Plus, I am very interested in esotericism and practice energy practices. Recently I met Irina and am beginning to communicate with extraterrestrial civilizations, who explain and tell me what I could not understand in any religions, in any books on esotericism, and much more.

Irina: I welcome everyone! My name is Irina Podzorova. Since I was thirteen years old, I have been a contactee of extraterrestrial civilizations, and now I am ready to answer questions from the respected Orthodox priest Father Michael. With us now is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, already well known to you. He is also ready to answer his questions and give explanations on all incomprehensible points.

Maxim: LiShioni from the planet Shimor is still with us. He is always by my side. This is my curator who supervises me. We're ready to start.

Father Michael: Orthodox priest, Apostolic Orthodox Church. We do not belong to the Moscow Patriarchate. I don’t belong to the Kyiv Patriarchate either. In our church, my bishop is Metropolitan Viktor Veryaskin, Apostolic Orthodox Church. I represent the Apostolic Orthodox Church in its entirety, with all its teachings, throughout the city of Chicago. Now, do you want me to ask you and your curators a question?

Maxim: I think you can ask questions to our curators, because MidgasCaus supervises Irina. You can ask questions through Irina MidgasKausu, that is, contact him directly. This is a real physical personality, it’s just that at this moment in time he is in the astral body, present here.

07:10 Age of MidgasCaus. Social system of the planet Esler. Profession and interests of MidgasCaus.

Father Mikhail: How old are you, MidgasKaus?

Irina: I was born on Esler when it was August 4, 1932 on Earth. The first time I came to Earth was when it was 1983.

Father Mikhail: Who are you by rank? Baron or prince?

Irina: Our society is structured somewhat differently than yours. We are governed not by a president, not a prince, not a baron. Our planet is governed by a community of selected citizens of the planet. And every city is also governed by a community. There is no separate ruler. I don't belong to government circles. I am one of the researchers, the scientists of my planet. I have devoted my entire short life to science. In particular, the study of your civilization. That is, I am a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms.

Let me remind you that since you live on another planet for Esler, you are aliens for us. Therefore, the alien life form is, in particular, your earthly one. Since childhood, I began to study what you call astronomy, the stars on my planet. Our planet is part of the Interstellar Union, where we have free movement between planets on ships that have the ability to move very quickly between stars, using those laws of nature that you have not yet discovered. Thanks to this, from childhood we study not only planets and stars, as you do: constellations and so on, as in astronomy. But we are still studying civilizations. At my school, I learned about earthly civilization, that you are not part of the Interstellar Union. I became interested and when I grew up a little, I began to study its history. And then I decided to study to become a contact specialist.

09:45 Checking MidgasCaus and LiSioni o. Mikhail.

Father Mikhail: I apologize, but I must immediately express my point of view. Perhaps he is very knowledgeable about the structure of our Universe, since the cosmos is very accessible to him, and he explains it well, even some step-by-step creative moments. I listened to it all. But I am not satisfied, and I am suspicious of his religious correct perception of the Virgin Mary, Jesus Christ and attitude towards the Virgin Mary. Because of this, I emphasize, so as not to cause offense, I suspect that he is not who he claims to be. I emphasize. That's why I want to ask you now. Mirror showing. Where is he now? Here or there? Raise your hand, which side is it on?

Irina: Mid is here, LiShioni is here. Here they are two.

Father Mikhail: It doesn’t matter to me anymore. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit (baptizes) I baptize this curator. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit (baptizes in the other direction) I baptize this curator. And I command in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit (baptizes), take off the mask, both one and the other! Show your true colors. I command! And while I'm talking, don't interrupt me. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, Amen. I command! In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, Amen. I command! In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, Amen. What do they both look like now?

Irina: Now I'll tell you. I just call him Mid. He comes to me in the astral image of a young man of about thirty, but his physical body looks a little different. Basically, it doesn't matter. Or does it?

Maxim: No, tell me! Tell me. What astral image does he take in order to contact you?

Father Mikhail: No! What does he look like now!? After what I did. What does he look like now!? Look at it now!

Irina: It started to glow a little stronger. His aura was already like this, but now it glows stronger and some kind of violet, light violet light has appeared. And he speaks.

Father Mikhail: What is he saying?

Irina: He did just that (namaste gesture), leaned in your direction and said: "Thank you for the Light."

12:30 O. Michael about Joseph and the Virgin Mary.

Father Mikhail: Well, okay. In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, Amen, I continue. I don't believe either one, I don't believe the other. Not because I'm such a nasty uncle, and not because I want to disrupt our conference. If I didn't want to and would consider you completely enemies of God, I wouldn't have come here. But I have suspicions. Ever-Virgin Mary, I translate "eternal virgin" into accessible language.

And now, attention! Both one and the other. I command! In the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, Amen, listen. She never, do you hear me carefully? I have never had any physical sexual relations with the one we call Joseph the Betrothed. He was 76, she was 16. Attention! She never entered into any physical relationship with him. Never. Therefore, being 76, seeing her pregnant, he wanted to secretly let her go; not even 48 years old would he have done that. He didn't run to any high priests, any teachers, she would have been stoned. There are legends that they did an inspection. She was walking around there somewhere. This is all nonsense.

He saw in a dream, an angel said: "This is the son of God." And he and one of his sons, who was already about 30 years old at the time, his name is Jacob, walked and ran after the census. They run away. Yes, correct information. He used the gold that they brought, because there was money. He already was. The rest were already adult children, he left them. Jacob goes with them to Egypt. Jacob goes to Egypt. They spend three years there. And they return back after the death of Herod. And they settle in the same Nazareth. Therefore, I beg you, if your curators continue to insist that the Virgin Mary had some other six children, then this means a very simple point.

14:59 O. Michael about demons.

Father Michael: Demons really don't like the Virgin Mary. The demon can take the form of Jesus Christ. He can take on this image. He can take the form of an Angel of Light. He can take on the image of the noblest curator. He can do it all.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, we can talk to you now, but maybe you have a demon?

Father Mikhail: Well, of course, I do not rule it out. I can be an obsessed and possessed person, because I am a human being. And I can be moved by a demon, one hundred percent.

Maxim: Thank you, sorry for interrupting.

Father Mikhail: I understand your hint, but I am driven by jealousy. Jealousy, which the Holy Apostle Paul speaks of. Here is your curator, Irina, he knows the Holy Scriptures well. The Apostle Paul says: "You have zeal, but not according to knowledge." My zeal for the Mother of God is very great, I was very prepared for this communication. Few weeks. And I want to tell you that this is my criterion.

So here it is. The devil can even take on the image of Jesus Christ. But you know, my dears, brother Maxim and sister Irina, he is forbidden the only thing: he cannot accept the image of the Virgin Mary. So, she is the eternal Virgin, she is the Ever-Virgin, she is the second Eve, who did not succumb to any human passions and temptations. What did she have? She had human weakness when she looked for him. Well, how can that be? Virgin Mary, most honorable Cherub and most glorious without comparison Seraphim, and she searches for three days. Is the will of God not revealed to her? Then again, yes. Because she accomplished a feat. "I don't know my husband," she answers Archangel Gabriel, "and I don't want to know." This is how it should be understood. Therefore, she never, with any man and with any Saint Germain, whom you said in that program that he was the incarnation of Joseph. This is a purely demonic idea. Get her out of your head.

17:43 The story of Mirah Count's communication with the Virgin Mary.

Irina: I understood your religious answer, and in no case, I repeat again, in no way did I want to contradict the tenets of any religion on your planet. This is not at all part of my plans as a researcher. All the information that we give to contactees is consistent, as I said earlier, with the historical data of the Interstellar Union. If you want to talk with a direct witness to those events, then you probably should have invited Mirakh Count. He was directly involved when he directly took the girl, whom you know as Maria, into contact with the Burkhadians. He offered her this contact. And he brought her. And he took part in the rescue operation when Christ was already buried. He was involved in this himself. And he is still in embodiment, since the Burkhadians live much longer than earthlings, he is still in embodiment. That is, all this is in his memory. You were taught from one textbook, I studied from another textbook. But we have a direct witness to those events.

Father Mikhail: Where is he now?

Irina: Perhaps we should invite Mirakh Count?

We did not expect such a turn of events and we actually had to invite Mirakh Kaunt from the planet Burkhad (Archangel Gabriel) to continue our discussion.

Maxim: We will try to invite him here so that he can talk and talk as a direct witness of those events. This is the one whom our Christian religion calls Archangel Gabriel.

19:21 Mary's ever-virginity for religion and the believer.

Irina: This is the first thing he said about Maria's children, as far as I remember. Yes?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Because before that we never had such questions or such conversations. I didn't ask them about such details. Even as a Christian by religion, I was also baptized, they were completely unimportant to me. My faith in God, in Christ, in Mary, it does not depend on whether she had children. I generally understand this question differently. This is completely unimportant to me, and in no way violates my faith.

Father Michael: The basis of the Gospel is the Ever-Virginity of Mary. She is the second Eve, and he is the second Adam. And therefore, if you call yourself a Christian, and for you it is not important, forgive me, I will not use the word bad, then you do not understand who you believe in. Let's have this participant, please.

Irina: Yes, now. I want to say that in any case, whether it is good or bad, firstly, God will decide. And secondly, I won't deceive you and say that this is important to me. This will be a deception. It will be my deception. I will not be a hypocrite before God. This was my answer. Until Mirakh Count comes up, I can go after him, at least alone, at least with Irina in the Astral Plane. If he is not busy right now, he will come or send someone else. I just don't know what he's doing. He lives in Burkhad. This is another planet. This is not Esler.

20:52 Marriage among the Jews. Combination of the Virgin Mary and Joseph the Betrothed.

Irina: You, like all priests, studied the Gospel in Russian. The point is, if you take the first chapter of the Gospel of Matthew, take the description of how she became pregnant. There was a text written there in Russian: "Before they were united, it turned out that Mary had a child in her womb." That is, she is pregnant. The words "before they were combined" have a certain meaning in the Greek language. Firstly, it was not about the laws of Christian marriage, but the laws of Jewish marriage.

Are you familiar with the description in the Torah, that is, in the book of Deuteronomy in chapter 14, of how marriage took place among the Jews? What were the rules? I can explain. First there was the engagement, and then there was the marriage itself. How did it all happen? If the girl's parents were alive, then the future husband first offered money according to a rite, according to a special ritual. At first it was a piece of gold, then it was money, he offered it to the girl. This was all accompanied by special words in Hebrew. And if she accepted, it means she agreed to be his wife in the future. From that time on, as she took it, she could not be given to another man, if he was alive, of course. It was called betrothal. The second stage was when he took her as his wife. If the parents were alive, then an agreement was concluded between the future husband and the one you call the father of this wife that he would take her to him.

Father Mikhail: Father-in-law.

Irina: Yes. And the third stage, which followed the second, was marriage itself, which necessarily meant intimate relationships. In a Jewish book like the Mishnah, maybe you have heard about it, this is a Jewish law that was founded by rabbis. This was the explanation of the Torah. There was such a rule of law that if a man did not enter into an intimate relationship with his wife for a week, without having a reason: illness, for example, or leaving, then she had the right to divorce him because he did not pay attention to her. Even if there were several wives. As you know, the Torah fully allowed this. He had to pay attention to each of them. Otherwise, she had the right to divorce him. And even accuse him of cheating, since he didn't pay attention to her for a week.

I made an explanation for those of our listeners who do not have the same experience of studying the Bible as you, because they do not know these subtleties. So, when in the Gospel of Matthew it was written "before they were united, she was found to be with child by the Holy Spirit," it meant that they were already betrothed, that is, the first stage of the marriage had already occurred - betrothal. It's like they translated it into Russian. But the second stage has not yet occurred. That is, he has not yet taken her as his wife. If he took her as his wife, it would necessarily involve intimate relations, otherwise it would not be legal. And they knew the law very well.

It turned out that she was pregnant by the Holy Spirit, when he wanted to secretly release her, because according to Jewish law: Deuteronomy, chapter 22 in the Torah, according to this law, for pregnancy during the betrothal, she was required to be stoned, required by law. This has been written about. And everyone knew about it. Therefore he did not go to the high priest. He wanted to secretly let her go, because it was clear that this was not his child, and so on.

But Angel... Who was called Angel? Again, this is in Greek, translated into Russian as “messenger”. We will now talk about the fact that it was a Burkhadian in the astral body, but okay, these are unimportant details for you. He said, “Don’t be afraid to accept Mary.” Here is the word “accept”, this is already in Russian. If you look in the original Greek, you will find a word that meant “marriage.” That is, the second stage after engagement. That is, the Angel actually said: “Don’t be afraid to complete this Jewish rite and accept her as your wife.” He didn't say, "Stay engaged." He didn't say that. He even explained why not to be afraid to accept: “For whatever is born in her is of the Holy Spirit.”

Why did he say, “Don’t be afraid to accept”? Because Joseph, despite his level of spiritual development, still had some suspicions of fidelity creeping in. She was, as you rightly noted, much younger than him, although not as much as it is in the Tradition. But still younger than him. And he thought: “Maybe something confused her.” He was afraid of breaking the law in this. That’s why the Angel told him: “Don’t be afraid, she hasn’t cheated on you.” Why didn't you change it? Because when she was taken to contact the Burkhadian, they did not have physical contact, as with a man. That is, she did not enter into an intimate relationship with him, specifically with the Burkhad man. Why didn't she engage with him?

Father Mikhail: Excuse me, just a short stop. Be so kind as to tell me, please, who just explained it in such detail?

Irina: Mid, but he hasn’t answered yet.

Maxim: This is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

Father Mikhail: So, look, there’s a small nuance here. Your curator just told me about fifteen minutes ago that he is not an expert in religion, but that he knows the Holy Scriptures in such detail. Wow! You have to be a professor.

Irina: Thank you.

Father Mikhail: He told it all in such detail, in such detail. Very interesting indeed. Well done. Well understood. And the Holy Fathers analyze it the same way. But here's the thing, let's get back to the moment.

Maxim: No, Father Mikhail, let me explain to you. There is no limit to the stupidity of people who do not know the intelligence of other people.

Irina: He says I studied this issue because I was interested.

Father Mikhail: I don't offend anyone. I say, very amazingly, knows the Scriptures very well.

Maxim: For you, he knows the Scriptures surprisingly well. And he knows the Scriptures exactly as much as he studied them in school.

Irina: Yes, I studied religion.

Father Mikhail: But they don't study that way in school.

Maxim: Have you been to Esler?

Father Mikhail: They don't teach this in schools.

Maxim: Have you been to Esler?

Father Mikhail: I wasn't.

Maxim: Why do you say that they don't study this in schools, Father Mikhail? How many contradictions you have! You even condemn the Eslerian schools that they study.

Father Mikhail: Guilty! Guilty! Guilty! Cool schools in Esler. Guilty.

Maxim: He hasn't fully answered you yet.

Irina: Next comes the most interesting part.

Father Mikhail: I have already heard these answers from Volodya. The fact that they were combined does not apply to her physically. This is the law, this is the rule, which in this case did not happen to Mary and Joseph. She's outside the rules.

Maxim: Wait, Father Mikhail. Let's find out at least from MidgasKaus, while Mirah Count is gone, did they have sex?

Irina: Yes, he wants to ask one more question about the transfer. There about the synodal version.

Father Mikhail: I say it can't be, it didn't happen.

Maxim: You didn't listen to the end, maybe he wasn't there.

Irina: I just explained about "before they were combined." The word "combined" is precisely after betrothal, marriage, which by law presupposed intimate relationships. Next comes a question for you, as a specialist in the Synodal translation of the Bible. You are using the Synodal translation. There goes further description.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, has he come?

I really felt that the room was illuminated with a small light, and an inner voice said: "Turn around, I'm already here."

Maxim: A question for you from Mirah Count.

Irina: Yes, Mirakh Count is asking.

Father Mikhail: Is this the first or the second?

Maxim: Mirakh Count is the one we invited. The one called Archangel Gabriel.

31:58 Physical virginity and spiritual purity. The concept of chastity in the 1st century AD.

Irina: Now he listened a little and asked: “Please tell me, Father Mikhail, why do you consider purity to be virginity? And here are these two concepts. They are different. Absolutely. Now I listened, and it seems to me that you somewhat equate the concepts of spiritual purity and physical virginity. That's how it seemed to me a little. If so, please explain."

Father Mikhail: Well, integrity really has several meanings. But if we talk about perfect chastity, even men who take monasticism and are virgins remain of their own free will.

Irina: What does perfect mean?

Maxim: What does perfect integrity and imperfect integrity mean? He is asking.

Irina: Yes, he doesn’t understand.

Father Michael: For example, let’s say this, if a person had sex before becoming a monk. This is me for example. He had sex, and then decided that he didn’t want to live like this anymore, he only wanted to become a monk. That is, he is not a virgin, but he became a monk. And he leads, so-called, if a person does not have sex, this is considered a more elevated way of life. I'm not saying that this is exactly how it should be. But this is how it is viewed in spiritual literature.

Irina: I understand.

Father Michael: If, for example, a person was born and has never touched a woman, then he is already a completely virgin, virgin, virgin, has never been defiled, and so on and so forth. So in this sense. As for the Virgin Mary, this is not the question at all. This has nothing to do with her at all!

Irina: Why?

Father Mikhail: Because she is the Bride of God! She's God's Bride! Do you understand what the problem is? You can't understand one thing. After that, this same Gabriel of yours, he remembers what he told her: “The power of the Highest will overshadow you, the Spirit of God will come upon you, and what is to be born will be called the Son of God.” So she became the Bride of God. After she became the bride and wife of God, why would she marry Joseph? It was covert, because it was necessary for Yeshua to appear on Earth, so God had this task, to somehow bring this child. That's why this godly widower was chosen, blah blah blah and so on.

Maxim: Give me a question, give me a question!

Irina: I just asked you specifically: what is the difference between spiritual purity and physical virginity? You explained it to me. What I understood from this is that these concepts still continue to be identified by you. Then I will ask you the next question.

Father Mikhail: Not really. I get it, I get it.

Irina: Do you think, do you think...

Maxim: Wait, Father Mikhail, I have a question for you.

Irina: Do you think, in the 1st century of the new era in which Christ was born, in the 1st century, when his God-saved church had not yet been created, do you think then between the Jews Mary, Joseph, were there such concepts about virginity and chastity, and integrity that modern Christians now have? Here's a direct question for you. Or not?

Father Michael: There was such a concept in Israel, because the prophet Elijah and others were people who did not have women, and they were allowed to do so. It was desirable for women to get married, and if there was childlessness, it was a shame. Also, by the way, according to legend, according to the apocrypha, Mary was born from childless parents Joachim and Anna. They didn't have children for fifty years, and only then, then she got pregnant, and it was a shame that they didn't have children for a long time. But then the priests laughed at him. And they came, prayed, and, in the end, the Most Holy Theotokos, the Virgin Mary, was born.

Irina: Do you remember how they were persecuted?

Maxim: Next question. Father Mikhail, please allow me to ask you questions.

36:55 Persecution of Anna and Joachim, parents of the Virgin Mary. Karmic incarnations of higher Spirits.

Irina: Do you remember how they were pursued? But you cannot remember how they persecuted Anna and Joachim. How they waited for this child and how they prayed to God. Of course you can't remember this. I don’t know whether your Spirit lived in Israel at that time?

Father Mikhail: I read about it, I read about it.

Irina: You read about this, and I spoke directly with Maria about what were the first impressions of her childhood. And you remember that even if she was brought to the Jerusalem Temple at the age of three, this does not mean at all that she did not see her physical parents. She saw them, naturally. And she saw them for a very long time, while they were alive. I talked to her about the impressions of her childhood. I took her on the ship, talked to her about the impressions of her childhood. I spoke to her directly. And I listened as she talked about how everyone was happy that she appeared with her parents.

Father Mikhail: That she was born. So it's clear, she was born, and they rejoiced. And everyone was happy.

Maxim: Father Michael, please don't interrupt Archangel Gabriel, if it's not difficult for you.

Irina: And she also told me, she says that when God did not send them a child, how people humiliated them, including priests, and not only priests, saying that they were displeasing to God. When they took part in Mary's upbringing, they instilled in her such a concept of life that having children is the most honorable thing that can happen on this planet. And we must also remember that her Spirit, which incarnated, was a very complex Spirit. This means difficult in the sense that he was from a higher spiritual level, and he also went through many incarnations. And next to Jesus, and next to me, and next to others, for example, with the Apostle Paul and so on. They had what in modern esotericism is called a karmic knot. This situation was created in many past incarnations. All participants in many events in general in the Galaxy, if not in several Galaxies, were born there almost simultaneously.

Father Mikhail: So what is the question? I get it, I get it.

39:39 Virgin Mary and childbirth.

Irina: She was raised in belief by her parents, and even more so by reading the sacred books: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus and so on, she read them since childhood. She was brought up in the belief that there is no greater honor for a woman than to bear children. Why did she think that? Because she understood perfectly well, as she understands now, that the act of giving birth to a child is in no way a vice, it is an opportunity to embody on Earth that Spirit who has been waiting in line for incarnation, perhaps for many centuries. And it is an honor for a woman to accept it.

Father Mikhail: I understand, I understand.

Irina: This is an honor for a woman to accept this Spirit in the body that will be born through her, and to educate him in divine concepts.

Father Mikhail: Perhaps so. I answer. Virgin Mary is the patroness of mothers. Virgin Mary is the patroness of childbirth. In all difficult moments, everyone prays to the Virgin Mary: before birth, before maternity hospitals. They put candles and so on and so forth.

But in their family, by the way, if someone said that she became his betrothed or became his wife, people would not know where this fruit came from. They didn't know about Archangel Michael. They didn't know this sacrament at all. In general, they called him illegitimate, Jesus Christ, by the way, and they talked about it in secret, because they guessed something. He was a very old man. Therefore, they still officially had a child. This same Jesus. "My father and I were looking for you, where were you, child?"

That's twelve years. Here he sits. So they opened their mouths and listened to him, these teachers. We, and I'm not talking about purity as in not having sex. A person can have a hundred children and be more pure than that, excuse me, hypocrite who sits somewhere in a monastery and masturbates, I apologize for saying this. Handjob or other things. Therefore, in this case, I do not connect or identify purity, and do not absolutize it with non-participation in the sexual process. I'm not leading to that. As for the Most Holy Theotokos and Ever-Virgin Mary, is this title nowhere in any religious egregor or what do you call it? Egregore?

Maxim: Yes, egregore.

Father Michael: You won't recognize another word for Christian egregor. The Virgin Mary. Virgo means virgin. Virgo before, during and after everything related to human nature. She is a Virgo.

42:57 Patronage of the Virgin Mary to wives and mothers.

Maxim: Father Mikhail, can I ask you a question? Is it possible to teach a person a craft without mastering that craft himself?

Father Mikhail: No, of course not.

Maxim: Who is the patron of the Virgin Mary?

Father Mikhail: To everyone he wants, including you.

Maxim: No, well, I mean that you were only talking.

Father Mikhail: Including mothers.

Maxim: Including mothers. Yes, that is, mothers who give birth, mothers who raise children. Does she patronize them too?

Father Michael: Who raised Jesus Christ?

Irina: Does she patronize wives?

Maxim: She also protects wives.

Irina: Those with their husbands.

Maxim: That is, she patronizes them. How can you teach a person to do something spiritually without knowing how to do it yourself?

Father Mikhail: Do you understand what's the matter? Do you understand what your problem is? Your problem is that you want to put the Virgin Mary into bed with Joseph. Nothing will work, my friend, this is a crazy idea. Get her out of your head. Accept it as it is. The Virgin Mary is the Virgin Mary.

Irina: Why possessed?

Maxim: Why is this idea crazy?

Irina: What's crazy about her?

Maxim: What's crazy about her?

Father Michael: Because you are tearing out the foundation of the New Testament. The second Eve, unlike the first, she did not accept the Son of God in the way that all materialists or atheists would like. He is the Son of God, the Savior of the World, who came to Earth to save sinners from the immaculate Virgin Mary.

Irina: Do you understand what is demonic in this idea?

Maxim: What is demonic about this idea?

Irina: We didn’t understand.

Maxim: We didn’t understand anyone. What is demonic about this idea?

Father Michael: And the demonic thing is that you want to lower her personality, her personality to the level of a simple woman who entered into a sexual relationship with Joseph. You see what's going on. It is not true!

Maxim: Just a second, wait! Who was she when she gave birth to the child?

Father Mikhail: She is a virgin.

Maxim: Wasn’t she a woman?

Father Mikhail: Of course not! Virgo!

Irina: Written by a woman.

Father Mikhail: This is esoteric nonsense, leave it. This doesn't apply to her.

Maxim: Which esoteric? Stop! What esoteric nonsense?

45:22 About humility.

Irina: This is Mirakh Count addressing you. Father Mikhail, now I am listening to your conversation from the side, and whatever your beliefs may be, the word “delirium” is still very close to the word “cancer.” No matter how esoteric or non-esoteric it may be, your beliefs have not yet been called esoteric nonsense. Whatever they are for them.

Therefore, I still ask you not to violate at least the commandments of Jesus Christ: “Whoever says cancer,” you yourself know. This is a madman. Only a mad person can carry nonsense. Esotericists are not crazy people, they still have the same intelligence as you. They just have different beliefs. Having different beliefs than yours does not mean insanity. Just like your other beliefs do not mean your insanity for them. I hope this is clear to you now. I, of course, understand your sacred jealousy in the fact that you defend ideas that are sacred to you, but any ideas should not come before Love. I remind you of the words of the Apostle Paul: “If a person falls into any sin, you spiritually correct him in the spirit of meekness, watching each one of you.” I remind you of this.

If you think that esotericists have fallen into error, please correct them in the spirit of meekness, otherwise you will only achieve the embitterment of these people, and you will be responsible for their Souls, like the shepherd appointed by your church. This is all I told you, as one of the seven managers of the egregor to which you belong. I had to say this, and I hope I did it in the spirit of Love. Because I didn't call you crazy. And your ideas are also nonsense.

47:35 Mirah Count on the creation of the Christian egregor and the image of the Virgin Mary. Gnosticism. Religious celibacy.

Irina: Now, as for Maria. I tell you once again that all the data contained in the Interstellar Union, I say as a direct participant in those events. Even I take responsibility for the fact that when we formed the Christian egregor, I also took part in this, I came into contact with those church fathers. Not only me. There were several of us from Tumesout and Burkhad, several specialists. We formed a Christian egregor. And when we sorted out which books were canonical and which were not at this council, we sent them telepathically, through contacts, because among the bishops of that time there were many of our contactees, namely Burkhad.

Maxim: I give a translation, these are those who communicated with Archangel Gabriel, the clergy.

Irina: And with others, not just with me. I here admit my responsibility in that at that time we turned a little blind eye to some penetration of Gnosticism into your canon law. At the level of dogma, the Apostle Paul defended church teaching from Gnosticism, but, unfortunately, at the level of the canons, some Gnostic rules still found their way.

Evidence of this is at least the celibacy of Catholic priests. You, as a priest, know very well why the rule of celibacy came into being, and why in Orthodoxy this celibacy is partially accepted. That is, a married priest cannot hold the rank of Bishop or higher. The rule of partial celibacy for Orthodox priests, and the rule of complete celibacy for Catholic priests, that is, any priest has no right to be married or have a sexual relationship, as you correctly put it. And the rule was that Mary's virginity and purity were linked into one, and they said, so as not to equate her with a simple woman, they removed the mention of her children, and so on. The reason for these two phenomena is the same: this is the recognition of a sexual relationship between a man and a woman, if not a sinful practice, then a practice that is somewhat alienating from God, I will say for our esotericists, it reduces vibrations. They will understand what we are talking about.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, please tell me for Father Mikhail.

Irina: Yes, for Father Michael, I will say what was believed at that time, there were Gnostics who believed that being in the body and bodily needs, be it food, long sleep, sex, they considered alienating from God. That is, the Soul was, as it were, distracted from spiritual knowledge (the word “gnosis” itself means knowledge), distracted by the earthly needs of this body. They even believed that your physical bodies were somewhat animalistic, and therefore, in some sense, dirty, not divine.

I want to immediately emphasize that these concepts of Gnosticism came from what you call pagan religions. Pagan religions in the vast majority of cases were the result of contacts between shamans, ancient priests, oracles, and so on with those civilizations that you call plasmoids.

Plasmoids are thin-material civilizations that do not have a physical body like you and me, naturally. They have subtle bodies that do not have physical food; they cannot eat. They don't have that form of sex. That is, many do not. They perceive the physical world completely differently. For them, even the Earth is flat. Now, if you have heard, there is a discussion going on on your Internet forums about whether the Earth is flat or round. You have it very developed now. This is the revival of pagan religions, which are based on the vision of plasmoids that the Earth is flat.

I want to immediately emphasize that I do not blame them in any way. This is a form of life that God also created. But! When they say that the Earth is flat, that you are all lying, that the Earth is round, they sometimes defend this very fiercely, they are in no way lying. This is how they perceive reality. This is their perception. I can emphasize this many times.

In the same way, when they say that sex (they do not say the word “sex”, they say “sexual union of a man and a woman”), it distances one from God, that the original purity is lost. They have many different parameters there.

Why do they say that? Because they consider our bodies, that is, people and other forms of humanoids, to be densely material, they consider any of our bodies to be too rough, densely material, animals. This came from the Orphics, the so-called Pythagoras. All of them were contactees with plasmoids. This came from the ancient Pythias, from Greek philosophy. The holy fathers of the first three and four centuries, at the time of the formation of the egregor, faced with paganism, wrote many works. Origen, for example, or Irenaeus of Lyons. They wrote many essays about paganism, how to distinguish paganism from Christianity, why the body is not a vessel of sin, and so on.

54:09 Vessel of sin. Divinity of the Virgin Mary. First Ecumenical Council.

Irina: The vessel of sin, firstly, is not a body, for us, for humanoids. The vessel of sin is not the body. The vessel of sin is not the Spirit. The vessel of sin is a choice. In any case, I already said everything I wanted. And I want to take upon myself, among other things, responsibility as one of the seven patrons of the Christian egregor. I want to take responsibility for the fact that we have turned a little blind eye to the infiltration of Gnostic ideas into the church.

We wanted what was best. We wanted to replace the pagan goddesses (Artemis, Diana, and so on), who were recognized in the Roman Empire (the usual environment for pagans who joined the church), so that they would not have a sharp transition that was incomprehensible to their consciousness, to place the Mother of God Mary . Give her a little more divine properties than she actually had. They no longer knew her personally. It was already the 2nd-3rd century, and out of good intentions we turned a blind eye to some penetration of Gnosticism.

Why did what you are saying now happen? You say that contactees compare her to an ordinary woman. These words of yours show deification with an “ordinary woman.” You just said it, I heard it.

And the second was the monastic movement, of course, very developed in the 3rd-4th centuries and beyond. I have great love for monks. They largely defended the doctrine of the divinity of Christ from the Arians. I know all this. The First Ecumenical Council, I know everything that happened there. In fact, there was an advantage on the side of the Arians, but the divinity of Christ was accepted precisely through our contacts. We asked the bishops in contacts to accept this teaching by the majority, with the conviction that it was God.

Why was it God? Why? Although he said there: “My father is greater than me.” Yes, that’s what Arius was based on. But more than me, not in the sense that He was different, but in the sense that He was its Source. You know this yourself.

As you know, Christ is called the firstborn. The firstborn son of God, and we are all his sons too. But we were born after Christ, and we are his brothers.

Why are we his sons and not his creations? Because in prayer we address ourselves: “My Father...”, and not my creator, as Christ taught you.

I emphasize once again that this was done in the first centuries of Christianity out of good intentions, so that the pagans, joining our common church, would accept the forms of religion that were familiar to them, so to speak. That is why the birthday of Christ was moved to December 25, when it was the birthday of the god Saturn. These are all known facts. This was also done for this reason, to make it more familiar. You know that when Christianity spreads to a country where paganism previously existed, it also absorbs some pagan customs. Otherwise, it’s impossible. Because people who have been accustomed to living a certain way of life for centuries will simply reject everything.

Father Michael: Yes, finally.

58:26 The significance of Christ's sacrifice. The sacrament of communion.

Irina: And then there will be no one who will enter our church at all. And the formation of the church was the main goal, why Christ came here. Not just to die here, be resurrected and fly away forever. No! He never wanted it and doesn't want it. He is forever!

I want to emphasize now the significance of his sacrifice. His sacrifice was not only that he was without a physical body for three days. Not only that he was crucified, that he was in pain. This was not his only sacrifice. Just imagine that he, as a Spirit, as a first-born Spirit from God, received first-bornness, that is, a greater, materialistically speaking, percentage of His image and likeness, so to speak, so that you understand me, than we all do. For the sake of earthlings, for the sake of this planet, he forever, when he resurrected, he could not resurrect otherwise than by erasing all the data in this body in general about mortality. He also erased even the genetic prerequisites for the aging of the body. Otherwise he would not have been reunited with him. This was the condition for his resurrection. And once he did this, he connected with him forever. That is, forever.

He cannot die now until he is killed, or he kills himself, that is, he commits suicide. He is not capable of dying a natural death.

Why did he do this? He deprived himself of incarnations in billions of Galaxies. Precisely for the sake of the Earth. And it wasn’t just that he deprived himself of incarnations in billions of Galaxies and plasmoid worlds. He did it and now lives on my planet, on Burkhad, which is a great honor for us. Physically I mean, not spiritually. And this is a huge honor for our entire planet. But he is in constant contact, a spiritual connection with your church, with the visible organization and the invisible church, that is, the egregor.

Why is he doing this? Because every time at the Eucharist, everyone who takes into himself, under the guise of bread and wine, a piece of his blood and flesh, energetically this is so. On a subtle level, on an energetic level it is real, on an energetic level it is even more a reality than physical matter. You know this well. When each believer takes into himself a piece of his flesh and his blood, he does not just accept. Christ feels everyone. He connects with everyone. And it doesn't just connect. He, with his high vibrations, with his concepts of life, pure divine thought forms, bright, full of love and light, he connects with everyone, no matter in what state a person comes to him. And if this person is much lower in vibration, if there is a lot of negativity in him, then Christ feels him and he artificially, with this communion, the Eucharist, he temporarily raises his vibrations to his own. But at the same time, he himself lowers his own, that is, he temporarily experiences, I would not call it suffering, like from nails, but at the energetic level he becomes very, very, to put it mildly, uncomfortable. Therefore, this is a very difficult energetic and physical process.

And although many people want to fly to him and study, he prefers solitude, loneliness to this day. He sometimes accepts students, but not every day. Several times in your week. The rest of the time he is alone, naturally in the physical. This is how he is in continuous union with the Father. He makes a sacrifice every time his blood and flesh are communed, in that he lowers his own vibrations and temporarily raises those of others to himself. And if a person remains in this state after communion, he will already really feel that Christ lives in him. If he does not allow himself to consciously sin.

01:03:05 Conscious sin. Temptation. Relationships with loved ones. Priority of the spiritual over the material.

Irina: Do you know the difference between conscious sin and what you call temptation? Conscious sin is the sin of the Spirit itself. It's a choice. And temptation is those thoughts that come from outside from those entities, embodied, non-incarnate, it doesn't matter, who are accustomed to a certain way of life. If this person led a sinful lifestyle, they do not want to let him go simply due to the inertia of their thinking. This can be either a disembodied low-vibration Spirit or an embodied Spirit, be it subtle or densely material.

You know that the relatives who live around a believer can also tempt him. They can also try to lower his vibrations, that is, say some words to him. Although they are embodied in the body. It is not for nothing that when Christ said: "I did not come to bring peace, but a sword" and "A man's enemies are his own household," it was, unfortunately, not a metaphor. He spoke these words with pain. He spoke these words not with joy, but with pain, because every person who goes to God is faced with an environment that begins to feel inferior, to put it mildly. The inertia of their thinking is accustomed to living in the material world, not just in the material world, but with the concerns of only the material world. Now I am in no way saying that this is bad. But to live with the worries of the material world and only with them means forgetting about God. This is exactly what the Apostle John the Theologian meant when he said that "He who loves the world becomes an enemy of God." This does not mean at all that there is no need to love the world at all. This speaks of priority. And I emphasize once again that when he said that "A man's enemies are his household" - this is not a beautiful metaphor and so on, this is reality. That is, relatives can be a temptation.

Father Mikhail: My wife called.

Irina: And I would like to conclude my speech.

Maxim: Father Mikhail, five more minutes, literally, we'll exchange a couple of questions and finish.

Irina: I would like to conclude my speech. Mead is here, LiSioni, all my friends. And I sincerely want to consider you my friend, you are in the egregor. I see what kind of aura you have, I see that you are a sincere person, that you love God, His mother, very much. This is wonderful. I would not want dogmatic differences to become an obstacle in love between you, between contactees, esotericists and believers. This should not happen under any circumstances, because the letter kills. And the Spirit gives life. I want to end here.

01:06:05 Stages of the collapse of the Universe.

Vladimir: This is the question. If Jesus has an eternal physical body, does it remain eternal when the manifest cycle of the Absolute ends, during the unmanifest cycle. Physical body. Or, after all, does it also dissolve when the end of Kalpa and the beginning of Prolaya occur?

Irina: (Mirah Count speaks). I greet you too, Vladimir. I, of course, understand your desire to somehow combine and synthesize Eastern philosophy, Blavatsky's theosophy and Christian philosophy. Of course, I understand that this is your desire, aspiration. And I can do this very easily, because I understand what stands behind all these different words in your various religious teachings: both occult teachings and esoteric teachings. I understand what is behind the words, what reality is.

When the next cycle of the Universe ends, it does not end immediately. As you remember, dense material forms - all substances, all atoms, are forms of energy that come from the Spiritual world. You remember this. It ends gradually with the fact that all matter, which is now in dense form, when the cycle of this Universe ends, then all these dense material forms, without exception, all bodies, all forms, their atoms, will lose their dense materiality. They will go into a subtle state. That is, to use your Russian language, as far as I can see in the contactee's memory, to decompress. But this will only happen at the end of the Universe. They will first decompress to a fine-material state. That is, where plasmoids live now, in these worlds. Before this state. There are 56 density levels, as you remember.

In total, the Universe, which you know as the Universe, has 59 levels of density. We live at the third level of density. These are solid state, liquid state and gaseous state. These are three states of matter density. Next come 56 plasmoid density levels. At each density level, many plasmoid worlds can live. For you, these are those whom you call Nature Spirits. Unfortunately, in Christianity this issue was not considered in such detail as you and I, for example, but still something is known.

Maxim: This just answers about the trinity. It is a material form that contains three forms.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Three forms.

01:08:59 The concept of "Spirit" in the terminology of the Interstellar Union. Features of the worldview and nutrition of plasmoids. Sun eating. Homosexuality.

Irina: Next come the Spirits. In your Russian language it is called Nature Spirits. But I want to emphasize that the word "Spirits", you called the word "Spirit" any being invisible to your physical eyes. This is not the case here in the Interstellar Union. In our country, the word "Spirit" refers only to an immaterial being. This is where a little confusion may arise. By the word "Spirit" you called any being invisible to the physical eye, even if it consists of energies. That is, it is material, but it is subtle. That is, it consists simply of energies. As you now say in a modern way - from electromagnetic waves, if that makes it easier for you to understand. These are the Spirits of Nature.

Firstly, these are the Spirits of the elements: Spirits of fire, Spirits of water, Spirits of air and Spirits of earth. These are all plasmoid civilizations. The most similar density levels close to you.

Next come the Spirits of certain places in nature. Spirits of mountains, Spirits of forests, Spirits of houses. It's in your language again. In our language, these are all plasmoids. And then come the Spirits of certain planets, stars that live in your Sun, for example, in the chromosphere of your Sun. Your physical body cannot withstand this temperature for even a second, but they feed on it. For them, food is what light or radiation is for you. For them it's food. They don't have a mouth. They absorb this energy with their whole body. These are all plasmoids. These are also intelligent life forms. The same Spirits as us also incarnate there. And we can incarnate there, and many have incarnated there.

And I'll tell you more. Those Spirits who have had experience in the life of stellar plasmoids, stellar Spirits, having come to Earth, often do not understand how they can eat dense material food. They begin to get carried away with the ideas of sun eating, for example. That is, they stretch out their hands to the Sun and imagine that they are absorbing the light. The memory of past lives is blocked in order to learn new experiences. But their subconscious memory of the need to feed from it is so strong that it even overcomes the instinct of the organic body in which it is embodied. That is, stretch out your hand to the Sun, and you will be full. They don't remember where it came from, how? But they have it in them.

It seems to happen to those who are called homosexuals. But there they already have another question: the Spirit, which previously lived in a man, incarnating in a woman, continues to consider itself a man, and vice versa.

01:11:47 The end of the cycle of existence of the Universe. Position of the Spirit in the Spiritual World. The place of the demon in the Spiritual world.

Irina: I went a little off topic. All matter passes into subtle material levels. Then, when the cycle of the Universe completely ends, all matter from the subtle material levels goes into the Spiritual world.

That is, in your language, it disappears. There is not a single atom, no radiation, no quantum, nothing, just the Spiritual world.

In the Spiritual world there are no spaces or time, as you understand it. And all the Spirits who are born of God, they will live in the Spiritual world, but depending on how much they prepared themselves in these incarnations, they will be there at different levels, so to speak. As you know, any world, whether Spiritual or material, is a form of manifestation of God. Only one is more densely material, the other is less material, and the third is generally spiritual. And when there are no material bodies, there will be only the Spiritual world, everyone will find themselves at the levels that they achieved while incarnating here.

Those who have reached the highest level will truly be like Gods. They will be endowed with the same capabilities, the same will. In order to endow a person or an alien, a humanoid with the capabilities of God: to create, create, and so on, you first need to endow him with the morality of God. Otherwise he will do evil with these opportunities. This is understandable. Therefore, those who have reached this level will already have great opportunities. As Christ said in his parable: “Whoever had authority over one city will have (authority) over ten cities.” Figuratively speaking. More will be entrusted to him.

If he did not learn these lessons in the material world, if he did evil, if he did not recognize God in his neighbor, if he did not recognize God in the world around him, and only he was angry, hated, and so on, he lowered his vibrations to the level of a demon , relatively speaking. Why a demon? Because he looked into himself and did not see others.

Having lowered his vibrations to the level of a demon, he again lives in the Spiritual world. When the entire material Universe ceases, he does not cease to exist, because even though he is a demon, that piece of God that is embedded in him does not disappear anywhere, it lives in him. That is, he is the same piece of God, only unconscious. And this demon, having lowered its vibrations, lives at that level of the Spiritual world, at the end of the cycle of existence of the Universe, that it experiences minimal, so to speak, inconvenience or, in other words, suffering from the presence of the Divine. Because the higher the vibration, the harder it is for the low vibration to be in His field. This even manifests itself here on Earth.

Maxim: Therefore, prayers are read, light is sent, and with this light the space in which we find ourselves is cleansed.

01:15:12 God is Light. God is Fire. Fire Gehenna. What is “fear of God”? Sincerity.

Irina: About fire. You know, the Bible gives a completely universal, galactic image that God is Light. But at the same time, it is written in the Bible that God is Fire. You know very well that fire and light are similar concepts. That is, what is light for some is the same energy that is fire for low-vibration people. Therefore, the whole point of our incarnations is to come to our Father in Love and to be in Light, and not in Fire. But this does not mean that we should be afraid to live our lives, lest we end up on fire out of fear. We must go sincerely out of Love for Him, out of a desire to be with Him. When Christ said that “Do not be afraid of those who kill the body, but are not able to kill the Soul, but rather fear the one who can imprison your Soul and body in Gehenna.” Perhaps I will tell you a secret or a secret, he said: “Fear the one who can imprison your body and Spirit in Gehenna,” he was not talking about God. God does not voluntarily imprison anyone in Gehenna. Gehenna is an image of fire. Perception of God's Love as His anger due to a decrease in one's vibrations.

So, “Fear the one who can place your Soul and body in Gehenna” - this means that fear yourself. Only you can put yourself there. Neither God, nor the devil, nor insectoids, nor the government, no one can imprison Gehenna except by their own choice. Moreover, fear the one who can imprison your body and Soul in Gehenna, that is, the one you see in the mirror - yourself. You only need to be afraid of your choice.

And when they say “fear of God,” this should not be understood in the sense that God will punish for sin. This must be understood in the sense that you will lower your vibrations by hating, envying, committing other sins, you will lower your vibrations to the point that you no longer need Him, and you will go into darkness. You will be without him. That is, to remain without God is the fear of God. And it is not God who should be afraid, in the sense that to be afraid is to avoid. It is not God who is worth fearing, it is sin that is worth fearing. Only he can separate us from God.

No belief, no religion can separate us from the love of God. Only willful sin can separate us. And I can tell you again that there are many faiths and religions on Earth. Any true believer in his religion (not a hypocrite, but a true believer who develops Love in himself according to the canons that he is used to studying) increases his vibrations more, lives in the divine Light (no matter what religion he belongs to) than someone who does not believing in God, he simply goes to this or that church, temple, by virtue of tradition. Without recognizing the Truth within yourself. This is already called “hypocrite”. It is better to be a sincere and consistent atheist than a hypocritical Christian who only pretends, because sincerity is a form of Love.

01:19:18 The Trinity of God in the Christian egregor. Elohim. Satan.

Maxim: Mirakh Count, I have one more question for you, please. Explain to me, please, what it means, why in the Christian religion the concepts of God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit were deciphered?

Irina: As a being who was directly involved in the formation of the Trinity dogma, I can tell you one thing, that this religion was formed by those who knew your history. For example, the history of the creation of your bodies. As you already know, three civilizations took part in the history of your creation. That is, the creators, as Father Michael spoke about, were called Elohim. They appeared as gods, as you already know, to Moses and Abraham, and his sons and grandsons. There were three civilizations. But one of them broke the law, as you know. She attacked, began to fight with you, and committed this war.

There was originally a trinity of creators, from which one of them was later excluded. Selbetians, a reptilian civilization, who were various snakes, dragons, figuratively speaking. They were excluded.

In the language of Orthodoxy, one of the Elohim turned out to be Satan, to put it bluntly. That is, an apostate. Satan is the adversary. He was an opponent of people, the Interstellar Union, God, and so on. They even resorted to murder. That’s why it’s called: “The Murderer from the Beginning.” Christ said it right.

When the Christian egregor was being formed, they decided to leave the idea of three creators, of three civilizations of creators. Why? They decided to introduce this into your religion, so that later in your mind there would be the idea that there were three creators. But we could not say that one of them was Selbet. Although they were later accepted into the Interstellar Union, calling them creators for your religion did not correspond to our concepts.

01:21:56 Origin Triunities «God-Father, God-Son and God-Holy Spirit».

Maxim: Why God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit? This is exactly the concept.

Irina: Because we spoke religious language. Because God the Father and God the Son are understandable. God the Creator and God the Son – that is, his first thought that appeared, which was called “Logos”. When there was no one else there, he was the first thought.

But when they said, who should we take third? It’s clear, God the Father, God the Son, but who should we take third? How can we designate the third? It was decided that for the concept of the Holy Spirit, for this image, the Spirit emanating from the Father would be taken. If we say God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit, this does not mean that God the Father is not a Spirit, for example, but a body. And this does not mean that the Father is not Holy. To put it simply, one of the names of God the Father, one of his names, so to speak, because God the Father is also the Holy Spirit. He is also a Spirit. And he is also a Saint. Therefore, one of the names of God the Father was simply separated into an image emanating from Him, and from this they made a trinity. Precisely in order to supplement the number of creators.

01:23:48 Priest Fr. Mikhail about Irina Podzorova’s curators.

Father Mikhail: I listened to you carefully, I listened to everything. I listened to your curators. Very carefully. I'll give you a summary of our conversation, please. This means that I have no confidence in your curators. For the reason that I believe that he is not Archangel Gabriel.

He's an impostor. I speak my mind. Listen. Therefore, I believe that they are two options. Either they are simply delusional, since they call themselves humanoids there, or I don't know who. Or it's just two demons. Two specific demons. I don't know their rank, because demons are princes and there are barons. They deal with this esoteric-religious vinaigrette. The main thing for them is that you sit, listen to them, and do the interview. And even if you come to church, you will come there with suspicion. Maybe you will take communion, maybe you will confess, but most likely you will not do this. Because there is a task to immerse you in this way of life.

There was another long conversation that said that they were all demons and reincarnation did not exist. But I decided to ask him another question.

01:25:09 O. Mikhail about Soul and Spirit.

Maxim: Is the soul immortal?

Father Mikhail: Absolutely immortal.

Irina: Is God immortal?

Father Mikhail: Of course.

Irina: And how do you differ from him then? Let's go by the opposite.

Father Michael: I have his image and likeness. Did I say I was different? The image and likeness of God is in me.

Irina: Well, if God became incarnate, why can't you then?

Father Michael: If God became incarnate? So he incarnated once. He died once. He was resurrected once. Ascended once. And he will come a second time to judge the living and the dead. Here's your answer.

Maxim: I ask you, what is Spirit? What is Spirit?

Father Michael: The spirit is an invisible entity. A person consists of Spirit, Soul and body. I have a Spirit, I have a Soul and a body. My invisible essence. Maybe they look like me, with my body. This is not the visible essence of the human being Spirit, Soul and body. We are three-volume.

01:26:20 O. Mikhail about spiritual growth. Can a person become God?

Maxim: Does the Spirit have growth?

Father Mikhail: Of course, definitely.

Maxim: Yes?

Father Michael: It increases with spiritual growth. Your MidgasCaus is about eight meters tall in the demonic world, I think so. He is either a baron or a prince for sure.

Maxim: Does the Spirit have growth?

Irina: Twelve? Something like that (I don't remember).

Father Mikhail: Of course.

Maxim: Yes, yes?

Father Mikhail: Of course there is. Yes!

Maxim: You want to say that the growth of the Spirit occurs only in your body.

Father Michael: The growth of the Spirit can occur both in my body and in your body. There are only incorporeal Spirits.

Maxim: Another question. If you are the son of God, can you become God?

Father Mikhail: Who am I?

Maxim: Yes.

Father Mihail: By grace - yes, but not by hypostasis and not by nature.

Maxim: What does by grace mean?

Father Michael: Because the Greek word “ousia” means essence, nature. And there is a hypostasis, which means that the existence of this nature is manifested in the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

Maxim: Father Michael, how can you grow to the state of God without going through incarnation and going through the lessons of this Spirit?

Father Mikhail: So I am in the body. I live here and this is mine.

Maxim: Are you saying that at the end of your life you can become God?

Father Mikhail: It’s as the Lord wills it. If the acquisition of the grace of the Holy Spirit is to such an extent, then my image and likeness will increase.

Maxim: Do you know anyone else besides Christ who came close to God on this Earth?

Father Michael: There are a lot of Reverend Holy Fathers. So many. They accomplished such a feat. And thanks to his grace, communion, confession, prayers, repentance, they came closer. And they became Saints.

Maxim: They became Saints, but did not become God.

Father Michael: Well, we can say that God became man in order to make us God. Holy Fathers, there is such a metaphor, this is what it sounds like, it is generally accepted in Christianity. By grace, I emphasize! Not by nature. By nature he has no equal. He's alone. And there are billions of us by grace. And we are all little Gods and will come to the Kingdom of Heaven.

Maxim: If God has an immortal Soul, then why did God make an immortal Soul?

Father Mikhail: So he can't do anything else. If He is immortal, then everything that He creates, it consistently takes on His essence. He creates everything immortal. It is true that it is said that the material world will burn.

01:29:07 O. Mikhail about the path of the Soul after death.

Maxim: Where then does the Soul go after death?

Father Mikhail: She goes through the ordeal first. Forty days of ordeal pass. The first three days she is shown earthly life. Nine days show something else there. Then she goes through ordeals for twenty days. Then she looks at hell, then she is shown the abode of heaven. Then she comes to Christ and receives a sentence.

This is common. Original. But the Holy Fathers go through ordeals without these things, for the sake of holiness. They're going fast. They fly like rockets.

Maxim: Do you want to say that God is an immortal entity that created the Soul so that it would incarnate in you once, and then return to him back?

Father Mikhail: Of course! How else? The only way. None of these compasses, this is all from the possessed Hindus. It's them. Possessed, they came up with everything.

Irina: Who are you to call them possessed?

Father Mikhail gesticulates, defending his point of view.

01:30:13 O. Mikhail about the right to judge. Spiritual beauty.

Maxim: Wait, one second, Father Mikhail. And who are you to judge the Hindus for their demon possession?

Irina: Are you an exorcist or maybe a saint already?

Father Mikhail: Me! Father Mikhail!

Irina: So what? Does this give you the right to judge others?

Father Michael: By the grace of God, I am an Orthodox Christian, and I believe, and I have the right. We will judge the Angels. Remember this!

Irina: So much for you!

Maxim: You can already judge, right?

Irina: You were told not to judge.

Father Michael: John writes: “You will judge the Angels,” - we will be given the right, Christian sons of God in Jesus Christ.

Irina: Why not Hindu?

Father Michael: We will judge your Angels! We will judge them!

Maxim: What about yours: “Do not judge, lest you be judged”?

Father Michael: I don’t judge people, I judge paganism itself, a false teaching.

Irina: You said the Indians are possessed now, we heard.

Father Mikhail: So they are possessed! What can I do? I am stating a fact. What should I say? What are they saints if they are possessed?

Irina: This is spiritual beauty, Father Mikhail.

Father Michael: God grant that your words come true. If I stated something out of passion, forgive me.

Irina: No, it’s not out of passion. You are in a state of spiritual delusion.

Father Mikhail: Forgive me if I did anything wrong. Out of jealousy, I said what I thought.

Irina: No, this is not jealousy, you are in a state of spiritual delusion, condemning other faiths. Any bishop will tell you this.

Father Mikhail: Well, bishop, you know, for me, it’s just like looking at what kind of bishop he is. What condition are they still in? God grant that the bishop is not homosexual to begin with.

Irina: Are you ready to admit that you are in spiritual delusion now?

Father Mikhail: Who? I? Why not, I can be in spiritual delusion, because I can be overly emotional. I greyhound a little when I talk. But I am not in dogmatic false teaching.

Irina: You say that you are ready to judge Hindus in their faith. Are you ready for Hindus to judge you by their faith? By your faith.

Father Mikhail: Let them judge. You somehow got hooked: “Are you ready to judge Hindus?” I said that I condemned their idolatrous teaching, as I believed.

Irina: Ah! The Apostle Paul said when he came to the Areopagus. He said, “Passing and inspecting your shrines,” not your vile idols.

Father Mikhail: It was a diplomatic move. If he had told them at the entrance that you were horned demons, he would not have reached the podium. They would hit him on the head with the same stone on which it is written: “To an unknown God.” He would not have reached and fished out Dionysius the Areopagite.

Maxim: So you want to say that he deceived everyone? So he cheated?

Father Michael: No, he acted, let’s say, like this: “Be wise as serpents and gentle as doves.” So I started with you culturally, and I’m ending aggressively. Do you know why? I prayed for three weeks: “Lord, what should I tell people? They are in spiritual delusion.” I'll tell them this now. They will tell me: “What are you doing? Bye, here you go! You yourself are a complete spiritual loser.” So naturally, I started nicely with you, listened to everything.

Maxim: I don’t understand. Is he possessed or something?

Irina: Wait. Now. Everything is fine.

Father Mikhail: I perceive everything, but I tell you: both your curator and your curator are two demons. Be careful. If you want to confess, call and let's talk.

Irina: I want to ask you for forgiveness, perhaps, for the excessive emotionality of the presentation, and I sincerely wish you to come to happiness, to God, to the Holy Spirit, to be saved, and so on. God bless you for this conversation.

In any case, I consider them my interplanetary friends, my interstellar friends. And I tell you sincerely before God. I can't lie to you. I can’t lie to you, looking you in the eyes: “I don’t consider them demons.”

01:34:34 Maxim Rusan and Christianity. Metanoia.

Irina: Mirakh Count is probably asking you, Maxim, to tell Father Mikhail (and it will be interesting for all of us) how you felt about the Christian religion before the explanation of interstellar friends, and how you feel about it now.

Maxim: Before I had our interstellar friends, I was very wary of the Christian religion. No. I was a true believer at first. Then I began to doubt the faith I had. Then I came to esotericism, and in esotericism I was practically convinced that Christianity is a false teaching. Christianity is about enslaving people. Christianity is in the business of making slaves out of people. Christianity is in the business of bringing people to their knees. Christianity is in the business of taking bribes from people for repentance and much, much more.

After I had my interstellar friends, and after I realized how deep and true the faith in the Scriptures is, how wrong the Scriptures can be presented to us, how wrong it is to believe in God in the Soul, I then truly believed in the One God. The same God you are talking about. In God the Father, in God the Son, in God the Holy Spirit. And in the same God who is Krishna. And in the same God who appears to the Hindus.

Father Mikhail, don’t wave your hands at me now. I repent to you. I repent to you. What kind of priest are you when you cannot accept my repentance?

Father Mikhail: I meant that you believe in that one of theirs. Do you continue to believe in them?

Maxim: I repent to you, I tell you how true it is in the spirit. Like a normal Christian priest.

Irina: Listen to him, please.

Maxim: You cannot listen to my repentance. How can I continue to talk to you?

Father Mikhail: I'm silent. Sorry, I'm listening.

Maxim: I believe in one God and Creator. It has no significance now, no matter where He is. Because all the Higher Teachers who came here and brought us the true Light of the One God in whom I believe, brought us this Light through Love. I now have it in relation to my Christian religious egregor. And only after they began to explain to me the concepts and truths that I now know, I truly believe in our God, our Creator God, in our God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit, about whom you are now telling us just told you.

Irina: How do those in the group feel about our videos now? If you look in the comments that we generally defend Christianity. Maxim will say this.

Maxim: At this point in time in our group we absolutely defend the point of view that one should not leave churches. You need to go to church, because churches are a place where you, without knowing who God is, can completely open yourself to Him. A place where you can come with everyone else.

Try to at least catch the metanoia. That is, not just repent of your sins, but realize your sins. Take internal measures to avoid committing these sins in the future.

And much, much more that we are now bringing to the world, what we are now bringing to people. In no case do we want to tell anyone: “Don’t believe religion, don’t believe Christianity, don’t believe Judaism.” I am multi-religious. But I belong to the Christian egregor. And I believed in him only after I made our interstellar friends.

We do not force or convince you to go to church. We are just saying that wherever you go to God (to the Light), your path will be true for you in your desire to come to it. Whatever you call God, He is in each of you. And only you can choose the path to Him.

01:38:55 Mission of the Cassiopeia project.

Irina: And the reaction of people to our videos, on the Worlds of Count, on Saint Germain and so on, people who are esotericists, they very often treat the Christian egregor, to put it mildly, very warily. They tell us that we generally come from the church, that we are almost paid by it.

Maxim: We raise people who are in esotericism in false judgments about the absence of the One God, to this God through our understanding, through our attitude towards this. On the contrary, we bring people back to churches. Let's return to religion.

Irina: Esoterics.

Maxim: We return to the True God, to the One Creator, whom you serve. He is served by a Hare Krishna. He is served by a Buddhist. He is served by a Hindu, whom you called possessed.

Irina: Muslims.

Maxim: Everyone in his faith carries the true word of God in love, in happiness and in the joy that he receives when he finds himself in this Light of God.

Irina: And these people who are involved in magic, esotericism, they get to the point where they disclaim themselves. They say that the Christian egregor interferes with their spiritual growth and so on. They become baptized, that is, they remove their baptism. They are trying to perform some rituals, including for money. We explain that all this is useless. That the Christian egregor is not destructive. And when we say this to esotericists, we are faced with the fact that we are already taken for defenders.

Maxim: For the messengers of the Christian religious egregor. Father Michael, I will tell you only one thing, that you carry the Light of God and Love, that we carry the Light of God and Love.

Irina: That's one thing.

Maxim: And I believe that there is some kind of conditional misunderstanding of the dogmas that were prescribed in our or your religious teachings.

Irina: In ancient times.

Maxim: In the ancient teachings, one should not interfere with carrying this true Light of God.

Irina: Be a wall between us, yes.

Maxim: And wherever we are, whatever religion we are in, I ask you to accept any religion, any belief in the true Light of God and be restrained in your statements in relation to other religions.

Irina: And remember that just as your dogma, your holy Scriptures, are holy for you, so for a Hare Krishna, for a Muslim, for any believer, his Scriptures are just as holy. He experiences the same feelings as you.

Maxim: We don’t have a task to turn people away from religion. We have the task of bringing people back to religion, bringing them out of the unconscious state of magic, when they are looking for a magic pill, without correcting themselves, and without understanding their sins.

Irina: And they look for it in magic, yes exactly.

Maxim: And they are looking for a way out in magic.

Father Michael: May the Lord help us. May God guide you so that everything goes well with you. God help me.

It is up to everyone to believe in God or not. Faith is the state of your Soul. We are for everyone to believe in themselves as in God and begin to live in harmony with their Spirit, Soul and body. War is religious fanaticism that has grown into hatred of someone else's faith.

A huge THANK YOU to all of you for the help you provide to our project and to Irina personally. We are waiting for you from September in VORONEZH at the "Center for Spiritual Development". Irina will be the first to receive those who helped in its construction.

Vladimir : Good afternoon, Irina, good afternoon, Maxim!

Maxim : Good.

Irina : Good evening.

00:12 Presentation of conference participants.

Vladimir : My name is Vladimir Venetsky, today I wanted to ask a few questions to Archangel Gabriel, and I understood that he is already here and waiting for us.

Irina : Hello! Good evening! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today we have with us a representative of the planet Burkhad - Mirakh Count, one of the guardians of the Christian egregor, who is known in this egregor as Archangel Gabriel.

01:14 Criteria of Existence and Non-Existence.

Vladimir : Due to the fact that I live in Israel, it was very interesting for me to learn the Hebrew of the Old Testament and read the Old Testament in the original language. And I will have a lot of questions related to this. I want to start my questions with metaphysics - with general questions that probably interest everyone.

So, the question is: What is “to be”, what is the criterion of Being and why, in general, does something exist? Why shouldn't there be nothing at all?

In our awareness, the main criterion is the cause-and-effect relationship - between cause and effect. Criterion of Being... What is “to be”?

Irina: “To be” means to exist in reality. Why doesn't Nothingness exist? Because everything that exists is one form or another of the manifestation of God, and since God by his nature, in addition to the fact that He is Light, Love, Truth and so on, He is life, and life is absolute Being. And therefore, besides Him, nothing else really exists, then Non-Existence does not exist either.

02:46 Independence of time from perception.

Vladimir : Is it possible to say that time is identical in free will?

Irina : What do you call time in this context?

Vladimir : In this context, I call time the opportunity to choose, that is, for a person, time is the moment at which he chooses.

Irina : In any case, this will be true only from the position of perception of this or that consciousness, but time can flow in the material world without the participation of perceptions of consciousness, it is independent of perceptions.

03:33 About the absence of usual time in the Spiritual world.

Vladimir : I heard that in the world of Angels there is no time. How does consciousness become aware of itself outside of time? How does the world we live in see from the outside?

Irina : Are you asking about that place or state of the universe where the very difference between place and state is erased? In your Russian language it is called the Spiritual World. There really is no time, which is familiar to the material world. By time I mean here the flow of changes in material substances from one state to another.

Vladimir : Does the past exist?

Irina : Time is the ability to change. It is precisely this ability that does not exist in the Spiritual world: there everything remains unchanged and eternal forever. The material world is seen from the spiritual world as a certain community of what you call “past, present and future.” All these times, which are lived by spiritual entities embodied in the material world, and which all material objects undergo, are simultaneous present for God.

05:25 Contacts of Earthlings with representatives of Tumesout, Adam's longevity and the birth of the Nephilim.

Vladimir : Next, I will say from memory... The first passage was such that “And God said: I will no longer continue to give the Spirit to my Adam, because he is a basar...” (written in Hebrew - “flesh”), “... because he is flesh, and his time will be one hundred and twenty years.”

So, there is one researcher of the Old Testament, his name is Maor Rubilinu. And he claims that the word “shagram” is there. Is it a special word, denoting some special process of transmission from the entity called Elohim to earthly people of a certain ability to live longevity, which ceased? That is, “shagram” as a human liquid, which was transmitted from Elohim to people, to Adam, that is, to humanity, and thus his life was extended... or are we talking about how it was translated into Russian?

Irina : Do you mean the text from Chapter 6 of the book of Genesis?

Vladimir : Yes.

Irina: There was talk about Yahweh when he lived in the body of a Tumesout. He told Moses the story of how, even before the war that occurred 12 thousand years ago, there was a time when one of the peoples living on Earth at that time came into contact with representatives of Tumesout. Some representatives of the Interstellar Union were against such direct contact, from which the Nephilim were born, that is, people were taller and more adapted to life on Earth in the sense that they were stronger than other tribes, since they had great physical strength and a developed brain. And some representatives of the Interstellar Union feared that the genetics of these Tumesoutians, which were additionally added to people, would become dominant in this people and in their genes. And from them peoples will be born, who will then conquer other peoples who have not received this genetic information. There was such a fear that these peoples would find themselves in unequal conditions.

Vladimir : We were talking specifically about physical contact between the Tumesout people and earthly women?

Irina : It's described "They took as wives" - it's described in Russian. If you look at the term in Hebrew, then there is a term that is used specifically for marriage: "... and their days will be 120 years," - this is how Moses was told that in the Interstellar Union they do not recommend extending this experiment longer than 120 years.

09:46 Old Testament violence and violation of Divine commandments.

Vladimir : Thank you. The next question is related to the fact that the Tanakh (Old Testament) contains a lot of violence that is committed in the name of Yahweh, in the name of God. In one of his messages to the German contactee Erbert Victor Speer, Ashtar Sheran said that much of what is written in the Old Testament (in the Tanakh) is incorrect, that is, added later. In particular, he gives an example from the book of Exodus, ch. 32nd, Art. 26-28: “And Moses stood at the gate of the camp and said: He who is the Lord’s, come to me! And all the sons of Levi gathered to him. And he said to them, Thus says the Lord God of Israel: Put every man his sword on his thigh, go through the camp from gate to gate, and kill every man his brother, every man his friend, every man his neighbor. And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses, and then about three thousand men fell from the people.”

So did this happen or not?

Irina : Vladimir, please read for our listeners the reason for this war within the Israeli camp. We know her, but the audience may not.

Vladimir : I’ll start then with Art. 23: “They said to me: “Make us a God who will go before us, for we do not know what happened to Moses, this man who brought us out of the land of Egypt.” And I told them: “Whoever has gold, take it off.” And they gave it to me; I threw it into the fire and this calf came out. Moses saw that these people were unbridled, for Aaron had allowed them to become unbridled, to shame before their enemies.”

And then what I have already read...

Irina : Yes, I understand... Let's put it this way: Moses and Aaron were the leaders of the Israeli people who led them from Egypt to a new land. That's how it was? Since they were leading to another land, could they allow a rebellion against themselves among the people?

Vladimir : The question is theoretical and I don’t have an answer to it...

Irina : But the rebellion was such that they no longer recognized Aaron and Moses. Why weren't they recognized? Because what they did was make the golden calf, and this was done after they received the corresponding commandment.

Vladimir : Yes, but did they receive the commandment “Thou shalt not kill”?

Irina : Yes, but before the commandment “Thou shalt not kill,” there was another commandment about not making images. But they did it contrary to the commandment, which means that the sin of deviating from this commandment arose. But they agreed earlier: all the people swore to abide by it. They retreated from what they themselves admitted - these were adults. They could not recognize and follow Moses, but return to slavery in Egypt. They themselves voluntarily went to them. They violated one commandment, which they themselves swore - this means they admitted that they would always fulfill it of their own free will, and, having deviated from it, they expected that in relation to them they would fulfill the commandment “Thou shalt not kill” - one of those the same ten commandments. But one could expect that if they violated one of the commandments of this Law, then measures would also be taken against them that would violate a commandment from the same Law. That is, an adult should have anticipated such a development of events before making a calf and worshiping it, contrary to your own oath. It was a riot.

Vladimir : In fact, this corresponds to church tradition. Church tradition, of course, accepts everything that is written on faith. But Ashtar Sheran said...

Irina : This is not like a church tradition. If what was done by Moses and his defenders had not been done, then those people who went against the commandment, they would not have been able to continue to do what Joshua and his followers did. They would be traitors. You understand what kind of people these are, who in difficult times betrayed the commandment that they themselves swore to follow. Could they be relied upon in a future war for Palestine?

Vladimir : Yes, and what about the war for Palestine?

Irina : These were wartime laws. In any case, there was a very difficult time there, when the loyalty of every person was important.

15:32 The Old Testament as a realistic depiction of the events of that time.

Vladimir : Thank you. Does this mean that the Old Testament is exactly as it should be and does not contain conjectures or additions?

Irina : The Tanakh describes the humanity and the people that existed at the time of contact with the Tumesout people and at the time of the formation of this people; it describes many times the apostasy of the Israelites themselves from God Yahweh. It does not say that Israelis and Jews are the best of nations; It says there that the people retreated many times. And there is written a realistic image of what the peoples were like at that time. Everything is described as it was and the deviations, vices and sins of the leaders and priests of that time are not hidden.

16:32 About the truth of the Masoretic text.

Vladimir : Today in Israel there is such a project called the “Bible Project”. It is intended to restore precisely the original text of the scriptures. We look at the text and see traces of “scar edits”: for example, Yahweh was added to El Elyon, etc. How can we know that the Masoretic text is indeed the one that contains the Truth and is not corrected or inverted?

Irina : Your spiritual leaders of modern Judaism can only know this from the fact that this is a true text or even a retelling of it; they can know this only based on the Truth that is inside them, that is, read with the understanding of God that they have. Remember that many Levites who lived during the time of Moses and later, during the time of David and beyond - they, having gone into the world of disembodied Spirits, can reincarnate again, including on Earth, becoming the spiritual leaders of modern religions, including and Judaism. If one of your spiritual leaders wants to know for sure whether his Spirit lived at that time, he can ask his mentors from the Spiritual World. I mean Consulting Spirits from level 22.

18:41 About the common meaning of the ancient Dead Sea Scrolls and the Judean Desert.

Vladimir : I understood that there is an Old Testament and it is true. Then another question arises. For example, the Qumran scrolls have been found: the Dead Sea Scrolls and the Judean Desert Scrolls, and they are slightly different.

Irina : In fact, after the Babylonian captivity there were many records of priests and scribes. But even if several words or punctuation marks differed from each other, the meaning was the same. The main thing is not to keep the words unchanged - this is almost impossible for centuries, but the main thing is to preserve the meaning that was inherent in these texts. The meaning that was laid down in the text about the war of the right to pacify the rebellion by Moses and what was originally laid down in the 6th book of Genesis, where aliens are not called extraterrestrials: they are called Angels there, for example, Elohim, gods, etc.; that is, practically, cosmic names about space, about contacts were encrypted under mythological religious names... But the meaning remained the same.

20:08 About the name Yahweh and the ban on its frequent pronunciation.

Vladimir : Thank you. How to correctly pronounce the tetragram: Yahweh, Yahoo, Yahoo?

Irina : The closest thing to the sound in Russian, as I hear it, is Yahweh.

Vladimir : What does this tetragram mean?

Irina : Do you mean that he himself invested when he called himself that to Moses?

Vladimir: Yes, that too.

Irina : This was the name of that Tumesoutian who came to Abraham to form his people.

Vladimir : Because in response to Moses' direct question: "What is your name?" - he said: "Ie she Ie" - "I will be who I will be" - that is, "leave me alone, I won't tell you anything..." He did not immediately say his name directly to Moses. Why?

Irina : He told him about it in a further conversation. He told him this personally when he was with him on the ship.

Vladimir : Why was it forbidden to pronounce his name? And there is even such a commandment - In vain.

Maxim : But we didn't answer the previous question about Yahweh...

Irina : They are connected here, these questions. If you look at what it meant in the Tumesout language, Hebrew is a simplified Tumesout language. Yahweh - this meant "Merged into one Light" - this is an approximate translation. What was called there in one word, in Russian it is a whole phrase. This is probably what it will sound like.

Why can't this name be pronounced other than during worship, in church and in sermons? Because the purpose of these commandments was to form a single people and a single religion, monotheism, monotheism, since monotheism presupposed the worship of one God. But in order to instill reverence for this God in the Jews, it was decided that they should not pronounce this name in everyday affairs. They get used to it, that is, it ceases to have a sacred, sacred meaning for them. What is sacred meaning is when the name of a deity is endowed with a special meaning, when pronounced, a person begins to tune in to high vibrations. In everyday life, it does not achieve such an effect, that is, the vibration remains almost unchanged. This is again such a commandment: it helps to strengthen and cleanse the emerging egregor.

24:08 About the wife and relatives of Yahweh.

Vladimir : There is such a place in Israel called Kuntillet-Ajrud. There, in archaeological excavations, 17 blessings were found in the name of Yahweh and his wife Asherah (other sources speak of Yahweh's wife - Anat Yahu). Was he married?

Irina : On Tumesout - yes, he had a wife on Tumesout.

Vladimir: Who are Asherah Ve Anat Yahu?

Irina : These are like his children, relatives, brothers...

25:02 About the reasons for the formation of the cult of the goddess Astarti.

Vladimir: Why was there an idol of Asher in the temple?

Irina : Astarti? I'm talking about the fact that this name could merge in the minds of the people with the goddess Astarti. Well, naturally, in his conversations Yahweh pronounced it a little differently. In a similar way he spoke it under Moses, and he spoke about it to Aaron, the Levites, and so on. This may have spread among the Greek class of Ancient Israel, and then the name may have merged with the goddess Astarte and thus a cult arose. In any case, the purpose of the formation of Judaism was the formation of a monotheistic religion, that is, without goddesses.

26:18 About Elohim and many other Old Testament names.

Vladimir : In the Scriptures in the Tanakh: Elohim is the plural. Everyone already knows about this, and besides Yahweh, the same name Elohim is also mentioned: El, El Elyon, Kush, Kamosh, Milkom... Who were they all? Were they brothers?

Irina : There were many who were mentioned under this word. That is, Elohim is translated as “gods”, as “god” - in Russian... The god of any nation could be called like that: both Baal and Baali... In any case, it was called “aliens”.

Whether they were brothers or whether they were from other civilizations - it didn't matter at all. Or even some kind of plasmoids. In any case, for the Israelites, this is all Elohim in their language.

Vladimir : Were they, including Baal, whom you mentioned, related to Yahweh or not?

Irina : Are you talking about Baal?

Vladimir : Baal, El Elyon, Kush, Kamosh, Milkom... There, about 28 names are mentioned, more or less different...

Irina : They were all brothers. Not even just brothers, they were all from humanoid civilizations; many were deified plasmoids, probably with the same Baal. You know that he was depicted with the head of a bull - these are traces of totemism characteristic of plasmoid prehistoric cults, and he was also called Elohim. What is a plasmoid - it is an embodied Spirit in a subtle body, which people deified, to which they made sacrifices so that it could feed on the life force of these victims, that is, when an animal or a person is killed (as happened with Moloch), the life force is released from them for plasmoids, which it is fed with. And naturally, human sacrifices were prohibited by the same commandment "Thou shalt not kill," but animal sacrifices were abandoned and dedicated to Yahweh for the construction of a new egregor. Plasmoid was related to Yahweh. If we look at it in general: were they acquainted in the Spiritual world? This is quite possible, but this must be asked from Yahweh. Now he is in the body of Jesus Christ on Burkhad. For example, I didn't ask him about Baal, whether he was familiar with his Spirit.

29:23 About the connection between Elohim, Yahweh and the Anunnaki.

Vladimi r: Thank you. Is there a connection between the Elohim, the Anunnaki, and the Greek and Roman pantheons of gods? All these entities are described in different cultures.

Irina : People call different creatures Anunnaki. Who do you mean?

Vladimir : Which were in the civilization of the Sumerians.

Irina : Describe the representative you have in mind?

Vladimir : I know that there are pantheons of different gods: Greek, Roman Annunaki and so on.

Irina : All aliens could be called Anunnaki in general; any of their coalitions, individual civilizations, or even groups of scientists in different mythological systems could be called; even the priests of two neighboring temples could be called Annunaki, that is, completely different creatures, so I asked for clarification. Regarding Yahweh and the Anunnaki: if by the Anunnaki we mean all representatives (as many do), then, naturally, Yahweh was one of them. If we talk about a representative of the reptilian race (some call it the Annunaki), then Yahweh was not from Selbet and not from its colony. He was from Tumesout - this is an anthropomorphic race and he is not a reptilian. If you call the Anunnaki the detachment of scientists who formed your race - yes, he was from these detachments, he participated in the formation of your people in your race and you can call him that.

As for the pantheon of Greek and Roman gods: the pantheon included many different creatures, both deified aliens from outer space and plasmoids. And there were even cases (and there are many of them) when people were deified, that is, great rulers, healers, sages, teachers, and even just those who did some kind of feat: won a war, saved someone from a fire, and so on. Stories about this were passed on orally and in writing, from generation to generation. Gradually these people were endowed with an aura of divinity.

Maxim : Can I ask a clarifying question, because I am really interested in this topic with the Anunnaki. That is, do I understand correctly that anyone could be called Anunnaki, even our same groups and coalitions of scientists who were studying some kind of space civilizations? That is, the Annunaki can be called everyone who has ever flown from outer space or was interested in space or esotericism. So Annunaki is a very broad term, right?

Irina : This is a broad term, and an approximate translation is heavenly inhabitants.

32:57 About the work of people on the Anunnaki and the extraction of minerals by aliens on Earth.

Maxim : Then the question about the reptilians: has there ever been a time on Earth when reptilians tried to control people to extract minerals, or not to manage, but to hire people to work for them so that they would extract minerals, and did the reptilians need minerals? ?

Irina : Do you mean the period before the war?

Maxim : Yes, the period before the war. That is, could people work for the Annunaki?

Irina : They could have done it during the construction of bases. They could not only work, they could cooperate and help the same Anunnaki, that is, those who built these bases. I don't think they were involved specifically in mining. It's not effective to use people for mining; that's what robots were for. How much can one robot do this, for example, in one hour of work - only 500 people can do this in one hour of work. It's ineffective, first of all. Those civilizations that were able to travel many hundreds of light years in a few minutes would not do this. Wouldn't they have come up with a non-manual way of extracting minerals?

Maxim : Were there large scale mining operations by aliens here on Earth?

Irina : For the construction of bases and, for example, for a starship, carbon was mined in the form of graphite. And for the construction of bases, metals are needed, that is, in order to make the shell of the base. Everything that could not be brought here from other planets was mined here. Because this is the rule in the Interstellar Union: if there is the necessary material on that planet, then it is easier to get it than to waste energy on transporting it.

35:15 About Nostradamus and his vision.

Vladimir : Where did Nostradamus get his revelations from?

Irina : These were his memories of the time where he lived before. In some rare cases, the Spirit can incarnate, moving back along the timeline - not forward, but back. That is, his reincarnation will be in the past for him, and the Spirit of Nostradamus in a past life lived in that time, which was the future for that Nostradamus. And since he lived, he had some fragmentary memories: about what happened to him, that he studied the history of centuries there. But I want to add that he himself did not fully understand where these visions came from, and he invented a lot of things himself. Not yet remembering these events, he compared them himself: he analyzed them, put them together from scraps, then somehow synthesized them into a whole, as best he could.

36:37 About disunity in the modern Christian church.

Vladimir : Is today's church what Christ intended? What needs to be fundamentally changed: which dogmas are outright false, which dogmas are lacking, and is it necessary to go to church?

Irina : So many questions. Let's divide them like this: Is this what Christ intended? Is it necessary to change something, in his opinion, and is it necessary to go to a modern church?

I talked to him about this. If you look at the general spiritual state of all Christian denominations that make up a single church (I now mean everyone who recognizes Christ as God or their highest being according to their religious ideas), I call them all Christians, representatives of a single church, then this is not entirely those denominations that Christ wanted when he created his church here. Firstly, because of disunity, that is, the words of the Apostle Paul that "all must be one, the church as "One Father and Son in the Holy Spirit..." - modern church leaders do not pay attention to these words. Because of his pride, everyone clings to dogmas, to letters, which seems ridiculous... As Omar Khayyam said: "He clings to the letters in every line, neglecting that Spirit of love, which constitutes true life in Christ..." But in reality this is not leads to Christ, this does not lead to salvation in the sense that is understood in the transformation of human nature - into spiritual, raising one's vibrations. Because seeing only letters in each line makes a person an atheist in the Soul, as Omar Khayyam correctly noted. And here our humor is simple: we laugh precisely at such a simple presentation, at the fact that the great spiritual Truth can be expressed so simply, that the formalism and dogmatism of any religion completely kills its inner content. But Christ said about such people back on Earth that "you and your Pharisee Spirit beware of the leaven of the Pharisees..." He did not mean the teachings of the Pharisees, but precisely this Spirit. Leaven is the Spirit in this case, that is, a state of consciousness. And with this Pharisaic Spirit you go around the whole world twice only to make the infidel twice worse than you. That is, what do these words of Christ say? They are in the Gospel, but, unfortunately, few people are paying attention to them now. And few Christian leaders think they can be converted to him. What does it mean to "make an infidel twice as bad as you"? This is precisely what Christ said, that "before converting to faith, this person was closer to God than those who converted him." This can happen, and it happens quite often, and this is what grieves the Spirit of Christ. In any case, this is not what he planned on Earth. This is the first.

41:07 The attitude of the church to esotericism.

Irina : Second, this discrepancy with the expectations of Christ is that in modern Christian practical spiritual life there is very little of that same Spirit of Love. And there is a great spirit of conviction, of sin, which speaks in too harsh, rude language, "without love" - this only repels the sinner and sets him up to the fact that he is not accepted there, that he is not needed there. And in the modern Christian paradigm, instead of calming him down and attracting him to study the faith with love, they say: "Well, okay, go - perish, here we don't need people like you - dirty and impure - with the sins with which you there is...", that is, and this, unfortunately, often occurs. I won't say that it happens everywhere, but it happens quite often. And this pushes away those people who could be transformed with the help of Christianity.

And again, Christ is surprised by the attitude of modern Christian leaders to esotericism, to what is called esoteric spiritual knowledge, esoteric practices, healing practices, and so on. Christ wonders why Christian leaders deny all these abilities to comprehend the Spiritual world and denounce these people. Moreover, while living on Earth, he did not say a word against these people; on the contrary, he said that a person cannot do anything unless it is given to him from heaven - this is meant by God. This is the first.

Second. Then the Pharisees told him that “you cast out the demon with the power of the devil...” He said that “Satan cannot cast out Satan” - meaning that evil cannot cast out evil. Christian leaders have forgotten about this and now think that the dark forces can cause illness or something else. They forgot both this commandment of Christ and the rest. This is what the church lacks in this case: unity, love and a revision of these esotericist concepts that run counter to the words of Christ.

44:30 Motivation for going to church.

Irina : Is it necessary to go to a modern church? This is a very individual question, and I will answer it this way: if you sincerely believe in Christ, that he is God; that he is the Savior; love him and want to be in His church, perform its rituals, then, naturally, you can and should go there. By doing this you raise your vibrations, because there you experience bright feelings of worship of Christ; by performing sacraments, performing rituals, you raise your vibrations. But if you already go there, you look not at the church ministers, not at their sins, not at the sins of other believers, but compare yourself only with Christ, because even if you see a priest behaving unworthily or a believer behaving unworthily, you don't become his judge. As the Apostle Paul said: “Who are you, judging another man’s servant? Before his Lord he stands or falls...” Remember that you do not have the same right to judge as Christ did. Because they, Christians, serve him, not you. In this case, make sure that you are in front of him - “in a state of purity”, and any condemnation will take you out of it. If you see injustice, lack of love, lack of mercy in the church that you want to go to anyway, then your correct reaction to this is to first pray for this person to God, who does this contrary to the knowledge of a Christian, and then, if you want to open the person’s eyes to his behavior, you can approach him and only talk to him alone, with love, carefully about it, without in any way humiliating him as a person.

46:56 About the second coming of Christ and the entry of the Earth into the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir : What do the words of Christ mean: “One is taken away - the other remains”? That is, when will He come the second time?

Irina : Here we are talking about the Second Coming of Christ - this is a mass contact in which Christ, together with the Burkhadians, will fly to Earth to lead it to the Interstellar Union. He wants to personally take part in this. And he believes that the true fulfillment of the covenants of Christianity contributes to the entry of humanity into the Interstellar Union. “One is taken - the other is left” - meaning that not everyone will be ready to enter the Interstellar Union to the same extent. It’s not that Christ will take one to himself and leave the other - what is meant is that some people will still deny the necessity of this. There will be a dispute, a struggle, that is, a difference of opinion: one will go to greet him with joy, and the other will stay and say that “maybe it’s not like that,” “that’s not it,” or “we don’t need this” - this will be such a struggle.

48:27 About relocation to other planets.

Vladimir : That is, there will be no resettlement of good or bad people to other planets?

Irina : It will only happen when the Earth enters the Interstellar Union. Before this, the Earth will sign an agreement under which it will be obliged, like all planets, to comply with the rules and laws of the Interstellar Union. And the separation of the bad from the good will be in the sense that if someone on Earth then commits a serious crime that will need to be punished by isolation, then he will no longer be isolated on Earth, but will be sent to a special planet of criminals, just as they do with criminals on the planets of the Interstellar Union.

49:26 Concepts about life in the Spiritual world.

Vladimir : Christ said: “The children of the future century will not marry and will not be given in marriage, and there will be no more death, and they will be with me in eternity.” What does it mean: “they will not get married, get married”? We remain in the body.

Irina : Yes, we remain in the body, but where it is written “they do not get married, they do not get married," life in the Spiritual world was meant. It is also written there: "They are like angels in heaven," that is, "in heaven" is not the physical heaven, but that Spiritual world. As you know, the first use of this word in the sense of "Spiritual world" is in the 1st verse of the 1st chapter of the book of Genesis: "And the Lord created the heavens and the earth," that is, first the Spiritual world and the material world. So it is here "in heaven" - in the Spiritual world during the period when the Spirits who reach the highest level of the Spiritual world, like Angels - that means, high-vibration Spirits, that is, the Spirits of disciples. If they follow the commandments of Christ, they will end up in the same place as the rest of the Angels. And they don't get married there, they don't get married in the sense that they are Spirits there, and when they live in the Spiritual world - naturally, they don't get married or get married, because there is simply no need to do this without a material body, like Angels on reside in heaven. And as for "there will be no death and will remain in eternity" - here again two different concepts are meant - again for those who have already reached the highest levels, like "becoming like Christ in holiness in the Holy Spirit." For you it will be like level 24. You cannot imagine anything higher than him, because for you it will already be Super God. That is, there will be no death at all: not in the physical sense, but a different death is meant here.

52:00 About spiritual death.

Irina : Do you know the concept of spiritual death?

Vladimir : Yes.

Irina : You know that spiritual death is separation from the source of life. That for such people, while they are in a state of eternity, outside of time, that is, in the Spiritual (not in the material world) - naturally, for them there will be no death, no opportunity to go into low vibrations until they are incarnated again. Naturally, then this opportunity appears for them, because the material body is changeable, and this is why the material world was created, so that Spirits can change in one direction or another.

52:50 Black holes are like a bunch of gravitational energy.

Vladimir: Another question then, which is already more interesting than others in the era of Zariman, is black holes. Information disappears precisely in a black hole. A black hole, when something falls into it - is there a singularity in it? What happens beyond the event horizon? Does a black hole emit thermal radiation? What happens to information in the physical sense of the word that falls into a black hole?

Irina: A black hole, from the point of view of the science of the Interstellar Union in space, is a collection of gravitational energy. It is collected due to the fact that from the matter that previously made up this black hole, all other energy levels at which it was located in these atoms were displaced, that is, as I remind you that according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union about nature, there are three energy level. The first level is what you call heat, light, electricity, magnetism, radio waves. The second is what you call radioactivity and thermonuclear energy. And the third level is what you call microgravity, that is, the force that attracts all atoms together and keeps them in a dense state; and macrogravity - what allows planets and stars to revolve around each other and allows objects to be held on the surface of planets. These three levels of energy exist in the atoms of all elements, including those that make up stars. And the energies of the first two levels that I named can be knocked out, displaced from the atoms of stars. But the third level remains and, one might say in your earthly language, shrinks into a point. And what was previously a star becomes invisible to your eyes: it does not emit that stream that you call photons and so on; what we call the first level of energy is already repressed. To put it in the language of your physics, this is a collection of pure gravitational energy.

What happens to matter when it gets there? With matter in any form, both in the form of elements and in the form of energy. If in the form of atoms comes what we call dense matter, and we call even the most rarefied gas dense matter, that is, what consists of atoms. If this type of matter falls into the sphere of attraction of this gravitational clot, which you call a black hole, then the energies of these two levels, which I named, will also be released from the atoms. Some energies will be released and will be noticeable to an outside observer which may be noticed. Some will not be noticeable, but they will still be released and gravitational energy will remain in these atoms. It will become part of this black hole, that is, it will increase its gravitational energy. And if it’s not subtle matter and what you call energies, different fields; if just energy gets in, it will not only be transformed, but it will be transformed into what you call gravitational energy. But if a creature that you call a plasmoid, that is, embodied in a thin-material body, gets there, into the center of a black hole, then its body will not be destroyed during the passage of the black hole, unlike a dense-material body, and, having reached the center, it can, due to the accumulated gravitational energy to jump, as our gravitational engines do, to the center of another black hole, which is located in another galaxy or in the same galaxy - “instantaneous teleportation” is called. This is an effect of gravitational energy. But this can only be done by a plasmoid, which is in a subtle-material body or, naturally, a being in an astral body, that is, a spiritual one, which is not affected by gravitational energy, because two types of energy will simply be knocked out of the atoms of dense matter, and neither the body can withstand this , nor the ship.

59:27 About atoms and ultra-high energy rays.

Vladimir : Thank you. Physicists are tormented by the question: the origin of ultra-high-energy cosmic rays or particles with ultra-high energy. No one can understand where they came from: they cannot be confirmed in a laboratory, that is, repeated such experiments, nor can they be described as cosmic events as we understand them. Where do these ultra-high energy atoms and rays come from?

Irina : I want to ask: what kind of energy do you call ultra-high? This is if we use the spectrum of vibrations known to us.

Vladimir : We are talking about joules. I won’t tell you the number now, but the number of joules that a particle has, that is, in order to endow a particle with such energy, you need to hit it with exactly the same particle, with the same energy. It turns out to be a vicious circle. It's not clear where it started?

Irina : It could be anything, really, and I need to look at these studies; and it is not measured in joules, but in vibration frequencies, that is, what you call wave oscillations. What you call a joule is the amount of energy that can heat something. It depends on many energies because you are used to measuring energy using heat. Not only can this be the case here: we measure it in different ways, mainly by measuring the frequency of vibrations, that is, vibrations of the medium when a particular wave appears. What do you call ultra-high energies - give a comparison, for example, with the known energies that you call not ultra-high, so that I have an idea of the degree of its difference from other particles known to you?

1:02:12 About ultra-high energy particles - neutrinos and protons.

Vladimir : There we are talking about several orders of magnitude: particles that have many, many orders of magnitude more energy than ordinary ones, than those emitted from stars, from supernovae... You can mean the same neutrinos, for example.

Irina : What you called neutrinos - we call the same gravitons, but which relate to macrogravity and which are released from matter. But you call neutrinos those that are released at a certain speed. If they stand out at a different speed, you will call them differently. You do not have a single name for portions of energy - quanta, as we have a graviton, a few more particles. That is, each energy - we have a name for both it and its smallest portion. And you, receiving the same energies, but in different proportions, you simply call them differently.

Vladimir : For example, the energy of a proton is thousands of megaelectronvolts. Physicists cannot understand this - it’s all a mystery. Where did it come from?

Irina : Where do they come from? During the same stellar processes: the formation of new stars, the transformation of stars into black holes, explosions, the transformation of stars into supernovae, transformation into pulsars and many other galactic processes, the same gravitons can be formed.

1:04:20 About scientific conferences with Maxim Kotofeev.

Maxim: We have a conference with Maxim Kotofeev, and they looked at exactly those questions that our science cannot answer. It explains very well and in detail exactly this kind of questions about energy: the transition of some energies into other energy, the problem that our science is not able to distinguish, accept and separate many types of energy, where we can do the same thing in different ways name and calculate differently. Please look at it, it sets out in great detail precisely the questions that our science cannot answer. Here, Maxim Kotofeev is specifically involved in this topic; there have already been 4 conferences.

1:05:22 The connection between dark matter and dark energy.

Vladimir: There is a theory about dark matter and dark energy - these are different things. Dark matter is a certain structure that does not interact electromagnetically with the ordinary matter that we perceive, and the Universe was formed from this matter: it flowed into the structure formed by this matter. What is nature like? What is dark matter?

Irina : What you call dark matter and what you call dark energy - they have a similar nature when formed. But according to our terminology, these are not the parts of the universe that you perceive, the parts of the spectrum that you do not perceive, which we call plasmoid worlds, or rather, not all of them, but some of them. You perceive their presence, but cannot distinguish them either with your sensory organs or with instruments. You don't have the equipment for this yet.

Vladimir : Is there a connection between dark matter and dark energy? That is, there is a theory among scientists that, thanks to dark energy, the Universe is expanding. This dark energy is distributed evenly, unlike dark matter, throughout the Universe, and thanks to this energy, the Universe is expanding, otherwise it would collapse due to gravity.

Irina : In general, the material world consists of 59 levels of density. Here we, embodied in the dense material world, are at the third level of matter density: these are solid, liquid, gaseous - 3 states of matter. Everything that is higher in vibration, that is, above the gas, is another 56 levels that make up the bodies and worlds of plasmoids. There are tens of times more of them than humanoid civilizations; and exists on planets, among stars, in the chromosphere of stars, and in general in interplanetary space, interstellar space. Dark matter is lower vibrational plasmoids.

Dark energy is already higher vibrational, but you still do not perceive all of it, some you cannot call either matter or energy at all, they are not perceived at all by your ordinary senses until you, naturally, leave the body. Then your astral body, your Spirit, will have access to all levels, up to the 56th, because the astral has already arrived there, and it is even higher in vibration.

Vladimir : Thank you. Then I won't ask any more questions...

1:08:25 About the unification of physics and esotericism.

Irina : Finally, I would like to say that the study of the physics of the Universe and the study of biophysics, that is, human physics, the physics of life on our planet, as in the Interstellar Union, is impossible without studying the Spiritual world, because it is the Spiritual world, it is the Spirit generates matter in all its forms and types of interaction with each other through the world of energy. And therefore, both dark matter and dark energy, which are inaccessible to your knowledge, will become most accessible if your scientists and your esotericists unite in a single impulse to study the Universe and develop programs for visiting these worlds in the astral body, with the help of astral travel.

Vladimir : I will take advantage of the situation, because I may not have a second time like this - to talk with Archangel Gabriel. Archangel Gabriel, what do you advise personally to me, Volodya Venetsky?

Maxim : Volodya, don’t you want Irina to visit you in the astral plane?

Vladimir : With pleasure. I'm just a mess...

Maxim : In your head? (laughs)

Vladimir : And in my head too.

Maxim : Irina can visit you together with Archangel Gabriel. She will look at your mentors. If you want, you can even watch, in principle, your previous incarnations, that is, some moments. Focus on something you would like to know about yourself?

Vladimir : Something spiritually useful.

Maxim : Where did you come from - do you want us to find out? This is your previous incarnation?

Vladimir : Yes, I want to.

Irina : From what level?

Maxim : From what level – let's count some more?

Irina : Tell me your date of birth, now we'll quickly calculate it.

Vladimir : February 14, 1976.

Further information about Vladimir is of a purely personal nature, and we cannot show it without his consent. Respecting the rule of confidentiality of those who seek help in our project.

And according to the old tradition, we will now show an interesting moment in the middle of the recording of this Skype conference:

Irina : Give me a drink, please.

Vladimir : You have a hard job.

Maxim : Yes, especially when they invite from such a level, that is, Burkhadians - quite such high-vibration energy...

Vladimir : Irina is very tired, you can see from these conferences.

Maxim : Yes, if you knew how much she works a day?! She shouldn't have had such a conference, that is, she should have been resting already at 10:00 p.m., because tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. she would have to get up and go to the gym...

Vladimir learned a lot for himself personally at this conference. The CASSIOPEIA project was created for every person on this planet. And we are ready for cooperation and feedback, both with ordinary people and scientists in any field. We are confident in our contacts and in those who contact us. I am sure that for many of you this will be very interesting and useful, especially for the development of our civilization as a whole.

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan – head of the International Center for Spiritual Development "Cassiopeia"; Mirakh Count - representative of the planet Burkhad, guardian of the Christian egregor (Archangel Gabriel);

Vladimir Venetsky is a guest from Israel.

#82 Conversation about humanity. Archangel Raphael

(disembodied high vibrational spirit)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/beseda-o-chelovechestve-arhangel-rafail https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dz3P98N5-BA

00:17

Natalya: We are all about aliens, about other galaxies. What place does humanity occupy in all this? What is human genius?

Irina: What makes it unique? Not only does every race have uniqueness, every spirit has it. Your uniqueness lies in your experience of development as a civilization. And the uniqueness of you personally, Natalia, also lies in your development experience. You are as unique a person as Larisa, as Irina, as Maxim. Your worth before God is no more and no less than theirs. You are a child loved by God, just like all of us, just like me personally. He sends his light to you, do you feel it?

Natalya: I have goosebumps.

Irina: Thank you and I accept.

Natalya: Thank you and I accept.

Irina: Sends energy. I see him. I came there.

01:40

Natalya: Still, I want to talk about humanity. I would like some words to encourage people, or what?

Irina: Yes, that's the right desire. What does it mean to encourage? This is to give encouragement. What is vigor? Cheerfulness is a distorted pronunciation of the word, originally pronounced as "kindness", a good state of mind, but due to the distortion it began to be pronounced as cheerfulness.

Encourage, approve - these are very similar concepts. Because, in fact, you become cheerful when you are approved. Only love, only a kind attitude, only grace can pour strength into you for new achievements.

Therefore, I give you my light, as a daughter of God, as my sister in our common light, which is in you and in me and which, as I know, you felt today. Stay in it always, and you will know the answer within yourself, how you can approach every person you meet along the way with words of approval. Just remember that he is a child of light, just like you, that he did not meet you by chance. Remember this state, always remember it when it is difficult for you on the path of this earthly world. Remember that all difficulties are temporary, but love is eternal.

Natalya: Thank you. I want to help humanity.

Irina: Yes, this is why you serve him by bringing him light through the channel that you have in society. You carry the light of love that you understand, even despite the fact that many do not understand you, even in your surroundings. What gives you strength? You know that the light that you realize gives you strength, that that angel who is always nearby is your guardian angel. This is how you help humanity.

Natalya: Isn't the Earth special in space?

Irina: Like any other planet, especially for its inhabitants. You love your world, and this is not just normal, it is a very good sign of development, a very big sign of the development of your soul. Likewise, any inhabitant of any planet, and even any subtle world, he loves his world just as much as you love yours.

Natalya: How can we fix our world? How to help the Earth cleanse itself?

Irina: Cleansing yourself, and if you are a bright light here, you will be attracted to yourself like the sun. Just as the sun attracts planets to itself and warms them with its warmth, so you will attract... This was said, by the way, by the one you call Seraphim of Sarov, and he said this from his own experience. Why did he say that? Because this is salvation from low vibrations, from what you called sin. It cannot be done by force, i.e. against the will of the one we are saving. We can only show by example.

Mead says, and PiosNior says, they are both from Esler, in our society there is even such a rule, when they teach at school, or parents pass on their experience to the child, that if the teachers tell the child something, a theory, then the child can read it, tell and forget. If teachers show the child how to do it in practice, then the child can either repeat it later, or not repeat it, or forget, or do something wrong somehow. If the teacher does this together with the child, any task that you do on Earth, for example, prepare food. If you bake pies with your daughter, she will remember more than if she just reads and does not know from experience. Touching her hands to this test and sealing it, she will simply read it and will not be able to reproduce it accurately until she has experienced it. But there is one subtlety here - gaining experience cannot be without mistakes at the first stage. It won't work out well overnight, just as it didn't work out for you either.

Natalya: I have a question about creativity and the creation of something - music, literature, paintings - does this come to us from somewhere? They say he was on the channel, everything came to him divinely.

Irina: It happens.

Natalya: Where is the human genius, i.e. what he himself invented and created, and where is what comes to him from there?

Irina: Great works of your writers, poets, artists, etc. is the result of joint creativity. Some idea of a person came from a curator, here it doesn't even matter who it belongs to. Authorship is not at all important here. The important thing is that it brings light.

Natalya: Is a person's genius important in this?

Irina: Yes, of course. Even if this idea came to him from the outside, the processing by consciousness is still his and the embodiment by this person is still his. Therefore, even if the same plasmoid, for example, sent the same image to ten different artists, each will draw differently. This will be his personal creativity.

Natalya: There comes a moment when this idea must come, and it comes to different people at the same time and in different parts of the planet.

Irina: This happens. This happens either from an egregor on this topic, or from spirit mentors, there are different situations.

Natalya: The time has come for this idea to be embodied on this planet.

Irina: It happens that the time has come and an idea comes, but it is still not implemented. Either it is not reproduced on paper, or it is not picked up by those who should implement it.

Natalya: Is there some kind of structure there that decides: "So, that's it, is it time to make this movie on Earth or is it time to listen to this music?"

Irina: This is more likely at the level of your earthly egregors, i.e. education, which is responsible for art, cinema on your planet.

Natalya: Is there a movie on your planet?

Irina: On Esler? Yes, sure. There is no such cinema in the form you see on television, etc., i.e. such films. In general, there are no ideas that actors should play. We have books. As for what the actors are supposed to say, there are no such performances, because we don't consider it important to show it.

Natalya: Are they documentaries?

Irina: Yes, we have these, i.e. some stories. And such that he plays someone's role?.. We can imagine images like this when we read a book, for example. We don't have to look at the person playing it.

Natalya: That is. and you don't have a theater?

Irina: In the form you have, no.

Natalya: Do you read books quickly? What do they look like to you?

Irina: We also have what you call electronic. They read through electronic plates, like with records, only they are not plates, but like sticks. A person speaks with a voice, and then it is recorded as text. Then they have one, not made of paper, but somewhat reminiscent of our plastic in composition, shaped like a crescent, and it says - these are books. They are small.

Natalya: Do people acquire any special properties in the new millennium? Will some abilities be revealed more? Maybe there will be more contactees, or people will start to be telepaths? Will something happen to the person? Is he changing?

Irina: What will happen to a person in 10,000 years? He walked... to work at the zoo...

Natalya: Preferably, I would like to find out now.

Irina: Of course, you are entering a new era, which causes an increase in vibrations, i.e. more highly spiritual beings come to your planet from higher spiritual levels.

Natalya: Don't we, the old people who already live on this planet, have any prospects in the next few years to learn how to do something new? Suddenly bam, and I understand that I couldn't do this before, but now I'm reading my neighbor's thoughts on the subway, for example.

Irina: Such an unexpected development of superpowers can actually bring more negativity. Because if a person is not ready, and this suddenly occurs to him, he may simply get scared and thereby lower his vibrations. Why are these abilities closed in most people? Because they are not able to treat this with understanding. It is only for those who are ready to accept the spiritual world that they open up, and to the extent that he is ready, and the people around him are ready. Thoughtlessly developing your visionary abilities can be harmful. It can lead to contacts with various beings of the spiritual plane, those whose consciousness is not ready. This can lead to fears, to the development of arrogance, etc., even to wars, the same religious ones, but on a smaller scale. In your opinion, this is called a sect, for example. Those. some contactee with some entity begins to humiliate all others and create a cult. This may lead to degradation.

Natalya: How to raise your vibrations?

Irina: As Archangel Raphael said: "Remember the state that you have now. The highest frequency that exists at the moment. You remember that it is not the highest frequency that is generally possible for you. If you stay in it constantly, i.e. e. remember about it, and already with the memory connect with your Higher Self, call, connect every day, for example, in the morning and ask to be filled with light. In the evening, be sure to analyze who you met, whether you had negative moments, send light there. Do not fall asleep with negativity directed against someone, including yourself. If you fall asleep, go to the astral plane, there it will all be processed in such a way that it will become stronger in your subconscious memory. Positive personality traits, like negative ones, tend to strengthen after sleep. The body falls asleep, the brain begins to recover. When consciousness goes to the astral plane, energy is no longer directed through the brain to this world, and it begins to recover more intensively, restore its energy in the mitochondria and accumulate substances that will be needed in the morning. The spirit at this time does not need sleep like the physical body. He goes to the astral plane and there gains experience in processing the information that has accumulated in him during the day."

Natalya: Does this go into the treasury of soul experience?

Irina: Experience of the Spirit. We call it Spirit. For example, you are a Spirit embodied in a body. The soul is also you, but the soul is the Spirit connected with the life force to connect with the body.

Natalya: When I am here on Earth, it turns out that I am a soul, because now I am that part of the spirit that is alive, receiving experience here now.

Irina: You can be called a soul, you can also be called an incarnate spirit - both are correct.

Natalya: I am a soul receiving experience, and it turns out that in a dream I also receive experience, but I live on this Earth?

Irina: You process it, and part of this experience passes into your feelings later. What are feelings? According to the terminology of the Interstellar Union, what you call feelings are logical patterns of the relationship of an embodied or non-embodied spirit to any phenomena, not expressed in words. Those. This is not a fleeting emotion, as the reaction arose, but a deeper phenomenon.

Natalya: This phenomenon, does it grow out of me or is it given to me from somewhere in my feelings?

Irina: Together, this all comes from your reactions during the day and your words, actions, thoughts that you made during the day - from all the meetings, from all the books, from all the information received. When you fall asleep, all this information, during a spiritual journey in the astral plane, is processed and goes into the form that then becomes feelings, i.e. personality quality. Therefore, it is extremely important to forgive everyone, let everyone go, and pray to God before going to bed. It's not for nothing that every religion has come up with an evening prayer before going to bed, in which we ask for forgiveness. What does it mean to ask God for forgiveness? This does not mean that since we ask God for forgiveness, God is offended by us. This is simply a form of turning to your Higher Self, to that God in yourself, so as not to feel a sense of guilt in front of him, in front of yourself, because the feeling of guilt in front of yourself is developed among earthlings because of your type of upbringing, which your parents constantly accuse you of, teachers, etc. You may have such a character. Understanding this, the guardians of various religious egregors, through their contactees, introduced this form of conversion into religion - self-forgiveness. Because God as a loving person, as "love is," he cannot be offended by anyone. Therefore, this is reconciliation with the God who is in you, with your Higher Self, so that a person, when he sincerely says: "Forgive me, Lord! Forgive me, God! - he will feel the influx of this light, as a sign of God's love, and he will feel forgiven, i.e. renewed in your life.

Natalya: Last question, because I see that you are tired. When food is blessed, a prayer is read over the food - does this somehow structure it or does something change in it?

Irina: Not the prayer itself, but the text read. Saying a prayer can, of course, make a difference. The very structure of words, select vibrations specific in space, which will change, for example, the alignment of molecules in water, this is a phenomenon, but it will be a weak effect, because vibrations quickly pass through space. A strong action is if a person with faith in this prayer, in the God to whom he prays, pronounces this text, sincerely addresses it, with faith and love. These feelings strengthen the words of prayer. Thoughts materialize, including those read in prayer - these are also thoughts read. It's just that if a person reads someone else's prayer, agrees with it in his soul, with its words completely, then his thought also becomes connected with the thought of this person. This all happens through the egregor, and the egregor also supplies its power through these people so that the food they eat goes to the field of these people.

Natalya: Then it turns out that some desire expressed with feeling can also materialize?

Irina: With the greater feeling and with the brighter high-vibration feeling it is said, the more likely it is that this desire will come true if it will contribute, in the opinion of your spiritual mentors, to the growth of your soul, its development and the development of all those around you, who may be affected by the fulfillment of this desire.

Natalya: That is. if I wish, I can motivate it with my growth, in the sense of finding in this desire of mine why it is useful to me, and then it will come true.

Irina: Yes, if your spiritual mentors, who are in continuous light with God, agree with your opinion and why it is useful to you.

Natalya: And in continuous monitoring of me.

Irina: They feel you through your Higher Self. They don't just watch you, like on a TV screen, they feel you through your feelings, through your emotions, through your thought forms. How many vibrations are there in you?

#94 Pentecostals: demons or angels? Baptism, Holy Spirit, prophets, contacts with plasmoids

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pyatidesyatniki-demony-ili-angely

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yTm11YB4_6Q

00:00

Irina: My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations

Sergey: I welcome you. My name is Sergey. I am a member of the Pentecostal Church of Lahr in Germany.

01:15

Sergey: Why do Pentecostals display the ability to speak in other tongues, why are they given, and why are they called “angelic”? Is this from the Holy Spirit? And if these are angelic languages, or new languages, if they are not earthly, then whose languages? What effect do they produce?

Irina: I see. Thanks for the question. I have researched this phenomenon. He is among some groups of believers. For me, the Christian church is a kind of single organism that is divided only on Earth. The Christian Church for me is a single psychoenergetic community, which is called an egregor.

In the astral world, this is a kind of energy formation, which consists of the energy of believers and information on the topic of Christianity. The Christian egregor is heterogeneous; it took 2 millennia to form. There are no such sharp differences between Orthodox, Catholic, Pentecostal or anyone else. In any case, all feelings and thoughts of people are directed towards Christ, towards love for him. The depth of these thoughts, these feelings does not depend on a particular confession. An Orthodox monk who lives in a monastery, he loves God, perhaps as much as a Pentecostal. And their thoughts and feelings in the astral plane are intertwined and form a kind of unity.

As for Pentecostals... There are divisions on Earth that are greater, I would say, in the minds of people, i.e. at their logical level. Insisting on their correct vision of this or that passage from the Bible, they reject all other visions, and because of this some kind of emotional inconsistencies arise.

Sergey: There are Baptist churches that do not accept the baptism of the Holy Spirit and speaking in other tongues, and they also do not accept prophetic ministry.

Irina: I am a psychologist, and I studied religious psychology, i.e. a study of the types of people who can enter a particular religion, teaching and achieve some success there, rise higher in the hierarchy, as is customary in their religious cult.

There is a very strong correlation here with what you call human psychotypes. Of course, among Baptists there are also heterogeneous communities. But in general, if we consider, for example, Baptists, Orthodox and Pentecostals, there will be slight differences in their understanding of the universe, in their emotional structure, and they are not determined by religion itself. Rather, on the contrary, a person, already initially, having some kind of idea of \u200b\u200bGod, considering the religious movements accepted in his area, is attracted to one or another denomination that is closer to his heart, to his soul, which corresponds to his spiritual level, his spiritual growth. And he himself develops in it.

Here everyone is in his place, in the best place he can be, and this is not the place to judge those people who have chosen a different path of religious service, either the path to Christianity, or the path in another religion, because it corresponds to their understanding, their current level.

07:42

As for other languages, according to the research of scientists of the Interstellar Union, who investigated the gathering places of people who speak other languages, who enter a special state, in this case there is contact with those worlds that we call plasmoid, i.e. with subtle beings.

They are also intelligent spirits, like us, but they are embodied in a subtle body consisting of energies. And when they begin to come into contact with a person, try to speak through him, through his speech apparatus, they end up with an incomprehensible set of words or sounds. In the practice of your groups, there are times when some kind of speech is simply made up of individual sounds, syllables, or they change in tone, one is louder, the other is quieter. This can be controlled by a person, of course, but it is argued that the less you control this process, the better the contact goes.

09:41

The Baptism of the Holy Spirit is your term for contact with the light that you experience. Scientifically speaking, psychologically speaking, this is a form of religious ecstasy. At this moment you experience some feelings of belonging to the light, to holiness.

10:08

I want to remind you that the Holy Spirit is the general name of the Christian egregor and some spirits that possess light (spirit of light). As I already said, a plasmoid can also appear this way. In any case, he will be a light for you if he is higher than you in vibration.

He wants to speak through you, but he does it this way, because he doesn't know Russian. In order for you to translate his thought forms into Russian, you need closer contact with him, so that he no longer speaks through you, but so that you yourself receive information through thought forms, translate into Russian yourself through your brain. You call this (in the Bible the Apostle Paul wrote about this) the gift of interpretation.

Sergey: So it turns out that plasmoids speak through the speech apparatus of Pentecostals who pray in other tongues?

Irina: Well, yes, most often this is what happens. Because he won't be able to repeat what he said in a few hours or minutes, because the plasmoid has already left. Even if that plasmoid remains, it will repeat it in a different way, because there will be a different adjustment, adjustment.

Here is Irina, who is sitting, a contactee, she very often comes into contact with plasmoids, various contactees with plasmoids come to her, sometimes the plasmoid curators of these people come. Sometimes the plasmoids will also say something through her, not in Russian, a few words directly out loud when she comes into contact with them, and this turns out to be interesting from the outside. But Irina is a contactee, she simply tells them: “Please translate into Russian or a thought form so that we can understand what you are talking about.”

12:22

Sergey: Why do they do this, and why do we need it? In Scripture, in the Bible, it says that “this is for your edification.” What edification should we then receive from this?

Irina: Why do plasmoids do this? This is for them a form of contact, this is for them a form of research into other forms of life, dense material forms of life. They speak and come into contact simultaneously with this flow of words that goes through a person. And this is always an adaptation of the words of plasmoids, the mental images with which they communicate in their world into the language and sounds of the earthly language. In a subtle life form, they can communicate with electromagnetic waves in an inaudible range. And to translate this into sounds, into words of another language, this will require adaptation. And the plasmoid, speaking in earthly language, learns to understand your world, understand your language, your culture, your brain structure.

There are a lot of such researchers of subtle-material civilizations both on Earth and in space. They are from different stars. If this is Earth, then these could be nature spirits, elemental spirits. If it is in space, then these are the spirits of stars and planets. There are 17 plasmoid civilizations near your Sun. And each of them has such researchers.

14:24

Very often it is solar plasmoids that do this. In your earthly opinion, these are scientists. They are researching your species, your genus. For them, a dense material form of life is some kind of anomaly, just as a poltergeist is for you, so is an earthly person for them.

15:21

Sergey: I see. But it is very unusual to understand that the Pentecostal denomination is all contactees. And it turns out that Scripture, the Bible, calls us to this.

Irina: You are talking about the Bible, and why the Apostle Paul said this, and why such a practice was and is in some Christian denominations. There are certain reasons for this.

15:47

Now I want to talk about the fact that the word “other tongues” was and is always understood in the Christian Church as two concepts - either that unfamiliar language, the angelic language that we are talking about now, the language of angels, which is impossible for any people to understand , or it really is a foreign language. Those. God reveals to man the language of the country where he lived in one of his incarnations, for example.

For the sake of some goals, preaching, for example, or witnessing to non-believers, God, through His spirit, through His energy, opens such an opportunity in the spirit of the believer. Transmits to the brain of this body the information that it does not possess in this body. All this, of course, is according to the will of God, because it is for His specific purposes.

This also happened in the church on the same day as Pentecost.

When they gathered, in addition to Christians, people of different nations and each of the apostles, disciples of Christ, actually began to speak a language that they did not know in this body. He couldn't know him, he didn't study him, but he began to speak the language of a particular people so that everyone present could understand him. And it was precisely from this that there was an increase in the church, in the egregor, of a certain number of believers. It was an obvious miracle, an unusual phenomenon, which everyone understood could not have happened without God. This phenomenon practically does not occur in modern churches, because there is no need for it.

Now the church has already been formed, the egregor has been formed, it is further maturing, because the religious egregor goes through periods - infancy, childhood, adulthood, etc. Christianity is going through a period of growing up and is already quite mature. The Muslim egregor is only passing through your Middle Ages, for example, because it was formed later. Buddhist is 500 years older, etc. and so on. And the need for these miraculous phenomena has already disappeared, because the internal work of the believers themselves to transform themselves is underway.

18:52

Why does speaking in tongues of angels persist in some denominations? And why this was encouraged by the Apostle Paul, but of course with caution so that they did not create disorder in meetings, in churches.

He warned that if you leave the opportunity for everyone to speak in other languages, then nothing will be understood. One will speak, the second will stand up, interrupt him and it will be incomprehensible. Why will he interrupt? Because, being in a state of contact, it is very difficult to control yourself at this moment. The plasmoid wants to speak, the other one came from another civilization and wants to interrupt the first one, because they are not entirely compatible... This results in confusion in the physical world, which the Apostle Paul tried to combat with special instructions. (be careful, it is possible to speak in tongues in a meeting, but according to certain rules).

He even advised that, in modern terms, if you have contact and speak in other tongues, then you should pray for the gift of interpretation. Ask God to send you such a plasmoid or to set you up for contact so that you understand it and can tell the believers in your native language what they are telling you. Those. combined your vibrations with the vibrations of the plasmoid. And then he continues that if there is no gift of interpretation, then it is better to pray in church in ordinary language, and pray in the language of an angel at home, for example. He warned this because it was causing confusion in the church. It happened that because of such controversial phenomena, the Apostle Paul was forced to write in his epistle that no one speaking by the Holy Spirit should pronounce the name of Jesus. He was forced to explain these things, because in this state a person could... Plasmoid could not specifically say “anathema to Jesus” or anything like that. He simply read these concepts into the believer's brain and tried to interact with him in order to understand his inner world as a researcher. And these words involuntarily escaped the man, because he was in a state of ecstasy. In such relaxation, he feels, for example, as if he is floating on the waves. There is ecstasy with other manifestations, with different movements, you know what I’m talking about.

And at the moment of ecstasy, the energy of love, light, reverence, awe for the sacred is also released from believers, which also goes into the religious egregor.

22:33

If you are close in the astral body to someone who speaks in other tongues or shows other signs of ecstasy, then such a flow of energy comes from him that it is even difficult to stay in place in the astral body. The stream carries you into the egregor, especially when there are a lot of people.

I remember Mead and I would go to events like this in the astral plane.

Sergey: I heard, I don't know if it's true or not, that one of the yoga teachers told his students that when you are in the astral plane, do not approach the pillars of fire that will come from the ground. He was asked: "Why?" He said that's how Pentecostals pray.

Irina: Why was this approved and approved in the church? There is a simple and clear answer. Because the angels, the guardians of the Christian egregor (I mean the disembodied spirits who are at the highest spiritual levels) know very well that during such contacts with plasmoids, the feelings that believers emit strengthen this egregor. Moreover, the contactee himself, the believer himself, is also strengthened in faith. Those. when he feels the Holy Spirit speaking through him, he will believe more himself, preach more actively, he will have stronger faith, he will rely more on God. This will facilitate his progress in this religious organization. And, taking all this into account, they allow such contact practices. Moreover, this increases his sensitivity, energetic sensitivity to plasmoids, plasmoid worlds, to energy.

Sergey: That is. "for the edification of the believers" - this means to strengthen the faith.

Irina: Yes. Especially when there is such a teaching that the baptism of the Holy Spirit is a sign that he is accepted by God, which means that the believer will have faith in the correctness of his path. And because he is on the right path, he will have the enthusiasm to preach to others, which will contribute to the spread of the religious egregor, its energy.

As for prophecy... The Apostle Paul always treated prophets very well, with great patience. The word prophet is generally understood more broadly than just a predictor of the future, a fortuneteller. A prophet is understood as a person who carries the word of God and talks about it. He talks about the law of God, the law of the universe, the law of how to avoid sin. It can talk about the future, but it has many options. He can talk about the future, but warn that if you do this, it will happen like this. If you change your behavior, God will reverse it and you will take another option. This is the function of the prophet - to warn, one of the functions.

27:07

And the Apostle Paul treated even the pagan practices of prophecy very well and tolerantly, including plasmoid contact too.

If you remember his visit to the city of Ephesus, as far as I remember, the Apostle Paul and his disciple met a girl who was in contact with a plasmoid. Pythia, so-called.

Sergei: Soothsayer?

Irina: Yes, soothsayer, in the original. In the book of the Apostle Luke it was written Python. Python was the deity of the ancient Greeks, and it was a plasmoid. The ancients often deified these subtle-material creatures. In the Synodal translation it was written “possessed by a discerning spirit.”

Python liked the energy of these people, but the plasmoid sees the aura and everything else at the energy level, he began to speak through it so that people would follow him. Go, they will call you to salvation. But she didn’t just say that, she followed them and shouted to the people. The Apostle Paul saw on a spiritual level what was happening, he saw this plasmoid, but despite the fact that she was a fan of the pagan cult, he tolerated it for quite a few days and allowed her to go and scream. Hoping that, in the end, Python will get tired of this and take her away. But when she was already walking and constantly screaming and giving them no rest, he turned and told him to get out of her. This happened after many days. This suggests that he treated such contactees outside the Christian movement quite patiently, tolerantly, and lovingly, not to mention the fact that within the Christian movement itself he treated such people with great patience and love.

Sergey: Okay, thank you. For some reason, I thought that the apostle simply tolerated her because she brought income to some owners who had some influence. He didn't touch her, because if he had problems, he wouldn't have fulfilled his mission.

30:37

Irina: He was never afraid of any problems. If he had been afraid of problems, he would not have become a Christian at all, he would have left and would not have preached where all the pagans were, and he was the only Christian. He had found himself in these situations many times, and he was never afraid of people.

Sergei: I don't mean people, but that it would interfere with him.

Irina: In any case, he did it, and he was well aware of what it would lead to.

Sergei: In general, the Scripture interprets that it was a bad spirit, an unclean spirit, evil.

Irina: What other interpretation of the pagan plasmoid do you want to find in Christian Scripture? The opinion about Christian pagan cults is also not very good.

31:37

They are also right that contact can get out of control for some. And those plasmoids that come, I don't want to use the term "good - evil" or "bad - good" now, but they all differ in their characters and goals, they are separate individuals. For example, we will now take planet Earth. We cannot say that all people on Earth are kind and do good, although there are many good people. Believers and non-believers, but they bring good. We cannot say that they are all evil, for example. In any case, there are some criminals, hooligans, etc. Heterogeneous mass. It's the same in plasmoid worlds – there are individuals of different beliefs, different goals. In your earthly language, those who are good for you and those who are evil for you are always good for themselves. Those. which bring you some kind of constructive understanding and which bring you destructive, not consciously, but without understanding the reality in which you live. This happens often.

They have a completely different perception of the world, they do not have such eyes, such ears. They do not perceive the world in this spectrum that you are used to. They see your body as some collection of dense material energies, in which the spirit is enclosed as in a cage. Now there are plasmoid contactors who say that eating a certain food reduces vibrations, for example. Because they are accustomed to reading food by vibrations, not by substances, as we do in the densely material world. They themselves are powered by the stars or by the electromagnetic fields of the planet's atmosphere. Therefore, they may believe that everyone needs to eat from the sun, for example. Or they are used to reproducing simply by dividing a ball, from which many other balls are separated, or 2 balls are connected, and a third comes out of them. In any case, they have nothing similar to earthly forms of reproduction, and they believe that since you do not know how to reproduce spiritually by budding, as we do, then there is no need at all, and your sex is no different from the sex of animals. These are some strange ideas that come to their minds not from anger, but simply from the fact that they do not understand the reality of the dense material world. If you believe this and bring it into life already in your world, it can bring problems, especially to the one who carries it.

Sergey: Thank you. Besides the fact that in prayer we pray not with the mind, but with the spirit, how can this help in spiritual growth, understanding for believers of the spiritual realms or getting closer to the Lord. Do you even need to practice this?

35:25

Irina: Only a vibration that coincides with him can bring you closer to the Lord. What is God's leading vibration, which he created and supports the entire material world, you know. What it is called, how it manifests itself, in what feeling, in what action, in what practice - you know about it.

35:52

Therefore, about the benefits of tongues, the phenomenon of tongues in the church... This is a very ambiguous question, very individual, probably, for everyone, because what can be beneficial for one, can be harmful for another. Depends on the spiritual level and attitude of the believer himself to these languages. Those. how much he takes them for light. How much does he believe that this is good, that there is no violence there. So that these coming beings can do only according to the will of man. There must be some kind of human control, because plasmoids often do not control these aspects. As the Apostle Paul wrote in one of his epistles, “the spirits of the prophets are obedient to the prophets.” In any case, control over the person, because then the contactee will live in this society and continue to act. It is correct to behave around these creatures. And then it does not pose any danger. It carries only one danger, but it is more of a spiritual nature: if a person, having this contact, begins to think that he is somehow special, this somehow sets him apart from the group of believers who do not have these characteristics. I know that some ministers of your faith, your direction in faith, some teach that without the baptism of the Holy Spirit, without tongues, you cannot be a believer, go to heaven, etc. I want to immediately warn those that in fact this is completely wrong; the Apostle Paul did not write this. Getting into high vibrations does not depend on languages, their presence or absence. Firstly, not every person is capable of this due to psychophysical and energetic characteristics. Not everyone can match this plasmoid. Not everyone can fall into a state of religious ecstasy; this requires a certain emotionality and sensitivity. Not everyone has it, especially in your modern world, when you develop less the emotionality of your children, for example, and more develop the rational part of the soul. This is difficult for some people to do, to let go of themselves and allow themselves to enter into this ecstasy. This must be an emotional, sensitive person, he must have enough energy, because this is an energy-consuming business. Not every Christian has these characteristics. Not everyone can understand the structure of their energy, brain, etc. And the one who speaks these languages, the main thing for him is that some arrogance in relation to those who do not have this gift does not become a temptation. Because if this thought creeps into him and he believes it, he will immediately reduce his love towards those who do not have, and once he reduces his love, it will lower his vibration. And since this will reduce the vibration, it will attract completely different plasmoids, low vibration ones, to contact. They also exist, at lower vibrations, they can awaken different fears in him, encourage him to fear, go to aggression and other manifestations of what you call “contact has gotten out of control.”

40:41

It is impossible to answer your question better than the Apostle Paul. He allowed speaking in all languages, but at the same time asked: “Do not become like ringing brass.” I will remind you of the words: “If I speak in the tongues of men and angels, but do not have love, then I am a ringing brass or a sounding cymbal. If I have the gift of prophecy, and know all mysteries, and have all knowledge and all faith, so that I could move mountains, but do not have love, then I am nothing. And if I give away all my property and give my body to be burned, but do not have love, it does me no good.” Then the influences of love are listed, and at the end of this chapter, the 13th chapter of the apostle's first letter to the Corinthians, he called for more development of love, more than all these gifts, because... they will stop, go away, become unnecessary.

In the process of spiritual development, the Christian himself may feel that he has already outgrown these languages, and he wants to move on. Here you no longer need to cling to the old, but boldly move on to your new spiritual achievements and exploits. And the main feat is the feat of love in practical life. Those. sometimes it’s easier to speak in the languages of angels for 2 hours than to spend an hour selflessly helping someone. Sometimes this is a greater feat of spirit.

Irina: If speakers of other languages are most often contactees with plasmoids (semi-conscious, one might say, because they cannot translate), then interpreters of languages are already more conscious contactees, because they can translate it - their language or someone else’s language, which another contactee has, to the usual one - this is called the gift of interpretation.

And prophets are contactees, but either with the humanoid world, for example, the planet Burkhad has many contactees among Christians, they simply perceive the contact as angels coming to them or their thoughts, etc., or they are contactees with the spiritual world - with angels , with disembodied spirits who have levels from 17 to 24. There is even a special level - 19, called - Angels and Prophets, who also incarnate into the human body, but they incarnate for different tasks and not only into the human body.

Those who remain disembodied at this level, they serve to carry the light of God in the form of truth, truth, justice, as they understand it, in the light in which they find themselves - in the light of love. For them, justice, passed through the prism of love, gives rise to a desire to preach. Such angels-prophets can come to such people-prophets on Earth in one religion or another, because they do not divide by religion, because they see the light in everyone and its quantity. They can come and be their contactees, in contactee terminology – their curators. There is also an angel-prophet, an angel-healer of the 20th level, or an angel 22 - a consultant, 23 - an Arhat, who generally forms these egregors, on different planets, not only on Earth, i.e. religious, political, etc. He, too, can have contactees in the material world, he can descend through the astral plane from the spiritual world to the material world and speak mentally, come in a dream. In any case, different forms of contact.

In order for the audience to understand what a prophecy is, it is necessary to give a specific example - this is the Revelation of John the Theologian. There everything was given to John the Theologian in the form of symbols. Even the numbers that appear there – each number is a symbol. To understand what we are talking about, you need to know the meaning of the symbols, their numerology, the Bible itself, because there, at the level of the contactee, at the level of his knowledge about the world, which he had in the 1st century, information was given that would be according to one of the options events in the future. As you know, the future has many options. But since there the prophecy about the Earth was quite harsh for earthlings, then since this prophecy was given by God, his angels, John the Theologian received it outside the body, he was in the spirit, in modern language on astral travel, returning to the body, he wrote it down so as not to forget. This was not given to him in order to scare people, to tell them to be afraid, because fear is already a low emotion, God does not have such a goal, it is already a low vibration emotion. God does not have a purpose for people to emit low vibrations, such as fear of a terrible future that cannot be changed. Predicting a terrible future so that people are afraid is not beneficial to God, but to some ministers of pagan cults (oracles, fortune tellers), for example, who, receiving from the plasmoid some probabilities of an event, tried to scare the people in order to take control. For example, if you do not sacrifice a cow to God, then you will have a fire. When they brought him a cow, he burned part of it, took part for himself - a natural, understandable interest of both the plasmoid and the person in contact with it, material interest. In no way am I condemning these priests now, I'm just talking about the reality that it happened.

God, our heavenly father, is not interested in simple intimidation. If such a revelation was given to John the Theologian, in such a harsh form, what would happen in a person, then the purpose of this revelation was that when people read, they would change their behavior, change their vibrations, and then it would take a different probabilistic path and it will not come true in these terrible details that are described there. God's purpose was not really to intimidate, but to warn - this is the purpose of love. It's like the prophet Jonah predicted the death of Nineveh, but when people changed, as it is written "repented," and changed the course of their thoughts and came to God sincerely, then, naturally, nothing came true, and then they even told him: "Why did you predict that?" , what didn't come true?" God achieved his goal, returned them to spiritual life, which means he would not allow the destruction of their material bodies.

Sergei: Yes, he said "if", there was a condition in the prophecy, "if you do not repent."

Irina: The fact is that the goal of any prophecy is, simply, why clarify "if"? This was taken for granted; every believer knew this from childhood.

Sergey: Thank you. Thank you all very much.

00:25 Presentation of conference participants. Incarnation of Chaitanya.

Alexey : My name is Alexey Fedorovich Nikolaev. I would like to ask some questions related to Hinduism and Vaishnavism.

Irina : My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today three representatives of the Interstellar Union will answer Nikolai's questions: this is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, LiShioni from the planet Shimor and another representative of the planet Shimor, who now serves as a political observer and ideologist of the planet, his name is SheonPeheor. In his previous incarnation, he was incarnated on Earth in that person whom you call Chaitanya.

He wants to emphasize that now he has a different life, different tasks, but he came to listen and communicate. His memory is blocked, as it always is in incarnation, but in any case, he studied his life, studied the current state of Vaishnavism, and he has something to say about this and answer questions. And MidgasKaus and LiShioni will help him with this.

01:57 Evidence and purpose of contacts . Astral as an energy world.

Alexey : What opportunities do they have to prove now, in this dialogue, that they exist at all? What can the Soul see in the astral plane, and what opportunities does it have to provide at least some evidence?

Irina : Interesting. What do you mean by evidence?

Alexey : You said that in the astral plane the Soul and the subtle body can move. As I understand it, those with whom you are now in contact can automatically move to the space where I am and try to describe, for example, this place where I am now. Is this really possible?

Irina : In the astral plane everything is visible through energies. I myself am an astral traveler, and through the astral plane I can see only fragmentarily the physical world and the astral world, your thought forms or the thought forms of those who visit you there. All this will be mixed and visible through energies. For example, a person is seen there not in clothes, as he is now in the physical world. And since the spectrum of perception is different there, only the energy of a person is visible. For example, MidgasCaus does diagnostics in the Astral. In order to diagnose you now and describe anything there, it will take some time. If he does this now, it will no longer be a conference.

Alexey : Is it possible to see through these energies what a person is doing?

Irina : You can simply see thought forms, mental images, emotions. You know what the astral body is, have you studied it?

Alexey : Reading and having experience are two different things.

Irina : Do you have experience of your own astral travel?

Alexey : No, I don’t.

Irina : I have. I have been going into the astral plane for 15 years and I know very well what is visible there. MidgasCaus takes me to the Astral and shows me when he diagnoses people. He shows me how to do this, conducting diagnostics on the energy plane, since each organ has its own energy: how to stretch out astral hands and read the energy, what microbes, parasites are there, what the vessels look like, etc. In any case, I know what is visible through the Astral, since I have been doing this for 15 years. Mead says this is why astral searchers, who are good at going into the Astral, cannot help in any significant way in finding the missing. All they can say is that the missing person is in the forest or locked somewhere, or something like that. But showing a specific place on a map is practically impossible. The astral plane is not a physical, but an energetic world.

Alexey : Let’s say, I understand. But for other people who watch this video, this is not proof. They can twist it at your temple.

Irina : Our goal is not to give anyone any evidence. We don't prove anything to anyone at all. Why do we need to prove anything to anyone? You don’t feel them nearby, but there are people who really feel them.

Alexey : Then what is their purpose in speaking through you?

Irina : Just give information. Now Maxim will confirm that we never prove anything to anyone. Maxim, please explain, since he can't hear me.

Maxim : We have no goal - to prove to people that Irina is a contactee. Our goal is to give people feedback on the request they have. MidgasKaus and I talked about this: diagnostics, as such, are not proof of even contact, and according to the rules of the Interstellar Union, which have been established since the formation of our civilization, evidence of any form is prohibited. Why is this being done? This is done for the safety of the contactee. I hope you understand this.

Alexey : Perhaps I understand. But if there is no evidence that all this is real, that this is not fiction, that this is not Irina's imagination, then it is very difficult to simply believe in what is transmitted through the contactee.

07:22 Faith as an unconditional feeling.

Maxim : This is what Vera exists for. In order for the person himself to internally believe in that Light, in that divine creation that is in him. But when you go to church, or people who go to church, or who pray to Krishna, they don't require proof that he exists or not. They sincerely tune their faith in their Soul and, due to this faith, raise their vibrations. They connect to this energy, to what they believe in. After all, human consciousness has very interesting functions and properties: everything you believe in exists for you, and if you don't believe in it, then it doesn't exist for you. Therefore, we have no goal to prove to people that this exists. Each person determines for himself what exists for him and what to believe in. Because if we give evidence, then the person will be like that monkey, asking for even more evidence. I know clearly from myself what I feel, see, look, and it was very difficult for me, in principle, to believe in the existence of the same MidgasCaus with which we communicated through Irina. My whole body, my whole consciousness absolutely resisted, and I thought that someone was scamming me. No one provided me with further evidence for me to believe that all this exists. But when I believed that all this existed, the boundaries of my consciousness expanded so much that I could perceive the information that they provide for my growth and development. Let us even imagine that this does not exist, it simply does not exist: there are no contactees, no other planets, nothing, but there is information that goes through the contactee, and due to this information a person can grow and develop. Moreover, even if we have nothing to believe in and listen to what Irina says as a person, not taking into account that she is a contactee, then the level of awareness and perception of a person will definitely increase in connection with the information that he receives and the feedback the connection he receives.

Irina : He asked me to convey that the point is neither in faith nor in your religious affiliation, but in the willingness to recognize what your mind rejects as true only because others believe in it. Because if there is at least one person who believes in this, then, in any case, he creates his own world. And even if this world is illusory for you, then for him it is quite real. You yourself came to this conference and, in any case, you came here to ask questions, not to look for evidence. If you have questions, ask, if you don't have questions without evidence, then we will stop it.

Alexey : Then the question is related to faith. Faith is very often just an expectation of the mind, just an egoistic expectation. In this regard, such selfish expectations give rise to a huge number of clashes between faiths, between religions, which is why wars even occur between states. In the end, the faith you talk about very often leads to negative consequences. Can someone who is the incarnation of Chaitanya comment on this somehow?

Irina : LiShioni, please comment on how faith can lead to negative consequences, and does faith lead to them or something else?

Yes, faith, firstly, is not a mental construct. A mental construct is what he believes in - it is an image. Faith itself is a feeling. This is a feeling of existence in something that cannot be comprehended by the mind, this is a feeling of existence of something that cannot be seen with the eyes, touched with the hands, felt with all the senses. But, nevertheless, there is a very distinct feeling that this is what exists. Yes, it can be small, it can develop, it can grow like a child in the heart of the Spirit, in the heart of a rational being, but this is not a mental construct, it rather belongs to the sphere of feelings. This is how love is: there is an image of a loved one, towards whom love is directed, and there is an image of faith, towards which faith is directed.

12:50 Selfish desires in religion. Choice of faith.

As for egoistic desires, if we speak in relation to religions, then religions are a certain system of teachings and rituals for establishing a connection with a certain higher being or beings that are higher for this particular person. As for egoistic desires, here I would like to dwell on the word “ego” and “desires”, because any desires always imply a certain degree of selfishness, and there are no desires that are completely devoid of it. Because the one who desires is already the ego, this is already the personality, this is already the Spirit. Therefore, I want to say that any faith is chosen at will. And your own faith, in whom you believe, is also selfish in the sense that you yourself chose it as a person. You do not just believe in this faith, but that you want to receive some spiritual gifts, some spiritual pleasure, some advantages, compared to someone who does not believe. This desire is as selfish as any other, and this is in no way bad, but it simply cannot be any other way. For it to be different, we must stop being individuals. If we cease to be individuals, then we will neither be able to believe, nor desire, nor love, because there will be no one to do this. We will be dead like a stone that is emotionless.

14:35 Negative consequences of faith. Conflicts and clashes as a consequence of the generation of faith without love. Bhakti.

Now regarding conflicts: can believing in something lead to negative consequences? As we see in the example of earthly religions, yes, of course it can. You see very well that even the Light that Christ brought turned into bonfires during the Middle Ages that burned infidels. This was done by believers. Yes, undoubtedly, these were believers, and those who burned the fires were Christians. Did they love Christ? Undoubtedly, they loved Christ in the form in which they understood love. But why did they do this then? Because of faith or not? They did this because they had incorrect mental structures and images. Faith itself as a feeling, it was correct, i.e. natural for them. And the mental constructs themselves, which did not allow one to put love above their correct faith, that same love that, according to my study of Vaishnavism, you call the word “bhakti.” In any case, faith without love turns into what you just said - conflict and clash. And love without faith is generally impossible, because in order to love someone you need to believe him, you need to trust him.

16:30 Chaitanya's mission.

Alexey : What was Chaitanya's mission, what did he do on Earth, what did he want to bring into the world with his life?

Irina : That mission that was in that life?

Alexey : Yes, on Earth, approximately 500 years ago.

Irina : He says, my mission was to be born in this people, in this religion in which I was born, in order to show others the path to God, light, enlightenment, to union with God, to love. That is, I was perfectly aware that before the incarnation this was my task. And although I did not live many earthly years, since my incarnation was interrupted, it was interrupted by my will when I had already completed my task and left. When I met God after my incarnation and met with my mentor, they told me that I even fulfilled my mission more than I had planned over the years. I didn't live that many years because I had planned it 20 years longer, but I interrupted it earlier. I wanted to go to the spirit world because my guides came to me in a vision and told me that I could go now and I didn't have to stay another 20 years. I told them that I could stay for the sake of the students. They told me: "It's your choice, you can stay, but if you leave, they won't suffer, since there will be someone to teach them." Then I decided to leave. My mission is to lead people to the Light, to God, to tell everyone what is behind the rituals of the religion in which they grew up. There are not empty forms there, they contain those feelings that they must cultivate in themselves: if they do not put their soul and love into the rituals, they will not be able to cleanse themselves of their karma. They will not be able to get rid of their negative vibrations.

19:33 Mantra " Hare Krishna, Hare Rama." Krishna. Incarnation of Arjuna.

Alexey : What was his main method of path to God, what did he recommend, what was better in his opinion?

Irina : Yes, I studied this issue. Now my memory is blocked about this life. When my mentors said that I was this man on Earth, and that he played a big role here, I began to study his life both in the Astral Plane and according to the Akashic Chronicles, i.e. walked in the astral plane into the past. In that life, I found the most effective method to be a mantra and to praise the Lord in the language where I lived. The words “Hare Krishna, Hare Rama” were repeated many times and meant: “I praise all types of energy of God,” i.e. the external energy of God, the average energy of God from which we consist, and the internal energy of God - that Light that exists and which supports all worlds. I would like to immediately emphasize that in Vaishnavism, unlike many religions on Earth, a plurality of worlds is recognized. This is not accidental, because the Krishna in whom I believed as God is God in the manifestation in which he appeared on Earth, this is God for the people around him. Just please don’t forget that every nation has its own God, who appears for this people and for whom they are ready. These people were ready for Krishna. It was not by chance that the spirit of Krishna incarnated. He incarnated not only from earthlings, since his father was from another planet. This was also no accident. That Shimor genetics that was in him allowed his Spirit, which was divine, to manifest itself more fully through his physical body than through the body of just an earthling, because there are different genes of nature there. Arjuna saw the manifestation of this nature. But what Krishna showed him on the battlefield is only a small part. He showed him a lot of things in private before and after that in conversations.

Maxim : Now Arjuna is incarnated here on Earth. We will not say who it is, so as not to create any idols. He accidentally came across us in the astral plane. We found him through the guides of the spiritual world.

Irina : Yes, he talked to us.

Maxim : I understand that the contact is at the level of cretinism, to be honest. I understand this, but when you begin to live in this, this level of cretinism drops so much, and such an interesting faith is built, that you begin to answer all these questions that no one could answer for you before.

23:41 Chaitanya and his physical changes in the body due to the DNA of the Burkhadians. Ecstasy, trance state.

Alexey : Thank you, Maxim, for your feedback. Irina, next question: historical chronicles say that when Chaitanya was in ecstasy, the proportions of his body, arms, and legs changed. Is this true and what was it?

Irina : He is now showing me that Chaitanya's parents were also contactees, but they were contactees with the planet Burkhad. And when he was an infant, he had some kind of genetic disease. At that time, it was possible to provide evidence of alien contacts, since there was no such danger for contactees as there is now with your current information and political situation. And the Burkhadians decided to help this child by putting some of their genes into his body in order to heal this disease, thereby changing his gene structure. Burkhadian medicine allows you to change the gene structure even in born organisms. Naturally, the sooner this is done, the more effective the results. Due to the fact that they inserted their DNA into the base of his spine, this disease was healed. Because of this, the child began to contain part of the Burkhadian genotype, larger than other people, and that is why he was taller, had lighter skin, etc. His limbs were longer and his head was slightly elongated. He is now showing me his image. I want to say that he was not a hybrid, like, for example, Jesus Christ, who was born from a Burkhad father and a Zemlyan mother. Changes were simply introduced into Chaitanya's body.

About stretching in ecstasy. The fact is that when a person is in ecstasy, it is like any trance state. What is trance? Withdrawal into oneself, into one's spiritual world. This can give off a release of the astral body, and people around him could observe how his ethereal astral energy comes out of his arms, legs and head. Chaitanya's astral body was very dense due to the fact that he had strong faith. A person who does not have faith in God will not be able to love him, and whoever cannot love him will not have the reasons and strength for ecstasy.

Maxim : Let me remind you that this was possible based on the level of vision of those who were nearby. If the etheric body began to stand out and glow, then one might think that his body was lengthening or something else was happening to him.

27:55 Worldview at different Spiritual levels.

Alexey : In one of the April videos it was said that Krishna has the highest vibration. It turns out that Jesus has a lower vibration and this is another lower level?

Irina : If you look from the level where we are now, then incarnated Spirits come from levels 1 to 24. Krishna and Christ are, relatively speaking, at 24. Everything above 24 is just light for us. When we come to level 24, and not just arrive, but stay there, we will remember everything: our memory will be unlocked, our vision will be unlocked, and we will see what's next. But, from my experience, I want to say that those who are at the 24th level no longer divide themselves into categories of vibrations "higher or lower": there they are in unity with themselves and in unity with the light. They do not have the hierarchy characteristic of beings embodied in a material body. Why do you have such a hierarchy? Because your mind is influenced by the so-called "animal guna". Now I will translate it into your language - this is called the "leadership instinct". In this case, "above-below" is the terminology of the dense material world and, specifically, the Earth. Even on another planet, where it does not have such a meaning, it will not be discussed as "higher or lower", because this is the terminology of that mind that is influenced by the so-called instinctive mind, that part of the Spirit that is responsible for communication with the body . For Spirits who have already crossed the threshold between the world of average Spirits and the world of angels, i.e. Levels 16 and 17, it doesn't matter to them anymore, not to mention level 24. Krishna and Christ, even if they are nearby, it will not even occur to them, neither one nor the other to look at who is higher and who is lower. They will simply say: "Greetings brother, we are one in the Light."

30:42 Devanagari language. Prabhupada.

Alexey : Okay, Irina, I understand. The mantra preached by Chaitanya is pronounced in Devanagari, and Devanagari is considered the language of the demigods. Is Devanagari still used somewhere at higher vibrations, where are mantras? Is the one who is Chaitanya in another incarnation now chanting the mantra? Can I get an answer?

Irina : I knew and studied another language when I was incarnated as Chaitanya. I gave information in the language that I knew, that I had studied, and that was available. Now I know another language. The language of gods or demigods, in Sanskrit - “Deva” and is translated as God. In the Vaishnava tradition, as a monotheistic one, it is translated as a demigod. Prabhupada did everything to convert the polytheistic Hindu system into a monotheistic one. He did this job very well, and there are no questions for him here. He even translated the word that all researchers translated as “God” as “demigod.” I understand why he did it. This is a progressive phenomenon for religion. I was familiar with his Prabhupada Spirit. We communicated with him for a long time in previous incarnations and in the Spiritual world too. And I want to say that he did his job. As for Devanagari, this is translated by you as the language of the demigods. Yet for our listeners, I do not think that there is any need to distort the Sanskrit language in any way, because, in any case, it is translated as God. I am sure that Prabhupada, if he were here now, would not be against it, since he himself realized this and did not hide it. There are his works where he talked about this. It's about the language.

33:22 Mantra as Spiritual information, connection with the egregor.

About the mantra. When he was a child of 10-12 years old, Krishna came to him in astral contact, who himself transmitted to him the reading of mantras. Krishna said that in every moment of pronouncing the words of the mantra, his energy is located, his energy is created, thanks to the sounds of speech and air. A vibration is created that connects the channel with the energy of Krishna at the level of the Spiritual world where it is located. At the moment, Krishna is not incarnate, he is now in the Spiritual world. This is information about him. Even if he is embodied in the subtle or dense material world, it does not matter, since this mantra, as a means of communication given to him, will connect with his energy in the same way as the prayer given by Christ to his disciples connects with the energy of Christ. Just like the prayer of Magomed, Namaz, given in Arabic, also has a specific text and connects with Allah and with the Muslim egregor, and, accordingly, with the Tumesout people. In any case, each of these vibrations connects with its own religion. Naturally, the connection turns out stronger and more complete, and more useful if a person believes in it, and not just read it without believing in it. The criterion of faith is important here. Faith gives energy for connection, and if a person does not believe in it, or if he does not want to speak for himself, but does it for the sake of someone, then the energy dissipates, it will not bring the benefit that it should.

35:49 Prabhupada and his mission on Earth.

Alexey : Thank you. You mentioned Prabhupada. Is it possible to know where Prabhupada's spirit is now and his attitude towards the fact that he created the Society for Krishna Consciousness movement on Earth?

Irina : He left this world by spiritual standards not so long ago, so he has not yet been incarnated. He awaits incarnation. If you are interested in the spiritual level he is at now, I know him because I have visited him in the astral plane. I know this level, but I don't know how correctly this one will speak without his consent.

Alexey : You say that Chaitanya communicated with the spirit of Prabhupada. Maybe he knows how Prabhupada evaluates what he did on Earth?

Irina : Yes, I talked to him about how he evaluates what he did on Earth. Overall, it's positive, because he really did a tremendous job. Prabhupada, at a young age, renounced his wealth and work that brought income. His spiritual teacher, who was also embodied by a high Spirit and had a connection with Krishna and with the egregor, told him: "You know that you have incarnated here for a reason. You cannot live here and leave your incarnation without having done anything." Prabhupada replied that he did not know why he incarnated. And then the teacher opened his memory and showed him how he spoke with his mentors in the Spiritual World. Prabhupada also went to the astral plane. He was a contactee, but a contactee with the spiritual world, and not with humanoids. He also spoke a little with the plasmoids.

Alexey : Is there anything that Prabhupada regrets that he didn't do, that didn't work out, that he didn't have time to do?

Irina : Good question, we talked about it. The fact is that his spiritual teacher told him that he needs to spread it in the world, because there are many spiritual people in the world who do not know about the true spiritual path to God. Prabhupada replied: “Why would I spread this to the world if they have their own religion there?” The spiritual teacher explained to him that there are many people who, unfortunately, do not follow the path of this religion, because it does not suit them. If you preach to them, then it will suit them, and those who belong to our faith in their souls will remain in their religion, so do not be afraid to confuse them.In old age, he left his family, children and went to a foreign country , where no one knew him. When he was driving, he prayed to Krishna, as he had hesitations: “To return? Not to return? Who is waiting for me there? There is a completely different culture there. Who needs this?” - these were the thoughts. Now they show me how he is sailing on a ship to America. In a dream in the astral plane, he met Krishna, who told him: “I will be with you, do not be afraid of anything, this pleases me. If there is anything you do not understand, ask me.” When he arrived to America, at first he was very weak physically: his joints hurt and he could not move well. Chaitanya also came to him from Shimora, but did not say that he was from Shimora, since Prabhupada did not include aliens in his picture of the world, and for for him it was Chaitanya. Because contactees with the Interstellar Union perceived contact at the level of their consciousness, just as Christians communicated with Archangel Gabriel. To contactees among Orthodox Christians, among monks, Archangel Gabriel appears in this way so as not to destroy their picture of the world. Since it is believed that if a person is not tuned in to the contactee wave, then this is not necessary. Why are they now telling me at the level of aliens, and not at the level of Chaitanya? Because since you have already come to the contactee to ask questions yourself, then you are already ready.

Alexey : Irina, again, please explain: did Prabhupada regret what he did, what he didn’t complete?

Irina : He regretted that he had not completed some books. They are showing me books now. He translated from Indian to English and thought it was important. Now they show me that he was sitting at a typewriter.

“I was close to him,” Chaitanya says. The spirits, the guardians of the Vaishnava egregor, were also with him, they supported him with their energy. And he ate only tea with bread and fruit, slept little and typed for almost days, because he felt that he would soon leave this body. He forced his body to obey, although it was very weak, and he really wanted to sleep. But with the willpower of his Spirit, his Faith, his Love for humanity, to whom he gave this knowledge, he forced the body to obey. Prabhupada did not ask for anything in return, and whatever was given to him, that was all he was content with.

Alexey : Does he think that he made any mistakes?

Irina : He already went to mentors and met with God. Once he came out of incarnation, he talked with his mentors and analyzed his incarnation. Overall, he believes that he did everything he could during this incarnation. I didn't ask him if he thought he had made a mistake somewhere, because I didn't want to embarrass him, he was already quite self-critical, because he said that I could have done more. That's why I didn't ask him about the mistakes.

45:25 Tomb of Jesus-follower Apostle Thomas in Kashmir.

Alexey : It is believed that there is a story that Jesus allegedly studied in the Himalayas with Vasishtha Muni and there, in the mountains, only in Kashmir, in Pahalgam, his grave is supposedly located. Is it so?

Irina : This is not his grave. Mead knows, he will probably tell you more that this is the grave of some Christian preacher. He was also a Jew and his name was also Jesus, but he lived later. He was a follower of Thomas the Apostle because Thomas the Apostle is known to have brought the preaching of Christianity more fully to India. The Apostle Thomas did not come to India alone in the 1st century, he brought with him followers from the Jews, and these followers began to create families with the locals, give birth to children, and this is how the Christian community was formed, only people from the lower varnas converted to Christianity. They were attracted by the message that everyone was equal, but sometimes high-ranking castes also accepted Christianity. It was Jesus who lived, if I remember the story accurately, in the 5th century, i.e. 500 years after Christ.

Maxim : Jesus is the one whose name is Jesus, but this is not Jesus Christ.

Irina : Jesus Christ was already in Burkhad at that time, he had already been taken there. He is still there in his body. His body is immortal, and why this was necessary has already been told.

45:25 Physical contacts of Jesus Christ.

Alexey : Did Jesus Christ study with Vasishtha Muni in the Himalayas?

Irina : He visited Tibet and India, but not on foot on camels and caravans, but he was taken there on a plate, since he was like a contactee. At the age of 12–17, and even earlier in childhood, Christ was already taken to India, Japan, and even to the territory of Russia. He was shown not only the Earth, but also taken to other planets, i.e. he also had physical contacts. Naturally, he met with sages there. Did he study? Jesus learned from everyone, even though he was a very high incarnate Spirit. Every person he came in contact with taught him something new because he was open to any experience. The higher the Spirit is on the ladder of Spiritual development (this is “higher-lower” in your terminology), the easier it is to call any person he meets his teacher. Because he understands that the field of knowledge of the Spiritual world as one part of divine energy is generally infinite.

49:09 Description of the Sun and its plasmoid civilizations in Srimad Bhagavatam.

Alexey : Question about Srimad Bhagavatam. In the 12th canto of the Bhagavata Purana there is an interesting description of the Sun. If possible, I will read it out, because I would just like your comment. It is said that “the supreme personality of Godhead maintains his time potency as the Sun God and is carried in each of the 12 months to regulate the movement of the planets in the universe. There are different groups of six companions who travel with the Sun God in each of the twelve months." And then each month is described as the Sun God, “Kritasthali as Apsara, Kheti as Rakshasa, Vasuki as Naga...”, well, and so on. What is the semantic load in this, and what is encrypted there, what is the metaphor in this?

Irina : Someone told me that plasmoid civilizations are described there. What you have just read are the names and names of those substances that this contactee and esotericists in general call plasmoids. Those. These are subtle civilizations. In fact, they are near the Sun and there are 17 of them there. These are subtle beings, their bodies consist of energies and the one who is considered the God of the Sun is sometimes called the king of the Sun, the ruler of the clan. He is given epithets that emphasize his exalted status above other creatures living in the Sun. They live directly in the chromosphere, their bodies do not burn there, on the contrary, they are saturated with this energy, since they are of that nature. The one who is called the Sun God is one of the plasmoids, one of the subtle-material creatures, which was called by different names among different peoples of the Earth. He could be like, for example: Ra, Surya, Aten, Yarilo, etc. He appeared to different nations. They are now showing me that he had his own contactees. Who are contactees? These were people sensitive to the manifestations of the plasmoid world. And when they perceived it, they told their tribe or people that God had come into contact with me. Anyone who came down from heaven was like God to them. God Ra came down to me, God Yarilo, Surya, etc. People who sensed the invisible world were called priests. They had students. Unlike your materialistic civilization, those people were more attuned to the spiritual world, and they easily perceived all this information. Therefore, they did not believe that the contactees were making up anything and they did not need evidence. They perceived it at the level of religion, i.e. these were priests, shamans, various magicians, etc. depending on the level of contact. The song Srimad Bhagavatam speaks in a figurative form, characteristic of Vaishnava literature, for the Vaishnava worldview about plasmoid civilizations.

Alexey : Does this have any significance for astrology?

Irina : He says that he did not study astrology, as our teaching. He knows that there is a special branch of astrology called Vedic. It can be interpreted astrologically and that it has to do with the different vibrations of the Sun in different months because it moves across the sky from constellation to constellation. This can be interpreted astrologically, or it can be interpreted from the point of view of contacting, since it talks about plasmoid civilizations that manifest themselves in different ways in a given month. For example, their impact on the Earth through the magnetic field, etc., changes, and this can be understood in different ways. It can be interpreted as astrology, it can be simply a description of the plasmoid civilization, it can be interpreted as a myth. It depends on the worldview of the person reading.

55:02 Plurality of religions and their peaceful coexistence.

Alexey : One more question: in one of the conferences you said that somewhere on other planets, supposedly, there are no conflicts between religions. In the incarnation where Chaitanya is now, do religions exist and do they exist peacefully with each other? If peaceful, then what helps them not to conflict with each other?

Irina : I lived on Shimora, there are 5 of them there. I would not call them religions in your understanding, rather, as philosophical directions that you can follow or not follow. No, they do not conflict, because every spiritual teacher, and at the same time as a teacher of doctrine, understands perfectly well that his group will not include a person, i.e. Shimorets, in this particular case, who is not suitable in vibration and in the purpose of his Soul for this teaching. A conflict between religions is possible only if there is a conviction in the public consciousness of the planet that there is one truth, and everything else that differs from it is a delusion. This is more of a materialist's view, how he sees the same world. For example, if he sees an apple, he cannot say that it is not on the table, that would be a delusion. From the point of view of the spiritual world, those ideas that are not true, for example, that there is no God, are also true for the one who says it, and they also have the right to exist. Those. he who speaks the truth does not come into conflict with those who, in his opinion, speak error, because he cannot speak the truth until he is ready for it. With us, everyone understands that if you see a person in error, then you should not reproach or reproach him, but you yourself should show him the way to the light by your example.

57: 56 Osho is a contactor of high-vibration plasmoid civilizations.

Alexey : There was also one very interesting figure in Hinduism, Osho or Shri Rajneesh. Does Chaitanya know him and how does he relate to him? Maybe other contactees can say something about this person: who is he, where is he now, what was his mission?

Maxim : I hope not only Chaitanya can give the answer?

Alexey : Yes, yes, that's it.

Irina : LiShioni says that he heard about him from Prabhupada, that he is a Spiritual teacher. But Meade knows him. He says that this is a contactor with plasmoids. He had contact and preached to people how to connect with the spiritual world. Osho himself thought that he was talking about connecting with the spiritual world, but in fact, with highly spiritual plasmoids. And those meditations and practices that he gave for connecting in images with God were aimed at contact with high-vibration plasmoid worlds above the 40th density level. For you, for people who are in the third level of density, this is practically the Spiritual world for you, since it is difficult for you to distinguish.

Maxim : I'll explain a little that many contactees who are in contact with high levels of subtle-material civilization perceive them as God. Those. for them it is light, for them it is knowledge, for them it is power, for them it is a certain concept of God, for them it is God. And here it cannot be said that he is deceiving himself or not, for him this is the way it is. I would like to add that one of our creators is indeed these subtle civilizations that initially formed the earthly primate that was here. Those. they are also considered our parents, these subtle civilizations, and they also participated initially in our creation.

1:00:30 Vodka and meat . Their energy value from the point of view of personal faith.

Alexey : From what has been said, it turns out that if you believe that meat does not cause harm, then it will not cause harm. But is it true that if I believe that vodka is the nectar of immortality, then I, too, will be healthy and enlightened from it?

Irina : A little incorrect, because the purpose of drinking vodka and eating meat are different, this is the first incorrectness. The second incorrectness is in the composition of these substances. In any case, vodka is a solution of ethyl alcohol in water, there is 40% ethyl alcohol and the rest is water. You know the composition of meat - it is proteins, fats, carbohydrates. The amino acid composition of vodka, so to speak, is zero. There are no more substances there other than those added by manufacturers for taste, such as sugar, etc. If we simply take the energy value of vodka and meat, then ethyl alcohol also releases energy when it breaks down in the body. But vodka does not provide any nutritional value, such as proteins, fats and carbohydrates have to build new cells. The ethyl alcohol that enters simply goes through a chain of the simplest chemical reactions in the human liver - now Mead answers as a biologist - and first acetaldehyde is formed, and then, after two more reactions, acetic acid is formed. That is, blood acidosis occurs and no useful substances are formed. On the contrary, thiamine is used to neutralize this alcohol that has entered the body, i.e. Vitamin B1, useful substances that were received earlier, before this vodka, are wasted. It's not the same with meat, because meat contains energy. Those fats that are there are broken down in the body with the help of digestive enzymes and converted into energy. Proteins are broken down into individual amino acids by protease, which is produced in your pancreas, like a house is broken down into bricks. From these building blocks, your liver assembles your own proteins that belong to your body, i.e. new material is being built - this is the first difference. The second difference is in the change of consciousness, i.e. consumption of ethyl alcohol changes the consciousness of an earthly person, causing drowsiness, irritability and some such phenomena that meat does not cause. Therefore, even if a person believes sacredly that this is nectar for him and drinks it, not believing that it harms his health, then with this faith he can, of course, delay the consequences for his liver, but still depends on his general lifestyle. If he drinks only vodka, without consuming other food, then he will be left without nutrients, he will have blood acidosis, intoxication and he may die, no matter what he believes. But if he eats only meat, without vegetables, without bread, without anything, he will also die, only more slowly. His blood will be acidified and he will not receive the same vitamin C, for example. The most useful thing is variety.

Maxim : Can I add a little to this topic? I know one Georgian who has a great-great-great-grandfather and who is 123 years old. He lives in the mountains, eats lamb, but he always says: “Snack on your greens,” and washes it down with wine. And I know many vegetarians who died of a heart attack at the age of 45-50. Therefore, I believe that you need to live in that variety, to the best of your abilities, and to the best of your abilities, consume from this life as much as you need specifically for the growth and development of both body and Spirit.

Irina : Now Mead says that in addition to meat, herbs and wine, you need some other vegetables or cereals for carbohydrate balance.

Maxim : Definitely in the mountains they consume all this, except meat, herbs and wine.

Irina : Although wine already contains carbohydrates. But some more fiber is needed.

Alexey : Okay, I understand. Thank you very much for your communication.

Maxim : It was very nice to talk. I hope this is not the last time we communicate. I see this light in your eyes, so you can't escape it, so we'll cross paths anyway.

Alexey : God willing. Wish you luck.

Irina: Good evening, dear friends! I see: you are already expecting us. Hi all! Hello, Belarus! Povorino, greetings! How can you hear us? Hello, Vladimir from the USA!

Maxim: Cool sound. We have finally come to the point where we have configured all the equipment, including the sound. We should now be clearly audible. Down to the little things that will happen here next to us. As always, we'll start with geography. Please write where you are from. Kyiv, Kaluga, Bulgaria, Spain, Omsk, Latvia, Ufa, Stavropol.

I will change the background behind you for the next broadcast.

Irina: They write so quickly.

Maxim: Volgograd... 357 people. But we will start when there are 500 of us. Hello, Anapa, Voronezh, Kurgan, Moscow, Germany, Crimea, Lvov, Kazakhstan. Guys, hello everyone!

Irina: Spain, Turkey, Germany, Belarus, Kaliningrad, Odessa. From almost all corners of the globe.

Maxim : Nalchik, Armenia. Guys, Armenians, hang in there, this is all for a reason! Sochi, Kirov, Georgia, Moscow, Yekaterinburg, Novosibirsk. How can you read chat at such speed?

Today our topic is “The Spiritual World and Its Levels.” All the questions that you ask must concern the Spiritual world, and, accordingly, we will talk about the levels of the Spiritual world, where it is located, how we get there, how we come from there. Irina, which of our representatives of the Interstellar Union is present today?

02:47 Intergalactic news. Intensification of the struggle between egregors.

Irina: Present with us today and will talk about the Spiritual World are the well-known Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and LiShioni from the planet Shimor. Now they are already talking among themselves in search of galactic news, they want it to correspond to the theme of our broadcast. It’s not easy to talk about the discovery of another planet, Galaxy, or some astrophysical research. Their research into the Spiritual World is reported on galactic news by groups of researchers who are engaged in this. MidgasCaus wants to tell you what he remembers: “Since I am in my physical body at the base on Earth, in my astral body I travel through the astral world of planet Earth, through its astral atmosphere. There is one change in your noosphere, in your astral atmosphere, which I have already transmitted to the Galaxy as galactic news. Over the past 90 days, I have been noticing a trend that the struggle between egregors for influence on people has sharply intensified in the sense that this is one of the consequences of the quantum transition that we talked about. People began to react more sensitively to any contacts with subtle-material civilizations, with spiritual beings and humanoids, and those groups of people who reflect the manifestation of egregor on Earth easily fall into a state of aggression - this is a sign that the Earth is being cleansed, the Earth's noosphere is being cleansed of of all low vibrational states through manifestation in people. And low-vibration spiritual entities have become active and are trying to detain you at this stage of the quantum transition in order to maintain power over the Earth. They are interested in this in order to incarnate here longer. That is why this period is characterized by a faster emergence of conflicts at all levels: political, religious, international and intra-family." He sees the news in the fact that our struggle has intensified due to the quantum transition, because of our actions and the actions of other contactees, who, unfortunately, do not always act for the purposes of the Light. "Sometimes they mistake their own selfish aspirations for Light and Love; this only delays the time of your quantum transition. And the more you follow this path, all this will accelerate and intensify."

06:54 Statement by the head of the Cassiopeia project in response to public insults.

Maxim: Great news! Guys, I hope many of you watched yesterday's broadcast, where we were exposed. And after this broadcast, I decided to make an open official statement. Hello everyone, my name is Maxim, I am the head of the Cassiopeia project, I want to make an official statement, only I will read it out, because it is quite long. So, I am making an open official public statement. I, Rusan Maxim Sergeevich, born 07/06/1980, and Podzorova Irina Sergeevna, born 07/11/1986, want to make a public statement. We are not a sect or other destructive religious organization that can carry out extremist activities. We support the legal framework and policies of the state in which we live and comply with the laws of that state. We support the spiritual basis of the Russian Orthodox Church and other official state religious denominations. We have no other funding than the gratitude of the people who support our project. We do not impose the information that representatives of the Interstellar Union convey to us, we do not say that we are the truth in the first instance. If the information we share conflicts with your beliefs, please stand by your beliefs. The Cassiopeia project specialists do not and will not set prices for their services. I ask all law enforcement agencies, supervisory and other bodies that defend the idea of the legitimate interests of our state to check us for involvement in everything I have said above and if you find violations, inform us personally. I also want to publicly appeal to the leadership of the Ministry of Emergency Situations with a request to check citizen Andrey Yeltsov, who serves in the ranks of the Ministry of Emergency Situations in the fire department of the city of Glazov, who opened his YouTube channel “Kaleidoscope of Life. The path to yourself,” in which he publicly insults and humiliates people he doesn’t know, giving deliberately false information about them, and takes money for providing his services. I ask you to check his psyche and the possibility of further service in the ranks of the Ministry of Emergency Situations. With his public false, offensive statements, he disgraces the honor and dignity of the entire structure of the Ministry of Emergency Situations, being in its ranks. On his channel, he openly states that he uses his official position to obtain personal confidential information from other people. In public access, namely in correspondence with me, he openly writes that he has access to secret information from the Ministry of Emergency Situations and cooperates with the FSB. I give full consent to viewing my personal correspondence with him. I ask the FSB authorities to check this information and take appropriate measures against the Emergencies Ministry employee. I ask all the people whom he publicly insulted and slandered to write a statement electronically to the Ministry of Emergency Situations of the city of Glazov.

I thank you all, guys. Let's continue the broadcast. I hope that my public statement will reach those structures to which I addressed.

Irina: Yes, we really decided to do this, because after we broadcast yesterday with Andrey, Maxim had a conversation with him. Despite the fact that we did not offend him in any way, I assume that he did not like the comments from our subscribers, which indeed contained an unflattering assessment of their mental abilities. And, judging by what he wrote to Maxim, now he is offended by us.

Maxim: He also managed to threaten me. This is quite an interesting personality. I think that such individuals should not serve in the Ministry of Emergency Situations.

Irina: Venus and Denis, if they are watching us now, a special greeting to you! They didn’t say anything more, they just showed it like it is, and people reacted like it was. They found the courage to accept it, but Andrei, unfortunately, has not yet found it. I hope that he will still do this, I send him the Light of my Love, I and all my supervisors ask once again to take a somewhat self-critical look at ourselves and our activities. You think that someone in your life is to blame, but this is not so - it is the way you made it.

Maxim: We continue our broadcast. Andrey, I also treat you absolutely adequately and understand that you are at your level of development, which is why I made this open public statement. You already told me that you applied somewhere, well done, keep applying. I hope the authorities will check us and see our involvement in the things that you attributed to us.

Irina: Yes, he wrote that there are written appeals.

12:18 When God gave birth to us, we were all level 24? The emergence of the Intelligent Spirit.

Maxim: So, let's move on. When God gave birth to us, we were all level 24?

Irina: The fact is that the Spirit can realize itself at any level: from 1st to 24th. The birth of the Spirit occurs in this way: in the flow of Divine Light, thought images of God, which permeates the entire Spiritual world, all levels, an autonomous, as Metatron told me, encapsulation occurs. That is, from energy the Intelligent Spirit arises, which consists of three structures: the heart, the spiritual mind and energy. He realizes himself as separate from the flow of Divine Light and only then begins to desire something, want something, think about something, and so on. But in order to manifest these desires and thoughts in reality, in matter, he must be embodied. Matter was created for this purpose, to manifest one's thoughts and desires, which is why we call it reality. This emergence of the Intelligent Spirit can occur at any level: on the 24th, and on the 15th, and on the 1st, and on the 6th - everything will depend on the first incarnation. According to the rules, below the 35th density level the Spirit cannot incarnate for the first time due to the impossibility of adaptation to the material world in general, because for the first time they are embodied in plasmoid worlds of high density. And after the first incarnation, his level can change very much, no matter where he is.

14:30 Donald Walsh – writer, contactee. "Conversation with God."

Maxim: Irina, they ask who Donald Walsh is? Do you know someone like that?

Irina: Yes, but I haven't read his books, only a few paragraphs or a chapter were sent to me. This is a writer, a contactee, who wrote the book "Conversation with God." In principle, from what he writes, I believed from vibrations that he communicates, at least, with a spiritual entity that belongs to the Spiritual world, like our Angel or Archangel. Why does he call himself God? Because he is fully aware of himself as part of God. I wouldn't even be surprised if he communicates with one of the avatars, as they say now, or the phantoms of Christ. His book is structured in a question-answer format: he asks a question to God, that is, to the one with whom he communicates, and receives an answer. And judging by the questions and answers that I read, for example, regarding information from the Spiritual World, he has a fairly high level.

15:47 Why can't the Creator incarnate?

Maxim: Why can't the Creator himself incarnate?

Irina: Because not only a material body, but not even a single Galaxy can contain it. His consciousness is very multifaceted, multifunctional. Even if special conditions were required for the incarnation of his Firstborn Son, then no material body at all can be selected for the incarnation of God: neither a plasmoid, nor a humanoid, because if he incarnates and limits himself to any material body, he will no longer be able to be with with your Energy and control processes throughout the Universe.

16:33 The Son of God on Earth is any intelligent Spirit.

Maxim: An interesting question: who is the Son of God on Earth?

Irina: Do you mean the Firstborn Son of God or the Son of God in general?

Maxim: In general, let's figure out who the Son of God is on Earth.

Irina: Son of God is a conventional name, a symbol. This is any Intelligent Spirit that is born of God. That is, all born people are sons of God and daughters of God. The words “son” or “daughter” were invented to express the process of being born from God in understandable earthly language. For example, for plasmoids this will be expressed differently. For humanoids who do not have the designation of parenthood and childhood as on Earth, there will be a completely different definition. You need to understand that this is an image of birth. A very close image, for example, of how rays emanate from the Sun. We can say that the ray is the son of the Sun. Because the words “son” or “child of God” or “child of God” fully reflect the fact that he potentially carries within himself all the Divine Energies. And every Spirit is the same God as his Father. Why? Because, as you know, there is nature, in this case genetic. Based on genetic characteristics, for example, if a person has a child, then we also call him a genetic person. He is not genetically an animal. So it is here, but only birth occurs in the Spirit, therefore in this case it is a genetic spiritual nature. If God gave birth to the Spirit, then the Spirit cannot be any other being than God. He is by nature the same God as the one who gave birth to him.

18:40 Can a person who has done wrong and repented raise his spiritual level? Metanoia.

Maxim: Can a person who has done bad things, repenting, claim a not very low level, or can nothing help him? That is, can a person raise his spiritual level if he repents of what he has done?

Irina: Our concept of the word “repented” may differ from the understanding of the Higher Divine Spiritual structures. Repentance, as our religion presents it, is most often a request for forgiveness, regret for one’s sin. Of course, all these feelings can accompany repentance, which can really change the spiritual level. The Bible contains the word “metanoia,” which in our Synodal Translation of the New Testament sounds like “repentance.” So “metanoia” means a change in the mind: “met” means change, “noya” means the mind. In order for a request for forgiveness, regret about what has been done to bring with it a change of mind, it is necessary to realize that what a person has done is really bad, it has led him to degradation, to some harmful consequences for others, for himself, and most importantly - it has led him to lowering his vibrations to such an extent that he became unable to sense and adequately perceive the Love and Light of God. The Light is always the same, only those who have lowered in vibration feel it as fire, Energy - the Love of God - feel it as the wrath of God. That's why there are many words in the Bible, “You will be burned by the wrath of God,” because their vibration is lower and they will not be able to perceive it as Love. Even in a conversation between two people who have very different vibrations, this difference is visible. For example, a person sends selfless Love, and another is full of anger, envy and some other negative emotions, begins to react painfully to him, gets even more angry with him, may burst into tears, begins to really hurt him - these are two people who have similar vibrations by nature. And if we are talking about God, who has the purest Love, there is an even greater difference in the perception of these energies. And in fact, in order to get to a not-so-low level after bad deeds, even a few minutes may be enough, or even a lifetime may not be enough. Everything depends on this very metanoia, on the change of mind that may or may not occur in the spiritual heart of a person. Remember the episode from the Bible, when Christ died on the cross, who was the first person he took with him to heaven, that is, to the highest spiritual level? Not the Pharisee who performed all the rituals. He took with him a robber who killed people, and he was executed next to Jesus on the cross. After several words spoken by the thief, Christ said: “Truly I tell you, you will be with me in paradise.” The robber would not have time to correct his karma, because... he simply would not have had enough time, he was already dying. Moreover, he was not even baptized, meaning with water, as the followers of Christ are baptized now. Some write that he was baptized in blood, that blood splashed on him, perhaps, but that is not the point. And the fact is that in these few minutes he managed to utter several words that immediately took him to a new level. Not the words themselves, of course, but his inner spiritual state; by the way, among these words there was no word “forgive.” He did not ask for forgiveness, but began to calm the thief who was crucified with them and even in this state mocked Christ. He said:“Prove now that you are the Son of God! Come down from the cross and save yourself and us!” But the first robber, with whom metanoia occurred, said to his comrade: “Why are you saying that? We were crucified for a cause, and he did nothing wrong.” Then he turned to Christ and said: “Remember me when you come to your Kingdom.” You see that he did not say “sorry”, but simply asked to remember him, because he understood that he had fallen so low in vibrations that he was no longer suitable for heaven. And yet, sincere understanding took him to a high level. This is the path and the answer to your question.

24:50 Who are Spiritual Teachers and Spiritual Mentors?

Maxim: Thank you! They ask: who are Spiritual Teachers, Spiritual Mentors?

Irina: Teacher in meaning comes from the word “teach”, Mentor - from “mentoring”. In fact, in many ways these words are synonyms; it is the one who gives instructions, teaches. A spiritual mentor is one who leads along the path of spiritual development, spiritual growth. He can be in a physical body, like, for example, a spiritual mentor in a monastery - simply a more experienced person in spiritual development begins to mentor a beginner. In fact, this does not depend on age at all; a young man may be a mentor to the elders who came to him. Everything is measured by the age of spiritual wisdom. As for mentors not in the physical body. In our country this is usually referred to as “curator”. In the terminology of the Interstellar Union, a curator is usually called a Mentor who comes either from the worlds of the Interstellar Union, that is, from another planet, or from subtle planes of reality, i.e. The Mentor directly is not from the world where the person himself lives. The curator can also be one’s own Guardian Angel from the Spiritual World. Any curator can be called a Teacher or Mentor, and the contact person himself is also a teacher and mentor for this curator, because spiritual mentoring is a mutual process. Even for a spiritual mentor in a physical body, his student is also a teacher, that is, he teaches him to teach and notice some shortcomings in himself that prevent this student from correctly perceiving his Light.

27:22 How to raise vibrations to level 24? Unconditional love.

Maxim: They ask: how to raise vibrations to the 24th level? Hell or heaven on Earth - everyone decides for himself according to his own perception.

Irina: First you need to understand what the 24th level is and what vibrations prevail there. Vibrations of the 24th level - for us this level is one, and then there is Light. The concept of vibration of the 24th level and above, which we no longer distinguish, can be expressed in the phrase: non-different from the vibrations of God the Father, non-different from his Perfection in Love, in the Energy of Life, in the Energy of Truth, etc. That is, this is the Spirit who, with its consciousness, has completely merged with the Consciousness of the Creator of the Universe and at the same time remained itself, perceives itself as a part of God, and perceives God as a whole, which it itself is. I am now very approximately conveying this state. In fact, many people have glimpses of this state, when we feel that we are dissolving in our surroundings, that we are permeated by Light, that we unconditionally love everyone around us, even despite the fact that they do not react to our love quite the way we would like , but a spiritually wise person will have the understanding that this person is in low vibrations and will not be able to react as we imagine from our level, because he has not yet achieved this. The 24th level is a constant stay in the consciousness of God, in the vibrations of Unconditional Love, Omnipotence, Omniscience, Omnipresence, that is, a constant stay in this Light and a state of endless happiness, truth, love and life. Now I'm just speaking in earthly language, but in fact there it is experienced as Energy that comes out of you and at the same time comes into you - it's all one. What can a person say in such a state? He can say the same thing that Jesus Christ said: "I and the Father are one." That is, these are real sensations.

How to come to these real sensations? The surest way and the most correct in this direction is to develop in yourself that very Unconditional Love, which can raise vibrations. Nothing can raise the vibrations of the Spirit except spiritual actions. Actions aimed at the body do not increase spiritual vibrations, but only develop our own vibrations in the body. Love will not come by itself, it needs to be developed, because the development of Love is a confirmation of our own choice to be in God and with God. Without confirmation of this choice, simply praying for grace to be given to us is ineffective; we must definitely manifest this in practice while we are on Earth.

How can Love manifest itself? In gratitude, patience, hard work, acceptance, forgiveness, mercy and so on. For example, you see that there are people or situations that you do not accept, do not love unconditionally, you do not want to help some person in any way you could, and are not inclined to give him unconditional Love due to the fact that he does not match yours. expectations - this is no longer Unconditional Love. At the 24th level there should not be even the slightest trace of condemnation of oneself, nor the world, nor God, nor any Spirits around, there should be complete awareness that everything is in unity. Even demons. In fact, this is a state of happiness from Unconditional Love.

How to achieve it? The fact is that it is possible and necessary to turn to God with a prayer for the gift of Love, but we must understand that Love itself will not come to us simply as a gift from God, because then it will not have any value for us. If we ask for Love, God will send us through His Spiritual Angels, Mentors, Teachers and through the events of our lives such situations in which we can develop this Love, and we will need to accustom ourselves to show Love, even when our egoistic aspirations do not want it. , because otherwise we will not develop it.

33:53 Who is Lucifer, what level is he at?

Maxim : Thank you! There are a lot of questions about Lucifer. Who is he, what level is he at, and, in general, where did the concept of “Lucifer” come from, and why do they say that he is a fallen Angel?

Irina: The fact is that the word “fall” in this case means lowering your vibrations. "Lucifer" in Latin means "bringer of Light." Initially, he realized himself as an Angel at the 24th level and was very close to God. But with the passage of some incarnations on the planet Selbet, for example, he lowered his vibrations first to the 18th level, and then to the 6th at the moment when he was incarnated as a Selbetian, who on Earth wanted to poison our ancestors with fruits from the Kharoul tree , which belonged to the Tumesoutians. The same story that is recorded in the Bible in mythological form as the story of the temptation from the serpent. Because of what he had done, he moved to the 6th level, left incarnation and no longer incarnated in the material world. As you know, all incarnations occur only voluntarily, that is, if he wishes, he cannot be denied incarnation, but so far he has not shown such a desire. He continues to remain at the 6th level and is not a snake now. He was a snake, at the time of his incarnation into a reptilian he was combined with the genetics of the reptilian body, therefore in the Biblical stories snakes are a symbol of some evil forces. But now he has parted with this body, left it, is on the 6th spiritual level, at which the Archons or Demon Lords are located. He is not alone at this level, there are a sufficient number of Spirits who got there, lowering or raising their vibrations, if they are from lower levels. They naturally have the right to incarnate and try to raise their vibrations in order to rise higher to the level of average Spirits or to the level of Angels - this is absolutely not limited by anything other than the choice of the Spirit and its real actions to consolidate this choice. Lucifer is our brother, just like any demon. How is he different from us?

By the fact that he decided that the Love of God limits his and our freedom as independent individuals, he considered that the laws of God, which were invented for spiritual growth, for example, the law of cause and effect, etc., say that if we did evil, then it returns to us later in a different form. Lucifer considers it a certain limitation on the absolute freedom to do what you want, what you choose, and not receive consequences. Because he believes that receiving consequences is such unloving. These are the concepts he and other Archons have. Meade has already sent a request to the Archon level for a conversation with one of them, but we do not know in what time frame this can be arranged. MidgasKaus and LiShioni, as specialists in astral travel and the study of the astral world and Spiritual worlds, went to their level. They realized after talking with these entities that they understand this Divine Love differently than we do. They want to be completely independent and autonomous from it, but at the same time Divine Energy supports their existence. They believe that the support of this existence and, one might say, the refusal of God to make these spiritual entities completely autonomous is no longer freedom.

39:19 How to get out of negative vibrations.

Maxim: I see. Let's continue this topic. How to get out of negative vibrations?

Irina: At least some example of what to work with.

Maxim: For example, someone hates someone. How to get rid of hatred?

Irina: If the person himself wants to get rid of hatred?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Let me give you an example. If you realize that you hate a person, but want to get rid of it, you must first recognize the reason why you hate him, remember the situation that led to this hatred, and, through the process of self-reflection, get in touch with your Higher Self , ask yourself: why did this person do this, what goals did he pursue for himself or for another person, what did he want to achieve by this, why did everything turn out this way, and was there any part of your participation in this situation? It is advisable to analyze this situation by learning to look at yourself from the outside. Look at your past like watching a TV screen on which two or more people are acting, and from the outside you will be able to make your own opinion about their actions when you realize the true reasons, for example: I hate him because he wanted to kill me, he attacked me, or because he killed my relative, deprived him of his physical embodiment. How can I stop hating this person? You need to realize that if you were not killed, it means that God decided to intervene in this situation and leave you in this incarnation. This means that you did not complete the task for which you came, and leaving the incarnation could interfere with the implementation of the plans of others, for this God limited the freedom of choice of this killer, that is, he simply saved you. It happens that God limits the choice of some evil person so that other people can fulfill their incarnation tasks. God is outside of time and sees the consequences of all actions. Therefore, in this case, he decided to leave you in incarnation. Accordingly, if this happened, then in order to stop hating a person, you must ask: “Why did he decide so, for what reason did he hate me so much, was so angry that he took such a step, was envious or jealous of me, what was caused his feeling? And you will gradually train yourself to put yourself in the other person’s shoes and experience their emotions. In this case, you will understand that at the current level of spiritual development at which the person you hate is located, given his current upbringing, spiritual level, concepts about life, he could not have acted differently. That is, his choice was led to by a series of certain events in which he participated earlier, and it is unknown how you would behave if you were born in his conditions and went through his entire path. When you realize this, you will understand that you cannot condemn, because hatred is based on condemnation. You understand that you cannot condemn a person, because he is the same son of God as you, even if he tried to take your physical life or took the life of your relative. He did this out of a state of unconsciousness, not understanding that his eternal Spirit exists, he does not even believe in his eternal life, since he goes for it. Or he believes in it, but does not recognize it at the level of awareness, he simply believes it, as in what, for example, he read. This is a person’s unawareness, the absence of Love in his heart, he cannot experience the fullness of happiness, which is possible in high vibrations.If he does not experience this happiness, Love, then from our hatred, condemnation, anger he will not be able to come to a state of awareness. If we directed these energies at him, they will plunge him into even greater darkness. And if we send him the Light of Love and want him to become a bright divine being, then he will have an impulse for change, which he can accept or reject - this is his will, but we will raise our vibrations even more, because we let us become like God in demonstrating our Unconditional Love. Because someone tried to kill your body or killed the body of your relative, his Spirit did not suffer, he moved to another spiritual level. But if you hate a person and take revenge on him, then you will not correct this murder, because... there is no time machine for this killer to come and resurrect your relative, he cannot do this, it has already happened. By accepting this, you will automatically feel the energy to forgive him and realize that you are in one Light with him.

46:02 Opening of the School of Spiritual Development.

Maxim: About the book. Irina has already written one book, we are preparing a publication and will release it soon. Regarding the School: there are some minor changes. The opening of the School will be after the New Year, because there are slight delays, we do not have time to complete the repairs, we are trying to make everything very comfortable and cozy for you. And after the New Year, after the retreat, which I will talk about at the end of this video, we will begin training in Voronezh. So, let's continue.

46:43 What do souls do in the Spiritual world?

Maxim: Interesting question. What do souls do in the Spiritual World?

Irina: In the Spiritual world, souls live without material things, but they can mentally create images of houses, cars, animals, plants, mentally communicate with each other, can fly in space or in their own space, visit other souls, only those that are at the same level as them, or lower in vibration. Those souls that are higher, they cannot visit, because they will not go there until they raise their vibrations, and those that are lower in level can visit, temporarily lowering their vibrations in order to come there and stay there. Lowering the vibration to temporarily visit other Spirits does not mean acquiring their qualities. This is simply a temporary decrease in vibrations to be at this Spiritual level. In the same way, for example, a diver is kept at depth with the help of certain objects that make him heavy, because they do not make his body so, but are simply temporarily attached to it. Souls in the Spiritual World live by remembering their previous incarnations, comparing their last incarnation with those that came before, planning their future incarnation, where it will take place, who he will meet there, what he will have to learn or teach others, if this High level spirit. That is, his affairs are connected with the processing of the experience that he received in the material world and the representation by certain mental programs that appear in his mind as dreams of how he will act in the next incarnation. He can plan, for example, a conversation with his Spiritual Guides at the level of Consultants, which each Spirit has. Even the consultant himself has a consultant from level 23-24 who helps him through the incarnation.

49:32 Instagram resource for calculating the level of spiritual development.

Maxim: By the way, we have a resource on Instagram: @cassiopeia_level, where you can calculate your level of spiritual development.

49:51 Is it possible to communicate with the dead using any devices?

Maxim: Is it possible to communicate with the dead through any devices?

Irina: I know what this question is about. We recently had a conference. The fact is that through devices that can capture the electromagnetic spectrum of vibrations, it is much easier to communicate with the plasmoid type of civilization, because Spirits who are without a material body, in order to transmit any information through this device, must condense their spiritual essence almost to level of the plasmoid in order to influence these devices with its energy. It is a thousand times more difficult for the spirit to do this. Will he go for it? I believe, says MidgasKaus, that if he wants to communicate, it is much easier for him to find a receptive medium, a person to whom he can mentally convey this information, or who will see him in a dream, for example. There are a lot of such people on your planet who are receptive to the Spirits of the dead. All entities that communicate with researchers of the phenomenon of electronic voices, as far as I know, belong to plasmoid civilizations; perhaps plasmoids additionally communicate with the world of the dead, that is, they receive information from there. In this case, they act as some intermediaries between the world of the dead and these devices.

51:27 Why raise your vibration level? What difference does it make what vibration level a person is at?

Maxim: I see. Here's a good question: Why raise your vibration level? What difference does it make whether I am up or down in vibrations?

Irina: Indeed, a very good question. What difference can it make if you feel bad or good? What difference does it make in what you experience? Probably, in order to compare two states, you need to try both, because not only on Earth, but also in the Universe and in the Spiritual world, everything is known in comparison. That is why God came up with, created many different civilizations, the Universe, the Anti-Universe, various Galaxies, subtle and dense material worlds so that there was great diversity, so that we could compare life there, nature, vibrations. In order to decide why you need to change vibrations and whether you need to change them at all, you must understand whether you are satisfied with the current level of vibration and not only at the moment. You need to understand that you can leave this body you are in now forever at any time. You took this physical body only for a while; you composed it from the elements of the surrounding nature, which were provided to you by the Spirits of the Earth elements in order to undergo experience in this incarnation. But when you leave this incarnation, you will give this body back to the elements of nature so that they can decompose it into atoms for other bodies. Other Spirits must also come here for incarnations. Therefore, to understand whether you should change your vibrations, imagine that in a minute, in an hour you will leave this body forever. Will this level of vibration suit you over a fairly long period of time, because in the Spiritual world any time feels like eternity.

Maxim: That is, there is no time there in the conventional understanding that we have on Earth.

Irina: There is a subjective concept of time, but it is very different from ours, which is counted by the clock, because nothing changes there. There the person will constantly be in the state that he achieved at the time of parting with the body.

54:11 Communion is an energy exchange with Christ to change the vibrations of people.

Maxim: Question: is communion possible at home?

Irina : It is important if you sincerely believe that you are joining Christ, you accept him into yourself, you connect with him on a bodily level. Your whole body must accept it, believe in it. Only in this case are the vibrations that Christ, through his avatars, the Mentor Angels, sends to the Christian egregor to change the vibration of bread and wine when the priest performs prayer. Only in this way will your body and Spirit perceive them correctly. The fact is that this energy exchange between you and Christ not only exists, it gives you its vibrations to change and purify your vibrations. According to the law of energy exchange, your vibrations, your spiritual state instantly move into his aura. There are no distances here. For spiritual contact there is no difference: whether Christ is in the next room or on Burkhad - for the Spiritual world it is nearby, 670 light years or a few meters - it does not matter.

55:49 Sai Baba - who is he and what worlds and civilizations did he communicate with?

Maxim: Question from Alexey Lopatin: please tell us about Sai Baba's avatar. What can we tell you briefly about him?

Irina: When Sai Baba lived on Earth, he was a contactor with the Spiritual World and with plasmoid civilizations. We have no information about his contacts with humanoids, because... we did not specifically request such information, but we have data about his spiritual contacts with the Spiritual World, with Angels and with high-vibration plasmoid civilizations. If you are interested, you can go to him in the Spiritual World and find out what level he is at. According to the information we have, he is not incarnated now.

56:48 Is it possible to raise your vibrations while in the Spiritual world? Who created the Earth? Irina Chikunova.

Maxim: Here's an interesting question: is it possible to raise your vibrations while in the Spiritual world?

Irina: (reading) Chikunova says that planet Earth was created by Lucifer. No. The Earth, like other Galaxies, was created by God through plasmoid civilizations, which were, for example, in the Sun, and arranged the creation of the Solar system from a dust cloud. These were those plasmoid civilizations, creators, in which the Divine Energy manifested itself in such a way that they directed their energy to the creation of planets.

Maxim: They condensed their energies, lowered their vibrations to the level of the material world. That is, when they say that Lucifer created the planet, they mean that the planet was created by beings who condensed their energy, lowered their vibrations to the level of the dense material world.

Irina: If you understand that Lucifer is simply the "bringer of Light." The fact is that not only an Archon, but also any plasmoid can be called Lucifer.

Maxim: To understand what Irina Chikunova was talking about, you will need to communicate with her personally and clarify what exactly she wanted to say. Because we have slightly different terminology. We have the terminology of the Interstellar Union, Irina has the terminology of her civilization, so in order to understand what we are talking about, we need to harmonize our terminology and continue the dialogue in a harmonized terminological space. This is a very interesting question.

Irina: Is it possible to raise your vibrations while in the Spiritual world? Until you incarnate, it is impossible to either raise or lower your vibrations, because its main property is immutability. You can only remain in the vibrations in which you came there, you can change your feelings, desires, thoughts, but without real embodiments they do not lead to changes in vibrations.

59:33 What is the Divine hierarchy?

Maxim: I see. What do our curators even know about the Divine hierarchy?

Irina: This is precisely the hierarchy of Angels, which, according to our terminology, are in the vibration of Angels, from the 17th to 24th level, that is, those who most feel the Divine Light within themselves. But this is in a narrower sense. And in a broader sense, the Divine hierarchy is the entire Spiritual world. A hierarchy that depends on the number of levels of vibration types we recognize.

1:00:19 New Year's retreat in Abkhazia. Opening of the School of Spiritual Development.

Maxim: So, the broadcast is coming to an end. I want to tell you that we have finally decided on the masters and time for the New Year's retreat. It will take place in Abkhazia with luxurious New Year and Christmas programs. We will go on excursions to places of power, to New Athos, to caves. The retreat will take place over 11 days - from December 28 to January 7. The classes will be taught by 4 masters, another 4 masters will conduct healing practices on synergy and cosmoenergetics, and there will also be representatives of the Pleiadian Intergalactic Medical Service. That is, there will be a full range of sensations at the retreat. Regarding how to sign up for this retreat. We have created a small mini-site so that you can go to it and design for yourself what you want to see at this retreat: food, accommodation, excursions, New Year's shows, etc. You will have the opportunity to make a choice.

1:02:02 Can anyone, besides Irina, see the curators nearby?

Irina (reading): Irina, tell me, besides you, can anyone see the curator nearby?

Maxim: Just a second, I also forgot to tell you about the School and the Spiritual Development Center: it will be open after the New Year. On all our resources we will provide links to the site where you can sign up for this retreat.

Irina: The curator can be seen not with physical eyes, but on the astral level by those who are in a state of heightened sensitivity. Many have already told me that on the astral level they can see where MidgasKaus, Raom Tiyan or LiShioni are. And even when I asked them to move, but I didn't look where they were moving, then the person still showed that he felt them there, he saw them not with his physical eyes, but on his inner screen. Why am I turning around? Because a person has an automatic reflex to turn to where he senses a presence. But I see them on the internal screen, and if I am focused on a conversation with you, then I just feel them.

Maxim: When the School opens, we will build your sensitivity so that first of all you learn to feel your highest spiritual structure, your Higher Self. And then, raising vibrations, set up contact with your curators, mentors and other structures that can, according to your vibrations come into contact with you.

Guys, bye everyone! We were glad to hear and see everyone.

Irina: Bye everyone!

Maxim: If suddenly we said or did something wrong to someone, I personally apologize. See you, until new broadcasts! See you at retreats and trainings. We love you all and send the light of our Love!

Irina: See you again!

Irina: Nobody said anything bad about Ukraine. What's wrong with it?

Maxim: I'll explain. I meant that the coup that took place in Ukraine was illegal. Belarus did not make such a coup. If you want to change power, then this must be done officially, through the electoral system. We are for compliance with the law, for people to make their choices legally.

Irina: In fact, we call a coup the actions that led to the war. There is currently a civil war in your country. Armenia and Azerbaijan are watching us - hello everyone! Taking this opportunity, I would like to wish peace to the Earth with all my heart. Representatives of the Interstellar Union very much regret the situation that has developed between your countries, and send you their Light of Love so that your rulers harmonize with themselves and with each other as soon as possible, so that people stop dying, and so that peace is restored on your land.

With us today is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, he greets everyone, LiShioni from the planet Shimor, and since today we have questions about the Interstellar Union, there is a representative from the planet Burkhad - Raom Tiyan, who is on the council of the Interstellar Union and is a representative of its capital and one of the creators of our bodies.

Maxim: As always, I will start our broadcast with a question to Raom Tiyan.

06:17 Intergalactic news. Planet Thisiona and the question of its entry into the MS.

Maxim : Raom Tiyan, over the last week, what news from the Galaxy did you find most interesting?

Irina: Since today's topic is about the Interstellar Union, I will give news that specifically relates to its policy. Just recently, at the beginning of this week, maybe a little earlier, Tumesout decided to withdraw his ships from the zone of influence of the planet Thisiona. This planet is located in the constellation Draco, it is inhabited by creatures of the reptilian race, who have been at war for more than 80 years to join the Interstellar Union. Three races are fighting, two of which are for the preservation of the planetary Government without joining the Interstellar Union. This situation has continued since the moment Tumesout gave evidence of his existence through contactees. They began to have contradictions that led to military clashes. Representatives of Tumesout and other representatives of the Interstellar Union have still not been able to harmonize them. Now Tumesout has decided to remove his presence altogether so that they themselves can achieve peace, because... the two races did not negotiate as long as Tumesout maintained its presence in the system of this star.

08:28 Number of civilizations in contact with Earth.

Maxim : Raom Tiyan, please tell me how many civilizations from the Interstellar Union are in contact with Earth? And how many civilizations are in contact with Earth?

Irina: Any civilization that is not part of the Interstellar Union can contact the Earth, for example, from another Galaxy or from the Galactic Federation of Light. But 42 civilizations are in constant contact with earthlings, of which only 6, until recently, were allowed physical contact. One of them is Burkhad. The rest communicate at the level of mental, astral and telepathic contacts. They were allowed one-time or occasional contacts (usually no more than 3 times) to install chips on the contactees. For example, the planet Esler falls into this category.

Maxim : How many civilizations are included in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Currently, the Interstellar Union includes 116 civilizations. And now the 117th is preparing to join. Within a few weeks, or at most in a month, information about her entry will be known.

09:57 How old is the Interstellar Union? Founders of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim : How long has the Interstellar Union existed?

Irina: The Interstellar Union has existed for about 15 million of your Earth years.

Maxim : What civilizations formed the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Initially, 5 civilizations united. These were the planets Burhad

(our ancestors), Tumesout, Shimor, another one you call Tillari, Tuluari (the civilization of Lyra), and the civilization of Sirius, which is now represented by Ashtar.

11:13 About financial support for contactees.

Maxim : Why don't you financially support contactees?

Irina: Any financial support for the contactee will be for his loved ones and those around him proof of his physical contact with the Interstellar Union, which has no legitimacy on the territory of earthly states.

11:39 Divorce and abortion in the Interstellar Union.

Maxim : Are there divorces between males and females in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Yes, they exist. In the field of family law, they have their own laws, everything is different for everyone. For example, not everyone has the same documents as earthlings. Many civilizations have electronic systems built into their bodies. Personal identification, like DNA, can be recognized by reading devices. If there are marriages, then there are also divorces if two spouses feel that for some reason they can no longer be together. There are no legal obstacles on this issue.

Maxim : Do you have abortions?

Irina: Deliberate deprivation of life from the incarnate Spirit from the moment of conception is prohibited. This is the Law.

13:24 Representatives of the Interstellar Union about material evidence of their existence.

Irina: Returning to the issue of voting, which is actively going on on the Cassiopeia channel. MidgasCaus says he has seen quite a few comments through Irina. He saw that a lot of people were voting to join the Interstellar Union. I want to emphasize that the vote is on a completely different issue: to give or not to give evidence. If you give, then why? If not, then why not? Or the third option. I want to emphasize that your planet cannot be accepted into the Interstellar Union until your own power structures cease all hostilities on their territory and adhere to a peaceful settlement of the issue for 5 Earth years. Until all states abolish the death penalty on their territories (for any crime), and until the law on deciding the fate of a conceived child by its parents is abolished. The life of a conceived child should be protected by the state in the same way as a born one. After all, except for age, they are no different from each other.

Raom Tiyan says that the results of off-topic voting, for example, option No. 1, when people ask for our help to join the MC, will not be taken into account. A big request to everyone. While there is still time before the end of voting, please listen to the video, which was very well voiced by our friend and employee Vladimir Goldstein, and vote on the topic. Otherwise your votes will not be counted.

16:07 Conditions for joining the Interstellar Union.

Maxim : Can you once again voice the conditions under which you can join the Interstellar Union?

Irina: There are three main conditions. The rest of them follow.

The first condition: the absence of organized military operations on Earth with any military forces. Here we mean both wars between states and wars between individual parts of one state - what you call a civil war. You simply stop all hostilities for 5 years and resolve any issues - territorial, religious, division of natural resources, etc. - only through peaceful negotiations, without involving the army. If for 5 years no bombs explode or military missiles fly on the territories of your planet, then this will indicate a certain level of consciousness, about your readiness to join our community.

The second condition: bringing all penal codes that prescribe punishment for criminals to the standards of the Interstellar Union, especially regarding the death penalty. Absolutely all states of the Earth must abolish it. This will speak about the level of consciousness of your power structures and intelligence services, i.e. understanding that if a criminal has broken the law and lowered his spiritual vibrations, then if you deprive him of his physical body without the opportunity to reach high vibrations, he will simply go into a state of hatred for your race, in a state of anger, rejection, and he will again be sent to embodiment here so that he can go through his lesson again. You will get the same criminal, only in the body of a child, and even with lessons not completed. Those. you will begin to understand what eternal life is when, by killing the body, you do not kill the Spirit. You are simply depriving him of the opportunity to come to God in this incarnation, to dissolve these blocks, to correct the mental attitudes that led him to crime.

The third condition: respect for human life from the moment of its conception. Naturally, this does not include those cases that your medicine cannot solve. For example, if pregnancy poses a threat to the mother's health. If your medicine is objectively unable to resolve this issue while preserving the life and health of the mother, then, naturally, such a pregnancy must be terminated. But first, the mother needs to visit a psychologist who will take her to the Higher Self, contact the Spirit of the child and explain the situation that the development of his body has gone wrong, and so that he does not interrupt his mother’s life, she must interrupt his life. After all, she also has her own tasks to implement. Other reasons for abortion must be eliminated. The intrauterine life of a fetus and the life of a born child are no different in their value for his Spirit, except for the age of the body. Those. all your states, the UN must recognize the primacy of Spirit over matter.

The remaining laws follow from these three. For example, cleanse your planet of the most dangerous weapons, start building waste processing plants, do not extract too many resources from the environment and do not pollute it. Bringing all the laws of your states into order so that your power structures take care of the weakest and most backward members of your society. Because these are children of God just like you, these are your brothers and sisters. Based on how you treat vulnerable segments of the population, the developed civilizations of the Interstellar Union look at the spiritual level of development of your civilization.

21:40 Interstellar Union control system.

Maxim : Is the Interstellar Union controlled collectively or individually by some civilization?

Irina: Burkhad is the elected capital of the Interstellar Union, which was originally chosen by 4 other civilizations. It serves as a meeting place for the Interstellar Union, where there are special spaceports for ships. I remember one spaceport.

Maxim: Irina was on Burkhad, so she remembers him.

Irina: From each civilization one or more representatives are selected - this is already decided by the civilization itself - for the Council of the Interstellar Union, who already jointly make decisions on the policy of the Interstellar Union in the Intergalactic Union, as well as among themselves and with other external civilizations.

23:23 Entry of individual earthlings into the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Is it possible to accept individual earthlings into the Interstellar Union?

Irina: What will this give to an earthling? For what?

Maxim: This is a question in our chat.

Irina: This will not be valid for earthlings and your earthly law.

24:10 About the school of contactees.

Maxim : Regarding the School from Burkhad. There was a slight delay in the opening of the School; it will open after the New Year's retreat, where you will be able to communicate with representatives of the Interstellar Union, establish contact with your Higher Self, with your curators, mentors and, accordingly, communicate through Irina with representatives of any of the civilizations not only of the Interstellar Union, but also the Galactic Federation of Light, the Intergalactic Medical Service and many other civilizations, for example, Kryon. We also have Irina Chikunova, who communicates with the Hamilia civilization.

25:00 Objectives of the Cassiopeia project. Conclusion of a contract with reptilians.

Irina: They also ask about Karina Angela.

Maxim : Guys, please be careful. A huge number of scammers are appearing who are trying to intimidate you: supposedly we are establishing some kind of ties to reptilians. In fact, they do this in order to free you from these attachments in the future for money. We do not establish any bindings! We carry the Light of True Love that our interstellar friends transmit to us. We have no tasks either for enslavement, or for establishing attachments, or for other destructive moments. You yourself can use your heart to watch all our videos, read articles and decide what we do and what we do. Please be careful with scammers who are trying to make money from your fears.

Irina: I want to convey greetings and the Light of my Love to Karina, if she watches me, and address both her and all listeners. Karina said that Archangel Michael gave her information about reptilians. And our vote, she said, is the conclusion of a contract with the reptilian race. The fact is that Archangel Michael, with whom I communicated, is a disembodied Spirit at the moment. And for him, as a servant of God, as an Angel of a very high rank and level, as a patron of the Earth, the races of reptilians, anthropomorphs or insectoids are different forms of life of dense material spirits. And all these races are divine for him, because spirits go through their incarnations in these races with their consent to these incarnations. And everyone goes through their own lesson in this race. Therefore, he will never talk about concluding a contract with reptilians or anyone else. After all, even the phrase “a contract is concluded with reptilians” tunes a person’s consciousness to hostility towards this race. And for him everyone is equal, because he knows perfectly well that the reptilian race was also created by plasmoid civilizations through their Divine Light. In other words, reptilian civilizations were also created by God through their various essences, through their children, just like us.

Maxim : Therefore, there is no need to shift all the responsibility onto the reptilians, especially to intimidate people and then remove the bindings from them for money.

27:52 Children have contactors with a chip.

Maxim : Can a contactee with a chip have children?

Irina: Of course it can. The chip doesn't interfere with this in any way. To have or not to have children is the choice of the person himself and the choice of the Spirit who will incarnate through him.

28: 13 Number of civilizations of the Interstellar Union in contact with Earth.

Maxim : Raom Tiyan, how many civilizations of the Interstellar Union are in contact with Earth?

Irina: More or less often - 42.

Maxim : Do they have bases all over the globe?

Irina: Not everyone has bases on Earth. Some have them on the Moon, while others have no bases in the Solar System at all. They have astral contacts.

28: 47 Online training for contactees.

Maxim : I would like to add that we are planning online training. But for this you will need to select a program on energy practices, communication with the Higher Self, i.e. some simple things like that. Setting up contacts and setting up a contactee does not take place online and will only be carried out in the Center.

29:18 The role of Jesus Christ in the Interstellar Union and on Earth.

Maxim : What is the role of Christ in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Very interesting question. Since Christ is now incarnate, he is officially one of the leaders of the Council of the Interstellar Union, although he is rarely physically present at these meetings, because is on his island in order (as Mirakh Count has already explained) to harmonize all those energies that he voluntarily exchanges with earthlings to raise vibrations through certain rituals of the egregor he created. The fact is that he is often present at meetings of the Interstellar Union in the form of an astral body, i.e. in the form of one of his phantoms (and he has a lot of them), which he sends to different places in our Galaxy, including to Earth. Here he has many contactees who contact his avatars or phantoms, parts of his astral body, which he charges, for example, for the transfer of energy, information, contacts.

30: 46 Explanation about Karina Angel.

Maxim : Dear friends, Irina did not call Karina a fraudster. I will now explain to you the situation that happened. Karina is truly a contact person. But in her video on Fiolent we saw that she was in some kind of state of altered consciousness. Whether she took any medications or not, we don’t know and we can’t talk about it. But what we saw in the video that she deleted was that Karina greatly lowered her vibration level, and therefore low-vibration plasmoid civilizations and low-vibration spiritual entities began to contact her, transmitting information to her. We didn't call her a fraud. Karina has a very good built contact. But due to the fact that she lowered her vibrations, destructive low-vibration entities began to contact her.

Irina: Yes, in fact she came to see me. And I actually called it more energy than body, a very high vibrational Spirit. At that moment, Light was coming from her, and I felt it very well. I will repeat again: she is a contactee. The way she behaved in a way that was not entirely familiar to those around her was the result of her contact with plasmoid civilizations. The fact is that a person can change a lot in his life. After leaving me, she made some decisions for herself. For example, she took on faith the words that low-vibration plasmoids told her, that her fears about the same reptilians, magical bindings, and so on were true.

If she had continued to recognize herself as that pure Light that is in unity with God, which she was here with me (she and I went out into the Astral), then she would never be afraid and scare other people with reptilians or another race. At that moment, she perfectly understood and realized this. Karina, if you see or read me now, the main thing is to remember, please, that no one can conclude a contract! This is a violation of free will. The angels will never allow a contract to be concluded simply by putting it to a vote. You are simply being misled. Why? Because if you can conclude a contract for many incarnations through voting, then free will is abolished. No reptilians can cancel the Law that is given by God, because God is stronger than reptilians. And in order to conclude a contract with them, you need to do it consciously, otherwise this contract will not have any force even with the person who turns to you.

34:02 Thirst during contact. Water is a conductor of information.

Maxim : They ask why Irina always drinks water? What do you need water for?

Irina: When I am in contact and talking to you, I am very thirsty. As MidgasKaus says, metabolic processes are taking place in my body. Those. my thirst is due to the fact that they exchange energies with me. Water is a conductor of information. In order for me to convey this information to you purely and without distortion, I need to drink water from time to time. In fact, this happens to many contactees. This is fine.

34: 52 Drugs and alcohol among the civilizations of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim : Another question. Quite interesting, in continuation of what we just talked about. Do the civilizations of the Interstellar Union have drugs and alcohol?

Irina: This means all substances that alter consciousness.

Maxim: Yes. Perhaps they are called something else there. Maybe the same chemicals. Like we have drug addicts and alcoholics, who then need to be treated.

Irina: On some planets such drugs are indeed common. These are chemicals that change the vibrations of the brain, but they can only be sold (as Kirchiton once told me about antidotes) only together with drugs that eliminate their effect on consciousness. This happens on those planets that have recently joined the Interstellar Union, because among our requirements for planets there is no requirement not to sell such substances. We understand very well that the use of these substances and dependence on them arise due to internal blocks and problems of spiritual growth that exist among young races. But as soon as a civilization goes through a certain experience of life in the Interstellar Union, then life itself in the Interstellar Union, teaching our subjects according to galactic standards: how to communicate with your Spirit, the Higher Self, how to go to the Astral, achieve these states on your own, without any chemical stimulants, contradicts the use of mind-altering substances, and users themselves stop purchasing them. And their production itself is dying out as unnecessary. In the Interstellar Union there is a Law according to which any substance that changes consciousness, even the most harmless to the body, must be sold along with a package of a substance that completely eliminates its effect on the body, so that there is no harm, addiction, and so on.

37: 29 Possibility of relocating people to Burhad.

Maxim : Irina, I read in the chat why some earthlings want individual entry into the Interstellar Union: because they want to move to the planet Burkhad. Is this possible?

Irina: The fact is that, purely theoretically, the resettlement of contactees to other planets is possible. But here you need to remember that the specialists of the Interstellar Union will be guided by how your disappearance will look for your, for example, relatives, for earthly structures, and so on. Those. in any case, you will be asked how you will explain to those who remain on Earth and will be looking for you, your flight to Burkhad or to another planet. Raom Tiyan does not remember such precedents that one of their specialists agreed to relocate a person forever to another planet. However, curators regularly receive such requests through contactees, and they are asked: “Why don’t you regret those who will remain on Earth or consider you dead?” This is already considered a form of selfishness.

39:05 The activity of Jesus Christ at the present time.

Maxim : Why is Jesus Christ not in the Spiritual world?

Irina: He himself made this choice to return to his body. After his body was killed on Earth and crucified, he himself made the choice to return to his body and resurrect it. By his resurrection, i.e. By returning from a dead state to a living state, he erased the programs of aging and death in each of his cells and forever remained an immortal body. His Spirit animates every cell of his body every second, and it cannot die, of course, unless he is again deprived of incarnation by violent means. But in Burkhad, naturally, no one will do this. He made such a decision in order to remain in a body that has the vibrations of an earthling (since his mother was from the Earth), through these vibrations of his, transmit his energy to the Earth into the Spiritual world, transmit the vibrations of the firstborn son of the God of Love to those earthlings who agree purely and consciously go through the ritual of union with his flesh and blood through the images of bread and wine, which were developed by the Burkhadians, Tumesoutians and angels from the Spiritual world in the process of developing your Christian religion. You call it communion. Everyone who passes through it receives the vibration of Christ, i.e. connects with her on a bodily level. But at the same time, you need to remember that energy exchange occurs. No matter how low or high the vibration of that person is, they are moving towards Christ. He begins to process them into higher ones. But every day thousands of earthlings with different vibrations receive communion - from low to high.

Maxim: You can talk about Christ for a long time, but we already had a separate topic about him. This is a very high vibrational personality in terms of the Universe and Galaxy. Let's move on to the next question.

41: 47 Irina’s purpose in this incarnation.

Maxim: Irina, when they signed a contract with you at the age of 13, didn’t they take advantage of your non-adult status? Did your older brothers catch you in the fact that your choice, like the acceptance of these contacts, was unconscious?

Irina: Please remember yourself at 13 years old. Were you unconscious at that moment? The person is already in 7th grade, reads books, knows the situation about the world.

Maxim: Irina, do I understand correctly that you consciously made your choice and still support it to continue contacts?

Irina: I can refuse contacts at any time. I have the right to this. Each contactee has the right to refuse contact if he understands that this does not correspond to his goals and objectives of implementation. And the contact fully corresponds to my goals and objectives of incarnation, because this is exactly why I incarnated here. But not only to bring you information about the Interstellar Union. Aliens are, of course, good and interesting. But I also incarnated to show each of you the path to the Spiritual world to your own Self, the true Self, which you call the Higher Self. In order not just to take you to it, but to teach others to do it.

43:32 Lack of information about aliens in the Bible.

Maxim: Why doesn't the Bible say anything about aliens?

Irina: For the same reason that the Bible does not say about the inhabitants of North America or China. The Bible is not about different peoples, and certainly not about different planets. The Bible is about something completely different - about the spiritual path of human development.

43: 53 Determining your ability to make contacts. Contact with the Higher Self.

Maxim: How do you understand that you have the ability to make contact?

Irina: Capable of contacting aliens or the Higher Self?

Maxim: With the Higher Self, with aliens, with plasmoid civilizations. How do you understand that you are capable of contact?

Irina: You need to understand that there are no people who are unable to contact the Higher Self - after all, every person is an embodied part of the Spirit in a physical body. What makes us incapable of contact with the Higher Self, and through it, contact with our curators, is our lack of faith in the Spiritual world, in ourselves, lack of faith in God, doubts about the need for this contact, in its usefulness, as well as negative emotions - blocks, grievances, fears, hatred, anger, envy, jealousy, i.e. all negative passions and desires that prevent this Light from passing through correctly. If you have none of this or are present to a small extent, then nothing will prevent you from connecting with your Higher Self and contacting it. And only the lack of contact with the Higher Self makes it impossible or very difficult for you to contact your curators, no matter where they are from. Through the Higher Self, contact with curators is established in any case. So there are no obstacles here, except your own mental attitudes that generate negativity.

45: 58 Unconscious contact with representatives of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Dear viewer, when you write that we are scammers, please write who we deceived and when, if you have evidence of this. And we have already heard your personal opinion; there is no need to repeat that we are scammers.

So, the question is: is it possible for a person to request a curator from the Interstellar Union?

Irina: If a person asks such a question, then he can ask it for a reason. Perhaps he is already in unconscious contact with representatives of the Interstellar Union. It’s just that at first he will perceive such contact through his energy structure as a desire to contact him. We need to figure out why he wants this, and whether he is in contact now.

46: 28 Personal life and activities of Irina.

Maxim: Irina, people are asking whether you are married or not?

Irina: No, I am currently not married.

Maxim: Were you ready to get married?

Irina: Yes, of course. I have had relationships with two men. But now I live alone. I devote all my free time to working with people to lead them to the Higher Self, talk about the Interstellar Union, write articles, decipher the Bible, respond to comments, etc. This takes up all my free time. In this incarnation I have no task of getting married and having children.

47:17 Stupidity is unawareness of the Spirit, acting on instincts.

Maxim: Is our civilization the stupidest in the Galaxy?

Irina: Civilization cannot be stupid (all the alien guests laughed)! Mead smiles and says that civilization cannot be stupid. As far as he understands earthly psychology, stupidity is the unawareness of the Spirit in his life, i.e. action at the level of instincts. He says: “Maxim, did I understand correctly?”

Maxim: Yes, that's right.

Irina: There are simply no such concepts in Eslerian language. They do not call mental states with any specific words. These are called spiritual states. Mead says they have no analogues like this. In their concept, these are actions based on instincts. Therefore, the entire civilization cannot act on instincts and be stupid. If you mean, does the Interstellar Union believe that on your planet there is a much larger percentage of people who live by instinct, then no, we do not think so. There are civilizations in which the embodied Spirits are even more unconscious, who do not want to hear anything at all about the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: So I say, if you behave badly, next time you will be incarnated on the planet of the apes, where they beat each other with sticks .

48:48 Sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Guys, I want to add a little more about Jesus Christ. When I found out what kind of sacrifice Jesus Christ made, I realized how deep his sacrifice was. He deprived himself of the opportunity to incarnate in thousands of millions of worlds, being in one body, and waiting for that moment , when you and I raise our level of awareness and join the Interstellar Union. He's waiting for us. He fully supports the Christian religious egregor. It completely transmits through itself all the low vibrations that we project when we accept this egregor. Therefore, his sacrifice is invaluable.

Irina: Maxim has very good vibrations. He is never aggressive towards anyone. And I'm surprised that some people think the opposite.

Maxim: It’s okay, Maxim always has the opportunity to protect Irina in any actions and situations. Therefore, if someone thinks that I am very aggressive, you should get to know me better in person and communicate. And then draw your own conclusions.

Irina: MidgasKaus just says that in order to talk about a person from a condemning position, for example, that someone is aggressive, greedy or envious, you must cite not just your perceptions, but the specific fact of aggression.

Maxim: Please write how my aggression manifested itself.

Irina: This will already be a constructive dialogue. If Maxim sees that you are right, he will change his behavior. And if there is no truthfulness, then why write or say such words.

Maxim: It's just that sometimes, in order to be heard better behind the scenes, I have to speak louder.

Irina: Thank you!

50: 38 Waste processing plants of the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: How does the Interstellar Union deal with garbage?

Irina: MidgasCaus says that they have factories that process waste into elements, which are then used again to produce certain things. He is very surprised that this is not developed here.

51:01 How studied are the stars in our Galaxy?

Maxim: How studied are the stars in our Galaxy?

Irina: The stars in our Galaxy have not all been studied yet, since expeditions have not been sent to all of them. At the moment, about 72-75% have been more or less studied, but there are still stars in various clusters and nebulae, where we are still planning to send our expeditions.

51: 27 The influence of spiritual vibrations and actions on human health.

Maxim: Do our actions affect our health?

Irina: Not only our actions affect our health, MidgasKaus says that our actions and health are influenced by our spiritual vibrations. What is spiritual vibration? This is a quality of our Spirit that manifests itself in a certain way both in actions and in the health of the physical body. Our actions are a reflection of our thoughts. And our health is also a reflection of our thoughts, feelings, emotions. No matter how a person acts: good or bad, there are reasons for the action based on vibrations. The state of health shows a person's inner hidden beliefs and feelings, which he sometimes hides from others all his life.

52: 35 Contactors from Ukraine.

Maxim: Are there contactors in Ukraine?

Irina: Yes, of course. They are found in every country in the world.

Maxim: By the way, a very interesting healer contactee from Ukraine is joining our team. We'll talk about it later.

52:51 Number of habitable planets in our Galaxy.

Maxim: How many inhabited planets are there in our Galaxy now? Atleast approximately.

Irina: As it was, 727 planets so far. Inhabited specifically by intelligent races?

Maxim: Yes, intelligent races. The same as us, similar to us at least.

Irina: Humanoids, that is. dense material?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Currently 727.

Maxim: How many thin-material plasmoid civilizations are there in our Galaxy?

Irina: About 8,000. MidgasCaus says they are opening them all the time. It’s just that those stars that were discovered earlier are discovering new levels of density. It is believed that there are tens of times more fine-material races than dense-material races, because there are more levels of density.

53: 49 Number of physical and non-physical contactees of the Interstellar Union on Earth.

Maxim: How many contactees does the Interstellar Union have on Earth? This refers to contactees with real physical contact and those who contact at the astral level.

Irina: Do all races belong to the Interstellar Union?

Maxim: Yes. At least approximately, some number of real physical and non-physical contactees?

Irina: According to the latest information, at the moment there are about 4,800 contactees with physical contact on Earth, belonging to all races. And somewhere around 200,000 - 250,000 astral, mental, telepathic contactees who are in contact with representatives of dense material civilizations of the Interstellar Union. And about 20,000 more people who are in contact with the Galactic Federation of Light.

55: 11 Creation of hybrids by civilizations of the Interstellar Union on other planets.

Maxim: Are representatives of the Interstellar Union creating more different hybrids on other planets?

Irina: Yes, at the moment the civilizations of the Interstellar Union are conducting experiments to create hybrids on 16 planets. Some of them are already inhabited by intelligent races, while others are inhabited by only animals. But not primates, like yours, but other animals.

Maxim: Guys, if you are a volunteer of the Cassiopeia project, then you will come to our Center for training in the first row. Do not worry!

56:14 Disciples of Christ on Earth.

Maxim: Are there any disciples of Christ on Earth now?

Irina: Do you mean Christians?

Maxim: Precisely the personal disciples of Christ.

Irina: Every Spirit who studied with him on his egregor, his books, who reunites with him energetically through communion, is already his student if he fulfills all the commandments and follows his spiritual advice. There is no difference, even if they never met physically, but connected spiritually. The fact is that in the Spiritual world distance does not exist at all. Whether you are on Burkhad or in the next room, your contact with him is absolutely real.

57:06 The difference between a disembodied Spirit and a phantom. 3D vision.

Maxim: How to distinguish a Spirit from a phantom?

Irina: Astral body?

Maxim: Yes. How to distinguish a disembodied Spirit from a phantom created by someone?

Irina: The fact is that a disembodied Spirit can also create a phantom for itself, simply by separating its part from itself, which is endowed with certain functions - for transmitting or receiving information, diagnostics.

Maxim: That is. Can a spirit create a phantom too?

Irina: Yes, he just does it with his spiritual energy. True, this is a little more complicated, because... you will have to collect your spiritual energy and concentrate. But, if you say how to distinguish a Spirit from a phantom upon contact, then you will not distinguish it in any way.

Their vibrations will be the same. It's just that its function will be limited to question and answer. If you ask him a question, and this Spirit, who came to contact, does not answer or says that he does not know, does not have information on this issue, then this means that you are facing a phantom. The spirit always has information.

Maxim: If suddenly one of you has 3D vision, then you can come to our School, and we can see what's wrong with your energy, and how you can build further contact. Because such vision will not appear just like that.

58: 48 The possibility of uniting all religions on Earth.

Maxim: Does the Interstellar Union have any plans to somehow unite religions on Earth? And what do they think about this?

Irina: If it is meant that there must be one religion on Earth in order to accommodate all existing ones, this, of course, would be a good lesson for earthlings. But since you have religious egregors created by various Teachers at the level of their awareness and the awareness of their students who spread their faith, the unification of religions at the present moment of your consciousness is possible only in the case of contractual relations, i.e. when your main religious denominations can live peacefully in the same space and do common work. The Interstellar Union advocates that all heads of religious denominations gather at one meeting and recognize that there is one single God-Creator of the Universe, who, through various prophets, Teachers, gave information about his existence and the path to it through a certain religion, and about that each religion speaks in different words about the same truth - about the love of God, the absence of negative actions, and so on.

1:00:40 Descendants of earthlings on other planets.

Maxim: The last question on the agenda. Irina and I will choose now. I ask you: please, if I didn't read someone's question, don't be offended. I just can't read and process such a huge number of questions at once. I try to choose from them those that relate to the topic of this broadcast. So: do descendants of earthlings now live on other planets?

Irina: Yes, to the planet Disaru.

Maxim: Are there other earthlings somewhere besides Disaru, perhaps in other Galaxies?

Irina: We don't know this. We only know about Disara. But they have their own colonies that belong to them.

1:02:00 Activities of the Mother of God at the present time.

Maxim: Okay. Then let's ask another very interesting question: what does the Mother of God do?

Irina: Raom Tiyan says that her Spirit is in the Spiritual World. In your opinion, this will be level 24. She is in contact with her son Jesus Christ, and with many Spirits embodied in the Galaxy, and with plasmoid civilizations. She has many contactees on Earth. Like Christ, she contacts through her phantoms, observes the development and purity of the Christian egregor, sends her energy there, shares energy with all the Angels. She is one of the guardians of the Christian egregor. And I remember that one day Irina received a request from one of the listeners of your channel to contact her phantom. Now this issue is being actively discussed between me and Mirah Count, who has access to it.

Maxim: That is, in the future we have the opportunity to communicate with the phantom of the Virgin Mary.

1:03:40 Healing radio "Cosmohealing".

Maxim: Guys, we have also launched one very interesting project - healing radio (https://bit.ly/cassiopeiaradio), through which healing sessions are held with healers and energy practitioners. There will be very interesting meetings there. Subscribe to Telegram "Cosmohealing" (@cosmohealing), where you will receive more complete information about our radio.

Thanks everybody! We are waiting for those who managed to sign up at the retreat. See you again! We love you all!

Irina: Thanks everyone! I love you all too. Representatives of the Interstellar Union transmit their Light to you and are waiting for the voting results. And I want to tell everyone that no matter what the result is, it will be transferred to the Council of the Interstellar Union, and no one knows what it will answer. Civilizations will decide this together.

Maxim: If you suddenly want to help our project, the link is under the video. We thank you for your help. I feel this help! I will soon begin construction of a second large Center.

Irina: I also thank you all for your help, for your spiritual, moral, and material support, which I feel very strongly. This gives me strength to continue to carry my Light in the form in which I can do it. Thanks to all! I send you my Light of Love and look forward to each of you at retreats, training, personal receptions, and, of course, live broadcasts and future conferences. See you again, friends!

Maxim: Bye everyone!

Maxim: Friends, hello everyone!

Irina: Greetings to everyone. Hello. Good evening.

Greetings to you from us, from the Cassiopeia team, from our interstellar friends and from all the light forces, light civilizations, the Spiritual world, those levels where Angels and Archangels live, which we will talk about today. Some of their representatives are here with me now. They are ready to answer.

Maxim: Wait a second! The first thing we will do. Tell me, how can you hear us? Hi all!

Irina: Hello everyone.

Maxim: How can you hear us? Our first question is always on air now. “I’m driving,” watch the broadcast more carefully while driving! Great! Sounds great. All. Now you can write the geography from where you are viewing us. We have such an interesting tradition.

Irina: They write quickly.

Maxim: By the way, guys, thank you very much! A large number of reviews on my video with revelations. In fact, it was a pleasure to share with you and be absolutely open, sincere, honest with you, and give the information that is there, which I understand, which our interstellar friends present to us.

Cyprus, Bashkiria, Chelyabinsk, Kyiv, Kazakhstan, Ivanovo, Tyumen. Understood. Excellent.

Irina: I don't have time. Lvov, Tashkent, France, Kemerovo, Barnaul. How many hearts!

Maxim: Guys, a little introductory information, as always. Voting ends on November 30th. Voting on the topic we put forward from representatives of our Interstellar Union regarding the provision of physical evidence of contact. There are already more than 10 thousand voters there. If you haven't had time to vote yet, you can refer to this video, there are links to vote below. We will definitely consider every vote and provide all this information to the Interstellar Union. A separate broadcast will be dedicated to this, where we will analyze the voting results, where we will communicate with our interstellar friends, and listen to what they tell us live before the meeting of the Interstellar Union, what they think about this vote.

Further. We are releasing soon, or rather it has already been filmed, on our channel there will be a wonderful premiere of our new film about Irina Podzorova. You can watch the remake on our channel, it's seven minutes long. The movie will be great! I watched it with such pleasure, even understanding everything. Therefore, on December 21, 2020, this film will be shown on our channel. The date was not chosen by chance. Anyone who is interested in esotericism, you can ask what 12/21/2020 is, and you will be given all the answers.

Irina: Yes, a good number.

Maxim: Irina, please tell me who is present with us today to answer questions about Angels and Archangels. The topic of our broadcast today is “Angels and Archangels”, i.e. I will write down all the questions you ask on a separate piece of paper, and we will analyze them throughout the broadcast. Therefore, write on the topic “Angels and Archangels”. I will ask the Angels and Archangels present really interesting questions.

I wonder if they came embodied or disembodied?

Irina: Hello everyone. Greetings to you all. It is written: “Greetings are flying from Murmansk.” Greetings are flying back to you from Voronezh to Murmansk.

Maxim: I still have a surprise.

Irina: Hello everyone.

Maxim: Look what package they sent us. These are the Cassiopeia pads. We now even have Cassiopeia pillows. Thank you very much Masha for the cool pads. Simply superb! Yesa (the cat) really liked them.

Irina: They wrote: “A pillow for astral travel.” Yes, that's for sure. The one whom I will lead to the Higher Self will lie on it. This will enhance the effect.

Maxim: Still, who is present with us today?

Irina: Today we have two guardians of the Christian egregor, two Archangels. One of them incarnate is Mirakh Count - Archangel Gabriel. The second non-incarnate is Archangel Michael. They came together. They know each other well.

Maxim: It turns out that we have two Archangels today. One incarnated on the planet Burkhad is Mirakh Count - Archangel Gabriel. And one of them is not incarnate - this is Archangel Michael.

Irina: Yes, they know each other very well. They incarnated in several dozen lives side by side, helped and supported each other in different incarnations. MidgasKaus and LiShioni are also present with us, as our curators and representatives of the Interstellar Union.

06:27 Intergalactic news. A new member of the Interstellar Union is the Lan Kraat civilization.

Maxim: What is the most interesting news that happened in our Galaxy this week?

Irina: Mirakh Count himself will tell the news. “Two days ago in our Galaxy, the Interstellar Union began to consist of 117 civilizations. They adopted the Lan Kraat civilization, which is in the sphere of influence of Gihor in the constellation Virgo. Organosilicon creatures live there, something between anthropomorphs and insectoids, similar to your ants, but more like anthropomorphs. Something in between. It was a hybrid civilization created by insectoids a long time ago, many millions of years ago. I myself personally took part in the admission of this civilization to the Interstellar Union. Now we are 117.”

Maxim: Great!

Irina: Yes. This is news.

07:53 Does Maxim Rusan have a chip?

Maxim: They ask why they won’t give me chips? I won’t tell you whether I have chips or not. Why would I tell everyone such secrets?

Irina: Why didn’t they give you chips? In fact, Maxim has no need for chips. He's quite sensitive. He senses who is present here. At the mental level, he sees, for example, where I go in the astral plane. I then ask him to describe where I fly, he says it all.

Maxim: So I’m “peek-a-boo” without chips, of course, not like Irina, she’s a complete “peek-a-boo”. She can see, and realize, and understand. Each of you can develop the ability for mental vision and astral travel. We will do all this at the school, which we will open after the New Year. I did not expect that the renovation would take so long, but I am doing everything very efficiently, beautifully, and culturally for you. I thank you all for the help you provide, I feel it.

09:00 Project "Cosmohealing".

Plus, we have opened a new project “Cosmohealing” for you. The intergalactic medical service conducts sessions on our channel. The first session is on Wednesday at 21:00, the second session is on Sunday at 10:00. This is done to cover as much geography as possible so that everyone can attend the session. Our payment is donation only. There are no fixed prices. As we agreed, in the Cassiopeia project, payment is only according to the heart.

Join the project, the link will be under the video, also in the comments. You can visit our project and learn how to work with it.

Irina: Our two Guardian Angels also want to participate, since this concerns them. Yours and mine. Your boyfriend is Guardian Angel, and I have a girlfriend. Although they are level 18, they could answer questions.

Thanks for the pillows. Very energetically saturated with such a pattern, and you can feel your light energy invested in them.

The Interstellar Union, through Mirah Count, LiSioni and MidgasKaus, sends greetings to everyone who is watching me now. And Archangel Michael and the Guardian Angels convey greetings and the Light of the angelic world to all television viewers and wishes to perceive every word from what is said further in the Light of their Love, with their spiritual Heart.

If some information does not agree with your ideas about reality, you can calmly choose the path that is closer to you, but without condemning the point of view that you do not accept. Because condemnation will lower your vibration, and this will put a wall between you and the Divine Light of Truth.

11:53 Do angels have gender?

Maxim: They ask why Angels have gender?

Irina: They do not have gender as spiritual entities, they are presented in such images, this is their image. Archangel Michael says: “Most often it depends on the last incarnation of the Spirit, which has reached the angelic level. If he was female on any planet or in a civilization, if he gave birth to entities, then, most often, he takes on a female image. If there was a man who conceived children or contributed to their birth, if these are plasmoid civilizations, there are analogues to dense material forms of bodies, then in this case, he will take on a male appearance.

This happens most often. When you leave your dense body, then in the Spiritual world until your next incarnation there is a 90% chance that you will retain the shape of your usual physical body, since over a long time of living in it you have already become accustomed to feeling yourself in this image.”

13:11 Levels of spiritual development. Level of Archangel Michael.

Maxim: Archangel Michael, please tell me, at what level of spiritual development, according to our understanding, are you?

Irina: On yours?

Maxim: According to the data that the Interstellar Union provides us, from the 1st to the 24th level.

Irina: Level 24. After the 24th level, 368 more times the same.

Maxim: What-what?!

Irina: Figuratively showed the multiplication sign. For you this is level 24, but for us there are inhomogeneities there, of course.

Maxim: So we imagine everything above the 24th level to be God?

Irina: Yes. Because we no longer separate ourselves from the Creator. And now, when I talk to you, I simultaneously feel that I give birth to the entire Universe, and you are my children, but at the same time I understand that I am also a part of God, but I only feel Him more fully.

14:12 The Spiritual Hierarch of the Earth is the lord of karma.

Maxim: How many people on Earth can you supervise? Is there a number or limit?

Irina: I am the spiritual Hierarch of the entire Earth. I observe the processes of incarnations on Earth from the Spiritual World, both dense material bodies known to you as civilizations of humanoids on Earth, whom you call people, and all subtle material civilizations. Spirits that come into embodiment in a body of any density on Earth are considered to be subject to the energies of the Earth, and I, as a spiritual Hierarch, am the main one in this process on planet Earth. It's like the Lord of Karma.

Maxim: That is, you can call him the Lord of Karma.

Irina: I train Consultant Angels from level 22, who select incarnations on Earth.

15:23 Heavenly assistants of Archangel Michael.

Maxim: How many Angels are in your service, if this can be called service?

Irina: More than 30 thousand, those who select incarnations on Earth, in the subtle and dense material worlds.

Maxim: Negative, rude? Let me be rude, that's okay. I keep saying: “Irina, if something is wrong, everyone blames me.” Everyone looks for rudeness in me. Maybe they want to find real masculine rudeness in me.

Irina: He who seeks will always find.

16:04 The main meaning of baptism. Participle.

Maxim: Is it possible to be baptized and why is it necessary?

Irina: You can be baptized if you believe in it. Archangel Michael clarifies: “Should you be baptized or should you baptize the child?” These are different things.

Maxim: Myself.

Irina: If it’s an independent decision, you can be baptized. If you fully believe in Christ as God, if you recognize the basic ideas of Christian teaching, if you sincerely want to be a Christian in your everyday practical life, then baptism will be for you not just a symbol of washing away from sins, but will be a real immersion in the energies of the Christian egregor.

In the future, this will give you the right to join “the flesh and blood of Christ.” The most important function of baptism in the Christian egregor is to give the right to partake of the flesh and blood of Christ, which will be given to you through wine and bread in your energy field. Physically, the sacrament is wine and bread, and energetically it is the real blood and flesh of Christ, which He, being on Burkhad, transforms with the help of the Holy Spirit and all of His energies. For this purpose, He remained in this physical body, depriving Himself of the possibility of incarnation in billions of Galaxies.

17:44 Spiritual Hierarchy.

Maxim: Tell me, please, who in the Hierarchy is higher than the Archangels, what entities are they, and what can we call them?

Irina: When you cross the 24th level, the very concept of “higher and lower” is not understood in the same way as at levels below the 24th. It is understood as a more complete merger with the Absolute, with absolute Light. What you call “enlightenment” can be actualized differently for consciousness. This does not depend on the imperfection of those consciousnesses that are above the 24th level, but depends on individual characteristics that have accumulated as a result of karmic activity in all worlds.

18:42 Angelic help to criminals.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do Angels help criminals?

Irina: Angels help criminals understand the reason for their actions that led them to crime. These reasons are always hidden in their spiritual heart, in the mental field, in the mind, long before the actual crime.

Angels help criminals in that when they are incarnated in people or in humanoids, in beings who achieve a position in their society, on which legislative bodies depend, Angels who have retained a conscious connection with the Higher Self, with God, if they are incarnated, they release laws that will help criminals realize what they have done and return to the Light of God, and socialize them into society.

Any Angel, in any case, opposes the death penalty, because with the death penalty only the body is killed, and the spirit, which remained at the level of low-vibration entities, in any case will go into incarnation and into the same world where it did not pass its lessons. By killing his body, you will receive it in another body, but already hidden.

20:30 Do everyone have Guardian Angels?

Maxim: Do all people have Guardian Angels?

Irina: No. The Guardian Angel may not be given incarnation if the Spirit, who entered incarnation from any level, himself refuses the Guardian Angel for the reason that he wants to go this path without spiritual helpers. He may want such an experience, he has the right to it.

20:57 Where are the souls of suicides? Prayer for a suicide. What spiritual level does the Spirit of Suicide fall to?

Maxim: Where are the souls of suicides? Why don't suicides have funeral services in churches?

Irina: Suicides, those who committed suicide because of their personal goals, not public ones, for example, to protect someone? Does he understand correctly? Didn't throw yourself under a tank with a grenade to protect someone?

Maxim: No, just because he felt bad, he committed suicide.

Irina: If he committed suicide, it means he killed his body, which is the dense material energy of God. That is, he did not accept this body, did not accept the life that he himself chose, and by this he lowered his vibrations. It is located below the 7th level, from the 1st to the 6th. Where exactly he will be depends on his vibrations at the time of death and on the reasons that led him to such a decision. If he consciously went for it, then he understood perfectly well that he was doing it for the sake of the death of his body. Even if he believed that after death there is no life of the Spirit, he still lowers his vibrations. By killing the body, he believes that he is destroying it, and by destroying a part of God, he is cutting himself off from life in the Divine Light. This is the choice of the Spirit. God allows this choice so that he can experience life in hellish, demonic worlds, and at his next incarnation he can appreciate the Light that people who will tell him about God will bring him.

The church does not hold funeral services for suicides, because the funeral service is a prayer for God to introduce a person's soul to the Kingdom of Heaven, so that He takes it to the Highest levels. You can pray to God about this out of love for a person, even a suicide, but not with public prayer, but with your personal prayer, which exists at home, between the Spirit of man and God. Public prayer in the church is carried out through the Christian egregor, in which there are certain rules, one of which is "Thou shalt not kill." This commandment applies to oneself, not only to another person. Anyone who has violated this commandment and has not changed himself, has not changed his mind, has not confessed, has not repented, according to Christian terminology, he cannot be admitted to certain sacraments and certain egregor energies because he himself has rejected it and can no longer change while he is outside the body.

Maxim: It turns out that he deleted himself from the egregor?

Irina: He erased himself from life. You can pray for him with personal prayer, not through an egregor, from your own spiritual heart. This can be done with relatives and friends, but at home, when you pray according to house rules, according to a prayer book, in your own words, for suicides, and so on.

25:12 Is abortion a sin? The sin of both parents and the doctor during an abortion. Consequences of abortion.

Maxim: Is abortion a sin and what kind of sin is it?

Irina: If you look at the commandments, then abortion is a violation of that norm, that cosmic law, which on Earth is reflected in the commandment "Thou shalt not kill." Don't kill a sentient being. This means that "thou shalt not kill" not only an adult creature that has grown up or has just been born, but also an embryo that has not yet formed and is not yet a person in the full sense of the word, since it depends on its mother. But if you give him time, he will grow into a man. If this stage of his life is interrupted, then a person will not be born from him. And if it is not born, then this is the murder of a person.

This violation of this commandment lowers the vibrations of both the woman herself and the man, the father of the child, if he has given his consent, as well as the doctor and everyone helping him in the operation. This does not mean cases where there is truly a threat to the mother's health. There are different situations on your planet when this intervention is necessary for the sake of preserving the life of a person who is already living and has obligations in this society. Then it does not lower the vibration, since the life of this embryo was interrupted because it was needed in the spiritual world. But, if this is done at the request of the woman or man herself, then this is a failure to fulfill her tasks by the Spirit who has already incarnated. Even if he did not enter the body himself until the 7th week of pregnancy, he placed his life force there, that is, partly it is already his body. This is the failure of his task and throws him back into the Spiritual world. Although, if he himself chose these dad and mom, it means that his task, approved by the Consulting Angels, was to learn life lessons with these particular parents. If people interrupted his incarnation, it means that he may have to wait for many more centuries until people with the same characteristics as his mother and father are born, so that he can take his lessons.

This results in a decrease in vibrations and an increase in all negative qualities in the soul and the strengthening of those negative blocks that led to this abortion.

28:31 Can the Spirit leave hell?

Maxim: They say that on the night of November 20-21 at 00:00, Archangel Michael lowers his wings into hell, and whose names at this moment are remembered in prayer to him, those souls he leads out of hell?

Irina: Archangel Michael answers: “Souls can only be brought out of hell by the soul that is there, having incarnated and gone through its path. I can go down there not only on November 21st or 22nd. I can go down there at any moment of time. I can go down, I can talk to the Spirits who are there. But the Spirit, which is on the demonic level, cannot rise after me. Temporarily, I can lower my vibrations by imagining some kind of shell within myself that will keep me in this demonic level, but remaining myself inside. But when I destroy this shell and again raise my vibrations, I am again transported to my level, and those demons and Spirits with whom I spoke remain at their level. I cannot take them with me, because the vibrations of the Spirit, which is on the demonic level, are not capable of becoming so high as to rise after me or even one level. If this were possible, then the low-vibration Spirit would find itself in a very burning environment for itself, where its suffering would increase. In it, he would not be aware of himself from the burning sensation, various sensations, distension, and so on."

30:31 Incarnation of Archangel Michael by John the Baptist.

Maxim: Michael, please tell me, were you in the Spiritual world or incarnate at the time of Christ? And have you communicated with Jesus Christ personally?

Irina: Yes. He was incarnate, he shows me John the Baptist.

Maxim: That is, at that moment he was incarnated as John the Baptist, right?

Irina: Yes, now his image has shown.

31:05 Incarnation of Archangel Gabriel during the time of Christ.

Maxim: Gabriel, where were you at that moment?

Irina: The same ones who are now - Mirakh Countom on Burkhad. I lived on Burkhad even before His incarnation on Earth.

31:20 Decoding the number 666.

Maxim: What does the number 666 mean to you? This question is asked very often.

Irina: We will explain this in the Interpretation of the "Revelation of John the Theologian." First of all, please tell me, Archangel Michael, what does 666 mean?

Maxim: Just briefly, without going deep.

Irina: 666, according to the laws of numerology, is a symbol of love for material pleasures. Why? Because the number 6 represents love, the number 3 is a symbol of active energy directed towards something. The sum of the numbers 6+6+6 is 18, which is a symbol of pleasure and pleasure. The number 6 itself represents both love in the spiritual sense and love for the material. But in combination with the number 3, this is aimed at the material world, since 3 is the number of activity, energy, some aggression and is manifested by contact with matter. Because of this, 666 is a symbol of love specifically for the material world and all its pleasures, with disdain for spiritual development. Why? Because through this number, for example, King Solomon's passion for money was shown. During his reign he had 666 talents of gold. This is a reflection of the fact that there was this emotion, this was passion, this was a feeling. But then he prayed to God, raised his vibrations, and his passion was transformed into pure Light, the symbol of which on Earth is gold. Gold itself is a symbol of Divine Light. Later, through materialism, his understanding became distorted into the worship of the golden calf.

35:12 Choosing a name for a newborn. Patronage of the Archangels.

Maxim: Are the Archangels really the patrons of people who were named after them?

Irina: If a person is named in honor of the name of an Archangel, then the vibration of this name will already be associated with the vibrations of the energy of this Archangel. But any other name also carries meaning. The numerological code of a name is calculated by name. Any name already contains, in the esoteric understanding, a mini-egregor, that is, its own personal vibration, which includes the person so named.

But I want to remind you that the name that the parents will call their child is already known in the Spiritual world. If the parents of the child decide to name the child in advance in order to influence his vibrations, then they will not succeed. If, according to the plan of the mentors, a Spirit of high vibration should not come to this family, then no one will be born to them, or, if it is at the stage of pregnancy, then a Spirit who was sent into this incarnation from a low level, and they will want to call him by a name higher in level vibrations, they can simply be taken out of incarnation. He will not be born, because it is already known what the child will be called.

37:16 Incarnation of Archangel Michael by Seraphim of Sarov.

Maxim: Did Seraphim of Sarov know that he was an incarnate Angel?

Irina: I knew. He remembered this especially in the last years of his life. Archangel Michael in his last life was Seraphim of Sarov.

He has now taken on the form of a young guy with wings. Now he took on the image of Seraphim of Sarov, but left his wings. Showed that they are One.

Maxim: Interesting.

37:58 The spirit of St. Nicholas the Wonderworker is embodied on Earth.

Maxim: The spirit that was embodied in St. Nicholas the Wonderworker, where is it now?

Irina: On Earth, in incarnation. I know him. But he asked not to say who it was. I will not speak without his wishes.

Maxim: That is, we found him.

Irina: We found him.

38:25 Archangel Gabriel about people.

Maxim: Question to Archangel Gabriel. Mirah Count, what surprises you most about people?

Irina: What surprises me most in people is their doubt about the existence of the Spirit after death. At the same time, the constant life of people on Earth without the thought of what will happen after death, despite the fact that you doubt your Eternal Beginning. You live without thinking about the fact that every day passes forever. Some paradox of consciousness. Many materialistic people do not regret every passing day and are even able to celebrate their birthdays, realizing that if they do not believe in their eternal life, then each birthday brings them closer to the eternal end.

39:45 How to communicate with your Guardian Angel? Purity of the spiritual heart.

Maxim: How to contact your Guardian Angel? How can I get in touch with him?

Irina: First, believe in him, that he exists nearby. The second thing is to thank him, that is, close your eyes, turn to him, maybe with prayer. Prayer is a conversation between a person and a being in the Spiritual world. She can be in her own words. It will just be communication.

We must understand that any prayer, no matter who it is addressed to, is always not a monologue, but a dialogue. Now you are asking a question to the Angel; in essence, you are praying. And through contactor Irina you receive an answer. But each of you will also be able to receive such answers. The fact that Irina has chips makes our work easier in transmitting mental images.

Everyone can tune through their spiritual channel to almost the same frequency of perception. To do this, you need to do with your consciousness what Irina's chips do, that is, bring your consciousness to a state of Divine presence. The state of Divine presence is when you look at the world around you as a manifestation of your energy. Now she is in a state of an open spiritual heart, from which she feels streams of Light, which, gradually decreasing in vibration, create the material world. This is called the state of Divine presence.

Thanks to this state, all spiritual entities that are nearby can speak freely through her brain, using her vocabulary with all of you.

Archangel Michael answered, now he wants to add Mirakh Count.

Maxim: Is it easy for you to switch between the spiritual essence and the embodied spiritual essence?

Irina: The vibration is a little different. When I talk to an entity, I feel its state. I begin to feel myself as her, and he as me, our minds merge a little. This is considered the norm during telepathic-astral contacts. If Archangel Michael speaks to me now, I begin to feel a little like an angel with wings, to see that I am standing next to me. When I start talking with Mira Count, I begin to feel like a man who has flown from a distant planet to another planet, and I begin to think about the Interstellar Union. Mirakh Count says: “At the moment of contact, our consciousnesses with the contactee become for some time akin to a single whole and our sensations merge.”

LiScioni asks: “How do I feel when I talk to him.”

Maxim: Has everyone joined the discussion?

Irina: Mirakh Count says: “So that you can also talk to your Guardian Angel, as Irina talks to us, you must believe in his presence, you must thank him. We must say: “I open my spiritual heart towards the flow of Divine Light. Guardian Angel, I want to talk to you." Close your eyes and feel the space around you. Ask yourself where it is. You will definitely feel it. If you don’t feel it the first time, start training and talking to him in mental images, imagine him. Over time, the mental image will become real to you as you increase your sensitivity.

In order for the Guardian Angel to be able to transmit information through you also purely, without distortion, he must merge with your consciousness. To do this, your consciousness in everyday life must emit predominantly high vibrations, otherwise the Guardian Angel will not be able to merge with you with its vibrations. He will move away from you a little, since he does not match your vibrations. No matter how he wants to convey it, he will have the feeling that he has found himself in some kind of aggressive environment for himself. If he pulls away, then pure and clear contact will not work for you.

Therefore, in order to properly build contact, even in everyday life you must monitor the purity of your spiritual heart. Everyone now take a sheet of paper and write down in any color the words that Jesus Christ said: “He who is pure in heart will see God.” Hang this above where you eat and above where you sleep. So that after waking up your gaze falls on these words."

Maxim: Will the pure in heart see God?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Very deep words. I even failed with these words.

Irina: Christ said this in the Sermon on the Mount. A pure heart is a necessary element of contact with high vibrational entities. If you want to become not just a contactee, but a contactee who brings Light, neither destruction nor darkness, but Light and creation, just follow the purity of your spiritual heart. This is the most valuable treasure you have in real life. Neither tons of gold, nor entire garages of cars, planes, yachts, nor entire harems of girls and boys can compare with it. This is the most valuable treasure you can accumulate for yourself in this life.

47:14 Sincerity and purity of prayer to the Saint.

Maxim: Many people are interested in the question. Let’s say that the Archangels incarnate on Earth to raise the level of awareness of humanity’s perception. How is it that we come to church to pray to St. Nicholas the Wonderworker, but he is incarnated on Earth? How does he hear, how does he react, how does this happen and does it happen at all?

Irina: Any Spirit is embodied in an earthling by only 30%. 70% of the disembodied Spirit is in the Spiritual World at the level it reached in the previous incarnation. He remembers all his lives and tasks, unlike the embodied part of the Spirit, which you call the soul. When you pray to a Saint, even an incarnate one, not just with a desire for help, but with sincere love and gratitude, then his energies flow to the non-incarnate part of the Spirit. Even if he was incarnated several times, they still get to this Spirit by vibration. Even if he got into some incarnation and lowered his vibrations, then your prayers reach this Spirit along the vibrations and support him in this incarnation, if he is incarnated.

If the Spirit remains in this incarnation at a high spiritual level, its Higher Self is capable of creating an unlimited number of phantoms with its own energy, which will come to you in the form of, for example, Nicholas the Pleasant or another incarnated Spirit, provide assistance and contact with you, since your consciousness is tuned to this vibration.

You connect with him when you pray sincerely, with love, with a desire to connect with him and share your Light. For your prayer to be pure, you must do it to any spiritual entity with humility. Humility does not mean humiliation. Humility means the desire not to receive benefits from this prayer, but to give away your Light. Only then will you receive a thousand, a million, a billion times more love when you yourself are ready to give unselfishly.

59:57 Does the Guardian Angel remain next to a person's soul after death?

Maxim: After the death of a person, does his Guardian Angel remain with his soul?

Irina: No. After death, they call the Guide Angels, and together they take him to the spiritual level. Then, based on their tasks, they either go to guard another Spirit or incarnate themselves.

50:19 Does hell exist?

Maxim: A question from those who don't watch us. It turns out that hell exists, since Archangel Michael descends there?

Irina: Hell is the state of demonic entities. Hell is a rejection of Love. This is not a place, this is a state. Certain demonic levels fall into this state. Hell is a symbol of the suffering that occurs without God. It begins in incarnation. Heaven and hell are within yourself.

Hell begins not after physical death, but long before it. In addition to physical death, there is spiritual death, as separation from life in God. Spiritual death does not imply the cessation of existence, but presupposes life without energies, life in an unconscious state, without feeling the energies of happiness, grace, joy, love, all light energies that are the creative forces of the Universe, in all worlds, spaces, planes of existence.

Hell is a state of spiritual death. If hell exists in a person's soul when he is still in the body, and if hell is not overcome by the Light inside the spiritual heart, if the vibrations have not increased and the qualities of the Spirit have not been corrected before parting with the physical body, then hell continues in Eternity, where you will go. Eternity as the Spiritual World.

52:20 Is there any point in repentance without metanoia?

Maxim: Is there any point in repentance without metanoia?

Irina: Then why is it being done? We need to know the motive. There are different situations.

Maxim: So you need to know the motive from the beginning? Metanoia is the impossibility of committing something in the future and the recognition of this mistake. So then what is the point of repentance?

Irina: Repentance, like a request for forgiveness, if it is already expressed in thoughts and words, it must be based on something. If a person has not realized why this is bad, why he does not want to repeat it, why this state is not normal for him, then what is the point of asking for forgiveness for something? If he asks for forgiveness in order to get rid of punishment in hell, as he imagines it, from bad consequences, but at the same time does not want to revise his attitudes that led to negative actions, and in order to avoid karmic consequences for his actions, then it still won't work raise the vibrations. Vibrations increase only after awareness.

53:38 Can Angels fall in love? Tears of Angels. Why does an Angel become one for a specific person?

Maxim: Can Angels fall in love? Do Angels Cry?

Irina: How is your emotional state?

Maxim: Yes, they can't cry physically, that's why it's an internal state of mind. Can Angels Cry?

Irina: Someone saw a cloud.

Maxim: You have wings behind you.

Irina: These are our Guardian Angels, they stand nearby. Do Angels Cry? We have states of regret, sadness, sadness. It is not low vibration, it is connected to the awareness that we can and want to help. We do not have earthly emotions like humans. For us, this state is connected with purity in the Light.

Maxim: Can you fall in love? Find your favorites among people?

Irina: We have sympathies, but they are not manifested as in the physical world. Why did the Guardian Angel agree to become one for a specific person? According to you, they are friends. They knew each other for a long time and were friends in the Spiritual World. Then one went to incarnation, the other decided to accompany him. This is not a preference, it is some kind of coincidence of vibrations. This does not mean that the Angel neglects other Spirits, directing his attention to one. More attention is directed to one, while to others it is somewhat scattered, because we are the same Spirits and choose what to spend our energy on.

55:29 The origin of the Michaelmas holiday.

Maxim: Mikhail, I personally and our TV viewers want to congratulate you on the holiday that happened yesterday. Tell us how this holiday was born in the Christian egregor? Did you have a holiday yesterday?

Irina: Yes. My holiday was established a long time ago, from the beginning of the preaching of the Christian church, when Dionysius the Areopagite , a contactee, one of the disciples of John the Theologian, wrote a spiritual essay “On the Heavenly Hierarchy.” You can read it, it has been translated into Russian. From this time on, holidays dedicated to Angels began to be celebrated.

Why was this day chosen for me? He says: “That was the day I made contact with people who later decided to introduce this holiday into the church. This was a group of people, my contacts. They remembered the day of their first conscious contact with me, as with an Angel, as something bright in their lives. From my presence they were filled with the grace of the Holy Spirit, so they marked this day on the calendar.”

Maxim: I understand, that is, this was the first group contact with the Angelic structure, which was recorded in the church.

Irina: Yes.

57:56 Is it possible to hear and record the songs of Angels?

Maxim: Is it possible to record the chants of Angels? There is a recording on the Internet that in one monastery the acoustic chants of Angels were recorded on a tape recorder. Is it possible? Is it possible on a physical level for Angels to give vibrations similar to singing?

Irina: We don't have physical organs. Most likely, these were highly vibrational plasmoid contacts.

Maxim: Could these be Angels embodied in plasmoids who could create these vibrations in the monastery?

Irina: Yes. Angels can also be embodied in plasmoids, just like any other Spirits.

58:56 Master Kuthumi and Archangel Michael. Their connection.

Maxim: Who is Master Kuthumi and how are you, Archangel Michael, connected with him?

Irina: It shows the image of a person. Kuthumi is now a disembodied spirit. He is also an Angel from a level very close to me, we are practically close. Unlike me, his last life was incarnated on Esler, where MidgasCaus now lives. He comes to contact and is the guardian of egregors on the planet where he last incarnated. On Earth, he is in contact in alliance with the Eslerians and Shimorians, with similar civilizations. He is their patron.

01:00:00 The incorrupt body of Lama Itigelov. Resurrection of the body after death. Alexander Svirsky.

Maxim: Do you know who Lama Itigelov is? What happened to him? Where is his Spirit, and why does his body not die?

Irina: Yes. Mirah Count, LiShioni, MidgasKaus - everyone has heard about this Spirit. This is a high level Spirit. Mirah Count says: “If you look at the life thread of this Spirit, it is interrupted, but its life is supported by the egregor into which believers invest their energy. The egregor supports this body. A very similar phenomenon occurs in the Orthodox egregor, when the incorruptible relics of the Saints are found, and through them this Light is manifested. The energy that Lama Itigelov accumulated, that Light, that Love, charged every cell of his body. When he came out of it, this charged body practically stopped collapsing, because the microbes that were in it could not cause any harm to it, or decompose it into elements. Moreover, now he is an object of worship and love for believers, Buddhists, and through the egregor this continues to intensify in him. The egregor maintains in him the equilibrium state that he has achieved. He is not embodied now.”

Mirakh Count knows him personally and talked with him. The lama himself is now at level 23.

This state of the body can be maintained even after the reincarnation of the Spirit. Moreover, he can reincarnate several times, and the body is able to preserve the light ethereal shell that has been accumulated over life, plus it is supported by the egregor. In Orthodoxy there is a similar Saint who has been in a virtually incorruptible state for many centuries. This is Alexander Svirsky. This is also a very bright person who has accumulated within himself the energies of Light and grace. His body is in the monastery, and the energies of believers, through the egregor, support his condition. Such cases are known.

Maxim: Can they wake up, come to their senses?

Irina: Only like Christ. If God empowers them as His firstborn Son, and they regain their life force, create a life thread, like Christ created when he returned to the body. Mirach Count said that this happened in his presence when Christ returned to his body. It was not a quick and easy process. He recreated his life thread and connected it to his body. Again he created his ethereal shell, aura. When He brought His body to life, God the Father gave him strength. He couldn't do it on his own. Even the power of the firstborn Son was not enough. He asked for the power to be resurrected in the Spirit, God the Father gave it, he was reunited. God the Father said, “If you do this, you will erase the self-destruction program in every cell.” And so it happened. Its cell reproduces endlessly and practically never dies.

01:04:55 Is Sergius of Radonezh now embodied on Earth?

Maxim: I can’t finish the broadcast. There are a lot of interesting questions. Is St. Sergius of Radonezh now also incarnated on Earth?

Irina: Archangel Michael, Sergius of Radonezh incarnated on Earth? Incarnated, but not on Earth. Where is he incarnated now? Tumesout.

Maxim: On one of the planets of our creators. Yes?

Irina: Yes. He is now embodied there in the body of a woman. Showed her image.

Maxim: Guys, I am not the Archangel incarnate, nor Nicholas the Wonderworker. We know who he is embodied in, but we were asked not to talk about it. Before this incarnation I was on another planet. I'll tell you a little secret, this is the planet Shimor. From there my curator and mentor LiShioni. Therefore, I am no Archangel.

01:06:06 An invitation to dialogue for ministers of the Christian egregor.

Maxim: Vanga spoke about the new religion. My personal opinion is that the new religion is all religions united. With this video we did not want to offend the feelings of believers who love God in the Christian religious egregor in the form that is presented to them. We are ready for dialogue. I openly declare that we are ready to enter into dialogue with any monks, hieromonks, with any ministers of the Christian religious egregor, not in order to “drive out demons” from us, but in order to find a form of unification, understanding, a new structure. The structure is not two thousand years ago, when people were slaves, but the structure of the 21st century, when each of you can become an absolutely conscious person, understand who he is, what he is and where he is.

We are ready for dialogue. The main thing is that they make contact with us. We are ready to give feedback and our knowledge. We ask that if there are ministers of the Church of our Christian religious egregor who are ready to make such contact, we are ready to organize it. Not for casting out demons. We are not demons. We communicate with low vibrational entities, but we do this rarely, only out of necessity, because they sometimes take over people’s minds.

The new religion will unite the rest of the religions that exist on Earth and all people, regardless of race, gender and religion. The Spiritual World is one, and if we are together, we will be invincible.

Guys, see you all again. Many thanks to our Archangels Gabriel and Michael for the interesting dialogue. In honor of today's broadcast, we have fireworks outside our window!

Irina: I thank you all for being with us. I send you the light of my Love. The spiritual beings next to us also wish you to come to the state of Light and during this incarnation to reach the angelic level in order to be carriers, servants of Light on any planet and in any world where you come. See you again, friends!

Maxim: Our dear clergy, we are ready to grow and develop with you. Don't stay in old dogmas. We are ready to grow, we are ready for Love, we are ready to create. Guys, bye everyone. Thanks for the broadcast, the questions were just great! Super!

00:25 Presentation of conference participants.

Vladimir: Dear friends, hello!

We are starting our long-awaited and very interesting conference, because today we will talk with representatives of the Interstellar Union about the Archons. Today we have Irina Podzorova from Voronezh, hello Irina.

Irina: Hello!

Vladimir: Maria Sokalskaya from Germany, hello, Masha.

Maria: Good afternoon.

Vladimir: My name is Vladimir Goldstein, I am located in the suburbs of Chicago. Let's start. I give the floor to Masha, and a little later we will find out who is present next to Ira. Ask.

Maria: Hello, dear friends. In our project, we often meet people who have had experience interacting with the influence of destructive entities, both of plasmoid and spiritual origin, and today we are interested in highlighting the topic of the low-vibration Spiritual world in the understanding of the Interstellar Union for our subscribers.

Vladimir: We will now start asking questions, but first we will find out who is with us today?

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Hello, Vladimir! Hello Maria!

Today, representatives of the planet Shimor are present with me: LiShioni is a specialist in astral interactions and a specialist who explores the world of disembodied Spirits and its interaction with the material world, his name is LaerPeshli. He is a specialist not with the astral world, but with the world of disembodied Spirits - for them these are different things. LaerPeshli, welcome!

He and LiSioni will answer questions about the Archons.

02:33 The difference between Spirits in the Spiritual World is based on individual vibrations. Numerology concept for calculating the vibration of the Spirit.

Vladimir: Great. Dear Laer and LiShioni, our first question is: did you have contacts with the Spirits of the lower level - the Archons and under what circumstances was this? What were their names?

Irina: Laer speaks. I have specialized in this topic for about 350 Earth years. I am a little over 700 years old and I have had repeated contacts with Spirits of various levels, including the Archons. LiScioni says he also researched, but spent less time on the topic. I remembered them by energy vibrations, not by names. Names in the Spiritual world are only appearances. They may differ for contacts with different entities, because Spirits differ not in names and images, but in their individual vibrations. Their reflection is found in the personal vibration of Spirit and can be calculated by the numerological concept of the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: I see, thank you.

04:13 The Archon's idea of truth. Individual vibrations of the Archons are a signal of concealment of the truth.

Maria: Tell me, are they telling the truth when conveying information, and how can this be determined? Can you feel it?

Irina: When we are in contact with any Spirit, from whatever level it may be, and it tries to consciously tell a lie, then this will be noticeable in its vibration. It hides one information and reveals another. Laer reports that to tell the truth means to say what you have an idea of as the truth. What is true for the Archon may be an illusion for those Spirits who have already left this state of consciousness. But this does not mean that the Archon is telling a lie, this is his idea of the world. It's a different matter if he knows one piece of information, hides it and talks about another. In this case, his individual vibrations will show that he wants to hide something.

Vladimir: I see, that is, it is impossible to deceive there.

05:30 The Astral as a meeting place between Archons and contactees. Acceptance by Archons of any form depending on their goals.

Vladimir: The question is: in what form do they appear in the Spiritual world? In what form - in the Astral?

Irina: They can take any form, usually this is the shape of their previous body. They are used to it. In the Spiritual world they have this form at their level.

Contacts with Spirits embodied in the material worlds are possible for Archons through the Astral World, as the middle one between the material and the world of disembodied Spirits. It is the world of mediation, the world of communication. The Archons and any representative of demonic levels come to the Astral in a form that allows them to appear before the contactee in the most favorable light for them, depending on their goals. What does he want to get from the contact: energy of worship, lust for power? Then comes in the form of a deity. If he wants to form some kind of egregor, for example, a political one, which will try to subjugate the minds of many intelligent embodied Spirits, then he will come in the form of, for example, a deceased Spirit of a political ruler who is authoritative for the contactee.

Vladimir: And if he wants to scare, to create the energy of fear, then he comes in a terrifying form, for example, in the form of popular print demons. Could this also happen?

Irina: If we are talking about the Archons and the Demon Lords, they do not come with the goal of scaring, they come with a larger goal: to influence the processes of the universe that are created by intelligent Spirits. Disembodied low-vibration Spirits from the third or fourth level can frighten. They don't have big goals. Their goals are to cause pain, unpleasantness and enjoyment from it.

Representatives of thin-material plasmoid parasitic civilizations may come, in whose thin-material body demons are embodied in order to feed on energy. In addition to spiritual and mental satisfaction, their subtle bodies are nourished. Some of them switch completely to this type of nutrition. They are energy parasites.

A similar process is observed in the animal world of the Earth: some microbes and insects switch to a parasitic type of nutrition, and their group animal Souls are often created by plasmoids of this type.

09:35 Varieties of groups of Archons. Features of the behavior of Archons in different groups. Creation of dwellings by the Archons.

The Archons are divided into two groups that differ sharply from each other. This is not a hierarchy. Groups are divided on the basis of: desire or reluctance to implement. Those who wish to be embodied in the material world are also divided into two groups. Some of them want to raise their vibrations and get out of their current state: from demonic levels and become an average Spirit, an Angel and be closer to God, if we talk about the global meaning of their plans.

The second group of Archons, who desire incarnation, try to hide their true goals and incarnate in order to carry their destructive ideas into the material world through the material body. In order for the Consulting Angels to select conditions for them and allow them to incarnate, they pretend that they want to increase their level. The vibrations show their pretense.

There is a discussion between the Consulting Angels and the Archons about what conditions to choose for incarnation so that their achievement of destructive goals is as difficult as possible. At the same time, give maximum potential for the development of high vibrations in their Spirit.

As was said above, there is a group of Archons who, fundamentally at the present moment of awareness of themselves in the Spiritual world, do not want incarnation in any form.

All groups of Archons behave differently. Those who have chosen to incarnate are waiting for their turn. They are busy analyzing their previous incarnations that led to the Archon state and developing plans for the next incarnation, what they will do once they find themselves in the world where they dream of coming or where they have been assigned. Those Archons who fundamentally do not want to incarnate are satisfied with the current state of their Spirit. They don't want to go into the material world. The vast majority of them have the idea of persuading other Spirits to rise to their level and become Archons. Archons who do not want to incarnate consider the material world to be a mistake, and God to be unjust, etc. They make it their goal to exist in the Spiritual World to spread destructive ideas through contacts of various kinds: with plasmoids, humanoids and other Spirits.

This group of Archons gathers squads of demons from levels 4-5 and gives them tasks, like in an army. They have the spirit of battle and the spirit of a fighter. They are busy working with thought forms.

Now they are showing me an image of their home. Archons build their homes with the power of thought. They imagine food as they eat it. All of these are similar to the objects of the embodiment from which they came. These are forms familiar to them, which they can mentally imagine, as on other levels of the Spiritual World. They can imagine thought forms that will be real to them.

14:36 Hierarchy among the Archons.

Maria: So they don't have any unified structure? Is there a hierarchy among the Archons?

Irina: Is there a hierarchy among the Archons? They have some semblance of a hierarchy, like in the army. It is not strictly observed, since each Archon considers himself more self-sufficient than the other Archons. Therefore, at the sixth level - the level of Archons - there are problems giving orders and carrying them out. There are no problems in controlling other types of demons: from the first to the fifth level, since the Archons are stronger than them in terms of energy. They can overwhelm you with their energy. They listen to them, experiencing a state similar to spiritual hypnosis.

15:45 The influence of the ideas of the Archons through egregors. The state of balance is a lesson for average Spirits. Archon Heur is the observer of a sector of the Galaxy.

Vladimir: Comment on the situation with the hierarchy of low-vibration worlds around our planet. What are the strategic goals of this hierarchy and what is the ideal world, or universe, from their point of view?

That is, two questions: their structure around the planet and what is the ideal world, what is the vision of the universe from the point of view of the Archons?

Irina: What is the structure of the Archons around our planet?

Vladimir: Yes, first question.

Irina: They are now showing me that on any planet the Archons manifest themselves through the Astral, through those egregors that have already been formed and are suitable for them in vibrations or part of them. According to the observations of specialists from the Interstellar Union, there is a small number of contacts with the Archons. More often the influence comes through the dissemination of ideas, through the egregors of those ideas that are destructive in relation to the world, oneself and other people.

About the structure around planet Earth. This planet does not belong to the worlds of the Interstellar Union, and many Spirits from the middle levels are embodied here. They are just learning to bring themselves into a state of harmony, into a state of love, into a state close in Russian to the word “humility,” although this word has already lost its original meaning. This is a kind of balancing state.

Maria: Acceptance?

Irina: Acceptance is one of the consequences of this state. This is a state of balancing oneself with the whole world and with God, feeling oneself part of God and at the same time God for oneself, humility. The word has nothing to do with humiliation. This is a sense of yourself, your structure in the universe, your place in the universe. Unfortunately, there is no word in your language that accurately reflects the meaning.

The majority of spirits incarnated on Earth are students. They do not have much experience interacting with destructive systems, and since their instinctive part is strong, they fall under the influence of ideas that, at first glance, seem good and creative to them, but which, in the end, destroy their world and themselves .

There have been and still are many similar ideas on Earth. They are associated with religions, for example, in the form of the death penalty for religion, religious wars, with political repression and totalitarianism and other forms of oppression of man by man.

These ideas create a favorable environment for the creation of egregors, influenced by the Archons and directly controlled by them. The structure of the Archons in the noosphere of the Earth is as follows: there is no permanent Archon who would oversee the Earth, unlike the Angels. The Archon who oversees the nearest sector of the Galaxy is known. His name, in earthly sounds, is Heur or Geur. He can form egregors on different planets, including on Earth.

Second question?

20:55 Lucifer - controller of the Andromeda Galaxy sector

Vladimir: Second question. I want to clarify: Heur is directly subordinate to Lucifer within this hierarchy?

Irina: I would not say that Lucifer is the Spirit that Christianity speaks of, that he was the very first among the Archons, that he is the most important, they are all more or less equal to each other.

Lucifer controls one of the sectors of the Galaxy “Andromeda Nebula”, not the entire Galaxy. Archons may change at present.

21:43 Absolute freedom of the Spirit in the understanding of the Archons. Perception of the idea of freedom of the Spirit by plasmoids. Claims of the Archons to God.

Vladimir: We will return to Lucifer later so as not to disrupt the structure of our questions. I will repeat the second part of my question.

From the point of view of the Archons: what is the ideal world, what do they strive for, what should the universe be like in order for it to satisfy them?

Irina: Laer speaks. In general, the universe must be such that every Spirit is absolutely free, in their understanding. That is, absolutely free not only to choose, as is happening now, but absolutely free from the consequences of your choice. The Archons do not want to see the material world, in which there are destructions of material bodies. They believe that this does not correspond to the eternity of the Divine Spirit; they believe that God made a mistake when he created a material world from his energies, in which bodies are subject to death. Death as destruction, separation of the Soul from the body, and not the destruction of the atoms that make up the body. They believe that the Spiritual world is perfect.

Many plasmoid civilizations in their own way adopted this idea from the Archon teachers who embodied in them, through their subtle-material body.

Their first idea is the eternal Spiritual world. The angels explain to them that this is impossible, no changes are possible. The Archons respond to this that if God were perfect, if he were kind, he would give birth to those Spirits who have absolute love, then there would be no need for changes, choices, etc.

That is, in the choice of good and evil, we mean negative and positive. They believe that this is an imperfection in the mind of God, which subjected the Spirits to suffering because of the opportunity to incarnate in material bodies. They consider memory blocking to be unfair and causing suffering. This is the first point. The second point: it is considered unfair that for every choice there are consequences, and the consequences limit the freedom of choice. That is, a choice that does not correspond to love is followed by suffering, limitation in incarnations, and so on. Based on this, the Spirit is not free, it is forced into love, which is not love, from the point of view of the Archons.

These are the ideas.

25:20 Archons about the right of the Spirit to make any choice.

Vladimir: That is, they deny karma. They would like there to be no karma, in our terminology.

Irina: They would like that no, even the worst, lowest vibrational choice of the Spirit would lead it to suffering. The Archons believe that the Spirit has the right to choose both good and evil. At the same time, any choice should not lead to suffering. Such concepts.

25:58 Famous incarnations of Archons on Earth. Lucifer.

Vladimir: I see. Masha, please.

Maria: Friends, please name the most iconic known incarnation of the Archons on Earth. Why did the Spirit choose this particular path of development, when and how did this happen?

Irina: Information about the incarnations of the Archons on Earth is available only to Consulting Angels, who give it with the permission of the Spirits. Only the Spirit itself can give consent to other people to reveal their past incarnations. This is freedom of choice.

Maria: Negative examples of incarnation on our planet do not yet indicate that it was an Archon.

Irina: Yes, it doesn't mean that it was an Archon. I know several examples, I will not name individuals, when an Angel incarnated on your planet in the recent past and became a killer. He went into degradation after his incarnation below the level of the Archons. There are counterexamples. The spirit incarnated from the third, fourth, sixth level, and left as an Angel. Everything depends on the choice made by the Spirit. Each Spirit is given a chance to increase awareness, to develop love, hope, faith and all high vibrational states.

Vladimir: This is very valuable information. Thanks a lot. The spirit can either rise to any number of levels in a material incarnation, or descend to any number of levels during a material incarnation. This is very important for everyone to know.

We do know about one significant incarnation. Lucifer incarnated in the body of a Selbetian who invited those we know as Adam and Eve to taste the forbidden fruit.

Irina: Laer says that this story is known in the Interstellar Union. It was revealed by Lucifer himself, the same Archon. There is no longer a mystery of the Spirit to be observed.

28:31 Features of the relationship between the Archons.

Vladimir: Okay, thank you. The next question is: how do the Archons and other low vibrational Spirits relate to Lucifer? Is Heur really their boss, or do they have equal rights, and the word “hierarchy” does not work there.

Irina: It would be more correct to ask the Archon himself about the personal attitude towards Lucifer of any Archon. My contacts that I had with them pass through the prism of my perception. And I didn’t notice anything bad or bad in the relationship between the Archons. Speaking in earthly terms, there is no war or struggle between them. There is competition, but it does not go beyond mental negotiations. I did not see any quarrels or scandals, which are typical for lower vibrational Spirits, among the Archons.

29:35 Worship of Lucifer by low vibrational Spirits.

Vladimir: But on the contrary: is the worship of Lucifer among them?

Irina: Not among the Archons. For Spirits from the first to the fifth level, worship has nothing in common with earthly worship of a deity. They are disembodied Spirits. Their worship is not fanatical, it is recognition of authority in something, in this case - in ideas that low vibrational Spirits want to develop.

30:10 The attitude of the Archons to the religions of the Earth. The attitude of the Archons to the incarnated high-vibration Spirit.

Maria: And how does the Archon relate, for example, to God, to the Virgin Mary and to earthlings?

Irina: From the conversations that I had with them about the religions of earthlings, I remember that they treat any religions that carry high vibrations as systems that limit the freedom of the Spirit with various rules, canons, dogmas. They say that the Spirit must be free from everything except the ideas of the Archons themselves. This is the leading position. They consider any incarnated high-vibration Spirit who calls people to follow him and raise their vibrations as a danger that he will destroy their egregor.

31:27 Which worlds do the Archons prefer for incarnation? Tasks of the incarnations of the Archons.

Vladimir: I see, but how do they relate to the civilizations of the Interstellar Union? Do they often incarnate on his planets and if they have any preferences in terms of civilizations or density levels for incarnation?

Irina: Good question. I researched it too. Laer and LiShioni say that they asked the Archons. We asked the consultants: what worlds do the Archons prefer?

Archons prefer to incarnate, and consultants prefer to incarnate on planets where the body is more dense, or on the first 12 levels of density. This helps you learn more quickly the lessons of love, humility, patience, and so on.

Incarnations are frequent on planets where there are wars, some form of totalitarianism, on reptilian planets, where the body contributes to the development of control over its aggression. Also, Archons often incarnate on planets into those races to which they were hostile in a previous life and because of this they ended up at the level of Archons.

33:08 Percentage of incarnated Archons on Earth and on other planets.

Vladimir: Does this mean that on reptilian planets there is a greater percentage of incarnation from the level of Archons and from the level of low vibrations than on other planets?

Irina: We asked the Consulting Angel for statistics for the last 200 years and compared the planet Shimor, Burkhat, Esler, the leading planets that were familiar to me, the planet Earth, Selbet according to the incarnations of the Archons. Over the past two hundred years, 14 percent of all the Archons who went to incarnation have incarnated on Earth. On Selbet - 17 percent. Small difference. On Shimora – 7.

In subtle-material civilizations of all types - 40 percent. The rest -

10-12%, etc.

Vladimir: On Burkhad, probably even less. Masha, please.

34:17 Use of the names “Satan”, “Devil”, “Lucifer” in the Spiritual world.

Maria: Friends, tell me, are Satan, the Devil and Lucifer the same person, called differently, or are they different Spirits?

Vladimir: I'm interested in Lucifer.

Irina: Laer says that names exist for consciousness, which is enclosed in the body. In the Spiritual world this does not matter, anyone can be called a Demon, Devil, Lucifer, Satan, and they will gladly accept this name and communicate with the contactee. Names are convenient for the contacting entity to remember. The same entity can come under different names.

It is necessary to take into account not the name “Lucifer”, implying a person, but the meaning of this name, what it was taken for: for incarnation or for a specific contact.

Under one name there can be either one person or different personalities, depending on the entity that came into contact. She can be called differently: Demon, Devil, Devil, and Shaitan.

Vladimir: Let's talk more about this topic.

35:52 Contacts of earthlings with Lucifer. The influence of the contactee's perception on the information received.

Maria: On the topic of contacting low-vibration Spirits and, in particular, Lucifer. Recently we have contactees who accept information from them and post it.

It seems, judging by the information they give out, that the entities are far from low vibrational. For example, the contactee's information from conversations with Lucifer suggests that he is the creator of the material worlds, and his name "Fallen Angel" is a misunderstanding of this word. That is, he lowered his vibrations to dense material ones. It can be compared, probably, with the first Spirit, which isolated itself from the Absolute and began the process of separation from the Absolute. He began to lower his vibrations, condensing them, and ultimately became the creator of all material worlds. I'm curious, what do you have to say about this information?

Vladimir: Can I clarify what Masha said? I read this channeling of 1000 pages. Elena is a contactee, talked with Lucifer. The idea conveyed from Lucifer's name is that he asked God to teach him how to create and became the first part of God to be able to create outside of God.

The word “enemy” should be understood somewhat differently. He was not against God, but on the contrary. That is, God saw a certain separation from Himself, and this became a separation opposite God, in front of Him. He saw a certain alternative, that creation was no longer happening inside Him, but outside Him. This was manifested through Lucifer. It was the decision of the Most High, God, that creation should take place not only within Him, but also outside Him. God's decision was realized by the Angel of Light Lucifer. Therefore, there are no assessments of “bad”, “good”, “good” and “evil”. This is the choice of the Almighty. The point of view that is being conveyed. It will be nice if you comment.

Irina: Laer and LiShioni say that you and Maria do not consider the words of this entity, which made contact and called itself Lucifer, to be similar to the words of a low-vibration one. But at the same time they said that he lowered his vibrations to a dense material state. It is important to clarify what vibrations are meant. Spiritual vibrations are one thing. If the vibrations are not spiritual, and he did not lower the vibrations, but entered the material body.

Maria: Condensed vibrations to a state of materiality. This is what is meant. Not spiritual vibrations, but density. That is, all 59 known densities are the result of his creation. We don't evaluate them as good or bad.

Irina: Lucifer, who made contact, was called “the bearer of light.” But this was another entity, not the Archon. He was on another level at that moment. If we take these words. If there was no more content that was hidden. You need to get acquainted with the text.

According to what you said, the Spirit could be incarnated and was called “the bringer of light.” It could have been a plasmoid of a high-vibration density level that took part in the creation of galaxies and the Solar system, densifying matter. A conductor of Divine Light that creates matter. A part of God that participates in the creation of the Universe, some part of the universe.

Maria: The fact is that he knows about the attitude on Earth towards Lucifer. He channeled that the time has come to tell the truth for those people who are open and not afraid of his name. He calls himself Lucifer, not only understanding the meaning of this word, but also understanding what meaning, what significance earthlings associate with this name. He knows very well that there is a negative perception associated with this name.

Irina: If we assume that he himself called himself the creator of material worlds and spoke about the compaction of vibrations, then he talked about his experience of incarnation in subtle, high-vibration worlds. But, at the same time, why did he talk about the negative perception of this name?

He came into contact with a certain contactee, who had his own store of knowledge about this name and perceived the information from her memory as the truth about the world into which he came. “Lucifer” is the perception of the contactee. He called himself a thought form: “I am the bringer of light.” In her mind, “carrying Light” is an association with Lucifer.

Perhaps she read that there is a Latin name. There are different options. When she perceived that the “bringer of Light” was Lucifer, she had a negative association with that Archon that everyone was talking about. That he was close to God, at the 24th level, and the contactee gave a reaction to his memory, that this was evil, that an evil entity had come into contact. The reaction to contact with an evil entity is denial, aggression, fear, and so on. For a high vibrational entity, these emotions are low and hurt him.

Maria : As far as I understand, she herself was interested in talking to him. That is, she did not experience any fear.

Irina: Have you already read the text that was written? Did she talk about the first moments of contact?

Maria: Yes, I talked with her, and she, I must say, has a very high spiritual development of relationships. She also receives channelings from the Absolute, Saint Germain, and other Higher Hierarchies. She has come out of the state of duality, she has an even, calm, balanced attitude. This is an interesting philosophical work. At the beginning of the channeling, he very interestingly tells where and why this misconception came from. He mentions Christ in conversations, other hierarchies. It cannot be said that this was some kind of misunderstanding or that they were confused with plasmoids, or that the plasmoids did not understand the contactee.

Irina: I told you the point of view of the majority of Archons on the processes taking place in the world, on God, and so on. Were these signs in the text?

Maria: It wasn't. On the contrary, it was about highly spiritual things, about a call for development.

45:08 Criteria for distinguishing information from Archons, Demons: attitude to matter, attitude to people, attitude to God, attitude to Christ. The main idea of the book is about Lucifer. The battle between Darkness and Light. The name is "Light Bringer".

Irina: To distinguish information from an Archon or another Demon, it is important to look at three things: the attitude to matter, the material world, especially to the pleasures of the material world, the material body.

Maria: There is no denial and no hostility in this text.

Irina: Attitude towards people who do not share the idea of spirituality, Light. Relation to any people.

Maria: To any embodied bodies. Very positive. He writes that if you rejoice, then I rejoice with you, if you suffer, then I suffer too.

Irina: And the attitude towards God. As I already said, the Archons are characterized by the idealization of complete freedom and avoidance of consequences.

Mary: He calls God his father. The contact asks, and he replies that he is as much my father as yours. Interestingly, in the channeling, he mentions that he is not currently responsible for our region of the Galaxy. The contactee knew about this. He said: “Yes, I have a different project now, I am now in a different sector of the Galaxy and am not working on Earth. This is already a completed project for me.”

Irina: If the Archon calls God his father, by this he recognizes himself as a part of Him and will be in His love. If he calls while outside the body, outside of incarnation, he will strive to get out of these vibrations in order to get even closer to the Light. If he, being in the body, consciously calls God father, Love, Light, then this will increase his level and will not be an Archon at this moment.

Maria: He said that he did not incarnate on Earth.

Irina: I told you about the Archon’s worldview. If you did not find these signs in the text, then the information at that moment in time was not transmitted by the Archons.

Vladimir: Laer, could one of the Archons, including Lucifer, have adjusted and stated everything that Masha said?

Irina: I could have adjusted. If he lined up, he did it for a specific purpose. These goals should be hidden in the text. I am not familiar with this text, so I ask: “Were these ideas somehow hidden, veiled by others?” Archons are often presented as servants of Light in order to lead people aside. It happens. To do this you need to know the text.

Maria: I read it, and I was impressed that there are no veiled hints or any information leading to division or diverting from God. Vice versa.

Irina: Did the contactee ask what level he is at now?

Maria: She has different ideas about hierarchy, about the structure of the universe. She is not familiar with the structure of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: She asked the question, is he a Demon?

Maria: No, I didn't ask. She asked a lot of critical questions at the very beginning, why do people say this? She referred to that literature, to the knowledge that we have on Earth. "The Revolt of Angels against God" or "Fallen Angel".

Irina: What was your attitude towards Christ? The key moment for the Archons who come to earthly contactees.

Mary: She asked his attitude towards Christ, and he suggested asking Him himself. He said that Buddha was his (Lucifer's) disciple in this channeling. And when she asked about Christ, he advised her to ask Christ himself, who am I for him?

Irina: I understand, but was his personal attitude towards Christ expressed?

Maria: He says about everyone that they are the same children of God as he himself. That is, we, incarnate people, Spirits, are sons and daughters of God.

Irina: Okay, but the goal, the main idea of this book, from it you can understand what he is saying. The main idea of the book, what conditions does it cause, what does it lead to?

Maria: This book talks about the structure of the universe, about the creation of worlds from his point of view, as he sees it. He answers many philosophical questions and philosophical conversations. Volodya correctly said that it is more than 1000 pages. The contact is built at the level of understanding, vocabulary and interests of the contactee. The perception of Lucifer differs from the information and image that is created in our culture.

Vladimir: Global work. To sum up the opinion of the representatives of the Interstellar Union, then this is either a plasmoid that called itself Lucifer for some purposes, or one of the Archons who set up for some purposes that are still impossible to understand. Maybe the goal is to gain trust.

Irina: LiShioni says, perhaps, someone is an Archon, who, during incarnation, left this level, but left his former name “Bearer of Light.” That is, you need to look at the text to see if there are hidden calls that lead away from the path of spiritual development. If they are not there, then this was transmitted in a state of consciousness not of the Archon.

Maria: He describes, for example, that there is a battle between Darkness and Light. It's a battle to attract people to your camp. And each person chooses between creation outside the level of God and creation inside God. That is, this is the difference between Light and Darkness. Create inside God or outside God. He chooses this before incarnation into the dense worlds and makes this choice every second.

Irina: If he considered the material world, the dense material world outside of God, then this is the Archon idea. But if he considered the external energy of God himself, this is not an Archonian idea.

Maria: The difficulty lies in misunderstandings in terminology. Who knows?

Irina: They deny matter itself, its necessity for God. They may recognize its value for some of their purposes.

53:43 Attitude of interstellar friends towards Lucifer. Archons are children of God.

Vladimir: We may return to this topic, there is a large layer of information there, we did not have time to discuss everything. I want to talk about your attitude towards Lucifer from your personal point of view, dear Laer and LiSioni.

We heard the point of view of the Spirit, which was described by Masha in this literary work, in this manuscript. Serious work. Tell us your point of view or the Interstellar Union, how you feel about the personality of Lucifer and this whole story about good and evil.

Is it true that he became the founder of the category we call “evil?” The sub-question of this question is: did Lucifer's choice really lead and lead to suffering, neither to joy, nor to the highest levels of happiness, but to suffering.

Irina: The attitude of the Interstellar Union towards Lucifer? And our personal. Everyone will have their own attitude towards the Interstellar Union. I have never seen the attitude expressed in our laws. Each personality has its own attitude towards the Archons, Lucifer and other entities of their level.

My personal attitude. LiScioni and Laer speak almost identically. Our attitude towards Lucifer and the Archon: these are the same Spirits who are parts of God, children of God. By their free will they chose a different path. They have every right to develop in the reality in which they now find themselves. From the vibrations that I felt when I came to their level, I felt that they did not, like the Angels, for example, have a sense of self-sufficiency, happiness, or love.

I regret their choice, but I don't limit that choice. If they wish, they themselves will come through incarnation into a high vibrational state. Then they will know the meaning of why matter was created, the meaning of freedom that exists in the Divine world.

But this cannot be forced, because forced repentance and coming to the spiritual path is not sincere. They themselves must live their lives, go through their experiences and decide whether they want to be in contact with God and raise their vibrations, or whether they want to create their own worlds independently, apart from him. But they do not create their worlds the way God did; they create on the basis of what has already been created.

57:16 Memory of the Spirit about the levels of the Spiritual world. Lucifer's mental attitudes. God and Jesus' vision of all possible futures.

Maria: Please tell me this question: Spirits who have passed through all levels of incarnation, from the 1st to the 24th, as I understand it, this possibility exists for numerous incarnations. And, for example, Spirits who have been to angelic levels and then find themselves on demonic levels, do they have memories of these levels in incarnations, can they compare these levels?

Irina: When they come out of incarnation, they remember all their incarnations. When they are in contact with God and review their incarnation, everything is remembered.

Maria: I don't mean incarnations, but levels. Spirits come from different levels. If they were, for example, at the angelic levels, then descended to the demonic, they retain memories of these levels, what vibrations are there, what state is there. I wonder why Lucifer, being on the angelic levels and knowing these energies, knowing these vibrations, having descended to the level of the Archons, does not want to leave there?

Vladimir: Yes, a very good question.

Irina: Very good question. Laer says that he remembers both the 24th level and the 18th, and the states that he experienced there: love, happiness. His mental attitudes: the creation of matter and suffering do not give the Spirit absolute freedom. This is an obstacle to his being in these energies of happiness, joy, goodness for the reason that he does not need to enjoy what comes from God, whom he does not recognize. In the most general sense.

Vladimir: Continuation of this question. Can we consider that the choice of Lucifer and everything that happened is the choice of the Almighty? The Almighty is omniscient, omnipotent, knows the past, present and future. This means that he foresaw all this, this is part of his process, which is under his control.

Maria: Development plan.

Irina: The choice of God - the Creator of the Universe, the Father of us all and Lucifer was to give a choice to everyone and not to influence this choice, even if it begins to destroy the world, himself and the people around him. But He can intervene in this process if the incarnation of someone is too important for other Spirits or for the development of Himself. He can, through his Angels, through the elements of nature, intervene in war, in murders and prevent this from happening, limiting the choice of this criminal, the Spirit who kills.

Vladimir: Did he know that Lucifer would make such a choice?

Irina: He knew that Lucifer would make such a choice. When our Heavenly Father sent his firstborn son Christ to be incarnated into the body of an earthly woman and a Burkhadian father, they and their son saw the end of this incarnation in the future. However, the Father decided to send his son, and the son decided to go. They knew how everything would be. They saw many options for events and the only option that would be real.

01:01:36 Contacts of interstellar friends with Lucifer. Lucifer's ability to create a Spiritual Entity.

Maria: Friends, tell me, where did you get the information about what Lucifer thought and what decisions he made? Did you have direct contacts with his Spirit? Where do such statements come from in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: Yes. Lucifer is one of the leading Archons of our group of galaxies, and I, as a researcher of the Spiritual World, have talked with him several times.

Maria: Is it possible to invite him to our conference and chat with him?

Irina: You can invite him to the contactee, but will he give his consent? He must understand the purpose for which he is coming.

Vladimir: Goal: to hear his point of view and convey it to people.

Maria: Of course.

Irina: He did not come into the material world. I talked to him at his level, where he is, in the space that he created for himself. This space is very similar to the planet Burhad, but mental.

Maria: Can he also come in the astral body or only on the Spiritual level?

Irina: Since he is not embodied, he does not have an astral shell. But he can create a spiritual (not phantom) entity and come in the Spirit. He does not need to go into the Astral from the body; he needs to come from the world of astral, non-embodied Spirits into the material world. For him this is a disturbance of peace because he considers the material world imperfect. Therefore, he must clearly understand the goals of making contact, not at his level, where the contactee will come, but at the level of the material world.

Vladimir: Masha left and will return, I think they took her away for a while. We are glad to see you again, you managed to go to the Spiritual World, where there is no time. You probably managed to communicate with the right people and again with us.

01:03:49 The image of Hell in the Spiritual World. Low vibrational Spirits in the energy of Spiritual Light. Conflicts and fights of Spirits on the third and fourth levels of the Spiritual World.

Vladimir: The next question: in the context of the hierarchy of the structure of low vibration levels, what is Hell, and what happens to the Soul there? Why and how is this related to the Archons or are they different things? We on Earth believe that there is a direct connection. Hell and space of the Archons, low vibrational spirits.

Irina: LiSioni answers. I studied earthly religions a little more than Laer: the Christian religion, the Islamic religion, the idea of an afterlife in different religions. What can I say? Fire, a lake of fire, various places with high temperatures in which sinned Spirits are supposedly located - this is an image: they are in the Spiritual world without a body and nothing fences them off from the piercing energy of Spiritual Light. Energy on the sixth, fifth, fourth, third, etc. levels has a lower intensity of glow than on the 18th and 21st, but for low-vibration Spirits this is enough for them to feel a burning sensation, especially at the beginning, when they arrive, and their spiritual shells have not yet adapted. This is not a physical burning sensation, it is inside, and at the same time it will be accompanied by an intensification of negative blocks, all the desires that were in the material body with full awareness of the impossibility of satisfying these needs and desires without the body.

Vladimir: Are they really tormented by those low-vibration Spirits on the energetic level?

Irina: This is not typical for the Archon level. Conflicts involving battles are typical for levels 3 and 4. When a Spirit gets there, it comes into contact with other Spirits. Contacts can end in conflicts and fights at the level where the same Spirits are located, having the appearance of a dense material body.

Unlike an earthly or other dense material body, their body cannot be destroyed. You can create an appearance, a thought form, like you beat the Spirit, use some kind of weapon, but it cannot be destroyed, because the Spirit is eternal. One can create the appearance of physical pain, because he remembers how it was in the physical body, how much he is able to believe and feel the reality of what is happening. There are no such receptors as in the physical body. Everything is at the level of his sensations.

Vladimir: Masha, please, you have another interesting question.

01:07:45 Transfer by the Spirit of the memory of life in the material world into the Spiritual world. The consequences of this transfer to the third and fourth levels of the Spiritual World.

Maria: I wanted to clarify Vladimir's interesting question.

Depending on what experience the Spirit had in the physical world, on what planet, does it transfer sensations to this level in the Spiritual world?

Irina: Transfers the memory of him. If a low-vibration Spirit has returned from war, it will carry over the memory that such and such a weapon causes pain. If another Spirit, located on the third or fourth low vibrational level, considers the experience in its memory when it comes into contact with it, a conflict arises. Selfishness and resentment often cause conflicts, including groups against one.

01:08:38 Fights of low-vibration Spirits with the help of thought forms. Thought forms of protection and appeal to God of low vibrational Spirits.

Maria: What will they represent if they were embodied in such a high-vibration civilization as Shimor or Burkhad?

Irina: On Shimora and Burkhada there is an idea from historical information about weapons. This will be recorded in the memory of the Spirit. Those Spirits who attack him at their level consider in memory what is the most terrible weapon for him. Fire, sword or rope. They will hang him, creating a thought form. How realistically he will imagine, so realistically he will feel.

If he doesn't believe it and creates a thought form of protection in response, he won't feel it. If he calls on God at this moment, remembering Him, and does not respond with anger or fear, he will come into contact with his Light, which is preserved in him. He can call an Angel for contact, he will come and protect, give advice on what and how to do. He will be sent for incarnation sooner.

LiScioni says that the thoughts of people still living in the material world (embodied Spirits) who knew and loved him play a very important role.

Vladimir : That is, if they pray, light candles, it helps.

01:10:22 The role of rites of remembrance of the dead.

Irina: They light candles, remember, do it with love, perform some kind of ritual or remember with a kind word, if it is filled with internal content, not the content of regret that he left, the desire to return him, talk to him, but the content of love for him, wishes of the Light where it is. These actions give him protection. If he is at a low level, this gives him protection from low-vibration attacks, protection not like a shield, but he will feel more strength in himself, a surge of energy. This energy brings back memories of their love and may prompt a desire to raise one's vibration, go to counselors and ask for an embodiment to correct the low frequency qualities that got one there.

Maria: Thank you, very important practical advice for all occasions.

Vladimir: Thank you very much.

1:11:30 Adam is the common name for humanity created by the Interstellar Union. Lilith is a generalized name for parasitic plasmoid civilizations. Succubi.

Maria: We have a very interesting question about such a historical figure, about whom there is a lot of contradictory, unspecified information. This is Lilith.

In the Talmud, for example, she is mentioned as Adam’s first wife, who did not want to obey him and left him. In Sumerian, Old Babylonian and Aramaic mythology as a demoness or as a deity of air and wind. In esotericism, especially in the feminist and matriarchal directions, she is called the foremother of the material world. Who is Lilith?

Vladimir: Is she the female form of Lucifer?

Irina: LiShioni says that from what he learned from religion, in the sacred scriptures of Jews, Christians and so on, from conversations on this topic with representatives of Burkhad, who from their historical chronicles looked at the contacts of the first people, not only Adam. Adam is not only the first man, it is the general name for humanity that was created by the Interstellar Union.

Lilith, in my opinion, and according to many sources of the Interstellar Union on which I rely, is a plasmoid entity that came into contact with not one, but several representatives of the first male people. She diverted the sexual energy of these men to herself in order to feed on it. This is original. Then Lilith is not one entity, but rather a certain group of group mind entities and various levels of density that contacted the first people. Subsequently, these plasmoids began to come to children, scare them, take their life force, and so on. This is a generalized name for parasitic plasmoid civilizations.

Vladimir: That is, those whom we called succubi, plasmoid entities that work with human sexual energy.

Irina: Plasmoids and disembodied Spirits of various levels can be called succubi.

01:14:47 Manifestations of love from low-vibration Spirits.

Vladimir : Okay, we have one last question with Masha. It is like a switch from succubi to higher matters: do low vibrational Spirits experience love?

If yes, then in what form? What does love mean to them?

Irina: They feel love. Every Spirit, no matter how low-vibrational it may be, is not deprived of the ability to experience it. This is the property of the Spiritual Heart, which is embedded in every Spirit.

The love that Archons and other Demons experience, how does it differ from the love that Angels experience? The Archon's love, in your opinion, is selfish. It is aimed at one part, for example, one's own personality, while ignoring spiritual needs. While ignoring the fact that they are all born of Heavenly Father.

Their love can also be directed at another, not at a whole person or essence, but at its separate manifestation while ignoring or suppressing basic needs. That is, in your opinion, a form of selfish love. In a tough way.

Vladimir: All questions. We have worked out a time limit. Masha and I want to thank Laer and LiShioni for what I consider to be the most interesting answers to our questions. I hope that we will continue this topic, in one format or another, because everything connected with low-vibration worlds is part of the universe, part of divinity, we cannot cut it off.

Moreover, many of us come to the Spiritual worlds and to those levels, and then we travel through incarnations depending on all our individual developments and characteristics. I want to thank Maria, Irina, representatives of the Interstellar Union and Maxim, who created the right energy field for us behind the scenes.

01:17:05 Question for Masha. How does the incarnate Archon feel in this life?

Maxim: I wanted to ask one very interesting question behind the scenes. Masha, please tell me how you feel as an incarnate Archon?

Maria: Have you finally decided to drag me out on this topic, have you decided to expose me?

Maxim: We often meet incarnated Archons on Earth; I would like to hear how the incarnated Archon feels on Earth?

Maria: Interview with the incarnate Archon. How can I put it in one word: unexpectedly and surprised by this turn of my development. I did not expect and did not intend to get into spirituality. I considered myself a material, down-to-earth person; I had specific ideas about material life. After I found out my level, I had to digest it first, but then gradually everything began to fall into place. I gradually began to find some parallels, some confirmation or evidence of what, why and how, thanks to Irina, first of all.

We traveled a lot and found an explanation of what happened. Why did I end up at this level, and I must say that I am a very happy Archon in this incarnation. Everything in my life is going smoothly and safely. I receive so much support and help from all sides at all levels. Spirits from eight angelic levels from the 17th to the 21st are embodied around me. In my family, my friends, my relatives. When I calculated them, I was very surprised. I was surrounded by so many Angels that there was no other opportunity for development.

Maxim: An Archon, surrounded by love, has nothing other than spiritual growth on Earth.

Maria: I will even say that they not only love me, but also give me tests and lessons that push me to practice some of my archon habits, habits, character traits. I am very grateful to my surroundings for this, grateful that awareness has come that in any trials, in any conflicts or unpleasant situations, we get help in working through these situations. And in spiritual growth. I believe that these are the most sacrificial Souls who put us in such a position because they point out those aspects, moments and blocks that we need to work out. I am grateful to all of them for this: all the critics, the misunderstandings and the attackers. In everyone I see a great sacrificial Soul that brings us valuable lessons, helps us grow and change.

I am very grateful to the Cassiopeia project, Irochka, Maxim, Volodya, and our entire team. For incredible lessons, growth opportunities, events, energy. When you treat everything consciously and with understanding, you realize how beautiful life and our universe are, how harmonious everything is in it, how wisely everything in it is arranged.

Maxim: I came up with a motto: “Dear Archons, join the Cassiopeia project, we will make Angels out of you!!!”

Vladimir: Dear friends, those who watched to the end. As always, the most interesting is at the end. You have just heard the confession of the Archon, the real incarnate one. We didn't plan this, to be honest. I, of course, knew about the incarnation of Mary, but no one planned to talk about it. Thanks to Maxim, we got this opportunity in the end. There was a spontaneous surprise for you.

I'm very glad this happened. As you understand, we searched, asked about the Archons, and it turned out that the Archon was nearby. We will continue, everything is ahead of us, especially with the support of the Archon, who is going to the angelic levels, looking great. Thank you all very much again! It was very nice to talk to everyone and see you again on air!

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our guest is Alexander, my friend. He is a psychologist, he will tell you about himself.

Alexander : Good time! My name is Timashev Alexander. I am a psychologist, coach, and give lectures, seminars, and trainings. My main topic is male education. Irina and I agreed to conduct a series of lectures related to understanding what a man is, what a woman is, and what a family is. Such fundamentals because the information it can provide can be fundamental and useful for our society. And, in principle, today's meeting, the first one we wanted to hold, will be aimed precisely at the topic of male energy. Because it is very important to understand what male energy is, what female energy is. In principle, if we look, we will see that we consist only of masculine and feminine principles. So I wanted to ask Irina who will be visiting us today.

Irina: Today our curators are present with us: MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms, and LiShioni from the planet Shimor, a specialist in astral interactions and connections between the astral world and physical space.

Hello, Alexander!

01:40 Why is there a division into male and female genders in the Universe?

Alexander : Good time! I would like to ask the first question. If we look at the Universe, we will see that it consists of masculine and feminine principles. And I would like to learn and understand in more detail what male energy is and what female energy is, and what the beginning is, and where it all comes from. Because as I understand it, there is a Soul, and the Soul comes to this planet and already has some kind of energy, the separation of the male and female bodies, or does it choose this?

Irina : Thank you for the question. Strictly speaking, you have three questions here. The first question: “Why is there a division on Earth into male and female sexes? - if I understood your question correctly - and what does this mean in a spiritual sense?” And the second question is whether the Soul has a gender, or whether it chooses it. Right?

Alexander : Yes.

Irina : Regarding the answer to the first question. In the MC, in the science of the Spiritual World of the Interstellar Union, it is believed that the division into male and female is a reflection of the spiritual law according to which spirit enters matter. That is, the male gender in this case personifies the Spirit of man. And the female gender means Matter. And from their combination, life is obtained, a physical body into which the Spirit inhabits. In the same way, from the combination of Spirit and Matter, a person is obtained, just as when the male and female principles, the body are combined, a child is obtained from their cells. Such a fundamental meaning in the material world, reflecting the process of the birth of the Spirit, which is, as we know, eternal and infinite, which means beyond the limits of the material world, beyond the limits of the Time Ribbon, which exists between the material world and the astral. When the Spirit is born, the thought of God, his feelings unite with each other and generate the energy of will. And these three components: the energy of the will, the energy of thought and the energy of the spiritual heart, or feelings, form a structure called the newborn rational spirit. As you can see, there also exist three structural units, which, already passing through incarnation into matter, are designated by the masculine principle, which denotes the thought of God, and the feminine principle, which denotes the feelings of God, if we are talking about the birth of the Spirit in the Spiritual world. We are not talking about his incarnation, but about his birth in the Spiritual world. And, accordingly, the energy, the active principle, is the product of their child, which is the active principle, allowing the spirit to desire something and achieve its goals.

Alexander : This is at the level of the Soul, at the level of the subtle plane, the Spiritual.

Irina : They explain that the very division into male and female principles in the Universe, not only among humans, but also among animals, insects, plants, all living forms of life that exist in the Universe, is not accidentally divided into two. Not three, not four. It reflects that two are united and a third is born. This reflects the Spiritual law of the birth of the Spirit. Thoughts and feelings give energy. This is a reflection of the Spiritual Law in the material world.

Alexander : That is, as I understand it, these are exactly two energies that can give birth to the next energy.

Irina : Yes, these are two energies. We simply call energy: the energy of will, the energy of consciousness and the energy of emotions, and we call the mind and feelings not energies, but simply structural spiritual units. Your terminology in Russian does not contain words that could more clearly indicate the difference between energy and these structural units.

Alexander : Well, yes, with us the word “energy” sometimes means everything.

Irina : Yes. You use the word energy to mean everything, but we only have more specific ideas that can be translated as “forces acting for some purpose.”

07:30 Does the Soul have a gender? Choosing a body during incarnation.

Alexander : We talked about the subtle plan. Here, when the Soul comes, incarnation takes place here on planet Earth...

Irina : Each Spirit contains both masculine and feminine principles. And it contains energy, that is, that third principle that is born in it. As for choosing a body. Each Spirit can choose either a male or female body. He can change them.

Alexander : So he has freedom of choice when incarnating on Earth, he chooses them himself?

Irina : Not only when incarnated on Earth, when incarnated on any planet there are similar male and female bodies. He chooses either a male or female body depending on his desire and his karma, that is, depending on what he has to go through, what energies to study.

Alexander : That is, the choice of a male or female body means freedom of choice of Spiritual energy?

Irina : Yes, but he, like all the circumstances of his incarnation: race, gender, planet or country, religion, even a certain family, he chooses himself, but in alliance with his mentors, consulting angels from the Spiritual world, with 22- level that help him in this choice. And if his choice does not correspond to his spiritual tasks, then he will be denied incarnation.

Alexander : When he makes this choice, when he comes to this planet in incarnation, at some point he forgets about how to act in a male body... many men do not know and women do not understand how to act in a female body, and they have to adapt. Experiments, one might say... There is no template, no safety precautions, no way to use it, plus, as I understand it, reincarnations of past lives influence it. Because they could already be both women and men, and so everything begins to get mixed up... that is, how to behave, how to correctly decide, adapt to the understanding that I am a man.

09:53 Adaptation of the body to a social role. Consequences of insufficient memory blocking for role awareness. Homosexuality.

Irina : In your race, man and woman are not only biological characteristics of the body, it is also a social role. This depends on those concepts of norms in the family and society that set the ideals of men and women for the younger generation. Teenagers begin to associate their male body with the role they want to achieve in society. Therefore, he begins to recognize himself as a man or a woman. The only thing that can affect this process in any negative way (but this is also a lesson for the Spirit) is that sometimes the Spirit is blocked from not completely remembering the past body.

If it was of a different gender in a previous incarnation, sometimes its memory is not completely blocked so that it can learn the lesson of patience and humility towards this body, which is different from the previous body. And in this case, the Spirit, embodied in a man, who was previously embodied in a woman, he still feels in a female body, and, accordingly speaking, if he does not accept his male body as divine energy, he rejects it, and his social and sexual behavior becomes like that of a woman. The same thing happens with the Spirit, which was embodied in a male body, but incarnated into a woman. This is especially evident in childhood, when the memory of previous incarnations is not yet covered by the memory of present life.

Alexander : And here the help of parents should come in, who should show and tell him how to get used to this body, how to isolate himself and how to act. We have little socialization, gender differences are accepted in society. For example, now many men do not understand how to behave like men, and many women do not understand the behavior of women. In general, how does a man’s behavior differ from a woman’s behavior on the subtle plane? Are there these differences and major differences here on Earth in behavioral patterns and perceptions of life?

12:54 The difference in the charge of the chakras and aura in men and women.

Irina : A spirit that chooses to incarnate into a male or female body, it activates most of its Soul, which is responsible for feelings, as I already said, thoughts and energy, the one that is the third principle, directs more towards the development of sensitivity in itself , sensuality, emotional attitude to the world, or more to mental and rational activity. Of course, all this affects the brain of the incarnate Spirit. And all this can be stabilized and harmonized by education. Naturally, a woman can be much more rational than a man, and a man is very emotional and sensual, like a woman in a subtle sense, as well. But the initial message in a subtle sense was precisely that, incarnating in a male or female body, the Spirit first acquires, in the Spiritual world, a certain, in your opinion, charge. This is not a plus or minus, but rather energy directed more towards the mental field or the astral field. And therefore, the aura and charges of the chakras, which are projections in the physical body of energy centers in the etheric body, and those, in turn, are projections of astral-mental processes, they, the charges of these chakras and aura, differ in men and women. The frequencies are different.

14:40 Materiality and spirituality of men and women.

Alexander : There is an opinion that in terms of evolutionary development, a man's body is higher than a woman's body. A woman is more material, and a man is more spiritual. Therefore, a male body is given to him so that he can directly move along the Spiritual path. Is it really?

Irina : What is material?

Alexander : Body. They say that a woman is material, and a man is spiritual. And he needs incarnations in order for him to follow the Spiritual path and return to God. I took certain lessons here.

Irina : Do you mean that women are more prone to materialistic perceptions?

Alexander : Yes.

Irina : A slightly different process is described here, a process is described here that, in general, in the sense of the Spiritual path, both men and women have absolutely equal opportunities. That is, with connection with the Light, the Spirit of God. Both a man and a woman are parts of God, and when they get into a male or female body, they do not lose this contact with the Higher Self. It cannot be said that a man or a woman has a greater or lesser percentage of the Higher Self compared to the embodied part, almost in the body of an earthling is reflected in such a way that they have the same contact with the Spiritual world.

As for the perception of the world. Here, materialism or non-materialism depends not on gender, but on those upbringing processes that are given in the family. Mainly even before schooling. Naturally, in the process of school education, that is, gaining knowledge about the world, how it should be understood and how one should live in it, and how to act, the foundation is laid for understanding what really exists, and what exists only as a reflection in consciousness.

If the educational standards of your world do not initially include an understanding of mental and astral processes as real, not different from the reality of the material world, and even influencing and transforming it, then both boys and girls brought up in this environment will be almost equally prone to materialism. They will just understand it differently.

Men will understand materialism as logic, searching for some evidence for any statements that he believes do not correspond to logic. But he already accepts many statements that correspond to his inner spiritual mood without evidence. He himself does not notice this process. Such a logical process: the fact that these ideas do not suit the Spiritual heart, he is looking for evidence. Refutes them. In a purely logical way, he looks for arguments, errors, and so on.

A woman, her materialism, manifests itself not through rational activity, but through the feeling of this world as the only real one. The material world as the only real one. And for her this happens not in a logical way, but in a sensual way. She just feels like she doesn't exist. If she is tuned to materialistic perception, to materialism from childhood, then she simply feels that those who talk about the Spiritual path are mistaken. She doesn't look for logical reasons. At least, this is not inherent in her nature. You can teach her to do this, but it will be more difficult for her to do it, for example, than for a boy. Materialism is perceived in different ways, but it can be instilled in the same way. As, by the way, is Spirituality. They understand spirituality differently.

19:22 The spiritual path of a man and a woman.

Alexander : As I understand it, if a woman feels this way, then she should also feel the topic of Spirituality better than a man?

Irina : In general, the word is feelings - they are manifested more in feminine nature. And the mental, thoughts are more manifested in masculine nature. For example, if a man and a woman follow the Spiritual path, then initially they perceive it somewhat differently. But again: a woman can learn to perceive like a man, and a man like a woman. There are no obstacles here, it will just be more difficult to do. However, this can be taught, special exercises can be done on your thought processes. But initially the Spiritual path is perceived differently. A man perceives the path to God as a chain of events. So I did certain practices, and I was already closer to the Light, to God on this day. Again, he understands all this rationally. For example, he perceives the word “enlightenment” as a certain light of reason, when everything becomes clear to him.

Alexander : Like clarity.

Irina : Yes, like clarity. Women understand the Spiritual path as an example of love, sensuality, a sense of the bright colors of this world. Of course, a man can feel this way, but for this he will need to learn. Just like a woman, she will need to learn to understand the world as Spiritual development. And a man and a woman have their own nature already inherent from the very beginning.

Alexander : Then it turns out that when a man and a woman meet to procreate, they, in principle, are teachers for each other in order to adopt these skills that everyone has. Or for someone else?

Irina : A man and a woman meet for the first time in a family. When a child is born, his first teacher of handling the energy of the opposite sex is the parent of the opposite sex. And here the image of the opposite sex or the energy of the opposite sex will depend on the behavior of the energy of love that this parent invested in it. How will he understand the other representatives who will meet him in the future?

Alexander : It turns out that the influence of parents is very great..

Irina : For example, for a girl it is the influence of her father, for a boy it is the influence of her mother. They are simply the first energy that determines their further view of the opposite sex, unfamiliar to them in this world, at the moment when they grow, when they accumulate knowledge about the new incarnation.

Alexander : That is, as I understand it, a person has a certain destiny, and plus the influence of his parents is mixed into it.

Irina : If by fate we mean the plan of incarnation, then, of course, we come here with a plan of incarnation. But since the Spirit can not only increase its level, that is, go according to its plan of incarnation, it can also remain the same, and even lower it, then this plan is not always fulfilled.

Alexander : And the implementation of the plan depends on whom? Is this my personal choice? Or are there any specific plans for me from above? I don't just come here to incarnate. So, for something else I came to take some lessons, that is, we are connected with God, but God also has some kind of plan for me?

Irina : When in the Spiritual world you accept your plan of incarnation, you understand it as a divine plan. You there, in connection with the Higher Self, do not separate yourself from the part of God. At least above the 15th, above the 14th levels this happens. If we are talking about the level of demons who incarnate, they also connect at their level, as best they can, with their Higher Self. They understand the Light distorted, but in terms of incarnation they have the task of raising their vibrations in order to get out of this state of lower demonic levels , where they do not perceive the Light of Love and are there without it in complete suffering. If a demon is without a body, on the Spiritual level, then from this suffering, spiritual, internal, he cannot be distracted by some sensations of the body, sensual pleasures, he simply no longer has the strength.

24:15 Puberty of boys and girls. Education, joint or separate education.

Alexander : If we look at the development of children, then until the age of 14 they do not yet see gender differences; they have not yet reached puberty. They understand, but they interact with each other very simply, very easily. Then, when it happens at the age of 14-15, and from the age of 12, certain feelings begin for each other, contact, emotions arise. And here is an interesting moment. There is the topic of separate upbringing and education of children, and there is a joint one. What is better here on planet Earth: co-education or separate education, and at what age?

Irina : Here I would focus more attention on the standards of the approach to education, and not on the issue of joint or separate education. On the educational programs themselves. In fact, the issue of puberty is a physical one. But this is a process that happens in the body. Puberty itself begins much earlier in the Spirit. Not as maturation, but as preparation of the Spirit for life: growth, development of the child. From the moment he realizes that he is a boy or a girl, he already begins preparation for puberty, but it begins at the level of the Spirit. In your earthly body and in the present time, the difference between a boy and a girl, when he feels different or different, is from about the age of four or five. They are already beginning to distinguish themselves as representatives of the other sex purely spiritually, that is, more or less consciously. The spirit at its level of the Higher Self always knows what it is responsible for, but at the level of the embodied part it begins to realize itself at the age of 4-5 years. It all depends on the family in which he grows up, on various individual characteristics. From this moment on, he begins to recognize his social roles and learns to behave like a man or a woman.

And his body begins to prepare for adult life and releases certain hormones when the Spirit fully recognizes himself as a person of a certain gender. Then the body begins to adapt. As you know, even in the same family, with the same genetics, the process of puberty for different children is not the same. Their age, the arrival of the state when it is possible to have their own children, is not the same. One girl can conceive and carry a child purely physically, say, at the age of 14, then the second only at 16. And they can even be from the same family. This depends on the Spirit's readiness to recognize itself as a person of a certain gender. Then the body begins to adapt.

As for separate education. Here it is more important to understand why it is needed. You can also enter this format. So that the children have the same energy, so that it is easier. For a certain energy, introduce separate subjects for girls and boys or separate teaching of the same subject in different ways. This is, in principle, possible. But it is possible to have uniform standards for boys and girls in joint education, the main thing is that, from my point of view, they teach more about Spiritual life, about Spiritual reasons and prepare for adult life in society. Including in the family and at work. To have more practical training.

29:00 Tasks and implementation of men and women in embodiment.

Alexander : And if you look at the nature of a man. He comes to Earth, he has this role, goals and tasks that he needs to go through. The main task of a man in incarnation on planet Earth, what is it?

Irina : How many people I saw, contactees, and also talked with Irina, about what tasks men and women have, how many I talked on my planet with my compatriots, I am increasingly convinced of only one thing, that these tasks are largely individual .

Alexander : That is, everyone has their own individual task that they must solve on this planet Earth, in this incarnation.

Irina : Yes, and an individual task, I noticed many times that both men and women, and even their child, can have the same tasks. Or they may be different.

Alexander : Maybe then it's on this basis that families come together? That is, two people meet who have the same tasks, and they create an alliance, a family and move in this direction.

Irina : That's possible. If they create a family on the foundation of mutual understanding and understanding of the common goals to which they are moving. Even before creating a family, at the stage of acquaintance and friendship, they exchange their goals and understand that they coincide.

Alexander : What then does a man need to pay attention to in order to really realize himself faster as a man in this incarnation? This is a lesson, but the time limit is quite short, and we see that the main development falls on the period from 25 to 50 years. The first 25 years are spent learning, the formation of a worldview, as I understand it, and in the next 25 years there is already a realization of some internal potential. That is, I must understand why I came to this planet, what issues I want to solve, and what I need to do to realize it faster and understand it faster. Do you need to develop spiritually, raise your vibrations, be a more moral person, treat women more respectfully, love people?

Irina : You know, morality, ethics, love, raising vibrations - this is all a consequence. There must be one reason: conscious life in the Light, conscious contact with your Higher Self, filling it with energy and spreading this energy of Love to everyone around you. Then all these consequences that you have listed will naturally come into your life.

31:47 Energy of Love. State of the Spirit at level 24.

Alexander : That is, the main thing in incarnation, coming to Earth, is to find a state of Love here on Earth.

Irina : Yes, and this is not only on Earth. One of the fundamental tasks of incarnation is to get closer to the vibration of God, that is, to maximally acquire those vibrations that will allow you to be at a high Spiritual level. The most important fundamental divine energy that creates everything is the energy of Love, it later manifests itself in the form of the energy of life, the energy of truth, the energy of space, the energy of Light and spiritual - already manifested in the form of physical energy, the energy of wisdom - these are all different forms of Love. And the more the Spirit develops Love within itself, the closer it becomes to the divine source. Not only to level 24, which is visible from here.

That is, when you come to the 24th level, you enter this state, the Spirit no longer feels like a physical body, but feels itself completely a part of God, and feels everything around it as a part of itself. And he, naturally, will be moral, moral and loving, because otherwise he simply will not be able to behave according to his nature, and not because he is afraid of breaking some commandments, canons. His nature really changes in this state.

Alexander : And here, here on Earth, what is the level? What level can we reach?

Irina : Anyone. But, naturally, an Angel from the 24th level can also lower his vibrations if he does not pass his lessons. He, too, can lower his vibrations and move to a lower one. But this will already be his lesson in development, and in the next incarnation he will again have a chance to rise.

34:07 Differences between male and female nature. Sexual energy. How can a man and woman be together for many incarnations?

Alexander : If we look at the given body shape, it is approximately the same, but men differ not only in gender. We see that a man is given a more physically strong body, so that he works, so that he performs asceticism, for example, more: fasting, prayers, fasting for his body. But a woman has a more subtle psyche, she is given the opportunity to give birth to a child, and is she already capable of loving more than a man?

Irina : The energy of love in the masculine and feminine principles manifests itself differently, because the energy of love manifests itself through the prisms of some of its material bodies or immaterial spiritual structures. But in this case, the energy of love through a woman manifests itself in the form of tenderness, gentleness, acceptance, mercy. And through a man, the energy of love manifests itself in the form of activity, courage, and creativity. The task of a man and a woman who love each other is to see in each other a reflection of themselves, a reflection of the same energy that is in you, but only in a different form, and only then is your unification at a higher level possible. That is, your Higher Selves, figuratively speaking, will merge into one. They will not just merge as a single entity, but they will be in the same Spirit of Love, and this will allow you to be together for many incarnations. Also to come to each other in the spiritual world when you both disincarnate, whenever that may be. This level of Love between a man and a woman allows a woman or a man to see a reflection, as I already said, a man will see in a woman a reflection of his love, his softness, tenderness, and she will see her activity, and they will teach each other these qualities that they have it.

Alexander : That is, they will teach and exchange. A man will become a little softer, understand more what love is, what feminine energies are, what mercy is, what patience is.

Irina : So that he recognizes these energies in himself.

Alexander : Recognized it in myself!

Irina : And for a woman to recognize the masculine in herself. This is such a union.

Alexander : And then, if they begin to recognize, it is easier for them to negotiate with each other.

Irina : Yes, at the everyday level it is. And at the spiritual level, they begin to feel like particles of a single whole divine mind.

Alexander : This is why the scripture says that the Lord unites. To create a single whole - the birth of a new Higher Self...

Irina : Therefore it is written in your book of the Bible that there will be two and one flesh. One flesh - this does not simply mean that two bodies will unite and be united in a bodily way, but the bodily union reflects the spiritual union. At least that's the case with Esler. Bye. On planet Esler this is what we do: first we unite in Spirit, we unite our vibrations: I am with my wife or she is with me. We completely reflect each other, and only then do we connect on the physical level. Your physiology is somewhat different, because you can have a feeling of sexual desire without Spiritual love, but again, since you agreed to incarnate in these bodies, it means that this is your lesson, in order to pass it you need to remember that sexual desire is this is also a form of divine energy, love, which is already passing through your body. And when you recognize it as love, you will experience it for your loved one.

Alexander : We can have it like love, and we can have it like passion. And then, if, as a passion, this energy is destroyed, and if, as love, it is somehow created?

Irina : You direct it to one vibration or another.

Alexander : Does this depend on the level of development of a person’s vibrations, at the level of the chakras? They say that sex, sexual relationships are at the level of the animal world, when I don’t know who I should enter into a relationship with, I just have sexual attraction and that’s it.

Irina : The fact is that in the animal world, as you said, there are instincts, and there are organs that are designed to reflect these instincts. Your physical bodies also developed from animal forms, even hybrid ones: those civilizations that created your body also developed from animal forms. In any case, instinctive forms of behavior, including sexual ones, are also a reflection of the energy of divine love that exists in animal forms. Here you have a lesson in recognition in animal forms, and in divine energy it creates and creates everything. With the help of sexual energy you can create, or you can destroy, just like with the energy of nuclear fusion. I say this very simply and approximately. But not in the world, but in your body, which is the world for you, as the Spirit who lives in it and controls it. For the body to be a shrine, for it to be a temple of your Spirit, it is important to recognize your sexual energy as a form of love. Not just a form of achieving some kind of physical pleasure. If you understand it this way, then you will not reach this stage when you express it through love, and in this case you will not learn this lesson in your consciousness. And if you recognize it as divine love and connect with a person of the opposite sex, remembering this and realizing it, then this does not mean that you will not receive physical pleasure, it will just connect with spiritual pleasure, and this will only help the couple on the way towards divine perfection and fulfillment of one's destiny.

Alexander : That is, this can be the first step, such a role.

Irina : With a conscious attitude, yes.

Alexander : What does a man need to do in order to truly manifest himself as a man? Maybe there are some tips, some practical recommendations. For example, a man needs to get up early in the morning, toughen up, run, he needs to work... what are some basic functions of a man on a universal scale, how should he act in society?

Irina : Just recognize the energies that are in it. Remember that there is feminine energy in him, just as there is masculine energy in a woman. Recognize and harmonize these energies with each other. For example, if you look at it in some everyday sense, then a man has more mentality, through the astral body he shows more activity, courage, achieving his goals, and focus on the outside world. The physical body develops in such a way that the muscles become stronger. This is all a reflection of the spiritual process in reality. Physical strength is a reflection of willpower, which is directed through the thought process and through focus on action, on results. In order for a man to realize himself, it will be enough to recognize this energy of courage, determination and recognize in himself a smaller percentage (let’s put it very simply) of the female energy of mercy and gentleness. How a man should behave - boldly promote these energies of love. To be their protector, for example, to be their guide, to be the foundation on which a woman will build the energies of love and mercy. These are approximately the same tasks.

Alexander : That is, to create a certain atmosphere...

Irina : To create in the material world, one might say, to support. And a woman has more sensual, astral energy through the chakras. The energy of mercy, compassion, help, love, gentleness flows through the mental body, but there is also masculine energy in it, although to a lesser extent: determination, courage. Her lesson is to show the love that she has with masculine courage and activity. So as not to hide it in yourself, not to direct it to your children or to yourself, to your body, because if she directs love only to her body, then all the love can be directed only to this, and it will no longer remain on those around her, such happens too, or to some material things, she can direct love to anything. And the more objects she includes in the zone of her love, the greater the flow of energy she will receive from the Spiritual world.

44:44 Selfishness and fanaticism. Herd instinct.

Alexander : And if a person directs love towards himself, isn't this selfishness? When a person begins to live for himself, others do not interest him...

Irina : Selfishness is not love for oneself as for the divine Spirit. Selfishness is love for some specific aspect of oneself. But while ignoring everyone else.

Alexander : And a man is more susceptible to this than a woman?

Irina : It's impossible to say who is more susceptible, because they are both susceptible, just in different ways.

Alexander : Now in society they say that a man is in most cases selfish...

Irina : Love is an energy that exists both in the male spirit and in the female spirit. If it is directed towards oneself, as towards the divine Spirit, then this is self-love in that very divine sense. If it is aimed at some part, the Spirit or the body, but the other needs for love are ignored, then this is already called selfishness. On your body, on your mind, on your feelings...

Alexander : And from here, then, in principle, fanaticism can develop? A person becomes fixated on something and becomes a fanatic. He no longer sees or hears the other. If we take the development of religion, we will see that men have taken it into their own hands, they have set boundaries, they direct this love and say that a man is more spiritual than a woman, that is, female energy is slightly lowered... It turns out that the reins of power in male hands are in the religious structure, in most cases. And that's why it's difficult to agree with each other.

Irina: The fact is that in the religious structure everyone has their own role, both men and women. And if, for example, in Christian teaching the role of priest is assigned only to men, this does not mean that the role of women is less important. This is manifested differently. A man, if he is a priest, does not mean that he is a leader. Firstly, a priest, at least in the Christian egregor, is one who, by his example, leads his society, his own to God. It is believed that it is this activity and courage of a man, which is manifested in masculine nature, that allows him to be a leader. A woman can also be taught this, but it will be more difficult for her to do it. Her task, again, is to spread her love, and not to manage some process. A woman can be taught this, but she will be forced to direct energy there that she could direct in another direction. This is precisely in the religious sense.

As for fanaticism, the fact is that it is peculiar to your earthly race, and this is due to processes in your brain that are of genetic origin from the nature of primates. Firstly, these are developed five instincts, including the herd instinct, which allows one to experience fears of leaving the social group in which a person is accustomed to being. And this may already give rise to some fanaticism. And what can also give rise to fanaticism is that feature of your central nervous system when you very easily form a conditioned reflex: these are also certain pathways for signals passing through the neurons and synapses of the brain, due to which habits are formed quite easily and quickly. When the Spirit is embodied in a person, then the Spirit influences the body, and the body influences the Spirit. They have such mutual influence. And if the embodied Spirit of an earthling has already accustomed his brain to certain reactions and the release of hormones, and certain reactions to some events, then only then the body itself can react in this way, releasing these hormones, although these events have already changed. And the Spirit, due to the instinct of self-preservation and gregariousness, can begin to resist these changes and fanatically maintain the old line of behavior, and even fight with something, some changes with which it does not agree, with which the struggle begins, because it the fear sets in that his picture of the world is being destroyed. Because his brain is adapted to certain concepts or behavior, if behavior is meant.

Alexander : Thank you for an interesting meeting, and I hope that the questions that were asked are more fundamental and down-to-earth and provide an opportunity to clarify some things that many men and women can practically begin to use here on planet Earth. Solve the question of understanding Love: what is Love and move in this direction in relation to oneself and in relation to each other, and these steps will make it possible on our planet Earth to make our world a better place. So that there is more Love and Light here. Probably, our main task is to come here, to this Earth, to make it more enveloped in Love. I hope that our meetings will continue; I have many more interesting questions, fundamental and practical questions that you can try to apply in life.

Irina : LiShioni and MidgasKaus also thank you for your interesting questions, and will always be ready to answer any questions that come in, and I'm also looking forward to seeing you next time. Dear friends, I thank you from the bottom of my heart for being with us. I hope that you received a lot of interesting and necessary information. MidgasKaus, LiShioni also thank you all, and we send you Light and Love! See you again, friends!

01:50 Welcome to participants. Happy holidays.

Maxim: Sit down. One two three four five. Guys, hello everyone.

Irina: One, two, three, four, five. And now you can hear us, hello.

Maxim: What is our sound? Do we have sound?

Irina: Something made a noise.

Maxim: There is sound. Everything is fine, you can hear us.

Irina: Greetings everyone, hello, good evening. Hello everyone, happy upcoming holidays: Christmas, Catholic Christmas, New Year, Orthodox Christmas. The terminal stage of quantum transition. Happy winter solstice. Congratulations on the upcoming holidays.

Maxim: Yes, we won't have the next live broadcast. That's why we decided to broadcast today: answers to all questions, so as not to get tied to the topic. Our next live broadcast will be in Abkhazia. We will be there on the twenty-seventh, so we will try to broadcast live directly from the retreat itself, or from some retreat conference. Let's also think about how to do a live broadcast so as not to miss them.

Irina: We'll only arrive on Sunday, right? Or won't we get there yet?

Maxim: No, we will get there on Sunday, but in the evening. I don't think we'll have time for that.

Irina: Yes, we'll just arrive.

Maxim: Yes. Who is present with us today, Irisha?

Irina: Hello, today our curators are with us: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms. Yes, I see you too. Yesya (cat) is present from the planet Paskata, and Maxim and LiShioni from the planet Shimor are also here.

Maxim: Also nearby.

Irina: Curators.

04:08 Galactic news: the journey of Jesus Christ.

Maxim : So, I want to ask MidgasKaus. Mid, what interesting Intergalactic news has happened this week since our last live broadcast. What interesting happened to you personally?

Irina: You know, today Burkhad reported that over the past twenty years, Jesus Christ for the first time physically left the planet, Burkhad's zone of action, and flew to Shimor. He will meet with Shimor's government and continue to travel around the Galaxy. He decided to go on a journey from his island. This news is now spreading through our galactic communication channels. They are waiting for him, sending invitations from different planets. First he will visit Shimor. I was just telling LiSioni about this. He will be there to meet him. There will be a holiday. This is the news.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly, some contactees are starting to talk again about the second coming of Christ. Is this just the news that Christ left Burkhad?

Irina: He left Burkhad. According to galactic news, about forty minutes ago, he was at the orbital base of the planet Burkhad. He's waiting for the ship there. Then he will board the ship, which was allocated especially for him and his students. He will take them to Shimor physically.

Maxim: Actually, this news is interesting even for me.

Irina: Well, yes, interesting.

Maxim: When many contactees on Earth began to give information about the second coming of Christ, I thought: again some kind of panic, mass hysteria, and here it turns out, information that Christ has left Burkhad and is traveling around the planets.

Irina: Is there such a prediction?

Maxim: I came across, while studying various channelings, that many are beginning to talk about the second coming of Christ.

Irina: MidgasKaus says that it is not known which planets he wants to visit, but he was sent an invitation to Shimor, Esler, Tumesout, Tikht. Different planets send him invitations.

06:58 The probability of the second coming to Earth of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: What is the probability that he can visit Earth in a physical body?

Irina: If he visits Earth in a physical body, then this will not be considered the second coming, because the visit will be secret as part of an expedition on a ship. He will not be open to everyone. It will open when we are accepted into the Interstellar Union.

07:26 External appearance of Jesus Christ.

Maxim: Here’s an interesting question: what does Jesus look like in his body now? Can you describe it approximately?

Irina: They show me the image and they say to you (Maxim): “Look!” I see a tall man with a medium-length beard. His eyes are dark. I see dark eyes.

Maxim: And the hair?

Irina: (shows). They are dark, but somehow shiny. His face is not as white as that of a Burkhadian, it is like that of an earthly person, but it emits a radiance. Even this is visible on the physical plane. Now he stretches out his hands, and his fingers are long. There is also a glow coming from the hands.

Maxim: Great, great. Like on icons. Yes, the image probably looks like an icon.

Irina: They bring his image closer: his eyes are big. His face (shows): a wide forehead and a narrow chin, and such big eyes.

Maxim: Let's move on to questions then.

Irina: What do they write?

9:23 Sexual abstinence and health. Ideal condition for sexual intercourse.

Maxim: How many days of sexual abstinence are needed for health? This is the first question I came across, Mead, sorry.

Irina: Interesting. For health of what?

Maxim: Probably for physical health. A person thinks that sexual abstinence is necessary, that’s why he asks such a question.

Irina: A few days, is it necessary?

Maxim: How many days, he says, is it necessary? Is this even necessary?

Irina: Specifically for physical health? For physical health, sexual abstinence is not necessary, but it is important to engage in sexual contact to connect not only along the second chakra, not only through sexual energies, but across all other chakras. The ideal is a connection in the state of the Soul, which is called “eternal unconditional love.” In this state, sexual contact can only bring benefits. Firstly, various energies are released at the mental, causal, astral and other levels. At the physical level, energies are also released in the form of certain hormones that stimulate the immune system, eliminate pain, and so on. But naturally, this should be accompanied by the desire to love and be loved, that is, to connect with a loved one. Then it will not cause any physical harm.

11:08 Images with dog heads in Egypt.

Maxim: They ask about the images in the pyramids of people with the heads of dogs, or with the heads of wolves. What it is? Who were they?

Irina: LiShioni says that these were images of priests who wore animal masks. The wolf and the dog were guides to the Astral world. It was the totem of the people who lived before Egypt, and on the basis of which Egypt arose. He was responsible for seeing off to the world of the dead. The masks were worn by the priests who carried out mummification and escorted the Soul to the world of the dead. They read the texts and saw off. They're showing it to me now.

Maxim: I see. In general, priests. Have we been visited by humanoids that look like dogs? There are such humanoids.

Irina: We visited those that look like cats.

Maxim : Have you visited dogs with heads?

Irina : A civilization with dog heads is currently unknown in the Galaxy. The ones that look like jackals. The head of a certain animal was drawn in the pyramids - a jackal. It was a totem. First they drew a dog, then the priest put on a mask that helped him come into contact with this totem animal, with the Spirit, with the plasmoid, which took the form of this animal. That is, he entered a special state. In general, the image of animals, parts of animals, parts of animal bodies: eyes, horns, tails and so on on images of Gods, this in eighty percent of cases indicates the plasmoid origin of worship.

Maxim : I understand. That is, these are priests.

Irina: As he tells me: remnants of totemism. First there was a totem, and then he became a certain God.

14:06 The largest planet inhabited by humanoid creatures.

Maxim: What is the largest planet known to our interstellar friends that is inhabited by humanoid creatures?

Irina: Specifically in the Interstellar Union or in general?

Maxim : A well-known planet, not only in the Interstellar Union, as the largest planet. What is it like, what size, inhabited by humanoid creatures?

Irina: I don’t know its name in Daraal, says MidgasKaus. There is a large planet of seven hundred and twenty-seven planets, from the course that I studied. In Esler's language it is called Reikshas. Reikshas is located in the constellation Pisces at a distance of approximately four hundred and twenty light years from the Sun. Its diameter is almost forty times larger than the Earth.

Maxim: Forty times?

Irina: Yes, because it has a large diameter. Due to the fact that the diameter and mass are larger, the acceleration of gravity on the planet is about five and a half more than on Earth. That is five and a half forces of gravity. There live creatures that are approximately waist-high to our adult man, he shows them to me. Approximately from a meter to a meter twenty. They have very thin green bodies. They are somewhat similar to the Gihorians, only they have elongated heads, and their eyes are located on the sides of the skull. They are intelligent, but are not part of the Interstellar Union. Creatures are at a level of existence on Reikshasa that roughly corresponds to your tribal system.

Maxim: I understand. So the largest planet is forty times larger than Earth?

Irina: Yes.

17:14 Spiritual level of the newborn Soul.

Maxim: An interesting question: to what level of the spiritual world does a Soul just born by God fall?

Irina: She can realize herself at any level of development. The Divine light from which Souls are born permeates all levels, starting from the twenty-fourth and ending with the first.

Maxim: Or starting from the first and ending on the twenty-fourth?

Irina: The Light itself comes from above.

Maxim: I understand, from the highest, in our understanding, and ending with the lowest.

Irina: Light comes from the center and spreads in all directions. The Intelligent Spirit can realize itself at any of these levels. But when he becomes aware of himself, he may either want to reincarnate immediately or not. He finds himself in such conditions when other Spirits show him that the material world exists. He is not born with this knowledge. They show it to him. Everyone can find out from their Higher Self at what level their Spirit first realized itself as a separate being.

Maxim: Now, one second. We had a doorbell.

19:30 Creating giant drawings in the Nazca desert.

Maxim: The question is: drawings in the Nazca desert, which can be seen from a bird's eye view, who painted? They are talking about some landing airfields.

Irina: This was painted by the local tribes who lived there. Some of these drawings were made using maps provided by flying ships from the constellation Lyra and the Pleiades. They were in contact about seven to eight thousand years ago. People, coming into contact with the Gods (as the aliens were called), agreed that they would post drawings of animals and birds for the inhabitants of the sky, investing their energy to show that they dedicated these drawings to the Gods. They wanted to show the enormity of their love for the Gods by making these huge images not on a cave wall or stone.

Maxim: How did they draw such huge drawings? They are visible only from a bird's eye view.

Irina: They could do this by drawing drawings in advance. They could look at this area in the Astral. Then, returning to the body, compare on the ground how many meters you need to walk. First, the stones were placed, and then lines were drawn between them. Could use maps of the Interstellar Union. What the area looks like from above. Comparing this map in memory, they first drew on the terrain mentally: for example, from one point to another there will be an animal’s leg, then the head. The silhouette was laid out with stones.

22:12 Love of an alien for an earthly woman.

Maxim: This is an interesting question: can an alien fall in love with an earthly woman?

Irina: Maybe, of course, it's Perfume. He can fall in love.

Maxim: And on the physical level?

Irina: Is it compatible?

Maxim: Combine in love.

Irina: It depends on what planet. For example, with Shimora they can, with Esler - with some modification of the earthly organism. They have some physical incompatibility. With Burkhad, with Tumesout, and even more so with Disaru, and with all their colonies, there can be very easy physical contact, even common offspring.

Maxim: What about reptilians?

Irina: Man or woman? If a reptilian man from Selbet physically falls in love with an earthly woman, then this is fraught with injury for her. We've heard this before. I don't need an image, I've already seen it.

Maxim: Okay, I understand. Everything is possible in this life, but sometimes with injuries.

23:34 A race of intelligent spiders - arachnids.

Maxim: Is there a race of intelligent arachnid spiders?

Irina: This is a type of insectoid. There are such in our Galaxy.

Maxim: Even in our Galaxy?

Irina: They live in the constellation Sagittarius, they are not part of the Interstellar Union. One of their colonies, the most technically and morally developed, is part of the Galactic Federation of Light.

Maxim: So one of their colonies is part of the Galactic Federation of Light?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: I see, thank you.

24:23 Communication with Christ in the Astral Plane. Phantoms of Christ.

Maxim: Is it possible to communicate with Christ in the Astral Plane?

Irina: With his phantom, yes, of course.

Maxim: Just like we had a conference with the phantom of the Virgin Mary?

Irina: Yes, he can come too. Remaining in his body, he will simply send a phantom. At the same time, he will mind his own business. He can send a lot. Each phantom will be endowed with his energy, his feelings, his thoughts and will be connected with him. He will communicate with me through a phantom. Will hear, understand and respond.

Maxim: Guys, we have already talked about the Bible more than once, watch all our videos. Who wrote the Bible, who transmitted information for the Bible. And not just for the Bible. We also talked about the Koran. You can watch our videos. Below the videos there are time codes for you. Using time codes you can find answers to your questions.

25:42 The number of Guardian Angels a person has.

Maxim: How many Guardian Angels can a person have?

Irina: He may have one Guardian Angel or several. There are known cases on Earth when there were five Guardian Angels. For example, the well-known Vissarion has three Guardian Angels.

Maxim: Why did you suddenly remember Vissarion now?

Irina: I know him, that's why they talk about him. But I don't know who has five. They showed him to me, but I don't know him. And I know this, that's why they gave me such an example.

Maxim: What determines the number of Guardian Angels?

Irina: Before incarnation, the Spirit may ask to go through it without Guardian Angels, either with one, or with several. If they agree, they go to this incarnation. It depends on the desire of the Spirit and on the desire of the Guardian Angels to be with him. This is a contract. As curators. Only curators from level eighteen. It happens that from the nineteenth they continue to work as Guardian Angels. It happens that from the seventeenth level, Guardians of Nature can work as Guardian Angels, but under the supervision of another Guardian Angel. They learn it.

27:12 The birth of a child with the first blood group and a negative Rh factor to parents who do not have such a group.

Maxim: Mid, here's a question especially for you: can a child be born with the first blood group, a negative Rh factor, from parents who do not have this group?

Irina: Maybe, theoretically.

Maxim: Should I watch it before that?

Irina: You need to look at what blood types your parents have. If the second and third, the child can be born with any blood type.

Maxim: Apparently, someone has a difficult question in the family. The answer is yes.

Irina: And if one of the parents has negative Rh, of course the child can be born with this group and this Rh.

28:09 Opening of new projects: “Cosmohealing”, “Online Meditations”, “Cosmoenergetics”.

Maxim: Guys, we have very good news. We have started a new project. It's called "Cosmohealing". The link to the project will be under this video. On donation terms. Our healer works with the Intergalactic Medical Service, with the Pleiadians. She conducts healing sessions online and on a donation basis. Two more projects will open soon. This is the “Online Meditations” project, where we will teach you how to meditate online on the terms of a donation payment according to your heart. And the most interesting thing, and this has never happened before: the Cosmoenergetics project will be launched soon. Moreover, sessions and training can be completed online. If you agree with the terms of the Cassiopeia project, then all this can be done on a donation basis, that is, payment according to your heart. Cosmoenergy at Donation - this has never happened before. Let's continue, Irisha.

29:24 Behavior of an earthling when meeting an alien.

Maxim: And the question is not straight to the point, but straight to the point - how should you behave if you meet an alien?

Irina: Wow, what an interesting question! Depends on your desire. If you want to come into contact with him, then first you need to ask yourself, close your eyes, turn to your spiritual heart and ask: “Do I need contact with him? Is he energetically safe for me? Does this contact correspond to my purpose?”

If there is no rejection, then you can simply watch them. If they themselves make contact, come out to you, contact you, welcome them to your planet. Be sure to say that you already know about the Interstellar Union, you know about the planet Burkhad. Ask for what purpose they appeared in front of you and what they want to show. If they invite you to go with them, then you need to ask: “Where, for what?”

If you are offered to become a contactee, then it is up to you to decide. Ask under what conditions, whether it is necessary to install chips or do anything else. Why is this necessary, what consequences can it lead to, why do they need contacts? Will this information be given to people or is this some kind of experimental contact?

Talk to research scientists as you would to ordinary people, but keep in mind that they are from another planet. Behave calmly, without aggression or wariness, send them your light of love, but at the same time do not agree to actions that seem unpleasant or unacceptable to you. Just calmly but politely refuse.

Maxim: Guys, I have a request to you: if you like our live broadcasts, please like us right now and we will continue. I'll see how much you like our broadcasts, maybe we're doing something wrong. We have few likes.

I stopped at one point now, Irisha, and here are four very interesting questions. Yes I see. We got four numbers. One thousand three hundred ninety. Great. Thank you guys very much. The more likes you give, the more people will see us and the more conscious people there will be on this planet. Thank you so much for the faith, for the love and support that you give us. She is very important and necessary for us.

32:50 About the school of contactees.

Maxim: Before the New Year, I am finishing renovation work in the center and the hotel-hostel. It’s very difficult to call it a hostel. I make comfortable rooms so that you can be received. After the New Year, around the fifteenth, we will begin to provide information about enrollment. Recruitment will be carried out among those who agree with the rules of the school.

We will not charge any tuition fees. Our training is based only on contributions. Donation is your personal gratitude to the masters for teaching you. Accommodation in a hostel under the same conditions. That is, on donation terms - “payment according to your heart.”

Many people ask me: “Am I crazy?” No! I don't think I've left yet. Due to the fact that you support us, that you believe in us, we have a huge amount of strength and energy in order to create large projects to transmit spiritual knowledge precisely at “payment according to the heart.” No pricing.

This way we will get rid of a large number of scammers who are trying to make money from our ignorance, using spiritual practices, deceiving you. Our project is dedicated to your spiritual education, understanding of reality as conveyed by the Interstellar Union and our interstellar friends.

Thanks for "likes. We received a huge number: one thousand three hundred likes. That's a lot. Guys, thank you very much.

Irina: Yes, thank you all.

Maxim: I realized that we are needed.

34:48 A universal appeal to the Creator of our universe.

Maxim: What is the most universal appeal to the Creator of our universe?

Irina: The Light that gave birth to me as a Soul. Primordial Light of Creation. The word “light” is always present there. The most universal name that can be understood at our level of existence is the Spiritual Light of Love.

35:29 Pagan gods. Veles, Mokosh. Faith.

Maxim: Now many people revere Veles, Mokosha and other gods.

Question: is it a sin to believe in pagan gods, and do they exist?

Irina: Of course they exist. These are images that represent real creatures from plasmoid civilizations, of which there are much more than humanoid ones.

Faith in them, like any faith, sincere, pure faith, accompanied by love, cannot be a sin. Because faith is a feeling, just like love. Sin is a distortion of the Light that goes through a person's spiritual channel.

To develop in the faith of which you are a supporter, you must sincerely believe in this object and strive to be like it. It's not just to formally belong to some religious organization, to receive some benefits or because of a coincidence of views with people you care about. Faith is given to go through the path of opening the spiritual heart.

It is important to find that faith, that religion, that teaching that will create the image of God that is closest to you, and you can sincerely give your love. Become like him, become like him.

Any gods, even if they are plasmoids, contain a character trait, the quality of the one God who created everything and gave birth to everyone. Any plasmoid is a part of God. By worshiping him, you are worshiping God.

If at the same time you do not condemn those who do things differently. You do not condemn those who believe in one God, if this is precisely what is important for them - to believe and worship the one Creator of the Universe. If at the same time you do not condemn those who believe in many gods, seeing in them different aspects and manifestations of the same one God. The main thing here is love in everything. If you want people to accept you in your faith, to treat you with love and compassion and a desire to help you, you must also treat people of other faiths.

Thanks a lot.

Maxim: TV viewers asked to give you water!

Irina: Yes, what are you saying, is it true? Thank you.

38:56 Great contact composers.

Maxim: The question is: which of the great composers is a contactee?

Irina: Both answered at the same time: almost everything.

Maxim: Seriously, or what?

Irina: Every person is a contactee, at least with his Higher Self. His spiritual channel of communication with the Higher Self, with his disembodied part, is continuous. Many people are contactees of those beings who are next to them: Guardian Angels. Contacts with plasmoids are slightly less common. Even less often - with humanoids, with some research groups.

I want to emphasize that any Spirit incarnated on Earth had previously had a long history of incarnations in other worlds, on other planets, on other levels of density and in the Spiritual World where he was waiting for this incarnation. In all spaces, times, countries, densities and dimensions, he was familiar with a huge number of entities, and with each of them he can establish contact now. That's what he tells me.

40:17 Psilocybin mushrooms. Their impact on humans.

Maxim: Psilocybin mushrooms for the treatment of mental illness and addiction. Do they have medicinal potential, and can these mushrooms be treated? Meade, this is a question for you. Psilocybin mushrooms, do you know about them?

Irina: Yes, I studied it.

Maxim: Can they be used for treatment?

Irina: From what? From mental illness? Let's take our most common mental illness.

Maxim: Schizophrenics, and massive ones at that. There is even such a channel (laugh).

Irina: Precisely from this mass schizophrenia?

Maxim: Is it possible to treat this very mass schizophrenia with mushrooms? I think there are those on the channel who eat mushrooms.

Irina: You see, these mushrooms contain substances that change spiritual vibrations, specifically the astral body, spiritual energy structures of the aura due to changes in the biochemical composition and electromagnetic potential of the brain.

As a result, the vibrations of the astral body, mental body, and spiritual channel change, and the person who accepted them becomes more receptive to the astral world. Being in an altered state of consciousness, he does not lose awareness, as, for example, in a dream. When you fall asleep, you go into the same state as when taking similar substances, but you are not aware of it.

Similar substances are produced in the human body when he falls asleep. The formulas are similar. These substances are produced in smaller quantities and, together with other substances, act on brain receptors. Therefore they do no harm.

As for mushrooms: a huge dose of these hormone-like substances, which I mentioned, affects the receptors in such a way that they are sharply activated, and a person, being in the physical body, begins to feel and behave as if in the astral one.

Maxim: It’s clear, it’s starting to glitch. Do these mushrooms have consequences on the physical level?

Irina: They contain harmful substances - hepatotoxins, very similar to those contained in fly agarics. In large quantities they can cause acute liver necrosis. Even in small quantities. A person who initially had this organ out of order. For example, I suffered from hepatitis as a child and didn't even know about it. There are a lot of them.

43:59 Film about Irina Podzorova and the Cassiopeia project.

Maxim: Many people there are already swearing and asking: what will happen on December 22? I've already asked three hundred times, but I don't voice it.

Irina: December 22 will be the day after the winter solstice and the day after the premiere of our film "Voronezh-Cassiopeia". Someone will have a birthday, congratulations to everyone (laughs).

Maxim: On the 21st of the 12th month at 12:21 we are launching a gorgeous three-hour film about the Cassiopeia project, about Irina Podzorova. About how it all began. About her contact and why we exist. On the 21st at 12:21, the film that many have been waiting for will begin.

Irina: It will help in the quantum transition. It contains so many of our common vibrations and the vibrations of those who made it that whoever watches it during these 24 hours will be helped to enter the quantum transition with the mindset for further work on harmonizing the noosphere of the planet.

Maxim: Guys, please do not take all these numbers, dates and everything else to heart. On an energetic level, many of you won't even feel it. After the winter solstice, the energy will be a little different. After the 21st we will enter the active stage of the quantum transition, so everything will be fine. The main thing is not to worry, not to be nervous, not to be offended. Do not put scary faces and videos after your questions.

45:47 Aliens and New Year. Eslerian attitude.

Maxim: Mid, do aliens celebrate New Year? I think we asked about this last year.

Irina: Yes. We don't have such a universal holiday, fireworks. We read the mood of the entire planet, even children.

Maxim: On New Year's Day, do you gather with the whole planet and read some kind of mood?

Irina: Yes, "I am the Universe."

Maxim: The one we gave: the Esler mood.

Irina: We read at the same time all over the planet, regardless of time zones.

Maxim: Irina, can you voice it live now?

Irina: They read in unison. They do this for each other, and it strengthens the energies. Even if we read together at the same time, we will already have a different energy. He now says: repeat after me. "I am the Universe. The universe is me. The power of the universe is my strength, and my Spirit is part of the flow of existence of the Creator of all worlds. His power will be directed to the benefit of all beings living in all worlds and planes of existence. Reality will remain in truth, and lies in the illusion of perception will disappear forever." They read it all.

Maxim: I think that we will support planet Esler in the New Year. I will insist that we, together with the planet Esler, read this mood when our chimes strike.

Irina: We will be there (at the retreat) to read it!

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Did we read it last year?

Maxim: We will also read the Burkhadian attitude. I think that we will recommend everyone who belongs to the Christian religious egregor to read prayers and much more.

47:45 Child of MidgasKaus.

Maxim: Mid, please tell me how your recently born child is doing?

Irina: My newborn child is already walking down the street. We are developing very quickly.

Maxim: How so, how many months is he?

Irina: He's about 8.

Maxim: At 8 months he is already walking?

Irina: You've had about three years of development.

48:17 Lifespan on the planet Esler.

Maxim: Many people don't know what is your lifespan on the planet?

Irina: About four hundred seventy to five hundred and thirty earthly years. Average term. I read it (laughs).

Maxim: I am emotional and every time I learn to control my emotions, because emotions are cool. Thanks to emotions, we grow and develop, gain energy, and learn our lessons. Control of emotions is a very interesting thing. The better we are able to control our emotions, the better we are able to express these emotions, the more volume we have in order to be filled with these emotions.

Emotions in psychology are called energies in esotericism.

When you say I'm emotional, yes. I'm emotional. I am energetically saturated, and every time I have to learn to work with these energies. The more emotions I have, the more often I have to control them and direct them in the right direction. Especially for the growth and development of the structure that we create.

49:45 The civilization of intelligent butterflies is the spirits of the air.

Maxim: Tell us about the civilization of intelligent butterflies in another Galaxy. Is there such a civilization?

Irina: Most likely, you call the Spirits of the Air, Elves, Sylphs, and so on, an intelligent civilization of butterflies in another Galaxy. We do not know any similar humanoid civilizations.

50:07 Earth animals. Their intelligent life form in other Galaxies.

Maxim: Is it true that animals that are on Earth are a reflection of some intelligent life forms in the Galaxy?

Irina: What does reflection mean?

Maxim: Let's say a ladybug. Is there such a creature in another Galaxy, only intelligent?

Irina: These are insectoids. I understand the question he is talking about. There is a form of life that has evolved from those forms that you have remained irrational. Intelligent life forms were able to develop on other planets. Either through natural evolution or through artificial hybridization.

50:53 Death of the twelve Apostles. John the Theologian.

Maxim: Is it true that all 12 of Christ's apostles left the Earth as martyrs?

Irina: Not all. Of the 12 Apostles, including the Apostle Paul, although he was not one of them, John the Theologian died his own death in old age. Before this he was subjected to martyrdom, but survived.

For preaching Christianity and contradicting the existing religion, the ruler of the city decided to punish him not with death. His hands were punished so that he would not write books. At that time he wrote down the message: "The Gospel of John the Theologian."

To do this, they placed a cauldron of olive oil on the fire, and when it boiled, they plunged his hands into it. After this event, the tendons in the fingers stopped bending for a long time. After that they were sent to the island into exile. On the island he restored his hands with herbs. There were no antibiotics at that time. The treatment helped me hold my pen. They're showing it to me now. "The Revelation of John the Theologian" was written by several of his students.

Maxim: I understand, thank you very much.

53:10 Fasting and raising vibrations.

Maxim: Is fasting twenty-four, forty-eight hours or longer on the water beneficial for health and raising vibrations? Is fasting beneficial?

Irina: I would not recommend such experiments to everyone without a medical examination. All organisms are different.

Maxim: Do you need to select a form of fasting for each organism?

Irina: I would not focus on physical reality in matters of increasing vibrations to achieve spiritual quality. Increasing spiritual vibrations must be achieved by removing emotionally negative blocks and increasing positive qualities. But not by physical limitations.

Physical restrictions in the form of fasting were invented for three main purposes: the first is the development of will, volitional qualities, for subsequent spiritual work. The second is tuning into greater sensitivity to the same plasmoid civilizations, spiritual worlds.

If the vibrations of the physical body during the digestion of food distract the consciousness, then in some cases fasting, that is, an empty digestive tract, shifts attention to the higher chakras. If consciousness is working. Third, there was a religious foundation. The money used to buy food these days was collected to help the poor. Because of the love for them. Such a post also existed.

Maxim: Guys, you need to fast only with the appointment of a specialist who understands this.

Irina: I also need to say: why. Not for health, not to restore your organs. Fasting is not for medical purposes, but to change the spiritual level. I know of only three purposes for which this can be used.

Maxim: I know that many contactees do dry fasting. But there, guys, is faith. You need to sincerely believe in it, understand why you need it, and practice it. Fasting without conscious preparation is dangerous. Not only intention and faith are important, but also the recommendations of doctors.

56:37 About the film and books of the Cassiopeia project.

Maxim: We have three minutes left. Now I will find some interesting question. Link to the film. Guys, if you subscribe to our channel, you will receive notifications. You need to press the bell and subscribe. We have already released the film. There is a notice that tomorrow 12/21/20 at 12.30 this film will be shown. The film was shot by a great director and editor. He works on the federal channel. While making the film, he put his Soul into it.

Irina: He came to us himself. We drove two hundred and fifty kilometers.

Maxim: I took everyone to Povorino, where Irina lived.

Irina: Yes, yes, yes.

Maxim: We went to the forest to the place where Irina had her first contacts. In this film you will see absolutely everything. How it all began, and why it was all needed. How Irina carried out trips to the first contacts, how her mother and aunt felt about it. The film is simply bomb. I recommend everyone to watch it and be sure to read the video below.

I want to thank our director and cameraman in one person through donations. We cannot do this any other way. Your donations will be a gratitude to our director. Without buying tickets, you can thank our dear director. All your donations will go to our director. He asked: no need. I made the film from the heart. My personal initiative is to try to thank him at the expense of those people who will watch this wonderful film.

We have already told you how to help the soul of a dying person.

When will your books be released?

Irina: Good question.

Maxim: Two books are already being prepared. After the New Year we will immediately address this issue. I still don’t understand how to do it so as not to sell these books, not to set prices, but we’ll come up with something. Maybe we'll make donations electronically. Don't know. We haven’t thought about it yet, but we already have two books ready.

Irina: You can make an agreement with the publishing house.

Maxim: We will decide this.

1:00:03 Music and vibrations.

Maxim: Do music and genres of music have their own vibrations?

Irina: Music itself is sound vibrations, but they are accompanied by energetic vibrations of the one who plays, sings and listens to it. There is the addition of three vibrations. The one who listens also influences this music and the energetic space in which he listens to it. It can be perceived in different ways. Depending on how you feel about her. Whether you like her or not. If it's a certain song - how do you feel about its lyrics and so on. The energy of the singer, the energy of the performer, the composer and the listener are invested there.

Maxim: What should we talk about... I can't understand.

Irina: They said: we don’t know who it is.

Maxim: I will ask the last question on today’s live broadcast. Before I ask the question again, I want to remind you that through Instagram you can calculate your level of spiritual development. This is Cassiopeia_level.

You can join our Cosmo Healing chat. It is on Telegram. There you can undergo healing sessions on condition of payment according to your heart. We adhere to the terms of our project and do not set prices.

The center is already being completed. After the New Year, enrollment will begin. What cool thing did I want to tell you and forgot?

Irina: We wanted to talk about something.

1:02:12 Exit from samsara.

Maxim: We wanted to ask one last question. I'll stop now. One, two, three, stopped. "Hello. Is it possible to find out about the way out of samsara, from all illusions? After all, the material and subtle worlds are concepts, ideas of other civilizations. They are not 100% free." Igor, before Mead answers your question, I can say this: the illusion of samsara is also your illusion.

Irina: Well, that's roughly the answer (smile).

Maxim: We come here, choosing our own incarnation, Guardian Angels, planet with the help of our curators. We know perfectly well why we are coming here, and your non-acceptance of the fact that you are here is a lowering of the vibration level. When you learn on this planet of free choice to enjoy and have fun, to grow and develop in a difficult time for the planet, then you will feel like a Divine creature. And as long as you are in the illusion of an incomprehensible matrix that sends you here, without your knowledge, then you will never become free.

1:03:27 Consequences of eating fly agarics.

Irina: MidgasCaus offered to quickly answer the questions.

Maxim: Come on.

Irina: Where did the fashion for eating fly agarics come from? About fly agaric mushrooms, this is approximately the same as about psilocybin mushrooms.

These mushrooms contain substances that change consciousness and make contact with subtle civilizations possible. But such contact contributes to the poisoning of the physical body and the adaptation of the receptors of the physical body and spiritual energy structure to these substances. It will be more difficult to develop in this direction without them. Everyone makes their own choice. But you need to understand the consequences. Thank you. And we love you very much, thank you.

1:04:23 Samsara. Illusion of perception. The path of the Buddhas and Bodhisattvas.

Maxim: Igor, I want to tell you that you are no longer free, because you are in your physical body. You can reason like this and drive yourself into the absence of freedom of choice. In fact, you are absolutely free. And everything else is your life lessons.

Irina: The material and subtle worlds are not an illusion. Our perception is an illusion. Illusion is a state of the Spirit. Illusion itself is a spiritual structure. It is not a material structure.

What is samsara? This is reincarnation when a born Spiritual being accepts himself for this body and begins to live a single life in this body, without thinking about his spiritual needs and fulfilling his life task of incarnation. This life without awareness is called samsara.

The release of their samsara does not mean getting rid of all incarnations. One who has come out of samsara can be reincarnated again if he wants. This path is known as the bodhisattva path. In many movements of Buddhism, it is considered preferable to the path of the Buddhas, who dissolve at their highest spiritual level, in God, in the Light, and do not want to return.

The path of the Buddhas and the path of bodhisattvas are equal for spiritual development. None of them are higher or lower. This is the choice of the Spirit.

What is freedom? Freedom itself has nothing to do with the output of their material embodiment. If the Spirit left the material embodiment in a state of negative vibrations, it lowered its level and remains unfree in the Spiritual world. He will fall to the lowest level and will not be free from his passions, his negative emotions. The spirit will not be free to contemplate the divine Light, merge with it and love with the unconditional love of everyone around.

If the Spirit has reached this state in the material world and continues to raise its vibrations, not just loving everyone around with unconditional love, but showing its love in practice in selfless good deeds. In this case, his energy power grows, his spiritual channel and the contactee's capabilities expand, and he becomes free from his negative manifestations and passions of his instinctive nature. He controls them, and from this he is free.

1:07:34 About the Volga group.

Maxim: Guys, I'll quickly answer about the Volga group. You asked about contacts with thin-material plasmoid civilizations. I don't remember the density level. These are plasmoids - subtle civilizations that are located in subtle bodies.

Maxim: Guys, thank you very much. Subscribe to our channel, click the bell so as not to miss new videos, new live broadcasts and new films that we will release.

Under this video there will be links to all our new projects, to all the chats that we launch for you. Everything is on donation terms. The Cassiopeia project will not set any prices. Spiritual knowledge has no price. They are priceless. Guys, bye.

Irina: Bye everyone! Happy upcoming year everyone!

Maxim: Happy New Year everyone. I hope that we will definitely record a message of congratulations from our interstellar friends.

Irina: Of course.

Maxim : On the 31st at 23:00 just in case. Expect congratulations from our interstellar friends. We will make a surprise for you. Congratulations will also come from subtle-material civilizations.

Irina: They're already telling me.

Maxim: There will be congratulations from dense material civilization and from a representative of the Spiritual world. Bye everyone, see you again. Thank you for supporting us and thank you so much for your help. I feel it very strongly.

Irina: Thank you all very much. Gratitude. I wish that you go through the time of quantum transition consciously, without fears, without doubts, without judging others, even for these fears. The desire to help, love and acceptance of ourselves and others as we are. Only this will help us raise the vibrations of our planet, quickly enter the Interstellar Union and see our interstellar friends with our own eyes. To unite with them in a single loving family of our Galaxy.

Maxim: Bye everyone, guys.

0:21 Introduction of the meeting participants. Phantoms of Jesus Christ. Our Father.

Vladimir: Dear friends, hello! My name is Vladimir Goldstein, I am located in the suburbs of Chicago. Today we have a very special conference that we have all been looking forward to. Believe me, one of the reasons why the Cassiopeia project exists at all is precisely our conversation today, because at this conference there will be a phantom of the very person we know under the name Jesus Christ. Maria Sokalskaya from Germany is with us. Hello Maria!

Maria: Hello!

Vladimir : Well, and, of course, you probably don't need to introduce yourself, but I'll still introduce you, our dear, respected contactee Irina Podzorova is with us. Irina, please imagine, now you, who are present today at this very important, I will say absolutely sincerely, invaluable conference for us.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today is a long-awaited day for us; we have been coordinating this meeting on the planet Burkhad for a long time. Here is the leader, the head of the Christian religious egregor on Earth and not only, the Firstborn Son of God, our elder Brother, us - I mean all the Spirits who are here. He is here in phantom form, that is, in an energetic copy that is endowed with his thoughts, his feelings and is connected to his physical body, which is located on another planet.

This is Jesus Christ, who is now physically alive, it is very easy for him to create copies of himself, his phantoms and send them to other planets. We will talk about this, of course, in a little more detail later.

Besides him, here is his student Mirakh Count from the planet Burkhad, who is known in the Christian religious egregor as Archangel Gabriel, and, of course, the curator of our project MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms, who is now with interest talks with the phantom of Jesus.

Hello, dear friends!

Vladimir : Hello! Well, we have introduced all our participants. With all my heart, with all my soul, on behalf of all the subscribers of the Cassiopeia project, in general, on behalf of everyone who will watch this video, I want to thank Jesus for finding the opportunity, we understand that this is worth a lot, I found the opportunity talk with us today, answer questions from our subscribers who were preparing, sent hundreds of questions to all groups on our social networks, and today we have this opportunity, but this will not be the only conversation.

This is the first of these conversations, because even the selected questions are far from a hundred. I want to say right away that the questions for this first conversation were selected with the participation of Christ consciousness: Irina connected with the knowledge of Christ, read the questions, and the questions that will be asked today, of course, there are a limited number of them, so that we can ask them normally and hear the answers without overloading the contactee at the same time. So, these questions were selected, in fact, by Jesus Christ himself. Therefore, let's accept the answers to those questions that we, as administrators, did not select, but were selected by our more than respected, dear interlocutor. I thank you again, Jesus, that we have this opportunity, and I want to start our meeting today with this...

Irina: He sends his gratitude for the invitation and trust to Irina as a contactee in transmitting information from me. She will do it very cleanly.

Vladimir: Thank you!

Our Father, who art in heaven. Hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Thine is the Kingdom, the power and glory of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit, now and ever, and forever and ever! Amen.

Irina: Amen.

Vladimir : Lord, Jesus Christ, Son of God. Prayers for the sake of Your Most Pure Mother, our reverend and God-bearing Fathers and all saints, have mercy on us. Amen.

Irina : Amen. He felt a connection with you, when you read, he also sent energy to you.

06:32 What is the correct name for Jesus Christ? Firstborn Son of Absolute Light. Logos.

Vladimir : Dear friends, I have the first question of those that, as I already said, were agreed upon, in fact, with Jesus Christ himself: dear Jesus, please tell me how they are treating you now on Burkhad and in the Interstellar Union? What is the correct name for you?

Irina : On Burkhad and in the Interstellar Union they call me a verbal construction that can be translated into Russian as the First-born Son of the Absolute Light. Not even a son, but the Primordial impulse of the thought of the Absolute Light. I said it very long, but this is an approximate translation of the expression from the Pikran language “Khaltsi barahi”. This is translated as the mental impulse of the Absolute, a very accurate translation into Greek - “logos”, that is, word, teaching, thought. And not just a thought, as an excitement of the mind, but a thought, as a calm state of the Divine Mind. For earthlings - Jesus, Yeshua, Christ or Lord, and you can call me My Brother. The name is only a small part of a very complete personality image. I am known in other worlds by other names, in many worlds I am God.

08:26 Number of simultaneous phantoms of Jesus. Phantom vital force charge percentages. Purpose of using a phantom.

Maria : Please tell me how many phantoms you can identify at the same time, and what is the difference between contacting your phantom or you in the astral body?

Irina : I can distinguish about ten million phantoms with a certain autonomy of existence. I can do more, but for this I will need to remove energy and autonomous existence from about a quarter of them.

What's the difference between phantoms? The Phantom has a charge of my Soul of approximately ten to fifteen percent, specifically now around Irina there is about 17% of the total charge of the astral body.

The astral body has a charge from all my subtle bodies and the physical body of about maybe 30%. The vital force charge percentages of my phantoms may vary depending on the purposes of use and purpose. Now the purpose of use is to transmit information and monitor the contactee’s reaction to energy contact.

09:50 The power of the energy flow of the astral and physical bodies of Jesus. Consequences of energy vibration mismatch.

Vladimir : Thank you! Jesus, please tell me, if you were fully present now, not as a phantom, but in the astral body, would the contactee be able to withstand, from your point of view, this flow of energy?

Irina : I could stand it, but I would remain in a conscious state of consciousness for no more than two or three seconds.

Vladimir : What would happen?

Irina : She would lose consciousness. If out of body, maybe a minute, because the physical body would not be set up to contact the astral body, so awareness would be lost sooner. In fact, this is a fairly high, good result. Some explain it as a dream. When entering the Astral, if this is an astral body, then all she would remember is dissolving into the Light.

Vladimir : I see. Next question.

Irina : Inconsistency of energy vibrations. If I tried to fill it with energy, it would only speed up its dissolution.

11:23 Where is Jesus' physical body now?

Vladimir : I see, thank you very much! Please tell me: where exactly are you in your physical body right now?

Irina : I am on the planet Bhayaki in the constellation Virgo, one of the colonies of the planet Saama, where I am a deity. Physically, I am there and communicate with representatives of local priestly traditions, traditional cults and pass on to them new knowledge about the Interstellar Union and the Spiritual World.

12:17 The exact date of birth of Jesus Christ.

Maria : Thank you! Tell me, please, can you tell us the exact date of your birth to Mary according to the modern calendar?

Irina : Mirakh Count told me that people were interested and told me about it. I was born, you can subtract four years from the first year BC, from the first year of the new era, conditionally, and then it will be the autumn of the fifth year BC. To untangle this contradiction, I will say that I was born 749 years after the founding of Rome. It was autumn, approximately translated into your calendar, taking into account leap years, the displacement of the earth's axis, it will be September 22, 749 after the founding of Rome.

Vladimir : September 22, 749 after the founding of Rome. Thanks a lot!

14:10 Description of the Creator of all that exists.

Vladimir : Dear Jesus, please tell me how you could describe for us in words, maybe not so realistically, but nevertheless, our Creator, the Creator of all things, who the Creator is for you, and how in general you could Describe it?

Irina : To describe it in very simple words, this is my own thought about Existence, changed in the Absolute. All you can think about Him, you can think about some quality of Him. Any word you can use to call God, you are naming one of His energies, but even I don't know all of them. It's not that I don't know, but that I can't grasp with my mind, although my experience and my energy vibrations can simultaneously hold many things in different galaxies and solve different problems of both the Spiritual and material worlds. But even I cannot capture even a tenth of His energies.

When you look at some object, you see a small particle of His energies. When you look at a mountain, it is a small particle of His energy; when you look at the Sun, it is a larger particle of His energy. But on the scale of the Divine Mind this difference is insignificant. When you look at your body, it is also a piece of your energy, and when you focus on your thought, it is a piece of Himself. The Creator of all that exists is you, elevated to the Absolute.

You have an understanding of "exponentiation". If all qualities are multiplied, turned into Light and raised to the absolute degree, this will be the Creator of all that exists.

Maria : Thank you! Very good explanation.

17:01 Universe.

Maria: Yeshua, please tell me, can we say that your idea of the universe corresponds to the concepts of the Interstellar Union?

Irina : About what?

Maria : About the structure of the universe. What our curators convey to us in the Cassiopeia project.

Irina : I know these terms. The point is not in accordance with my understanding of the universe. I know the universe as a continuous flow of Divine energy, including my own energy and the energy of spiritual entities that consistently create worlds at different levels of densities, including the physical, densely material world. But I, of course, know the terms that the representatives of the Interstellar Union use, and I affirm and confirm that they can adequately describe reality.

18:16 Modern Christianity, its correspondence to the religious egregor conceived by Jesus Christ. The main task of Christianity.

Maria : Thank you! Tell me please, what do you think about modern Christianity? Does this religion fulfill the tasks that you set when you created it?

Irina : About modern Christianity in general?

Maria : Yes. About modern Christianity as a whole, in the entirety of its confessions.

Irina : This religious egregor, religious society, including the spiritual community, is part of me. I sincerely and tenderly love every representative of the Christian denomination as well as any person on Earth, but the tasks that I set for this religion when I created it on Earth are only partially being fulfilled at the moment.

The main task is not being fulfilled - the unification of those people who are devoted to my image and the image of my Mother, and the image of my Father, and the Holy Spirit, uniting under the banner of peace, love, peacemaking, grace, joy. The main purpose of my coming to Earth is to create a religion, my sacrifice.

Now many leaders of Christian denominations have put personal ambitions and political goals above their love for me. Many people! And this introduces dissonance into the Christian religious egregor, since the beliefs of these leaders are spread by my flock, the flock lowers their vibrations, condemning and angry at their neighbors, and then partakes of my secrets, transfers these emotions to me in an energetic sense. For me, this is a very low vibrational state, since from the moment of my birth in the Spiritual world from the Father I could not imagine life without Love.

Vladimir : I see. Thank you!

21:44 New prayer. Canons. On the possibility of changing the modern Christian denomination. Looking inside yourself through the eyes of Jesus. The instinct of self-preservation. Apostle Paul.

Vladimir : Please tell me, in the context of the previous question, what would you recommend changing in the canons of the modern Christian denomination? Maybe it makes sense to give us some kind of new prayer? We have a new time, a quantum transition. Does anything need to be changed?

Irina : It is not possible to change the canons at the moment due to the inertia of the Christian religious egregor, because of the mental and emotional processes of earthlings themselves, who unconsciously, through inclusion, program their egregors to resist external forces and the instinct of self-preservation inherent in a certain way in your culture.

He says that we, being creatures in whom the instinct of self-preservation prevails in all areas of life, also charge our egregors. This is neither good nor bad, it is a fact with which we all deal. And this has its pros and cons on Earth.

When I came here, I understood perfectly well that the Christian religious egregor would be exactly like this. Of course, there were many possible futures, but I had no illusions about earthlings. He perfectly understood their aspirations, thoughts and feelings.

As for changes in the canons for believers themselves, I would like to urge all believers to look inside themselves, inside their hearts.

The meaning of Christianity, which I put into religion, is not even worship of me, not reading prayers to the saints who loved me, but becoming like me. Becoming like me is a process in which prayer is only a small link.

What is likeness? The Apostle Paul, my first student among the pagans, the first teacher of the pagan peoples on Earth and transmitting my knowledge, worldview, carrying the energy of my society of ordinary people of non-Jewish origin, said that you people should have feelings like close people, but my feeling is love. And my love is absolute for everyone. For me there are no personal enemies, no enemies of my church, for me the word “enemy” does not exist at all.

The enemy is my beloved son, since I do not separate myself from the Father for a single moment in the essence of my Spirit. My separation is only for self-awareness, but in energy I am not separated from it. Therefore, any sinner, any enemy of God, the enemy of love, is my son, the son of love, who has become hardened, fallen into low vibrations, and who can only be healed by love, not pain, anger, not condemnation, but only the example of your love.

Therefore, I urge every Christian, especially before confession and communion, to look inside themselves, to look at themselves with my eyes. Just put my image in front of you, which will remind you of my eyes, of my energy, look at yourself, close your eyes, imagine that you are standing in front of me, and not just in front of me, but in front of Absolute Love. Ask: “Have I been like you the last day, two, week or month?” – how long is a very individual question. And, of course, this needs to be done regularly.

The thing is that sometimes your desire to change and become a saint, to shine with unconditional Love, can very quickly disappear due to the fact that you behave according to your habits. But there is no need to condemn these evil habits and fears; this condemnation only strengthens it, as it distracts you from fighting them.

And if you develop in yourself only love and the accompanying qualities that are opposite to passions, and when you outgrow them, they will fall away on their own, like unnecessary husks. So I wish each of you, once a day, in prayer or in a state of meditation or introspection, to remember that I exist, and to contact me not just with the words of prayer.

I will now give a new prayer: “ My Lord is Light, and I am Light, we are one.” Although these will be very correct words, there is a real risk that they will also be repeated by heart, like a mantra, without changing yourself, so just look into yourself and ask: “Christ, am I like you, am I the same love?” And when your neighbors irritate you, ask me through yourself: “Christ, how would you answer? Weren't you humiliated on Earth? How did you answer? Here there will already be a path of love.

Be sure to accompany these questions with prayer, which must come from the heart and return to the heart, because prayer is the path to spiritual improvement, since continuous prayer is a continuous flow with me. When a person's mind is constantly occupied with thoughts about God, he will gradually get used to it, and it will be difficult for him to descend into low vibrations in order to not only do, but even think about something low-vibrational, a deviation from God.

31:46 Reasons for the absence of a family in Jesus Christ.

Maria : Thank you very much! You know, I want to ask you a very personal question that interests so many on Earth: why don't you have a family and children on Burkhad? Is it possible that they will appear in your life someday?

Irina : Good question. Exchanging energy with my wife and conceiving children will require the energy that I now direct to processing the low vibrations of earthlings who unite with me in the sacrament of the Eucharist.

If I find a woman who can not only be physically next to me, but also make physical contact, then after the first such physical contact she will share all the vibrations with me, especially the child who will be born from me. I don't want this for the reasons that I myself made the choice to change the vibrations of the Earth in such a way as to pass through all low-vibrational states through myself, I don't want to impose this on someone else.

Vladimir : I see, thank you very much!

33:25 A typical day for Jesus Christ and his favorite activities. Communication with students. Phantoms of Jesus.

Vladimir : What is your typical day like, and do you have any favorite activities?

Irina : On my island there is a forest of plants that you would call conifers, but they have flowers. He is showing me now: like our cypress trees, the flowers look like white water lilies. I love walking through this garden-forest, both a forest and a garden, because it is cultivated and I love to communicate with nature through this place.

I love to communicate with the sun (it shows the sun of Burkhad), with the Spirits who live in this area, the Spirits of the Pikran system, the Solar system and, naturally, since the sacrament of the Eucharist occurs on Earth around the clock, then around the clock, according to the law of energy exchange, they come to me energies, including distorted energies of the etheric field, reflecting signals distorted by physical diseases and various etheric blocks, if any, of astral and mental energy formations that exist, and I send them mine to increase their vibrations.

If a person is connected with low-vibration plasmoids, then the energy of this plasmoid world also comes to me, and I perceive their vibrations. Accordingly speaking, I feel the lifestyle of this person. For example, he has depression, he constantly thinks about some mistake of his or about his unhappy life, all these pictures float in front of me, I sympathize very much - I am in such contact.

And only once every two, two and a half earthly months, students from different planets come to me upon request, usually from six to twenty-five people, to whom I answer their questions and give individual advice on their spiritual improvement.
